CF Drive Tops $1,600

Six hundred and twenty dollars over the $1,000 goal is the word on the contributions collected in the Jaycee Auxiliary Cystic Fibrosis (CF) campaign according to Chris Fliss, general chairman and assistant Mary Moulton.

Total collection of $1,620 included $1005 collected by 100 volunteers on the CF walk. Cannisters and business contributions totaled $80; larger donations were made by the American Legion with $75 and the Michigan Grand Chapter Pythian Sisters with a $200 check. A dance at the American Legion raised $260.

Over 100 volunteers worked in cooperation with area businesses on the first time campaign to raise monies for combating children's lung diseases. Twenty-three stores sponsored cannisters and other business contributed money, time or goods.

"The response from the community was excellent," reported Mrs. Fliss, apparently gratified by Tecumseh's response. "We believe that the Herald had a lot to do with it. People were well informed about our drive and had their contributions ready when we called. Many gave donations of a least a dollar and some more than five or ten dollars."

2 Businesses Change Hands

Two local businesses change hands this week.

Lonnie Stalls will soon own Johnnie's Service at 3349 Russell Road. John Wallace is the present owner who built the garage in November of 1958.

Stalls said that he will maintain the original services and within the year hopes to expand into electrical services, tune-up, and some auto body work.

Stalls brings 23 years experience to his business, having worked as an auto mechanic with several businessmen in town, including Les Dallas, Inc.

He says that there will be a complete change in personnel, Wallace, who lives in Manchester, is undecided about future plans.

Stalls lives in Tecumseh and his wife, Virginia. They have five children, four married and one at home.

Two new owners of Tecumseh Greenhouses and Floral are Carl Eklund and Fred Van Koughnet, both former owners of the "The Good Earth," a thriving greenhouse and retail outlet in Toledo.

Former owners are Ollie Musch, who with his wife, Marguerite, served Tecumseh for 29 years. They are looking forward to retirement and have no other plans.

Eklund one of the new partners, was born and raised in Sweden and enjoyed floriculture as a hobby. Van Koughnet hails from Toledo. He built several apartment houses there. Both left civil engineering jobs to "get into plants."

For the time being, the business will keep its name. It will specialize in varieties of houseplants and hanging plants.

A retail outlet for crafts such as hand blown glass, leather work, pottery and stoneware, macrame, pillow furniture and other interesting items, is also planned.

There was a grass fire last Tuesday that went from Comfort to Sutton and over the river to Lenawee Junction. The fire started in the vicinity of Chase Road. Raisin Township, Tecumseh and Palmyra fire departments responded about 1:45 p.m. The fire was under control in about an hour.

ERIC DEJONGHE

Bike-Auto Accident Is Fatal

Eric B. DeJonghe, 15, of 8378 E. Monroe Road, Ridgeway, died Tuesday in Mott's Childrens' Hospital, the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, following a bicycle-automobile accident Sept. 14.

Eric was born May 11, 1959 in Ann Arbor to Larry and Betty (Leggett) DeJonghe and they survive.

He was a student at Tecumseh High School and a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church of Tecumseh and the F.F.A.

In addition to his parents, survivors include five brothers, Mark, Christopher, Thomas, Matthew and Ira, all at home; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Leggett of Lansing; his paternal grandfather, Morris DeJonghe of Ridgeway; and several aunts and uncles.

A funeral Mass will be celebrated Friday at 11 a.m. in St. Elizabeth Catholic Church with Msgr. Vincent Howard officiating. A Rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Niblack Home for Funerals, Britton. Burial will be in Ridgeway Cemetery.

Kiwanis Club Popcorn Sale Raises $300

All the popcorn they could pop was sold at the Kids Day Popcorn sale last Saturday, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Three hundred dollars was made as a result of the day's activities for the Tecumseh and Britton recreation departments, announced President William Norris at Tuesday's meeting.

Cooperation of area residents, who supported the sale, and Tecumseh recreation playground supervisors, who assisted, is appreciated by the Kiwanis.

Tecumseh's annual Community Fund Foundation drive will start next month with a campaign to raise $76,316 — the 1975 goal.

Barbara Blanden and Mary Bowers are co-chairmen of this year's drive which will start the middle of October.

Major change in drive plans this year is the elimination of soliciting residents city-wide. Letters, seeking donations and pledges, will be sent along with pledge cards and return envelopes.

Of the $76,316 goal, $62,316 has been allocated to charities. Balance will be used to cover administrative costs and for capital improvements.

Scheduled allotments are:

American Red Cross	$9,000
Catholic Social Services	5,500
Family Counseling and Children Services	6,900

Girl, 3, Hurt

A 3-year-old girl, chasing her dog which ran into a street, was a victim of a car-pedestrian accident investigated by Tecumseh police during the past week.

Chris Weekley, 3, daughter of the Bradley Weekleys, 1207 Russell Rd., suffered a broken collar bone, skull fracture and bruises, according to family sources. She was first taken to Herrick Hospital and then transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The young girl ran into the rear section of a car driven by Barbara J. Hamilton, 19, of 514 W. Logan. Accident occurred near the Weekley's residence on Russell Rd.,

Eight other mishaps investigated were:

Sept. 18 — Lowell E. Smith, 45, Frontier, and Donald L. Spaulding, Dundee collided in Tecumseh Products parking lot.

Sept. 19 — Joseph J. Bartenslager, 31, of 600 Orchard Lane, backed into a pole on S. Maumee St.

Sept. 21 — Mary A. Moulton, 29, of 9103 N. Union St., turned off S. Maiden Lane into the path of Clina L. Robinette, 26, of 117½ S. Evans, on W. Chicago Blvd.

Sept. 21 — Annette Panchenko, 18, Dearborn, was cited for failure to stop for a flashing red light after an accident involving two other cars. The Dearborn car was southbound on N. Union St. and entered the interesection with W. Chicago Blvd. Panchenko vehicle was struck by a car driven by Gerald A. Miller, 38, of 9954 Matthews Hwy. Her auto spun around and then collided with a car driven by Caroline F. Henry, 40, of Britton.

Sept. 22 — Michael L. Griewahn, 22, Adrian told police that he dropped a cigarette just before running into a parked car owned by Richard L. Moore, Ridgeway. Mishap occurred on Murray Dr.

Sept. 23 — An unknown driver, operating a car owned by David Anspach, ran into a parked truck on S. Pearl St. and then damaged two parked cars. According to the police report, the car first struck a truck owned by Russell and Dorothy Williams, 6510 Sutton Rd. It then continued to hit an auto owned by Allen Griewahn, Adrian. The Griewahn car was shoved into another owned by Katherine Naugle, Lee Villa. Anspach reportedly told police that his car was taken from behind Jerry's Bar. A wrecker towed it away from the scene.

Sept. 22 — Charles R. Hartley, 31, Adrian backed into Janice M. Dubay, 207 Cairns, in a parking lot at Harvey's Restaurant.

Ask Residents For Evaluation

City officials have sent questionnaires to residents relative to improvements of streets, downtown redevelopment, recreation and beautification.

Robert Hamden, city building inspector and assessor, says approximately 1,800 were mailed with names and addresses taken from the city tax rolls.

The survey was prepared by the Planning Commission in the interest of encouraging citizen involvement in community planning. Majority of items in the survey are basic objectives of the city's master plan.

Residents are asked to evaluate each item, or question, and return to the City of Tecumseh.

Many subjects covered have been discussed and evaluated in the past.

New items include creation of a city-wide bicycle pathway system, farmers and craftsman market, construction of an amphitheater at Tecumseh Park, build enclosed swimming pool and tennis court facility, provide a municipal golf course, and provide a city owned and operated camp ground.

Maple City Reporter Quits Publication

An era for newspapers in this area ended Saturday with the final issue of the Maple City Reporter, a daily newspaper printed in The Tecumseh Herald's plant since Oct. 26, 1972.

The county once had three dailies. Today, it is back to one. Lenawee Tribune, the shortest lived of the three dailies, reportedly is in dissolutionment.

Last Friday afternoon at the Reporter's office in Adrian, union officials notified Reporter personnel that Saturday's edition would be their final issue. It shocked many of the ITU and Guild members of the Reporter, an interim newspaper established after members went on strike against the Adrian Daily Telegram.

Union officials emphasize, however, that the strike against the Telegram will continue.

When Reporter and union officers approached The Herald nearly two years ago about leasing its facilities here, it marked the first time that a newspaper was printed on a daily basis in Tecumseh.

Over four million copies of the Reporter were printed locally the striking members of the ITU and Guild members of the Telegram. The Reporter's staff performed the entire task of putting out their newspaper.

Members usually began filtering into The Herald late each afternoon or early evening, preparing copy and setting type for the next day's edition. Union pressmen finished the task early each morning, about 4 a.m., when they manned The Herald's offset press and dispatched editions to newsstands and carriers throughout the county.

Because The Herald rented its facilities to the Reporter, the Telegram or Thompson newspaper chain filed suit against the Tecumseh publishers, James and Dorothy Lincoln.

Papers were served here in January 1973 by a U.S. marshal from Detroit. First hearing in Federal court was held in August 1973. Three depositions of Lincoln have been taken since, and another hearing is scheduled Sept. 30 in Federal court.

Lincoln contends, under a free enterprise system, that he has has the right to lease or rent his printing facilities at his discretion to another business, even though that business may be in competition with another.

Activities Beginning in October

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department director Ward Eardley announced this week that tenative plans are being made tor the fall recreation activities, scheduled to begin in mid-October. Details will be forthcoming in the Herald.

INDIANS CRUSH AIRPORT, 29-14

Jets Are 'Cousins'

Tecumseh Indians redeemed themselves Friday night with a big 29-14 win over Airport with the Jets hosting. The victory kept another string alive—the Jets have never beaten the Indians in football.

That isn't to say it was smooth sailing from the start, however.

Airport's Dale Malone took the opening kickoff and flew 90 yards for a quick touchdown. The Jets missed the extra point try, but after only a few seconds, Tecumseh was down 6-0.

The Indians refused to be dispirited by that embarassment and came back tough. Bill Smith blocked a Jet punt which allowed Tecumseh to take over the ball on Airport's 20-yard line. With 5:34 left in the first quarter, Ken Biscupski caught a 11-yard pass from quarterback Dave Spillman for the Indian's first score. Biscupski also kicked the extra point.

The second quarter belonged to Tecumseh with some nice work by John Burns and Jim Egbert, both getting important first downs. Mike Duhan ran 25 yards for Tecumseh's second T.D. with 6:55 left in the second quarter. The extra point was good.

Egbert suffered an injured hip in the quarter and had to be removed on a stretcher. But coaches happily report that he should be in shape for the next contest.

Duhan came back in the third quarter for another touchdown on a 10-yard run. Duhan played a good game, gaining the most yards on the ground—134—in 18 carries. Biscupski upheld his average by successfully kicking the extra point.

With 1:36 left in the third quarter, Bob Webb went up the middle from Airport's three-yard line for the Indian's third TD Doug Bunch ran the ball into the end zone for a 2-point conversion.

With 2:30 left in the game, Airport briefly rallied when Malone went 19 yards for a touchdown. The Jets also garnered a 2-point conversion.

Tecumseh held the hapless Jets to 6 first downs while racking up 11 for themselves. And Indian quarterback Spillman passed 6 for 14, claiming 57 yards.

But, the real story took place on the ground with Tecumseh rushing for 218 yards against Airport's 126.

Clinton Holding Festival Days

Fall Festival Days will be held in Clinton Friday, Saturday and Sunday with parades and special events highlighting activities.

A homecoming parade is scheduled Friday afternoon with a big Fall Festival parade for Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. John Frye will be master of ceremonies for Sunday's parade and Waldo Ehnis is parade marshall.

Eight floats will be in this parade plus antique cars, bands and other organizations. It will start at the high school. See map of Sunday's parade route in the Clinton section of today's Herald.

Clinton merchants are participating in a sidewalk sale event Friday and Saturday. Other individuals and organizations will have booths in the downtown section, offering a variety of merchandise and items.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Tecumseh High School band will again host the Tecumseh County Band Festival in Tecumseh Oct. 8, Friday night at the high athletic field. Watch for details in the Herald.

The Jaycee membership drive held at Harry's Cafe last Friday was not as successful as planned, reported Jerry Irelan. Jaycees are still looking for new members. Any man between the ages of 18-35 who is seeking community involvement may contact Mr. Irelan at 423-2601 and inquire about membership in the Tecumseh Jaycees.

Obituaries

PAUL R. HAMILTON

Paul R. Hamilton, 53, of 7751 Dibble Road, Britton, died at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 24, in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. He had been in ill health for a week.

He had lived at the Dibble Road address for 32 years.

Born Dec. 9, 1919 in Hillsdale County, he was the son of Richard and Phoebe (Brazee) Hamilton. He married the former Betty Adams in Coldwater May 9, 1942, and she survives.

Hamilton was a farmer and had been employed as a machinist at the Tecumseh Products Co. for 27 years. He served with the U.S. Navy and attended the Britton Bethel Baptist Church.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two sons, Gregory J. and Bradley P., both at home; three brothers, Kenneth and William of Allen, and Richard of Reading; five sisters, Mrs. Edward (Lillian) Teubert of Allen, Mrs. Donald (Anna) Daglow of Cambria, Mrs. Harry (Dorothy) Thomas of Allen, Mrs. Robert (Ethel) Blatchely of Jonesville, and Mrs. Clarence (Etta) Quigley of Hudson.

He was preceded in death by his parents and one sister.

Services will be Thursday, Sept. 26 at 1:30 p.m. in the Niblack Home for Funerals, Britton. The Rev. Charles Mellring will officiate, and burial will follow in Ridgeway Cemetery.

MRS. THELMA B. WILKINS

Funeral services were Monday at Proctor Funeral Home, for Mrs. Thelma B. Wilkins, 63, of 11600 Laird Road, Brooklyn, who died Friday, Sept. 20 in St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, where she had been a patient since Sept. 3. She had previously been a patient in Herrick Hospital for two weeks.

She was a telephone operator in Tecumseh for several years.

Born Aug. 14, 1911, in Carsonville, she graduated from Carsonville High School in 1928 and married Kenneth C. Wilkins, Oct. 19, 1938 who survives.

Also surviving are a daughter Mrs. John (Iva) Spiker of Winthrop Harbor, Ill.; one son, Robert W. Wilkins, Saline; a sister, Mrs. Iva Stone and a brother Kenneth Rowe, both of Carsonville, and five grandchildren.

The Rev. James FitzGerald officiated. Burial was in St. Joseph Shrine Cemetery, Irish Hills.

Style Sense

by Evel

Your hairdo—is it easy to care for, or do you always have to worry? Most experts say that the hair that is usually most attractive and easiest to care for combines a complimentary style with a very professional cut. So before you spend another day looking at the same old you, reflect a little about how easy your life could be with the right hair style. A minimum of hair care and a generally improved appearance. Consult an expert for a cut that will be the carefree go-everywhere type—the type that is most important for today's busy life.

There is nothing like an elegant perfume to make a woman feel really dressed up, but you should use a scent every day and not just for special occasions. The answer to everyday perfume problem is cologne. Cologne takes only a moment to apply and can keep you smelling fresh and pleasant for hours. Perfume is the heavier scent and is probably best used when you are headed out for the evening. But don't forget to use cologne when you get ready to meet the everyday world!

CITY OF TECUMSEH
LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN
RESOLUTION

Regular meeting of the Common Council for the City of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, held on the 16th day of September, 1974, at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers at 309 East Chicago Boulevard, Tecumseh, Michigan.

PRESENT: Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer, Puffer, Whiting, and Mayor Easton.

ABSENT: None

WHEREAS, the City of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, has adopted Ordinance No. 7.401 Building Standards and is enforcing the Building Officials Conference of America, Incorporated (boca Basic Building Code) as amended Fifth Edition, 1970; and,

WHEREAS, Section 113.0 of the aforesaid prohibits any person, firm or corporation from erecting, constructing, enlarging, altering, repairing, improving, moving or demolishing any building or structure without first obtaining a separate building permit for each building or structure from the City of Tecumseh Building Inspector; and,

WHEREAS, the City of Tecumseh Building Inspector must examine all plans and specifications for the proposed construction when application is made to him for a building permit.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF TECUMSEH, LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, AS FOLLOWS:

1. That the City of Tecumseh Building Inspector shall review all building permit applications for new construction or substantial improvements to determine whether proposed building sites will be reasonably safe from flooding. If a proposed building site is in a location that has a flood hazard, any proposed new construction or substantial improvement (including prefabricated and mobile homes) must (i) be designed (or modified) and anchored to prevent flotation, collapse, or lateral movement of the structure, (ii) use construction materials and utility equipment that are resistant to flood damage, and (iii) use construction methods and practices that will minimize flood damage; and

2. That the City of Tecumseh Building Inspector shall review subdivision proposals and other proposed new developments to assure that (i) all such proposals are consistent with the need to minimize flood damage, (ii) all public utilities and facilities, such as sewer, gas, electrical, and water systems are located, elevated, and constructed to minimize or eliminate flood damage, and (iii) adequate drainage is provided so as to reduce exposure to flood hazards; and

3. That the City of Tecumseh Building Inspector shall require new or replacement water supply systems and/or sanitary sewage systems to be designed to minimize or eliminate infiltration of flood waters into the systems and discharges from the systems into flood waters, and require on-site waste disposal systems to be located so as to avoid impairment of them or contamination from them during flooding.

The foregoing Preamble and Resolution was offered by Councilman mead and supported by Councilman Palmer.

AYES: Mayor Easton, Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.

It is time to check your furnace for winter. Make sure your filters are clean, oil the blower, motor, change your oil filter and nozzle if you have an oil furnace. Make sure the electrodes are clean. If you have a gas furnace, it would be wise to inspect the pilot light and see that it has a blue flame and is burning on the top half of the thermocouple. If it has a lazy, yellow flame, your pilot should be cleaned. If this sounds too complicated, we have very competent, knowledgeable Service Men to do the job for you. Just give us a call!

New installation or repair and remodeling of present plumbing or heating facilities can be handled by CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, 1108 W. Chicago Blvd., 423-3121. Because of our many years of experience we guarantee you satisfaction in every job we do and have a fleet of 7 service trucks on the road to provide you with prompt service. Plumbing fixtures by Kohler, American Standard and Elkay Stainless steel sinks are handled as well as Alsons personal showers, Insinkerator garbage disposals and Kitchen Aid dishwashers.

HELPFUL HINT: Never use harsh scouring powder on any plumbing fixture, as it will dull the finish.

Driver Needed

Now that the children are back in school, do you have a few hours of free time? The Lenawee County on Aging suggests readers use these free hours to get out to meet people and to be of service to others. It needs volunteer drivers. With the increased use by senior citizens of the transportation system, the present staff of drivers is inadequate to serve the needs of the people.

Street Dance For All In Clinton

CLINTON—Two bands will alternate at 45 minute intervals to provide the kind of dancing preferred by any generation at Clinton's Fall Festival, Saturday night. Dancing will be from 8 p.m. until everyone has had enough.

The parking lot at the State Savings Bank will be roped off for the event sponsored by the festival committee, and a nominal admittance will be charged to defray costs.

For rock fans the recently organized group, "The Elizha" will play. Led by John Sell, of Tecumseh, the rock group is composed of Kim Prettyman, Michael Ocamb of Tecumseh, and Tim Twiss of Adrian. Doug Gilpin of Tecumseh is the vocalist.

Eddie Jacobs dance band will be playing for square dancing and other dancing.

Area Farmers Reminded

Area farmers are reminded that Sept. 30 is the final date applications will be accepted for wheat insurance on the 1975 wheat crop, according to Leo F. Crawford, director of the Indianapolis Sales Center for FCIC.

FCIC is an agency of the USDA which offers All-Risk protection to farmers' crops with the primary emphasis at this time on wheat.

FCIC's protection is based on bushel guarantees of wood quality grain for which each farmer pays a premium. For 1975 the wheat bushel guarantees have been increased, as have the price selections, the price a farmer receives on each bushel his crop falls below his guarantee.

To make application or obtain more information, farmers should contact the representative-in-charge of the FCIC office at Route 5, West Chicago Road, Coldwater or phone 517-278-2068.

Linda Barwick, Weds Charles Munger

Linda Gwyn Barwick and Charles Albert Munger were married Sept. 20 in the Tipton Community Church by the Rev. George Somers, professor at Adrian College. Mrs. Lester Munger was organist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry (Bud) Barwick, Jr. of 9517 Newburg Road, and Mrs. Kenneth Munger of 1825 Taylor Road and the late Kenneth Munger.

On the arm of her father the bride approached the altar wearing a white organza gown with mandarin collar and bishop sleeves appliqued in Alencon lace. Appliques were repeated on the skirt which fell gracefully into a chapel train. She wore a mantilla with Alencon lace appliques, and carried a cascade of sweetheart roses and carnations.

Barbara Barwick, sister of the bride from Utica, was maid of honor. She wore a gown featuring a rouge velvet bodice and long skirt and sleeves of pink crepe. She wore a headdress of purple carnations and carried an old fashioned bouquet of purple carnations.

Bridesmaids were Kathleen Munger, sister of the groom, and Barbara Radant, both of Tecumseh. They wore gowns styled like that of the maid of honor in purple and light orchid, the same headdresses and carried the same bouquets.

William Szentmiklosi of Milan was best man. Ushers were Steve Daniels of Tipton, cousin of the groom, and Scott Barwick of Tecumseh, brother of the bride.

A dinner was held after the ceremony for 300 guests at the United Products Workers Union Hall.

Bride is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School. Groom is a 1970 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Ford Motor Company in Saline.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will reside at 3391 W. Monroe, Tipton.

Missionary Conference

A missionary conference is being held this week at the Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church. Conference began Sept. 25 with the Rev. David Gould, pastor of the Willoughby Hills Friends Church, near Cleveland, Ohio, bringing the message. Thursday night the Rev. William Wagner, superintendent of the Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends will speak, and on Friday evening John and Barbara Brantingham, on furlough from the Friends Mission in Taiwan will present the challenge.

Saturday will feature a men's missionary breakfast at the Holiday Inn in Adrian at 8 a.m., a ladies missionary retreat at the Raisin Center Friends Church from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and the youth will gather for a youth missionary rally at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday morning Dr. Lon Randall, president of Malone College in Canton, Ohio, will preach, and on Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Everett Cattell, former pastor, missionary to India for over 20 years and former president of Malone College will speak.

All evening services are at 7:30 p.m. and everyone is invited to attend.

Receives Perfect Pin

The Rev. Allan Gray, pastor of Tecumseh United Methodist Church, was awarded a year's perfect attendance pin at Tuesday's Kiwanis meeting.

Plans were finalized for the installation banquet to be held in Toledo, Sept. 28.

Vows Spoken in Florida

Patricia Ann Eyler, formerly of Tecumseh, became the bride of Thomas Joseph Moore II Sept. 13 in North Pompano Baptist Church, Pompano Beach, Fla.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Eyler. Groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Moore.

Cindy Stewart was maid of honor, and Mrs. Robin Blender, Mrs. Beverly Nickerson and Mrs. Cathy Lewis were bridesmaids.

Best man was Paul A. Miller. Ushers were Lanny Velles, Eugene Robinson and Steve Weinrich.

Following a reception at the Lighthouse Point Yacht and Tennis Club the couple left on a wedding trip to Grand Cayman Island.

Mrs. Myrtle Daykin of Britton, grandmother of the bride, went to Florida two weeks before the wedding and attended bridal showers, the wedding and the reception. Other special guests were Mrs. Douglas Daykin and son Mark, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barrett, Kevin and Karen, all of Britton, who went to Pompano Beach for the wedding and reception of their niece, Miss Eyler. Other family members present were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Haedick of Lansing.

MRS. THOMAS MOORE II

Married

Jane Sancho and Robert Handy Jr. were married Sept. 18 by the Rev. Kenneth Boyd in the rectory of the First Baptist Church of Tecumseh.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sancho, of 713 Seneca St., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Handy, of 2511 Staib Road.

Laurie Faling of Tecumseh attended the bride, and Gordon Whelan of Tipton was best man.

A reception will be held Oct. 5 in the Odd Fellows Hall on Green Hwy.

The couple are 1974 graduates of Tecumseh High School. The bride is employed at Harvest House in Adrian, and the groom will attend Michigan State University this fall.

After a trip to Northern Michigan the couple will reside in East Lansing.

Now is the time for all good football widows to stock up on cider and doughnuts and settle in for a long brisk autumn while football mania overruns our land. Watching the bands, eating football hotdogs (never plain old hotdogs but football hotdogs); and just being outdoors is the best part of going to the games for this fan. Never one to be a party pooper, though, I say get out there and cheer your teams on to victory, whether its THS, CHS, B-M, AHS, or U of M. If only once we've cheered all day Saturday we didn't have to go home and watch it six nights a week....

Tecumseh Exhibit Featured in Adrian

Lenawee County Historical Museum has mounted a small Tecumseh exhibit which features a painting of Blood Road Bridge done in the first half of the nineteenth century by the former Adrian artist William Wheeler. The exhibit also contains an oil painting of the old St. Peter's Episcopal Church done by Raymond Puffer III, formerly of Tecumseh and now of New Mexico. Puffer researched two summers at the Historical Museum.

Mrs. Donald Frazier, curator of the museum, said that researching the background of the Wheeler painting had turned into a real treasure hunt. The painting, which is owned by Mrs. Andrew Duff, mother of Judge Yale Leland Kerby, came to Tecumseh 30 years ago after purchase in Ann Arbor.

The biography of William Wheeler is an interesting bit of history. Wheeler was born in Washtenaw County in around the 1830's. In July, 1855, he married Emily Elizabeth Crego in Adrian, and subsequently had two children before moving to Hartford Ct. in 1861. He died in 1893 in Hartford.

The only traceable family member of William Wheeler is Adolf Wheeler who became a prosperous business man in Adrian, of the firm Wheeler and Aldrich, dealers in boots and shoes. He married Isabelle Hatheway of New Baltimore in 1871, who subsequently divorced him and in 1900 she remarried Dr. Clifford Kirkpatrick, who practiced medicine in Adrian.

The Tecumseh exhibit is a fascinating touch of memorabilia and a mini-art show as well. Stop in and get acquainted with the history of your town and country - its like a walk down memory lane!

AND WHAT'S YOUR NAME CUTIE? — An Alpine goat, with airplane ears and short nose demonstrates the inquisitive stare the Abners said the goats are famous for. All the Abner animals are named by the family.

People I Meet by Kathy Kulczyk

TIME OUT — Goat herds take 10 after a hard day's work. The goats occasionally congregate on the front porch of the Abner home to enjoy the shade on balmy afternoons.

PICK A MODEL — This Neubian, with Roman nose and droopy ears, is one of Gary Abner's girls. Or is it a girl?

Gary's Girls Set Pace Keep Goat Farmer Busy

By Kathy Kulczyk

It started as a joke. They bought the first goat as a pet, but when they started making money, "everyone stopped laughing," said Gary Abner, who along with his wife, Nancy, own the only grade A goat dairy in the state of Michigan, the Irish Hills Goat Dairy.

Last February the Abners had 60 milking animals. With the more recent arrival of 80 more goats Aug. 28, their grand total is now 190 goats; seven are male.

"It was too expensive for us to keep the goats as pets unless we turned them into a money making enterprise. After all, who can afford a $6,000 hobby?" Abner, one who should know, said that it costs an average of $100 a year to keep one goat.

The Abners milk their animals seven days a week, twice a day, even in the ungodly morning hour of 3 a.m. Sixty head are presently milked in their own milking parlor, equipped with automated milkers. In the next room, milk is collected into a 400 gallon capacity tank.

About 200 gallons are collected every week. Abner estimates that about 300 gallons of milk per day are taken from the same 60 head cows. "So actually, you need the same equipment and care for the goats as you would that number of cows, for a smaller amount of product," explained Nancy. Milk sells for $5 a gallon.

"The goat man's" journey to dairy is an early bird's trip. On Tuesday mornings at 2:30 a.m., Abner pumps the week's milk into a bulk tank truck and drives to Portage, Ohio where he arrives at 5 a.m. to collect the milk from the tank of another goat dairyman, from whom he buys more milk. Abner continues to Monroe where the contents are pasteurized and bottled at the Independent Dairy. Tanks are then washed clean and Abner returns home to do other chores awaiting him.

Demand for goat's milk in the state is real. The Abners market to grocery and health food stores in an area from Ottawa Lake to Flint; Grosse Ile, including Detroit, to Lansing and Jackson.

Nutritionists say goat's milk is healthful and nutritious and has been known to some for its easy digestibility. It digests more rapidly because its fat particles are one third the size of that in cow's milk.

"Although doctors won't admit it," said Abner, "it tends to overcome the hyperactivity of gastric ulcers because it is very alkalinizing."

Because of the size of the milk particles, the milk is naturally homogenized, the cream is not as heavy and it doesn't separate like cow's milk. There are no vitamin additives to the milk, yet the Abners said it contains all the important nutrients that cow's milk does.

This reporter sampled the unpasteurized product that the Abners themselves drink, and could not distinguish the difference between goat's milk and cow's milk. Goat's milk is whiter in color because Vitamin A appears in pure form instead of as orange pigment, carotene, therefore, butter made fromthe cream is white. The Abners said that off-flavor in any milk may be caused by feed the animals eat, odors in animal areas, or poor handling of the milk.

Because it is so beneficial to ulcer patients and because six percent of babies are allergic to cow's milk, the Abners tried to market to area hospitals. They said that they can still hear the secretary's laughter when they told her it was the Irish Hills Goat Dairy calling.

Goats are low temperature animals and can withstand the cold, but they must be kept dry since they are susceptible to pneumonia.

An interesting feature of the animal is the billy goat goatee or wattles. Although the wattles serve no purpose some of the animals grow them and some of them don't; it is not a characteristic restricted to sex. The Abners said that they learned about goats through trial and error. Last research on goats was done 10 years ago at Michigan State University. There are no books for the care and feeding of goats, but the Abners could probably write a good one.

The Abners describe the goat as friendly, inquisitive, yet occasionally stubborn animal, who is so optimistic that it will eat anything on the hopes that it will be good for it. Apparently the fable about billy goats eating tin cans is true after all, Abner explained, but for a reason one might not expect. They lick and nibble at cans and paper to get the glue on the label.

Abner said goats are "death on dogs," meaning that a goat will prevent a shepherd dog from eating the sheep, thus in effect a watch dog on the dogs.

There are two varieties of goats on the Abner farm, the Alpine, with short stick-up, airplane ears and pointy nose; and the Neubian, with long droopy ears and Roman nose. Each of the Abner animals has a distinct personality.

The Abners said that they don't have much time to enter shows, however in a show last spring, they entered two animals and won two first prizes at Northville, where over 130 animals competed.

Abner also raises the animal for meat or chevon. "And there is nothing like barbecued goat," smiled Gary with a hungry troll-like gleam in his eye.

The Abners said they have been told that goats' milk improves baking. The family knows that it makes richer ice cream since it is made at home for David, 9, Dee Dee, 7, Trigger, 2, and Elizabeth, 10 months old. Another child is due in October.

Unlike the human kids, Abner joked, the goat kids can be locked up in the barn and their bleating calls ignored.

It isn't likely that this is fad with the Abners. It's a going business. They plan to add their bottling operation next spring.

Mrs. Abner sends along some select recipes that make tempting dishes, for those who dare to try something different, and interesting reading for the less adventurous. Mrs. Abner also paints china and this reporter plans to return for tnat story.

BARBECUE CHEVON

1/3 gallon apple cider vinegar
2/3 gallon water
1 cup chopped garlic
4 T black pepper
½ c.coarse curing salt.

Mix well. Let set a day. Put in goat meat from a kid and leave 1½ to 2 days. Remove meat and lay on towel. Pat dry. Barbecue.

NO LONELY GOATHERD — Gary and wife Nancy Abner are the owners of the 190 goats of the Irish Hills Goat Dairy, Tipton, the only grade A goat dairy in the state.

GOAT MILK CUSTARD

3 cups goat milk
3 eggs slightly beaten
¾ c. sugar
½ t. salt
1 t. vanilla
nutmeg.

Beat eggs slightly and add sugar and salt. Add milk and vanilla. Strain custard mixture into unbaked pie shell; sprinkle with nutmeg. Bake in hot oven 30 or 40 minutes, or until knife comes out clean.

Reports Sought

Greg Brown, Tecumseh resident and Common Cause Campaign Monitoring Project Coordinator, has written letters to both local Congressional candidates urging them to make their campaign finance reports available to the local press on filing date, Oct. 21. The letters were sent to Edward Hutchinson, Republican incumbent, and his Democratic challenger, Richard E. Daugherty of Dowagiac.

At present the law requires only that candidates file their reports in Washington and Lansing. Offering reports directly to the press will make them more accessible.

Questionnaires also sent ask each candidate whether, if elected, he would support key Common Cause issues, such as removal of conflicts of interest, public disclosure of lobbying activities, and anti-secrecy legislation.

Common Cause members asked each candidate to discuss issues in greater depth.

The group emphasized that as a national citizens' lobby, it will endorse issues, not candidates, in the upcoming election.

Party Held

The Past Presidents Parley of the Underwood-Orr Unit No. 34 of the American Legion Auxiliary met Sept. 23 at the home of Mrs. Robert Smith in Macon. A potluck dinner was followed by a business meeting at which Mrs. Denny Goller was elected president and Mrs. Neil Hause was elected secretary-treasurer. A social hour completed the meeting.

The group will meet again in May with Mrs. Goller.

Recital Scheduled

St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Tecumseh, and the Toledo Chapter, American Guild of Organists will present an organ recital on Tuesday evening, Oct. 8, 8 p.m. featuring Vernon Wolcott, organist.

The recital will consist of 10 chorale preludes plus the Prelude and Fugue in F-Flat from Johann Sebastian Bach's Clavierubung, Part III, a collection published in 1739 of organ settings of the chorales associated with the Lutheran short mass (Kyrie and Gloria) and the Catechism.

Wolcott was educated at the Curtis Institute, Philadelphia, Union Seminary, New York, and the University of Michigan, a student of Alexander McCurdy, Harold Friedell, Robert Baker, and Marilyn Mason. He has held organist-choirmaster positions at St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Church, Philadelphia; St. Peter's Lutheran Church, New York City; Franklin Street Presbyterian Church, Baltimore; and is presently organist at First Presbyterian Church, Bowling Green.

He has been heard in recitals in the east and midwest and has lectured and published for the Music Teachers' National Association. Formerly on the faculty of Peabody Conservatory, Baltimore, he is currently associate professor of Performance Studies and University Organist at Bowling Green State University School of Music.

Cancer Test Given at "Y"

A breast cancer early detection test will be held at the Lenawee County Y.M.C.A. on Oct. 2 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the activity room. Technique used, known as Thermography, is the earliest and most harmless form of breast cancer detection test.

A Therma-Scan can detect breast cancer before it can be felt by the individual or family doctor, yet it is a completely passive (non-X-Ray). Medical staff will review results and send to the the family doctor. If a problem is found, a clinical examination and a Mammography test will be recommended to eliminate any doubt. There is a fee for the test.

For further information and appointment readers may call the Y.M.C.A. at 263-2151.

Registration Notice FOR GENERAL ELECTION Tuesday, November 5, 1974

Puffer

To the Qualified Electors of the City of Tecumseh (Precinct No. 1-2-3-4)

County of Lenawee, State of Michigan

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law", I, the undersigned Clerk, will upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular of special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT I WILL BE AT MY OFFICE

Monday, October 7, 1974 - - Last Day

From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m.

The 30th day preceding said Election

And on Saturday, October 5, 1974- 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

As provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954 As Amended.

From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on said day for the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said TOWNSHIP, CITY or VILLAGE as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

In addition the Clerk's Office will be open from 8 o'clock a.m. until 5 o'clock p.m. on the Saturday preceding the 30th day.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

ELECTOR UNABLE TO MAKE PERSONAL APPLICATION, PROCEDURE

SEC. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City of Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oath and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

UNREGISTERED PERSONS NOT ENTITLED TO VOTE

SEC. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act. 116, P.A. 1954.)

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION, APPLICATION, TIME

SEC. 506. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City of Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made after the 30th day next preceding any election or primary election, unless such 30th day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday or a legal holiday in which event registration transfers shall be accepted during the following day.

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION ON ELECTION DAY

SEC. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village and has not recorded such removal with the local Clerk shall execute a transfer of registration request, listing the new residence address thereon over his signature, with the election board in the precinct in which he is registered at the next ensuing primary or election. The inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and, if the signatures correspond, then the inspector shall certify such fact by affixing his initials upon said request. The applicant for transfer, after having signed an application to vote as provided in Section 523 of this act, shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that primary or election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

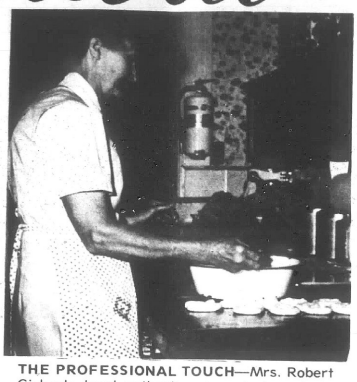
ROLL, ROLL, ROLL YOUR DOUGH—Mrs. Roy Smith, 1, and Mrs. Hugh Pike, r, demonstrate the art of rolling pretzels "from scratch."



THE PROFESSIONAL TOUCH—Mrs. Robert Girbach, local authority on pretzels, calmly dips raised pretzels into lye solution, an essential step in pretzel making.

GET 'EM WHILE THEY'RE HOT—Fresh pretzels will be available Saturday afternoon only at the Calico Kitchen booth of the United Church of Christ.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

Have any of you, consuming some of the more than 400 million pounds of pretzels produced each year in this country, ever given a thought to the history of what you're eating? Pretzels are now a popular accompaniment to beer and television but they were probably first made by an Italian monk more than 1,500 years ago as a reward for children who learned their prayers. They were shaped to represent the crossed arms of a child praying. The word "pretzel" is derived from the Latin word "pretiola" meaning "a small reward," which supports the legend.

The Women's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ in Clinton spent Sept. 19 keeping the tradition of pretzel making alive. They baked seven batches to be sold at their booth during Clinton's Fall Festival this Saturday.

Mrs. Arthur Hill was chairman for the pretzel project, and Mrs. Robert Girbach of Clinton, was special guest, invited to give a demonstration on the art of making pretzels.

One aspect of pretzel making which is at first unsettling is that pretzels must be dipped in a lye and water solution before baking. This gives them their brown glazed surface and unique flavor. Without it, pretzels would be pale and tasteless. Lye in this highly diluted form is not harmful.

The Women's Fellowship used Ella Feldkamp's recipe, modified by Mrs. Girbach.

PRETZELS

1 qt. milk
1 cup sugar
2 tbsp. salt
1 cup lard or other shortening
2 packages yeast, dissolved in ¼ cup warm water
12 cups flour
2 eggs
1½ tsp. baking powder

Lye Solution: 1 qt. water, 1½ tbsp. lye, pinch of soda.

Heat milk to boiling and add sugar, lard, salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add dry yeast which has been dissolved in warm water, then add 6 cups flour. Let rise until double.

Add eggs and 6 more cups of flour which has been sifted with baking powder. If not stiff enough, add a little more flour. Let rise until double in bulk.

Divide dough into small portions and roll out on a lightly floured board using your hands to about the thickness of a finger and about 18 inches long. Roll out into elongated sausage shape and twist into traditional pretzel shape. Let rise until puffy.

Dissolve lye in water and add a pinch of soda. Dip risen pretzels into the solution (made easier by using a large slotted spoon) and sprinkle with coarse salt (such as Kosher salt).

Grease tins with beeswax or solid shortening. Place pretzels on tins and bake in a 450 degree oven for about five minutes or until brown. Watch carefully to make sure they don't burn. Recipe makes 5 dozen.

Mrs. Girbach increases the milk to 6 cups, increasing the yeast to 3 packages and adding enough flour to make dough stiff, in order to make 125 pretzels. All other proportions remain the same.

Pretzels can be frozen if desired.

Your recipe columnist and camera crew can attest to the fact that these pretzels are delicious - we'd never pass on a recipe that we hadn't sampled first!

Note: Cooks, we still need your recipes. From the lack of response, we're tempted to think that Tecumseh is surving on T.V. dinners! Surely someone still cooks the old-fashioned way...?

50 Booths At Clinton

CLINTON — During Fall Festival days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the sidewalks along Clinton's main business block and south on Tecumseh Road will be lined with 50 stalls reserved by individuals and organizations. Booths will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

A vast variety of merchandise will be displayed including flea market items, handicrafts, and novelties, and homemade foods.

Local merchants who will be participating in the sidewalk sales are Roost Ceramics, Carousel Beauty Salon, Ehnis', Village Market, Merkel-Young Hardware, Clintonian Inn, Kukini Travel, Stuff 'N Things, Chic Tress Beauty Salon, and Jane's Flowers and Gifts.

Among the handcraft demonstrations taking place all three days will be chair caning by Leo Smith; hand quilting by Nellie Thomas; decorative ironwork by John Kosirnik and horseshoeing by Jon Sweet, blacksmith.

Robert Puffer of Roost will demonstrate the art of making ceramics and Judy Albright and Pat Seay will show how to do tole painting.

Other craft demonstrations will be given by Sonya Preuthum, a silversmith from Grosse Pointe, and rug hooking by Mrs. Sara Oestering of Wayne.

During the three day event, visitors are asked to park on side streets, since no parking will be permitted on W. Michigan Ave. downtown. Unloading vehicles will be permitted briefly, however. Map of suggested parking areas appears elsewhere in The Herald.

Parade Route Set

CLINTON — John Frye will be the master of ceremonies for Clinton's big Fall Festival parade, Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. Parade route appears in map on Clinton page.

Also on the reviewing stand on main street, along with John, will be Amos Crane, the oldest previous member of Clinton's volunteer fire department; W.P. VanTuyle and Lois Lancaster, who have been continuously in business in the village the longest; and two members of Clinton's first Chamber of Commerce, Rena Fitzpatrick, and Don Thomas.

Among the parade features will be the Cadmus American Legion Bugle Corps; Clinton High School band, Oopsey the Clown and Dixie Land Band; Ann Arbor Shriners Clown unit, Irish Hills Lion's Club Lion and the Blue Birds troop Decorated floats have been entered by Pizza Pit, Jane's Flowers and Gifts, Meadowlane Golf, Gary Underwood, Clinton High School Queen float, Jo-El's Barn, Chic-Tress and Jaycee Auxiliary.

Antique car drivers will be L. Mansfield, R. Camburn, W. Proctor, R. Dixon, N. Campbell, Plymouth Antique Car Club, Dexter Antique Car Club, George Underwood and Gary Underwood.

Lenawee County Sheriff's mounted unit will also be in the parade.

Parade forms at the high school and will proceed down Kehoe and Currier to Michigan Ave., then west to Division Street, south to Franklin Street then east to Currier and back down Kehoe to the high school.

The Tecumseh-Britton-Clinton C.B. Club will provide communications for the parade committee.

The reviewing stand will be located at the corner of Michigan Ave. and Jackson Street, in front of the fire hall.

Waldo Ehnis is the parade marshall.

Jaycees Hold Road Rally

CLINTON—Clinton Area Jaycees will sponsor a Jaycee Road Rally, Sunday, Sept. 29, beginning at 10 a.m. at the Clinton High School parking lot.

Each vehicle must have a two-man team, and any four wheel vehicle, new or old is eligible. No experience is necessary.

Road rally is not a speed race and will be held rain or shine. First, second and third place trophies, and prize for the most interesting car will be awarded.

Entries are limited to 50 cars. Team entries ar $4 or $7, which includes registration and two chicken barbecues.

For entries call Steve Bowman or Dr. Dean Kirkland.

Spaghetti Dinner Served by Band

CLINTON—A spaghetti dinner served by Clinton Band Boosters, Tuesday, raised $70 for a summer band camp fund.

Band Booster members met after the dinner at a meeting conducted by the president, Richard Krohl.

Members voted to order 12 dozen red rain ponchos for the high school band. Extras will be sold at football games.

Five dozen red sweaters were ordered for the junior high band as a new uniform, when worn with white blouses, or shirts and dark or black pants.

Also ordered were three new band jackets, four pairs of pants, some spats, new buttons and gloves.

Senior band will play for the homecoming game with Sand Creek; Friday, attend Band Day at U of M, Sept. 28, and will march in the Fall Festival parade, Sunday afternoon.

A fruit cake sale is planned soon by the high school band.

Pork Barbecued All Night for Dinner

CLINTON—Charlie Steffens and Bud Wanke will be chief cooks for the pig roast sponsored by the Clinton Area Jaycees, Saturday, during Clinton's Fall Festival.

Five 220 lb. hogs will be roasted over charcoal fires, beginning at 3 a.m. and it is expected that serving can begin about 3 p.m. and continue throughout the Saturday evening. There will be tables at the site or carry-outs will be available.

The event will take place at Clinton's Memorial Park on W. Michigan Ave.

The barbecued pork will be served on a bun, and along with it will be sweet corn on the cob, tomatoes, cucumbers, roll and beverage.

Jaycees will also be in charge of the beer tent at the same location.

Puppet Show Staged

CLINTON—A puppet show, free for kiddies, will be staged by Clinton Cinderettes during the Fall Festival this weekend.

Puppet show will be given on the Community Center lawn by the committee composed of Mrs. George Lancaster, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Snyder and Mrs. Carl Fletcher. Shows will be at 6 p.m. Friday; 10, 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. Saturday; and at 2 p.m. Sunday.

At a meeting, last Tuesday, Cinderettes also completed plans to participate in a fire hose tug-of-war with Lenawee firemen's auxiliaries, at 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28, at the Little League field back of the elementary school.

Mrs. Lancaster displayed leaf plates, recipe cards and school year albums, which the Cinderettes will sell at a festival booth.

Members voted $10 to the Clinton United Fund.

Group recently gave table and chairs to the firemen's cabin, as their first project.

Saturday night, the Cinderettes joined their firemen husbands for the annual steak dinner at the cabin. Each fireman was presented with a Smiley doll replica of a fireman, complete with his own badge number.

Firemen will host an open house at the Clinton Fire Station, Saturday and Sunday, from noon to 6 p.m. and the Smileys will be on display, too.

Clinton Cinderettes will host the County Auxiliaries Association meeting, Oct. 29 at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

Next regular meeting is Oct. 22 at the center at 7:30 p.m.

Grad Trains As Preacher

Donald Belcher of Tecumseh has been accepted into the 1974 opening class of the new Christian Communications Program at Harding College in Searcy, Ark.

Thirty-three are enrolled in the 22 month preacher training program. Students spend over 20 hours per week in the classroom and devote weekends to field work with local congregation.

Belcher graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1969.

Patient Needs Described to Women

CLINTON—Patient needs at the recently opened Evangelical Nursing Home, Saline, were described by the housekeeper of the home, Mrs. Ellie Todd, for the program of the Women's Fellowship in the United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Todd displayed patchwork lap robes, knitted afghan shoulder throws, bed pads and bibs, which are needed by the 62 residents in the nursing home.

She also explained the need for a sewing machine, and a few volunteers who could come in occasionally to do mending. Other services that volunteers could provide were explained in a paper she distributed to members.

Thursday's meeting was attended by 13 women.

Devotions on a friendship theme were presented by Mrs. Edwin Piatt.

New president, Mrs. David Heimerdinger, presided and appointed Mrs. Richard Cadmus and Mrs. Piatt to host the Nov. 9 benefit card party to be assisted by their husbands.

Members voted to continue aid to the Spaulding. for Children Adoption agency at Chelsea and to the church kitchen fund.

A bouquet of wild sunflowers centered the table, for the serving of pudding cake and coffee by the Serendipity Sisters.

Next meeting will be Nov. 21.

88th Birthday Celebrated at Dinner

CLINTON—Mrs. Walter C. Gale, of Ypsilanti, was guest of honor at a dinner, marking her 88th birthday, hosted by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Meeks, Thursday evening.

Among the 22 guests attending were Mrs. Gale's six children, all together for the first time in 12 years. They are Curtis Gale, of Hillsdale; Mrs. John Gardner, and Mrs. Preston Bowman, both of Ypsilanti; Walter Gale of Farmington; and Larry Gale, of Caro. Others came from Detroit, Pontiac and Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Gardner decorated the birthday cake which was featured at the dinner.

Mrs. Gale has over 100 descendents.

Staff Dines

CLINTO —Cafeteria staff members of Clinton Community Schools attended the dinner meeting of the Lenawee County Cafeteria Association, hosted by the Onsted staff at West Adrian United Church of Christ, Monday evening.

PTO President Elected

CLINTON — Dale Perry was elected president of the Elementary Parent-Teachers Organization PTO at an open house meeting Monday.

Other officers elected are: vice-president, Mrs. Edwin Pike; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Jolet and fund raising, Mrs. Gerald Marion.

Introduction of the teachers was given by Mrs. Margaret Bless, principal, who stated that parents are always welcome to visit school.

Mr. Perry and Mrs. Marion reported on the progress of the PTO Fall Festival projects, a beef raffle and arts and crafts booth.

Fred Shumaker reported that Redskin T-shirts will be on sale at the booth. Money raised through these projects will be used to purchase playground equipment.

Next PTO meeting will be Nov. 18.

UF Drive Begins at Clinton

CLINTON — The Clinton United Fund Drive will be conducted from Oct. 5 through Oct. 19. Financial support and volunteers are needed. Volunteers should contact John Frye, 456-4466 during business hours. The goal for 1974 is $10,000.

Circle Meets

CLINTON—Women of the New Testament was the subject of the program presented by Mrs. John Duede for the meeting of the Methodist Dorcas Circle, Sept. 18.

Mrs. Charles Thompson hosted the dessert luncheon afternoon meeting.

Mrs. Forrest Swift gave the prayer and Mrs. Robert Price presented the devotions.

Mrs. Price played the organ and accompanied the group in singing of hymns.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Price.

"WHAT A DAY!"

It started out to be a good day but a very ordinary one too. The weather was nice and there was no reason to expect that we would not have the usual complement of freeloaders at the feeding stations. On the other hand, there was no reason to expect that there would be anything unusual either. Just a typical mid-September day.

Cardinals and bluejays were the first customers. The cardinal family was still hanging together, Papa and his two male offspring made a nice trio. The family ties were weakening tough. One of the kids noticeable more independent than the other, his search for adventure took him farther and farther from his father and brother. The other youngster was quite a tag-along but at least he was not begging continuously and, I was pleased to see, he was doing a nice job of eating. Both were showing a distinct improvement in appearance, more red and better top knots. However they were far from the full glory of an adult

The bluejays afforded the first hint that perhaps the day was going to be ordinary after all. We enjoy bluejays, their bright colors and even their sassiness, but just having a bluejay or two is not enough to portend an outstanding day Five bluejays at once is a different matter though. As we watched the gang come flying in it was most exciting. Noisy too. I have no idea what the occasion was but, like a bunch of boisterous boys on a spree, they were here for a short time and then streaked off to see what was happening elsewhere.

Then the outside action settled down. Just good looking as the every day regulars visited and freeloaded at the bird feeders. Four o'clock found everyone gathered in my room. Auntn, Rog, Mother, Dad, and I. When not watching and laughing at the antics of Penny, the Roger's cute little schnauzer, were talking about their upcoming trip to Florida. Mom was sitting in her favorite chair by the window and all of a sudden the speculating as to whether the section of I-75 which runs through Tennessee would ever be completed or not was interrupted by her loud and surprised exclamation, "Oh, look!" She was looking and pointing toward Randall's front yard. Fortunately I could see what was going on and who was there but unfortunately none of the others could.

What a thrill. Two cock pheasants. They were running at top speed and, of course, were out of sight before the others could get to the window. They were young birds, not colored up, but oh, their long tails and gangly legs. Almost like roadrunners. Across the yard and into the underbrush on the creek bank in just a flash. At this time of year there are few things to rival a cock pheasant for sheer beauty. His iridescent green and red head, the spotless white collar around his neck, the lovely and intricate markings on his fat plump body, and the black horizontal stripes on his brown extra long and pointed tail all combine to make a breathtakingly beautiful bird.

Naturally all talk of Florida ceased and pheasants became the main topic. I wonder if there are any other birds who are as completely knowledgeable about the calender. Since Dad no longer hunts we do not know the exact date but, believe me, every pheasant knows the opening day of hunting season. They had better. And are there any other birds who are as arrogant and haughty as cock pheasants are a few days before the season opens? Their strut becomes just a little more so at this time of year. Our twosome was still too young for that but they were fun.

The last thrill of the day was the best. Mom and Autn were in the kitchen and I was supposedly watching TV. The drapes were not yet pulled even though it was dark except for a little brightness still left in the sky. My TV watching was not too intent because all of a sudden I saw something fly to the walnut tree and light on the high spot of the lower limb. This was the place so favored by the red-headed woodpeckers when they were cracking corn. This, however, was no woodpecker—not that late. It was an owl. An honest to goodness owl. At my call Mom and Auntn rushed in and they too had good looks. Actually, we had perfect looks as the little guy stayed put for several minutes. A charming silhouette.

So it is that what started out to be quite ordinary turned out to be very extrordinary and after the owl flew away all we could do was look at each other and sigh, "What a day!"

Navy Seaman Recruit Alan D. Canary, son of Ron B. Canary of 2905 Munger Road, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center in Great Lakes, Ill. He is scheduled to report to Radioman A School in San Diego, Calif. Training included instruction in seamanship, military regulations, fire fighting, close order drill, first aid and Navy history.

Readers Write Editor

To the Editor:

Last night while filling out the questionnaire provided by the Tecumseh Planning Board, my mind started working along other lines of improvement for our city—not so much in landscaping as providing plain "ole" practical equipment for the safety of the senior citizens, handicapped, and temporarily afflicted whether in the homes or in public places.

Twenty years ago I wouldn't have thought of the following hazards. But I, for one, now have to be doubly cautious. Substantial railings or good substitutes are very necessary inside our homes as well as outside or in public places. Steps should be uniform in height and width. As necessary as ramps are I fear the outside ones because they are treacherous in frosty weather.

All restrooms, one stall at least, should be equipped with strong bars or strong door-pulls within easy reach for the convenience of the crippled person in lowering or rising from the toilet seat. Oh yes, when we lock ourselves in rest rooms how can help get to us? Do a little checking around to see how far off I am. Nursing homes, new buildings for the elderly and shops are good examples of these ideas. Take heed, your time is coming.

Along another line may I say that not all of us are smitten with the malls in Adrian, Ann Arbor etc. Drivers complain about parking along the main street with the beauty spots offering interference. Some paint and grass seed will do wonders for us. Our merchants show an interest in providing boxes and beds of live flowers to please our artistic natures.

Mrs. Blake's students of art did a very worthwhile thing when they displayed their talents beautifying the walls of the buildings downtown. Now if the merchants would provide some captains chairs in their stores for us, elderly, to sit a spell, then we could be able to rise with the aid of the chair-arms. Standing, while we are waiting for someone, can just about kill us.

Yours truly,

Only one of the many Senior Citizens

As an independent agent we answer to one boss — our hometown people

We represent several firms, but we work for only one boss — you. That way we can always place you with a company which we think is best for each line of insurance you need. Naturally, we prefer companies like Auto-Owners who look at a loss and take care of it right away, without haggling or delays. That's one of the reasons we're part of the Altogether Family. Like us, they're always there when you need them.

Brigadier To Speak At Church

BRITTON—Brigadier Anna Hannevik of the Salvation Army, and niece of the Rev. G.O. Hannevik, will speak at the Congregational Christian Church at the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday.

Brigadier Hannevik will be in this country for three weeks as an observer at the United Nations for the Norwegian Women's National Federation. She recently returned from a world conference of social workers in Nairobi, Kenya, Africa, sent by the same organization.

She also served a few years on the staff of the International Training College, London. Born of missionary parents in China, she has had numerous opportunities to travel in several countries, direct social services, lecture and preach.

Zoning Ordinance Meeting Set

BRITTON—A public meeting on the zoning ordinance was scheduled for Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the council rooms at the Sept. 16 Village Council meeting.

Discussion was held on a citizen's petition presented to the council for action on the excessive noise and traffic problems in the village.

Money was received from the Department of Natural Resources on the recreation grant for completion of the recently built tennis court in the village park.

Next council meeting is Monday, Oct. 7.

Five Attend Potato Festival

BRITTON—Edmore's Annual Potato Festival held Sept. 13, 14 and 15 was attended by five of our council members last weekend.

Edmore, village of 1,000, that participated in mayor exchange day with Britton this past May, invited our council members back to help celebrate the big festival. Edmore boasts of a potato processing plant.

Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Niblack, Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Weyher and Deb, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lorenz and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tiede and Kim.

Dorcas Class Has Guest

BRITTON—Thirteen members of the Dorcas Class of the Britton Congregational Christian Church and one guest met in the Fellowship Center of the church Sept. 19 for a potluck dinner which was served by the refreshment committee composed of Mrs. Irene Fournia and Gertrude Yape.

Early in the afternoon a business meeting was conducted by the class president, Mrs. Nina Taylor. Communicatons were read from two members.

Mrs. Mae Willis read the 46th Psalm, Weekly Meditations from a copy of the Monroe Evening News, a poem "Life's Highway", Gossip, and Untying the Hands of God.

Handicapped Get Van

The LARC Activity Center recently purchased a new van to expand services for their handicapped clients. Mrs. Bertha Vallenlunga, program manager, reports that the students are enjoying this asset to the Center's program.

The LARC Activity Center provides for the development of work, academic, social and recreational skills for handicapped Lenawee County residents and is located at 600 E. Beecher St., Adrian.

Purchase of the new van signifies further cooperation between the Center and the Dept. of Social Services. Lynda Walker, Adult Services supervisor of the Dept. of Social Services has been working closely with the Center to provide transportation for the handicapped.

Mark Willaert (16) awaits a Grosse Pointe player to bring his run to an end. Mike Servoss (40) and an unidentified Tory pursue their opponent in last Friday's game.

Head Coach Randy Salisbury paces on the side line a little upset with the last play. Meanwhile, Assistant Coach Jim Sweigart studies the action of the play in the 14-0 loss of Grosse Pointe Ligget over Britton.

Tories Tumble But Look Good

The Britton Tories lost a hard fought game to Grosse Pointe University Liggett last Friday night with a final score of 13-0.

The first half was dominated by Britton except for the goal tally. The Tories were inside the Knight's 10 yard line three times but were unable to grab a goal.

In the third quarter, Liggett marched 61 yards for their first score as Whit Boyd went across from the one yard line. The extra point attempt failed and Liggett led 6-0.

Early in the fourth quarter, Bill Albrecht ran 50 yards for the Knights' second TD. Frank Judge got the two point conversion to make the final score 14-0.

In total offense, Britton had 225 yards and Liggett 220 yards. On the ground, Mike Servoss gained 78 yards in 16 carries and in the air quarterback Jeff Brown went 6 for 13 passing for 99 yards.

Defensively Dan Exelby led with 16 tackles and a pass interception and Doug Armstrong finished with 12 tackles.

This Friday, the Tories travel to Deerfield to meet the Minutemen in the first Tri-County league game for both schools.

Goodwill Thanks Citizens in Lenawee

Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan extends its gratitude to the citizens of Lenawee Country for the support given the past month in donating articles which can be refurbished and sold in the stores.

Donors should not contribute heavy appliances, furniture and other items that must be repaired for a greater cost than what the items can be sold for. Goodwill also asks that donors not leave articles larger than the drop boxes, as this creates an unsightly situation which is objected to by merchants and others who have allowed Goodwill space.

Goodwill Industries is not a public dump. With the small mark-up on saleable items, great care must be taken not to invest more in an item than what is may sell for. They ask that items which are impossible to repair not be left at the drop boxes.

The public is invited to tour Goodwill facilities in Adrian and to visit their Monroe and Adrian stores.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips

423-5213

MACON—There is something that can be added to Libby Lincoln's enumeration last week concerning World Gratitude Day, and that is good health.

After being quite sick last week, it occurred to me how many of us tend to take for granted good health, just as we do the doctors and nurses who help us feel better when our good fortune runs out. People of days gone by who, because a doctor was unavailable or a great distance away and who had to chiefly rely on herbal and other homemade remedies, would surely appreciate and marvel at our modern technology, glistening facilities and wealth of trained medical personnel.

Though there is a growing trend nowadays to get back to nature and do things the old-fashioned way, there are probably very few of us who don't welcome the comforting words, "Say ah," when the flu strikes!

Gene Eldredge protested that the gift given him last week at the combined Belles-Macon Historical Society organizational meeting was unnecessary, to which the group of 14 who attended replied, "Nonsense!" It was, after all, the Eldredges' generosity in permitting the mill and grounds to be used for the pie social that made its success possible. Nevertheless, the gift, an attractively bound album of newspaper clippings, photographs,etc. pertaining to the event which had been compiled by Julie Rhora, was gratefully accepted.

Later in the evening when the group's attention focused on the historical society, discussion was led regarding goals of the organization as well as possible activities. Three committees were formed: One for the nomination of officers, one to draft by-laws and another in charge of an October square dance.

A business meeting will preface the evening's square dancing, and more complete details will be announced later.

Clinton-Macon Road Still a Controversy

By Linda Phillips

MACON — A compromise has been discussed concerning the protracted controversy over the paving of Clinton-Macon Road, in Macon Township.

According to Mrs. Harold Rhora, 7500 Clinton-Macon Road, road commission representatives, their engineers and attorney, Alex DuShane, visited the area approximately three weeks ago and discussed with her the possibility of ditching in the fields behind the trees instead of completely eliminating the trees as previously planned.

Each property owner involved would be contacted before any work begins.

Work cannot be started until 1975 due to the weather.

Mr. Rhora requested some temporary action be taken to make the road more passable during the winter months when driving conditions are more hazardous.

Club Meets

Twenty-one members and guests, were present when the Tecumseh Garden Club met Sept. 20 at the home of Mrs. Maurice McIntosh. Mrs. Neil Pierson presented a program entitled "All About Bulbs."

Notice to the Residents of the Village of Britton

PUBLIC HEARING

The Village of Britton Council will hold a Public Hearing in the Village Council Rooms at 7:30 p.m., October 10, 1974, to present the proposed Zoning Map and Zoning Ordinance for the Village of Britton, describing lands to be used for RA (One Family Residential), RM (Multiple Family Residential), BC (Central Business), BG (General Business), and ID (Industrial) Districts.

A Zone Map and copy of the Zoning Ordinance will be available at the Britton Branch of the United Savings Bank, 102 W. Chicago Blvd., Britton, Michigan. 9-26;10,3

48 Channels Complete

General Telephone Co. announced today the recent completion of the installation of 48 channels of 91A carrier for Tecumseh and Adrian. Announcement was made by Adrian's Customer Service Manager, Andy Johnson.

These 48 channels of carrier are for the anticipated growth in usage over the next several years. These "channels" not only provide paths for voice communication but also promote long range results by providing a toll grade of carrier system with data capabilities. These paths can also be used by Clinton and Britton customers.

Installation of the equipment was accomplished by General Telephone Co. personnel with the total cost of the project being $47,000 according to Johnson.

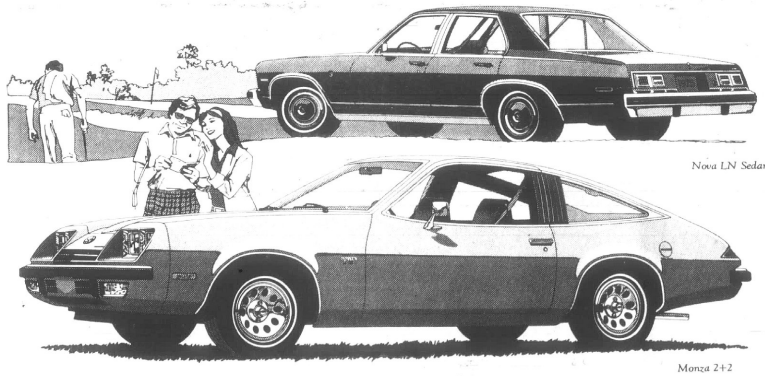
CHEVROLET FOR 1975. CARS THAT MAKE SENSE FOR TODAY.



Nova LN Sedan

Monza 2+2

MONZA 2+2 The small car of tomorrow will probably be a little more powerful, handy and comfortable than ever. The 1975 Monza 2+2, shown above, offers this today. It has advances like rectangular headlights set in a soft front end, fold-down rear seat, and a new 4.3-litre V8 engine available.

NOVA In the background above, our new Nova LN Sedan. A luxurious Nova with thick carpeting and wide-back reclining front seats. For 1975, all Novas have been emphatically refined along the lines of elegant European sedans. Nova's always been good. Now it's beautiful.

CAMARO Our sensibly sporty compact. It looks like a million and drives like it looks.

IMPALA America's favorite car continues to provide the room many families need plus plenty of quiet and comfort. Still the great American value.

WAGONS Big ones, small ones, in-between ones. Practical wagons that make sense for America. And you.

CHEVELLE Mid-size, easy to drive, room for six, mid-priced, strong reputation for value. America's most popular intermediate.

MONTE CARLO Its special ability: making you feel good. About the way it looks and drives. About your own taste and judgment.

CHEVROLET'S NEW EFFICIENCY SYSTEM FOR 1975 It's the key part of a program aimed at helping our new cars run leaner (more economically), run cleaner—and save you money every mile.

The Efficiency System is standard on all 1975 Chevrolets with V8 or 6-cylinder engines. It's a series of significant engineering improvements working together for the very first time.

Components include High Energy Ignition, catalytic converter, Early Fuel Evaporation and steel-belted radial ply tires. In sum, the System is designed to heighten the pleasure and lower the cost of driving a 1975 Chevrolet—to bring you a better running car in many ways, along with improved fuel economy, more miles between recommended maintenance and an engine that stays cleaner internally because of no-lead fuel.

Your Chevrolet dealer will gladly give you the details and answer your questions. See him and the sensible 1975 Chevrolets starting September 27.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank each and everyone of our relatives, friends and neighbors for making our 50th anniversary day so lovely and memorable. For all the beautiful cards, gifts and flowers. Especially to our family for all their work.

Our love to all,
Lawrence and LaRue Hoagland. 9-26c

We would like to thank all our friends and neighbors for all the "Get Well" cards and good wishes, also for offers to help and for the help they gave us while Grant was in the hospital and at home. Also we would like to thank the Doctors Buenaflor and staff at Herrick Memorial Hospital for their care and thoughtfulness. A special "Thank You" to Richard and Helen, Ted and Dorothy and Terry and Marilyn.

Grant and Lydia. 9-26c

I want to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Helzerman, Dr. Buenaflor, and Mrs. Walker and the nurses and nurses aides at Herrick Hospital for their excellent care and consideration during my stay at the hospital and to all who remembered me with cards and to Local 525 of the Tecumseh Products for the beautiful plant. Also to Rev. and Mrs. Hannevik for their many visits during my stay in the hospital and after I returned home.

Mrs. Raymond Seagert. 9-26c

The family of Otto Teske wishes to express their thanks and appreciation to all the relatives, friends and neighbors for the flowers, memorials and many acts of kindness during our bereavement. A special thanks to Rev. K.W. Strack for his comforting words; the Ladies Aid for the lunch they served; to all those who cared for Mr. Teske while at Lenawee Medical Care Facility and the Proctor Funeral Home. 9-26c

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Hal Middlebrook wishes to thank all those who so kindly helped us in any way during the loss of our beloved brother and uncle. Especially do we thank the Rev. Ronald Corl for his comforting words, the pallbearers, those who sent the beautiful flowers and the Proctor Funeral Home for their gracious service. 9-26p

MEMORIAMS

In loving memory of our dear son Ricky Frank Horton, who passed away 11 years ago September 29, 1963.

To some he may be forgotten,
To others just a part of the past;
But the one who loved and lost him,
His memory will always last,
Just a cluster of beautiful memories,
Sprayed with a million tears,
Wishing GOD could have spared him,
For just a few more years,
GOD gave us the strength to fight this,
And courage to bear the blow;
But what it meant to lose him,
No one will ever know.
Forever Loved and Greatly missed by Dad & Mother. 9-26p

Indian Golfers Win Again

Tecumseh Indian golfers continue their rampage beating both Airport and Monroe CC in recent contests. Their league record now stands at 7-0.

The team met Airport Wednesday of last week at Tecumseh Country Club downing them with a score of 156-196. Medalist for the Indians was Doug Jacobs with an even par of 36. Behind him were teammates Paul Lemanski, Scott Macbeth and John Gibson with scores of 39, 40 and 41 respectively.

The JV squad also was successful in their campaign against Airport with a final tally of 200-208.

The Indians did it again on Monday of this week taking on Monroe CC at Tecumseh. The final score was Tecumseh 165, Monroe CC 169. Medalist this time was Scott Macbeth with a score of 39 followed by John Gibson 40, Paul Lemanski 42 and Steve Lynch 44. Medalist for Monroe CC was Dave Dinski 40.

The JV's defeated Monroe CC with a score of 178-188.

Girls Travel To Chelsea

Tecumseh's girl basketball team has their season opener this Thursday against Chelsea. Game time is 8 p.m. for the varsity and 6:30 p.m. for the J.V.'s Both contests are at Chelsea.

According to Coach Diane Nelson, the girls hope to have an even better season than last when the varsity finished 14-3 and the J.V.'s were undefeated in the Huron League. They finished second in the league. "This year we'll be first," she says.

And that's quite possible when you realize that the varsity has 10 returning players out of the 11 on the team.

Starting players against Chelsea include, Julie Anderson-forward, Julie Murphy-forward, Barb Henning-center, Melinda Turnak-guard, and Suzy Brown-guard.

Next week the team travels to Flat Rock on Wednesday.

Frosh Are Undefeated

After opening their season with an 8-0 victory over the Manchester JVs, the Tecumseh freshmen beat the Monroe Catholic Central frosh by a score of 48-8 last week. The Indian frosh now stand 2-0.

In their opener with Manchester, Jeff Robideau scored Tecumseh's lone touchdown with a five yeard run midway through the third quarter. Lyndon Hughes went in for the two point conversion.

Impressive offensive performances were turned in by tackles John Siberhorn and John Paxton, end Jim Neill and halfback Lyndon Hughes. Defensive standouts included Wendell Withrow, Greg Lewis, John Egbert and Bill Tooman.

The Indians scored the first four times they had the ball against Catholic Central. John Egbert scored three times on runs of 56, 51 and 1 yards. Butch Harvey scored two more TDs on a 42-yard from scrimmage and a 76-yard kickoff return. Dan Yoder scored the final Tecumseh touchdown with a six yard run.

Rob Coaker, John Silberhorn and Wendell Withrow did some fine blocking. John Paxton, Marvin Hayford, Dan DeHaan, and Dave Roberts were the top defensive players.

Thin Clads Are Off And Running

Tecumseh's Cross Country squad is off to a fine start this season. After three meets, they stand 2-1 with a league record of 1-0.

The thin-clads challenged Huron for their first meet of the season on Tuesday of last week. Tecumseh won it 19-40. Tim Scheff for Tecumseh was the first man in with a time of 17:21. He was followed closely by Huron's Bob Tillotson at 17:29. The next three times were owned by the Indians with Dale Bird, Bob Cook and Brad Sisson, and Kim Cantrell finishing third, fourth, and fifth respectively.

Things didn't go quite so smoothly on Thursday when the Indians traveled to meet Chelsea. Tecumseh was defeated by a score of 23-32. Still, Tim Scheff was first man in with a time of 17:12. He was followed by Jim Storey 17:17, and Dave Dawson 17:34 both from Chelsea.

On Sunday, the Indians attended the Jackson Invitational competing with ten other Class B cross country teams. Class B champ Lumen Christi took it with a low point tally of 43. Tecumseh finished sixth with 161 points. Tim Scheff came off the course in the 13th position with a time of 16:27. Other Indian times included Bob Cook 24th, with a time of 16:58, Dale Bird 38th and 17:26, Kim Cantrell, 39th and 17:31 and Brad Sisson, 47th and 18:01.

Golf Awards

The Monday Hit and Miss Golf League, Raisin Valley Golf Club has ended the season with trophies awarded for:

First Place: Shirley Hinkleman and Wanda Ward; Second Place: Carrie Warner and Joyce Smith; Most Improved Game: Stella Leal; Low Putts: Alyce Dick.

Fun day was Monday September 16. A round of "Scotch Ball" preceded the pot-luck supper.

TCC Holds Tourney

Tecumseh Country Club ladies low gross, low net and low putt tournament was held Wednesday of last week. Committee members included Frenchie Blanden and Millie Butler.

Prizes were awarded to, Barb Wheeler, Kathryn Champanois, Allee Collins, Carol David, Edna Smith, Myrtle Binder, Mary Hanna, Edith Smith, Marge Rohweder, and Marty Owen.

Indians Host Grosse Ile

The Tecumseh Indians meet title contender Grosse Ile this Friday night on home turf. Last year the Red Devils beat Tecumseh 13-7 but both teams ended in a four-way tie for second place in the Huron League final standings.

According to assistant coach Bob Ondrovick, this season's contest "should be a fairly close, good game." He continues to say that both teams are roughly the same size. Indian scouts have reported that Grosse Ile is quick and "likes to stunt a lot," that is, run a variety of plays in an attempt to confuse their opponents.

Scouts have warned that Tissot at quarterback and Cortis at tailback for Grosse Ile bear watching. They are the two key people in the Red Devil's offense.

Ondrovick is hopeful about the game—especially after the Indian's performance last week. "I'm pleased with the way we've improved in the last two weeks. We're on an upward trend and if we continue to improve with each week we'll have a really good team."

The only Indian who won't be dressed for the kickoff is Doug Bunch who suffered a slight concussion at the end of last week's game against Airport. The rest of the team is healthy.

Ondrovick concludes, "We're looking for a real good game. Grosse Ile always has some fine athletes and a fine team. They are a good, sound, consistent ball club."

Kickoff time at Indian Stadium is 7:30 p.m.

Local GT Employees Score State Victory

Tecumseh's representative in the General Telephone slo-pitch softball tournament won the state championship recently.

The double elimination state tournament was held in Grayling on Sept. 14 and 15. Eight teams participated and Tecumseh won it with three straight wins. Each team is made up primarily of General Telephone employees.

Tecumseh beat Alma 11-10 to win the trophy. The team also won the district championship held at Ida. This is the first time that General Telephone has organized the softball tournament.

Steve Cook—shortstop—was voted the most valuable player of the tournament after hitting seven home runs.

Runners Lose

Clinton Cross Country team captured the first two places Wednesday but Hudson came on to take six of the next seven places to hand the Redskins their first loss by a 28-30 score.

Jim Scoggins was first over the three mile course in 17:07, Jim Mattis was second in 17:23, Wally Pike was fifth in 18:10, Jim Klanke was tenth in 19:50, Rodger LaSavage was twelfth in 20:34, Mark Evelth thirteenth in 20:39, Chris Wojtowicz fourteenth in 20:50, John Johnson fifteenth in 21:37 and Craig Hill sixteenth in 23:58.

Although losing, Clinton had six of its nine runners register their fastest times of the season. Clinton is now 2-1 on the season and 0-1 in the LCAA. The team will be competing in a tough field at the Jackson Invitational Saturday morning.

Hole In One

Bob Hoekstra, 210 Marlboro in Tecumseh, scored a hole-in-one last Saturday on hole No. 6 at Tecumseh Country Club. Hoekstra used an 8 iron on the 150-yard hole.

Meyers Industries Sold

Donald E. Tjarksen of Muskegon has assumed ownership of Meyers Industries, at 9133 Tecumseh-Clinton Road, as company president.

The company, which manufactures aluminum boats and jeep tops, originated with the Meyers family in 1936 and has been for sale for the last year.

"We feel that the company has a real potential in its metal working capability and is unlimited in what it can do. We hope to expand with new product lines and expand our market west," Tjarksen said.

Douglas A. Jordan also of Muskegon, is a partner-investor in the venture. Main market of the company is in the east.

Last Thursday through Sunday, Tjarksen had the opportunity to attend the marine trade show where Meyers was one of 600 exhibitors. He said that Meyers had a good show and there he had an opportunity to meet many of the company's customers. Company sells through dealerships.

Tjarksen said that Meyers Industries will retain the company name and be separate from the Meyers aircraft. There will be no major policy changes and most of the 35 employes are expected to remain.

Tjarksen, no novice to the industry, formerly owned Medalion Instruments, a marine instruments and accessories company, which he started seven years ago near Muskegon.

His wife, Jane teaches algebra at Reese-Puffer High School in Muskegon. They have three children, two daughters and one son. The family will consider moving to the Tecumseh area.

LAUNCHES NEW OWNERSHIP — Donald E. Tjarksen is new president and owner of Meyers Industries, aluminum boat manufacturer that supplies dealers throughout the eastern and other states. The Muskegon man bought the business from the Meyer family who began it in 1936.

Late Delivery Is Expected for Leaf Bags

A late delivery of 30,000 plastic bags for leaves will present not only problems for residents but the city, too.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the supplier has promised the bags by Nov. 11, well after the time when most leaves will be down.

He asks residents to place leaves, limbs and brush in boxes or other containers and leave at the curb. Although the city is not equipped to pick up loose or piles of leaves, they too will be picked up.

Free city pick-ups will start at the end of October.

3 Chased in Stolen Van

Two 15-year-old boys and one 14 are being held in Fulton County, Ohio after a spree involving a stolen van from Les Dallas, Inc., Tecumseh auto dealer.

All three boys are from the Tecumseh area.

According to information from the local police, the van was stolen between 9:15 and 10:00 Tuesday night. Mr. Dallas had reported keys to the van were stolen and requested surveilance of his car lot.

Officers checked shortly after 9 p.m. and the van was still there. Following check showed it was gone.

The three boys are known to have driven the van to Jasper where they filled up with gas at a service station and then skipped out without paying. Officers in the area already had been alerted about the stolen vehicle.

A pursuit soon started on M-52 and its extension, Ohio Route 109, into Fulton County. A road block, which also involved the Ohio Highway Patrol, as set up on Rt-109, just south of Rt-20.

The boys failed in their attempt to run the road block. Two patrol cars were heavily damaged at the blockade and the van, valued at $6,000, was also badly damaged.

Enrollment Is 12 Short

Tecumseh schools did not set a record enrollment this year, but the 3,668 students fell only 12 short of tying the mark.

Supt. Robert Duhan has announced the head count in the local schools at 3,668 for last Friday, the date when schools throughout the state take official enrollment figures for state aid purposes.

After the first week of school for the 1974-75 term, enrollment here was 3,683 — three over the mark set in 1971.

Heads Named

With one exception, division heads have been named for the 1974 Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive.

Divisional chairmen are:

Commercial — Lester Proctor and Dave Criss

Schools — Gene Cooley

Professional — William Danley

Public employees — Cal Zorn

Tecumseh Products — Robert Kennedy

Coordinator of Company Funds — Earl Mason

Special Gifts — Barbara Blanden and Mary Bowers, who are also co-chairmen of this year's campaign.

A kick-off breakfast to raise over $76,000 this year will be held Oct. 15 at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Lone chairman to be appointed is for the industrial division. He will be selected and announced next week.

Tecumseh Hosts 28th Festival

Crisp clear notes from the brass quartet of the Tecumseh High School Marching Band in a number called "I'd Like To Teach the World To Sing," will fill the autumn night air on Tuesday, Oct. 8 at 8 p.m. when Tecumseh hosts the 28th annual Tecumseh Marching Band Festival at Tecumseh High School Athletic Field.

Event, which originated in 1946 with the late Clair Camburn and the Rev. B.O. Bashore, is one of the most important for the high school marching bands of the county. Twelve will perform for an audience primarily interested in seeing and hearing marching routines and quality music from the bands of Tecumseh, Britton-Macon, Clinton, Onsted, Addison, Adrian, Blissfield, Deerfield, Sand Creek, Hudson, Madison, and Morenci High Schools.

Last year's audience numbered nearly 1,000. This year, spectators will again be treated to individual band, high stepping and marching routines, "mass band" selections at the conclusion, which includes "Fiest Football Medley", the Al Jolson, Broadway-vaudeville hit "Rock a Bye Your Baby With a Dixie Melody" and the "Star Spangled Banner," as grand finale, will be directed by Lenawee County Band Director Association (LCBDA) president Richard Barber.

Tickets are available at the gate. Admission will be split 15 ways, for the 12 bands and for three scholarships for the All-State sessions at the National Summer Music Camp at Interlochen.

Featured in the Tecumseh Band's program will be brass quartet members Tom Sell, first cornet Edward Philo, second cornet David Bunge, first trombone, and Marty Gagneur, second trombone. Drum major Bill Silberhorn and assistant drum major, Val Egli will perform. Twirlers Jeanie DeHaan, Sharon Jones, Sue Mull and Lisa Lee will highlight the performances. James Rice will direct.

Thirty-five members will represent Britton-Macon as they perform "Another Opening of Another Show," "Tie a Yellow Ribbon Around the Old Oak Tree," and "The Victors." Mrs. Meri Schoof will direct the program and drum major Steve Gilmore will perform.

Clinton's band director, Robert Calkins, promised a performance that will "blow every band away." Clinton will perform an across the field drill to a "Wonderful Day Like Today," and a concert highlighting the flag carriers will feature "Time in a Bottle," by the late Jim Croce. Finale drill will be the "Hallelujah Chrous." Forty instrumentalists, eight flag carriers, twirlers, Judy Simison, and Jean Mende, and Kathy Mende, sophomore drum majorette, will be the cast.

Homecoming Parade, Game Here Friday

A variety of events will highlight this year's homecoming celebration at Tecumseh High School. A pep rally Thursday at 7:15 p.m. on the Athletic Field kicks off a round of activities including a parade, football game, Queen crowning and dance.

Friday's Homecoming Parade will march from the High School at 2 p.m. proceeding down Chicago Blvd., and doubling back on Chicago to the Athletic Field via Shawnee St.

The big game against Carlson is slated for 7:30 p.m. with the crowning of Tecumseh's homecoming queen to take place during half-time. A dance will follow at the High School from 10 p.m. to midnight.

A Spirit Award will be awarded at next week's pep rally to the class which scored the most points for participation and attendance at the homecoming pep rally and parade, and for announcements over the school's public address system.

Tecumseh store fronts have sported festive designs on their windows all week due to the efforts of the Art Club, under the direction of Mrs. Ann Fox, art teacher at the High School.

DOCILE DUROCS — Matched team of Duroc hogs, owned by John Guenter of Fremont, Ind., and arranged for by Gary Service of Clinton Grain Co., was the hit of the Clinton's Fall Festival parade, Sunday.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Tecumseh and Lenawee County are highlighed as top Michigan travel and vacation destinations in Automobile Club of Michigan's September Motor News magazine. Auto Club's 1.1 million reader-members read that "Tecumseh is a blend of the old and the new. The downtown area and main street still retain much of their 19th century flavor, which contrasts with the modern plant of Tecumseh Products, world's largest manufacturer of refrigeration components."

Nine Accidents Only One Injured

Nine traffic accidents here during the past week were mostly minor with only one motorist suffering a slight injury.

Three drivers received citations for violations.

A resume is:

Sept. 23 - An unknown driver of a vehicle struck a parked truck on S. Pearl St. and left the scene. Truck is owned by Russell and Dorothy Williams.

Sept. 25 - Carl P. Duda, 43, of 203 Clinton-Macon Rd., was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance. Duda, who suffered a minor injury, ran into the rear of a car operated by Norman V. Heistand, 36, of 4777 DeLeon Dr., on S. Maumee.

Sept. 25 - Gail L. Knack, 29, 2830 Heritage Dr., was making a turn on S. Maumee St. when she was struck by a vehicle operated by William N. Judkins, 47, Britton.

Sept. 27 - Carl L. Dunham, 208 N. Union, told police his car was damaged while parked in the Clauda Plumbing and Heating parking lot.

Sept. 27 - Lawrence R. Church, 44, of 9385 Carson Hwy., ran into the rear of a car being driven by Paul R. Randall, 21, of 803 River Acres Dr., on Chicago Blvd. at Evans.

Sept. 28 - Michael A. Clement, 19, of 5732 Centennial Rd., and Timothy J. Eggleston, 16, of 709 Wenonah, sideswiped on N. Evans. Both were headed south.

Sept. 28 - Mickey L. Watts, 30, Milan was charged with failure to stop within an assured clear distance after running into Jerome D. Kujawa, 9415 Macon Rd., on W. Chicago Blvd.

Sept. 28 - Lloyd D. Mann, 24, of 126 Herrick Park Dr., was charged with reckless driving after attempting to make a U-turn on N. Maumee. He lost control of his car and hit a chain link fence at the north, high school athletic field.

Sept. 30 - Gertrude Schneider, 77, of 703 W. Chicago Blvd., bumped a parked car belonging to Jeanne Sheldon, Adrian, behind Gaston's Jewelry Store.

AMOS CRANE

Volunteer Honored

CLINTON — The last of Clinton's original volunteer firemen, Amos Crane, 81, was honored Saturday, during the Fall Festival.

A commemorative plaque was presented to Crane by Harlon Ruhl, the present fire chief of Clinton Township Fire Department.

The other members of that first group of fire fighters, now all deceased, except Crane, included Linn Weaver, who served as chief; Max Munger, Hubert Breese, Crane, and another man, whose name is forgotten.

When a fire call came, a fellow named "Cubby" Earl whipped a pair of dappled white ponies down to the 'fire barn,' which was a shed located at the Weaver residence on Tyrell Lane, hitched them to a two wheel cart, and away they'd

"When Cubby hollered 'whoa' — we had to be ready to hang on - because those horses stopped in a hurry," Crane said.

It was 1918 or 1920 before a canvas chemical truck was added, Crane recalls.

He was employed at Atlas Milling Co., when he became a fireman, and continued to serve for 35 years. He operated a plumbing business in the village, near the fire station, for many years until his retirement. He lives alone at 306 W. Michigan Ave., since his wife died in 1973.

The veteran firefighter recalled one of the largest fires he helped put out was at the hotel in Tecumseh, on the corner, where the present main office of United Savings Bank is located.

It was in the early '20's, while many of the firemen were all dressed up attending a dance at the school that a fire call came from a brooder coop blaze on a farm east of Clinton.

Firemen ruined their good suits handling that one, and at a meeting soon afterward they asked to be paid for damages to their clothes. That was the first time firemen received pay for their services.

Quite a change to today's well-equipped fire department which proudly displayed its newest fire trucks in the Festival parade Sunday. Firemen hosted an open house all weekend.

Smash This Windshield?

Would you like to break the windshield of a car with a sledgehammer? Who wouldn't? Well, the Tecumseh Jaycees are kicking off their 1974 sale of household products made by blind people by having a car smash. On Saturday, Oct. 5, between 10 a.m.and 1 p.m. the Jaycees will be selling whacks on a car with a sledgehammer (NOT the car pictured above). It's going to be a real smash! Car will be located incpfvparking lot behind GAmble's in downtown Tecumseh.

Proceeds from this sale will go to pay for the bleachers that have been installed on Nelson field.

You Told Us

By Libby Lincoln

Although autumn officially began Sept. 23, this past week those without calendars might have thought they'd been hit with winter rather than fall. For many of us the unexpected cold spell meant a quick run to closets and cedar chests to shake out mothballs and uncover cold weather gear. I'm all for a white Christmas but a white Halloween??? If your pipes chatter when you turn on a faucet, it's probably a loose washer. To repair, turn off water, open faucet, close drain so small parts do not fall down the drain, take screw out of handle and lift off. Take off packing nut and remove stem. The washer on bottom of stem may as well be replaced. If screw fits loose, replace screw also, or you may get chatter again in a short time.

You'll find CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, 1108 W. Chicago Blvd., 423-3121 is a great place to purchase all types of plumbing tools and supplies as well as fixtures. Fishing Derby at Bohn Pool

Adrian Recreation Department is sponsoring the second annual "Trout Fishing Derby" Oct. 12 at the Walter Bohn Pool, Adrian. Event is open to the public and all ages are invited to participate. Fishing licenses are not required.

Pool will be stocked with 500 large trout species (12-14 inch rainbow and kamloops). As an added feature 10 additional trout (in excess of 20") will be tagged with a number and prizes will be awarded to those catching a tagged fish.

Derby will be divided into two fishing sessions, 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Tickets are on sale now at the Adrian Recreation Dept., City Hall during weekday hours through Oct. 12. Fishermen will be limited to one ticket only, with additional tickets to be sold at the pool throughout the derby providing there is fishing space available. Persons who do not buy advance tickets will be permitted only if there is enough room.

Fish which aren't caught will be sold at the conclusion of the derby at 5 p.m. Oct. 12.

Fisherman must furnish own gear and equipment, and glass containers are not permitted; must show ticket to enter fishing area; must remain on the deck behind pool edge are limited to three fish per person; may use only one fishing line; are not permitted to use landing nets or catch fish by hand; and must pay to re-enter after leaving the area if they wish to return.

There will be no refund on tickets. In case of rain, the event will be held as scheduled.

Water Safety at YMCA

The American Red Cross, in conjunction with the YMCA of Lenawee County will offer a course of training for Water Safety Instructors (WSI) beginning Oct. 7. All persons currently certified as either YMCA or American Red Cross Senior Lifesavers, and who are now or will be 18 years old by May 19, 1975, are eligible for enrollment. Classes will meet at the YMCA on Monday evenings at 8 p.m., and last for about two hours.

Course will be divided into two parts; one beginning on Oct. 7 and ending Dec. 9 and the second section beginning March 17, with final testing for certification on May 19. First 10 weeks studies will largely involve review of swimming and lifesaving skills, and stroke analysis. Second 10 week period will introduce instructors to water safety, accident prevention, instructional principles and other methods.

A fee will be charged for the course, to be used to pay for books, materials, films, and national certification and registration.

Instructors for the course are Charlotte Strack, registered instructor trainer with the American Red Cross and Michael Wolf, director of aquatics and registered swimming and lifesaving instructor with the YMCA. YMCA has information at 263-2151.

Recreation Classes

Before the flurries start to fly and those big Sunday dinners start setting in around the middle, the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department suggests Tecumsehites check into the fall and winter schedule of activities. This session residents may partake in men's, women's or youth gym nights or for long winter night fun, trying crocheting, adult art or the new and popular clown class for everyone.

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department will offer the following classes for the fall and winter sessions:

Adult Art starting Tuesday, Oct. 15, 7-9 p.m. every Tuesday for 8 weeks.

Ballet for Children starting Saturday, Oct. 19, with preregistration, Saturday, Oct. 12.

Beginners Tap, starting Saturday, Oct. 19, with preregistration, Saturday, Oct. 12.

Crochet for beginners, starting Thursday, Oct. 17, six week course.

Clown Class, starting Thursday, Nov. 7, six week course.

Youth Judo Class, starts Tuesday, Oct. 15.

Modern Jazz Dance, starts Saturday, Oct. 19.

Registration and further information regarding the above classes can be obtained by calling the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department 423-5602.

Other winter activities will include: Youth gymnastics, Men's over 35 Nite, Men's basketball, Ladies' gym nite, Youth Ski Club, Youth Hockey, Children's annual Halloween parties (information to follow through the schools), Cross-country ski club meeting and trips.

Anyone that is interested in a class or program not offered, should contact the Tecumseh Recreation Department. It is possible with enough interest a class can be created.

Siena Theatre Opens Friday

"You Can't Take It With You" opens at Siena Heights College's 1974-75 theatre season on a zany note Friday, Oct. 4, for three evening performances.

"You Can't Take It With You" was written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman and first produced in late 1936, at the famous Booth Theatre, New York City. Since that time, millions of theatregoers have been reduced to convulsive laughter by the comical actions and reactions of the characters, ranging from an ice man who, while delivering his wares one day, decided to take up residency with his customers, to an authoress who writes plays because of a typewriter was mistakenly left at her door and prospective in-laws who narrowly escape a dinner of pigs' feet.

Tecumseh area actors in the "You Can't Take It With You" cast are Phil Campbell, Clinton and Roger Stutesman, Tecumseh.

"You Can't Take It With You" will run Friday - Sunday, Oct. 4, 5 and 6, in the College's Francoeur Theatre, on the west side of the Siena Heights campus. Curtain time for each performance is 8 p.m.

Box office is open from 10 a.m. - noon and 2-4 p.m., Monday through Friday; and 7 p.m. to curtain on performance nights. Phone reservations may be made daily from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. by calling 263-0731, ext. 263.

False Fire Alarm Frightens Queen

Where there's isn't always fire. But it's always nice to have a policeman around the neighborhood, even though there's nothing wrong.

So related a thankful resident of Murphy Highway this past week.

Tuesday morning, Sept. 24, someone asked Tecumseh police to respond to the Spreeman home which was "engulfed with smoke." Friends and neighbors listening to their CB radios held their breath when they heard that the officer "could not arouse anyone," with knock at the door.

Mrs. Spreeman it turns out, was in the backyard uncovering tomato plants. When the officer inquired about her welfare, the woman said she was a little frightened at first. She didn't know of anything the matter. The officer and resident checked out the home; everything was all right.

Officer Green then radioed the lieutenant to report that "Queen Francis is in perfect condition."

Mrs. Spreeman believed that the dust from the road clinging to the heavy air created the smog around the house that was mistaken for smoke.

"It's a nice feeling to know that your neighbors are concerned about you. Police don't get praised for the little things that they do. I live in the Township and the city police were kind enough to respond. They take care of us," said Mrs. Spreeman in praise of Tecumseh's officers.

DONALD COLE

Local Man to Train at Purse's

Donald Cole has received approval from the State Board of Mortuary Science to begin his resident training under the sponsorship of J. Gilbert Purse.

Cole is a 1974 graduate of Wayne State University School of Mortuary Science and a 1973 graduate of Cleary College. He lives with his wife, Linda, daughter, Beth, and sons, Allen and Dale, at 511 N. Occidental Hwy.

He was formerly employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. from July 1960 to Sept. 1973.

Tecumseh Grad Who's Who

Sharon MacGeorge, a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School was recently notified that she was to be included in the 1973-74 edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, the largest student award publication in the nation.

SHARON MACGEORGE

Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace MacGeorge of Tecumseh. While in high school she participated in F.T.A., GAA, Ski club, Spanish Club, French Club, National Honor Society, band and attended the Lenawee County Youth Convention for two years. She has received an honorary scholarship from the state of Michigan competitive scholarship program, and is a member of Gloria Dei Lutheran church, youth choir and Luther League.

Sharon now attends Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

Ritual of Jewels Degree Conferred

The Ritual of Jewels Degree was conferred upon Mrs. Robert Marsh during a candlelight ceremony on Sept. 17. Mrs. Robert Hoekstra was hostess for the monthly meeting of Xi Delta Gamma and Mrs. Gary Blatchford was co-hostess.

Transferee Mrs. Robert Bagdon was welcomed into the chapter.

Initial plans were made for a chapter exchange party and a rush party to be held this fall. It was decided to make Christmas wreaths as a service project at upcoming meetings. Mrs. Harry Newton will represent the chapter on a committee to organize the Beta Ball.

Oct. 6 members will tour model homes in Toledo to observe decorating ideas in keeping with this year's theme "The Home We Make."

Programs for the evening were "Better Lighting for Better Living" and "Table Equipment" given by Mrs. D.J. Martin and "Let's Begin with Art" and "Art in our Houses" by Mrs. James Darish.

Marine PFC Commended

Marine PFC Jay W. Poullion of 115½ N. Evans St. has been commended for contributing to his squadron's efficiency, following its recognition by the commanding general of the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing.

He serves with Headquarters and Maintenance Squadron 32 at the Marine Corps Air Station, Beaufort, S.C.

The squadron was awarded the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing Aviation Support Efficiency Trophy, given annually to the support squadron rendering superior performance in maintaining tactical aircraft availability.

A former student at Clinton High School, Poullion joined the Marine Corps in July, 1973.

Completes GT Course

Gary Allshouse, I & M serviceman for General Telephone Co. at Clinton, recently completed a technical course in residential station repair at the company's service training center in Muskegon.

Completion of the 10 day course enables participants to detect, isolate and correct residential service problems. Course includes pole climbing, troubleshooting malfunctioning lines, and repairing residential stations and drop lines.

Allshouse and wife, Patricia, reside at 12919 Tipton Hwy., Tipton.

Something new in knits, by Cricketeer

If we didn't tell you this good looking sportcoat was a doubleknit, you'd never guess—until you put it on. Then of course, you'd realize the truth, when you saw how it could bend, stretch and snap back to shape without pulling or tugging at your body. The secret—a new Burlington fabric of spun Dacron® polyester with the look and hand of the finest saxony sportcoating. We have this subtly shaped jacket in a wide range of checks and plaids. Why not come in soon and see how great it looks and feels.

Old Friends Visit Festival

CLINTON — It was good to see so many former Clinton residents visiting with old friends on the main street during Clinton's Fall Festival. It seemed like an alumni gathering, homecoming and family reunion all in one. It sort of reminded me of the way it used to be when folks congregated downtown on Saturday nights to chat with neighbors.

Every fund raising dinner was sold out and most of the booths enjoyed good sales, as the streets remained crowded with people until dark each night.

United Church of Christ committee reported a record 400 persons served at its fish fry, Friday night, and its 500 pretzels sold out in just one and one-half hours Saturday.

Jaycees' pig roast and beer stand was a sell-out Saturday, with the roasting pigs creating a center of interest for many hours. Last meat was scraped from the bones of five market-sized hogs just as the rain came at about 7 p.m.

Only event that cancelled because of rain was the street dance scheduled for Saturday night.

Despite the threatening look of Sunday's morning weather, crowds were already gathering by noon and jammed the streets by parade time.

Rotarians reported all barbecued chickens were sold by mid-afternoon, Sunday. St. Dominic's ladies report their Apple Tree raised around $500.

A tentful of folks were relishing the last bit of ice cream and cake, served by the Methodists as Sunday afternoon drew to a close.

Mrs. Carl Woodward was the lucky winner of the "Spirit of '76" Vega at the drawing after the parade.

The entire Fall Festival Committee is deserving of the highest praise for their tireless efforts, imagination and enthusiasm, which made the events of the weekend such a huge success, and a lot of fun.

Not to be overlooked in the excitement, the historic Clintonian Inn was spruced up with a new coat of paint this week and a new business announced plans to locate on main street, sure signs of prosperity for Clinton.

Sewage Disposal

CLINTON — Following word that Clinton has been placed on the list for consideration for a federal grant for a sewage disposal plant, the Village Council met with representatives of their professional engineering firm, Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May Monday evening. First applied for over two years ago, it now appears that the application has moved up in priority.

Details were discussed for making application for the first step in obtaining this federal grant to build a secondary and tertiary type plant to meet current requirements.

Council took action authorizing the firm to proceed with the application.

To The Editor

"It's Working"

To the Editor:

When people say the United Way "is working," they mean a lot of people and an idea are working.

These people are your neighbors, fellow workers and friends, who give their Fair Share pledges each year. They are the nurses, counselors and united Way professionals who are helping people in need by giving direct service to the aged and the sick and to little children who are blind or deaf and to adults who are mentally ill or retarded or in need of rehabilitation. The people who are working are the volunteers, housewives, teachers, business men and construction workers. They are the volunteers from every walk of life who have joined together to make the idea of the United Way work.

United Way health and welfare agencies help people who do not qualify for government help. And its programs help people in ways that government programs never will. If we work together we are helping people in the local community, who really need help.

All but a few cents of each dollar raised goes directly to help people through health, welfare and character building agencies. Some independent fund drives spend as much as 30 cents of each dollar they raise for fund-raising costs. On behalf of each giver your United Way insures efficient administration, effective programing and intelligent budgeting of your gift.

Labor organization and their memberships work hand-in-hand with management and corporations to make the United Way the largest single voluntary program in the nation.

Most people want to give something to help others. The Fair Share ideal asks each person to give in proportion to his capacity to give. It suggests that what we give should be based on our income level. It's a guide to help you to know you are doing your Fair Share.

Now it's up to you. No one is looking over your shoulder. No one is telling you how much to give. But a lot of people are waiting for the help your pledge can bring, they are asking for your help now! Give your Fair Share when your United Fund Volunteer knocks in Clinton and the surrounding area Oct. 5 through Oct. 19, 1974.

BS Degree Received

CLINTON—Timothy Merritt, of 124½ West Church St., Clinton, received a BS degree in metallurgical engineering with honors this summer from Western MIchigan University in Kalamazoo.

He is a 1970 graduate of Clinton High School and is presently working at the Tecumseh Country Club. His wife, the former Diane Vogel, also graduated with honors from Western Michigan this year and she is now teaching nursery school in Clinton.

He is the son of James Merrit of Adrian and Mrs. Henry Pyzik of 1009 Red Mill Drive.

PTO Puts Beef in the Freezer

CLINTON—Lloyd Randall of Manchester held the lucky ticket for the black Angus steer given away by the Elementary PTO, with Johnnie Rangler, a first grader drawing the winning ticket.

Johnnie is the top salesman in the school, selling 150 tickets.

The steer was purchased from Roger Brooks.

An assembly was held Friday to thank all the children for their hard work.

The PTO committee would like to thank the following Clinton merchants for their donation of prizes:

Bea's Restaurant, Clintonian Inn, Clinton Theatre, Court's Village Pharmacy, Ehnis', Meeks Farm Market, Merkel-Young Hardware, Pizza Pit, Shamrock Eggs, State Savings Bank, Stuff 'N Things, Vescios, Village Market.

The PTO committee would also like to thank Chic Tress for making it possible to show appreciation to Mrs. Norman Bless and Mrs. William Shelley, by giving them a certificate for either a permanent or two shampoo and sets.

The community cooperation in making this project a success was really appreciated by the committee.

MRS. ROBERT DONALDSON

Gloria Nettro Weds Robert Donaldson

Gloria F. Nettro and Robert C. Donaldson exchanged marriage vows Sept. 28 in St. Elizabeth Catholic Church with Msgr. Vincent Howard officiating.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perry of 7755 Ridge Road, Britton. Groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Donaldson of Brooklyn.

On the arm of her father the bride approached the altar wearing a white silk organza gown trimmed with lace and seed pearls, and detachable train. Her headpiece was of Venetian lace and seed pearls with a fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses, Fuji mums and white miniature carnations.

Bride chose her sister, Mrs. Cletes Fore of Britton as matron of honor an only attendant. She wore a gown of blue dotted swiss with high ruffled collar and ruffled cuffs. She carried a nosegay of carnations, daisy pompons, purple statice and starflowers, and wore a matching floral headpiece.

Cletes Fore, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man and Donald DeJonghe of Britton, nephew of the bride, was usher.

Reception following the wedding was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner at The Country House Friday night.

Bride is a 1969 graduate of Britton High School and is employed at The Ford Motor Co. in Saline, Groom is a graduate of Brooklyn High School and is employed as a foreman at the Ford Motor Co. in Saline.

After a week's wedding trip to Florida the couple will reside in Napoleon.

MR. and MRS. DAVID DICKERSON

Dena M. Skampo and David Dickerson exchanged wedding vows Sept. 28 in the First United Methodist Church of Adrian. Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Skampo of 9103 N. Union St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dickerson of Adrian.

Teresa Bihlmeyer, Gordon Henning

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the setting Sept. 27 for the exchange of wedding vows by Teresa Lynn Bihlmeyer and Gordon William Henning, with Msgr. Vincent Howard officiating. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Gerald Easton, organist, William Bailey, playing guitar and flute, and Shirley Goodyear and Larry Thompson, soloists.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bihlmeyer of 116 W. Shawnee and Mrs. Thelma Henning of County Line Road, Britton, and the late Gladwin Henning.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing a white organdy over satin gown with powder blue trim on the ruffled collar, hem and train. She wore a white lace picture hat with blue and white veil caught at the back of the hat crown with a large powder blue rose, and an opal necklace, gift of the groom, with opal earrings borrowed from her grandmother. Her bouquet was fashioned of white spider mums with orchids, pale blue carnations and baby's breath.

Mrs. William Bailey, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a powder blue gown with floral print of orchid and lavender shades styled with ruffled hem, high neckline and apron style skirt and an orchid straw picture hat with floral band and bow. She carried a bouquet in shades of orchid and purple with mums, straw flowers and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Larry Henning of Onsted, sister-in-law of the groom, Mary Jo Rosancrans of Tecumseh, and Sheryl and Sheila Bihlmeyer of Tecumseh, sisters of the bride. Attendants wore gowns like that of the matron of honor and carried similar bouquets. Leslie Henning of Onsted, niece of the groom, was flower girl wearing a dress of white batiste with white lace collar trimmed with an orchid ruffle, orchid flowers on a ribbon tied in her hair and carried a basket of orchid and lavender flowers.

Larry Cote of Tecumseh, cousin of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Larry Henning of Onsted, brother of the groom, Mike Fowler of Tecumseh, Greg Cote of Tecumseh, cousin of the groom, and David Hudson of Temperance, brother-in-law of the groom. Ringbearer was Eddie Scheffler, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held in United Products Union Hall with dance music by the Louis Prange Trio of Adrian.

MRS. GORDON HENNING

Sue Henning, sister of the groom, tended the guest book, and Joanne Henning, sister of the groom, and Jane Scheffler cut the cake. Bonnie Henning, sister-in-law of the groom, poured punch.

Bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at the Cedar Shack Restaurant and Steak House of Tecumseh. Groom is a graduate of Britton High School and is employed at the Ford Motor Co. in Rawsonville.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's mother Sept. 25 at the Cedar Shack Restaurant.

The couple are now at home at 407 W. Cummins St.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

Marion Robinson, who prefers the alias Fred Bristol, is a local cook and gardner who's graciously contributed to the column this week. Robinson and his wife live at 312 Wildwood Circle, where he tends a quarter acre garden. All of us in the Herald office have been the lucky recipients of the fruit of his garden all summer, as the dapper gardner has made frequent visits with tomatoes, squash, and other goodies in tow.

For 35 years Robinson was a salesman with the Sunshine Cooky and Biscuit Co., working out of Jackson for 23 years and then out of Grand Rapids for 12. He came to Tecumseh in 1966, where his son operates Robinson's Water Care. He has three children, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. When asked if he had any hobbies other than gardening flowers and vegetables and helping his son, the cavalier gentleman said that he enjoys being with his wife and traveling.

He volunteered a few recipes, all family favorites, that are especially timely for those who are harvesting the last of this year's tomatoes.

Cold Tomato Catsup

Grind: 1 peck ripe tomatoes, 4 cups celery, 4 green peppers, and 1 quart of onions. Then mix 1 quart vinegar, 2 oz. mustard seed, 1 cup salt, 2 tsp. pepper, 2 lbs. brown sugar, 2 tsp. cinnamon, and 1 tsp. cloves. Mix all together throughly and seal without cooking.

Sunshine Dill Pickles

Put chopped dill in jars, as much as you want. You can also put in some horseradish leaf, sliced celery or carrot if you wish. Then mix and boil 1 quart water, ¼ cup salt, and ¼ cup vinegar. Put pickles in with dill in jars and pour liquid over them. Seal the jars and place in the sun for two weeks before you store them. The fluid will be milky after the jars are removed from the sun but this does not affect the pickles.

Note: Thank you all for your response to this column—please keep in touch. Next week's column will concern parcels to be sent abroad for Christmas to servicemen and others. If you have any reliable, time-tested recipes for cookies and cakes that remain fresh and intact, or special tips on how to pack such parcels for maximum freshness, please contact Libby Lincoln at the Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lozier of Carrollton, Ohio announce the engagement of their daughter Terri Lynn to Mark Dale Spohr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Spohr of 7352 Billmyer Hwy. The bride-elect is a graduate of Carrollton High School and is a sophomore at Malone College, Canton, Ohio. Her finance is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is a junior at Malone College. A June 1975 wedding is planned.

Honored on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley (Pete) Dermyer were taken out to dinner Sept. 22 by their children in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. Their children are Lawrence, Dennis and Myra Dermyer and Michael and Corinne (Dermyer) McNamara.

Also present were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Withrow Sr. of Jerome, and Sheri Barron of Belleville and Nancy Clark of Adrian.

Stanley Dermyer and Beulah Withrow were married Sept. 24, 1949 at her home in Tipton by the Rev. W.N. Taylor.

The Dermyers have lived in Tecumseh their entire married life and at 906 Sunset Drive for 22 years. Mr. Dermyer is a life-long resident of Tecumseh.

RE ELECT PALMER CITY COUNCILMAN

Seven Seniors Rank High in Test

Dermont Poley, principal of Tecumseh High School announced that seven seniors ranked high on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test. William Binder, Timothy L. Prettyman, Elizabeth Webber and Sheryl Bugbee are semi-finalists and will go on to take the Scholastic Aptitude test for further Merit scholarship competition.

Marsha D. Bale, Ina E. Kelley and Randy J. Stein received "commended student" honors based on their high performance on the test. Although they are not competing, further, the three commended students will have their names sent to the colleges of their choice to increase their scholarship opportunities.

Poley said that the seven seniors constitute the largest number of seniors receiving honors in a single year since the inception of the National Merit Scholarship program 18 years ago.

Extension Holds Business Meeting

The Northeast Study Group of the Cooperative Extension Service sponsored by the Michigan State University met last Tuesday evening at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Charles Cox on Smith Road, with 10 members present. Besides routine business, the members prepared their year books. Mrs. Ellsworth Robison will host the October meeting.

Mrs. Marvin Johnson showed slides of work done by tourists in a mission located on the border between Mexico and the United States near McAllen, Tex. The Johnsons spend their winters in McAllen and help distribute used clothing free of charge to all qualified persons at this mission. All work is on a volunteer basis.

Refreshments were served.

Registration Notice FOR GENERAL ELECTION Tuesday, November 5, 1974

To the Qualified Electors of the City of Tecumseh (Precinct No. 1-2-3-4)

County of Lenawee, State of Michigan

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law", I, the undersigned Clerk, will upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular of special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT I WILL BE AT MY OFFICE

Monday, October 7, 1974 - - Last Day

From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m.

The 30th day preceding said Election

And on Saturday, October 5, 1974- 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

As provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954 As Amended.

From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on said day for the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said TOWNSHIP, CITY or VILLAGE as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

In addition the Clerk's Office will be open from 8 o'clock a.m. until 5 o'clock p.m. on the Saturday preceding the 30th day.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

ELECTOR UNABLE TO MAKE PERSONAL APPLICATION, PROCEDURE

SEC. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oath and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

UNREGISTERED PERSONS NOT ENTITLED TO VOTE

SEC. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act. 116, P.A. 1954.)

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION, APPLICATION, TIME

SEC. 506. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City of Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved therefo, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made after the 30th day next preceding any election or primary election, unless such 30th day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday or a legal holiday in which event registration transfers shall be accepted during the following day.

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION ON ELECTION DAY

SEC. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village and has not recorded such removal with the local Clerk shall execute a transfer of registration request, listing the new residence address thereon over his signature, with the election board in the precinct in which he is registered at the next ensuing primary or election. The inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and, if the signatures correspond, then the inspector shall certify such fact by affixing his initials upon said request. The applicant for transfer, after having signed an application to vote as provided in Section 523 of this act, shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that primary or election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

"People I Meet"

By Kathy Kulczyk

Fall is television premier season; but for some singles and couples who are tired of staring at the boob tube, watching reruns in December and letting themselves become part of the wallpaper, it's time to grab a partner and swing into another season of modern square dancing.

Square dancing is fast becoming one of the largest recreation activities in the United States with six million participants, and especially here in Tecumseh area. The Shawnee Squares, a local group who holds many of its dances at the Community Center, boasts of 25 Tecumseh couples with a total of 44 couples in area membership. Not to be mistaken for the rough barn dance or "swap and swing," modern square dancing is done to modern music, usually records, but sometimes an orchestra, to tunes such as "Hello Dolly" or "Summertime."

Square dancing is an organized recreation with approximately 80 active clubs in the Detroit Metropolitan commuting area and 125 clubs in the state. There are also national and international clubs with 75 square dance figures (or steps) taught around the world.

What is the attraction to square dancing? Part of it lies in the exercise the activity gives the couples. As a social activity it also enables couples and singles to meet others and enjoy fun and relaxation.

"There are some fellows who have two left feet and some gals who would like to dance, but they don't know where to put themselves. Square dancing requires no skill. Only an ear tuned in to the caller. It is eight people working together. After a session, anyone can square dance. People come here and have a ball," explained Bill Sims of Saline, who together with his wife, Alice, are presidents of the Shawnee Squares. Presently the group is initiating beginners dance sessions Sunday evenings at the Community Center. Levels of involvement range from the fun level to challenge clubs. Sessions can range from 12 weeks to 30 sessions for more advanced square dance workshops. Once in a while, explained Henry and Emma Howard, vice-presidents of the Shawnee Squares, "A challenge caller can really keep you swinging. You have to pay careful attention to the calls."

After one session, the bouncing music, swinging skirts with ruffled petticoats, and smiling "angels," make beginners light up with enthusiasm and sway into their newly learned steps.

Mrs. Howard explained that the intermediate students or "angels" help the beginners with their steps. "When that left hand sticks out and you need it, you know why the older graduates are called angels."

Dressing is half the fun of square dancing. Modern square dancing is done in casual apparel. A full skirt is stressed for the ladies and for the gentlemen, long sleeve sport shirts, slacks and for both, leather soled, flat shoes. On special occasions, party dress western style is emphasized.

Excitement is also generated by the caller who sets the mood for the dancers along with the music, and calls the figures. His work is a skill requiring him to know many calls. There are so many calls that there is even an encyclopedia of calls. Standing above the dancers gives the caller an advantage to watch the patterns he creates by directing the squares of four couples below him. In this time of natural resource shortage, even callers, necessary resource for square dancers, are in short supply. Callers must be booked a year and sometimes two in advance for special dance dates. They also make good for the three hours they call, since the fee ranges from $65 to $150, for national callers.

"Y" Offers Hygiene Class

A special program for teenage girls starts at the "Y" Oct. 5. Program called "Happiness is . . ." includes a variety of activities each Saturday morning including exercise, nutrition and diet information, personality self-improvement, steam bath, volleyball and a dip in the pool.

Leaders for this program are Charlotte Strack, a certified Patricia Stevens instructor, and Linda Emerson, a certified Slim Living instructor and YMCA Slimnastics instructor.

If enough girls are interested, the program will be divided into younger and older age groupings.

Development Act Introduced

An informal program and discussion session will be held Oct. 3 at the Adrian City Hall at 8 p.m. to inform Lenawee communities of the recently passed Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. A 35mm slide presentation from the National League of Cities will be shown and Frank Ollendorff, Adrian city administrator, will lead the subsequent discussion.

The Act establishes a three year contractural block grant program to finance community development projects, and provides for the elimination of five existing HUD categorical grant programs and the establishment of a single block grant program. This action is significant in that it has made it easier for Lenawee County communities to qualify for and receive monies for community development projects.

Application deadline for fiscal year 1975 will be April 1, 1975 and in order to meet this deadline, decisions at local levels will have to be made soon.

LeLeche League Meets

LeLeche League is meeting on Oct. 9 at 8 p.m. in Tecumeh with the second of their series of four monthly meetings. October discussion topic is "The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Any Difficulties."

LeLeche is for any woman interested in breastfeeding whether it be for information or counciling and support. You need not reside in Tecumseh or have a baby to attend. Mothers are welcome to bring their babies. Readers may call 423-7752 for the location.

Farm Census Scheduled

Once every five years the nation counts its chickens—and cows, pigs, crops, farm machinery and other agricultural items of importance. The 1974 Census of Agriculture will collect statistical information that will serve as both a base and a yardstick for many programs and activities of government and private industry, according to Richard Emmons, county executive director of the Lenawee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee.

The U.S. Bureau of Census conducts the farm census by mail as it did in 1969, and, once again, agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture will help inform farmers about the census effort.

Census report forms will be mailed about the end of December, and must be returned as soon as possible. Each county ASCS office will have material on hand to help answer farmers' questions.

Answers are completely confidential. Publication will be by counties and states, as well as for the entire nation. with the first preliminary county reports expected to be published by Sept. 1975.

Lay Witness Mission

Tecumseh United Methodist Church will host its second lay witness mission Oct. 4, 5, and 6, following a successful lay witness I in Sept. 1973.

A nursery for preschoolers will be available for all events. there will be special elementary children's programs under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Larzelere of Petersburg. Junior high and high school youth will also have special programs. Adult coordinators for the mission are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Orcott of Williamsburg.

Twenty youth and 30 adult witnesses from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, and California are coming to share what Christ is doing in their lives today.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips

423-5213

To someone who has long enjoyed making and giving gifts handcrafted as well as receiving them, the recent interest in "handiwork" is most gratifying. Handmade gifts are, after all, labors of love and contain such a large part of the giver that it is easy to see why they are more valuable to the recipient than anything .''store-bought'' could be.

Even gifts given that someone else has fashioned are highly desirable and doubtless many took advantage of Clinton's Fall Festival to do a little advance Christmas shopping. Talent represented was impressive and selection was wide enough to please just about everyone.

Local folks will have another opportunity to view and purchase original hand crafted items on Oct. 19, when Macon United Methodist Church holds its annual bazaar. In addition to finding something unique for someone special, events of this sort are fun and can be inspirational to projects you might tackle during some upcoming cold, winter evenings (sorry, but they ARE coming!).

Macon Historical Society had, as its first project, the decorating of the Chic Tress Beauty Salon's window in Clinton to help celebrate their festival. Display was done by Marilyn Bagby and Julie Rhora with antiques they and Emogean Morden loaned.

This month's meeting of Macon Women's Club will be Thursday, Oct. 10, at the home of Mrs. Leland Rohn. Mrs. Paul Kollar and Mrs. Eugene Hill will assist at the luncheon. Mrs. Leland Bush will give devotions and Mrs. Tom Kosky will be in charge of the program. Members are reminded to bring items for the Goodwill Bazaar which will be held Nov. 22-23 at the Adrian Mall.

Macon Woman's Club will be the guest of Saline Women's Club for a Reciprocity Day meeting Oct. 22. Details will be announced later.

Julie Rhora met with Frank Wilhelme, president of the Michigan State Historical Society last Friday regarding Macon being declared an historic district. Wilhelme recommended that both an attorney and an architect be consulted and suggested economical ways in which that could be done. Wilhelme was full of praise for the area and was impressed with work done thus far.

New officers elected for Macon United Methodist Church's United Methodist Women at their meeting last week are: President Mrs. Ralph Mehler, Vice-President Mrs. Paul Hover, Secretary Mrs. William Phillips, Treasurer Mrs. Robert Kappler, church social involvement, Mrs. James Thomas; membership, Mrs. Edward Clark; Christian personhood, Hallie Jane Mehler; program materials and resources, Mrs. Dean Moore; and nominations committee chairperson, Mrs. Harold Kuder.

This week at Macon United Methodist Church:

Thursday, Oct. 3

FAITH CIRCLE — at 1:30 p.m. Ruth Howell's.

CHANCEL CHOIR Practice, 8:00 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 5

PAPER DRIVE — Contact George Osborne (Saline) if you've papers to donate.

Town Hall Series Starts

Croswell Opera House's Town Hall Series kicks off its 1974-75 season with Jack LeGoff, "Dean of Detroit Newscasters," on Oct. 17. Future appearances will be made by Michael Fooner, author of "Interpol", delegate to U.N. Congress on Crime and special consultant to former President Nixon, on Nov. 21, Nila Magidoff, former successful Moscow journalist who has gone from exile in Siberia to delighting audiences in Madison Square Garden and the Hollywood Bowl with her sense of humor and patriotism for her new found home — the United States, on March 13, and Dr. Joyce Brothers, nationally famous psychologist, TV and radio personality and newspaper columnist on April 10.

A membership fee will be charged for the series. For information contact the Croswell Opera House in Adrian.

20 Acre Parcels Only

By Linda Phillips
Macon Correspondent

In an effort to keep Macon's farm land agricultural, the Macon Township Planning Commission proposed to over 100 people who attend the public hearing Sept. 17 that an ordinance be instituted to prohibit the sale of less than 20-acre parcels in what is largely now Macon's farm land.

Zoning would not prohibit the building of new houses. It would, however, restrict some of them to an area in Macon where the greatest concentration of homes now exists. One-acre sites would be saleable in the village and fringe areas where soil types can support the proper septic and sewage systems. This plan also promotes a rural, non-farm type of residential development which maintains the rural character of the Township even in the residential areas, unlike most other urban or suburban areas. A main objective is to provide for orderly expansion in the community which would make fewer demands on schools, roads and other public facilities.

By restricting the sale of land in the agricultural areas to 20-acre minimums, prime farm land would be preserved purely for agricultural endeavors. Because the major economic activity of the Township is agricultural, the Planning Commission feels well-suited land should be preserved to maintain the economic status of the Township.

Taxes are another factor taken into consideration in the proposal. By keeping property value down, the proposal would help to stabilize taxation, thus benefiting all residents.

According to Fred Miller, chairman of the Macon Township Planning Commission, the land use plan was formulated to fit the needs of everyone, but that is a tall order to fill. He stressed that no zoning ordinance is permanent; that as attitudes and conditions change, so can the plan for zoning change.

During the hearing, feelings of opposition as well as support were voiced. Mills Swick, Clinton-Macon Road, feels the 20-acre minimum "puts too much financial hardship on the young people starting out to build a home, and the remaining acreage might not go back into agriculture." Similar opinion was expressed by Walter Rowe, Ridge Road, who said: "It would take 20 acres out of production and discriminate against young people who cannot afford the high price of 20 acres in the country. More rigid standards concerning perk tests are needed instead of zoning."

One woman, who wished to remain anonymous, said no one should have the right to tell a landowner what he can or cannot do with his land.

Others, who support the 20-acre minimum and are concerned with the future of agriculture, feel it is a dispute between land speculators and serious farmers.

Karl Kimerer, Hoagland Road, expressed the following: "With 35,000 acres now being lost per year to urban sprawl in Michigan, 40,000 acres being needed just for solid waste disposal, and each mile of inter-state highway consuming 69 acres of land, I feel it is essential that we preserve Macon Township for agricultural use. The Planning Commission is not trying to retard growth; it is trying to put it in one area where it could be serviced for sewage and water lines if needed."

Allen Wagenschutz, Britton Highway, feels the 20-acre minimum is "a necessary tool to keep present agricultural land in agricultural production. If a house were built on a 20-acre parcel, the remainder of land would be large enough to be farmed economically with today's equipment."

Present zoning ordinance for Macon is an outdated one, and there is a strong possibility that the State will impose one of its own if a new one is not adopted. Action, therefore, is expected soon.

Lenawee County Planning Commission, which is acting as consultant, will first review Macon's proposal to insure that it meets State requirements. It then will go to the Macon Township Board for approval or disapproval. If it is approved, the people of the Township will have the recourse of referendum and may petition to have it placed on a special ballot. During the interim, however, the approved proposal would be law.

Salesman Attends Course

Don McCallum, of 904 W. Chicago Blvd., recently completed a two day floor coverings sales course at the JC Penney regional training center in suburban Chicago.

McCallum is a sales associate at the JC Penney department store in 'Adrian and joined the company in 1970.

The course covered advanced sales techniques and technical data regarding the company's carpeting and floor covering merchandise. Nearly 30 courses for sales, service and management associates are taught at the center to assure complete service for customers.

50 Years Celebrated By Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Amstutz of Deerfield were honored Sunday with an open house hosted by their children in observance of their golden anniversary. The event took place at the Community rooms of the Deerfield State Bank in the afternoon and a buffet supper was served at their home afterward. Approximately 275 guests attended from communities in New York, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois.

ABOUT OWLS

Last week's article ended with the exciting and unexpected appearance of an owl. He perched on a lower limb of the walnut tree and started a chain reaction of thrills which has not let up yet. For one thing we all keep wishing he would come back. As of yet he has not obliged, but you can believe that every evening finds us looking and looking, hoping and hoping. The drapes at the west window are seldom closed until it is pitch dark outside and all possibility of seeing the little guy is over.

During the day the bird books are well used. The first question to be answered was, of course, what kind of an owl was it? A screech owl — I am quite sure. The size was right, it is hard to be exactly positive and guess at the precise fraction but the owl we saw was about 10 inches tall. It was far, far too dark to even begin to see any color; however, had there been more light the bird books say that our owl would have looked either gray or red. A strange and interesting riddle is this two color phases of the screech owl. Sex, age, time of year, area — nothing satisfactory explains why some are reddish while others are grayish. Diet might be a partial answer but no one is sure.

After I saw the bird and called, Mom, Auntn and Penny came running. Mom joined me at the west window, Penny and Auntn took the south one. Although Penny is a schnauzer and should have no interest in owls, she is not about to let her family do any intent window watching without finding out for herself what is going on. It was intent watching too. None of us had ever had such excellent ringside seats. The silhoutte was perfect — round head, disportionately large for his body, short tail, rather strong looking legs. A screech owl has horns but we did not notice any small tufts of feathers. Wonder if they can be raised and lowered as the cardinal does his top-knot or perhaps, it was the position in which the bird was perching that explains his horns not showing.

In addition to size, another thing which makes me believe that our visitor was a screech owl is noise. Owl talk. We heard nothing that night and the whole summer was not a particularly good one for owl sounds but occasionally we did hear some. And since the sighting, there have been several performances. One can by no stretch of the imagination call this particular owl's noise singing but it is certainly far from screeching too. I wonder why he was dubbed screech owl? For a change, what the bird books say about the screech owl's voice coincides perfectly with what my ears hear. A rather sad, plaintive, almost mournful sound, low pitched, tremulous, rising at first and then falling.

In the south, I understand that this bird is sometimes called a shivering owl. His voice does sort of shiver, I guess. Also, there are, or at least there were, many who heard his call with foreboding. It sent shivers up and down their backs. Superstition went hand-in-glove with these feelings. According to the National Geograpic's Water, Prey and Game Birds of North America the accepted precaution to be taken after hearing a screech owl was to hop out of bed and turn the left shoe upside down. If that did not quiet the bird, the left trouser pocket should be pulled inside out. But why bother, we all enjoy the owl's talk.

There is strong evidence that screech owls may mate for life. They are not apt to be migratory and it is a proven fact that a particularly choice nesting site will be used year after year after year. When the kids have grown up and left home, the 'old folks' often remain in the neighborhood and use the nesting cavity as a winter home. A large woodpecker hole, a rotted out cavity in a tree, sometimes a man made box — all will be used by screech owls.

They are devoted parents and fierce in the protection of the youngsters. Swooping and dive-bombing they do not hesitate about inviting any intruder to leave the area. Even people are 'attacked' if they venture too close to the home-site. Seldom is actual contact made but it must be startling, to say the least, to be blitzed by angry screech owls.

So it is that just one thing remains to be said — owls are beneficial and should be made welcome, they eat insects, rodents, snakes, and even sparrows — that's it for this week's talk about owls!

Foster Mother Speaks to Club

Caring for foster children was the program given by Joann Robinson, foster mother of two in addition to her own children, at the Monday meeting of the Business and Professional Women of Tecumseh at St. Elizabeth Hall. A chicken dinner was served.

President Betty Flanders introduced four new members: Judy Palmer, her mother, Mrs. Lewis Palmer, Mary Lou Dangler and Jan Fox.

Mrs. Edith Wouters, of Paighton in Devon, Eng., sister of Dorice Hollenbeck, was guest. Julia Titley gave devotions.

A bylaws revising committee was formed: Cecil Smith, chairman; Katherine Dickerson, Ella Mary King, Carol Nelson, and Julia Titley.

Good Will Sale is scheduled for November. All members are asked to make an article and bring it to the October meeting.

Nadine Seitz won the handy towel as a door prize.

Next meeting will be Oct. 28 at the Macon Methodist church. Everyone is asked to wear old-fashioned dress and bonnet if she has one and also bring one cent for each year of her age.

St. Peter's Has Rummage Sale

Daughters of St. Peter's Episcopal Church will hold a rummage sale Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Boys, Adults Turn Out for Scouting

Lenape District finished in a tie for second place among the seven Wolverine Council districts in recruiting Cub Scouts Sept. 19 in the sixth annual school night to join scouting. Lenape District, which includes Lenawee County communities added 225 boys to its Cub Scout program.

In addition, 52 adult volunteers joined the district's Scout forces.

The results do not include drives at McKinley and Clayton schools which will be held later.

PSAT-NMSQT Test Held

Students at Tecumseh High School will have the opportunity to join over 1 million other students around the world in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMSQT) as a step in making college plans.

The test, to be given here Oct. 22, is designed to measure verbal and mathematical abilities that are important in doing college work. The PSAT-NMSQT is co-sponsored by the College Board and the National Merit Scholarship Corp. (NMSC)

The PSAT-NMSQT can lead to entering the competition for scholarships administered by the NMSC and participating in the college board's Student Search Service (SSS) so students can get information from colleges that may be looking for students like them.

Bulletins are available in the high school counseling office.

Republican Executives Meet

Minority Leader of the Michigan House of Representatives, Dennis Cawthorne (R., Manistee) was the featured speaker at the September meeting of the Lenawee County Republican Executive Meeting last Wednesday evening, Sept. 18 at the Tecumseh High School.

Cawthorne's address explained the "Agenda for Michigan" which is a report compiled by the Republican legislators of the Michigan House on their legislative goals for the State of Michigan.

The young floor leader outlined four areas of major differences between the two parties. He stated that "Republicans in the Michigan House have been 1) less influenced by the lobbies of organized labor 2) eager reform the welfare system abuses 3) working to establish tax cuts and 4) attempting to hold down on state government spending."

At the close of the public meeting, announcements were made by County GOP Chairman that the annual Ox Roast will be held Oct. 19 at the Lenawee Vo-Tec Center. Serving will begin at 5 p.m. Tickets will be available at the County GOP Headquarters in downtown Adrian or from any member of the County executive committee.

A special fund raiser dinner with Rep. James Dammon, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor will be held on Oct. 3 at 7:30 p.m. at Benincasa Hall, Sienna Heights College. Dinner will be preceded by social reception at the home of Dr. Daniel Sarapo beginning at 5 p.m. Tickets for both dinner and reception are available from Dr. Sarapo or Harvey Warrick.

Thanks go to all who donated their time and money.

Cystic Fibrosis Goal Surpassed

BRITTON—Britton's Cystic Fibrosis general chairwoman, Mrs. Ned Brown, announced the goal of $150 set for the Sept. 7-22 campaign was reached, plus $1.85 over the top.

She said the response from area residents was very good considering it was the first such drive ever held in the village.

Assisting Mrs. Brown with the house-to-house solicitation were Mrs. Raymond Lorenz, Mrs. Cecil Servoss, Mrs. Walter Furgason, Mrs. Harold Osterhout and Mrs. Bill Smith.

Fall Color Trip Ends

BRITTON—Mrs. Clyde Brown returned late Sunday afternoon from an extensive fall color tour weekend trip to Tawas City.

Mrs. Brown went along with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hoisington of Ann Arbor, and Mr. Hoisington's mother, Mrs. Roy Hoisington, of Milford. Group left Milford Saturday morning and traveled through Holly, Clyde, Rose Center and on I-75 to Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Pinconning, Standish and stopped at Tawas City overnight before making their return trip. They stayed at a motel called "Wabun Shining Land of Morning," which bordered Lake Huron.

Mrs. Brown said they were a about a week too early for the full color of the trees, but the color changes that had taken place were beautiful.

Britton Homecoming on Friday

BRITTON—Homecoming will be observed Friday at Britton-Macon High School beginning with a parade at 4:30 p.m. from the school through the downtown district.

Activities leading to the special event are well underway with grades 8-12 busily constructing floats this week.

"Song Titles" is the main theme of the floats. Eighth grade's float is "King of the Road", and king and queen are Terry Benedict and Janis Tubbs; Ninth grade, "Somewhere Over the Rainbow", with king Randy Smith and queen Marjorie Myers; 10th grade, "You Ain't Seen Nothing Yet", with Rudy Montalvo, king and Mary Armstrong, queen; 11th grade, "Born To Be Wild", king Paul Wielfaert and queen Dawn Lidster; 12th grade, "Taking Care of Business", king Mike Saxton and queen Mary Armstrong.

FHA Princess is Cindy Dick and FFA Prince, David Wielfaert.

Candidates for queen are seniors, Pat Moore, Linda Pilbeam and Cindy Stiles. Queen escorts will be Doug Armstrong and Mike Servoss.

The Marching Band will entertain with some fine music for half-time entertainment to go along with their musical support of the colorful queen-crowning ceremony.

A Homecoming Dance will be held immediately following the football game with Whitmore Lake. Britton-Macon alumni are invited to attend. Music will be provided by the dance band, Kingdom Come, and will last until midnight.

Participating in the afternoon fun along with the floats and the kings and queens and prince and princess, in convertibles, will be the marching band, Boy Scouts, Cheerleaders, Cub Scouts, Blue Birds and Campfire Girls, and flag carriers.

United Fund Drive Sets Higher Goal

BRITTON—Annual Britton-Macon United Fund Drive will be held from Oct. 8 until Oct. 22 with a goal of $2,300, $300 over last year's goal. Citizens for Youth has been added to the budget this year making it necessary to set the goal a little higher. With the help of everyone, the United Fund Drive can have a very good year.

All of the Britton Area will be receiving some information in the mail before the drive starts. It is the committee's hope that this presentation will give residents a better idea where the money goes.

The Fund asks that when someone knocks at your door, please give generously.

Budget for the 1974-75 year is the following:

Red Cross	$100
Salvation Army	100
Tuckabatachee	100
Mich. United Fund	370
Family Counseling	100
Boy Scouts(local)	150
Cub Scouts(local)	150
Campfire and Bluebirds(local)	300
Recreation Fund(local)	400
Administration Expense	100
Citizens for Youth	230
Total	$2,300.00

Honored at 80th

BRITTON—Ninety-one relatives and friends of Mrs. Martha Bracey of Whitmore Lake met Sunday for a potluck dinner at the Grace United Methodist Church, to celebrate her 80th birthday. Forty-seven members of her immediate family were present to give her their best wishes. Her two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Exelby (Minerva), from Saint Johns, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lincoln (Wylma Gene) from Clinton and her two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brady of Whitmore Lake and Mr. and Mrs. William Brady of Manchester, all attended; and many of her 14 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Brady received many flowers, cards, and gifts including a money tree from the group.

Occasion was also the 14th annual reunion of "The Rendel" sisters who are daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Rendel. Mrs. Brady is the sister of Mrs. Edward Kanous of Britton and Mrs. Eugene Myers of Clinton.

Guests were present from St. Johns, Vermontville, Sterling Heights, Lambertville, Manchester, Clinton, Saline, Milan, Dundee, Tecumseh, Whitmore Lake, Howell, Pinckney, Ann Arbor and Britton. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson and Mrs. Kanous hosted the event.

The 1975 reunion will be held at the same place with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dicks and Mr. and Mrs. James Miller as hostesses.

Brigadier Speaks

BRITTON—Special guest speaker at the Baraca Philathea Class of the Congregational Christian Church was Brigadier Anna Hannevik of the Salvation Army from Norway.

Brigadier Hannevik, a niece of the Rev. and Mrs. G.O. Hannevik was a weekend guest of her uncle and aunt. She is in the United States for three weeks as an observer at the United Nations for the Norwegian Women's National Federation.

She talked about her work to the 20 members of the class following a cooperative ham dinner.

Next meeting is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 27 at 6:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Benedict.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

Now that President Ford has decided to let the draft-dodgers come back home, and to pardon former President Nixon for a crime he was never found guilty of, many of us feel a little confused. The parents who's only son died in Vietnam, and persons who were found guilty in the Watergate matters, and consequently sent to prison.

What's happening? What kind of a legal system does this great (or is it great) country have? Is it a system based on justice, or is it a system based on money? Is the U.S. becoming a society of "sick" people, or is it just the politicians who are "sick."

Nevertheless we are the people who elect them into office, so maybe we are all "sick." This is a good time to ask ourselves these questions, and if we don't like the answers it's time we did something about it.

SMALL FRY BOOKS

THAT NEW BABY: This warm, humorous, and very human story reveals - entirely from the child's point of view - the concerns and conflicts which come inevitably to the only child who suddenly becomes a sibling. Yet, the story by Peggy Mann concludes believably and realistically with the child's pleased and positive reactions to that new baby.

BENJAMIN'S 365 BIRTHDAYS: Judi Barrett tells of the fun Benjamin Bear has when he decides to rewrap all his ninth-birthday presents and open one each day. When all five presents have been unwrapped, he begins packaging other things so that, by his 10th birthday, everything in the Bear's house is a gift. Ages 3-6.

LATER ELEMENTARY AND YOUNG ADULT BOOKS

ME AND THE TERRIBLE TWO: Dorrie is disconcolate when her next door neibhgors move, and twins boys and their family take over their house. The girl despises the two, who seem bent on annoying her. Dorrie learns an important lesson about friendship. By Ellen Conford, ages 9-11.

TWO QUEENS OF HEAVEN: Fourth in Doris Gates' series of retellings of the Greek myths. Demeter and Aphrodite together in one book. Fragmented tales have a continuity that will make them memorable and exciting to young readers.

THE TOWN OF HERCULES: A BURIED TREASURE TROVE: Joseph Deiss tells the story of a town buried by the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius in 79 A.D. Unlike Pompeii — smothered in ashes—Hercules is drowned in a river of hot mud. Ages 10 up.

NELLY CUSTIS' DIARY: A fictionalized diary by Miriam Anne Bourne that begins in 1789 when Nelly Custis, aged 10, her brother and their grandmother Martha move to New York to live with their famous step-grandfather, George Washington, during his first term. Ages 10-16.

FREAKY FRIDAY: Set in Manhattan, this contemporary fantasy by Mary Rodgers features 13-year-old Annabel Andrews who wakes up as her 35-year-old mother. Annabel's day predictabley turns into one disaster after another. All ends well with Annabel gaining a better understanding of herself, her parents and teachers. For grades 5 to 8.

EASY EXPERIMENTS WITH WATER POLLUTION: Harry Sootin, tells how to perform simple, safe experiments that explore the major areas of water pollution and water purification. Filtering particles of solid material from cloudy water, chlorinating yeast cells and aerating water to make it taste better are revealed. Equipment and materials from your kitchen, hardware or grocery store are shown in the diagrams.

Style Sense by Evel

A bath should be a time for enjoyment. So prepare your bath with care. First of all, for safety's sake, put a rubber mat in the tub so you will not slip getting in or out. A couple of large, thirsty towels are a must, as is a soft bathmat, for stepping out with dripping feet. Don't forget a bath brush, a pumice stone for rubbing callouses from feet, a soft washcloth, a mild or neutral soap. Remember that bath oil makes the tub slippery, so be very careful w... getting in or out of the tub.

There is nothing like a conditioner to keep hair strong, healthy, shiny, and looking its best. Today, there are many conditioners available that are quick and easy to use. Some you simply massage into your hair and then brush, while others others are used before setting the hair, or applied after the shampoo. Whatever kind you choose, keep in mind that the surest way to beautiful hair is a consistent beauty regimen.

Our phone number is 423-4250, by appointment only.

Skins Hold Meet

The Clinton cross country team recently participated in the Jackson Invitational where Jim Scoggins set a new school cross country record. In addition, the team dropped a meet to Napoleon but defeated Sand Creek.

Jim Scoggins was the hero of the day on Sept. 21 when the team traveled to Jackson. He ran the three mile course in 16:47 to break the old record of 16:54 held by Terry Wojtowicz. Scoggins also picked up a medal at the meet by virtue of an 11th place finish out of 100 runners.

Overall, the team was hampered by several key injuries which forced them into an 11th place finish out of 14 schools. Jim Mattis was 41st, Wally Pike 64th, Jim Klanke 73rd and Mark Evelth 84th. Klanke and Evelth both posted their best times of the season, 19:04 and 19:59 respectively.

The squad was defeated on Monday of last week when they met Napoleon. The Red Skins took the top two places only to lose by a heart-breaking score of 29-30. Jim Mattis was first in with a time of 17:23 followed four seconds later by teammate Jim Scoggins.

Wally Pike finished fourth with 17:51. But Napoleon then captured the next seven places. Mark Evelth was 12th, Jim Klanke 14th, Chris Wojtowicz 16th, Roger LaSavage 17th and John Johnston 18th.

The following Wednesday, the Red Skins met Sand Creek and defeated them by a score of 24-31 in a home contest. Jim Scoggins and Jim Mattis tied for first with a time of 17:51 for the three mile course. This was the third straight meet where these two seniors captured the first two places.

Freshman Wally Pike was third to give Clinton a 1-2-3 sweep. Pike's time was 18:04. Finishing out the scoring for Clinton was Jim Klanke 8th at 14:33 and Mark Evelth 10th at 19:49.

Other finishers included Roger LaSavage 11th, Chris Wojtowicz 12th, John Johnston 13th and Craig Hill 14th.

Clinton's record is now 3-2 overall and 1-1 in the LCAA league.

Britton Tories Crush Archrival

Britton traveled to archrival and defending Tri-County League football co-champion Deerfield last Friday. The Tories used a crunching ground attack plus some big defensive plays to bring home a 36-7 victory.

Deerfield was first on the scoreboard with Hank Mueller skirting around his left end for 15 yards and a TD on the fourth play of the game. The score was set up by a 35 yard run by Deerfield quarterback Ken Marzka. Scott Swindelman kicked the extra point and the Minutemen led 7-0.

Later in the first quarter, the Tories recovered a Deerfield fumble on their 27 yard line. On the third play, Mike Servoss ran 15 yards for Britton's first touchdown. Alan Reau ran over the extra points and Britton led 8-7.

Early in the second quarter Deerfield was deep in its own territory. The Minutemen ran the option play and pitched the ball outside. Britton's Servoss stepped in to intercept it and dash 18 yards for the score. Reau again ran over the conversion making the score 16-7.

Britton's next TD came on a 64 yard drive with Servoss, Reau and Rudy Montalvo taking turns chewing up the yardage. On a fourth down and six play, Mike Servoss took a pitch from quarterback Jeff Brown and following the fine blocks of Mike Saxton and Craig Wagenschutz—scampered 15 yards around his right end for his third touchdown of the night. The extra point was unsuccessful.

Servoss wasn't finished for the evening however. During the Deerfield's next possession, Servoss intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards for yet another touchdown. Reau again grabbed the conversion and Britton went to the locker at halftime leading 30-7.

In the third quarter, the Tories again recovered a Deerfield fumble on the Minutemen's 26 yard line. Five plays later, sophomore fullback Rudy Montalvo went up the middle 13 yards for a touchdown. The conversion attempt failed and the final score stood at 36-7.

Deerfield had 201 yards total offense for the game with 192 yards coming on the ground. Ken Marzka and Hank Mueller were outstanding offensively for the Minutemen and defensively Al Seiser and Dan Diver played excellent games.

Britton had 287 yards total offense with 279 coming on the ground. Servoss led with 100 yards in 20 carries. Reau had 83 yards in 12 carries and Montalvo finished with 73 yards in 15 carries.

The Tory offensive line of Doug Shiels, Mike Hintz, Doug Armstrong, Craig Wagenschutz, Dale Tiede, Mike Saxton and Dave Wielfaert did an outstanding job of opening up the holes for Tory backs. Quarterback Jeff Brown was one for two passing for 8 yards.

The Britton defense came up with the big plays all night and continuously gave the Tory offense good field position. Doug Shiels led the Tories in tackles with 14. Craig Wagenschutz had 13 tackles twice trapping Deerfield runners for a total loss of 29 yards. Dave Wielfaert had 13 tackles for the Tories.

Coach Randy Salisbury commented about the game, "It was a team effort both offensively and defensively. Everyone did their job and contributed to our victory."

The Tories are now 2-1 overall and 1-0 in the Tri-County League. This Friday Britton hosts Whitmore Lake in the Tories' homecoming game.

Stick Men Win Again

Tecumseh continues its onslaught of the Huron Golf League. There's no stopping them. They recently polished off Grosse Ile and New Boston Huron.

They traveled to Grosse Ile Country Club on Wednesday of last week to defeat the Red Devils 175-179. It was a big win for the Indians, the first time they've handed a defeat to Grosse Ile in five years.

Medalists for Tecumseh included top man Doug Jacobs with a score of 41 followed by Paul Lemanski 43, Scott Macbeth 45 and John Gibson 46.

New Boston Huron went down under the Indian's war clubs last Monday. Tecumseh beat them by a score of 171-178. Medalists included John Gibson 42, Paul Lemanski 42, Steve Lynch 42 and Scott Macbeth 45.

Tecumseh now has a league record of 4-0 and an overall record of 9-0.

Indians Destroy Grosse Ile 54-8

By Frank Weir

God loves the Tecumseh Indians.

Or so it would seem after they routed the Grosse Ile Red Devils 54-8 last Friday night.

And, by the end of the game, the scoreboard lights were blinking like a Christmas tree caught out-of-season as it posted the final outrageous score.

The game was a deep wound for Grosse Ile, one they won't soon forget.

Indian guard Bob Chatters started the rout when he grabbed a Grosse Ile fumble and dashed 25 yards for the first score of the game half way through the first quarter. Two minutes later Jim Shough blocked and recovered a punt, running 22 yards to make it 12-0. Ken Biscupski missed on both extra point tries.

Just seven seconds into the second quarter, Mike Duhan ran 10 yards for the Tecumseh's third touchdown.

The Red Devils recovered briefly to grab a TD for themselves and a two-point conversion, but the Indians struck again with a one-yard run by Duhan. With the extra points scored by Biscupski, the tally at the end of the second quarter stood at 26-8.

In the third quarter, fullback Bob Webb intercepted a Grosse Ile pass at the 24-yard line to set up a TD by Kent Jacoby from a one yard out. With three minutes left, Gary Beasley blocked a punt and went three yards to score another TD.

With the start of the fourth quarter, second and third string varsity Indians were given a chance to pick some valuable experience. As a matter of fact, those squads handled the offensive duties for the entire quarter. And they gave a good account of themselves picking up two more TD's in their own right.

Halfback Bill Warner scampered five yards for a TD with a full 10 minutes left in the quarter. The ensuing kickoff was a comedy of errors for the Red Devils. Grosse Ile fumbled the kickoff and Tecumseh recovered. However, there was a penalty against the Indians and they were forced to repeat the kickoff.

Before the fan's disbelieving eyes, Grosse Ile fumbled the kickoff again and Bob Webb recovered for Tecumseh. Later in the quarter, Beasley intercepted a Grosse Ile pass and ran it to the two-yard line setting up a touchdown by George Harvey with 1:21 left in the game.

It was strictly a ground game for the Indians as they racked up 213 yards rushing to Grosse Ile's 49. In the passing department, Tecumseh's quarterback Dave Spillman went 0-5. Duhan was the leading rusher with 77 yards on 14 carries for the Indians. Harvey got 50 in 8 carries. And the statistics wouldn't be complete without mention of Tecumseh's recovery of three fumbles, it's interception of two passes, and the blocking of two punts.

As Coach Connor's commented after the game, "We played well getting the breaks and taking advantage of them."

Hope for Homecoming

Tecumseh squares off against Gibralter Carlson this Friday night at Indian Stadium.

In the six games the two have played together, the Indians were defeated only once by Carlson. But head coach Pat Connors isn't about to underestimate the Marauders.

"Carlson is a big physical team. They're usually tough and come right at you and knock you around," Connors says.

Carlson joined the league in 1968 with Tecumseh beating them the first five times the two teams battled. Last year the tables were turned as Carlson senior quarterback Rick Podzius ran 11 yards into the end zone shortly after the Indians had fumbled on the 23-yard line. With the extra point, the score stood at 7-0 for the remainder of the game.

Connors warns that Carlson's new quarterback could cause trouble this year, too. "They are unbeaten so far this season after playing Jefferson and Huron. And their quarterback, named Joe Drenen, is exceptional."

Connors goes on to say that the game is really a "big one" for the Indians. And it would seem awfully easy for the players to get a little cocky after last week's slaughter of Grosse Ile. Connors says of team overconfidence, "This is always a danger, and I recently had a little visit with the players about it. Sometimes it just happens that you block a punt and you get the right bounce (as in the Grosse Ile game)."

But Connors goes on to say that he's quite pleased with the weekly progress of the Indians.

Doug Bunch, who suffered a slight concussion in the Airport game, isn't quite ready to play this Friday. Connors feels he'll be suited up for the Jefferson game Oct. 11.

Scramble

Raisin Valley Golf Club will hold a mixed couples scramble tournament Sunday at 1 p.m. A potluck supper will follow the tournament. Each couple is asked to bring their own meat to grill, a dish to pass, and their own table service. Call the Golf Club by Saturday if you wish to enter the play.

Football Contest

Tecumseh and Clinton area boys 8 to 13 are invited to participate in the annual Punt Pass and Kick competition, sponsored by Tecumseh and Clinton Area Jaycees, at Clinton Middle School athletic field, at 9 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 5.

Registration is this week at George Underwood Ford-Lincoln-Mercury, Clinton.

Trounce Chelsea

The Tecumseh girls basketball team opened the season with a flourish last Thursday night trouncing the Chelsea bulldogs 81-8.

All eleven members of the varsity squad scored at least 4 points or more. Julie Murphy, Julie Anderson and Susie Brown were in double figures.

The Indian JV team also went home haapy. They won with a score of 43-19. Center Grace Burns led the point tally with 11. Right behind was Tori Iffland with 9 points.

Dog Tales Are Critical

Two citizens, supported by a small audience, protested the city dog warden's alleged mistreatment and inhumane shooting of dogs and police negligence in handling lost dog reports before Council Monday night.

Chris Dunn, whose German shepherd was destroyed by policeSept. 15, alleged that her calls to police about concern for her lost dog were unanswered until the dog's death. She said that she was not notified that the dog would be destroyed, was given no tags or the body.

She requested that Council investigate the possibility of acquiring a tranquilizer gun to handle animals in the city of Tecumseh so that incidents such as the destruction of her animal could be avoided.

Lloyd Mann, of 113½ Chicago, accused dog warden Glen Richmond of mishandling Mann's dog, shooting it to death and dumping it along with five other dead dogs Mann said he found at the former department of public works dump behind the hospital. He presented photographs of the dead animals to councilmen.

He said that he had his sister call the Tecumseh dog warden to remove his dog to the Humane Society in Adrian, since he works and does not own a car. Instead, Mann said, that the dog was seen roaming around the high school after the dog was taken by the warden.

The second time the warden tried to pick up the animal it reportedly bit the warden, and the dog was found shot by the owner at the DPW site. Mann said that his animal was not impounded for five days, which is what state law requires before destruction of an animal.

Police Chief Ray Walton said Monday night was the first time these complaints had been brought to his attention. He said that dead dogs are often picked up off the street and disposed by police in the area in question. He said that he did not believe that the dogs were all the victims of the dog catcher, Glen Richmond.

Richmond, employed part-time at $2.50 an hour, is not empowered to carry a gun and uses gloves and a four foot hook as his only equipment, said Walton. Richmond is also employed at Tecumseh Products Co.

"I know that police pass off lost dog complaints, but the whereabouts of the dog is important to the owner. Records should be made of every stray animal and lost dog reported to the department," said Mayor Harold Easton to the audience and the chief.

Walton said that each animal taken in by the warden is accounted for and that dogs are impounded according to state statute. Larry McClain, president of the Lenawee County Humane Society said that animals brought to the Society are logged by the Tecumseh warden. The Society does not pick up animals.

Attorney Greg Forsthoefel asked Mann why he relied on the city to take the dog to the Humane Society. Mann replied that he did not have a car.

Councilman Aden Meade agreed with councilman Wally Whiting and Meade told Mann that it is the citizen's responsibility to follow-up on the animal's care to make sure that humane treatment is received. Councilman Steve Kruger added to the discussion that he thought the citizen is not responsible if the city is not doing its job.

Meade went on to say that further discussion would not alter the mishandling that might have occurred in the two incidents and that from this point forward the city should try to correct erroneous procedures.

Tuesday morning chief Walton said that burial procedures will be changed to meet state statute which requires four feet of dirt over the animals.

Tecumseh's city ordinance and the state statute will be compared and the state statute followed, "without question," said Walton.

Walton explained Tuesday that two dogs were destroyed recently in the city. The German shepherd was destroyed Sept. 15 by police near 216 E. Pottawatamie and buried. That dog reportedly attacked a man, another dog and other persons.

The second animal was shot Sept. 25 by Glen Richmond at the city pound. Walton said the report showed Richmond had trouble removing the "snarling and snapping" dog from the cage. Richmond then returned home for his gun and shot the dog.

Sesqui Funds Distribution Is Delayed

Monday night councilmen postponed action on a percentage distribution adopted by the Sesquicentennial Executive committee for Sesquicentennial profits, because they do not have the final audit and are curious what public reaction is to the proposed percentage distribution.

Those percentages suggested by men's participation chairman Dyke Helms are as follows: "10 percent to the Tecumseh Area Historical Society, 20 percent reserved for the auditorium, 30 percent for park equipment, 40 percent for recreation facilities and 10 percent of the 40 percent reserved for some special project."

Some councilmen said that they were not sure what the committee meant by "10 percent reserved for special project," as mentioned in the communication from the Sesqui Committee.

These percentages were printed in the June 20 issue of the Herald but no public opinions were expressed to the newspaper.

Cal Zorn reported that $10,000 of Sesquicentennial funds is on certificate deposit, with $2,800 in a checking account and $3,000 still owed to the city, which underwrote the greater portion of the expenses. Sales tax on items has not been paid yet. A complete audit is pending.

Now Called Al Meyers Airport, Inc.

Meyers Airport is now the Al Meyers Airport, Inc. All operations presently situated will continue as before. Al Meyers is president of the airport and head of the board of directors. He will maintain an office at the airport.

Mrs. Meyers is also a member of the board of directors.

Only Meyers Industries, the aluminumboat manufacturing plant, was sold and now owned by Donald E. Tjarksen. The airport continues to remain a separate enterprise.

Wages Raised to $15 Hourly

In the report of the Herrick Memorial Hospital board meeting, council learned Monday night that the hourly salary of emergency room doctors would be raised from $12.50 to $15 an hour. However, emergency room charges have not been increased.

Phase III of the hospital's new wing is now under construction with completion of the project expected in about six months, said administrator William Groover.

SUPPORT FOUNDATION — Co-chairmen Mary Bowers and Barbara Blanden of this year's Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive are seeking the support of local residents in reaching the Foundation's goal of $76,316. Annual kick-off breakfast is scheduled next Tuesday morning at the Tecumseh Country Club. All division heads and workers are asked to attend the breakfast and briefing, an affair which will also recognize those who worked in making last year's campaign successful. The co-chairmen have appointed Frank Bock at the Tecumseh Products to head the industrial division, an appointment which completes filling all division chairmanships. (Photo by Cortland Hunt)

33 Favor Minimal Plan for Downtown

A Special Assessment District has been recommended to city officials for improvements in the downtown business district.

Planning Commission with councilmen discussed the recommendation informally Tuesday night with the result that more information about the plan be submitted before the city becomes involved.

Estimated cost is $116,000 with the city's share at $29,400.

Out of 71 questionnaires sent to businessmen and property owners in a six-block area, 52 were returned. Area consists of Pearl to Oneida St. and Pottawatamie to Logan Sts.

Of those reporting, 33 favored a beautification plan with the majority of the 33 indicating that a minimal plan would suffice. Estimated cost for the extensive plan was $1.55 per square foot of building size, and the minimal plan about 40c per square foot.

As to re-development, 18 said they do not want any, and 19 said no to a free parking system.

However, 33 also said they were willing to be assessed four cents per square foot of building size to provide free off-street parking in all municipal lots.

Paul Dangler is chairman of the downtown re-development committee.

Mobile Park Hearing Changed to Nov. 4th

Tecumseh Council changed the date of the Green Meadows development public hearing to Nov. 4, at 8 p.m., at the regular Council meeting.

Mayor Harold Easton and councilmen Aden Meade and James Palmer dissented.

The city representatives thought that there should be no further delay in the hearing.

However, because of the oversight of the publisher in not printing a legal notice within the required 15 days before the hearing, the other four councilmen felt that new date was necessary to give citizens adequate notice of the rescheduled public hearing.

City manager Cal Zorn suggested to council that they meet with planning commissioners at Tuesday's meeting to exchange ideas before the public hearing.

Bike Thefts On Increase

Theft of bicycles has long been a problem here and last week a rash of six occurred.

A resume of bike thefts is:

Oct. 3 — Walter Elwartowski, 101 S. Pearl St., and Mrs. James Randall, 610 W. Logan, reported their children's bicycles stolen. Each was valued at $50.

Oct. 4 — Don Kittle, 402 Seneca, reported son's bike taken at Patterson elementary school. Value was $50.

Oct. 5 — Susan Parrish, 110 W. Pottawatamie, reported 10-speed girl's bike stolen from yard.

Oct. 6 — Mrs. David Coak, 210 W. Chicago Blvd., reported her son's small bike taken after he had ridden to a friend's house on W. Pottawatamie St. Estimated value was $25.

Oct. 7 — Mrs. Robert DeLine, 1002 Park, told police a bicycle was taken from her yard. Bike was valued at $15.

Closed Monday

United Savings Bank and First Federal, will be closed Monday, Oct. 14, in observance of Columbus Day.

The Post Office has announced that there will be no city or rural route delivery on that day because of the federal holiday.

Game Films Are Shown Each Monday

All you Indian football fans who aren't able to attend a Friday night game now have a second chance.

Head Coach Pat Connors has stated that films of the previous game are shown every Monday night at 7:30 in the high school locker room for parents and fans.

In addition, the movies are available for group showings by contacting Coach Connors.

3 B&E's Reported

Three breaking and enterings were investigated by Tecumseh police Monday morning in the N. Evans St. area.

Break-ins and thefts were reported at St. Peter's Episcopal Church by the Rev. David Fox, Osburn Real Estate and Insurance, and at Eva's Beauty Bar.

At the church, entry was gained by breaking a basement window. Area's entered included the rector's office, file cabinets, chapel, small safe, sacristy and store room.

Approximately $10 in cash was taken.

A basement window also was broken to enter the real estate and insurance business. The office desks and files were searched and between $20 and $30 taken along with a camera and film.

At the beauty salon, the rear door was pried open after an attempt was made to enter through the front door. The work area and office were ransacked and about $4 in change were taken.

In all three cases, police believe a screw driver was used to force entry.

Chairman Explains PC's Reasonings on Green Meadows

By Katy Kulczyk

Tuesday night Tecumseh Planning Commission and Council members met together to exchange ideas on the rezoning of land for the Green Meadows mobile home park development.

Richard Eggleston chaired the meeting, returning to the commission after submitting his resignation to Council several weeks ago.

He summarized the feelings of the Commission on its work on the project and said that the Commission feels it has come up with a program that conforms to city ordinances, and with several concessions made by the developer, it is a project in the interest of the city since there is a real demand for that type of housing.

"Several months ago I didn't think that this would have gone to Council with our approval. But as we've worked on this, I became convinced that the plans we have now are good. That there is a real need for this housing in Tecumseh. It is the housing trend now. This is what people want. And I don't think we can decide what we ourselves want. We have to think of the benefit of the community," said Eggleston.

Chuck Leaman of Vullcan-Leaman Associates, planning consultants for Tecumseh, answered questions regarding the Planning Commission's reason to include a planned neighborhood or RP-1 on the east side of the mobile home project.

This area will offer a variety of housing types but with a planned density to insure that the growth of the Green Meadows project does not sprawl undesirably.

"It is a local choice whether or not you want this program," said Leaman. He cited that there is an identifiable market for mobile homes in the county.

Councilmen Dr. Carlton Cook, Aden Meade and Ray Puffer, present at the meeting expressed the concern that the company might not be financially solvent and "run out on its obligations." Attorney Greg Forsthoefel told the councilmen that at the time of site plan review, Council would be able to determine this. He also asked Council to read a Supreme Court decision to familiarize themselves with the arguments, attempting to answer Council's questions about viable arguments against mobile park homes.

Mayor Harold Easton and Wallace Whiting were also present from council.

Enrollment Is Up

Breakdown of the official Tecumseh school enrollment shows a slight drop in the elementary and junior high levels but an increase at the high school.

Overall, student enrollment for 1974-75, is up in the local schools by 16 students. Present registration figure is 3,668 compared to 3,652 for last year.

Enrollment by grades is:

	1974	1973
Kindergarten	281	250
First Grade	252	256
Second Grade	248	233
Third Grade	235	255
Fourth Grade	255	280

Eighth Grade	290	307
Freshmen	318	324
Sophomore	321	286
Junior	270	273
Senior	235	236

There are 81 special education students enrolled this year compared to 77 in 1973.

Homecoming Was Great!

Friday was a great day in Tecumseh! The Indians clobbered a big Carlson team, 33-0, the sophomore float was rated tops by the judges and Becky Stormes was crowned the 1974 Homecoming Queen. A big fourth quarter provided the route in the football game, and the "Sting 'em" float narrowly edged the "Skunk 'em" float by the Juniors. Miss Stormes, who was announced the winner at half time in the homecoming queen contest, reigned at the annual dance following the game.

Do you know the difference between a citizen band radio and a scanner? A citizen band radio is a licensed receiver and transmitter and a scanner is a receiver only. Due to the error of the writer, it was the CB radio instead of the scanner that was referred to in last week's item about the police visit to the Spreeman home. The writer is typing the correction 100 times after office hours.

MR. and MRS. DANIEL WORKMAN

New Pastor at Church of God

The Rev. Daniel Workman is the new pastor at the Church of God in Tecumseh. He and his wife Nora recently moved here from Chicago, where they spent five years working in the ghetto area.

The Rev. Workman has been in the ministry for 26 years, spending 12 years in missionary and evangelistic work.

The Rev. and Mrs. Workman have six children and two grandchildren. Two daughters, Karen and Debbie, are still at home.

Four Accidents This Week

Only four accidents were investigated by police here during the past week, but two involved personal injury. Two motorists also received citations.

David D. Polmoynter, 17, of 302 W. Logan, was charged with failure to yield the right of way after pulling out of S. Maiden Lane into W. Chicago Blvd. He was struck by Ellis E. Johnston, 17, of 803 Adrian St., who was taken to the emergency room at Herrick Hospital for treatment.

Also Friday, Sharon Ferguson, 18, of 3712 Westgate Place, was cited for improper backing after hitting a parked car owned by Raymond Outman, 8466 N. Adrian Hwy., on S. Maumee St.

Tuesday, Delores L. Preston, 40, Hillsdale, and Carolin J. Puzik, 28, of 901 River Acres Dr., collided at Ottawa and E. Chicago Blvd. The Hillsdale car, in the center lane, turned in front of the Pyzik vehicle. Both were on S. Ottawa. Two passengers with Mrs. Preston suffered minor injuries.

Michael Parker told police last Thursday that his car was damaged while parked at the Cedar Shack Restaurant. Other driver is unknown.

Bid Accepted

City Council accepted the bid of Ellis and Ford for valves for water improvement program in the amount of $5,171.

A close bid from Treaty Co. for $5,201 was rejected.

Improvements will enable city to turn off water mains in smaller street sections than is now possible, for easier maintenance and servicing.

Lights Purchased

At a meeting Monday night, Council approved the purchase of light fixtures for Westhaven Street at a cost of $76 per light or a total cost of $10,669.

Approval was given with the assurance that at the time of property purchase, the owner could assume obligation of maintainance to these lights, which are the electricity costs and bulb replacement.

Motion was adopted to assure proper lighting in the subdivision.

Rezoning Approved

At a public hearing Monday night during the regular Council meeting, Council approved the rezoning of the east 80 feet of lot 45, Tecumseh Small Farms, from RA-2 to Industrial.

No objections were presented to Council.

Council raised the wages for the city election inspectors to $1.90 per hour plus lunch and dinner. This is the minimum wage under the Federal Act.

JOHN HAMILTON

John Hamilton, 91, of 510 W. Pottawatamie St., died Monday at 9:05 a.m. in Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for 10 days.

Hamilton was born May 21, 1883 in Antrim County, North Ireland. He married Elizabeth Penny Nov. 11, 1904 in Ireland, who preceded him in death in 1960.

A resident of Tecumseh for 62 years, he retired from the Tecumseh Products Co. in 1953. He was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Tracy (Ann) Arnold of DeKalb, Ill.; three sons, Thomas and Henry, both of Tecumseh, and Robert of Manchester; one brother, Thomas of Tecumseh; one sister, Martha of North Ireland; 10 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two sons and his wife.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in the Purse Funeral Home of Tecumseh, with the Rev. Edmond L. Watkins officiating. Burial followed in Brookside Cemetery.

Police Chief Speaks on Bikes

Police chief Ray Walton said that many stolen Tecumseh bicycles are being recovered but not 10-speeds.

He commented that removals seem to occur more frequently in the south end of the city.

Walton said that as drug addiction becomes a greater problem to society, more and more thefts occur and that locks are even sawed off.

He encouraged all citizens to lock their bikes securely and remember that insurance does not fully compensate for the loss of a bicycle, because most companies still have a mandatory deductible that must be absorbed by the policy owner.

VIRGIE COULTER

Services will be held Friday in Nashville, Ark., for Virgie Coulter, 60, of 9233 Ford Hwy., who died suddenly Monday at 8:52 a.m. in Herrick Memorial Hospital where she had been admitted that morning.

Born March 10, 1914 in Waldo, Ark., she married Shirley L. Coulter June 14, 1937; he preceded her in death on Aug. 12 of this year.

Mrs. Coulter was a housewife and a member of the First Baptist Church of Nashville, Ark.

Survivors include one son, Jospeh of Adrian; one daughter, Shirley Ann of Tecumeh; two grandchildren; her step-mother, Celia Howell of Pasadena, Calif; three brothers, Ive Howell of Fresno, Calif.; Joe T. Howell of Nashville, Ark., and George Howell of Pasadena, Calif.; one half-brother, Nathaniel Wincher of Detroit; five sisters, Velma Davis and Juanita Cuffee, both of Nashville, Ark., Marianna Wynn of Toledo, Ohio, and Bernice Majors and Mary Alice Preston, both of Pasadena, Calif.

She was preceded in death by two brothers and two sisters in addition to her husband.

Services will be held in the Mt. Zion Baptist Church in Nashville, Ark. with the Rev. J.L. Bradford officiating. Arrangements were made locally by the Niblack Home for Funerals, Britton. Arrangements in Arkansas were handled by the Hicks Funeral Home in Hope. Burial will follow in Sunset Gardens Cemetery, Nashville, Ark.

M.O. (PETE) NELSON

M.O. (Pete) Nelson, 75, of Phoenix, Ariz., died Sept. 26 in Good Samaritan Hospital, Phoenix. He had been in ill health for the past six months.

He was well known in the Tecumsh area and had many friends and relatives here.

Born in Norway, Nelson came to the United States as a child. He married the former Mabel Oliver of Britton 46 years ago, who survives.

Nelson was employed as an installer for the Western Electric Co. for 37 years, starting in Detroit and later being transferred to several western states due to his health. The Nelsons have lived in Phoenix for the past 29 years.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by one son, Douglas Nelson of California; three grandsons, all of California; and one brother of Michigan.

Services were held in Camelback Sunset Chapel Sept. 28 in Phoenix, with the Rev. Walter Thompson officiating. Burial followed in Greenwood Cemetery, Phoenix.

CLAUDE C. CREGER

Services will be held Friday, Oct. 11 at 1:30 p.m. in Proctor Funeral Home, Tecumseh, for Claude C. Creger, 56, of 12664 Wisner Hwy., Clinton, who died at 8:25 a.m. Tuesday in Herrick Memorial Hospital. He had been in ill health for several years.

Born July 26, 1918 in Tecumseh, he was the son of Bert and Maude (Handy) Creger. He married Elizabeth Reichhardt July 2, 1938, who preceded him in death Feb. 21 of this year.

Creger was a farmer and was employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. for about 22 years. He was a member of the Tipton Community Church and had lived on the same farm for about 27 years.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Thomas (Kay) Adams of Clinton; one son, Ronald G. at home; his mother, Mrs. Maude Creger of Tecumseh; three sisters, Mrs. Howard (Ruth) Zimmerman of Sylvania, Ohio, Mrs. Raymond (Margaret) Service of Clinton, and Mrs. Donald (Dorothy) Graff of Macon; two brothers, Leo Creger of Brooklyn and Dale Creger of Tecumseh; and three grandchildren, Scott, Gregory and Michelle Adams of Clinton.

He was preceded in death by his wife and father.

Friends may call at Proctor Funeral Home, Tecumseh, after 7 p.m. Wednesday. Burial will follow services on Friday in Brookside Cemetery.

Dr. Joseph A. Perez of Adrian College will officiate.

JOSEPH BARTENSLAGER

Joseph J. Bartenslager III, of 600 Orchard Lane, died Oct. 3 at 12:30 p.m. in University Hospital, Ann Arbor, where he was admitted five weeks ago. He had been in failing health for six months.

Born Dec. 24, 1911 in Royalton, Pa., he married the former Catherine Irene Noggle July 26, 1940 in Berrysville, Va. She survives.

Bartenslager was a member of the Trenton Hills United Brethren Church of Adrian and an associate member of the Britton Bethel Baptist Church of Britton. He was a veteran of the United States Coast Guard and the U.S. Navy.

He was preceded in death by one sister.

Services were held Monday, Oct. 7 in the Proctor Funeral Home with the Rev. Edmund Burkey and the Rev. Charles Mellring officiating. Burial followed in Brookside Cemetery.

SAD Tabled

Council decided Monday night to table action on the Special Assessment District (SAD) recommendations until a report is made by city manager Cal Zorn.

SAD is relative to downtown business improvements.

City council also received the petition of 24 property owners and tenants who wish to express their opposition to the SAD for the Central Business District.

Eleven of the signatures were of tenants, and 13 were indicated as those of owners.

Curb and Gutter

Curb and gutter construction will be completed this week on four city streets with bituminous concrete for these streets scheduled to start soon afterwards.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the construction, which included driveway approaches, is near completion on N. Union, Willow, Park and Maple Sts.

These streets will receive a base and blacktop cap during the next four weeks.

You Told Us

By Libby Lincoln

I hope all who had a chance got a glimpse of last Friday's Homecoming parade in Tecumseh. The class floats were spectacular and the bands' unflagging precision amazing! THS got a piece of the rock and skunked 'em but good Friday night thanks to the sting of the Tecumseh Indians. Congrats are also extended to the Britton Tories who copped their first Homecoming win in 16 years. Including Clinton Redskins' big victory over Sand Creek two weeks ago that makes for a mighty powerful Homecoming triumvirate in our area.

Carol and Mike Blumerick hosted a party over the weekend for Ken and Judy May who moved from Tecumseh to Holland, Mich. in August. Ken and Judy received a sterling silver salt and pepper set and a silver tray from the 20 guests at the gathering.

Tecumsehite Who's Who

Mary Ellen Johnson, a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School, was recently notified that she is to be included in the 1973-74 edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students," the largest student award publication in the nation.

Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Johnson of 516 W. Pottawatamie. While in high school she was active in band and the National Honor Society, and received a scholarship from the State of Michigan.

She is attending Bay de Noc Community College in Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wilcox, 6324 Ridge Road, will be honored Oct. 13, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house at IOOF hall, Green Hwy. Tecumseh, hosted by their four children. Friends and relatives may call between 1-5 p.m. The couple were married Oct. 8, 1924 by the Rev. Fredrick Schwede in Britton. They have 11 grandchildren. It is requested that gifts be omitted.

Golfers Win 11, Undefeated

This is getting monotonous....

There just is no stopping those Tecumseh Indian golfers. In the last week they've picked up two more wins bringing their overall record to 11-0 and their league record to 5-0.

On Wednesday of last week, the stickmen traveled to Bedford's Giant Oaks golf course defeating Bedford golfers 166-169. Top scorers for the Indians included Steve Lynch with a 40, John Gibson 41, Doug Jacobs 42, and Scott Macbeth 43.

The junior varsity squad squeaked by Bedford 190-191.

The stickmen took on Jefferson next winning by a final tally of 169-175 last Monday. Medalists for that meet were Steve Lynch 42, Scott Macbeth 42, and Jeff Steiner 42.

Pat Mannino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mannino of 114 Park St., plays trumpet in the Eastern Michigan University Marching Huron Band. The band will appear at six EMU football games this fall, participated in the Homecoming Parade Sept. 28, and will close the season with a performance at the Band-O-Rama in Pease Auditorium in November. Pat is a 1972 Tecumseh High School graduate and is now a junior at EMU, majoring in special education.

Club is Host

Tecumseh Rifle and Pistol Club will host the Tri-City Pistol League at the Community Center range, Monday, Oct. 14.

Range opens at 7:30 p.m. and league shooting will begin at 8 p.m.

All Tecumseh members are asked to attend.

Harriers Win One But Drop Another

The Tecumseh cross country team recently won a meet against Carlson but dropped another to Airport. Their record now stands at 5-2 overall and 3-1 for the league.

The thin clads met Carlson on Tuesday of last week and beat them 23-40. Tim Scheff came in second with a time of 16:31 followed by Bob Cook third at 16:46, Greg Wonderly fifth at 17:24, Brad Sisson sixth at 17:36 and Jim Harris seventh at 17:47.

Derrick Webb placed first at 15:58 for Carlson.

On Thursday, the Indians traveled to Airport but were defeated by a score of 21-40. Finishers for Tecumseh were Tim Scheff third at 16:37, Bob Cook fourth at 16:50, Brad Sisson tenth at 17:42, Kim Cantrell eleventh at 17:48 and Jim Harris twelfth at 17:55.

Indians Whip Carlson

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh Indians continued their romp through the Huron League by shutting out Carlson 33-0 last Friday night.

At times, however,the game seemed to be a comedy of errors on the part of both teams. Tecumseh fumbled the pigskin five times losing it three times. And, Carlson allowed the Indians to grab five pass interceptions.

Tecumseh's Ken Biscupski tried to break a 0-0 deadlock late in the first quarter with a 20-yard field goal attempt that didn't quite make it.

With seven minutes left in the second quarter, Kent Jacoby earned the first score of the game with a six-yard run. Biscupski, still having problems, missed on the point-after attempt.

The Indians were unable to turn that into a score however. Carlson snagged a Spillman pass at the five-yard line. Two minutes later, another Tecumseh scoring drive died with a fumble by Kent Jacoby at the Carlson 25.

Jacoby then redeemed himself by grabbing a Carlson pass at the 47. With just five seconds left in the third quarter, Duhan ran 13 yards for the second TD, Biscupski again missed the extra point.

The Indians put it all together in the fourth quarter. The Marauders seemed to be demoralized. Jacoby went six yards for a TD with over seven minutes left in the quarter. Just ten seconds later, Tecumseh guard Ed Clark intercepted a pass at the Indian 28, setting up a TD by quarterback Dave Spillman from six yards out.

With six minutes left, Carlson fumbled the kickoff and halfback Bill Warner recovered on the 37. Two minutes later, Indian Bill Smith completed the final scoring drive by catching a three-yard pass. Biscupski was up to par succeeding in all point-after attempts in the final quarter.

Coach Pat Connors was, of course, pleased with the big win. "The team played well, they kept coming at Carlson. We kept the pressure on them, and they finally cracked in the fourth quarter."

Connors was not so pleased with those five fumbles however. "I'm not happy whenever we drop the ball on the ground. We'll be working on it."

Tecumseh's ground game was only a little ahead of it's passing game in the Friday night contest. The Indian's gained 178 yards rushing to Carlson's 81. Spillman had a good night, completing 7 of 11 attempts for 129 yards. Duhan was the top rusher, garnering 73 yards on 13 carries.

Carlson hurt themselves giving up 90 yards in penalties. And Tecumseh held the Marauders to seven first downs. Bob Webb had the most tackles for Tecumseh with 14.

Indians Go On Road

The Indians meet Jefferson this Friday night in an away game. In last year's contest, Tecumseh beat the Bears 19-6.

So far this season, Jefferson has yet to win a game. Their first contest was against Ida and they lost that one 20-14. In league play, the Bears have met Carlson, Monroe CC and Grosse Ile losing by scores of 45-20, 26-0 and 26-0 respectively.

But Coach Pat Connors refuses to take them lightly. "If we ever play less than our best, we're in trouble. We can't take them lightly. They've improved over last year but haven't been real successful in terms of winning.

"We want to make sure that the players don't think this will be a cakewalk. We always expect a challenge."

Jayvees Boast Victory

The Tecumseh junior varsity defeated Carlson by a score of 6-0 last Thursday evening at Carlson. The Indian's now boast a 3-1 season record.

The offense was paced by the running of Joe Castorena and the blocking of Dan Tilton, Jeff Ives and Mike Martin. The only touchdown was scored by Mark Johnston who recovered the ball after a blocked kick by Dan Tilton.

The Tecumseh offense gained 169 yards rushing and 29 yards passing. Offensive player of the week was Joe Castorena.

But the Indian defense also contributed their share, coming through in clutch situations. The defensive player of the week was Lyn Beard. Other defensive standouts were Mark Johnston, Dave Bale and Dan Tilton.

The Indian JV's square off against Monroe Jefferson in a home game this Thursday evening at 7 p.m.

16-Year Wait For Homecoming Win

The Britton Tories celebrated their first homecoming win in 16 years after defeating Whitmore Lake 46-0 Friday night. The last time the Tories won a homecoming game was in 1958 against Whiteford.

Britton's first score came after a fumble recovery by Doug Shiels on Whitmore's 38 yard line. On the fourth play Mike Servoss dashed 28 yards for the TD. Alan Reau ran over the conversion.

On Whitmore Lake's next possession, Shiels intercepted a Trojan pass setting up another touchdown four plays later by Servoss. Reau again converted the extra points.

Britton scored again at the end of the first quarter on a 69 yard drive with Servoss getting his third TD on a 38 yard run. The conversion failed.

In the second quarter, Britton drove to Whitmore Lake's 15 but fumbled. Both teams went to the lockers with the Tories leading 22-0.

With the start of the third quarter, Britton marched 55 yards in seven plays with Servoss finally getting the TD from four yards out. It was his fourth touchdown of the night. Servoss also ran over the extra points.

The Tories next score came after Doug Shiels blocked a Trojan punt giving Britton possession of the ball on the 19 yard line. Scott White scored on a three yard run and then successfully converted the extra points.

On Whitmore Lake's next possession, they were forced to punt from deep in their own territory. The center's snap sailed over the head of the Trojan kicker and the Tories tackled him for a safety after he recovered the ball in the endzone.

In the fourth quarter, Alan Reau intercepted a pass and ran it back 40 yards to the Trojan 25. The Tories then scored their last TD as Scott White ran four yards. The conversion attempt failed.

Britton's offensive line did an outstanding job of blocking allowing the Tory backs to gain 445 yards rushing. For the second game in a row, Mike Servoss scored four touchdowns as well as rushing for 211 yards in 22 carries. That averages out to 9.6 yards per carry. Alan Reau had 80 yards rushing in 14 carries and Scott White and Dan Exelby gained 68 and 63 yards respectively.

Defensively, the Tories limited Whitmore Lake to 80 yards in total offense. Doug Armstrong led Britton in tackles with 13 and Doug Shiels had 11 tackles plus a pass interception and fumble recovery. Mike Saxton and Dale Tiede also played outstanding games from their defensive end positions.

Servoss, Reau and Exelby each picked off a Whitmore Lake pass in addition to Shiels.

Britton Coach Randy Salisbury commented after the game, "It was a great team effort both offensively and defensively. We hadn't won a homecoming game for a number of years and the team really wanted this one badly."

Britton's record is now 3-1 overall and 2-0 in the Tri-County league. This Friday, the Tories travel to Summerfield to meet the Bulldogs.

Too many pressing responsibilities in the Lord's work. The congregation couldn't afford to have its church painted.

But painted it was!

That was a glorious Saturday—no picnic or ball games, just hours of hard work. And what with the paint supplied at cost by a local dealer, and the brushes loaned by the very painter who might have hoped for the contract—nobody made a nickel!

But the remarkable thing is that nobody in town thought all this remarkable . . .

You know Christianity has had a deep influence on the life of a community when we begin to take for granted the zeal and sacrifice of Christian neighbors. The next step is to add our strength and faith to theirs in the worship and work of the Church.

MR and MRS. RONALD BENZLER

Candlelight Wedding Setting for Couple

Nancy Marks and Ronald Benzler were married Oct. 4 in a candlelight service in the Immanuel Lutheran Church of North Blissfield. The Rev. Karl Oelschlager and the Rev. Harold Wolf officiated at the 7:30 p.m. service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Marks of Ridgeway and Mr. and Mrs. John Benzler of Adrian.

Mrs. Paul Goetz, sister of the bride, and Lawrence Marks, godfather of the bride, were soloists accompanied by Carol Seager, organist.

Candelabras accented with ivy and baby's breath adorned the pews and altar as the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. Bride's gown was Victorian in design with a full chapel train. The bodice of Victorian lace and the sleeves were accented with white pearls. A Juliet cap of lace and pearls secured her veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses, asters, and baby's breath entwined with pearls. She wore a gold cross locket given to her by her parents.

Mrs. Paul Goetz of Deerfield, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a lavender gown accented with ruffles at the neckline and sleeves and a lavender picture hat. Her bouquet was fashioned of pink, lavender and purple asters and mums. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Harrell of Adrian, Mrs. Doyle Wright of Blissfield, and Mrs. Richard Benzler of Adrian. They wore gowns styled like that of the matron of honor.

Flower girls were Suzette and Heidi Ann Goetz, nieces of the bride. Their gowns were identical to the bridesmaids with pink and white eyelet pinafores. They carried bouquets of mixed pink and lavender flowers.

Richard Benzler of Adrian, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Paul Goetz of Deerfield, brother-in-law of the bride, Mark Bersuder of Chelsea, and Tom Kaiser of Lansing.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the United Products Workers Union Hall.

Parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Country House Restaurant the evening before the wedding.

Bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and of the Ann Arbor Practical Nursing Education Center. She is employed at Bixby Hospital as an L.P.N.

Groom is a graduate of Adrian Catholic Central High School and attended Davis Business College. He is employed at Signpress in Adrian.

After a wedding trip to the New England states, the couple will reside at 3724 Deerfield Road, Adrian.

Win Two Big Ones

The Tecumseh freshman football team scored two big victories recently. The Indians shut out Adrian 20-0 and a week later destroyed Ypsilanti 40-8.

The strong Indian defense - lead by Wendell Withrow and John Egbert - never allowed Adrian to cross mid-field. Meanwhile the Tecumseh offense with John Silberhorn, John Paxton and Jim Neill scored three times and threatened several other times.

John Egbert led the scoring against Adrian with two touchdowns and Jeff Robideau added another.

The Ypsilanti game was almost a repeat of the Adrian contest. The Indians raced to a 40-0 lead with only four minutes gone in the third quarter. Ypsilanti failed to pick up a first down during the first three periods.

John Egbert had a hand in four of the Indian touchdowns running for two and passing for two more. Lyndon Hughes scored three times and Butch Harvey once.

Fine blocking performances were turned in by Rob Coaker, Greg Lewis and John Silberhorn. Jim Anderson, John Paxton, Bill Tooman and Larry Webber were defensive standouts.

New Appointments

The Rev. Daniel Workman, new pastor of the Church of God in Tecumseh, has announced the appointment of several new positions at the Church.

Hamilton Gilbert has been named Sunday school superintendent; Henrietta Kelly, youth endeavor leader; Joseph Hemphill, publications director; James Powell, Christian education director; and Estill Hemphill, Bible teacher and co-worker.

Schedule of services at the Church of God are as follows: Sunday school at 9:45 a.m., Sunday morning worship, 11 a.m., Sunday evening service, 7:30 p.m., and Wednesday evening service, 7:30 p.m.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

I saw on Friday, Oct. 4 one of the best High School homecoming parades ever in the city of Tecumseh or any other city.

The floats were just great. I am glad I was not a judge. I believe everyone of them was a first place.

The students and teachers all should be given a big hand for a wonderful job, well done. The people in Tecumseh School district should be proud of their young people.

Ernie Oliver

P.S. Don't forget the great victory of the football team.

Style Sense by Evel

If you are the sort of person who likes a change of pace in your appearance quite often, a short haircut will help you do just that. Perhaps there is no other length of hair quite so versatile as the short hairdo. The secret is the "bowl" cut. This cut allows hair coming from the crown of the head to be cut an even length all around. Once the cut is right, it's possible to do all sorts of exciting things, from a very smooth to a fluffy all curls type — whatever you feel like at the moment.

What is the best daytime hair style for you? For many women these days, it is a medium length look that is both versatile and easy to care for. How about a layered haircut which makes styling simpler for many! Choose a basic style if you are always on the go, and you will be able to look your best more consistently. Invest in an electric hairsetter, style your hair with it and you will feel better all day!

Our phone number is 423-4250 by appointment only.

New Beauty Shop Opens in Britton

BRITTON—A new beauty shop will have its grand opening this weekend at 171 Osborn St., under the name of "Jeanette's Beauty Salon."

Mrs. Wayne(Jeanette Starkey) Lembrick is a graduate of the Elite Academy of Beauty Culture school in Adrian and has had two years experience in Manchester working at Mr. Ken's beauty shop. She will be open during the morning hours and all day on Saturdays. Her specialty is working with long hair.

Mrs. Lembrick has lived in the Britton area for seven years and is employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. Her husband is also employed there. They have three children Renee 7, Jeffie 6 and Roddie 4.

Her shop is located in her home. Appointments may be made by calling 451-8040.

Pancakes Make PTO Profit

RIDGEWAY—The Ridgeway PTO advertising chairman, Mrs. Mirl Henry, announces a profit of $750 was received from the Pancake Supper held Oct. 3 at the Ridgeway school. Approximately 813 were served. Proceeds from the supper will go towards playground equipment at the Ridgeway school.

Overall prize winners of $5 for top ticket salesmen were: Mike Kline and Julie Stroud, kindergarten; David Flores, first grade; Ryan Cadmus, second grade; Arrin Schroeder, third grade; Dwayne Pizana, fourth grade; Tim Connors, fifth grade; and Jan Bishop, sixth grade.

In addition to last week's businesses who donated towards the success of the Pancake Supper were Porter Printing, Kentucky Fried Chicken and Italian Village.

Thanks goes out to everyone who helped in any way to make the supper a big success.

Bethel Baptist Studies Devotion

BRITTON—Study on the importance of daily personal devotions was the topic of the devotions given by Mrs. Mike Paich at the Oct. 3 Ladies' Missionary meeting at the Bethel Baptist Church. Mrs. Paich told how daily devotions in our own lives help in better church relations.

At the business meeting conducted by President Mrs. Walter Stutesman, a fall cleaning date was set for Saturday, Oct. 26 for cleaning the church. Mrs. Bernard Bishop was appointed committee chairman for the GARBC (General Association of Regular Baptist Churches) dinner scheduled for Nov. 12 with the Bethel Baptist Church serving as host for the occasion.

Leaders Meet

BRITTON—The Britton Campfire Leaders' Association met on Tuesday, Oct. 1, in the village fire hall.

The annual Mother-Daughter Tea will be held on Tuesday, Oct., 22 at 7 p.m. in the school study hall.

The association will be selling short-sleeve "Tories" sweatshirts at the PTO Fun Night on Nov. 2. Prior to Fun Night sweatshirts can be purchased from any Campfire or Bluebird leader or assistant.

Dates for the annual candy sale were announced, Nov. 15-Dec. 3.

Birthday Dinner

Mrs. and Mrs. Eldon Reeck hosted a birthday dinner Sunday for their son David. On hand for the special occasion were David's wife, his brother Donald, home on leave from Ecuador; grandmother, Mrs. William Reeck, Taylor; and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Koats, also of Taylor.

School Participates In UNICEF Contest

BRITTON—Children of Britton-Macon School will participate in a UNICEF poster contest again this year. In the weeks before Halloween, the children will learn about UNICEF and make posters in class. First, second, and third prizes will be awarded in the elementary school. Sponsor of the contest, and the agency awarding the prizes, is the Britton-Macon Parent Teacher Organization (PTO). Judging will take place on Oct. 25. First prize posters from each class will be offered to local merchants for display in store windows.

UNICEF is the United Nations Children's Fund. It has given aid to children in more than 100 countries, of all races, creeds, nationalities, and political convictions. It's aim is to free hundreds of millions of children from ignorance, disease, malnutrition, and starvation, for, said UNICEF executive director, Henry Labouisse, in accepting the Nobel Peace Prize for the organization in 1965, "The welfare of today's children is inseparably linked with the peace of tomorrow's world."

UNICEF trick or treating will take place simultaneously with regular trick or treating from 6 to 7 p.m. on Halloween, Oct. 31, to be followed by the PTO sponsored party in the school gym at 7 p.m. The Britton news page of The Tecumseh Herald will have more information in the weeks to follow.

Halloween program committee is the PTO members, Judy Kelly, Ada Marie Scholl, Mrs. Richard Dulinski and Arlene Porter.

Methodist Women Meet

BRITTON—Grace United Methodist Women's monthly meeting was Thursday evening at the church.

Mrs. Robert Burkey of Ogden presented the program on the religious crosses. On a quilt that she had made were 33 crosses—each a different design. The crosses were of red material to represent the blood of Christ, on a white background to designate purity, put together with gold that represented the riches received from the Lord. Each cross had its individual history.

After the presentation the group sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

During the business session conducted by President, Mrs. Russell Scott, she read a poem "Praying Hands" and led the group in praying the Lord's Prayer. A gift of money was voted to be given to the United Community Fund. It was decided to purchase a full length mirror for the education room.

Dates announced were: Oct. 17—Annual district meeting at United Methodist Church in Adrian; Nov. 7—Annual Turkey Supper and Bazaar at the church (Grace United); Jan. 29—Leaders' Training Class for United Methodist Women at Grace United Methodist Church.

Secret sisters were chosen to visit and remember throughout the year. Fifty visits to the sick were made by the group in September.

Mrs. Lloyd Wagner and Mrs. Donald Reis served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The October meeting will be at the church Nov. 14 with Mrs. Paul Frazier as program leader and Mrs. Robert Porter and Mrs. Russell Scott as hostesses.

Farm Leader Is Named

BRITTON—Mrs. Karl Kimerer of Britton, prominent Lenawee County farm leader, has been named to the Michigan Farm Bureau Policy Development Committee. Committee is a 61,000 family member farm member farm organization.

Committee will compile and study nearly 1,000 proposed policy statements submitted by the 69 county Farm Bureau units of the state and various commodity advisor committees.

Following consultation with experts, the committee will draft a slate of policy recommendations for consideration by voting delegates at the Michigan Farm Bureau annual meeting in December.

Delegates will determine the policies and programs of action for the state's largest farm organization during the coming year.

Committee of 20 farm leaders from the state represent each of the Farm Bureau's 11 districts, Farm Bureau Women, whom Mrs. Kimerer represents, and Young Farmers.

The Kimerers operate a 700-acre grain farm and also raise hogs. Mrs. Kimerer has served on several Farm Bureau committees on both the local and district levels. She has a special interest in the marketing of farm products and has been instrumental in successful commodity promotions in Lenawee County.

Korean Couple Displays Art

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Byung Sik Choi, 402 Jackson St. who came to Clinton two years ago to find a "happier life," told of life in their homeland of Korea for the program of the United Methodist Women, Monday.

Mr. Choi, an employee of Shamrock Egg Co., who still finds the American language a bit difficult, explained that in Korea, one marks the occasion of meeting a new friend, then remembers him on the anniversary of that date with a gift. One makes a friend for life, Choi said.

Mr. and Mrs. Choi, both college graduates, have a young son and daughter. Choi had served as a captain in the Korean Army for many years.

They brought along a fascinating display of Korean arts and crafts, including red or black enameled vases with mother of pearl designs, hand painted and woven screens, handcrafted pictures of birds and flowers, and Korean painted, wooden dolls.

Announcement was made of the next circle meetings: Dorcas Circle will meet Oct. 16 at 1 p.m. with Mrs. Robert Price, and Faith Circle will meet Oct. 17 at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. John Knight.

State Champion Shooter

CLINTON—When Judy Stentzel, of Clinton, isn't working as secretary to Dr. Robert Gillis, Adrian College physical education chairman, she spends her spare time shooting bow and arrow with her family.

Her practice paid off Sept. 28 and 29 as Mrs. Stentzel captured the 1974 Michigan State Champion Shooter title at the Michigan Bowhunters State Shoot held in Trenton. Competing against 80 women from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, Mrs. Stentzel women's division with a score of 299 out of a possible 420.

Having shot archery for about eight years, her interest began in college at Eastern Michigan University. Her husband, David, has 15 years of shooting behind him. Their two daughters, Sharon and Charlene also shoot.

For her achievement, Mrs. Stentzel received a 39 lb. bow and a trophy. With the Michigan title in hand, she expressed hope of competing in the national tournament in the near future.

Clinton Township Board Results

CLINTON — Members of the Clinton Township Board were advised that the county road commission will be unable to do any more of the township road work this season. Consequently, board voted to transfer one 30-day and one 90-day time deposit certificate (CTD) to six month CTD's. There funds were earmarked for road work.

A rate increase of $12.50 per month request from Walker Landfill was approved.

Board approved request made by Mrs. Earl Lawrence, representing the Township Library Board, for use of a township storage room in the back of the library for a work room. Room will be used by librarian and assistants only. Any remodeling will be at the expense of the library board.

Board voted to adopt the Michigan BOCA State Construction Code Act. Along with this the necessary construction ordinance 1-B will be adopted taking effect after it is published.

James Wilson, chairman of the Township Zoning Board, discussed the plan for joining the Regional II Planning Commission. Board approved joining for one year.

A request was read from the Community Action Center, Adrian, for a contribution of five percent of the township revenue sharing funds, which was denied by board vote.

The supervisor, clerk and treasurer plan to attend the Michigan Township Association meeting at Lansing, Oct. 10.

Charles Wilson presented building permit requests totaling $35,600, which were approved.

Clinton C.C. Wins Third

The Clinton cross country squad raced to its third straight victory by beating Morenci 17-46 on Wednesday of last week. Later the thin clads participated - along with nine other teams - in the Fayette, Ohio Invitational.

Clinton grabbed a three way tie for first at the Morenci meet with Wally Pike, Jim Scoggins and Jim Mattis crossing the finish line together at 18:14.

Morenci took the fourth spot but it was their only place in the top 10. Clinton's Jim Klanke was 5th at 19:11, Roger LaSovage and Mark Eveleth tied for sixth at 19:52, Chris Wojtowicz was eighth, John Johnston in ninth place, and Craig Hill 10th.

On Saturday, Clinton's thin clads traveled to The Fayette, Ohio Invitational finishing 6th out of 10 teams. Clinton was only one of two teams to place more than one runner in the top ten as Jim Mattis finished 9th and Jim Scoggins 10th. Both received medals for their efforts.

Mattis' time was 14:24 and Scoggins 14:25 for the 2½ mile course. Wally Pike ran a good race and picked up a ribbon for a 14th place finish at 14:44.

Finishing out the scoring was Roger LaSovage 49th and Mark Eveleth 50th. Jim Klanke was 53rd and John Johnston 60th. Chris Wojtowicz finished 34th in a special JV run. Ayersville, Ohio won the meet.

Biography for Bicentennial

Mrs. James Hedley, of 9366 Newburg Ct., learned Oct. 5 that her biography will appear in the bicentennial memorial edition of "Community Leaders and Noteworthy Americans." Nominations for this honor are given by public officials, colleges and universities, and by professional, business and civic organizations.

Mrs. Hedley received the Thanks Badge from the Girl Scouts in May of this year, the highest award given by the Scouts. She has been active in the Girl Scouts as a leader, neighborhood chairman and in many other capacities. She also recently received an award as one of the "Outstanding Young Women of America."

She is currently chairman of the education commission of St. Elizabeth's parish and teaches in the religious education program of the parish. She is a Girl Scout trainer for the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council and troop leader for Troop 93.

Mrs. Hedley is a member of St. Elizabeth's Rosary Altar Society, Herrick Hospital Auxiliary, AAUW, Michigan Science Teachers association, Wheeling College Alumni association, Siena Heights College Alumni association, is a parent-volunteer at Patterson Elementary School and also works as a substitute teacher in the Lenawee Intermediate School District.

Mikell Lynn and husband Jim have four children. The Hedleys moved to Tecumseh from Toledo in 1968.

Historical Society Meets

The Historical Society of Michigan will hold its 100th annual meeting Oct. 17-19 at the University of Michigan's recently dedicated Bentley Historical Library.

The Society was founded in 1828 by Lewis Cass and Henry Rowe Schoolcraft and has played an important role in the preservation of links to Michigan's past. It is committed to the cause of historic preservation and works with local, state and national groups toward that goal.

The annual meeting will bring together representatives of local historical groups throughout the state and provide them with information on historical projects and activities. Highlight of the meeting will be a tour of Ann Arbor's historic locales and architecture and visits to U-M historical libraries.

A special comemorative program is being prepared for the meeting and is available to those desiring more information. Further information may be obtained from the U-M Extension Service, Department of Conferences and Institutes, 350 South Thayer, Ann Arbor 48104, or by calling (313) 764-5304.

Jayteens A Jaycee Program

Tecumseh Jaycees have announced the formation of a Jayteen program for the teenagers of Tecumseh. The Jayteen program basically follows the philosophy of the Jaycee organization which is leadership development through community service.

The Jayteens are not part of the Jaycees organization proper, rather the programs and activities of the Jayteens are planned and implemented by the youth with assistance of the Jaycees where needed.

Tentative approval has been received for use of the Pit for meetings and the Community Center for activities.

Two Jayteen programs are planned, one for Junior High students and one for Senior High students.

Any interested student may call Gary Ferow at 423-2971 for further information.

Safety Stressed For Hunters

With the advent of the fall hunting season, Michigan hunters should remember gun safety is an important element in ensuring the success of trips afield.

The MSU Extension education service offers the following tips for a safe outing:

1) Never carry a loaded gun into a home or camp.

2) Never climb or crawl through a fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun.

3) Keep the barrel and action of your gun free of obstructions.

4) Carry your gun with the muzzle pointed in a safe direction at all times.

5) Always know what you're aiming at before you shoot.

6) Keep the safety on until you're ready to pull the trigger.

7) Always unload your gun before leaving it unattended.

8) Never fire at the surface of water or at flat, hard objects that could cause bullets to ricochet.

9) Know where your hunting companions are at all times when in the field.

10) Use only the right size shells in your gun; a small shell could clog the barrel and cause an explosion.

Good gun training for youngsters has been available for years through the 4-H, Boy and Girl Scout programs, the YMCA and other organizations, noted the MSU bulletin.

The State of Michigan now requires mandatory gun training for youngsters aged 12 through 16 who want to buy a hunting license. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources provides appropriate training through its local conservation officers. Readers may check local sportsmen's clubs and the Lenawee County Extension office for other available programs.

4-H Meet For Mall Day Planing

AT LAST, SOMETHING TO IDENTIFY

Warblers are always trouble for me. They are so tiny, so hyperkinetic, so fond of tree tops, and so many are so similarly colored that I find it nearly impossible to give them their proper names.

Spring warblers are easier than the fall ones. When winging their way northward they are at least dressed in brilliant courting finery and they arrive before the leaves are full size. Not much help but a little. At this time of year, however, the birds have donned dull winter garb and the tree leaves are so big that they make ideal hiding spots. And these characters are all experts at showing themselves briefly, then diving for cover. As for the grays, tans, and washed-out yellows they all wear—well Peterson's Field Guide even goes so far as to have color plates labeled "Confusing Fall Warblers"!

Confusing they are. Every year I tell myself not to worry about identification, merely enjoy the darting and frolicking of the tiny birds. I have myself almost convinced. But then the invasion begins and my curiosity is off and running. It happened again this fall, I was all right until the trees in my west facing window picture suddenly became alive with little nondescript birds.

Mom and Gerti T. manned the binoculars while I tried to match their nondescription with pictures in the books. Precious few matches. Myrtle warblers, dull yellow patches on their rumps and good field marks—all others are listed on my bird calendar merely as warblers. Had room permitted I would have said confusing fall warblers.

Then came the day when there were fewer little birds and, although it almost seemed impossible, they were smaller and more active then the warblers. Their fat bodied silhouettes were different too. Kinglets! And with them was a trio of birds with larger and rounder heads. Chickadees. My, how good it was to see something and be able to put a name to it.

Several days later the trees were full of new birds and these were even easier than the kinglets and chickadees. Not that they were easy but the trials and troubles of that identification is a story for another time. The newcomers Mom and I recognized at a glance. Smaller than robins, they had little head crests, black eyemasks, and a bright yellow band across the end of their tails. Cedar waxwings.

As we sipped the mid-morning cups of tea the waxwings hustled and bustled through the mulberry trees. It was not a particularly large flock so, we figured that perhaps it was a scouting unit.

There is no firm evidence that these birds send scouts out from the main group to check on the progress of fall ripening fruit. It just often seems as though this happens. I have lost track of how many times the neighborhood has been thoroughly checked out by a few waxwings and then a week or so later we are invaded by a large army. It is far all the world as though the reconnoitering unit had reported back that such and such a fruit bush or tree will be at the peak of eating perfection in a certain number of days.

There were, of course, no berries left in the mulberry trees but there was certainly something in them that attracted and held the birds' attention on this particular morning. Finally whatever they were doing was finished and off they flew. Fortunately they did not fly far. Only as far as the clump of barberry bushes by the driveway. I used to be able to call this a large clump but some weeks ago a rather severe pruning job was done. Barberry bushes will grow quite tall and Mom and Dad have this strange thing about being able to see when they back out of the drive. Well, the bushes are now down to a safe height and there are still plenty of berry bearing branches left for the birds.

Either the fruit was not quite ripe or the birds were not hungry. Or perhaps they truly were on a scouting mission. Whatever the reason, the lovely waxwings' visit to the bushes was much too short. Late last Sunday afternoon the bushes had other visitors. And they were not in any hurry at all. None of this gulping a berry and immediately flying away.

A large flock of robins descended and my oh my, what a time they had feasting. The clump was alive with birds. There were so many that we could not even begin to count. It was just fun to watch them gobble the bright red berries. This must have been a late flock of migrators and from their actions, we decided that flying southward must be a hungry business.

So it is that we had all sorts of problems with the warblers but lately the freeloaders have been more obliging and how nice it is to have, at least, something to identify.

New President Elected at Croswell

Milton Schoch, a well respected and active member of the Croswell Opera House, has been elected President of the Croswell Players Board of Directors. Milton is a 10 year resident of Sand Creek and is Director of Safety and Training at Stauffer Chemical Co., Sutton Road.

Helping him with the officers' duties of the players are Ann Paullin, vice-president; Dan Sneed, business manager; and Marcia Harrington, secretary.

Next production of the Croswell Players will be Woody Allen's "Play It Again, Sam" directed by James Ochs on Nov. 29, 30 and Dec. 1. Tryouts for "Play It Again, Sam" will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 16 and 17 at 8 p.m. at the Croswell Opera House in Adrian.

Local Rotarians To Hear Speaker

Local Rotarians will welcome next Tuesday evening, the new governor of Rotary District 640, Dr. Robert Max Stewart of Livonia.

He will address the Rotary Club of Tecumseh, one of 44 in this district, and will confer with Les Proctor, president of the local Rotary club, and with other club officials concerning the organization's plans for service activities.

The Club meets at St. Peters Episcopal Church.

Dr. Stewart is one of 344 Rotary governors throughout representatives of Rotary International in districts composed of member clubs. Each district governor is responsible for supervising the clubs in his area. Rotary, an international service organization, has more than 750,000 members in more than 15,000 clubs in 150 plus countries.

A member and past president of the Livonia Rotary Club, Dr. Stewart is an obstetrician and gynecologist in Livonia. He was elected to his Rotary office at the international convention in Minneapolis - St. Paul in June and will serve until June 30, 1975.

A seasoned Rotarian before his election of the governorship of District 640, Dr. Stewart attended an international assembly last May in Lake Placid, New York, at which all Rotary Governors for 1974-75 attended in-depth seminars to prepare for their jobs. One of his biggest jobs concerned a conference of all Rotary club presidents and vice-presidents in the district at St. Clair on September 27 and 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Proctor attended this conference.

National 4-H Week

National 4-H Week, to be observed Oct. 6-12 this year, will honor one of the country's outstanding youth guidance and leadership organizations. The theme is "4-H — We Can Make It Happen." Involved in the 4-H programs are 500,000 adult and teen-age volunteer leaders and 5 million members, ranging in age from nine to 15.

The programs cover a wide range of skills and knowledge essential to successful living — including individual and family resource management; animals and poultry; energy, machines and equipment; health, personal development and relationships.

The training and experiences in 4-H programs have proven to be a rich source of satisfaction and help to the more then 33 million "graduates" in building their adult lives. During its special week in October, and throughout the year, 4-H deserves the support and cooperation of every American. It is helping to build the human resources that represent the nation's future.

Story Hour To Begin

Preschool story hour will begin at Tecumseh Public Library on Wednesday, Oct. 16 at 1:30 p.m. Story hour will be held at that time each Wednesday through April and will last about half an hour. Marie Mason, children's librarian, plans stories, movies, finger plays, and other activities to entertaan young children of the Tecumseh school district. Any preschooler or morning kindergarten is welcome to join the fun.

On Oct. 16 Mrs. Mason will begin the season with a story called "Peter's Pocket."

Leaf Problem

Cal Zorn, city manager, reported to Council that the city is still having problems in the delivery of the leaf bags.

Delivery is promised for November, too late for the leaf collecting season.

Residents are asked to put their leaves in boxes or bags that are available to aid the city in pickups which will be made before Oct. 31.

Goodtimers Explore Museum

Fifteen Goodtimers from the First Baptist Church of Tecumseh explored the grounds of Greenfield Village and the Ford Museum in Dearborn Oct. 3. Mrs. Kenneth Boyd was the leader of the group.

Future plans include a visit to a cider mill in November. All senior citizens in the church are welcome to join the group.

Car Smash

Tecumseh Jaycees began sales of household products, made by the blind, with a car smash Oct. 5. Throughout October the Jaycees will go door to door in an effort to sell such items as brooms, dish cloths and towels, pot holders and mitts, and ironing board pads and covers.

For further information concerning prices, pick-up or delivery, call Ken Beevers at 423-4549 any evening before 9 p.m. Proceeds of this sale will be spent in payment for the little league bleachers that have been installed at Nelson Field.

Business Meeting Held

VFW Auxiliary to the Hall-Slater Post No. 4187 held its October business meeting Oct. 2 at the Post home. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Walter Mueller.

Mrs. Eugene Froelich reported that 90 patients attended the Bingo party held at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor Sept. 18. The party was co-sponsored with the Post, and those who helped included Mr. and Mrs. Froelich, Donald Froelich, Mr. and Mrs. Harlon Boyes, Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson, Mrs. Harry Webb and son Matthew, Ronald Hall, Norman Sisty, Mrs. Walter Mueller, Mrs. Lowell Wise and Mrs. Adelene MacKenzie.

Sixth District meeting held Sept. 22 in Petersburg was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Sisty, Mrs. Wise and Mrs. MacKenzie.

Coming events include the Pow Wow in Escanabe Oct. 11-13, and the Past Commanders and Past Presidents dinner for the Sixth District to be held in Lansing Nov. 9.

VFW Auxiliary will hold its next meeting Oct. 16 at 8 p.m. in the Post home.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

Now that American involvement in the Vietnam War has ended, many people no longer pay much attention to American servicemen who are serving in the United States and who often walk away empty handed from mail call. Joy E. Hawkins of Clinton is a member of Operation Mail Call, the only free mail program for American military representatives here in the United States. The organization endeavors to remember each and every serviceman, especially at holiday times.

Although Christmas is quite a few shopping days away, it is not too soon to begin thinking about Christmas packages for servicemen or others who are some distance away. There is an art to packing perishable foods and other stuffs so that the contents arrive bearing some resemblance to their original state. Stiff or crisp cookies are obviously not the best items to include in mail packages. Foods should be wrapped securely with plastic wrap or foil and tucked inside of a tin if possible. The latest potato chip tins, in which cookies may be stacked on top of one another, might prove successful.

Unsalted, popped popcorn has been used successfully to stuff nooks and crannies in boxes so that foods don't slide around and crumble. The popcorn acts as a buffer, as do styrofoam bits or similar packing materials which are often found in packing cartons.

Ms. Hawkins mentioned that popcorn balls freeze quite successfully and that her serviceman's box will include a few after she makes them about the first week of November. Fudge brownies with nuts are a good bet to arrive intact and fairly fresh. This week our featured recipe is for Ms. Hawkins' Magic Cookie Bar which she says is the best recipe she can come up with to stay moist during shipping.

MAGIC COOKIE BARS

½ cup (1 stick butter, melted
1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
1 cup walnuts chopped coarsely
1 cup chocolate morsels
1 1/3 cup flaked coconut (3½ oz. can)
1 1/3 cup (15 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk.

Pour melted butter onto the bottom of a 13x9 x2 inch pan. Sprinkle crumbs evenly over melted butter. Sprinkle chopped nuts evenly over crumbs. Scatter chocolate morsels over nuts. Sprinkle coconut evenly over chocolate pieces. Pour sweetened condensed milk evenly over coconut. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes or until lightly browned on top. Cool in pan for about 15 minutes then cut into bars.

Town and Country Garden Club Meets

The "Art of Pruning" was presented to the Town and Country Garden Club at their October meeting. Using discussion and demonstration techniques, Jack Wikle of Hidden Lake Gardens presented a program that told why pruning is necessary, when it is required, and how it is actually done. Members brought pictures and asked questions about shrubs used in their own landscapings which Wikle answered.

Mrs. William Croft was hostess. Dessert was served by co-hostess Mrs. Robert Marvar. An arrangement created by Mrs. Dale Koopman with the theme "Halloween Harvest," decorated the table.

November's meeting will feature a dried arrangement workshop conducted by Mrs. Gary Fox of The Grey Fox Floral. Hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Dennis Bowman with Mrs. Fred Birdsall, co-hostess.

This Financial report has been audited by the accounting firm of Gross & Ludwig CPA, Adrian, Michigan.

Prepared and submitted by:

H. Eugene Cooley,
Assistant Superintendent of Schools

During the period covered by this report, July 1, 1973 through June 30, 1974, a total of 3652 full-time pupils were enrolled. There was one non-resident pupil enrolled full time during the school year. To serve these pupils the district employed a staff of 158.5 teachers. In addition the district employed an additional 11 staff members holding valid teaching certificates. The total amount paid for student instruction was $2,587,476.00. The number of full time equated certificated employed totaled 165.5. The ratio of 3652 pupils to employees holding a valid Michigan Teaching Certificate was 21.5 during the 1973-74 school year. The actual pupil-teacher ratio was 1 to 24.5.

Minimum and Maximum Teachers

Miminum and maximum teachers salaries were as follows:

DEGREE	MINIMUM	MAXIMUM
Bachelor of Arts	$8,627.00	$14,053.00
Master of Arts	9,511.00	15,494.00
MA plus 15 semester hours	9,987.00	16,269.00
Specialist Degree	10,486.00	17,082.00

The district operates 144 classrooms in eight buildings during the school year.

To the best of my knowledge and belief this report accurately reflects the financial status of the Tecumseh Public School District for the fiscal year 1973-74, rule 340, 351 of the General School Laws and the State Board of Education.

As an independent agent we answer to one boss — our hometown people

We represent several firms, but we work for only one boss — you. That way we can always place you with a company which we think is best for each line of insurance you need. Naturally, we prefer companies like Auto-Owners who look at a loss and take care of it right away, without haggling or delays. That's one of the reasons we're part of the Altogether Family. Like us, they're always there when you need them.

For all you readers who think old Jack Frost is responsible for "painting" the autumn leaves, have I got news for you!

According to a friend of mine who teaches junior high science and refers to himself as "the local Ewell Gibbons," those gorgeous hues are always present but are masked by large amounts of chlorophyl trees produce during warm months. As the season ends, cool temperatures trigger trees' natural instinct to produce less of the green stuff, thus allowing the natural colors indigenous to each tree to emerge.

Interesting, no? Perhaps this knowledge will help some of us answer less ambiguously the small fry's seasonal interrogation.

A square dance will be sponsored by the Macon Historical Society Saturday, Oct. 19, at the Cow Palace on Ridge Highway. Time is 8 p.m. There is an admission for adults and children 12 and under are admitted free. Elwood Bush will be the caller. Here is a good opportunity for us in Macon to get some more wear out of our Sesquicentennial garb.

Before the square dance, you can treat yourself to supper out. After Macon United Methodist Church's bazaar, which begins at 2:30 p.m. on Oct. 19, a dinner will be served at 6 p.m. There is an admission.

No-Fault Policy Brush Up Meeting

How much do you know about your no-fault insurance policy? The Cooperative Extension Service is sponsoring a special session to help you brush up on no-fault Oct. 15 at 7:30 at Lenawee Vo-Tech.

Susan Lambrecht, Extension home economist, will help participants answer questions like: What happens if the other guy caused the accident? What happens when I drive outside Michigan? What are some of my options under no-fault? and many others.

There is no charge to attend the meeting and it is open to all interested Lenawee County residents; information is available by calling 265-5108.

Donations Welcomed By Cancer Society

President Gerald Ford has requested that the public make contributions to the American Cancer Society rather than send gifts to Mrs. Ford, after her surgery for breast cancer Sept. 28. Physicians and surgeons are optimistic about Mrs. Ford's condition after the mastectomy.

The Lenawee County unit of the American Society is the local recipient of funds for the Society's programs of research, education, and service to local cancer patients. Gifts and memorials may be mailed to the Lenawee County Unit at 204 North Broad St., Adrian. Please include donor's name and address. Gifts will be acknowledged.

President Ford was co-chairman of the first American Cancer Society Crusade in Kent county, Michigan. He and co-chairman Frank Neuman raised $40,000 in 1940. Both men lived in Grand Rapids at the time.

Drop In Center Hosts Candidates

"Your Vote is Important", a program planned to provide an opportunity to meet local candidates and discuss the issues will be presented by the Community Drop In Center Oct. 15 at 9:30 a.m. at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Present to speak on the issues will be Mrs. Fay Whelan (District 6), Mrs. Nancy Nichols (District 6), Mrs. Martin Halley (District 5) representing their candidate husbands and Joe Conklin (District 5) and William Mackey (District 10), who is unopposed.

Each candidate will discuss the duties of a county commissioner, what he has accomplished in the past, and what he hopes to achieve in the future. A rap session and a question and answer period will follow the program.

The special interest group will meet at 10:30 a.m. to discuss "The Pre-School Age Child—What Are Your Concerns?"

Mrs. Cheri Weakly is program chairman for Oct. 15, and Mrs. Jan Ruhl, co-chairman. Hostesses are Mrs. Clara Stevens, Mrs. Donna Abraham, and Mrs. Phyllis Johnson.

Smoking Withdrawal Clinic

Smoking Withdrawal Clinics are being offered for Lenawee County residents and are co-sponsored by the American Cancer Society and Emma L. Bixby Hospital.

First group will begin Oct. 23 at 10 a.m. and run for four consecutive weeks, with sessions lasting one hour. Second group will begin Oct. 29 at 4 p.m. and run for four weeks. Clinics will be held in the Bixby Hospital auditorium.

Program emphasizes participants learn about the process of "how to" quit smoking.

Readers may register by calling the American Cancer Society at 263-2317. Groups are limited to 25. Other groups may be set up at a later date depending on demand and an evening group is also in the planning for after Christmas.

Approximately 20 Bixby Hospital employees are presently enrolled in a smoking withdrawal clinic especially set up for its staff.

Clinic is free, but donations, to help defray costs, can be made.

Public Hearing for Opinions

A public hearing to seek public opinion on proposed rules to implement the Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act will be held Oct. 14 from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Adrian city commission chambers.

As explained by Rep. John S. Mowat, Jr., the rules set forth the requirements for all persons interested in making application under the provisions of the Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act. Rules also set requirements for local government.

Written statements on the rules will be accepted through Oct. 31, at the Office of Land Use, Stevens T. Mason Bldg., Lansing, 48926.

CITY OF TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN 1824 1974 SESQUICENTENNIAL

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

SERVING TECUMSEH AND AREA SINCE 1850

VOL. 124 OUR 125th YEAR—NO. 5 THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1974 SIXTEEN PAGES—20c

BEGIN CAMPAIGN—Attending Tuesday's kick-off breakfast at the Tecumseh Country Club for the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation were these division heads and drive officials Marvin Grigg, Faraday; Gene Cooley, school personnel; Cal Zorn, public employees; Robert Kennedy, Tecumseh Products employees; Lewis Potts, postal workers; Ed Walters, representing Fisher Body, and Les Proctor, co-chairman of the commercial division. Frank Bock, overall industrial chairman; Bill Danley, professional chairman, and Dave Criss, co-chairman of the commercial division were absent.

Foundation Drive Starts for $76,316

The Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation kicked off its 1974-75 fund raising drive with a meeting of the board, division chairmen and drive co-chairmen Tuesday morning at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Co-chairman Barbara Blanden began the kick-off with opening remarks and introduced guest speakers Merlyn Downing and Earl Mason.

Downing noted the organization's 15 years of service to charities and capital improvements in the city in his remarks about the history of the Tecumseh Community Fund.

Mason, president of the board, stressed the Fund's accomplishments since 1959, which include the library, Community Center, tennis courts and park. He remarked that only two or three percent of Community Fund monies are spent on overhead expenses, with the remainder distributed between member charities (40 percent), capital improvements in Tecumseh (43 percent) and local services (15 percent), such as the Recreation Department.

Mrs. Blanden challenged the participating chairmen to achieve this year's goal of $76,316 at the conclusion of the meeting.

She announced that the former practice of residential solicitation will be replaced this year with a community mailing of pledge cards, and stressed that Community Fund contributions serve all the people of Tecumseh, either through capital improvements, such as new lighting for the softball field, or through support of state and national charities, such as the Heart Association.

Residents are reminded that all Community Fund contributions are tax exempt. It was also mentioned at the meeting that non-Tecumseh residents who are employed in the city may designate on their pledge cards where they want their contributions directed, as the Fund operates cooperatively with other localities.

Safe Job Nets $500

A professional-type job on a safe at R.S. Moore Lumber Company resulted in a loss of nearly $500 last Thursday for the company.

An acetelyne torch was used to cut out the locking mechanism of a large, office safe, allowing the door to swing open.

Entry to the building was gained by forcing open a rear sliding door. Torch used in cutting through the safe was brought in; however, company tools also were used in the robbery.

Exact loss was $495.15 in cash. A scanner-type radio also was taken but was recovered later behind Long Motor Sales. It was not damaged.

In another breaking and entering, the loss amounted to just two keys taken from the office of the Rev. Laszlo Gero at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

The pastor, who had been out of town, did not discover the break-in until last Wednesday. This B&E is believed to have occurred the same day when St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Osburn Real Estate and Insurance and Eva's Beauty Bar were broken into.

In these B&Es, a screw driver was used to force entry.

At Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, keys were taken from the minister's office which was also ransacked, a door knob was broken off to the janitor's room and the sacristy was entered.

OPEN SAFE—An acetelyne torch was used last week in cutting a hole into the office safe at Moore Lumber - and stealing nearly $500 in cash. Wally MacGeorge checks the professional job that enabled the robbers to cut out the locking mechanism and swing open the door. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Girl, 15, Hit on Bicycle

All accidents the past week were minor, although a bicyclist suffered minor injuries in a mishap that occurred in a city parking lot at Lenawee Glass.

Mary C. Huber, 15, of 515 S. Pearl St., was riding her bike when she and Arland Van McLain, 50, of 109 N. Pearl, collided in front of the Lenawee Glass building in the southwest business block. She suffered a small laceration and bruises.

Other accidents were:

Oct. 9 - Harry F. Beland, 51, of 1104 W. Pottawatamie St., traveling south on S. Maumee St., turned into Paul D. Bidlack, 48, Adrian, who was passing.

Oct. 12 - Kathleen I. Fuhrmann, 17, of 229 Maple St., turned in front of Ronald J. Brodner, 18, of 307 Waskin Dr., at the intersection of W. Chicago and Union.

Oct. 13 - David J. Lanham, 31, of 507 Center Dr., backed into a parked vehicle owned by a Utah corporation. Minor mishap occurred on Center Dr.

Oct. 14 - Alisia Cruz, 26, of 412 Center Dr., stopped for traffic to clear at E. Chicago and Maumee and was struck from behind by Viola M. Bagley, 68, of Coldwater.

Plan Feast at Vo-Tech

The public is welcome to attend, by checking with local elected Republican officials for tickets.

Center Showing Movies Friday

The Tecumseh Jaycees Auxiliary will sponsor a children's matinee this Friday from 1 to 2:15 p.m. at the Community Center. Three movies will be shown and the matinee is geared for children ages 4 through 11. Admissions price will include popcorn.

Tecumseh Doctor Chairing Blood Program at U-M

By Katy Kulczyk

Dr. Nydia Meyers of Tecumseh, member of the University of Michigan School of Medicine, will chair a program entitled "Blood Substitutes," on Oct. 19 during the International Congress on Blood Disorders. The international meeting will be held Oct. 16-19 in Dow Auditorium, Towsley Center for Continuing Medical Education at the University medical center complex, Ann Arbor.

Dr. Meyers is a research doctor in blood disorders in the department of human genetics.

At the conference researchers will discuss all aspects of blood such as anemias, including sickle cell anemia, lukemia, blood substitutes and blood storage. They will exchange ideas on advances in experimental medicine and biology to speed research.

Dr. Meyers explained that blood substitutes, a group of chemicals that successfully moved oxygen and removed carbon dioxide, is a new concept in blood study.

as a substitute for red blood cells.

These materials may be used in two ways: 1) as an actual breathing medium or 2) as an substitute for red blood cells.

The most successfully used materials have been the perfluoro compounds which can be breathed by animals submerged in them. In emulsion form, these carbon fluorine compounds are dispersed as tiny particles in water by emulsifying agents.

These blood substitutes look more like milk than blood and move through the test animals like blood. This aspect has probably the greatest potential in medicine. Clinical research should be the next step, says Dr. Meyers.

A host of possibilities exist for blood substitutes. They store easily and are low cost. They do not need blood typing and can be used in heart and lung machines as primers.

Another advantage of blood substitutes is that they are free from contamination such as serum hepatitis.

Blood substitutes can be used to keep organs such as a kidney, alive, before transplanting. Isolated hearts and brains can be kept alive in these fluids.

Blood substitutes would ease the search for blood donors and storage methods

THS Girls Too Good for Adrian, Win 51-43

Coach Diane Nelson's varsity basketball team proved Monday night that her Indians are the class of the area.

With some 400 fans looking on and facing their biggest test of the season, Tecumseh knocked a visiting Adrian team from the undefeated ranks and did it rather impressively. Final score of 51-43 is misleading.

Although at a decided heighth disadvantage, the quicker Indians raced to a 20-8 lead at the end of the first quarter, stretched the 12-point margin to 17 at halftime, leading 32-15.

Midway through the third period, the local girls were coasting along with a 21-point lead. The lid closed on the Indians' basket late in the quarter with shot after shot, in and out, but not falling through. Tecumseh boosted its lead, however, holding a 40-21 entering the final period.

A fourth-quarter surge by Adrian fell far short, although the visitors ran up 22 points to Tecumseh's 11.

Leading the varsity were Susie Brown and Julie Murphy with 18 points each. Julie Anderson hit for 5, Janice Stevens 4, Linda Ternak 3, Connie Younglove 2, and Jane Faulkner 1.

Tecumseh hosts Grosse Ile here next Wednesday night with the Jayvees scheduled to start at 6:30, and the varsity about 8:00. Coach Nelson's team, 5-0 overall, is 2-0 in the league.

Prior to the varsity game Monday evening, the Jayvees also continued their winning ways with an easy 27-11 victory over their Adrian counterparts. They're 5-0.

Chris Underwood led the Tecumseh scorers with 10 points. Grace Brown had 9, Debbie Steadly 4, and Tori Ifland 4.

ALL TECUMSEH—Susie Brown hits for two here against Adrian Monday night and shows why the Indians knocked the visitors from the undefeated ranks, 51-43. Julie Murphy and Susie led the Indians with 18 points each.

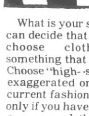
Style Sense by Evel



What is your style? Only you can decide that. But when you choose clothes, choose something that fits your style. Choose "high-style" clothes - exaggerated or way ahead of current fashion in your area - only if you have a fine figure, a generous clothes allowance, and expect your clothes to be noticed and discussed. On the other hand, remember that understatement in clothing can become dull and monotonous.

Wigs that are not machine made are hand tied. This means that each group of hair is pulled through and secured by hand, and also means that the wig is likely to be quite expensive. If you are interested in a hand tied wig, be sure to invest in one that has even coverage of hair throughout. Clumps of hair are a sure giveway that what you have on your head if not quite real. The same holds true, of course, for the less expensive machine made wigs.

Open House at Patterson

An open house at Patterson School will be held Tuesday beginning at 7 p.m.

Parents will have their first opportunity to meet with Cynthia S. Opelt, the new school principal, as well as being able to introduce themselves to their children's teachers as they visit the individual rooms, gym and library.

Plans call for an informal program led by Mrs. Opelt, for the room visitation, and for the opportunity to express personal opinions on some organization of Patterson parents.

Doctor Chairing Blood Program

and conserve blood resources, Dr. Meyers observed.

"Since whole blood is outdated in 30 days unless it is separated, blood giving is a great waste of human resources. Blood preservation is also a costly drain on society and doctors," she added.

Dr. Meyers first became interested in the subject of blood substitutes in conjunction with her research with sickle cell anemia for which there is now no cure.

Sickle cell anemia is a genetically inherited disease, common to people from the Mediterranean countries. Here in the United States, Dr. Meyers explained, it is encountered among black people because they are the largest number of people from that area in this country.

Genetically inherited, the disease gets its name from the sickle shape of the blood cells. One amino acid in the protein of the hemoglobin is set in a different position than the other 21, almost like a ladder with a misplaced rung.

The cell carries less oxygen, is less flexible and fractures easily in the capillaries from the extra pressure the heart uses to circulate oxygen carrying blood. Victims die of the side effects such as an enlarged heart and hypertension.

There is also a demand on the body to make large numbers of new cells which do not carry oxygen. Blood transfusions have been used for temporary therapy. Exposure to oxygen in hyperbaric chambers has also been tried.

But normal blood cells only live three months and the new cells do not carry oxygen and can become sickle cells under stress conditions.

Individuals with sickle cells have shorter life spans. When the disease is inherited from both parents, the chances of survival beyond infancy is not as great as when the disease is inherited from only one parent. Individuals with sickle cell are also more subject to infections.

As one preventive step, genetic counseling is available at the University Hospital for couples interested.

Perhaps certain perfluoro carbon emulsions will help sickle cell patients to obtain the oxygen they so badly need, suggested Dr. Meyers.

Dr. Meyers told that most of the patients she sees are between the ages of 15 and 20.

"Everyone benefits from sickle cell research because new aspects of normal blood are now discovered that were not previously known," said Dr. Meyers.

Dr. Meyers has been engaged in sickle cell research for little over a year now in the Department of Human Genetics.

She has also done teaching and industrial laboratory research. She was selected as one of 100 people to attend the April Conference on Artificial Blood, sponsored by the Blood Resource Branch of the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Maryland.

Dr. Meyers holds a BS degree in chemistry from the University of Michigan, a masters degree from Cornell University and a Ph. D. in organic and bio-chemistry from Stanford University in California.

State OK' Program

CLINTON — Clinton Community School Superintendent Richard Wegner reported to the school board Monday night that the pre-primary home school program was approved by the state department of education.

Local program will begin as soon as one full time certified person, one para-professional and one part-time secretary are hired for the program.

Interviewing will be done within the staff and outside.

A room at the middle school has been selected but it must be made self-contained, including toilet facilities.

Program is established through federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) Title II.

Paying Cash for Vehicle

CLINTON — Instead of financing a new 36 passenger bus over a period of five years, Clinton School Board decided Monday night to pay for the bus and avoid paying high interest.

In other continuing business, the board tabled action on purchase of new stage curtains for the middle school since all bids were not received.

Interviewing for Custodian

CLINTON — Interviews are under way to hire a school custodian under the comprehensive employment training act (CETA) for Clinton Community Schools. A secretary has already been selected.

Employees are selected from ranks of Lenawee County unemployed by Vo-Tech interviewers.

$200,000 Loan

CLINTON — Clinton School Board adopted a resolution to borrow $200,000 against state aid for operational expenses for a six month period. Loan must now be approved by the state department of education.

Chapter Hosts

District Convention of Royal Neighbors of America will be Oct. 17 at the IOOF Hall on Green Hwy.

Convention is hosted by the local chapter.

J. RICHARD STEFFENS

CLINTON — John Richard Steffens, 65, of 206 E. Church St., Clinton, died at 10:29 a.m. Sat., Oct. 12, in Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been admitted last Wednesday. Steffens had taken sick three and a half weeks ago while on a trip in the east.

Born July 25, 1909 in Clinton, he was the son of Louis R. and Clara (Koernig) Steffens. He graduated from Clinton High School in 1927 and as a pharmacist in 1932 from Ferris Institute in Big Rapids. He married Almeda Lathrop Jan. 13, 1940 in Angola, Ind. and she survives.

For 34 years Steffens owned and operated Steffens Drug in Clinton. He was a member of the United Church of Christ, past president of the Lenawee Pharmaceutical Assoc., and a member of the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Assoc. He had been active in the Chamber of Commerce and in local affairs.

In addition to his wife, Steffens is survived by one son, John D. Steffens, at home; one sister, Mrs. Helen Jedele of Ann Arbor; and two brothers, Russell of St. Johns and Max of Clinton.

He was preceded in death by his parents and one sister, Beulah.

Services were held Tuesday in the United Church of Christ, Clinton, with the Rev. Earl Lawrence officiating. Burial followed in Riverside Cemetery, Clinton. Memorial contributions may be made to the Heart Fund.

FLOYD E. COOPER

Floyd E. Cooper, 47, of 19630 Cone Road, Milan Twp., died 9:45 p.m. Sunday in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. He had been in ill health for two years.

He had lived at the Cone Road address for thirty years.

Born Oct. 14, 1926 in Unicoi, Tenn., he married Florence Garland Feb. 21, 1953, who survives.

He was a machine operator at the General Motors Hydromatic Plant in Ypsilanti, and was a member of U.A.W. Local 735 of Ypsilanti.

Surving besides his wife are three sons, Charles, Jeffery and Mark, all at home; three daughters, Mrs. Mark (Sandra) Ware of Varcalla, Calif.; Joyce and Linda, both at home; one grandson; his mother, Mrs. Netta Cooper of Unicoi, Tenn.; one brother, John of Decatur, Ala.; and two sisters, Mrs. Mario (Pauline) Sordino of St. Clair Shores, and Mrs. Homer (Ruth) Wynn of Livonia.

He was preceded in death by one sister.

Services were held Wednesday at the Niblack Home for Funerals in Britton, with the Rev. James Stephenson of the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene officiating. Burial followed in Rice Cemetery, Milan.

WELDON J. BOURDIC

Weldon J. Bourdic, 40, of Onsted, died early Monday morning as a result of a two car collision at Case Road and US-12.

Born March 16, 1934 in Detroit, he was the son of Jack P. and Agnes M. (Hamilton) Bourdic. He formerly lived in St. Clair Shores. He married the former Patricia D. Bisby Aug. 3, 1959 in Mt. Clemens, and she survives.

Bourdic had been employed as an electrician for the Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn for 12 years. He was a member of St. Michael's Episcopal Church in Cambridge Junction.

Survivors in addition to his wife, include two daughters, Kelly and Sloane, and one son, Weldon Jr., all at home; and one brother, Gordon, of New Baltimore.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Services will be today at 1:30 p.m. at St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Cambridge Junction, with the Rev. Reginald Angus officiating. Burial will follow in Cambridge Twp. Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Proctor Funeral Home in Tecumseh.

Services were held Tuesday in the Purse Funeral Home for Donald L. Cook, 57, of Tipton who died at 8:35 p.m. Saturday in Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been admitted earlier that day.

Born April 22, 1917 in Tipton, he was the son of John and Myrtie Cook. Cook was a lifelong resident of Tipton where he engaged in farming. He was a member of the Tipton Knights of Pythias and was their recording secretary.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Myrtie Cook, one sister, Mrs. Charles (Dorothy) Lembrick of Britton, and two brothers, Dale and Dean Cook, both of Tipton, three nephews and four nieces.

He was preceded in death by his father, John, on Oct. 14, 1973.

The Rev. Russell Cooper officiated at the services. Burial was in Tipton Cemetery.

DAVID H. DAMON

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in Blissfield for David Hall Damon, 26, who died suddenly Friday afternoon while visiting at Marquette.

He was the son of Cal and Helen Damon, owners of Cal's Tog Shop in Tecumseh.

At the time of his death he worked at a book store in Ann Arbor and resided at 11738 Sandy Bottom Lake Drive, South Lyons.

David was born July 9, 1948 in Toledo, the son of Calvin and Helen Marie Hall Damon. He attended grade school in Blissfield before the family moved to Tecumseh, about 15 years ago.

He was a 1967 graduate of Tecumseh High School, attended Northern Michigan University, and served in the United States Army. In high school, he played in the cadet and varsity bands, freshman football, freshman and junior varsity basketball, and was a member of the Ski Club.

Survivors, besides his parents, are one sister, Mrs. Reid (Diane) Anderson, of Newport Beach, Calif.; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Helen Hall, Blissfield; and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Damon, of Tecumseh.

He was preceded in death by an infant brother, Richard.

The Rev. Laszlo Gero, pastor of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in Tecumseh, officiated at the services, and burial was in Pleasant View Cemetery, Blissfield. Arrangements were by the Tagsold Funeral Home.

HOMEOWNERS CORNER

by Vic Clauda

New interior wood surfaces generally can be cleaned simply by wiping them with a rag soaked in a solvent such as mineral spirits or turpentine. Just wipe. This will remove dust, grease and dirt, and leave the surface of the wood clean enough for painting or other finishing. If oil or wax has been spilled on the surface, it can be removed by repeated solvent washes, followed by immediate wiping with a clean, dry rag. Once clear of all impurities, the wood has been adequately prepared for finishing.

To be sure you are adequately prepared for winter weather, let us at CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, 1108 W. Chicago Blvd., 423-3121 check your heating system. An efficiently operating system saves fuel and money. Should you require service we do duct work for forced heating systems, custom fabrication of sheet metal fittings and sell and install Lennox gas furnaces. Hours: 8 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. daily, until 9 p.m. Friday, until 5 p.m. Saturdays.

HELPFUL HINT: Give the surface of new wood a primer coat before finishing.

Bonita Cook, Robert Merz Marry

Bonita Jean Cook and Robert Alan Merz exchanged wedding vows Oct. 12 before the Rev. Edmond Watkins in the First United Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh. Mrs. Fred Oberlin was organist and Mrs. A.W. Merz was soloist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cook of Adrian and Mrs. and Mrs. Albert W. Merz of 9251 Tonneberger Drive.

On the arm of her father the bride approached the altar wearing a white satin-faced organza gown with chapel length Watteau train, and bodice of Nottingham lace. Venice lace trimmed the train and the cuffs of the bishop sleeves. A headpiece of white daisies and rhinestones topped her veil of net. The bride wore her mother's first birthstone ring and the groom's great grandmother's wedding band. She carried a bouquet of daisies, white miniature roses and baby's breath.

Cheryll Barish of Adrian was maid of honor. She wore a gown flocked with orange and yellow flowers with yellow taffeta lining, lace trim and ruffled hem. She wore a picture hat and carried a wicker basket of daisies and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Janice Ruth Cook of Adrian, sister of the bride, and Mary Garno of Adrian. They wore gowns like that of the maid of honor with orange taffeta linings and picture hats and carried baskets of daisies and baby's breath.

John Thomas Merz of Tecumseh, brother of the groom was best man. Dean Hilton of Adrian and Michael Leon Cook of Adrian, brother of the bride, were ushers.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Fellowship Center of the church. Flower arrangements made by the bride's sister decorated the bride's table. Brenda Milton and Adeline Gillen poured at the reception, Dixie Graham and Mary Thompson cut the cake and Cindy Borton tended the guest book. Wedding cake was made by Mrs. Sally Bostick of Adrian.

Bride is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School. Groom is a 1971 graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Lake Superior State College. He is employed by the U.S. Army at Fort Carson, Col.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the groom at the Tecumseh Country Club.

The wedding trip will take the couple to Colorado Springs, Col. where they will make their residence.

MRS. ROBERT ALAN MERZ

MRS. TIMOTHY L. IRELAN

Monica Hoffman, Timothy Irelan Wed

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the setting for the Oct. 5 wedding of Monica K. Hoffman and Timothy L. Irelan. Msgr. Vincent Howard officiated at the ceremony, which included Mrs. Pat Patten, organist and Jeff Eberts of Ypsilanti, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Hoffman of 504 E. Logan St. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hibbard of 507 Nokomis St.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing a white gown with lace inserts and ruffled elbow length bell sleeves. Lace accented the sleeves and the hem of the gown. Her fingertip veil was fastened by a Juliet cap trimmed in lace. The bride wore a gold locket, a gift of the groom, and carried a cascade of white carnations, white roses and baby's breath.

The bride chose her sister, Marie A. Hoffman of Van Nuys, Calif., as maid of honor. She wore a gown of burnt orange and brown with butterfly sleeves and ruffled hem, and carried a basket of dried flowers in autumn colors accented with wheat and pine cones.

Bridesmaids were Holly Irelan and Jill Hibbard, sisters of the groom from Tecumseh and Lisa Hibbard, sister of the groom, was junior bridesmaid. Trudi Hibbard, sister of the groom, was flower girl. Bridesmaids all wore gowns styled like that of the maid of honor and carried matching flowers, while the flower girl wore an orange dress with tiered sleeves and ruffled hem.

Thomas J. Irelan of Tecumseh, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Tom Horton of Saline, Greg and Jeff Hoffman of Tecumseh, brothers of the bride, and Clement Brinson of New Bern, N.C. Mike and Rich Hoffman, brothers of the bride, lit candles on the altar. James E. Hibbard, brother of the groom, as ring bearer.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Lenawee County Labor Building in Adrian for 400 guests. Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schuetz Jr. and son of Van Nuys, Calif.; cousin of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Brinson and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie DeCamp of New Bern, N.C. Other special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harvey and family of Buffalo, N.Y., cousin of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Norm Harvey of Lorain, Ohio, aunt and uncle of the groom.

Barb Nykodym and Rita Horton poured punch and cut the wedding cake.

Bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at S&H Fleet Supply in Adrian. Groom attended Tecumseh High School and is employed at Tecumseh Auto Sales.

A rehearsal dinner was given Oct. 4 in the VFW Hall by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hibbard.

The couple now reside at 324 Brown St.

MRS. STEPHEN J. DALTON

Shirley Cook, Marries Stephen Dalton

Sunnyside United Methodist Church of Kalamazoo was the scene of the Oct. 12 evening candlelight marriage of Shirley Cook and Stephen J. Dalton. The Rev. Robert Conn officiated in a setting of fall flowers before 150 guests.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Amos Cook of Kalamazoo. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dalton of Tecumseh.

Escorted to the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white polyester with empire styling and a fingertip veil secured by a chapel cap. She carried yellow roses and bronze mums surrounded by baby's breath and oak leaves.

Mrs. Judy Corbit of Garden City was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jeanne de Varona of Lansing and Mrs. Kathy Spencer of Kalamazoo. JoAnne Cook, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. All wore floor length, forest green sheath gowns and carried a single yellow rose.

Mike Kane of Tecumseh was best man. Groomsmen were Scott Dalton of Kalamazoo and Shawn Dalton of Tecumseh, brothers of the groom. Ushers were Amos Cook, brother of the bride and Mike Peters of Haslett. Peter Cook, brother of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Reception was held in the Walnut Room of Nazareth College following the ceremony. The rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the groom at the Whistle Stop in Kalamazoo.

Bride is a graduate of Gull High School. Groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and both are 1973 graduates of Michigan State University.

The couple will make an extended tour of the United States by camper.

Couple Repeat Vows

The marriage of Debora Sue Benedict and Dennis James Shiels was soleminized Oct. 5 in the Congregational Church in Britton. The Rev. Gustav Hannevik officiated at the ceremony, assisted by the groom's uncle, Chaplain Donald Eack of Great Lakes, Ill. Mrs. William Raeburn was organist, Mark Hetrick of Monroe was soloist and Mark's guest accompanied on guitar.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Benedict of Britton. Mr. and Mrs. James Shiels, also of Britton, are the parents of the groom.

Bride approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing an ivory nylon organza gown, with Victorian neckline, long puffed sleeves and chapel train, trimmed with Alencon lace, seed pearls, and lace appliques. A matching veil attached to a Camelot headpiece was trimmed with lace, ruffles and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds, baby's breath, chrysanthemums and trailing ivy.

Debby Pilbeam of Britton was maid of honor. She wore a gown of dark green velvet fashioned with a full hoop skirt and trimmed with ruffles at the neck, sleeves and flounce, with light green satin sash, gloves and satin parasol trimmed with a small bouquet of white flowers.

Bridesmaids were Kim Bruce, cousin of the bride, Sheri Benedict, and Tracy Benedict, sisters of the bride. They also wore velvet gowns like that of the maid of honor. Camelot headpieces of dark green velvet, light green gloves, and parasols trimmed with flowers completed their outfits.

Leslie Benedict, sister of the bride, was flower girl and wore a gown like that of the attendants, with a small parasol. Timmy Benedict, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Best man was Kenneth Wielfaert of Britton. Mark Maschino, Douglas Shiels, brother of the groom, and Terry Benedict, brother of the bride, were ushers. Dan Harriott, cousin of the groom, and Mike Benedict, brother of the bride, served as acolytes and junior ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception for 300 guests was held at the Deme Acres Club House in Petersburg. Mr. and Mrs. William Shiels, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bruce, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Benedict acted as hosts.

Mary Kay Shiels, cousin of the groom, and Wendy Benedict, cousin of the bride, tended the guest book. Mrs. Lynn Harriott and Mrs. Donald Eack, aunts of the groom, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Vincent Miller, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Ronald Mastie, cousin of the bride, presided at the punch bowls. Mrs. Frank Kiersey of Adrian provided organ music during the reception.

Parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner Oct. 3 at the Country House restaurant.

The bride and groom are both 1973 graduates of Britton-Macon High School. Bride is employed at Rink's in Adrian and the groom is employed at Kroger's in Tecumseh.

After a wedding trip through northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 4855 Palmer Hwy., Britton.

Jaycees Hold Meeting

CLINTON — The meeting of the Clinton Jaycee Auxiliary was Oct. 14 at the Water Wheel Estates community building. Sixteen members and five guests from Manchester and Saline were present. Hostesses were Mrs. Jan Knight and Mrs. April Brooks. Trooper Ruskowski of the Clinton State Police Post showed a movie on personal protection.

The Auxiliary would like to thank everyone who displayed at arts and crafts at the Fall Festival. All the merchants who donated door prizes for the fall district meeting, held Oct. 1 at Peerless Gear Union Hall, are also thanked. Over 140 people attended the Hawaiian dinner.

Over 1,000 7-Up bottle caps have been collected. The group welcomes more donations. The 7-Up Co. will pay 25 cents for every four bottle caps for muscular dystrophy. Phone 456-7507, Mrs. Sharon McGill if you have more caps.

The Auxiliary served the Jaycee "M Night" dinner meeting Oct. 7.

The Auxiliary still needs helping hand volunteers. Phone Mrs. Sharon Walker if you would like to help, 456-7381.

District Bazaar at the Emmanual Church in Manchester is Oct. 21. Proceeds go to the placement fund.

This year, the Auxiliary is sponsoring two Bluebird troops.

Auxiliary will also send personal grooming and arts and crafts supplies to the Dehoco in Detroit.

Four couples and two single Jaycees will attend the state meeting Nov. 1 and 2 at Traverse City.

Next meeting is Nov. 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Water Wheel Estates Community building. Hostesses will be Mrs. Pat Ellerholz and Mrs. Mary Bowman. A program on drug awareness will be featured. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 35 are welcome to join.

Cookie Shaw, Substance Abuse Coordinator for the County will speak.

Girl Scouts Pedalled

Cadet Girl Scout Troop 307, with leaders Iris Gage and Kathie Bick, and co-leader Richard Gage, and nine troop members pedalled their bikes 10 and a half miles Friday from St. Peter's Episcopal Church to the Gages' home in Macon.

The group pitched four tents in the Gages' backyard, had a cookout dinner and raked leaves to jump through. After camping outside overnight the Scouts cooked breakfast over a campfire - and as if they weren't worn out, four Scouts and Mr. Gage rode their bikes back to town. Mrs. Gage delivered the other girls via the pick up.

All in all, some of the troop pedalled over 18 miles in two days.

The whole troop deserves a bike badge, if there is such a thing.

Pancake Supper

If you're feeling the pinch of high food prices plan to come to the Tecumseh Acres Elementary School PTO pancake supper Oct. 24 from 5-7 p.m. at the school. The inflation fighting menu includes all the pancakes you can eat along with sausage, homemade applesauce, milk or coffee.

Tickets may be purchased in advance from Tecumseh Acres school children or at the door that night. During the evening music will be provided by Mrs. Gerald Eaton playing the organ donated by Flanders Music Co. An added attraction this year will be a special flea market in the school lobby during the supper. If you have any items to contribute please contact Mrs. Gerald Eaton at 423-7097.

Working hard in preparation for the pancake supper are chairman, Mrs. James Curth and co-chairman, Mrs. Gerald Eaton. Committee members include Mrs. Robert Duhan, tickets, Mrs. Larry Kanous, decorations, Mrs. William Croft, publicity, Mrs. Robert Tooman, dining room, Mrs. James Fliess, kitchen, and Joel Rutherford, clean up.

Common Cause Members to Ann Arbor

Lenawee County Common Cause members will travel to Ann Arbor for a fall meeting Oct. 23 at 8 p.m.

Common Cause is organizing car pools to the Ann Arbor from Tecumseh. Car pools will form at the parking lot of the Tecumseh Public Library and will leave from the library at 7 p.m. Anyone interested may call Mike Havener at 423-4264.

Society Meets

CLINTON — St. Dominics Altar Society met at the Smith-Kimball Community Center Monday night. Mrs. Richard Koster led the meeting with prayer. A special remembrance was given to Mrs. Frank Hahn and Mrs. Lenn Gray.

Three new ladies were present, Mrs. Albert Salenbein, Mrs. James Meier, Mrs. Karl Jacob. A thank you was received from Mrs. Joseph Conklin.

A standing ovation was given to Mrs. Charles Still for her chairmanship of the church's Fall Festival participation. It was a great success. Mrs. Flora Hunt of Clinton won the afghan done by Mrs. Edward Blom.

A bake sale will be in November with proceeds to go to Father Coffey, a missionary in Mexico. A portion of the Fall Festival earnings was given to the priest. Mrs. Still read a letter from the missionary and showed pictures of his work.

Another portion of the festival earnings was donated to the United Fund.

Mrs. Louis Caterina of the new organ committee will be assisted by the Society.

It was suggested that new vestments be purchased for Father Lee.

Sister Pelland, O.P. will speak on "A Question of Values" tentatively scheduled for the January meeting. A cookie exchange is scheduled for the December meeting. Mrs. Jacob Bower and Mrs. Mark Bower hosted. Next month's hostesses are not named.

Mrs. Edward J. Kehoe was the Lucky Lady.

Tories 3-0 in League

The Britton Tories kept heir title contention hopes alive by defeating the Summerfield Bulldogs 18-0 on Summerfield turf Friday night. The Tories remain undefeated in the Tri-County eague with a record of 3-0 and season record of 4-1.

The first quarter was scoreless although Summerfield, at one point, drove down to Britton's 14 yard line only to be stopped by the Tories defense.

Britton took command of the ball and began an 83 yard drive at the end of the first quarter. After 10 days including a big 45 yard run by Mike Servoss, the Tories scored on a 4 yard run again by Servoss.

Britton's second score came on a 51 yard drive following a fumble recovery by Scott White. Quarterback Jeff Brown scored on an eight yard run around his own right end. Conversion attempts after both Tory touchdowns failed.

The Tories took the opening kickoff of the second half and drove 73 yards in 16 plays for their last score of the game. The scoring drive was highlighted by a fourth down 25 yard pass from QB Jeff Brown to Mike Servoss. On the next play, Brown went 3 yards for the TD. Again, the conversion attempt failed and the Tories finished up 18-0.

Both teams threatened to score during the remainder of the game but neither could cross the goal line. The Bulldogs drove to Britton's 10 and 17 yard line but both times the Tory defense held. Britton reached Summerfield's ten but a fumble stopped another TD.

Britton's Mike Servoss had an exceptional night rushing for 223 yards in 25 carries for an average of 8.9 yards per run. Alan Reau gained 111 yards on the ground in 21 carries. Britton garnered 400 yards total offense with 375 yards on the ground.

Defensively the Tories line held when necessary posting their third shutout of the season. Middle linebacker Doug Armstrong led with 17 tackles. Reau had 11 tackles and Mike Saxton had 10 tackles.

Summerfield's Cliff Willis was top rusher for that squad with 179 yards. In total offense, the Bulldogs posted 234 yards.

The Tories travel to Ann Arbor St. Thomas Saturday night.

Indians Crush Bears

By FRANK WEIR

The Indians defeated Monroe Jefferson to keep alive hopes for a Huron League football championship. Tecumseh beat the Bears 30-8 to post a league record of 4-0 and a season mark of 4-1.

Although triumphant, the Indians made their share of mistakes against a weak Jefferson team racking up 80 yards in penalties and fumbling four times, losing the ball twice.

Tecumseh started it out in the first quarter when Tom Schwartz recovered a fumbled punt at the 16-yard line. Indian quarterback Dave Spillman scored on a 11-yard run two minutes later. The extra point try by Kent Jacoby was good.

In the second quarter, George Harvey, who played an excellent game, set up another TD by virtue of a 73-yard run. Spillman passed to Mike Connors and the Indians had the ball on the one yard line. Mike Duhan went in for the score. Jacoby kicked the extra point.

After Duhan recovered a Jefferson fumble on the 40-yard line, Tecumseh began a series of six plays, ending with Duhan running seven yards for the touchdown. Jacoby again kicked the point after.

With three minutes left in the half, Duhan again recovered a Bear fumble on the 45, but the Indians lost it on the 31-yard line.

In the third quarter, Duhan ran one yard for a TD, culminating a seven-play, 51-yard drive. Jacoby got the extra point.

With seven minutes left in the game, Bob Webb and Schwartz tackled a Jefferson player as he was preparing to punt deep in his own territory. With the tackle, he lost the ball and Webb recovered for a two-point safety.

And with just 3:45 left on the clock, Jefferson scored a TD and got the conversion to make the final score 30-8.

Tecumseh gained a total of 270 yards with Harvey the leading rusher with 105 yards in six carries. Duhan was next, 53 yards in 12 carries. Jefferson posted an embarassing - 18 yards rushing.

In the air, Indian quarterback Spillman completed 2 for 9, getting 42 yards. Jefferson attained 104 yards passing, Tecumseh ended with 19 first downs to Jefferson's 7.

In reference to the four Indian fumbles and all the penalties, Coach Connors commented, "We weren't real sharp. We're not ungrateful for the win, but we've played better. I was concerned with the way we were executing."

CLINTON — An undefeated Addison Cross Country team powered past Clinton by a 18-43 score Wednesday at Clinton.

Jim Scoggins was the top Redskin as he finished fourth in 17:24, Jim Mattis was sixth in 18:09, Jim Klanke was 10th in 19:22, Roger LaSovage 11th in 19:29, Chris Wojtowicz ran his best time ever in finishing 12th in 19:30, Mark Eveleth was 13th in 19:37, John Johnston 16th in 21:14, and Craig Hill 17th in 21:30.

Clinton's record slipped to 2-2 in the L.C.A.A. and 5-3 overall. The team will be at the Dundee Invitational Saturday morning at 11 a.m.

Jayvees Beat Jefferson

The Tecumseh JV football team recorded their fourth win of the season by defeating Monroe Jefferson 38-0 last Thursday. Their season record now stands at 4-1.

Offensive player of the week was Dave Bohannon. He rushed for 80 yards and passed for 50. Joe Castorena was top rusher with 115 yards. The entire offensive line was exceptional.

Jeff Ives, Dan Tilton, Tony Valdez and Randy Arnett led the Indians defensively. Jeff Ives was the defensive player of the week.

JV Coach Basinger commented, "Offensively, we seem to be in full gear at the present time."

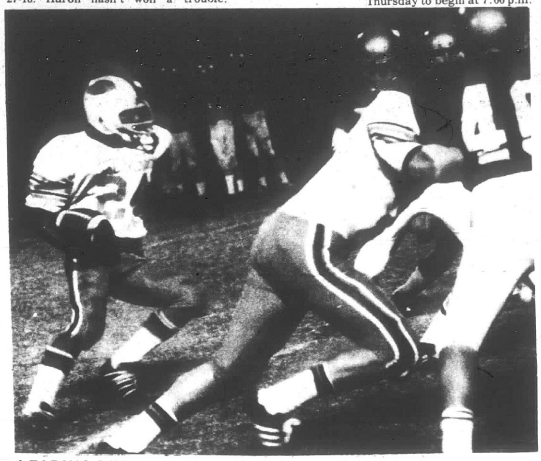
They travel to New Boston Huron for a game this Thursday to begin at 7:00 p.m.

Tecumseh Plays Host

The Tecumseh varsity football squad hosts New Boston Huron this Friday night at Indian Stadium. It's the fourth football contest between the two.

Huron has yet to defeat Tecumseh. In 1971 - the first meeting - Tecumseh won it 20-7. In the past two years, Huron has lost by scores of 44-0 and 27-18. Huron hasn't won a game yet this season.

Coach Connors says of the upcoming contest, "They (Huron) haven't been too impressive. From what I understand, they don't have enough people. They do well for a couple of quarters then tire out. If we do any kind of a job we'll be alright. If we do less than that we can be in trouble."



LEADING RUSHER — Tecumseh's George Harvey (no. 24) runs for big yardage against Monroe Jefferson last Friday night. The tailback (5'7", 140 lbs.) may be small in stature but he's tall in football prowess. Harvey played an excellent game against Jefferson rushing for 105 yards including a 73 yard run that set up one of the Indian's touchdowns. In total ground offensive yardage, the Indians racked up 270 yards. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Board Ok's Piano

CLINTON — Purchase of a walnut 45" Baldwin Piano and bench for the Clinton Middle School was approved at the regular Monday night meeting of the Clinton School Board.

Bid accepted was from King's Keyboard House for $1,271.

Piano will replace one purchased in 1957 that has been damaged from moving. New piano will not be moved from the school stage under new administrative regulation. A stage music shell, purchased so that all performances will take place on the stage, will eliminate moving.

Worthy Matron Elected

CLINTON—Mrs. Michael Cortwright was elected worthy matron at the annual meeting of the Golden Rod Chapter 85, Order of Eastern Star, recently.

Other officers elected are: worthy patron, Herman Green; associate matron, Mrs. Douglas Beasley; associate patron, William Stout; secretary, Mrs. William Stout; treasurer, Mrs. John Norcross; conductress, Mrs. Ina Basham; associate conductress, Mrs. George Heimerdinger.

A potluck dinner preceded the meeting.

There will be an open installation Saturday, Oct. 19 at 8 p.m. Practice for installation will be held Thursday, Oct. 17 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Harold Kiebler was in Dearborn Monday to attend the 50th reunion of her graduation class from Henry Ford School of Nursing. The luncheon meeting was held at the home of Margarete Schroeder. Mrs. Kiebler was the first registered nurse from Lenawee County to graduate from the nursing school, and was a member of the second graduating class there.

Gertrude Spalding, of Detroit, now retired, is secretary of the class, and for many years was superintendent of Herrick Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Kiebler remains actively engaged in the Kiebler & Sons meat business.

Bernice Mahrle has returned home after being a patient at Herrick Hospital since last Thursday, when she was admitted with a virus infection.

Mrs. Leora Kane, who underwent emergency surgery, Oct. 6, is reported out of intensive care and making satisfactory improvement. Daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKeever of Cadillac are staying in her home until she returns home.

John Hause is a patient in Bixby Hospital, Adrian.

Party Planned

CLINTON — A Halloween party is planned for children through sixth grade, for Thursday, Oct. 31, sponsored by the Clinton Area Jaycees and Jaycee Auxiliary.

Party will be held at the Smith-Kimball Community Center from 7 to 9 p.m. There will not be a costume contest, but organized games, cider, donuts and treats will be provided free, and there will be a haunted house.

Children and their parents are invited to attend.

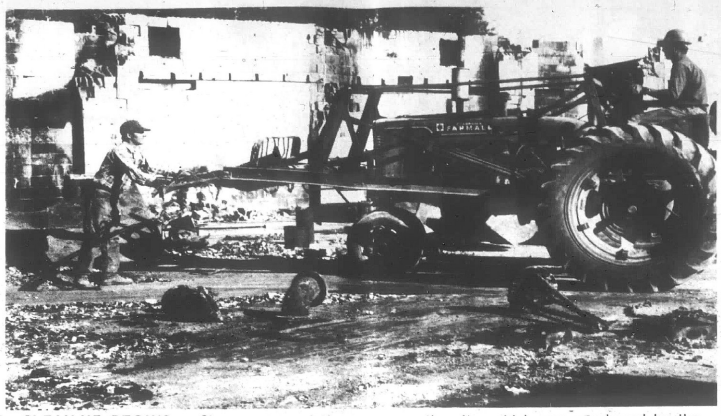
Reservations

CLINTON—Board of Directors of Clinton Area Chamber of Commerce has asked that members and other interested residents make reservations not later than Oct. 25 for the Oct. 28 buffet dinner meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. at Clintonian Inn.

Laity Sunday

CLINTON—In observance of Laity Sunday, the choir, new director Carol Rohrbach, organist Mrs. Larry Dicks, and Don Hoyt, as guest speaker, of the United Church of Christ, made an exchange visit to the St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Chelsea, Sunday. They participated in the worship service there.

Coming from the Chelsea church to share in the worship service at Clinton were members of the choir, director Bruce Galbraith, and organist Truuke Ameigh and speaker Charles Cox.



CLEAN-UP BEGINS — Since an arsonist's fire destroyed the former Clinton Engines building operated by DST, Inc., Feb. 26, 1973, the site has been an eyesore to Clinton. Now RET Construction has begun work to clear away the site, which was purchased by the Village of Clinton. Zoned industrial, the property will be offered for sale. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greenfield of Beecher, Ill. and former residents of Clinton, announce the engagement of their daughter Cheryl L. Greenfield of Tawas City to Vanstan L. New England Tour Ends

CLINTON—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnard have returned for a two-week tour of the New England states. In Vermont they were guests of Vivian Little and Jane Couture, present owners of the historic stone house built in 1791 by Thomas Clark, ASR, 1745-1837, and Catharine Ward Clark, 1751-1834. Mrs. Clark was a descendant of General Artemas Ward, commander-in-chief of the Massachusetts Bay Colony Patriots in the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark were the parents of John Clark and Thaddeus Clark, who emigrated from Vermont to Michigan, and were early settlers in Clinton.

Barnard is a member of the Vermont Society of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Harvest Supper

CLINTON—Annual Harvest supper and auction for missions, scheduled for Oct. 27, at United Church of Christ, has been postponed to Sunday, Nov. 3, at 6 p.m., so that a church school Halloween party may be held on the earlier date.

Earns Masters

CLINTON—Carl Terry, 135 E. Church St. received a masters in industrial education degree from Eastern Michigan University this summer session. He teaches industrial arts at Clinton High School. He and his wife, Rosemary, have six daughters, one married.

Lawn Finished

CLINTON—The north side lawn of the United Church of Christ was extensively landscaped last week, and planted with evergreens, shrubs and flowering crabapple trees, a gift from the family of the late Roy Porter, in his memory.

Woman's Club Gains Members

CLINTON — Mrs. George Wolf, president of Clinton Woman's Club, welcomed five new members, Mrs. James Chellman, Mrs. Alfred Cowhy, Mrs. Vernon Fry, Mrs. Richard Malcolm and Mrs. Lily Neblo, at the first meeting of the season, Oct. 9.

Afternoon meeting at the Smith-Kimball Community Center was attended by 23 persons, including a former member, Mrs. Frank Ward.

Resignation of Mrs. Edgar Randall was accepted with regret.

Mrs. Richard Broniman thanked the members who participated in the recent grange fair, which was a great success.

Mrs. John Hoelzer presented the budget for 1974-75, which was approved.

Mrs. Robert King, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Margaret Weid, host family co-ordinator at the Ecumenical Campus Center in Ann Arbor. She gave an informative talk on the work of the Center, which "exists that the people of the world may learn to care for each other," with the foreign students serving that cause as "citizen diplomats."

There are about 9,000 foreign students in Michigan, 2,500 to 3,000 of whom attend the University of Michigan. Besides many other activities, the Center offers housing, counseling, and seminars for the students, and the English Language Institute teaches them English in eight-week or 15-week courses.

Mrs. Weid explained her work with the host family program, which accepts invitations from families in Michigan for visits on weekends and vacations. Each visit is preceded by an international education session for orientation of the host families so that they may learn something of the history, culture, and religion of their prospective guests, thus maximize the possibility of new understanding and friendship.

After the program, refreshments were served from a tea table reflecting of autumn colors. Mrs. Ward presided at the memorial silver tea service. Mrs. Harlon Ruhl, chairman, and Mrs. Loren Scott served as the social committee.

The officers for 1974-75 are: president Mrs. George Wolf, first vice-president Mrs. Robert King, second vice-president Mrs. Richard Broniman, recording secretary Mrs. Dan Reilly, corresponding secretary Mrs. Ina Basham, treasurer Mrs. E. John Hoelzer, parliamentarian Mrs. Norman Randall, directors, Mrs. Ralph Reed, Mrs. Maxwell Stamats, Mrs. John Monaghan, and Mrs. Harlon Ruhl.

On Wednesday, Nov. 13, the members are invited to go through the plant of the Chelsea Milling Co., makers of the Jiffy Mix products, after meeting at the center at 1 p.m. to arrange transportation.

PTO Hosts Costume Party Oct. 31

BRITTON—Britton-Macon PTO will host a Halloween costume party on Oct. 31 at 7 p.m. immediately after the fire whistle signals the end of trick or treating.

A panel of six judges will award prizes for the Most Original costume, the Funniest, and the Prettiest. In at least the first two age groups, pre-school-kindergarten and first grade through third grades, boys and girls costumes will be judged separately, giving more children a chance to win. Grades four through six may also be separated.

Also included in the prize giving will be a group for seventh grade through adults. Winners will be awarded a silver dollar.

Since the judging will begin with the smallest children, parents are cautioned to have small children there promptly. Cider and donuts will be served after they have been judged.

Children may bring their UNICEF collection boxes to the gymnasium; a container will be provided there to put them in.

Teacher's Club Holds Meeting

BRITTON—Fifteen members of the RMTC Teacher's Club met at the Cedar Shack at Tecumseh for a 6:30 p.m. dinner Oct. 7.

A short business meeting was conducted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Strong in Ridgeway by Mrs. Lilah Cadmus in the absence of Mrs. Lillian Buttolph, the president. A communication was read from Mrs. Mary Meyers. A birthday card was signed to be sent to Mrs. Doris Forsyth at Provincial House in Adrian. The group voted to have dinner at a restaurant for the December meeting and then go to the home of Mrs. Lillian Buttolph for their business meeting and exchange of dollar gifts.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Mrs. Strong talked about her hobby of collecting rocks and gems and the making of jewelry. She explained how and when she became interested in the hobby and where many of the specimens were obtained. She showed many specimens that were arranged in displays about the the rooms and in the basement, and answered many questions regarding them. Mr. Strong assisted in telling about the displays and showed his collections of Indian artifacts.

Punch and cookies were served by the hostess at the conclusion of the meeting.

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. LaVern E. Moll announce their 25th anniversary Oct. 17. Friends and relatives are invited to attend an open house and buffet hosted by their children from 2-7 p.m. at the Moll's home at 5800 Holloway Road. LaVern Moll and Norma Steuwe were married Oct. 28, 1949 at Immanuel Lutheran Church in North Blissfield by the Rev. William Weinlander. Mr. Moll is employed at Tecumseh Products Co. and Mrs. Moll as Director of Nursing Service at Herrick Memorial Hospital. They have three children, Barry, a post-graduate student at Michigan State University, Rodney at home, and Cheryl attends Mercy Central School of Nursing at Grand Rapids.

REV. and MRS. JAMES STEPHENSON

New Pastor

BRITTON—The Rev. James Stephenson is the new pastor of the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. and Mrs. Stephenson have three children, with one son John still at home.

The Rev. Stephenson is a native of Illinois and is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill. He has spent 10 years in the ministry, coming to this area from Fairgrove where the Stephensons served for eight and a half years. The Stephensons were assistants in Flint before going to Fairgrove.

In addition to their son John, they have one daughter, Linda, who lives in Kankakee, and a son, James, who attends Olivet Nazarene College with his wife.

The Stephensons are residing in the church parsonage in Britton.

As an independent agent we answer to one boss—our hometown people

We represent several firms, but we work for only one boss—you. That way we can always place you with a company which we think is best for each line of insurance you need. Naturally, we prefer companies like Auto-Owners who look at a loss and take care of it right away, without haggling or delays. That's one of the reasons we're part of the Altogether Family. A Fire Route May Save Your Life

Man is his own worst enemy, especially in the cause of fire.

"Seventy percent of building fires are caused by careless acts of humans," said fire chief Wallace MacGeorge. Since most building losses are homes, MacGeorge encouraged Tecumseh area residents to plan home fire escape routes, discuss fire safety with their families and get rid of all hazards by repairing electrical equipment, cleaning attics and removing flammable liquids from the house. Fire safety is a lifetime concern and not just one for National Fire Safety week, Oct. 6 to 12.

In planning a home fire escape, families should keep these facts in mind.

In all escape routes seconds count. The family should exit quickly without regard for dressing or taking valuables.

Because heat rises, 1,000 degree temperatures can travel far ahead of the actual flames. Normal escape paths can quickly become a death trap when a door is opened for escape. Stairways and halls can become filled with lungscorching heat, poisonous fumes and blinding, choking smoke.

Two exits from every bedroom must be planned.

It is recorded that most home fires start between the hours of midnight and 6 a.m. when the family is asleep and least prepared.

The order in which they occur most often is living room 37 percent, kitchen 22 percent, basement 14 percent and bedrooms 13 percent. These facts can help families see where most fires and likely to block the usual hall-stairway escape from bedrooms.

Chief MacGeorge suggested that escape routes be planned beginning with a fire escape floor plan that outlines entire floor area, labels bedrooms and locates windows and stairs.

Rooms should be inspected and best escape window selected and tested for easy opening and large enough size.

Family should then mark this diagram with arrows showing exits and every member should study the plan.

If necessary escape ladders, rearranging rooms or easy rooftop escapes, a through closet or separate door through the hall may be the step taken to save a life in an night time emergency.

Once the escape plan is determined, gather the family around and explain and discuss the fire escape procedures.

Close bedroom doors when sleeping. It can keep out fire long enough to allow escape through the emergency escape route, usually a window.

The family should agree on a specific family alarm sound to alert members who may be in other rooms. Pounding on walls, hollering, using a whistle striking a pan may be methods.

Extra minutes for escape may be provided by reliable automatic fire warning equipment. For booklet entitled "Household Fire Warning Systems," Readers may write National Fire Protection Association, 60 Batterymarch St., Boston, Mass. 02110. Enclose 50 cents.

Seconds count and family should not waste time dressing or gathering valuables.

Doors should be tested before opening. First check door panels for temperature. If they are hot or smoke is leaking, suspect a fire on the other side. Don't open the door. If it is reasonable, open it cautiously. Brace shoulder against door. Keep head to one side. Open door slightly, ready to slam it if any heat and smoke rush in.

Family should determine an outside meeting place and quickly account for everyone. Once out—Stay out!

Fire department should be notified quickly. Plan to use a neighbor's phone. Speak slowly, plainly. Give name and address and wait to answer questions.

A home fire drill should be conducted. Schools and industry have them frequently but as Chief MacGeorge pointed out, the incidence of home fires is much greater. Families often neglect home fire drills, which are important to home safety.

Home fire drills should not be scary. Make it a game for children to participate in. Instead of hiding in a closet or under the bed, from fear of the flames or smoke as most children are likely to do, the children will learn to follow directions in an emergency with regular practice. To be more realistic, fire drills could be held after dinner, when the family is at home in the night.

Once everyone has positioned themselves in bedrooms with doors closed, sound the alarm. Swing into action and test door opening procedures. Try the first drill using the normal exit and the second drill with the emergency escape procedures. Make sure everyone can open windows and screens easily. Take extra care with toddlers and aiding older people. Gather outside and account for everyone. Review telephone procedure.

Point to remember: if caught in smoke and heat, KEEP LOW. Heat rises, so air is better closer to the floor. Take short breaths. Cover face with cloth.

To equip your family with fire survival, Fire Chief Wallace MacGeorge urges all families to discuss these procedures and practice them. In a desperate night fire emergency, your family will not get a second chance. Start tonight.

"People I Meet"

By Katy Kulczyk

Rising material costs, sluggish circulation, apathetic readership and regular meetings with the administration are all realities this newspaper must cope with. The New York Times? Washington Post? No. It is the Tecumseh High School newspaper, Smoke Signals.

In observance of National newspaper Week Oct. 6 through 12, this column takes a look at the operations of the student publication and its growing pains in trying to emerge as a respected voice for the THS student body.

Student Paper Succeeding As Teaching Tool

Smoke Signals is completely done in the curriculum of the school. Once executed by the Creative Writing class, the four page, bi-weekly paper is now organized within the Journalism II class, a group of about 20 students about half of whom have been on the staff last year and the othersarecub reporters. All are supervised by their teacher, Jody Kahle.

This year's organization is a departure from the traditional way the paper functioned as students were interviewed before joining the class. "They are here because they want to be in Journalism II. I've got a good bunch of people. Creative, talented, a lot of good ideas," said Miss Kahle.

Screening the students enabled the newspaper staff to have some continuity, and allows the paper to benefit from the knowledge of Journalism I students.

Journalism has been expanded to three levels, Journalism I, II and III this year.

Probed for their reasons for involvement in the class, the students had varied reasons. The underlying reason was an interest to "improve the paper's reputation with the students," as Kathy Morse, news editor explained.

Editor Joan Upell said, "the paper is really getting started this year because of Journalism II class," which places its creation in a more organized and professional structure. "The size of the class shows improved interest and pride in the publication, since the class has doubled," she added.

One reason that the paper merits less attention from students for its achievements than THS sports is the paper's small size, explained members of the class. Beginning with the second issue Oct. 11, however, the paper format changed from three to four columns and a slightly bigger edition.

"As size changes, people will change their attitudes toward the paper, the experience of the reporters and better stories will help the paper gain in circulation," predicted Mike Connors, sports editor.

The new editorial approach, "to feature more news than feature features," tries to prevent every year's volume from looking like the year before and abandons the "seasonal" approach.

Student government, the way the assembly acts on behalf of its electorate and the issues that are decided upon, are part of the news formula.

Some of the class members feel that opinions are important for a democratic student government and should be contributed more often. "Letters to the editor and opinions get other people interested in what's going on, they stir up emotions," said Jim Egbert.

"Yet there is still not enough room, even in the larger format we have to do all we could experiment with," said Connors. "Covering everything is hard to do," he referred to the reporter's legwork involved.

This year each student maintains a beat for more effective news gathering.

Something else that is relatively new for this journalism class is monthly interview with Dermont Poley, THS principal. "It gives us an opportunity to polish our interviewing techniques. Mr. Poley becomes more to us than a name on a door. He's willing to help us," commented Crystal Roe.

Another mark of the class' serious interest in furthering its role as a student newspaper is that it now has a representative on the student assembly.

Still the newspaper faces another problem with its present method of printing. Students must deposit the copy with the Vo-Tech printer the week before the issue is dated for circulation. They do not have any control over the copy during that entire week. That is why news is sometimes old by the time it is circulated.

The paper, funded only by circulation rates, is printed at Vo-Tech since it is much less expensive than printing it commercially. But now even Smoke Signals, faced with increasing material costs, must raise its newstand price from 10 to 15 cents, reflecting a 12 percent increase in Vo-Tech costs.

It costs $25 per issue last year when 13 issues were published. This year, because the paper is better organized, about 15 issues are planned. Last year the paper was slightly in the red. Two years ago they broke even, due to good circulation. Copies are distributed to teachers and board members. About 350 papers were sold last issue.

Recent enrollment count shows 1,144 students attend THS this year.

The student paper does not sell advertising to merchants, since the paper is viewed primarily as a teaching tool.

The newspaper has been surviving without the assistance of reserve funds made available this year by the Tecumseh school district board of education. The board set up the small fund so that the students need not worry about the paper folding and yet not feel obligated to the board. However, the students would like to exist on their own initiative if possible.

For this reason, they have launched a subscription drive and sent letters to local professional people who might be potential subscribers. So far only three of 50 have responded.

"I don't think they know what Smoke Signals is," said editor Upell. To educate them, personal calls will be made by the students.

Hoping to improve its product and advance the education of its staff members, the class hopes to have funds to send its editorial staff to workshops to learn more about high school journalism and newspaper production.

Miss Upell attended such a program this summer at Central Michigan University at her own expense. She attended five days of lectures and class sessions and exchanged papers and ideas with the other high school newspaper staffs, some of whom print the newspapers in their own school plant.

Increased pride that students have in their operation and product has prompted them to enter high school newspaper competition organized by the Toledo Blade and Toledo University. There is also a student newspaper exchange with select student newspapers throughout Michigan.

Although the present students seems uncertain whether or not any would like to become professional journalists, former classmates and 1974 THS graduates Pat Beaubien and April Beard, freshmen at Siena Heights College, have been instrumental in organizing the forthcoming student newspaper, the first on that campus.

Miss Kahle expressed the value of the newspaper to the students with the following summary. "Even though there may be some criticism from the students about the newspaper, when it is late, they miss it and ask about it."

And it is also important to the kids who work in the small office next door to their class. "They learn teamwork and social skills that you don't learn by memorizing history. And they learn responsibility since each is responsible for typing his or her own work."

Women Reminded

Members of the Tecumseh Business and Professional Women's Club are reminded that they are to bring handmade items to the next meeting which will be held Oct. 28 at the Macon Methodist Church. Items will be sold at the Goodwill Bazaar in Adrian.

Three Year Contract

Officials at Tecumseh Products Company have announced the settlement of a three-year labor agreement between its Taylor Products Division, Elkhart, Ind., and Local No. 837, UAW.

The Taylor Division supplies component parts for Tecumseh's compressor and engine divisions.This plant is a supplier of the Tecumseh Division located in Tecumseh.

The Labor Contracts at the Lauson Engine Division and Power Products Division located in Wisconsin, were also settled early last month without any work stoppage.

A company spokesman stated that this brings to a total of six divisional Labor Contracts settled in the last six months within the Tecumseh organization.

The Student Assembly is sponsoring a car wipe Oct. 26, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. It will be held at the Sudzy-Duz-It car wash located at 1360 W. Chicago Blvd. Cost is 25 cents per car. Further details are available by calling 423-7830.

A car wipe is simply this. After a car comes out of the wash, students will be waiting with their equipment to dry it off.

The car wipe is just one of the many fund raising projects the assembly will sponsor this year. Other projects will include a winter carnival, bake sales and other activities to be announced later.

The Junior class has also begun a fund raising activity. Its annual magazine sale started Oct. 11.

Students will canvass door-to-door to sell many different magazines which can be bought by subscription for one to three years. If the magazine is already being taken, the customer may renew his or her subscription.

Sale will help each boy or girl win prizes for certain amounts of orders sold.

Last year's Juniors sold $6,800 worth of magazines. This year's goal is $8,000.

Tecumseh High School band and Junior High band are now taking orders for scented Christmas candles through Monday, Oct. 21.

Proceeds will be used to send the entire varsity band to summer camp for one week to work on upcoming football half-time shows. Average cost is $50 per student. Junior high band members have volunteered to help with the sale.

Some 240 band members canvass the Tecumseh area school district taking orders for delivery next month. Scented candles in frosted glass jars come with three designs. If a reader is not contacted, more details are available by calling Jimmie Rice, director, at 423-2167 ext. 52 at the high school.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips
423-5213

"One man's trash is another man's treasure." There is a lot of truth in that statement, and it is being demonstrated by the large number of people flocking to auctions these days.

This favorite pasttime of many can be relatively harmless and inexpensive, but more than one wife has had to do some fast talking to convince her skeptical husband that the 1912 claw-footed bathtub she bought at a Saturday afternoon auction will look much better than the tub they had installed three years ago.

Men, on the other hand, are not exempt when it comes to yielding to the excitement of this competitive "sport". The men-women ratio at the auctions attended by this writer is about 60-40, which says something.

One woman confided that her husband thought her enthusiasm over auctions was nonsense, until he accompanied her to one. He has been "hooked" ever since and brings home more goodies than she does!

So heaven help you if you haven't been immunized against the auction bug. It is highly contagious and habit-forming fun.

State Hospital patients will be remembered at Christmastime by Macon Women's Club. A list of possible gift recipients was given to the 12 members and one guest who attended the meeting Oct. 10, at the home of Mrs. Leland Rohn. Other business included a reminder by Mrs. Merle Cross, president, that members should make reservations for the County Federation meeting which will be held Nov. 6 in Hudson.

Mrs. Eugene Hill and Mrs. Paul Kollar assisted in serving the luncheon. Devotions consisted of a reading from Psalm 98, an autumn poem and a prayer of thanks given by Mrs. Leland Bush.

Shared highlights of the club's recent trip to Anna, Ohio, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Travis, former long-time residents of Macon, formed the afternoon's program.

Mrs. Peter Golema will host the November meeting. Mrs. Arthur Hill and Mrs. Claire Gillespie will assist.

Debbie Burkhardt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Burkhardt of Tecumseh, was honored at a bridal shower Sunday afternoon in Macon given at the home of her fiance's sister, Mrs. Jim Conrad. Mrs. Steve Billau co-hostessed.

Forty guests attended representing Milan, Ann Arbor, Union Lake, Tecumseh, Sterling Heights, Detroit, Hillsdale, Pinckney, Onsted, Clinton and Livonia. Also present were Debbie's grandmother, Mrs. James Campbell of Dearborn, grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Sophia Billau of Britton, and her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert Billau.

Mrs. John Billau and Mrs. George Burkhardt were prize winners, with Mrs. Isler taking the door prize.

Refreshments consisted of cake decorated in the bridal party's colors of green and red, ice cream embossed with wedding bells and punch.

U.S. Bicentennial Painters Wanted

If their owners will come forth and declare them, obscure paintings all over Michigan may soon come into statewide prominence with the upcoming U.S. Bicentennial activities.

Dr. Sadayoshi Omoto, professor of art history at Michigan State University, is currently in charge of tracking down paintings by Michigan artists active before 1914.

His work in Michigan is part of a nationwide project undertaken by the National Collection of Fine Arts at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

Under the leadership of Abigail Booth, the National Collection is compiling an inventory of all oils, watercolors, pastels and frescoes executed by native artists from the earliest days of American history to 1914.

Dr. Omoto, working in connection with Kresge Art Gallary at MSU, has already collected slides, photographs and information on some 30 paintings representing the work of about 15 artists.

These paintings were discovered in Calumet, Muskegon, Escanaba, Lake Linden, Alpena, Harbor Springs, Mt. Pleasant and Traverse City. Many are in private homes.

By December, Dr. Omoto hopes to have about 40 paintings collected for a Michigan Bicentennial traveling show to be exhibited tentatively in Flint, Grand Rapids, Marquette, Midland, Muskegon and perhaps Detroit.

One actual painting that turned up in the search is in the state mental hospital in Traverse City and was produced by a 19th century inmate.

Michigan has been distinguished in the painting search by a current 30-work exhibition at the National Collection of Fine Arts of works by Horatio Shaw, active around Dover and Adrian, Mich., from 1880-1910.

Omoto urges libraries, historical societies and individuals who may have paintings by early Michigan artists to contact him at MSU. "Names of contributors will be kept secret for security reasons if requested," he said.

SAFE AND HAPPY IN TENNESSEE

Bird watchers are nice people. Friendly, helpful, enthusiastic, quick with a smile, and always eager to talk. Oh, how they talk! There are always so many stories to exchange and experiences to compare. In-person visits, telephone calls, notes and letters between bird people are always good for one or two (or three or four) tales.

The best robin story I have heard for some time comes, thanks to the U.S. Postal Service, from Tennessee. Periodically we hear from Bessie Walker who lives just outside Nashville and her accounts of bluebird family raising, mockingbirds, and purple finches are enough to turn this Michigan bird watcher green with envy. Within the past few years Bessie has expanded her bird interests to include banding and first aid. It was the latter which prompted the robin experience. According to Bessie's letter —

It all began last spring in a small Virginia town. The first crop of baby robins was nicely out of the nest when this woman noticed a young robin in her yard who was obviously in serious trouble. Upon rescuing it she found that somehow he had sustained a leg injury. She speculated that perhaps he had fallen out of the nest or more likely had fallen victim to some neighborhood boys and their BB guns.

She splintered the broken leg and undertook the not small task of taking care and raising the youngster. Her idea was, of course, to release the bird once he was able to fend for himself. Unfortunately the broken leg mended improperly, both it and the claw atrophied and became quite useless. But this is getting a bit ahead of the story.

The good Samaritan was a school teacher and, since young birds have to be fed regularly and at short intervals, she made it a class project. What else? The youngster had his own special carrying box and each school day rode to and from with his benefactor. Needless to say, the pupils thoroughly enjoyed helping raise the youngster—feeding, preparing the food, and all the other parts of the project were entered into with enthusiasm. And what a marvelous experience for them.

But this baby robin seemed destuned to lead a dangerous life. One day on the way to school something must have startled him for he began fluttering and flopping in his covered travel box. Afraid of a grand escape and I suppose not relishing the idea of a bird being loose in the car, the teacher took her eye off the road and sneaked a quick look to make sure everything was okay with her passenger.

How quickly things happen. In just the few seconds her attention was diverted she went out of control, ran off the road, and slammed into a tree. Fortunately no one was injured—neither the woman nor the robin. However, the car was demolished.

By the time the school session was over it was quite apparent that the bird would never be able-bodied enough to be turned loose. With a bad leg and foot, his chances of survival would have been nil. Especially since his protector lived in a neighborhood infested with cats and overrun with BB gun shooting boys. What to do—I can well imagine the teacher being rather desperate for an answer. To play nursemaid to her bird while he was recuperating was one thing but to assume responsibility on a permanent basis would be quite another. And on top of that it was nearing time for a visit to her mother who lived in Tennessee.

As it turned out, the trip to Tennessee was the answer to her problem. She took the bird with her not knowing what else to do. I suppose also that in the back of her mind was the vague hope of perhaps finding someone who would make a safe home for the robin. This is exactly what happened. After calling the Audubon Society and being referred to Carol Knauth who, in addition to writing for The Purple Martin also has a regular column in a Nashville paper, in turn introduced her Bessie Walker. Thus Bessie now has a leg-damaged but otherwise healthy robin redbreast to take care of.

And take care of him she will. To the extent of catching him live crickets all summer and building an 8x8x12 foot by-way home for him in the backyard. Quite an undertaking for a woman in her seventies, a widow living alone and having to do that sort of work by herself.

So it is that most of the robins are gone from here now and who knows what hazards they are facing in the sunny southland; however, we know of one who is safe and happy in Tennessee.

Pin Presented

Perry Satterthwaite was honored Tuesday night at Rotary Club meeting when District Governor Max Stewart presented him with a charter member pin.

He was a charter member when the club was formed in 1927, and Mr. Satterthwaite and Orville Laidlaw are the only members still living from the original group.

Dr. Stewart addressed the club following the presentation.

Dr. Stewart, of Livonia, who met with club directors prior to the meeting, addressed Rotarians following the presentation.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

The local chefs featured this week are known collectively as Girl Scout Cadet Troop 307, under the leadership of Iris Gage and Kathie Bick, with co-leader Richard Gage.

Although October might not be the most appropriate month to highlight camping recipes, troop 307's camping venture last week goes to show that there are a few hardy souls left in this area who brave the nip of autumn air and set out for the great outdoors.

Mrs. Gage gave me the tip for "Eggs In a Paper Bag" - a recipe I have not attempted, being a sworn devotee of the hearth and home - and claimed that the troop clamors for this breakfast novelty whenever it camps out.

Another speciality is a hearty "add another plate" recipe that can serve as main dish and vegetable in one. The troop has affectionately dubbed this delight "Gage Hash" and since Mrs. Gage herself volunteered the ingredients, I can only assume that it must be both tasty and reliable.

This one is perfect when the kids' 10 "best" friends, long forgotten friends and relatives, or unexpected hordes decide to drop in for dinner.

EGGS IN A PAPER BAG

The first ingredient is a nice hot campfire, with lots of hot coals and no flame. Each person wraps two slices of bacon around the end of a green stick and cooks them thoroughly over the fire.

When the bacon is thoroughly cooked, unravel it into a brown lunch bag and shake the bag so it's coated with bacon grease on the bottom. Crack an egg into the bag on top of the bacon, and roll the top of the bag to close. Poke your stick through the top of the bag and hold the bag about six inches from the hot coals, being very careful not to burn the bag.

The egg takes about four to six minutes to cook thoroughly. To eat - tear off the top of the bag, whip out your plastic fork, and voila! Eat right out of the bag.

After an egg in the bag for breakfast, why not try Gage Hash for dinner? Attention stay-at-homes: Gage Hash works equally well over campfire or kitchen range.

GAGE HASH

This recipe is strictly dependent on individual tastes and the numbers to be served.

Brown as much hamburger as you want with some chopped onions according to taste. Add a can or two of beef consomme or prepare an equivalent amount of beef bouillion from cubes or packets.

Add as many cans of little Irish potatoes chopped up as desired. Heat mixture thoroughly.

Optional but good: garlic, green pepper, corn, peas, beans, carrots, or just about anything you can think of. Season to taste.

University Women Share Discoveries

Tecumseh Meeting Is First

Della Cowing, a member of the Board of Human Resource Development Assoc. of Ann Arbor spoke in Tecumseh to about 25 women of the American Assoc. of University Women (AAUW). Monday night's gathering at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carlton Cook marked the local AAUW's first meeting in Tecumseh.

The AAUW is composed of college graduates who meet on a regular basis to share experiences on personal development and to examine in study groups other aspects of like that concern women.

Mrs. Cowing began her remarks asking the women to brainstorm ideas "why women like us don't reach our potential."

After the group's list was completed the group was asked to list roles they play, and discover whose expectations they fulfill. In later discussion the group shared their discoveries.

Writing down inner conflicts to have a picture of what prevents the individual from accomplishing was another technique Mrs. Cowing stressed to help them overcome fears of failure.

You Told Us

By Libby Lincoln

For the record—I learned Friday that someone had used this column to play a practical joke on an innocent couple—whether malicious or in jest I don't know. Submitting false news, even social news, is an abuse of the freedom of speech and it destroys our efforts to responsibly exercise the freedom of the press. I have no power to double check the reliability of my sources. I am completely reliant on the honesty of contributors. On a purely personal level, I must say that I resent being manipulated and made party to deliberate deception.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron Sr. received a call Thursday from their daughter and son-in-law, Winona and John Hamilton of Columbus, Ohio, who are making a leisurely back packing trip around the Grand Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred R. Waldron Jr. of Scottsdale, Ariz. will pick the Hamiltons up at the conclusion of their trip and the four will spend several days at the Waldron's home in Scottsdale.

My neighbor Marty is a certified public accountant. He is also an assistant scoutmaster. And treasurer of the Civic Association. Hard worker for local charities. And—oh yes—Marty is a Saturday morning bricklayer. He can build a mighty fine wall to set off that patio he put in last summer.

You'd think that a man so capable and versatile wouldn't feel dependent on anybody or anything. Not so.

It is usually the folks like Marty—the ready, willing and able ones—who are first to recognize their spiritual needs. Nor are they ashamed to admit their dependence on God—and His Church. You'll hear Marty and his wife give credit to their religious beliefs for the strength of their marriage and for the ideals that inspire their family life.

In fact, it's Sunday morning, rather than Saturday, when they do their most important building. How about joining them at church time?

'Automation' Is Theme at Tecumseh Corrugated

Few people find a corrugated box very interesting.

But these functional items touch all our lives each day and they're an essential part of American industry. Can you imagine what your new refrigerator would look like if it came to you, cross-country, without the protection of a strong, durable paper covering?

A corrugated box consists of two sheets of heavy-weight paper with a wavy sheet between the two. That wavy sheet gives the corrugated box its name and part of its exceptional strength (the strongest box can withstand 600 pounds of pressure per square inch).

And, local plant specializes in the production of those boxes - Tecumseh Corrugated Box Company.

The company recently completed a 22,000-square-foot addition to its facilities at a cost of $160,000. According to one of the directors of the company, secretary-treasurer James Kirby, the addition is expected to increase production by 25 percent.

The primary reason for the construction was to facilitate complete automation. "We want to conveyorize everything," Kirby says.

After another machine is purchased and the new automatic process is set up, sheets of paper will be printed, cut, scored, corrugated, taped and stapled in one continuing operation.

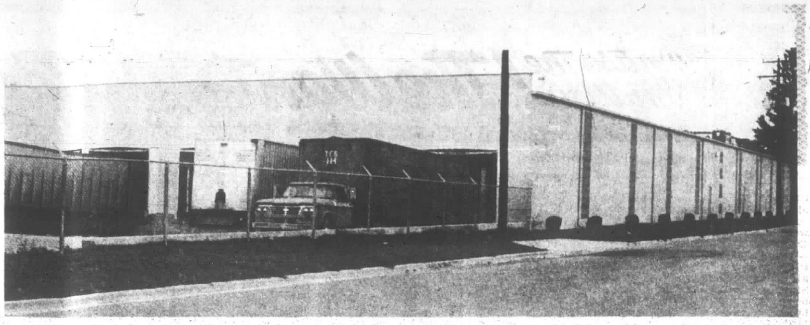
As each step is completed, the product will move to the next by way of conveyor belt, finally arriving at the dock and ready to be loaded onto trucks. The plant will produce an extra 500,000 boxes monthly.

One would think that automation would result in a cutback in personnel. Not so, says Kirby. In fact, the company will be hiring six or eight additional employees. Presently, they employ 105 hourly workers and 30 on salary.

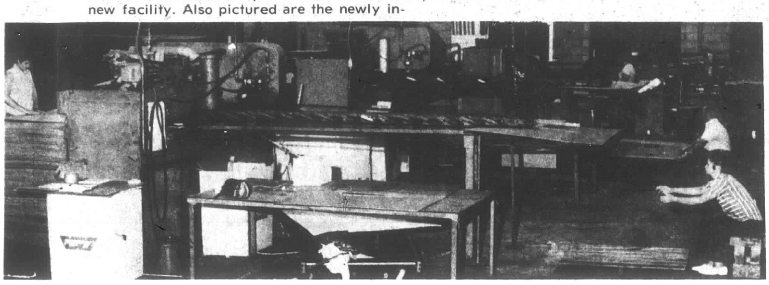
Construction on the new addition started September 20 of last year and builders finished March 20. Also, the company installed several new truck docks to speed up loading. And the plant now has a million-box storage area.

The Tecumseh plant serves as corporate headquarters for four divisions, the other three in Ohio.

James Robideau is president, and James Wheeler is the plant manager.



NEW LANDSCAPING—As part of the addition, builders landscaped the outside of the new facility. Also pictured are the newly installed truck docks which speed up the loading process.



SEMI-AUTOMATIC TAPING MACHINES—Both machines capable of taping 2,000 boxes an hour. When the fully automated equipment is installed, they will tape 8,000 an hour.

Annual Roast Beef Dinner Planned

The late Father Thomas J. Collins, the guiding light behind St. Elizabeth Catholic Church's first roast beef dinner 20 years ago, would be pleased to see the continuing success of his idea as the church prepares for its 20th annual dinner this Sunday in the school hall.

Father Collins envisioned a project that would get the parishioners totally involved in working together and would also serve the community. This Sunday, St. Elizabeth's will host the annual dinner with roast beef, mashed potatoes and gravy, corn, relish plate, rolls and butter, coffee, tea, milk and homemade desserts. Dinner will be served from 11:30 to 6:30 p.m. Take-outs are available.

Twenty years ago the church didn't have its present big kitchen and ovens. The first roast beef dinner was fixed in a small kitchen without sinks-dishes were washed outside under tents!

Tickets for a promotion are available from chairman Mike McCann, any parishioner, or at the dinner.

First prize is a week's trip for two to the Grand Bahamas.

Chairman Pauline Pizana and her co-chairman, Charles Maskill hope that the combined efforts of many will make this event a success, financially as well as socially, with both old and new parishioners working together to help the church and the community.

Ray Herrick Wills Gift to Hospital

Estate of the late Ray Herrick, admitted to probate in Adrian, shows that the Tecumseh industrialist and philanthropist left most of his $14.5 million estate to his three favorite charities - Herrick Memorial Hospital, Adrian College and Howe Military Academy.

He owned over $12 million in Tecumseh Products stock and over $200,000 in United Savings Bank of Tecumseh stock. Mr. Herrick died April 13, 1973 at the age of 82, in the hospital that bears his name.

Herrick Memorial Hospital will receive 72,500 shares of Products stock, and the city already has received dividend checks amounting to over $155,000.

City records show checks received so far were $18,137.50, August 1973; $18,137.50, September 1973; $42,804.50, January 1974; $18,137.00, March 1974; $29,020, July 1974; and $29,202, September 1974.

Administrators of the estate will assign $4,312,074 - depending on the stock's worth at the time - to the local hospital, Adrian College and Howe Military.

In addition, the industrialist left $100,000 each to the Lenawee Youth Center in Adrian, better known as the Maurice Spear Campus, the St. Joseph Home for Children Inc. of Jackson and the city of Holland for the maintainance of the Herrick Public Library located there.

He also bequeathed $50,000 to the Holland school district to be used for the Hazel Forney Herrick Art Center in that city.

Of the four smaller bequests, Herrick suggested that the funds be put in trust with the governing bodies of the institutions spending only the interest or net income, saving the main body of the sum for "grave financial emergency when no other funds are available."

In the will, Herrick gave William C. Macbeth, "as a gift in appreciation of the friendship which has existed between us for many years," the right to purchase Herrick's home and furnishings for $35,000.

The residence, located at 807 Red Mill Drive, was appraised at $105,000 last December. Macbeth, however, renounced his willed right and the home goes over to the Herrick Foundation.

Also, Herrick left $10,000 each to his gardener Eulalio Pizana Jr., and his personal secretary, Dorothy Duncan. His housekeeper, Lee Clement, received $15,000.

The philanthropist specified that his seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren each receive $10,000. In addition, Herrick stipulated that his descendants share the net residuary of his estate. That sum is the remainder of the estate after taxes, bequests and other expenses have been paid.

Trustees and executors of the estate include his daughter and son, Catherine R. Cobb and Kenneth G. Herrick, along with a Grosse Pointe Farms attorney, Emmett E. Eagan.

PLAYERS REHEARSE — Rehearsals, such as seen here, are underway for the Tecumseh Players and their minstrel show, scheduled to open on Nov. 1. Three other performances, involving a cast of 24, are planned for the Glass Room at the Community Center.

'Minstrel' Is Old Favorite

How long has it been since you saw a minstrel show?

If the answer is "too long" the Tecumseh Players have the remedy: an old time minstrel show opening on Nov. 1, at the Glass Room of the Community Center.

Show continues on Nov. 2, 7 and 9 with curtain time at 8 p.m. On Sunday, Nov. 3, the players will perform at a special 7 p.m. show. This is the first time the Players have tried a Sunday performance especially for families and elderly residents.

Once a favorite form of entertainment in smaller towns throughout the country, minstrel shows are enjoying a revival of sorts in many areas. Their mellow songs and choral harmony (not to mention their corny jokes and their dance routines) seem to fit the pattern of nostalgia that has swept the country in recent months.

Players' program will feature many of the old-time minstrel favorites that are sure to leave the crowds humming and toes tapping. Stephen Foster and Al Jolson segments, spirituals and hymns will be offered.

Daily rehearsals are in progress at the Community Center. Betty Flanders and Caryl McLeod share musical direction of the show. Preston Caswell, a veteran of the Players' old minstrel shows, directs dialog.

Fred Taylor is Interlockner (lead) with six end men who share in the corny jokes on stage. Helen Bendes will accompany on piano. William Frownfelder is also a coordinator for the show, with a cast of 24.

There is a good news for the economic minded. The Players' have not raised the admission this year. Tickets are available from cast members and Flanders Music Co. Reservations for ticket holders may be made with Judy Crombez at 423-7670.

2½ Hours for Trick or Treat

Tecumseh's trick or treating hours have been designated as 6 to 8:30 p.m. with the start and conclusion noted by the city sirens at these times. Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department asks parents to please insure children observe the hours set aside for them.

Parents are requested to stay with the younger children and older children should be accompanied by friends. It is suggested for safety that Halloweners wear luminous outer garments and stay out of the streets.

Children's Halloween Parties have also been announced. Pre-schoolers will be entertained with treats and movies at a costume party at the Community Center Oct. 30 from 1 to 2:30 p.m.. On Thursday Oct. 31 grades kindergarten through third grade will party at Patterson School gym from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m.

Also on Oct. 31, fourth grade through sixth grade will party at Tecumseh Acres gym at the same hours.

Parents are asked to note the dates of Oct. 30 and 31 for these parties.

The Junior High School student dance will be held at the Community Center from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 31. with refreshments and a live band. There is a small admission.

Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department greatfully acknowleges the cooperation and assistance given by all the volunteers from the various service clubs, the use of the schools, and help of all others who help to make these annual parties a success.

Additional trick or treat guides are in this week's Herald.

Indian Victory over Flat Rock Vital for Crown

By FRANK WEIR

The Indians butt heads with the Flat Rock Rams this Friday night to decide the Huron League football championship. Both teams are undefeated in league decide the Huron League football championship. Both teams are undefeated in league play, although Tecumseh dropped it's non-league season opener against Chelsea. Flat Rock boasts a perfect season thus far.

During league play, the Indians have scored 208 points against their opponents while giving up 30 points. That comes out to a per game average of 41.6 points scored and six points given up for the five games played.

The Rams have scored exactly 100 points and given up only 12 points in their league play for an average of 20 and 2.4.

Indian coach Pat Connors is optimistic. However, he warns that Flat Rock is a solid team with the front line averaging 190 to 200 pounds. And, they're quick, Ram players to watch for, according to Connors, are the running backs Tom McEnhill and Bob Blosser and the quarterback Joe Tigue. Tigue has shown that he can throw the ball, and he's a "team leader."

But the Indians have thir share of quality players as well. "We've gotten excellent performance in the last few games, "Connors says. "You always work to eliminate mistakes and we've had fewer. Our running backs Jacoby, Duhan and Harvey have done well and our backs Egbert and Warner have been blocking. Our quarterback has really matured. Defensively, I can't cite any one person, they've all done well."

Connors likes to point out that 16 different Tecumseh players have scored this year. And that's versatility.

He isn't concerned about the fact that the big game is on the Rams own turf. "I don't pay much attention to it. You just confuse yourself. We usually have a good crowd with lots of local support. And that's always important to the players. I suppose it could be a disadvantage if nobody was in the stands."

In summation, Connors states, "Obviously, if we play less than our best, we could be in trouble. But if we play well, we've got a good shot at it. We'll be doing what we've done all year. What we've been working on has the best chance of proper execution. It's kind of late to be trying anything fancy. Flat Rock plays pretty much the way we do. They set up the passing game by running."

If any of you fans have yet to witness the Indians in action, this is the game to see. Below is a tabulation of the league scores and games both teams have played this season.

	Tecumseh	Flat Rock
Jefferson	30-8	17-6
Huron	62-0	45-0
Grosse Ile	54-8	7-6
Airport	29-14	17-0
Monroe CC		14-0
Carlson	33-0

UNICEF Drive next Monday

UNICEF drive for 1974-75 in Tecumseh will begin Monday at 4 p.m. and continue until 7 p.m. that evening, announces Mrs. Vern Manwaring, coordinator.

Local churches including the First Baptist, Gloria Dei Lutheran, First United Presbyterian, United Methodist, St. Elizabeth Catholic and St. Peter's Episcopal will participate in the drive by organizing drivers and children.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church will host this year's campaign. Participants will meet at the church before the drive begins and return at its conclusion for refreshments.

5th B&E in Area

Modular Circuitry, corner of Bidwell and N. Pearl St., was burglarized between 10 p.m. Tuesday and 6:30 a.m. Wednesday, making it the fifth business to be broken into in that general vicinity this month.

Items, known so far that were taken, include an electric typewriter and a radio. Value was placed below $200. Entry was gained by prying off a hasp on a rear door.

Others broken into in that area include Gloria Dei Lutheran and St. Peter's churches, Osburn Real Estate and Insurance and Eva's Beauty Bar.

Bid for School Tabled

Board of Education tabled a bid of $52,000 Monday evening for the Macon School. It was submitted by the Macon Lighthouse, a non-affiliated religious group which has been renting the facility.

Macon School, built in 1958, has not been operated as a school for two years, and the Board's discussion focussed on the prohibitive costs of re-opening the school and whether Tecumseh schools would ever expand in the Macon area.

The Board's Finance Committee plans to meet with representatives of Macon Lighthouse and the administration before the Board makes a decision to accept the bid, wait for additional bids, or offer a lease with option to purchase.

2nd Source for Project

At Monday night's regular Tecumseh city meeting, Council learned that there are two possible sources of income for the Russell Road construction project.

Original money available was the Federal Aid Secondary (FAS) funds, totaling $183,000. In 1973, a new assistance called Federal Aid Urban was available, but streets eligible for this money are not eligible for FAS money.

At the present time, that area from Rogers Hwy. to Mill Road is eligible for open FAS funds of $183,000. Mill Road to Adrian Street is eligible for FA urban in the amount of $105,000, which would handle construction within the city limits.

The two sources combined total $288,000, with the remainder of the estimated $580,000 cost of the project to be financed from a bond issue for the bridge itself.

To date the city has had two public hearings on the project. An environmental impact statement has been sent to the state highway department for consideration.

City Says No to Licensing

Monday night Councilmen expressed a consensus opinion to Cal Zorn, city manager that Council was not anxious to license the city's rescue vehicle and volunteers for ambulance service.

Council based its decision on the fact that existing ambulance service from the Lenawee County Sheriff and private enterprise is efficient and that it did not want to be in possible competition with private enterprise.

New Service for Seniors?

Report of the Tecumseh recreation department to the Council Monday night included the possibility of offering a one-day-a-week transportation service to take the elderly citizens to grocery stores, and other places by utilizing the department's bus.

A consensus of the Council asked city manager Cal Zorn to find out more about the possibility of the Tecumseh's participation in same such programs offered by the Lenawee Council on Aging.

New Permits Are Required

Because of an increased number of contractors filling in gutters when surfacing or resurfacing drive approaches, Council authorized city manager Cal Zorn to have an ordinance drafted to issue permits similar to those issued for sidewalk construction.

At the present time the only permits issued to construct upon a city street are for sidewalks. New permit for drive approach construction would be issued for one half cent per square foot, the same as sidewalk construction permits.

Ford Signature on Check

Tecumsehites know about the original John Hancock, but now an original Henry Ford signature may be viewed at the Tecumseh Public Library.

Monday night Council forwarded to the library, the historic $1 check for the sale of the William Hayden Milling Co. in 1931 to Henry and Clara Ford during the depression era.

Perry Satterthwaite, then manager of the company, sent the check to Council. He explained that the transaction was made to relocate Hayden Mills Inc. to its present S. Pearl St. location and employ townspeople during the depression.

Satterthwaite, who was personally acquainted with Ford, said that Ford helped many welfare families to their feet during the economic disaster.

Recreation Needs Most Favored

City council heard Sesquicentennial men's participation chairman, Dyke Helms, explain the rationale for the percentage distribution of Sesqui profits, approved by the Sesqui Executive committee.

Helms said that among the people he talked with, recreation needs were most frequently voiced. He emphasized the suggestions of the committee aimed at providing recreation facilities that did not exist and would serve the largest number of people.

Council received and placed the recommendations on file since a full Sesqui budget report is not yet complete.

New City Signs

"Tecumseh—Founded 1824" is the city limit sign Council decided Monday will grace M-50 at the east and west city limits.

Sign will be standard state highway sign with white lettering on a green field. But below it will be the founding date, which as councilman Aden Mead said, is a nice distinction for the city.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

A special exhibit "Styles and Tastes in the Decorative Arts, 1865-1914", will be on display at the Henry Ford Museum from Oct. 21 through Nov. 24. Designed to complement the Midwest Antiques Forum, this exhibit features furniture, paintings, photographs, ceramics, glass and other materials of the era drawn from the collections of the Museum and Greenfield Village.

Among the artisans and firms represented in this display are Rogers, Remington, Louis C. Tiffany, the Mount Washington, New England and Boston Sandwich Glass Companies and the Rockwood, Pewabic and Weller potteries.

Two Designs Shown at Board Meeting

Barry Brown, architectural designer with the Warren Holmes Company, presented two preliminary plans for the proposed high school Monday night at the Board of Education's October meeting.

Site location map, study of the site, and a more detailed area study were among the visual materials presented.

The first preliminary design was for a modified two-story building, while the second design was for a standard two-story structure. Both proposals utilize a total of 200,000 square feet, offer equal opportunity for expansion, and are estimated at the same cost.

Suggestion was made by William Macbeth, Board member, that the Board's Building Committee make a field trip to see other high schools in the state built by the company.

Richard Snyder, representing the company, noted that company estimates indicate the current rate of inflation is responsible for a one percent increase per month in total costs.

Non-resident Tuition Set

Tecumseh Board of Education unanimously adopted tuition rates Monday night for non-residents attending Tecumseh schools, on a scale formulated by the state. Maximum tuition for high school students is set at $190.46 for the year.

Only non-resident students permitted to attend Tecumseh High School on a tuition basis are seniors enrolled in Tecumseh High School the previous year, or others who can show cause due to extenuating circumstances.

One student is attending Tecumseh High School this year on a tuition basis.

MRS. LAVILLA TAYLOR

Services will be held Oct. 24 at 1 p.m. at the Proctor Funeral Home for Mrs. LaVilla Taylor, 91, of 210 W. Shawnee St., who died Monday evening in the Herrick Nursing Home where she had resided. She had been in failing health for four years.

She was born May 12, 1883 in New Brunswick, Canada, and graduated from New Brunswick High School and the New Brunswick School of Nursing. She married Chris R. Taylor May 29, 1927, and the Taylors moved to Tecumseh in 1928. Mr. Taylor was a barber in Tecumseh for many years. He preceded her in death Nov. 29, 1966.

She was a member of the Tecumseh Presbyterian Church, the Rebekah Samaritan Lodge 18 of the Order of Odd Fellows of Detroit, and the Tecumseh American Legion Auxiliary.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Laura McCaig of Seattle, Wash., and several nieces and nephews including Mrs. Dale (Doretta) Douglas of Detroit who cared for her for many years.

In addition to her husband, she was preceded in death by three sisters and four brothers.

The Rev. Edmond Watkins will officiate at the services. Burial will follow in Brookside Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Proctor Funeral Home.

HARRY G. COX

Harry G. Cox, 82, of 7128 Centennial Road died unexpectedly at his home last Wednesday.

Born July 12, 1892 in Ridgeway Township, he was married in 1915 to Rose McCarbery and she preceded him in death in 1956.

He was a farmer by occupation on his own farm. He was a lifelong resident of this area, a former member of the Eagles of Tecumseh and a member of the Tecumseh Grange.

Survivors are one son Lester of Britton, one grandson Richard of Tecumseh, one granddaughter Janice Cox of Britton and four great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by one half-brother.

Funeral services were Saturday at the Niblack Home for Funerals at Britton. The Rev. Robert Porter officiated with burial at Ridgeway Cemetery.

CLARENCE SPELLER

Services were held Tuesday at Ridgeway Cemetery for Clarence Speller, 65, who died at 1:10 p.m. Oct. 18 at the Michigan Veterans facilities in Grand Rapids where he had lived for the past 10 years.

Speller was a former resident of Tecumseh for 14 years prior to living in Grand Rapids, and was formerly employed by the Tecumseh Products Co.

Born Sept. 10, 1909 in Midland, he was the son of Danford and Stella (Davis) Speller. He was a veteran of World War II and served in Iwo Jima and the Aleutian Islands.

He was a member of the VFW of Tecumseh and of the Tecumseh Eagles.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Harvey (Florence) Pixley of Sand Lake, and a niece and nephew, both of Florida.

The Rev. Edmond Watkins officiated at the services. Arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home.

CLARENCE H. FELDKAMP

Clarence H. Feldkamp, 83, of 131 E. Church St., Clinton, died Monday at 7:35 a.m. in Herrick Memorial Hospital. He had been in ill health for a year.

Born Jan. 29, 1891 in Bridgewater Twp., he was the son of George L. and Caroline (Voegeding) Feldkamp. He married Lenore E. Mahrle who survives.

Feldkamp was a retired mason and a member of Masonic Lodge 175.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Maurice (Barbara June) Goll of Adrian, one son, David J. of Glen Arbor; six grand children and six great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two sisters.

Memorial services will be conducted by Masonic Lodge 175 of Clinton Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton.

Feldkamp's body has been given to Michigan Medical Facilities, Ann Arbor for anatomical purposes.

VERL M. MILLER

Verl M. Miller, 72, died Oct. 22 at 3:55 p.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Oct. 21. Miller had been in failing health for the last two years. He resided at 5157 Wyman Road, Tipton.

Miller retired seven years ago from Tecumseh Products Co. where he had been employed 28½ years. Prior to that, he had worked at the Woolen Mill in Clinton, and had been a milk hauler for Van Camp's Condensary in Adrian.

Born March 19, 1902 in Britton, he married the former Eileen Richardson on Aug. 7, 1920 in Adrian and she survives.

Miller was a former member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge in Tipton.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Allison (Virginia) MacGregor of Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. Jeanette Heimerdinger of Clinton; Mrs. Lloyd (Verla) McMichael of Adrian; one son, Charles J. Miller of Onsted; one brother, Harel Miller of Detroit; 11 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday, Oct. 25 at the Proctor Funeral Home in Tecumseh beginning at 1:30 p.m. with the Rev. David Holly officiating. Burial will be at Tipton Cemetery. Friends may call at the Proctor Funeral Home after 7 p.m. Wednesday evening, Oct. 23.

Bell Will Be Relocated

Council approved the paving of a parking lot, formerly the Williamson property, at Monday night's meeting. It is located in the Southeast business block

Acting on a letter from the Little Garden Club council asked city manager Cal Zorn to set aside an island of green in the lot for the restoration and re-erection of the original fire bell.

Council felt that the area would give relief to the asphalt construction and be more appropriate in the location nearer the origin of the bell, than at the Adams Park site.

New Ordinance Approved

Tecumseh city council approved the first reading of ordinance 3.3092 on conduct of disorderly persons. City attorney Greg Forsthoefel explained that this ordinance would reinforce the existing city code.

New ordinance carries a penalty of $100 and or 90 days in the county jail for those found guilty of the misdemeanor.

Council commended the attorney on the ordinance.

MR. and MRS. DAVID S. BIRD

Vows Spoken at St. Elizabeth

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the setting for the Oct. 11 wedding of Kathy S. Karle and David S. Bird, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vincent Howard of St. Elizabeth Church and the Rev. Terry Smith of the First Congregational Church of Ann Arbor officiating. Sister Denise, of Siena Heights College, was organist and soloist was Cy Desmet of Tecumseh.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Karle of 3010 M-50, Tipton. Groom is the son of Mrs. Douglas W. Bird of 4508 Macon Road, Tecumseh and the late Douglas W. Bird.

Bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, wearing a white satin peau gown in the Victorian style. Bodice and bishop sleeves were trimmed with Venice lace, with a double ruffle at the hem formed of satin peau and Venice lace. Her Camelot headpiece trimmed with Venice lace fastened a chapel veil and blusher. She wore an opal necklace, a gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of orchids and white sweetheart roses.

Bride chose Ann Mary Lopez of Ridgeway as maid of honor. She wore a blue jersey gown with long sleeves, ruffled stand-up collar, cuffs and empire waist, and a headpiece fashioned of daisies and blue ribbon. She carried a nosegay of variegated flowers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Miller of Portsmouth, Va., sister of the groom, and Mrs. Greg Sebring of Ypsilanti, who wore gowns like that of the maid of honor and carried similar bouquets.

Michael Tilton of Tecumseh was best man. Groomsmen were Douglas Bird of Tecumseh, brother of the groom, and Bill Caswell of Ypsilanti. Ushers were Brian Bird of Tecumseh, brother of the groom, and James Karle of Tipton, brother of the bride.

A reception for 225 guests at the United Products Workers Union Hall followed the ceremony. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Edward Blatt of Tecumseh, Mrs. Gary Alcock of Tecumseh, Mrs. Jerry Karle of Cincinnati, Ohio, aunt of the bride, and Lisa and Becky Gregory of Tipton, cousins of the bride. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gregory of Tipton, aunt and uncle of the bride.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's mother Oct. 10 at Don's Beef Buffet.

Bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and of Ferris State College. She is a member of De Ha Zeta sorority and is employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. Groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Ferris State College. He is employed at Inland Schultz of Milan.

After a wedding trip to Canada and Niagara Falls, the couple will reside at 9780 Wisner Hwy., Tipton.

Addressed Envelopes

Members of the Welcome Wagon Club of Tecumseh who participated in the addressing of envelopes for the Community Fund's community mailing as part of the annual Fund drive included Joyce Briggs, Mary Neibarger, Vera Clark, Debbie Debow, Pat Funk, Betty Price, Joyce Butters, Jane Alspach, Bernice Carroll, Joanne Kuhiman, Judy Burnside, Judy Thompson president, and Marilyn Radant.

Parents Welcome

An Open House will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Oct. 24 at the Herrick Park School. The evening provides the opportunity for children to bring their parents and introduce them to their 1974-75 teachers.

Top Notchers Organize

An organizational and get acquainted meeting will be held for the Tecumseh Top Notchers 4-H Club Oct. 28 at 8 p.m. in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carlton Cook, 140 W. Brown St.

Those interested in joining this year are invited to attend, with parents and children welcome. Children ages 10 to 18 are eligible.

Top Notchers will be awarded fair prizes at this time and bulbs will be distributed.

Doug Shuherk, Lenawee 4-H program advisor, will be present to explain the 4-H program in the county and what is available in Tecumseh.

School Board Approves Budget

Tecumseh Board of Education held a public hearing Monday night and unanimously approved the adoption of the 1974-75 budget, based on estimated revenue projection for the year.

Total budget of $4,412,436 reflects property tax revenue estimate of $2,134,480, $1,745,114 in state membership aid for the official total enrollment of 3,686 students, $216,357 in other revenue from state and county aid and other sources, and the July 1, 1974 fund equity of $456,556.

Estimated excess revenue and fund equity is projected at $142,071.

New budget shows a 15.29 percent increase over last year's budget. Budget breakdown indicates 81.5 percent, or $3,600,000, allocated for salaries, with 63.4 percent of the figure directed for instructional salaries and 18.1 percent in non-instructional salaries.

An 18.5 percent of the estimated budget, or $812,376, is allocated for non-salary items such as capital outlay and insurance.

Assistant Superintendent Eugene Cooley stressed that increased costs due to inflation have hit the school system in addition to citizens and businesses.

Consumable products, such as paper and textbooks, show price increases ranging from 25 to 75 percent.

MRS. GAYLORD LONG

Friends Church Is Setting for Vows

Vows of matrimony were recited by Peggy Sue Iffland and Gaylord Long Oct. 19 in the Tecumseh Friends Church before the Rev. Dane Ruff. Mrs. Ashley Chase was organist and Gene Mackay, soloist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Iffland of 603 Stacy St. and Mr. and Mrs. John Long of 403 Seminole Drive.

Bride approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing a gown of white sandpebble crepe trimmed with Chantilly lace on the yoke, sleeves, hem and Victorian collar. Waistline was accented with satin ribbon forming a bow at the back which fastened a train trimmed with satin and lace. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a lace cap, white blown glass earrings, a gift of the groom, and carried a 27 year old white Bible trimmed with orange blossoms and yellow roses.

Maid of honor was Ruth Lavender of Tecumseh, who wore a pumpkin orange crepe gown with white floral cape collar and orange velvet sash. Her white hat was also trimmed with orange velvet ribbon and she carried a bouquet of fall colored mums, roses and daisies.

Bridesmaids were Tari Iffland, sister of the bride, Sharon Furgason, and Linda Pace, all of Tecumseh. Attendants all wore gowns and hats like that of the maid of honor, and carried similar flowers.

Flower girl was Kris Blum of Columbus, Ohio, cousin of the bride, who wore a pumpkin orange long dress with white pinafore and flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet fashioned like that of the attendants.

Kent Blumerick of Tecumseh was best man. Ushers were Eric Long and Greg Long, brothers of the groom, and Greg Iffland, brother of the bride, all of Tecumseh.

Ringbearer was Scott Long of Tecumseh, nephew of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception of 150 guests was held at the church. Mrs. Kenneth Iffland, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Greg Long, sister-in-law of the groom, poured at the reception. Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Loken of Windom, Minn., grandparents of the bride, Jeff Long, brother of the groom, and Randy Iffland, brother of the bride.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the groom at the Country House restaurant.

Bride is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School, and the groom is a 1973 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

After a wedding trip to the north, the couple will reside on Ottawa St.

Pam Eggleston, George Feezel Are Married

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eggleston announce the marriage of their daughter, Pamela, to George Feezel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Feezel.

The wedding took place Saturday evening at the Tecumseh Country Club with Harold Easton, mayor of Tecumseh and close friend of the family, officiating.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple will reside at 317 N. Maiden Lane.

Shower Honors Deborah Rieve

Deborah Rieve of Tipton was guest of honor at a bridal shower recently in the social rooms of the Tecumseh Friends Church. Approximately 45 guests participated in games after which Deborah opened many gifts.

Mrs. Roland Mohr was the recipient of the door prize. Refreshments were served by hostesses Audrey Burch, Mrs. Raynor Van Valkenburg and Mrs. Ronald Van Valkenburg. Miss Rieve will become the bride of Dale Couts Oct. 26 at Tecumseh Friends Church.

Selected Member

Dr. Hewes resigned before moving to Benton Harbor.

Schwyn, a life-long resident of the county, was born in Riga, April 6, 1918 and is a graduate of Blissfield High School. He is a member of the Blissfield Chamber of Commerce and the Blissfield Methodist Church.

Tubbs - Gibbs Speak Vows

The Rev. Robert Porter officiated at the Oct. 12 nuptials of Linda Marie Tubbs and Timothy Jon Gibbs which were celebrated in Grace United Methodist Church, Britton. Mrs. William Raeburn was organist and Thomas Schroeder, soloist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. LaVon Tubbs of 139 Smith St., Britton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gibbs of 405 Oak St.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing a white polyester gown with mandarin collar. The gown's bishop sleeves and sheer yoke were trimmed with re-embroidered lace. She wore a mantilla veil edged with wide bands of lace, and diamond earrings, a gift of the groom. Her bridal bouquet was fashioned with white roses, carnations, chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

The bride chose her sister, Mrs. William Valentino of Bensenville, Ill. as matron of honor. She wore a brown floral gown with yellow picture hat, and carried a crescent shaped bouquet of straw flowers and yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Marcia Tubbs of Britton, sister of the bride, Tammy Gibbs of Britton, sister of the groom, and Cheryl Vallie of Britton. Attendants all wore brown floral gowns with melon picture hats and carried yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

Jennifer Crutchfield of Tecumseh, cousin of the groom, was flower girl and wore a brown floral gown, carrying a small basket of fall flowers.

Kirk Crutchfield of Tecumseh, uncle of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Randy Reitz of Britton, and Mark Cline of Britton, cousin of the groom, and Keith Crutchfield of Britton, uncle of the groom served as groomsman.

Troy Gibbs of Britton, brother of the groom, was ring bearer.

A reception for 425 guests was held in Ida following the ceremony. Hosts for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sotler and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bower, all of Britton, aunts and uncles of the groom. Assisting at the reception were Cheryl Bater of Tecumseh, cousin of the bride, Sue Leader and Pat Teriesky, both of Adrian.

Bride is a 1972 graduate of Britton-Macon High School and is employed at Burger Ranch in Adrian. Groom is a 1974 graduate of Britton-Macon High School and attends Washtenaw Community College. He is employed at the Manchester Tool and Die Co.

Parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Hathaway House in Blissfield.

The couple are now residing at Water Wheels Estates, Clinton.

Make Costumes Safe for Halloween

Trick or treating is not until Oct. 31 but Halloween costumes are probably in the planning stages for many children. Whatever costume you devise, plan on including the safety tips suggested by the National Safety Council, the Michigan Optometric Association and others.

"I didn't see him in time" is the most common explanation given by drivers hitting pedestrians, particularly at night when a driver's view is limited to the length of the headlight beam.

Check costumes to make sure they're light in color, short enough to prevent tripping, and non-flammable. For greater visibility, decorate costumes with reflective tape or bands so that they glow in the beams of a car's headlights.

Use colorful facial make-up instead of masks. A poorly fitted mask which can slip easliy out of position or one with small eye slits poses a potential danger because it can block a child's view of oncoming cars, objects in his path, a hole, a step or a curb.

Make-up should preferably be of the non-allergic type and should be applied by an adult in the case of young children to avoid getting make-up particles or applicators in a child's eyes.

Homeowners who wish to participate should turn on porch and yard lights. For safety, children should be advised to go only to homes which are lit. Homeowners should clear porches, steps, and yards of toys, yard tools and any other potentially hazardous objects.

Dogs may become upset with costumed strangers. Owners should secure their dogs and children encouraged to be quiet and cautious.

Parents should discuss the child's route, know his companions, supervision and activities planned and set a reasonaable time to return home. Advise youngsters to carry flashlights after dark and encourage only young children under 13 years old to participate.

Children should wait until they get home to sample treats. Inspect them, wash and cut fruit, discard unwrapped and opened items.

Courtesy always counts. Encourage children to say "thank you," know the difference between fun and vandalism and not push each other.

Last but not lease; promote the basic pedestrian rules of the National Safety Council: cross only at corners, look in all directions before crossing, obey traffic lights, walk, never run across the street, and use the sidewalks on the street for walking.

Strategy Discussed

At Monday night's School Board meeting a report was made on a recent investigatory meeting between Tecumseh senior and junior high school administrators, Wayne Kaiser, director of curriculum, Eugene Cooley, Assistant Superintendent, and Robert Duhan, Superintendent of Schools and William Bannick of Ned Hubbel Associates.

Ned Hubbel Associates, a public relations firm, specializes in recommending possible procedures for bond issue campaigns. Tecumseh administrators met with Bannick as part of a preliminary investigation concerning a possible bond issue for the proposed high school.

Recommendations made by Bannick include identifying the probable "yes" voters and voters with young children who would be most affected in a school bond issue; holding small group, rather than large, open, meetings to inform voters of the issue; the naming of an advisory committee; and suggestions as to the best month during which to take a final vote.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland D. Horton of Sand Lake will be honored by their children at an open house, Oct. 27, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives are invited to the Raisin Valley Friends Church, three miles north of Adrian on M-52, from 2 to 5 p.m. They request that gifts be omitted. Esther L. Lehman and Rolland D. Horton were married Oct. 30, 1924 by the Rev. Frank H. Lewis in Adrian. Mr. Horton retired from the Tecumseh Products Co. Dec. 1967. The couple have two daughters, Mrs. Gerold E. (Lois Ann) Spencer of Clinton and Mrs. Keith H. (Janet Lee) Perkins of Adrian, five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Drug Policy Changed

Tecumseh School Board adopted a new Student Safety Policy Monday night to replace the drug policy in effect since October 1970.

The new policy, based on the right of due process, gives the school administration authority to recommend to the Board expulsion of any student found in the possession or use of controlled or narcotic drugs, alcoholic beverages or weapons, or found in the possession of money or goods obtained either by force or threat of force, while on school property.

Conviction in a court of law for any of these offenses would also be grounds for recommended expulsion.

New policy grants students charged with such offenses the right to appeal to the Board of Education and demonstrate cause for dismissal of the charge. The Board would serve as the judicial body in such cases.

Previous drug policy gave administration officials authority to suspend students guilty of such infractions on school grounds for the remainder of the semester, with suspension for the duration of the school year authorized upon court conviction of an offense.

The new policy adds possession or use of alcoholic beverages and weapons to the list of violations.

Believe it or not, there are about twenty-seven different types of burshes made. Most of these are very rarely used by the average do-it-yourself painter. There are some basic brushes which are almost necessary. Sash brushes, varnish and enamel brushes, flat trim brushes, and flat wall brushes are among the most popular. Sash brushes are small and flat and used for windows and narrow trim. Varnish and enamel brushes have long bristles and are soft. Flat trim brushes are for narrow work, where as the wall brushes are also used for general work also.

Unfortunately, we are not all blessed with perfect facial contours—no one is. So that means that in order to look our best, it is necessary for most everyone of us to make some compromises and adjustments--usually it takes only a few minor changes to aid nature, and make any face as attractive as possible. How do you know what your best look is? It takes a certain amount of trial and error, of course. Of utmost importance, however, is to choose someone to help you decide what hair style is best suited for you. Choose someone competent--it will be important to every other thing you do!

The most beautiful women in the world are probably extremely careful about the cleanliness and good order of their personal effects. It is impossible to be consistently well-groomed among a chaos of cleansing creams while unable to find one clean bit of cotton. Separate those things that are absolutely essential to your beauty regimen, and keep them in a place that belongs only to you. When this is done, you alone are responsible for their good working order.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

By LIBBY LINCOLN

Now that cold weather is with us once again, stick-to-your-ribs meals are the order of the day. Casseroles, or meat dishes with accompanying potatoes, noodles, and or vegetables, have re-assumed prime importance on the kitchen table, supplanting the summer salads and lighter meals which filled summertime plates.

Hearty menus don't have to be ordinary, however, as those who have tasted Mrs. Robert Hunt's Leg of Lamb with its subtle blend of herbs and wine marinade and gravy would assure you. Almina and her husband Bob reside at 9849 Murphy Hwy.

Mrs. Hunt serves this dish with baked apples and a potato. Baked, roasted or mashed potatoes, or buttered noodles, with a vegetable or tossed salad would make any meal featuring Leg of Lamb both robust and sophisticated.

For those who don't usually cook with wine, this recipe might make a wonderful introduction. As a rule, dry rather than sweet wines should be used for cooking, and should be added to a dish when it is nearly finished cooking, as the flavor can dissipate through heat. Teetotalers need not worry as almost all of the alcoholic content evaporates in the cooking process.

Dry vermouth or dry sherry make acceptable substitutes for wine should your wine cellar be depleted. A dash of wine, dry vermouth or sherry can perk up stew, pot roast, chicken- just about anything once you begin experimenting. Add red wine to chicken and you have Coq au Vin Chicken with Wine), a classic French dish. Although the French have traditionally been the masters of wine cookery , more and more Americans are joining the club and jazzing up ordinary dishes with a splash of the grape.

ALMINA HUNT'S RECIPE FOR LEG OF LAMB

1 cup white wine
½ cup water
1 cup olive oil
1 tbsp. lemon juice
1 onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1 tsp. tarragon vinegar
1 tsp. crushed marjoram
1½ tsp. salt
8 peppercorns, crushed
1 tsp. crushed rosemary

Combine wine, water, oil, lemon juice, onion and garlic. Stir in vinegar and remaining spices. Pour herb-wine mixture over leg of lamb and let marinate overnight.

Place lamb on rack in roasting pan and baste with marinade. Roast in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 2½ hours or until meat thermometer registers 175-180 degrees depending upon desired degrees of doneness. Serve with herb gravy made from the pan drippings.

Reports on Education Day

A report on last Friday's Inservice Education Day was submitted by Supt. Robert Duhan at the Board of Education meeting Monday night.

Six guest speakers from the Downriver Learning Disability Center in Wyandotte participated in the day's activities, which revolved around the theme of learning disabilities.

Inservice Education Days are held in October and February. Duhan suggested that in the future the days might be held back to back in order to facilitate in-depth learning experiences and necessary follow-up.

Now that the Community Fund drive is officially kicked off and running, a public word of appreciation is due to hardworking chairman and co-chairman Barbara Blanden and Mary Bowers. They, along with the Fund's board of directors and division chairmen, have put in many a long hour in preparation for this 15th annual campaign. The Fund made the library and many other civic improvements a reality in the city—and your contributions can continue these capital improvements, support a variety of charities and organizations andin addition, make Fund workers awfully happy.

Town Hall Series Presents LeGoff

Jack LeGoff, who has earned the title "Dean of Detroit Newscasters" after 20 years as a television news broadcaster, criticized that "breed of politician who, by their incessant fault finding and subversive attempt to knock everyone's idea but their own," have created the era of "political wariness," and corrupted the country's government and its young.

Speaking last Thursday to about 175 at the opening Croswell Town Hall series, LeGoff defended broadcasting from those who accuse it of being the cause of America's ills.

"Under big government, free broadcasting has not fully found its voice to respond to irresponsible, self-serving critics," he said.

"Wider access for 'better' television and proposed regulation as the key to broadcasting is now in threat of choking off what these fringe groups seek to achieve," warned LeGoff.

He explained that these fringe groups who try to obtain access fail to understand that "broadcasting, far more than print media, bends over backwards to the point of self-destruction, to be fair and objective." He detailed for the audience how an editorial board of three determine who may reply to TV 2 editorials. He said that any objections that groups may have are collected in a public file which is important when the station's license is reviewed for renewal every three years.

Answering a question from the audience, LeGoff said that the fears of "tightening our belts" and "going the way of George Orwell's 1984," regarding program selection and censorship, are justified to some degree. He cited inflation as the number one cause of rising fear.

He explained that public broadcasting is costly but that these are not the kinds of programs that the majority of the public will watch.

"You are the exception," he told the Croswell patrons. "Most of the viewing audience would prefer to watch 'blood and guts' programs, which are a saleable commodity."

He cited winning advertisers for public broadcasting as a big problem and said that the task of broadcasting "to fill the airwaves with good programming day in and day out, is insurmountable."

In concluding his address, LeGoff said that "we of shared purpose" have to improve broadcasting's performance and community service. He warned not to fall into complacency and encouraged those with objections to write the networks.

LeGoff, broadcaster for WJBK, Channel 2, along with his news team partner of seven years, John Kelly, introduced the famed "Detroit news broadcast style," which features relaxed, "happy talk" and a humourous story or "kicker" at the close of the broadcast.

LeGoff is a 1948 graduate of broadcasting from Columbia College in Chicago. After a brief career as a disc jockey in Illinois and Ohio, he joined TV 2.

He and his wife, Peggy have one child, 17 year old Susie.

For more information about other Croswell Town Hall lectures readers may phone the box office at 263-5674.

Additional evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Brock of Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Worstass Jr. of Hudson.

Garden Club Repeats Sale

More than 600 flowering crab trees burst into bloom around Tecumseh last spring, evidence of one the most successful projects the Little Garden Club had undertaken to raise funds for Adams Park.

Because so many of those who bought trees asked for more, and because some $500 remains to be paid for the park, the Little Garden Club has decided to repeat the project, this time offering an even wider variety of flowering trees.

All the five types have white blossoms and tiny fruit which is attractive to birds. All also have good autumn color. The fruits, which will hang on the branches until eaten, add to the attractiveness in wintertime.

Included in the sale will be Amelanchier (June Berry), White Redbud, Japanese Dogwood, Bradford Pear, and Washington Hawthorne. The Dogwood will be balled and burlapped, and the others will be bare rooted. They will be offered for sale through November, with delivery in April.

Photographs in color of the trees can be seen now in downtown Tecumseh at the United Savings and First Federal offices. Next month they will be displayed in the chain grocery stores. Mrs. Judson Miles is chairman of the project, and all garden club members will take orders for the trees.

"We are truly grateful to the people of Tecumseh, who have given so generously of their time and money to help us develop Adams Park, commented Mrs. Carson House Jr., club president.

"We particularly enjoyed our tree sale two years ago because we were helping people to beautify their own homes," she added.

Those who wish to give trees as Christmas presents will receive gift cards when they place their orders.

The trees were selected with the guidance of Jack Wikle, woody plant specialist at Hidden Lake Gardens, who recommends all for their long-beauty and freedom from pests.

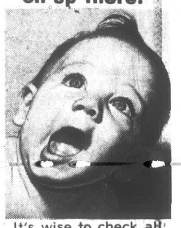
Priorities Unequal?

Did you know that the annual income of the United Nations Children's Fund is less than the amount spent on world armaments in two hours. For the price of two Air Force fighter bombers, UNICEF can provide the vaccine to protect 226 million children from tuberculosis.

"What's going on up there!"



It's wise to check all furnace flues and pipes — if clogged or obstructed, or not properly insulated from burnable surfaces, they can cause disastrous fires. It pays to have a professional furnace check each fall for sensible fire prevention.

Holloway Happenings

by Helen Smoll 263-9259

HOLLOWAY—It was a pleasant surprise to the German family, when 50 members of the Jolly Senior Citizen group from Dearborn, chartered a bus and took a color tour through Tecumseh, which they spoke of as a beautiful town. They viewed Irish Hills and some of the surrounding communities. After dining out at the Country House they visited Germain's orchard where they saw a nearly 100 year old cider mill. While there, they enjoyed apples and cider. William German explained how the cider was processed.

The Holloway Homemakers 4-H Club was held at the Presbyterian Church. Program booklets for the year were distributed and discussed. Plans for the Christmas party were made with the teen leaders in charge.

Winter dues are to be paid by the December meeting. It was announced that the project mothers will have a meeting at the Lenawee Vo-Tech, Nov. 12; all mothers are invited.

It was decided to have an emblem for the club with each girl submitting her entry. These are to be turned in at the end of the Winter projects.

Mrs. J.C. Calhoun of Clark Lake, was guest of honor at a baby shower, given by Mrs. G.W. Calhoun add Mrs. M. Leslie Calhoun.

Leaf Burning Rules Discussed

A Pied Piper to sweep away all the falling leaves and free Tecumseh of the accumulating piles? Wishful thinking.

Meanwhile residents and city officials have to deal with the problem realistically. Due to a problem with delivery of leaf bags, regular pick-ups may be less manageable this year.

City has asked residents to cooperate with pick-up during the bag dilemna by filling any available containers or bags.

The situation has also raised questions about open burning of leaves.

Under state environmental control guidelines and city code the backyard burning of household refuse including yard trimmings and leaves can be allowed; however it is not a recommended practice and is discouraged.

In the city of Tecumseh, burning is not allowed on the public right of way, which includes street and sidewalk. Burning on the streets damages asphalt.

Prohibitions on open burning have evolved because of the need to protect the health and welfare of the public and to properly manage disposal techniques of solid and liquid wastes.

The Michigan Air Pollution Control Rules and Regulations adopted under the provisions of the Air Pollution Control Act. 348, Public Acts of 1965, as amended, clearly prohibit open burning, except where special permission of Acts of 1965. Special permission which is very limited, may be granted in designated areas by the health department having jurisdiction or by the Department of Natural Resources.

The Forest Fire Law, Act 329, Public Acts of 1969, requires that at any time the ground is not snow-covered, a person shall not burn any flammable material on or adjacent to forest land, except for domestic purposes, without a permit from the Department of Natural Resources or its authorized representative.

The following types of open burning are specifically not to be allowed.

1. The open burning of refuse from a multiple dwelling is not allowed.
2. The open burning of refuse at commercial an industrial sites is not allowed.
3. The open burning of building demolition or excess construction material is not allowed.
4. The open burning of automobiles or parts thereof is not allowed.
5. Open burning of highly flammable, toxic or explosive materials cannot be allowed without special approval from the Department. There may be occasions in any area of the State resulting from accidents in the handling and transportation of these materials where removal is not possible and where controlled burning would eliminate a jeopardy to the public health, safety and environment. Every effort should be extended to eliminate the need for such emergency burning.

Burning under special conditions may be permitted providing such operations are not in violation of a local ordinance and do not create a nuisance or hazard to health.

Consideration should be given to local weather conditions and related factors so as to avoid causing any nuisance or hazard to health. These special conditions, which include backyard burning as mentioned, are:

1. Burning of refuse is allowed in incinerators which can perform in such a manner as to comply with the Air Pollution Control Rules and Regulations.

2. Fires purposely set for the actual instruction and training of public and industrial fire fighting personnel may be allowed. Not to be construed to mean that building demolitions, as such, be designated as a training function.

3. Camp fires and fires used for outdoor cooking and other recreational purposes or ceremonial occasions may be allowed.

4. The following types of burning can be allowed subject to the conditions cited above provided such burning is conducted a minimum of 1400 feet from the nearest incorporated city or village limit:

a. Burning of trees, logs, brush and stumps at land clearing operations in rural areas may be allowed. Tires, plastics and similar materials are not to be used in such fires.

b. Burning of trees, logs, brush and stumps at refuse disposal operations in rural areas may be allowed provided such material is isolated from the general refuse.

c. Fires purposely set to agricultural lands for disease and pest control and other accepted agricultural and wildlife management practices may be allowed.

d. Fires purposely set to forest lands for accepted management practices may be allowed.

e. Fires purposely set for rural railroads rights-of-way maintenance to reduce potential fire hazards may be allowed. Open burning of rights-of way in residential or populated areas is not permitted.

Drop In Center Program

Community Drop In Center will present a program entitled "Laws-legal aspects that affect you" Tuesday, Oct. 29 at the Community Center at 9:30 a.m.

Guest speaker will be Sister Loretto Broderick O.P., Adrian. Sister Loretto is legal counsel for the Adrian Dominican congregation, and also accepts court appointed indigent persons.

Mrs. Sally Crause will be chairman for the program. A coffee break at 10:15 a.m. will be followed by a continuation of the legal discussion with a question and answer period.

"Let's talk about us" will be the topic for the special interest group which will meet at 10:30 a.m.

Hostesses for the program will be Mrs. Charlene Bartenslager, Mrs. Jane Clark and Mrs. Sally Crause. Mrs. Judi Crawford was program co-ordinator for October. Mrs. Donna Abraham will coordinate the November programs.

Babysitters at the Oct. 15 meeting were Tim Prettyman, Peter Graf, Marcia Bale and Valerie Egli.

Local Actress Stars In Adrian Play

A cast of five women, four Adrian College coeds and Judy Vanzo of Tecumseh, will open the 1974-75 Adrian Theatre season with Paul Zindel's Pulitzer prize play, "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-In-The-Moon-Marigolds." Opening night is 8 p.m. Oct. 24 with repeat performances Friday and Saturday in Downs Studio Theatre on the Adrian College campus.

Reservations may be made by calling the Dawson Auditorium box office (ext. 227) between 1 and 5 p.m. beginning Oct. 21.

Mrs. Vanzo, a teacher for the Lenawee Intermediate Schools, has acted with the Tecumseh Players, Jackson Civic Theatre, Clark Lake Players and the Croswell Summer Theatre.

Directed by Seth Weston, the play presents the story of Beatrice Hunsdorfer, a frowsy, acid-tongued mother who supports herself and two daughters, Ruth and Tillie, by taking in an elderly boarder, Nanny (played by Mrs. Vanzo). Tillie, Beatrice's youngest daughter, undertakes a gamma-ray experiment with marigolds. The experiment proves something beautiful and full of promise from the most barren soil and helps to strengthen the relationship between the family members.

Costume Square Dance Held

The 4-H Square Dance Club, whose officers include Jack Barrett and Fred Long of Tecumseh, will hold a Halloween Costume Square Dance Oct. 26 at the Project Building located at the north end of the Lenawee fairgrounds. Elwood Bush will be the caller and the dance, which is open to all, begins at 8 p.m. Admission will be charged.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips

423-5213

Wonder if John Chapman, alias Johnny Appleseed, 1775-1847, a frontiersman who travelled 40 years throughout Ohio, Indiana and Illinois planting apple seeds as he went, ever dreamed his endeavors would reach such fruitation?

Orchards are big business these days, as anyone who has visited one of the large number of them can testify. Most of our several thousand varities are descended from the wild apple of Asia. Forty to 50 varities of these are economically important. We all are familiar with Jonathan, McIntosh and Delicious varities; some lesser known names include Yellow Newton, Rhode Island Greening, Duchess of Oldenburg, Ben Davis, York Imperial and Wealthy.

Johnny got us off to a good start, but the fruit produced from his trees would be considered inferior by orchard standards today. An apple tree raised from a seed without grafting is called a seedling, and the fruit is usually not as good as that produced by a tree which has had a twig from another young tree spliced on.

Apples are mostly water—85 percent—but are rich in fruit sugars, Vitamin A and aid the digestion. Perhaps that knowledge is what prompted "An apple a day keeps the doctor away."

About 25 people turned out for Macon Historical Society's square dance Saturday night—enough for three sets who do-si-doed, promenaded and laughed a lot to the expert calling of Elwood Bush.

Sheets were available for those who wished to sign up to work on various committees. The nominations committee announced its slate of officers: Bob Bush, president; Sharon Connors, vice president; Linda Phillips, secretary and Marilyn Bagby, treasurer. Nominations from the floor will also be accepted before the election at the next meeting Nov. 19.

Members and interested persons will meet that evening at 7 p.m. in the Clara Waldron room of the Tecumseh Library, after which they will hear, with members of the Tecumseh Historical Society, a program given by John Collins, president of the Marshall Historical Society.

Book Fair Opens November 3,4,5

CLINTON—Third Annual Book Fair will be sponsored by the United Methodist Women, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 3, 4 5.

More than $2,000 worth of books from an Ann Arbor book store will be displayed for purchase. Proceeds from the event will be used to provide books for the church library.

Children's books will include paperback award winning books, Christmas books, story books, Bible stories, craft and coloring books. There will be a large selection of the Laura Ingalls Wilder books.

For teens and adults there are novels, various translations of Bible, study aides, devotional literature and books about family and personal living. Where paperbacks are available, they will be sold at reasonable cost.

Book Fair will be held in the Clinton Methodist Church Social Hall, Nov. 3, from noon to 3 p.m.; Nov. 4, 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and Nov. 5, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There will be a story hour for pre-school and elementary children, Nov. 4, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Educational Building, open to all children. Everyone attending the Book Fair may sign up for a drawing of six bookworms for children and The New Testament in Four Versions for an adult.

Another event will be a book review by Mrs. Charles Knight, a feature of the United Methodist Women's meeting Nov. 4. She'll review "The Angry Testament" by Charles Walters, a book about the economic plight of the farmer today. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight, local dairy farmers, are both concerned about the future of farming and what this means to the world of consumers. Meeting is open to public.

Review History

CLINTON—The history of the State Savings Bank of Clinton was reviewed by W.P. VanTuyle at the Oct. 15 meeting of the Historical Society of Clinton, in the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

The Society has recently acquired maps of Clinton of the 1800's and other historical materials, documents and photographs.

Next meeting will be Dec. 3 at 8 p.m. at the center.

Baby Arrives

CLINTON—A boy, Jason Kenneth Robert Johnson, was born Sept. 20 to Lance Cpl. and Mrs. Kent Johnson, at Cherry Point, N.C. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lambert, of Clinton, drove down right away to see their first grandchild.

L.Cpl. and Mrs. Johnson and the baby came here to spend a leave from the Marines, and have returned to base at Cherry Point.

House Saved

CLINTON—A fire, which apparently started in the rear of the kitchen, caused extensive damage to a back room, porch and garage at the Don Meyers home on Jackson St., about 10 p.m. Monday.

When Clinton firemen arrived at the house, in the same block as the fire station, flames were already reaching the trees above. Using considerable water,the blaze was confined to the rear portions of the house, and only smoke damaged the interior of the other sections.

Some antiques and tools stored in the garage were lost, however a value has not been placed on the loss at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyers had finished their supper and left about two hours previous to go to the high school. Don is a member of the fire department.

Harlon Ruhl, Clinton fire chief, called the fire "accidental", and definitely not arson.

Labels Collected

CLINTON — Clinton Elementary School is in the midst of a special collection drive aimed at obtaining greatly needed audio-visual equipment.

The program, Labels for Education, is sponsored by Campbell Soup Co. and offered to elementary schools, both public and private. School hopes to collect enough Campbell's labels by Jan. 10, 1975 to earn three record players and one cassette recorder-player.

Elementary students are saving labels and would appreciate friends of the school doing the same. Twenty thousand labels are be needed. This is approximately 50 labels per child. All Campbell's soup or beans labels count and can be sent to the school on any school day.

Dance Set

CLINTON—Annual Clinton Firemen's Ball will be held Saturday, Nov. 2 at Peerless Gear Union Hall foom 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Firemen will be canvassing the village to sell tickets, Monday, Oct. 28, or they may be purchased at the door or from any fireman.

Investigate Robbery

CLINTON — Clinton State Police continue to investigate and question suspects following a robbery, Sunday night at 11:50 p.m., at the Super-Test Service Station at 1969 W. Michigan Ave., one mile west of Clinton.

Ruth Willnow, manager, was returning to her apartment at the rear of the station with the night's receipts, when she was suddenly assaulted with a club from the rear, by a male wearing a ski mask and gloves. She was stunned, and her assailant grabbed the bag containing $1,800, and disappeared around the rear of the station.

Mrs. Willnow sustained a black eye and bruises.

County Shot Clinic Immunizes Kids

Most children hate shots. But consider the possible consequences of failing to immunize a child from polio, measles, rubella, mumps, diptheria, pertussis tetanus.

Prompted by recent studies showing that immunization levels in communities are not high enough to prevent dangerous disease outbreaks, health officials have declared Oct. 1974 as "Immunization Action Month" in Michigan. Emphasis is placed on basic and booster immunizations, where required throughout the year.

Recent surveys of children 2-3 years of age from various areas of Michigan show only 63 percent have received recommended three or more doses of oral polio vaccine. The situation is also similar in school age children.

Although state vaccines have been administered to students in schools, parents must make the initial effort to insure that the younger preschoolers are adequately protected. Many parents do not fully realize the consequences that might befall an inadequately immunized child.

Not only the horrors of paralytic poliomyelitis, but measles, once thought to be [illegible] know to cause pneumonia, mental retardation and in some cases even death in a small but significant percentage of children who contact the disease. Thus far in 1974, Michigan is among the top five states in the nation in reported incidence of measles, mumps and rubella. It is urgent that this trend be reversed.

Parents should see their own doctors or the Lenawee County Health Department for needed immunizations. Physicians and the health department have the vaccines available.

The Lenawee County Health Department immunization clinic is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8-11:30 a.m. and from 12:30-4:30 p.m.

Officers Installed

CLINTON—Fifty persons from Tecumseh, Saline, Dundee, Jackson and Clinton attended the service of installation for new officers of the Golden Rod Chapter 85 Order of Eastern Star, Saturday evening.

Meeting was opened by Mrs. William Stout, secretary and the welcome was given by Mrs. Gus Smith, past worthy matron.

Installing officer was Mrs. Stanley Miller, and installing marshall was Stanley Miller, of Tecumseh; chaplain was Mrs. Thomas Pence; and organist was Mrs. Del Manchester.

Soloist, Minota Fox sang throughout the service.

The new worthy matron, Mrs. Michael Cortwright, of Blissfield, was presented a bouquet of flowers by her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Cortwright of Jackson.

The worthy matron's colors are blue and gold.

Mrs. Cortwright presented gifts to the outgoing chapter officers.

Refreshments served by the past matrons featured an Eastern Star cake made by Mrs. John Harwood of Adrian.

Ghosts Are Coming Collect for UNICEF

BRITTON—Trick or treating this year for the Britton area will be Halloween night, Oct. 31. Hours will be 6-7 p.m. The Britton fire whistle will blow at 6 p.m. to signal the beginning and parents are asked not to allow their children to begin before the whistle blows, so that householders will be able to get their evening meal out of the way and be prepared for the first hobgoblins and ghosts.

It is suggested residents turn on porch lights to welcome the children and to make their passage as safe as possible. Drivers are asked to be especially cautious this night. Children will be safest in their own neighborhoods, with a responsible adult or teen-ager along as a guide. Parents should caution children to stay on the porch, never enter strange homes.

Parents should inspect the treats their children are given before allowing any sampling. Bad surprises have been found in Halloween treats sometimes in recent years, though not, so far as we know, in our town.

UNICEF trick or treating will take place simultaneously. Householders will no doubt get several children with the little orange box bearing the UNICEF mother-and-child symbol in black. If residents wish to have something to give each child, have that amount prepared in small change.

UNICEF this year is helping children in 112 countries—in Africa, Asia, and Latin America. Rising costs and world-wide food, fertilizer, and petroleum shortages are menacing 500 million children. This, in addition to the prolonged drought in northern Africa, has caused UNICEF's executive committee to declare, for the first time in its 27 year history, a State of Emergency for Children in developing countries.

For these 500 million children, it is not a matter of a few hunger pangs before mom gets supper on the table—it is a matter of no supper, or breakfast or lunch and severe malnutrition, or even death. So this year, the coins collected are especially important. One quarter from each Britton resident will provide 25 children with a high protein food supplement for a day, or a smallpox shot apiece.

All trick or treating is to stop at 7 p.m. when the fire whistle blows a second time. Children should go directly to the school gymnasium for the costume judging and refreshments. Entertainment will be provided for children who are waiting to be judged to avoid restlessness among the youngsters.

Residents are asked to leave porch lights on throughout the evening so children will be able to travel home safely.

Prepare Supper

BRITTON—Women's Guild of Emmanuel Lutheran Church, are making final preparations for their Annual Turkey Supper and Bazaar Nov. 2.

General Chairman Mrs. Wesley Gilmore announces a hearty menu which consists of roast turkey, mashed potatoes, gravy, buttered corn, cole slaw and cranberries. A variety of homemade pies, coffee, tea and milk will also be served. Homemade baked goods, Christmas cards and gift items will be sold at booths.

A savings of 25 cents per ticket will be possible by purchasing tickets in advance from ticket chairman, Mrs. Betty Lutz (451-8124).

Other chairmen for the harvest supper are Mrs. Leon Squires, bazaar chairman; Mrs. Gaylon Furgason, kitchen chairman; and Mrs. Tom Trapp, dining room chairman.

Announce Anniversary

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. LaVern E. Moll announce their 25th anniversary Oct. 27. Friends and relatives are invited to attend an open house and buffet hosted by their children from 2-7 p.m. at the Moll's home at 5800 Holloway Road.

LaVern Moll and Norma Steuwe were married Oct. 28, 1949 at Immanuel Lutheran Church in North Blissfield by the Rev. William Weidlander. Mr. Moll is employed at Tecumseh Products Co. and Mrs. Moll as Director of Nursing Service at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

The couple have three children, Barry, a post-graduate student at Michigan State University, Rodney at home and Cheryl who attends Mercy Central School of Nursing at Grand Rapids.

Date of the open house was incorrect in last week's Herald.

New Arrival

BRITTON—Born Oct. 17 at Toledo Hospital, Toledo, Ohio, John Robert, 4 lbs. 9 oz., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Popelar of Erie. Mrs. Popelar is the former Sharon Sturtevant and daughter of Mrs. Ralph Sturtevant and the late Mr. Sturtevant.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Popelar of Dundee are the paternal grandparents.

Woman's Club Meets

BRITTON—Britton Woman's Club met for the first fall meeting at the library in Britton on Oct. 15. Mrs. Edward Kanous and Mrs. Clay Croll were hostesses. Nineteen members were present.

Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, president, welcomed the members.

Mrs. Croll read a Michigan Poem written by a former Blissfield resident, Mrs. Marian Benedict Manwell.

Mrs. Philip Groeb, assistant director from the county library in Adrian, spoke about "Crafts" and showed many books on stitchery, candle making, paper folding, doll making, quilting and others. She also displayed a few samples.

Mrs. Grover Willis read the devotions.

On Nov. 6 the Federation fall meeting will be at the Lutheran Church in Hudson. Reservations are accepted until Nov. 3. Nov. 2 there will be a tea at the Girls' Town (Loc Rio)) in Belleville.

Donations to Girls' Town, Interlochen fund, Lenawee Youth Center and Campfire Girls were voted.

On Nov. 22 the Goodwill Sale will be at the Adrian Article Mall. Articles are to be brought to Goodwill by Nov. 8.

Refreshments were served by Helen Spohr, Marian Auten, Thelma Younglove and Marilyn Ries.

Next meeting will be Nov. 19 at the Congregational Christian Church with a luncheon at 12:30 p.m.. Macon Woman's Club will be guests.

Hunting Accident

BRITTON—Jeffrey Laslo, 11, was treated at Herrick Hospital for six puncture wounds to his right arm, received in a hunting mishap Monday.

Jeffrey was hunting with his brother, Steven, 20, about 5:25 p.m., in Ridgeway Township, when Steven shot a pheasant.

Jeffrey ran to retrieve the bird, and when it flew up, Steven shot again wounding his brother. The youths are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Laslo, 7264 Holloway Road.

Clinton State Police investigated the mishap.

HAPPINESS

HAPPINESS is enjoying your own private pond, stocked with fish and ice covered for winter skating.

HAPPINESS is owning a new 30 x 40 pole barn with a fenced area for pasture.

HAPPINESS is a stately old weeping willow that is nice for play or picnics.

HAPPINESS is 4.75 acres that can be all yours and since this also has a 3-bedroom home and a 2-car garage, that's real HAPPINESS.

NEARLY NEW

3 bedroom ranch built in 1971 with an attached 1½ car garage, which could be converted to a family room easily. Large corner lot that is fenced and a full basement. City facilities, excellent location.

BIRD VS. LEAVES

Has Tecumseh ever been lovelier? Each autumn I am awed by the fall color but this year it truly does seem better than ever. The reds more red, the yellows more bright, and the oranges—well, what can be said about the oranges except that they flame. And didn't the town turn gorgeous almost overnight.

I suppose the weather is responsible for the quickness with which the color came but who can bother with technical explanations when there is so much beauty to be enjoyed. This must not develop into a string of descriptive adjectives, Marda. There are birds arrivals, departures, and holdovers to report.

Once or twice each fall there are exceptionally good bird days. Days when the bird population seems to overlap itself. Summer visitors have not all gone when suddenly many winter regulars arrive and mingle with them. So it happened last weekend.

The first indication that something was up came when, through our spellbound looking at the trees, seeped the realization that those bright tree tops were alive with something other than vibrantly colored leaves. There were birds up there! Tiny busybody warblers. Mom and I did not even try to identify them. It was fun merely to watch their hectic 'travels' from one branch to another. No 55 mile an hour speed limit for them.

Once in a while an obliging character would light so we could see him and sometimes one would even fly close to the window—always the impression was of a mite of a bird rather olive colored on top and lighter underneath. No distinguishing marks at all. As the Peterson Field Guide heads one of its color plates "Confusing Fall Warblers".

Several weeks ago we thought the last wave had migrated through but I shall never object to being proved wrong in such a charming manner. And as happened before there were other little birds mingling with the warblers. Kinglets and chickadees. Hopefully these birds found things to their liking and will settle in for a winter-long stay.

For several days the bird business seemed to progress at an ever accelerating rate. While enjoying the chickadees I noticed the nuthatches. They are year round residents but during the warm weather are around much less often. When winter sets in they will be every day regulars at the feeding stations. However for a few weeks now they seem perfectly happy to poke for insects and bugs in the crevices of the tree bark.

Suddenly all sorts of members of the woodpecker family were around. I'll leave it to you to decide whether these were old friends with long memories or just inquisitive newcomers. Two of the large hairy woodpeckers and four small downies were more than active and guess where the business all centered.

At the empty suet feeders and the two limbs where last year we hung the suet bags. Although we maintain a feeding regime 12 months of the year, suet is not much used in the summer. The reasons are obvious. However, if the woodpeckers are going to stick around we shall have to shift into high gear and begin offering the cold weather menu.

The tiny brown creepers are back too. They are not as visible as are the upside-down nuthcatches. Both, of course, are expert tree climbers but the brown creepers are such a tree trunk mixture of brown and blacks that they can almost be invisible. Protective coloration at its best.

This has been a most peculiar robin migration season. At least it is the most peculiar one we have ever enjoyed. Starting back in August there have been definitely noticeable robin happenings each and every Sunday. Almost a case of come Sunday, come robins. Lately each Sunday's gathering has been much smaller then the previous weeks and just maybe last Sunday finished the story. One lone robin appeared.

It was completely unexpected to look at the bird bath Sunday morning and see a robin. He was soaking his feet. For the longest time he just stood there—I started to wonder of perhaps he were walking south instead of flying. Finally he began ducking his head and splashing water with his wings. A bluejay swooped down and interrupted that bathing session but as soon as the jay left, back came the traveler. More splashing water followed by more foot soaking. We have seen nothing of him since.

So it is that the window watching has been exceptionally good lately and vying for our attention, I shall truthfully admit that it is birds vs leaves.

Tecumseh's cross country team lost to Grosse Ile last Thursday and went on to participate in the Hudson Invitational on Saturday placing 10th out of 15 teams. Their league record now stands at 3-4 and their overall record is 5-5.

Indian Tim Scheff finished second in the Grosse Ile meet with a time of 16:26. The best time was posted by Grosse Ile's Jack Sinclair with a mark of 14:37. Tecumseh's Bob Cook finished fifth and Kim Cantrell came in ninth with times of 17:07 and 17:21 respectively. Tecumseh lost the meet by a score of 21-37 at Grosse Ile.

It was a different story for the Indian JV squad however, as they pounded Grosse Ile for a 17-43 win. Tecumseh's Tim Prettyman, Kevin Blanchard and Mark Oliver finished one, two and three with respective times of 18:32, 18:34 and 18:37. Grosse Ile's Jim Sinclair took fourth place but next in line were Indians Bob Miller, 18:50, Dale Carpenter, 19:12, and Jim Leonard, 19:13.

The following Saturday, the Indians traveled to Willow Metro Park at New Boston Huron for the Hudson Invitational. Fifteen teams competed and Tecumseh placed tenth. Tim Scheff was high man for the squad finishing eighth individually in the contest with a time of 16:10. Team champ at the meet was Michigan Center.

Varsity Golfers Win League Title

Tecumseh Indians' golf team, winner of all six Huron League dual meets, clinched the title last Wednesday by winning the league meet at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Coach Paul Cunningham's team posted a winning score of 346, nine better than New Boston Huron and Monroe Jefferson.

Monroe Catholic, which had finished second in the dual meets, finished far back here with an overall score of 360. Grosse Ile golfers shot 366, Airport 387 and Gibraltor Carlson, 403. Flat Rock does not compete in golf.

Scott Macbeth paced the Indians with an 80, and Doug Jacobs, 86. Both were named to the All-Huron League team. Paul Lemanski had an 89 and John Gibson, 91.

The league crown is based on dual meets plus the league meet.

In total competition this season, the Indians captured all 12 dual meets. They'll be heavy favorites to repeat next year since three of the top THS golfers—Macbeth, Jacobs and Gibson—are only sophomores.

Meet Madison Friday

Tories Win Another

The Britton-Macon Tories defeated the Ann Arbor St. Thomas Irish 34-18 to set the stage for this week's game with Adrian Madison for the Tri-County League Championship.

In Saturday night's game against the Irish, St. Thomas scored first as Pat Treml went around his own right end for the score. The extra point run failed.

The Tories took the kickoff and marched 57 yards for their first score with Alan Reau scoring on a four-yard run. Reau also ran over the extra point.

On St. Thomas' next possession, Scott White tipped an Irish pass and Mike Servoss intercepted the deflection and returned it to the Irish 29 yard line. On the seventh play, Mike Servoss scored a seven-yard run. The extra point run failed and Britton led at the end of the first quarter 14-6.

In the second quarter, St. Thomas recovered a Britton fumble on the Tories 38 yard line. Quarterback John Wright then hit end Tom O'Brien for a touchdown on a 40-yard pass. The extra point attempt failed.

Later in the second quarter following an interception by Tory Mark Williaert deep in Britton territory. Mike Servoss broke loose and went 85-yards for a touchdown. Alan Reau converted the extra points.

St. Thomas took the following kick-off and marched 65-yards for a score, with John Wright going the final five-yards for the touchdown. The extra point try again failed and Britton led at halftime 22-18.

Britton received the second half kickoff and marched 49 yards to the Irish seven yard line only to fumble. However, Scott White intercepted a St. Thomas pass immediately to give the Tories the ball on the Irish 18-yard line. Britton scored in five plays with Servoss going two-yards for the touchdown. The extra points failed.

St. Thomas tried to go to the air and Scott White again intercepted an Irish pass and returned it to the St. Thomas 26-yard line.

At the start of the fourth quarter Alan Reau went the final six-yards for a Tory touchdown. The extra point run failed and the Tories led 34-18, which was the final score.

Outstanding offensively for St. Thomas was John Wright, Tom O'Brien and Bill Thompson. Al Campbell and Jim Sitlington did a good job defensively.

For Britton, Alan Reau was the workhorse in the backfield as he carried the ball 44 times for 201 yards, two TDs and two extra points. Mike Servoss rushed for 145 yards in 16 carries and scored three touchdowns.

Behind the outstanding line play of the offensive front wall, the Tories rushed for a total of 361 yards. Britton did not throw a single pass all night.

Defensively Doug Armstrong again led the Tories in tackles with 13 and Doug Shiels had seven. Britton's defensive backs also played a fine game as they intercepted four passes.

The Tories are now 5-1 on the season and 4-0 in the Tri-County Conference. Friday they meet undefeated Adrian Madison at Britton for the Tri-County Conference Championship.

Indians Rip Huron

By FRANK WEIR

It was all gravy for Tecumseh's Indians Friday night as they ripped apart New Boston Huron's defense, beating the Chiefs 62-0. At the end of the first quarter alone, the Indians led 27-0.

And, as early as the second quarter, head coach Pat Connors was sending in his second and third string players to take over where the first string left off.

The Indian defense looked superb continually dumping the Chief's quarterback, Craig Beattie, at or behind the line of scrimmage. They held Huron to a miserly nine yards rushing.

But Tecumseh's offense wasn't slouching either, piling up 307 yards rushing and 103 yards through the passing antics of three different quarterbacks during the game.

First string quarterback Dave Spillman handled the first Indian TD as he passed to Mike Connors on a 40-yard scoring play. Connors was wide open and rambled easily into the end zone at Indian Stadium.

Swivel-hipped George Harvey was next for Tecumseh running six yards for a touchdown after Connors picked up a Huron fumble and dashed to the nine-yard line. Shortly after, Jim Shough blocked a Huron punt and recovered it on their ten.

Eight minutes into the first quarter, Kent Jacoby took a Spillman pitch and went 10 yards for Tecumseh's third touchdown.

With just 1½ minutes left, Mike Duhan caught a pitch-out and went 30 yards for the TD. Ken Biscupski connected on all but one of the point after attempts.

The fans waited for the end of the quarter-hoping to catch their breath, but no way. Indian Larry Hollis picked off a bungled Huron pass, allowing Duhan to get the ball to the four-yard line before the buzzer blasted.

In the first play of the second quarter, Spillman gave the handoff to Duhan for an easy three-yard TD. A couple of minutes later, second string quarterback Doug Bunch took over the reins and promptly ran around his right end for the touchdown after John Kruse recovered a Huron fumble.

With three minutes left in the quarter, Tecumseh's Bill Smith did an incredible job of blocking a Huron punt, allowing Jim Shough to pick up the pigskin and dash 20 yards for the touchdown.

Three minutes into the third quarter, George Harvey caught a last minute pitch-out from Doug Bunch and scampered 57 yards for a touchdown weaving around tackler after tackler. Bunch was operating on borrowed time for that one, waiting until a Huron tackle had his hands around Bunch's neck before unloading.

Towards the end of the third quarter, Huron rallied but was unable to score. Huron's Big Bill Grover - 6', 260 pounds, came up with Tecumseh's only fumble of the night.

Halfway through the fourth quarter Linvel Lisenbee intercepted a Huron pass at the 35 and ran it to the one yard line. Don Rapin went up the middle for the final TD. Biscupski connected on all point-afters in the latter part of the game.

Top rusher for the Indians was Harvey who went 97 yards in eight carries. Duhan was next with 75 yards in seven carries. Tecumseh held the Chiefs to four first downs and garnered 12 for themselves. Indian Bob Webb was the top tackler with 14.

Tecumseh fumbled once and lost it, while Huron fumbled five times and lost four. The Indians also picked off one pass and blocked three punts.

Champs for 1974?

Tecumseh meets the Flat Rock Rams this Friday to decide which is the best in the Huron league. But then vying for championship titles isn't new to the Indians.

Over the years they've won 15 titles. And it all started in 1921 when Tecumseh shared the LCAA title with Clinton and Hudson. The 1924 and '25 teams also brought the trophy to Tecumseh as well as the '32 and '33 teams.

With coach Nev Hart at the helm, the Indians in 1941 garnered the school's first perfect season (8-0). The defense that year gave up only one touchdown for the best defensive effort ever. Hart was back in 1942 for a second straight crown before Fred Raizk took over in 1943.

That same year, Raizk's squad took the title, going on to finish second the next year and then sharing yet another title in 1945. Myles Runk took over in 1946 but that change didn't make much difference as the Indians took the LCAA crown in that year. The next year, Runk coached the team to a co-championship with Hudson.

In 1952, the team moved over to the South Eastern Conference and it wasn't until '58 before the Indians were at it again. Coach Dunc Lectka's squad shared the title with Bedford that year.

But it was time to move again as Tecumseh joined the newly formed Huron League in 1959. That year, Lectka coached the team to the school's second perfect season as they took the Huron League title. They took it again in 1960.

Coach Tom Fagan took over in 1962 for an impressive career. He led the squad to the title his first year, repeating in '64. Several frustrating years followed until 1970 when the team won the championship for the three years in a row.

Perhaps the Indians will win their 16th championship this year.

Cagers Score League Victory

Tecumseh's girls basketball team scored a big victory over Bedford Monday night defeating them 75-9. The varsity squad stands undefeated, tied with Grosse Ile for that honor.

The JV's also won theirs by a tally of 32-7. High scorers for the Jayvees were Tori Iffland with 10 points and Chris Underwood with 7.

For the varsity, Julie Murphy was tops with 20 points followed by Suzi Brown with 18, while Julie Anderson and Janice Stevens both had 11.

The varsity posted a 3-0 record after Monday's win.

Redskin Runners Win And Lose

Clinton Cross Country team displayed one of its better team efforts of the season to thump a much improved Whiteford team 25-32 recently. Whiteford's runner captured the first spot in a 17:07 time.

For Clinton, Jim Mattis was second in 17:14, Jim Scoggins third in 17:23. Jim Klanke ran one of his better races of the season finishing fifth in 18:20, Wally Pike returned from a week off due to a foot injury to take seventh in 18:53, Roger LaSovage was 8th in 19:22 just nipping Chris Wojtowicz who was ninth in 19:23 and John Johnston was 12th in 21:15.

Clinton was upset by Onsted 24-33 the following Wednesday at Onsted. With several key runners out, Clinton could not match the depth of the fired-up wildcats.

Those Clinton team members who did participate, ran excellent races either coming close or improving their best previous time of the season.

Jim Scoggins was second in 16:45, Roger LaSovage was fourth in 17:44, Jim Klanke was sixth in 18:15, Chris Wojtowicz was ninth in 18:40, Craig Hill was 13th in 20:18, and John Johnston 14th in 20:43.

Clinton is now 2-3 in the LCAA and 6-4 overall.

County Manager Is Controversial Issue

Controversial issue before the electorate next Tuesday is whether Lenawee County will adopt a county manager system of government. Such a system would be similar to the city manager form of government here in Tecumseh and is optional for counties under Public Act 139 in 1973 by Michigan legislators.

Last summer, the proposal was placed before the County Commissioners. The Commissioners rejected a motion to adopt the county manager system by a vote of 10 to five.

Some of the circulated pros and cons regarding the issue are:

Favor

A county manager would be responsible for the overall county operation, giving the county greater efficiency and putting county government on a more business-like basis.

A county manager would save the county the cost of his salary plus additional tax dollars. No increase in taxes would be necessary and present tax dollars would work more efficiently and effectively.

A county manager would provide full time administration and management, giving the County Commissioners the opportunity to formulate policy and avoid day-to-day details.

A county manager would be a trained, experienced and specially educated individual for the position. Such individuals can be secured through recognized associations.

A county manager would work for the county and under the Commissioners, who possess the authority in hiring and firing for the position.

Against

Adoption of the county manager system would cost immediately $50,000 and more for his salary, office and other related factors, according to Commissioners opposing the adoption.

And, a county manager would have very limited responsibilities, no jurisdiction over elected officials and jurisdiction over only approximately 10 people, those on the equalization committee, county planning committee and personnel in the printing department.

Commissioners also say there would be a duplication of responsibilities and duties which are now being performed in the present committee structure of county government.

Decisions made by a county manager, would have to be approved by the, County Commissioners.

If the county manager system is so good, why are there only 200 or so counties out of 3,000 in the United States under such a system?

Driver Is in Hospital

Eddie Kirkland, 10101 Tecumseh-Clinton Road, was reported in stable condition Wednesday, at Herrick Hospital, following an accident about 6:30 p.m. Monday at the intersection of N. Evans and Macon Road, just a short distance from his home.

Although he is still having a mild amnesia condition and received a partial concussion, when his head apparently struck the windshield of his pickup, he says he remembers another car pulling out of Macon Road in front of him.

When Kirkland, northbound, swerved to avoid the other car, his truck hit a sign post on the west side of N. Evans St., then struck a guy wire and cyclone fence. The wire snapped and apparently struck the high tension wires blacking out the power in the area.

He received a severe whip lash and was placed in traction to relieve the injury to his back.

THS Increases Adult Courses

Tecumseh High School Adult Education Division will be increasing its course offerings for the second quarter.

Courses available for high school credit are ceramics, driver education, German, and introduction to power machines.

Registration will be Monday, Nov. 4 and Wed., Nov. 6 from 7 - 9:30 p.m. in the high school guidance office.

All classes will begin the week of Nov. 11, except adult driver education which will begin Nov. 18.

RACES, ISSUES CLUTTER TUESDAY'S BALLOT

Vote Turn Out Expected Heavy

With state, county and local issues and races before the electorate, a heavy turnout is expected here next Tuesday.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Voting will probably be slow, especially if voters split their ticket and many are expected to do so.

Tecumseh voters will decide who sits on Council next year with 10 candidates seeking four seats up for election. Only other city race involves election of a County Commissioner for District 6.

Council candidates include DeLora Anderson, Mary Bowers, Bonnie Berkley, Dr. Carlton Cook, William Filber, Henry Fitzgerald, Steve Illeck, Jim Palmer, Ray Puffer and John Underwood.

Fay Whelan is facing competition from Nancy Nichols for the city's commissioner post. In District 5, which includes a small portion of the city, Martin Halley is being contested by Joe Conklin.

Other area commissioner race includes a contest between Ron Brown and Ray Jackson.

At the county level, Jack Mowat is being opposed for State Representative by Ernie Oliver of Tecumseh. A county issue on the ballot is a proposed county manager system of government.

Most important race on the ballot is between Gov. William Milliken and Sander Levin, Levin is a Democrat who was defeated by Milliken four years ago by a narrow margin.

Four state issues involve limitations on use of motor fuel tax fund, bonuses for Vietnam veterans, repeal of sales tax on food and prescription drugs, and financing for a mass transit system.

Candidates for Council

John Underwood

Born in Tecumseh and a Tecumseh High School graduate in 1949, he and his family reside at 903 Red Mill Dr.

The well known automobile dealer is a member of the American Legion - served four years in the USAF - and has been a dealer and operator of the John Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac dealership for the past 17 years.

He feels that his business interest, knowledge of Tecumseh and the residents who have lived here for so many years, would be a complement to each other. he believes there's a need to look into and to understand costs, spending and overhead factors that voters must think of before voting for just personal reasons.

C. Raymond Puffer

With one exception, he has served on Council longer than any present member. He was first elected in 1963 and has been re-elected since.

Mr. Puffer is a Tecumseh High School graduate, member of the Masonic Lodge, and member and former elder of the Presbyterian Church. He has been employed at the Tecumseh Products for many years.

After the Globe Mill Pond dam washed out in 1968, he pushed the drive for a new dam and to restore water to the pond.

He and his wife, a Herrick Park elementary school teacher, reside at 513 E. Logan St.

James Palmer

Downtown Tecumseh businessman and co-owner of Gaston's Jewelry, he is also employed at the Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant and has worked there for nine years.

An incumbent now in his second year on Council, he has been a resident of the community for 14 years, living at 1102 Shady Lane.

Mr. Palmer has favored better promotion of downtown Tecumseh, more and better group activities and re-routing of heavy truck traffic out of congested areas.

A resignation on Council by George McCombs led to his appointment last year. He is seeking re-election for the first time.

Stephen Illeck

A resident of Tecumseh for 23 years, he was employed at Tecumseh Products for 21 years as credit manager and in customer relations.

He has been a member of the Planning Commission for 20 years, member and former treasurer of Rotary Club, member of Masonic Lodge, treasurer and member of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church and served as patrol officer for local football games for past 10 years. According to his resume, he spearheaded a drive to erect the present post office.

His wife is a teacher at Patterson elementary school.

Mr. Illeck attended Rutgers University at New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Henry Fitzgerald

Moving here from Detroit about two years ago, he was employed in the printing industry for over 30 years - both newspaper and commercial shops - and is now third vice president of the International Mailers Union with an office in Tecumseh.

Mr. Fitzgerald took two courses at the University of Michigan Dearborn campus in basic workers study.

He feels there should be a better education program for alcoholism in Tecumseh, more programs for youth activities and better traffic safety programs and police coverage of traffic.

He and his wife reside at 701 Seneca. They have five children and five grandchildren.

William Filber

A Tecumseh High School graduate, he is now in a manager training program at Holly's Restaurant, Ann Arbor. A life time resident of Tecumseh, he attended Monroe Communtity College for two years.

Mr. Filber favors more recreation facilities for teenagers and youth, law and order for Tecumseh - more concern for serious crimes rather than youngsters on bicycles and breaking curfew - better representation in government of a cross section of the people here, and greater control over city expenditures of taxes.

He is married and lives at 724 Waskin Drive.

Dr. Carlton Cook

Local physician, a graduate of Michigan State University and the University of Michigan Medical School, has been in practice here for 20 years.

After serving on the Planning Commission for eight years, he was elected to Council for the first time in 1966. A member and elder of the Presbyterian Church, he has also been active in other organizations, including roles in many Tecumseh Players productions.

An incumbent, he has served six years as councilman and has held the office of president pro tem.

He and his family reside at 140 Brown St.

Mary Bowers

She and her husband moved to Tecumseh 24 years ago after living in Toledo, where she was a retail buyer for LaSalle and Koch Co. He is an optometrist in Tecumseh.

She is a graduate of Reading High School, Modern School of Fashion in Boston, and a graduate of Stonier Graduate School of Banking, Rutgers University, in New Jersey.

She is vice president of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh, branch manager of the Herrick Park Office, and has been with the bank for 20 years.

Mrs. Bowers has been active in many organizations and is currently co-chairman of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive. Her views favor the growth and welfare of the community and its residents in the prospective of sound local government.

Bonnie Berkley

A Tecumseh resident for over 20 years, she is a speech pathologist in the Lenawee Intermediate School District and holds a masters degree in speech pathology from the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Berkley, whose husband is an assistant junior high principal, favors and supports the growth of the city's fine community programs and services, and as a council member would continue support of these projects.

Since Council should be the voice of Tecumseh, she proposes more open communication between city officials and the electorate. She also feels that it is imperative that issues be thought through completely to be sure they will promote long term gain rather than short term gain.

DeLora Anderson

A Tecumseh resident for the past 10 years, she is employed at the Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant.

Mrs. Anderson is a high school graduate, graduate of a Bible college in Hot Springs, Ark., and has been involved in local political affairs, although she has never held an office. Along with her husband, she is a bank courier for United Savings Bank of Tecumseh.

She backs expansion of business, recreational facilities for youth, keeping city taxes in the city and working for all residents. Mrs. Anderson claims the senior citizens are backing her.

Park Hearing Monday Night

A public hearing will be held at the regular meeting of Council Monday, Nov. 4, at 8 p.m. to hear objections and remarks on the re-zoning of a parcel of land for the Green Meadows mobile home project, west section of Tecumseh at M-50 and N. Occidental.

Zoning change, sought by the Apollo Development Co. of Milford, would re-zone sections of property from RA-1 to Mobile Home

Police Investigate Nine Mishaps Here

Tecumseh police handled nine accidents the past week, but none was serious and only one motorist was cited for violation.

A resume is:

Oct. 23 - Edwin D. Richardson, 24, Pittsford backed into a parked car on N. Van Buren.

Oct. 24 - Laurie LaBaron, 4, playing in an alley just of E. Chicago Blvd. in the 500 block, was struck by a red truck. She suffered bruises and a scratched face. Police theorize that is was possible that the driver did not realize that the young girl was struck. Driver is unknown.

Oct. 25 - Linda M. Larson, 21, of 703 Adrian St., backed into Pennie D. Carrol, Clinton, in a city parking lot.

Oct. 26 - Mary E. Hollar, 54, of 302 Chippewa, backed into Richard C. Clewis, 20, of 708 Seneca, on N. Union St.

Oct. 28 - Stella B. Opel, 58, of 303 Maple, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after an accident with Phillip H. Servoss, 21, Britton, at the intersection of E. Pottawatamie and Wyandotte.

Oct. 28 - Harold C. Hall, 56, of 312 W. Shawnee pulled out of Bidwell and struck Robert B. Lape Jr., 31, of 511 Cairns, who was headed south on N. Evans.

Oct. 29 - Frank Johnson, 67, Onsted turned left and struck Teri L. Fetty, 18, of 2184 Dinius. Both were driving north on N. Ottawa St.

Oct. 29 - Curtis R. Maynard, 18, of 211 N. Union, struck two pedestrians, Mary Harris, 14, Adrian and Kit Hollister, 14, of 805 Shady Lane as they were crossing the street at N. Ottawa and Logan. Driver was not held.

Oct. 29 - James R. Sisty Jr., 6870 Green Hwy., ran into the rear of a vehicle operated by Kenneth L. Baker, 718 Ternes Rd., at the intersection of S. Union and W. Chicago Blvd.

Hearing

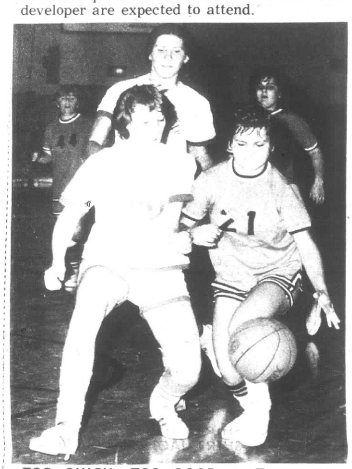
Park and from RA-1 and RA-2 to RP-1, planned residential development, the first of its kind for Tecumseh.

Planning Commission has studied the proposal for nearly two years, in a give and take situation between local officials and the developers.

Primary concern of the project reviewers was an 80-acre proposed mobile home area, the planned density of the area, and the undesirable growth of the total project. The mobile home park has been reduced to 40 acres and the density has also been reduced.

Many residents who opposed the project or who have questions about the concessions to the developer are expected to attend.



TOO QUICK, TOO GOOD — Tecumseh's varsity girls basketball team was simply too good and too quick in their easy 60-36 victory over a visiting Grosse Ile five last Wednesday night. Melinda Ternak has no trouble here in maneuvering around her opponent. The Indians are undefeated for the season and have won handily in all their games.

Scouts Enjoy Costume Fete

Cub Scouts enjoyed a Halloween costume contest during their Pack meeting, Oct. 22.

Darin Cates and Richard Kussmaul placed first and second with the most original costumes. Scariest costumes were worn by Scott Dusa and David Kussmaul and the funniest costumes were worn by Cindy Piat and Amy Duede. Prizes were tickets for bowling and the theatre.

Judges were Steve Bowman, Lee Thompson and Charles Steffens.

Announcement was made of the perfect attendance period, which will be from Oct. 30 1974 through May 20, 1975.

Permission medical slips were given out and are to be returned to den leaders.

Dues for the year are $2 and payable before Jan. 1.

Gifts were presented to the retiring leaders, Mrs. John Krueger and Mrs. Jerry Bolgos.

Refreshments of cider and donuts were served by representatives of each den.

Vandals Start Fires, Break Car Windows

Vandalism is blamed for broken windows on two cars and two fire runs.

Tecumseh firemen were called out shortly after 1 a.m. Tuesday to squelch burning leaves at 106 N. Democrat, and again at 4:45 a.m. in the 100 block of W. Brown. Both are believed to have been set by vandals.

Nancy Shimmel, 406 E. Pottawatamie St., reported a window broken in her automobile last Thursday. A pipe or tire iron is believed to have been used.

Gary Jackson, 5283 Noland Dr., reported to police that his windshield was smashed while parked in the 800 block on S. Union St. A rock, found nearby, was probably used, according to the report.

In one theft case, Dove King, 800 River Acres Dr., had a bicycle stolen while parked outside the Party Shop on S. Maumee. He had borrowed the 10-speed bike from Mike Cheever.

MR. and MRS. RICK HOLLAND

Brenda Durham, Weds Rick Holland

Brenda Jean Durham became the bride of Rick L. Holland Oct. 19 in a 6 p.m. ceremony at the Bethel Baptist Church in Britton, with the Rev. Charles J. Mellring officiating. Mrs. Gerald Eaton was organist.

Mr.and Mrs. William A. Durham of 603 S. Pearl St. are the parents of the bride. Groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nalley L. Holland of Sutton Road, Adrian.

Bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Ray Durham of Mount Dora, Fla. She wore a gown of white organza with attached train and a veil of illusion, fastened by a headpiece of cotton lace daisies. She carried a bouquet of red roses, white carnations and baby's breath on a white Bible.

Maid of honor was Belinda Holland, sister of the groom, who wore a pink knit gown with red velvet jacket and matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of red and white carnations. Bridemaids were Nadine Crawford of Tecumseh and Kathy Holland. They wore gowns and headpieces like that of the maid of honor, and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

James Threet of Adrian was best man. Ushers were Donnie Durham of Tecumseh, brother of the bride, and Gary Holland of Adrian, brother of the groom.

Bride is a 1973 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Kroger's in Tecumseh. Groom attended Adrian High School.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Pizza Inn in Adrian.

After a wedding trip to Arkansas, the couple will reside at the Robin Hood trailer park in Adrian.

Style Sense by Evel

Natural flower fragrances are dainty and feminine and suitable to any age. Which flower you choose to express the real you is a purely individual selection. Whatever your taste in perfume, it should always be applied directly to the skin not to the clothing. Dab it on ear lobes, behind the ears, wrists. Apply it lightly so you will not be overpowering. Always buy good perfume since cheap scents do not advertise the real you to your best advantage.

One of the worst of all hair problems is the difficulties of fine, straight hair. Usually this type of hair is easily broken, split and or dried out. What to do? First of all, remember how important the proper exercise, diet and sleep are for nourishing hair. Also, use creamy shampoos, the ones that have no hint of harshness. Have your hair cut in a style that will demand no rollers, no extensive heat treatments. Then keep ends trimmed and brush carefully.

Deborah Rieve, Dale Couts Jr. Wed

Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church was the setting for the Oct. 26 wedding of Deborah Rieve and Dale Couts Jr. The Rev. A. Dane Ruff officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony, at which Mrs. Ashley Chase was organist and Russell Rieve, brother of the bride, was soloist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rieve of 8510 Beebe Hwy., Tipton. Groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Couts Sr. of Adrian.

On the arm of her father the bride approached the altar wearing a gown of her own design. The high collar, long sleeves and bodice were covered with a lace overlay, and trimmed in lace. Lace appliques and trim were repeated on the skirt and on the floor length veil which fell from a headpiece of matching lace and pearls. A diamond and ruby heart necklace, a gift of the groom, and a bouquet of white carnations, pink and white sweetheart roses and ivy completed her bridal ensemble.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Russell Rieve of Tipton, sister-in-law of the bride and Judy Spencer of Clinton was bridesmaid. The attendants wore light pink polyester knit gowns with stand-up collars and long, cuffed sleeves. Silver trim with pink and white pearls accented the collar, cuffs and matching pink headpieces. Each carried a bouquet of pink carnations with dark pink strawflowers. The matron of honor and the bridesmaid each made her own gown.

Gary Alcock of Tecumseh was best man and Jerry Black of Adrian was groomsman. Ushers were Denver Hedge of Clayton and Larry Mattis of Tecumseh, cousin of the bride.

Reception for 250 guests was held in the church parlors after the ceremony. Mrs. Diane Graves of Ann Arbor, Sharon Stout of Adrian, Christine Osborne of Adrian, and Evelyn and Linda Couts of Tecumseh, sisters of the groom, assisted with the serving. Audrey Burch registered the guests and Krista and Kimberly Rieve of Tipton, nieces of the bride, also assisted at the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johnson of Tecumseh hosted the reception.

Mrs. Grace Underwood of Britton, grandmother of the bride, was a special guest at the reception.

Bride is a 1972 graduate of Onsted High School and attended Siena Heights College. She is employed as a dental assistant for Dr. Joseph McCutchan in Adrian. Groom is a 1971 graduate of Adrian High School and is employed by Stevenson Lumber, Inc. of Adrian.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the groom at the Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church Oct. 25.

After a week's wedding trip to the East, the couple will reside in the West Terrace Apartments, Adrian.

MR. and MRS. DALE COUTS, JR.

Linda Ritchie, David Oberst Marry

Linda D. Ritchie and David R. Oberst spoke wedding vows Sept. 7 in the Berean Baptist Church of Adrian, before the Rev. Myron L. William and the Rev. Wayne Ritchie of Davison, father of the bride.

Organist was Mrs. Ruth Boomer, with Carol Thompson, violinist and Mrs. Ruth Puticka, soloist.

Bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Wayne Ritchie of Davison and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Oberst of Onsted.

Bride approached the altar wearing a gown of white lace with chapel train, and pearl necklace and watch loaned by an aunt. A headress of white lace leaves covered with pearls made by Mrs. Terre Ritchie, sister-in-law of the bride, fastened her veil of illusion. She carried a lace-covered Bible festooned with pink, blue and purple flowers.

Bride chose her sister, Diane Ritchie of Davison, as maid of honor. She wore a flowered gown over a purple lining, trimmed at the neck with ruffles, a white hat trimmed with purple and carried a basket of purple, pink and blue flowers.

Mrs. Terre Ritchie of Lowell, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Loretta Rogers of Lansing were bridesmaids. They wore flowered dresses over blue and pink linings, respectively, hats with matching netting and baskets of purple, pink and blue flowers.

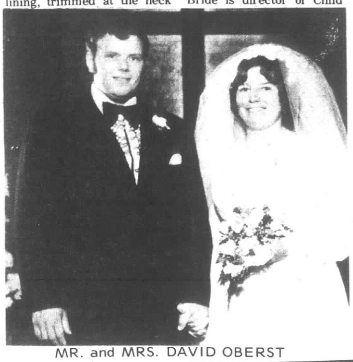
Mike Oberst of Tecumseh, nephew of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Mel Oberst of Tecumseh and Brian Oberst of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, brothers of the groom, and Tom Ritchie of Lowell and Dean Dermyer of Brooklyn were ushers.

A reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall after the wedding. Lois Miller, Mrs. Mike Ritchie, Jane Walker, and Lucy Barber assisted at the reception.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the groom at the Church Fellowship Hall before the wedding.

Bride is director of Child Evangelism Fellowship of Lenawee County, and groom is part owner of Oberst Insurance Agency, Tipton.

After a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 4036 Haviland Drive, Adrian.



MR. and MRS. DAVID OBERST

Mayor Approved for Council

Council approved Mayor Harold Easton as representative to the River Raisin Watershed Council at Monday night's meeting.

City council accepted the low bids of Morton Salt Co. and International Salt Co. for a tie bid of $11.40 per ton for 1974-75 rock salt requirements.

Bids from Diamond Crystal Salt Co. for $11.85 per ton and Domtar Chemicals, Inc. for $14 per ton were rejected.

Tecumseh Equipment Gets Bid

School bus chassis bids were reviewed and a bid by Tecumseh Equipment for International was carried unanimously by the School Board Monday night.

Bid was also submitted by Underwood Ford.

Eight units will be purchased for the coming year, with the order being placed early in anticipation of shortages.

Three 66-passenger units, two 36-passenger units and one 40-passenger unit will be ordered.

An estimated 2,400 students are bussed to school daily within the Tecumseh school district. At present, 40 buses drive a total of 3,381 miles per day, including special education runs, and consume 655 gallons of gas daily.

Prices for the eight units to be ordered are estimated, not guaranteed, with an additional increase of $850-$1,000 likely if federal legislation makes anti-skid air brakes on school busses mandatory.

Progressive Dinner

Tecumseh Music Makers will hold a progressive dinner party Nov. 3 beginning at 2 p.m. at the home of Janet Heesen, 4412 Wickham Ct.

Any junior or senior high school student interested in music who would like to attend should call Mrs. Wilson at 423-3603 by Friday.

OPENING CLINTON FASHIONS — A new clothing store will be opened Friday in the former bank building in Clinton, by Robert and Margaret Kolander. They operated Stevens Dept. Store in Ann Arbor for 13 years. New store will feature a large infants' and children's department, clothing for boys and men, and the newest fashions for girls and ladies, as well as sewing notions.

Class Takes Field Trip

CLINTON — Charlotte Parker's English Literature class enjoyed a field trip to Detroit, Oct. 23, to see "London Assurance" performed at the Fisher Theatre.

The comedy, brilliantly written in 1841, is a spoof on Sheridan and Shakespeare, and is expertly parodied by the distinguished Royal Shakespeare Co.

Fall Choral Concert Nov. 5

CLINTON — Fall Choral Concert by the choirs of the Clinton Community Schools, on Tuesday, Nov. 5, at 7:30 p.m., will mark the first use of the newly acquired acoustical shell. The shell is the first step in the improvement of facilities in the Middle School auditorium-gymnasium.

Featured on the program are the third and fourth grade choir from the Elementary School and the seventh and eighth grade choir of the Middle School, both directed by Henry Shade. Accompanist for the elementary ensemble is Jan Porter, Spanish instructor for the Middle School. Mr. Shade will accompany the middle school group.

Also appearing on the program will be the high school choir under the direction of Robert Calkins, accompanied by Scott Aiuto and Sue Brown, juniors and Diane Brown, sophomore.

Varied music will be presented by each group. Elementary choir will sing an adaptation of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and a special vocal arrangement of the hit selection from the film, "The Sting," Scott Joplin's "The Entertainer."

Middle School Choir will present the Lennon-McCartney hit "Mother Nature's Son," a special arrangement of "Come Saturday Morning" by Previn and Karlin and the selection entitled "Three Hungarian Folk Songs" by Lloyd and Seiber.

The high school choir's portion of the program will perform the Arkin-Robinson selection, "Black and White;" a work recently performed by the Three Dog Night entitled "The Family of Man:" the reflective work by Moody Blues, "And the Tide Rushes In," and the hit written and performed by Van Morrison, "I Shall Sing."

Adults will be charged a small admission. All proceeds from the program will help purchase two additional wings for the accoustical shell.

A reception for choir members and audience will be held in the cafeteria immediately after the program.

Hold Dinner at Don's

Fifteen members of the Past Matrons Club met last Wednesday evening at Don's Beef Buffet for dinner. After dinner, they went to the home of Mrs. Dean Moore, hostess, for the club's annual business meeting.

Two new members were initiated into the club, Mrs. Al Street and Mrs. Francis Rathbun. An election of officers was held and the following were elected: Mrs. Cal Dixon, president; Mrs. Dean Moore vice—president and Mrs. Reino Meining, secretary—treasurer.

Annual Bazaar and Supper

CLINTON — An "Old Fashioned Christmas" will be the theme of the annual bazaar and supper at the United Church of Christ, Saturday, Dec. 7.

Committees named at a recent meeting of the Prudential committee are: advertising, Joyce Piaft; decorating, Peggy Rockwell and Judy Crombez; pricing, Dolores Murphy; pretzels, Lucille Hill; price tickets, Louis Blaisdell; dinner, Lael Searle and dinner tickets at door, Leo Smith and Everett Cool.

Special Meeting

CLINTON — At a special meeting of the Board of Education, Oct. 21, members accepted the low bid of Midwest Studios, Inc. of Detroit for the new stage curtains at $1900 and $341 for the band room curtains.

Mrs. Gay Joan Cates was employed as a certified teacher-director for the new federally financed pre-primary home school program. Mrs. Allison Joan Moore was named to the para-professional position in the program.

Trooper Promoted, Transfered

CLINTON—Among the recent Michigan State Police promotions announced are: Trooper James R. Wood, 32, of Newaygo, promoted to sergeant 10 and transferred to Clinton. Wood joined the State Police in 1964 and has served at Ypsilanti and Flint.

Part of an earlier order promoting Tpr. Donald D. Fett, Grand Haven, to sergeant 10 at Clinton has been rescinded. He well remain at Grand Haven.

Community Fund Collects $2,050

BRITTON—On Tuesday, Oct. 22, the board of trustees of the Britton-Macon Community Fund Foundation met at the village fire hall to complete the 1975 campaign which was held Oct. 8 through Oct. 22. During the campaign, with the help of several volunteer solicitors $2,050 was collected. The board has estimated that the remainder amount of the budget which was set for $2,300 for 1974, is anticipated from area residents who contributed through their employers.

The following is a breakdown of the different areas who have contributed are:

Dundee Pds.	$500.00
Tecumseh United Savings	125.00
Consumers Power	35.00
Local Area Businesses	252.00
Clubs & Organizations	15.00
Door to door solicitors	1,123.60
TOTAL	$2,050.60

Solicitors for this year's fund drive were: Mrs. Ernest Needham, Mrs. Maurice Willaert, Mrs. Carl Gubbe, Mrs. Dale Reitz; Mrs. Laura Grady, Mrs. Larry Ivan, Keith Crutchfield, Mrs. James Lister, Mrs. Bud Lorenz, Mrs. Terry Faust, Mrs. Rick Skelton, Mrs. Ken Perry, Elmer Eberhardt, Mrs. Bill Gibbs, Paul Laslo, Mrs. Ralph Holdridge, Mrs. Kelly Hawkins, Mrs. Henry Mastie, Mrs. Kenneth Zimmer, Mrs. Ron Fenelon, Mrs. Donald Dickerson, Mrs. Ivan Olds, Mrs. Raymond Auten, Mrs. Ken Bortel, Mrs. Lowell Bush, Jack Hintz, Mrs. Joseph Prochaska, Mrs. Fred Schober, Mrs. Paul Rutter, Mrs. Myrtlane Craig, Mrs. Tom Tucker, Mrs. Ed Faust, Mrs. Van Frayer, Mrs. Barb Wagner, Mrs. Beryl Albring, and Mrs. Eleanor Price.

MANUEL AND THE FRIENDLY SCARECROW—Manuel Davila, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Davila, Sr., 375 E. Chicago Blvd., Britton, is shown with his scarecrow which he rigged up for the Halloween season with the help of his sister, Diane. He has been surprising passersby as they get a friendly wave from his strange friend. What they don't know is that Manuel manipulates the waving by pulling a string attached to his puppet, while he is inside the house. Manuel is paralyzed from the waist down since birth and attends Sutton Elementary Special Education School.

UMYF, UNICEF Fund Results

BRITTON—United Methodist Youth Fellowship (UMYF) sponsored a cycle-a-thon for the UNICEF fund at the Britton Park on Sunday, Oct. 27. The Youth Groups provided prizes for most laps completed in each age group.

Extension Club Meets

BRITTON—Mrs. Donald Ries hosted the Oct. 22 Macon Extension Club meeting with 11 members and four guests attending. Mrs. Charles Patterson assisted as co-hostess.

Mrs. Clay Croll presided at the afternoon business session. Mrs. Leland Bush showed two table arrangements, one of which she will show at the upcoming extension showing at the Adrian Mall.

Mrs. Elmer Spreeman showed pictures of Japan as she related to them. She also displayed various articles brought back from Japan. The Spreemans visited that country a few years ago.

Next meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Virgil Bortel Nov. 26, with Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland assisting as co-hostess. A lesson will be presented.

Postponed

BRITTON—Superintendent William Saxton announced the postponement of the regular Britton-Macon School Board meeting to Nov. 21. Second Thursday of each month is the regular meeting time.

BRITTON—Britton Parent Teacher Organization will sponsor their annual Fun Night on Nov. 2 from 5-9 p.m. in the gym.

Classes and organizations will have approximately 35 booths throughout the gym and provide a variety of interesting activities. Cheerleaders will sell french fries, the journalism class will sell pictures and the Spanish Club will also have a booth.

Grades 4-6 have been selling tickets and winners will be drawn Saturday. First prize is a Spanish folding table and chairs; second prize, 20 gallons of gas from Leon's Union '76 Service; third prize, a canister set. There will be prizes for the students who sell the most tickets.

Added attractions this year will be clowns, a glass blower, games and prizes.

Annual FFA greased pig contest will be sponsored by the FFA.

Also the teachers will have a dinner in the High School cafeteria from 5-8 p.m. to raise money for a scholarship given to a student when he graduates.

Proceeds from Fun Night to go to the PTO fund with the exception of 10 percent which will go to classes sponsoring booths. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fairbanks are co-chairmen for the special event.

The Ridgeway Nazarene Ladies' Missionary Society met Tuesday at the church for an all day Missionary Work meeting. Two quilts were tied off, bandages were rolled, and three boxes were packed to send to Africa. Each lady brought her sack lunch and enjoyed a time of fellowship with everyone at noon.

Approximately 25 Nazarene teens and young adults went on a hayride Saturday evening. The group left from the church at 7 p.m. and rode to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arland Lidsters for a hotdog roast, chips and punch. A fun evening was enjoyed by all.

The Patrick Bolens and children of East Tawas were weekend guests of Mrs. Bolens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Maska and Jeff were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Maska of Ft. Wayne, Ind. Rick served as best man at his brother Gary's wedding Saturday evening. They returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Rona Hintz and Mrs. Shirley Whaley spent the weekend with their daughters who are freshmen at Bob Jones University in Greenville, S.C.

Final preparations are now being made by women of Grace United Methodist Church, for their annual Fall Turkey Supper and Bazaar. The dinner is scheduled to be held Thursday, Nov. 7 with serving beginning at 5 p.m. and the bazaar from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Village Council Proceedings

BRITTON—At the Oct. 21 meeting, village council rescinded a previous motion for a 10 percent penalty per month on deliquent water bills and increased late charge on water bills to 15 percent after Dec. 10.

If bills are not paid by the 10th of the month, a final notice will be sent the first of the following month.

If such charges are not paid after final due date, then water service will be discontinued and restored only at such time as all sums due are paid.

UNICEF Poster Prize Winners

BRITTON—The colorful posters now on display in Britton stores are the first prize winners in the UNICEF poster contest, judged last week. If you have not yet seen them, you will want to do so. The Committee is very pleased that many of the classes really caught the spirit behind UNICEF. Their teachers deserve a vote of thanks for this.

First through third prize winners for each class are:

Mrs. Smith's first: Andrea Bower, David Fenelon, Patricia Rohrs.

Mrs. Schroeder's first: Michael Barth, Jennifer Chapman, Michelle Jordan.

Miss Evan's second: Amy Lewis, Steven Linn, Patrick O'Neil.

Mrs. Bandurski's second: Kevin Chlebek, Shiela Gilbert, John Linden.

Miss Lamkin's third: Kim Jacobs, Stacy Barth, Wendy Benedict.

Mrs. Niblack's fourth: Steve Scholl, Doug Winner, Dave Parke.

Mrs. Monagin's fourth: Bobby Pratt, Ronnie Briggs, Pam Faust.

Mrs. Gorton's fifth: Linda Wagenschutz, Steven Rayburn, Connie Stevens.

Miss Shannon's fifth: Kim Tiede, Becky Tomage, John Armstrong.

Mrs. Cheever's sixth: Julie Kniffin, Jodi Smith, Sandra Tolliver.

Miss Bryce's sixth: Teresa Faust, Eric Barth, Chris Pickell.

It is interesting to note that the money we give to UNICEF is not given to poor countries directly as money—it is instead—given in the form of goods, dry milk, food supplements, medicine, clothing, shoes, chalkboards, pencils, paper and many other essentials to the health and well-being of children. Many of these things are bought by UNICEF in great bulk lots from United States suppliers. These account for about 80 percent of the money we give to UNICEF.

The other 20 percent is used to give technical aid—drilling wells for clean water, setting up training programs for teachers and medical technicians, giving agricultural help and training in good agricultured practices.

This aid is presently being given in 112 countries, only four of which are Communist-governed, (this include North Vietnam, taken into the program only this year. South Vietnam has been included for a number of years.) Most of these 112 governments match the funds that UNICEF administers in their countries, and some countries give double the amount, for every country realizes that it will be backward as long as it's children grow up undernourished, unhealthy and ignorant.

A special emphasis this year is given too, to the children in the drought-and-famine stricken Sahel region of Africa, many thousands of whom face death daily.

(For the past weeks these articles on UNICEF have been compiled by Mrs. Robert Porter, UNICEF Chairman).

Two Honored On Their 25th

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hintz were honored Sunday on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. The celebration was hosted by their children, Gary, Terry, Mike and John.

The honored couple and their family dined at the Gandy Dancer in Ann Arbor.

Norman Ries, Tipton, was one "outstanding dealer" who discussed customer results with Cargill hybrids and the company's new corn hybrids at the recent Cargill Seeds dealer council meeting in French Lick, Ind.

Annual Tea Held at BHS

BRITTON—Annual Campfire-Bluebird Mother-Daughter Tea was held Oct. 22, at 7 p.m. in the high school study hall.

Lisa Campbell welcomed approximately 180 mothers and daughters to the event. Mrs. Robert Osterhout, association president, introduced group leaders, assistants, and sponsors. Charlene Roggeman presented a poem, "What is a Mother?" and Mrs. Charles Roggeman responded with "What is a Daughter?"

Mrs. Richard Bruce led the group in singing songs such as "Great Pumpkin Is Coming To Town," "Pumpkin Bells," and "Wa-Da-Le-Ache-E."

Fifth grade Campfire girls served refreshments preceded by the highlight of the evening, a fashion show narrated by Mrs. Charles Trickey. The fashions, courtesy of Trickey's Department Store in Tecumseh, were modeled by the following Bluebird and Campfire Girls and leaders: Anita Downing, Nancy Reese, Sharon, Karen and Mary Wielfaert, Linda Willaert, Adrienne Swain, Melinda and Sandy Bortel, Julie Reau, Sandy Adams, Betty Osterhout, Sylvia Hemphill, Sue Vallie, Julie DeJonghe and Sherry Bostedor.

Church Class Has Progressive Supper

BRITTON—A progressive supper was enjoyed Saturday evening by 20 members of the Adult Sunday School Class from Britton Bethel Baptist Church.

The first course of the meal consisting of juice and fancy crackers with cheese was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Paich, at the church, followed by the salad course hosted by Pastor and Mrs. Charles Mellring.

The main course of the meal was Italian spaghetti which was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bishop. After completing this meal the group then traveled to Kilarney Lake to the home of Mrs. Pat Preston and Bruce where an enjoyable evening of games and fellowship was spent around the glow of the cozy fireside. The last portion of the meal was served at the Prestons with fresh cider and donuts for everyone.

Judging, Games for Children

BRITTON—Parents are again reminded to keep their trick-or-treaters within the time limits marked by the fire whistle Thursday evening, and to take the children to the gym only after the 7 p.m. whistle. Besides the costume judging, games will be included this year, and there will be refreshments for everyone.

Please remember that it is dark these nights by 6 p.m. and try to include some reflective tape or a flashlight with each costume. Householders, remember to turn on your porch lights for the children. A safe and happy Halloween to all.

Adult Film on Children at Church

Discipline in the Home, a new film that shows how parents may see the children in terms not only of their problems but also in the potential of what they may become will be shown at Grace Bible Church on Nov. 3 at 7 p.m.

Dr. Howard Hendricks, a noted authority on family relations, makes use of both caricature and animation as he drives home the lessons that many children suffer from insecurity because they are either over or under disciplined. Dr. Henricks shows that the primary concern of parents should not be "What will my child think of me now?" but, "What will my child think of me 20 years from now?"

In an instructive content, the film leads viewers to see that while children do not expect perfect parents, they do expect honest ones who are on their team rather than on their backs. The film helps the family reach toward the ultimate goal of all discipline which is self-discipline.

4 Honored at Church

A red rose was placed on the altar of the United Methodist Church for Jamie Duane Nash, infant son of Norman and Carol Nash.

Amy Jo Williams, daughter of Charles and Marian Williams was baptized Sunday morning at the United Methodist Church.

In addition, two new members joined the Church, Mrs. Earle McNeil and Mrs. Wilton Gittus.

College Night in Adrian

John Pobuda, director of guidance at Tecumseh High school, encourages parents and high school juniors and seniors to attend the 12th annual College Night, Nov. 5 at 7 p.m. sponsored by Lenawee County Counselors Association at Adrian High School.

Admissions representatives from 45 colleges, universities, junior colleges, nursing schools and business colleges will inform parents and students about the colleges represented.

Pobuda explained that all 11th and 12th grade students in Lenawee County high school, are encouraged to attend. Parents are urged to attend this program with their student, since their parents also play an important role in college selection

Parents and students should consider three schools for program, required tests, size and philosophy to make sure the college fits the personality and finances of the student, Pobuda said. College Night is an opportunity to get this information directly from the college representative.

Ronald Spagnolli, Tom Muncie, Mrs. Mary Fall and Pobuda, THS counselors, will participate in the conference.

We all know that Halloween means carved (and sometimes smashed) pumpkins, straw-stuffed effigies and children costumed in everything from the clothes mom put in the Goodwill bag to elaborate aluminum foil wings and halos. But did you know that Halloween goes back to pagan practices of the British Isles?

Halloween preceeds the church festival of All Saints Day and is a heathen custom that survived after Christianity was introduced. The ancient Celts believed that on the evening of Oct. 31, Saman, the lord of the dead, called forth many evil spirits. The Celtic druids made great bonfires to ward off these supernatural creatures of darkness.

Might make a good movie script for Vincent Price. Happy Haunting!

Conspicuous Consumption

Conspicuous consumption, laziness and waste are the enzymes for the whole menace of inflation, said Larry A. Forth, commerical Foods instructor at Lenawee Vo-Tec Center, Adrian.

Forth illustrated his point with several examples in an article for the Lenawee County Home Economics Newsletter. One year ago at this time, salt cost the consumer about 10 cents per pound. Now, he said, it's 17 and 18 cents per pound or a 70 percent increase in one year's time. Similarly bananas have increased from 10 cents per pound to 25 cents for a 125 percent increase. A case of pop in cans costs $2 and yet the same pop in returnable bottles which by use conserves natural resources, is only $1.19.

Consumer education is the tool to fight inflation, said Forth. "So many of us tend to forget that all this packaging and disposing is not a free dividend to the consumer. In some cases packaging costs 10 times as much as the product inside." For example, salt in small throwaway containers, costs 17 times as much as salt by the pound. Squirt mechanisms and chemical propellants add at least a third to the cost of a can of sundae topping.

Forth asked the consumer to consider the needs for these products. "Life will be much better for all of us if we start to reject all that junk food, (copvenience foods), extra buttons (on appliances) and other items that have nothing to do with our well being in the first place.

"Learning to live with the simple life and not try to outdo the other consumer . . . may be the start . . . to learn to live in this world of limited resources."

Vo-Tec has developed classes in decision making, car maintenance, home maintenance, family foods, consumer rights and responsibilities and clothing maintenance offered to county residents and the classes will soon be offered on educational elevision this year.

Band Sells 2,227 Candles for Christmas

This Christmas, Tecumseh homes will glow with 2,227 candles sold Oct. 16-21 by the Tecumseh High and Junior High Band members. And band director Jimmie Rice is glowing with pride over the kids who earned over $3,200 for the department.

Money will help send the varsity band to camp this summer. Since the Junior High School students volunteered their efforts, half of the $895 they earned will be reserved for them when they are in high school.

Band twirlers earned $132.

Varsity band total share is $2,222.

Two buses with 69 Tecumseh bandmembers enjoyed the Big Band Cavalcade at Adrian College Tuesday night through the courtesy of the college who gave the students half price tickets.

Another fourth of the admission was paid by the Tecumseh Music Department, so the student cost was only $1.

Tecumseh Band Festival, sponsored by the Lenawee County Band Directors Association netted in excess of $1,500. Each of the 12 schools participating receives $100 for its performance, less $5 penalty for every 30 seconds over the allowed seven minutes performance time. Tecumseh High School received $85.

Remaining $300 will be set aside for county-wide scholarships.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

For many, the taste for mushrooms is an acquired taste, but for those who delight in the texture and flavor of both the canned and fresh varieties, mushrooms are delicious fixed almost any way.

Mushroom appetizers are a favorite at many parties, but how many toss mushrooms into salads? A salad of fresh spinach and fresh sliced mushrooms tossed with an oil and vinegar dressing is quick, easy, and a different variation on the standard garden salad. Mushrooms add an exciting taste to dishes such as meatloaf, stews, gravies and sauces and vegetables. Try green beans and mushrooms instead of plain string beans at your next meal — it rivals that classic combination of green beans and slivered almonds in both taste and texture.

This week's recipe might make a perfect party dish for a dinner party of eight or 10 guests. The recipe serves that many nicely, although you can adjust ingredients proportionately for fewer servings, as desired.

MUSHROOM MATAMBRE

1 pound fresh mushrooms or 2 cans (6-8 oz. each) sliced mushrooms.
¼ cup butter or margerine
2 flank steaks (2 lbs. each), butterflies
2 tsp. salt
2 tsp. chili powder
¾ tsp. thyme leaves, crumbled
2 garlic cloves, minced
½ lb. fresh spinach
2 cups carrot sticks
1 cup onion rings
2 tbsp. salad oil
2 beef bouillon cubes
1-1½ cups boiling water
2 tbsp. flour

Rinse, pat dry and slice fresh mushrooms, or drain canned mushrooms. In a large skillet melt butter. Add mushrooms; saute for five minutes, set aside.

Open steaks, place long side of one steak over long side of second steak, overlapping by about two inches (shingle fashion). Pound the joined ends together to seal.

Combine salt, chili powder, thyme and garlic; sprinkle on steaks. Arrange on steak a layer of spinach, carrots (place lengthwise with the grain), onions and half of the mushrooms.

Carefully roll steaks with the grain, jelly roll fashion. Tie securely with loops of string. In a large shallow roasting pan place oil. Add the meat roll; brown in a preheated very hot oven, 475 degrees, for 15 minutes.

Reduce oven heat to moderate, 350 degrees. Spoon off excess fat from pan. Dissolve bouillon cubes in water; pour into pan. Cover securely with heavy duty foil. Return to moderate oven and bake until beef is tender, about two hours.

Remove meat to a large cutting board and let stand for 20 minutes. Meanwhile, pour pan juices into a large measuring cup, spoon off fat. Add additional water or dry red wine, if desired, to make two cups liquid. In a small saucepan blend flour with liquid. Cook and stir until thickened. Stir in reserved cooked mushrooms, heat until hot.

Remove string from meat. Slice and arrange on a heated platter. Spoon some of the gravy over meat and serve remaining gravy separately.

If desired, bake ahead of time, refrigerate overnight, and then remove and discard congealed fat. Cover and heat in roasting pan in 350 degree oven for one hour. Thicken pan juices as above.

Serves 8-10.

Clinton CC Finishes 6-6

The Clinton Cross Country team finished its dual meet season with a 6—6 record by losing to a tough Manchester team by a 23—38 score on Wednesday of last week at Clinton.

Jim Mattis was outstanding for Clinton. He outkicked two Manchester runners in the last half mile to finish first in 16:44. This is a new course record, breaking the old one set by John Bradstreet of Addison and also a new school record breaking the old one set earlier this year by teamate Jim Scoggins. Mattis also defeated Phil Kryzaniak of Manchester who was undefeated in dual meets this season.

Jim Scoggins also put in a good performance by finishing fourth in a fine time of 17:13. Manchester won the meet on its depth by taking fifth through ninth place.

Finishing out the Clinton scoring was Jim Klanke, 10th at 18:33, Roger LaSavage, 11th at 18:37, Wally Pike, 13th at 18:40, Chris Wojtowicz, 16th at 18:59, Craig Hill, 17th at 19:17, his best time of the season, and John Hohnston, 22nd, at 21:06.

Clinton finished 2—5 in the LCAA league.

The squad traveled to New Boston Huron's Metropolitan Park for regional competition on Saturday. They finished ninth out of 15 teams.

CRAZY AND MIXED UP!

The next to the last weekend in this month, Oct. 19 and 20 are perfect examples of just how topsy-turvy, how crazy and mixed-up everything is lately. Nothing is predictable, absolutely nothing.

We began the weekend by listening to Jerry Hodak's weather forecast Friday evening. It was sheer gloom. He predicted such dire things that it seemed the only reasonable weekend activity would be to settle down by a cheery fireplace with a good book, a plentiful supply of crispy apples and buttery popcorn.

Well, it did turn out to be a cold couple of days and late Saturday afternoon there were spits of rain and snow. But, both days had long stretches of beautiful and bright sunshine. The grim weekend weather just never materialized — thank goodness!

Another prediction which fortunately went awry involved the Lion's football game. For 13 straight encounters the terrible Minnesota Vikings had massacred Detroit. There was sadly little reason to believe the 14th game would be any different. But those dearly beloved Lions broke the jinx and hurray, they beat Minnesota in a most exciting game. Almost the upset of the year and how marvelous it was.

Even the birds' behavior is upredictable this fall. I just might be writing about baby cardinals forever. Yes, you read me right — baby cardinals. And on October 20 — absolutely ridiculous. But oh, what fun.

He is perhaps the funniest youngster of the year. We three Duncans cannot help laughing at him. He is big and his feathers are soft and ragged looking. His tail and wings are quite red, his brownish breast is showing quite a few large freckles of red and his poor beak is still a dull washed out tan. His topknot is a riot—the three feathers to the front are tall and spindly. If ever his crest fills in he should have the largest and most magnificent one in the cardinal world. The way he holds those few feathers erect now make us believe that perhaps he already considers his topknot elegant. Somehow though, a couple of skinny red feathers, waving wildly back and forth in the slightest breeze lack dignity.

This kid is also the world's greatest beggar. His voice is loud, shrill and incessant. He is always screaming to be fed. While screaming he is also fluttering his wings, of course. If it it true that this wing fluttering, while asking for food, is one fo Mother Nature's little tricks which help insure well developed muscles in the adult bird, this youngster will have championship wings. He is fluttering all the time.

All of the rules and regulations of cardinal family raising are quite definite on one point. Papa C. takes care of the kids once they have left the nest. Remember though, this is a topsy-turvy season. The female cardinal is taking care of this late youngster. With her own soft and fluffy feathers and lack of color, she hardly looks old enough to have an off-spring. In fact, were it not for her bright red bill, she could pass for a kid herself. But, in spite of appearances, she is a good mother. At least, she is always stuffing food into the mouth of the big hulking youngster. Actually she can't get away from him as he is always standing right in front of her. Bill to bill.

There is a gorgeous male cardinal around. For the most part he completely ignores the outlandish situation of a kid cardinal so late in the year. He is actually a loof most of the time. Late Sunday afternoon however I thought perhaps he was going to assume a bit of responsibility. I looked out at the covered feeder and good heavens, there was the almost unheard of sight, Papa, Mama, and Kid Cardinal all together. The youngster was squeaking and fluttering as usual. The male picked up a piece of food and took it to — no, he did not feed the youngster, he took it to the female and fed her.

So it is that weather, football, and even the birds are unpredictable, everything is crazy and mixed up.

German to be Taught

Mrs. Gisela Gero, wife of the Rev. Laszlo Gero, pastor of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, will teach a nine week course in German as part of the Tecumseh Schools' Adult Education program's second quarter which begins Nov. 11.

German will be offered as a no-cost, no-credit course open to anyone who is interested. Classes will be held at the high school and will include use of the school's speech lab.

Other courses to be offered during the second quarter are Ceramics, Drivers Education, and Introduction to Power Machines. There is a fee for each.

For more information regarding the German class, call Mrs. Gero at 423-7510. She emphasizes that the meeting time and structure of the course are flexible, and will be determined by a consensus of those who take the course.

For information concerning any of the courses in the Adult Education program, readers may call Tom Muncie, director of the program and counselor at Tecumseh High School at 423-5634.

Re-elect County Commissioner
Martin Halley
District 5

Your vote on the issues as well as the candidates deserves careful consideration.

LENAWEE—presently one of the best governed counties in the State.

A government of and by the people through your vote, rather than by a hire manager.

Keep authority and responsibility in your elected representatives.

The best interest of people in Lenawee County will be served by rejecting the change in County government that is outlined in Public Act 139.

VOTE NO
On County Manager

WE ARE AMAZED AT THE STORIES BEING CIRCULATED BY UNINFORMED PEOPLE ON WHAT A COUNTY MANAGER CAN DO FOR LENAWEE COUNTY.

1. PURCHASING
The County takes bids on its purchases and has for years. The Printing Dept. stocks various small items for county use purchased in large quantities.

2. INVESTMENTS
County funds are invested with interest up to 11⅛ percent.

3. TAX INFORMATION
Tax information has always been available through the Treasurers Office.

4. CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT FUND
Except for revenue sharing only 1-10 of a mill per year may go into a Building and Site Fund or less than $50,000 per year.

5. CONTROL
The County Manager would not have any control over any elected offices. The only offices he would control are County Planning, Printing and Equalization Dept. which consists of 10 people approximately. Having a County Manager may cause the Commissioners to become lax in their duties as they loose a lot or their responsibilities.

6. JUDGMENT
Fifteen minds are far better than one.

Local Government
It is a trend these days to take away Township and County Government. We need grass-root government to stay.

The July 10 vote of 10 to 5 to reject the County Manager form of government was NOT that they did not approve the people voting on the issue but that they did not feel the present form of county government should be replaced with an untried "County Manager" form of government as outlined in P.A. 139. With the best interest of the people in Lenawee County in mind, this was the action of your County Board of Commissioners in July.

Finally, do we need a paid county manager with an estimated cost of $50,000 to start with no control over the major county epartments?

This is your choice - GET OUT AND VOTE on November 5.

City Legal Notices

CITY OF TECUMSEH
LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN
ORDINANCE NO. 7.401

An ordinance to adopt by reference the Basic Building Code and to provide the certain modifications therein and its application to the City of Tecumseh.

The City of Tecumseh ordains:

Section 1. Code Adopted. Pursuant to the provisions of Section 8 of the State Construction Code Act (Act 230 of 1972, Compiled Laws 1948, Section 125.1501 et seq.) the Basic Building Code as published by Building Officials and Code Administrators International, Inc., 1973 edition, is hereby adopted by reference subject to the modifications contained in this ordinance.

Section 2. References in Code. References in the Basic Building Code to "state" and name of state shall mean the State of Michigan; references to "municipality" and name of municipality shall mean the city of Tecumseh; references to the "municipal charter" shall mean the charter of the City of Tecumseh and references to "local ordinances" shall mean the City of Tecumseh Ordinances.

Section 3. Changes in Code. The following chapters, sections and subsections of the Basic Building Code are hereby amended or deleted as set forth in additional chapters, sections and subsections are added as indicated. The following chapter and section numbers refer to like numbers of chapters and sections of the Basic Building Code.

Section 204 amended to read:

Section 204. Board of Appeals. The zoning board of appeals of the City of Tecumseh is hereby constituted the Building Code Board of Appeals under this building code.

Section 205 amended to read:

Section 205. Violations. Any person erecting, using, moving, demolishing, occupying or maintaining anybuilding or structure in violation of this Building Code or causing, permitting or suffering any such violation to be committee, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500.00 or be imprisoned for not more than 30 days or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any building or structure erected, used, moved, demolished, occupied or maintained in violation of this Chapter is hereby declared to be a nuisance per se. Upon application to any court of competent jurisdiction, the court may order the nuisance abated and/ or the violation, or threatened violation, restrained and enjoined.

Section 4. Ordinance No. 7.401 adopted March 20, 1961 and December 4, 1972, is hereby repealed. All other ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of the Building Code herein adopted are, to the extent of such inconsistency, hereby repealed.

Section 5. This ordinance will be effective after publication and ten days from and after date hereof in accordance with the charter of the City.

The foregoing ordinance was offered by Councilman Whiting and supported by Council Palmer.

AYES: Mayor Easton, Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.

NAYS: None.

ABSENT: None.

Ordinance declared adopted on the 21st day of October, 1972.

Harold E. Easton, Mayor
Vera Gardner, Clerk

ORDINANCE

Regular meeting of the Common Council for the City of Tecumseh, held on the 21st day of October, 1974, at 7:30 p.m. in Council Chambers at 309 East Chicago Boulevard, Tecumseh, Michigan.

PRESENT: Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer, Puffer, Whiting, and Mayor Easton

ABSENT: None.

WHEREAS, Common Council heretofore received a written Petition to rezone the East 80 feet of Lot 45, Plat of Tecumseh Small Farms, from RA-2, One Family Residential District to I-1, Industrial District, from the record owner of said land, and,

WHEREAS, a Public Hearing has heretofore been held after due notice and at said Public Hearing no one appeared to oppose said Petition to Rezone; and,

WHEREAS, it is within the scope of the Master Plan of the City of Tecumseh and present Zoning Ordinances that said Petition be in conformance with the aforesaid; and,

WHEREAS, the change of zoning from RA-2, One Family Residential District to I-1, Industrial District, will protect the character and stability of Residential, Commercial, Industrial and Recreational areas within the City, and promote the orderly development of such areas;

NOW, THEREFORE, CITY OF TECUMSEH ORDAINS:

The East 80 feet of Lot 45, Plat of Tecumseh Small Farms be, and the same is hereby designated and hereafter zoned I-1, Industrial District, and that the classification of zone heretofore pertaining thereto, that being RA-2, Single Family Residential, be rescinded, and that the Zoning Map for the City of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, with respect to District Zones be changed in accordance herewith.

The foregoing Preamble and Ordinance was offered by Councilman Puffer and supported by Councilman Palmer.

AYES: Mayor Easton, Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.

NAYS: None.

ORDINANCE DECLARED ADOPTED.

Harold E. Easton, Mayor
Vera Gardner, Clerk

RESOLUTION

Whereas, Act 253 of the P.A. of 1964, known as the "local river management act" provides for the establishment of Watershed Councils in order to promote cooperation among local governments in river management; and

Whereas, the Michigan Natural Resources Commission having accepted the petitions of three eligible local units of government within the basin for the establishment of a River Raisin Watershed Council, adopted an order creating such a Council; and

Whereas, City of Tecumseh uses the waters of the River Raisin Basin for water supply and/ or waste disposal and is therefore eligible for representation on said Council; and

Whereas, City Council recognizes the need for cooperation of local units of government in planning and carrying out a coordinated water management program in the River Raisin Basin and is entitled to one representative on such Watershed Council:

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, that City of Tecumseh supports the concept of a River Raisin Watershed Council and wishes to exercise its right of representation and to take an active part in its activities and programs;

Be It Further Resolved That, Harold Easton is hereby appointed to represent the City of Tecumseh for a term of 2 years, but shall be subject to replacement, by resolution at the pleasure of this Commission.

The Foregoing Resolution was offered by Councilman Cook and supported by Councilman Palmer.

AYES: Mayor Easton, Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.

NAYS: None.

Resolution declared adopted on the 21st day of October, 1974.

Harold E. Easton, Mayor
Vera Gardner, City Clerk

Compiles Data

In order to help voters become better informed, Tecumseh Public Library has compiled a file of information on candidates and issues scheduled to appear on the Nov. 5 ballot.

Included are information on candidates for U.S. congressional, state, county, and local offices, material on the four state proposals, and sample ballots.

In addition, the library has the state League of Women Voters' publication of election information, which provides much material on the backgrounds and qualifications of the candidates.

The material on file at the library is nonpartisan in nature.

Conducting Services

The Rev. James R. Bell and wife, Jean, will conduct evangelistic services in the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene Nov. 5 through 10, at 7 p.m. each evening, and on Sunday, at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The Rev. James R. Bell, of Bethany, Okla., has been an ordained minister in the Church of the Nazarene since 1940.

He attended Eastern Nazarene College, where he received his ministerial training. It was at this time that he turned down an offer for professional baseball to enter full-time gospel ministry.

His first pastorate was in Pennsylvania, his home state. In 1970, after serving for over 25 years in an active pastoral ministry in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maryland, Kentucky, and Texas, he resigned to enter into full-time evangelistic work.

In addition to his pulpit ministry he has been active in district assignments and has contributed articles to the Herald of Holiness and the Preacher's Magazine.

The Rev. James Stephenson, pastor of the church, extends an invitation to the public to attend the services.

MR. and MRS. JAMES BELL

Friends and relatives are invited to an open house Nov. 3 in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Adams from 2 to 4 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Religious Education Center, hosted by their daughters. Bessie Parker and Clifford Adams were married Dec. 20, 1924 in Adrian by the late Rev. Forrest Ashbrook. They have spent their married life in the Britton and Tecumseh area. The couple have four daughters, Mrs. Lucy McEurol, Mrs. Donald Merriman of Orland, Ind., Mrs. Frank Geigler of Britton, and Mrs. Jack Crose of Anaheim, Calif. They also have 11 grandchildren and one great grandchild. The anniversary is being celebrated early because Mrs. Crose will be at home at that time. It is requested that gifts be omitted.

'Pat on Back'

The young man who took time to get involved when he noticed a fire burning leaves and endangering the home of Mrs. Ruth Dustin at 104 N. Democrat St., and stopped to waken her, needs a pat on the back, Mrs. Dustin said.

Mike Garcia was on his way home from the Fisher Body plant, about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday, and driving along Chicago Blvd., when he happened to notice the fire on the lawn at the vacant house at 106 N. Democrat.

When Garcia was unable to arouse anyone at the vacant house he aroused Mrs. Dustin, who had been asleep on the other side of her home next door, and might not have noticed the blaze until it set her house afire.

Garcia stayed around to help Mrs. Dustin rake the burning leaves away from the house until the firemen arrived.

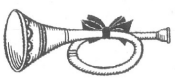
A GRAND OPENING CELEBRATION



This Sunday at the new Merkel Furniture & Carpet Store in Tecumseh

Please attend the opening of our new store in Tecumseh and help us celebrate 50 years of business.

We'll be serving refreshments, providing live music and giving away a host of door prizes.

There will be no merchandise sold on this celebration day, but as a grand opening special we'll be giving 10% off on all furniture, carpet and padding (and that goes for special orders, too) for the entire next week. The sale will be in effect at our Chelsea store as well.

Our new store will carry the same great lines that our Chelsea store is known for plus a decorating service, custom drapery department, wall paper department and warm, friendly service.

So, bring the entire family between 1:00 and 5:00 p.m. and help us celebrate our grand opening.

Then come in next week and save 10%.
The Merkel family looks forward to meeting you.

Indian Jayvees Beat The Flat Rock Rams

Tecumseh's jayvee football team posted a season record of 6–1 after defeating Flat Rock 45—14 last week.

The offense was led by the rushing of Kevin Eggleston with three touchdowns and Terry Brooks. The line did an excellent job led by Ray Jackson, Lyn Beard, Dan Tilton and Jeff Ives.

Offensively, the JV's grabbed 401 yards rushing and 55 yards passing. On the defense, Randy Mueller was outstanding at tackle. Pat Stoddard did a fine job at end as well as Tim Belcher at linebacker and Randy Arnett at halfback.

The squad meets Monroe Catholic Central Thursday evening at 7 p.m. at Indian Stadium. The game will close out their season.

The Rev. Billy Watts of Petersburg, Ind., will conduct revival meetings Nov. 4 through 10 at Tecumseh Lower Light Church, Kilbuck and Maumee Sts. Services will be held at 7:30 p.m. each night.

You Told Us

By Libby Lincoln

Is it the oncoming cold weather or the high gas prices that's causing a slow down in travel? "You Told Us" items are getting fewer and fewer—the only people who seem to be on the move are the lucky retirees and older citizens who are beginning the annual migration to southern climes. And speaking of gas prices...why is it that gas is so much cheaper in Adrian than in Tecumseh???

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lambert, Allen Road, have returned home from a flying visit to Cherry Point, N.C. to see their new grandson, Jason K.R. Johnson, born Sept. 20 to Lance Cpl. and Mrs. Kenton Johnson, nee Carolyn Lambert.

The Johnsons drove back to Tecumseh with their son and daughter-in-law and the new baby, where Cpl. Johnson is on leave from the Marines.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Williams of Dearborn returned home Friday after spending a week with her sisters, Mrs. Elliot McLain and Mrs. Maude Fisher.

Maureen McLain of Denver, Col., flew to Chicago on business last week, and came home to Tecumseh to spend three days with her mother, Mrs. Elliot McLain, and aunt, Mrs. Maude Fisher.

ELECT
ERNEST H.
OLIVER

STATE REPRESENTATIVE FOR LENAWEE COUNTY

—Time For A Change —

Welfare

Ernie Oliver is in favor of getting rid of welfare cheaters . . . welfare cheaters at the top as well as the bottom of the economic ladder. Example of cheaters is the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, wanting a rate increase and at the same time AT&T, who owns Michigan Bell, increases its dividends. Millionaires who pay no income tax are welfare cheaters at the top. Let's plug welfare loop holes now.

Lottery Money for Schools

Michigan Lottery is making tremendous profits each week. Let's make it a law that a certain percentage of Lottery Profits be diverted to school districts, relieving an unnecessary tax burden now required to support school districts.

Environmental Controls

Ernie Oliver is in favor of stricter enforcement of present laws, and most people are. His opponent, however, voted in favor of the "Gill Netters" in the Great Lakes. Shouldn't we be concerned . . . about our present State Representative?

Equitable Tax Relief

Ernie Oliver is in favor of some fair tax laws. Why should Senior Citizens have to hassle for their tax refunds? Why should many of the rich pay little or no income tax? Let's be fair!

Court Reform

We should move divorce and family problems out of Circuit Court and into a "Family Court." Many attorneys agree - and it's long past due. Why can't District Court hold night sessions so the average working man can really have true and equal justice without leaving his job and losing a portion of his wage? Ernie Oliver is in favor of reform - and now.

Austin Endorses Oliver

Dear Voter,

The people of Michigan need capable, effective leadership in the State House of Representatives. Ernest H. Oliver can provide that leadership.

Michigan is faced with severe problems in many areas - areas such as taxation, education and consumer protection. I have known Ernest H. Oliver for several years and am confident that he is the man to help solve these problems in a responsive, dynamic manner.

Ernest H. Oliver deserves your vote in his race for State Representative from the 40th District. I urge your support for him and for all of the State Democratic Ticket on November 5.

Sincerely,
Dick Austin
Secretary of State

Vote For Oliver And Our Fair Share

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to our friends for the kindness, words of sympathy, cards and flowers at the time of the death of our son, David. We're especially appreciative of the comfort given us by the Rev. Laszlo Gero.

Cal and Helen Damon 10-31c

I want to thank those who remembered me with flowers, cards and visits while I was in the hospital and since returning home. To Fr. James Lee, and Msgr. Vincent Howard for their prayers. Also to Dr. B. and Dr. F.

CARD OF THANKS

Buenaflor and hospital staff for their good care.

Mrs. Frank Hahn 10-31c

I wish to thank my relatives and friends for the many cards sent me. Also plants and flowers, while I was in the hospital. Thank you from the bottom of my heart for all the prayers which were said in my behalf. I know they helped so much. Many thanks to all my good doctors and nurses who took such good care of me. My heartfelt thanks to my neighbors for their gifts of food and help for my dear husband who was making the long trip to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital every day. Thanks so much for the good help of our social worker. My prayer is, May God Bless each and everyone of you and keep you in His care.

Mrs. Ella Arnold. 10-31p

I wish to thank Dr. Wilson, Dr. B. Buenaflor, nurses and aides for the care I received at Herrick Hospital. Also to the Rev. Ronald Corl, visitors, relatives and friends for their cards, letters, gifts and floral arrangements while I was ill. God bless everyone.

Leora Kane. 10-31c

The family of Harry Cox thank the relatives, friends and neighbors who were all so kind during our loss. The beautiful flowers, contributions, and food were deeply appreciated. We thank Rev. Robert Porter for his comforting words, the pallbearers, the Niblack Home for Funerals and our sisters and nieces who prepared and served the lunch. God bless you all.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cox and family. 10-31p

First Title Since '37

Britton Tories Win It All

A lot of people in the area undoubtedly chuckled softly to themselves earlier this year when Randy Salisbury - Britton's football coach - proclaimed that his Tories would be league contenders. After all, that was saying a lot. The Tories finished 0 for 5 in league play last season.

But Britton's crew not only were contenders, they won it all last Friday defeating previously unbeaten Adrian Madison for the Tri-County league crown. The 1300 fans at the game can attest to the final 12-0 tally. In a complete reversal, Britton finished 5-0 this season in league play.

And, adding frosting to the cake, the league championship is the first for Britton since 1937.

It was a clean hard-hitting game pitting two fine defenses against each other. The Madison defense had given up only nine points all season and grudgingly yielded ground to the powerful Tory running attack. The Britton defense posted its fourth shutout of the season.

Tory Dan Exelby returned the opening kickoff 35 yards to the Tory 44 yard line. Britton then marched 56 yards in 12 plays with quarterback Jeff Brown sneaking over the final yard for the first TD.

During the first half, the Tory defense continued to stop Madison at the goal line. Once the Trojans had a first and goal inside the ten, but Doug Shiels pounced on a Madison fumble on the next play to stop the drive.

Later in the second quarter, Bruce Homer intercepted a Britton pass and ran it to the Tory 19 yard line. The Trojans advanced the ball to the five where they had a first and goal. Madison was pushed back to the 12 in two plays and a third down pass fell incomplete to make it fourth and goal from the 12.

Trojan quarterback Jeff Kruse then hit Doug Zubke on a screen pass but the Tories stopped him on the one foot line and took the ball over on downs.

Madison advanced the ball down to the Tory 35 yard line just before the half, but Scott White intercepted a Kruse pass.

On Madison's second possession of the second half, the Trojans took the ball to the Tory 35. Mike Servoss then intercepted a Kruse pass and raced 50 yards to the Madison 24. On third and eight from the 22, Brown connected with Alan Reau on a 20 yard pass play to give the Tories a first and goal from the 2.

On third down, Alan Reau plunged one yard for the score. Conversion attempts after both touchdowns failed.

Madison's deepest penetration in the fourth quarter was to the Britton 27 when the Trojans were stopped on downs. At the final horn the fans poured on to the field to congratulate their team.

For Madison, Terry Judy had a fine game as he rushed the ball 22 times for 100 yards. Quarterback Jeff Kruse completed two of eight passed for 20 yards. Madison had a total offense of 138 yards. Defensively, Judy, Kevin King, David Gutierrez and Duane Wright played outstanding games.

For the Tories, Alan Reau gained 92 yards rushing in 27 carries and Mike Servoss added 56 yards in 16 carries. Quarterback Jeff Brown had 27 yards rushing and went one for four passing for 20 yards.

The entire Britton defensive unit played an outstanding game. Doug Armstrong had 17 tackles, Doug Shiels 15, Craig Wagenschutz 12, Mike Saxton 11 and Mike Servoss 10 tackles.

Coach Salisbury commented, "It was a great ball game. Madison has an excellent team and their defense did a fine job stopping our running attack. Our team has worked extremely hard all season and our efforts were rewarded with the conference title. A coach couldn't ask for a finer group of young men to work with."

The Tories finished the season with a perfect 5-0 record in the Tri-County conference, 6-1 overall. This Saturday they travel to meet Maumee Valley Country Day. The game will close out their season.

Harriers Send One To State Meet

Tecumseh's cross—country squad participated in two big meets last week, the Huron league meet and the Regionals,both held at Willow Metro Park.

The thin clads placed 5th out of eight in the league meet and 14th out of 18 teams at the Regionals. Indian Tim Scheff qualified for the state meet in the Regionals and will be traveling to Charlotte, Michigan for the big event this Saturday.

For the league meet, Scheff finished third with a time of 16:05. First place was grabbed by Grosse Ile's Jack Sinclair with 14:31. Finishing out the scoring for the Tecumseh squad was, Bob Cook, 14th with 16:57, Kim Cantrell,27th with 17:31, Gregg Wonderly, 32nd with 17:36 and Jim Harris, 34th with 17:57. Tecumseh placed 5th in the league with Airport taking the championship. The meet was held on Tuesday of last week.

The team went back to Willow Metro Park on Saturday to compete in the Regional meet with 17 other teams. Tecumseh placed 14th. Finishers for the team included, Tim Scheff, 13th at 16:13, Kim Cantrell, 65th at 17:28, Gregg Wonderly, 69th at 17:32, Bob Cook, 71st at 17:34, and Brad Sisson, 75th at 17:35.

Scheff qualified to participate in the state meet to be held Saturday. Coach Bill Croft commented, "He was lucky to make it because he tripped and fell hard in the first mile of the race. He's a sophomore and will be going to the state meet for the second time. His attitude is good and he's running as well now as ever in his life."

Scheff will be competing against 80 other individual runners for the three mile course.

Title Is At Stake

The Indians travel to Monroe for a contest with Monroe Catholic Central this Saturday night. The game closes out Tecumseh's league season and will decide whether Tecumseh shares the championship crown.

The Indians are already assured of a tie for the league title after defeating Flat Rock last Friday. If they beat CC they'll have the title exclusively. If CC scores an upset, Tecumseh will be forced to share the crown with Flat Rock, providing the Rams win.

Although the Falcons post a season record of 4—3—having lost to Flat Rock, Grosse Ile and Perrysburg, Ohio—Coach Pat Connors realizes that the contest is an "intense rivalry."

This season has been one of CC's worst. Last year the Falcons stood undefeated and took the crown. They also beat the Indians 19—0.

Connors continues, "We expect a tough game. During the last, eight or nine years, either CC or Tecumseh has won the Huron league. Every year we're nose to nose. Generally speaking, they are the class of the league although this season is their worst in five years. And if they could beat us, they could recover some of their lost pride."

Players to watch for, according to Connors, are Rich St. Bernard, an offensive and defensive player, and the Falcons quarterback, Joe Giarno.

The game will be held on Saturday this week with the usual kickoff time at 7:30 p.m.

Defensive Struggle

Indians Whip The Rams

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh traveled to Flat Rock and scored a big win—in a tough defensive struggle—beating the previously undefeated Rams, 7-0. The win assured the Indians of at least a tie for the Huron league championship.

And, if they win the big rivalry against Monroe CC this Saturday night, the Indians would own the crown exclusively.

But the story last Friday night centered on the Indians defensive squad as it refused to give up any points. In the second quarter, Mike Duhan scored the only Tecumseh TD as he picked up a fumbled Rams pitch out and scampered 55 yards for the score. The extra point try by Ken Biscupski was good.

The Indians were forced to play much of the game—especially in the first half—in their end of the field. As Coach Connors commented, "We had our backs up against the wall and that's a bad place to be throwing the ball." Consequently, the Indians stayed to the ground.

"We didn't want to do anything risky and allow the Rams to get ahold of the ball, so we put a lot of faith in the defense, used up the time, and tried to get at least a few first downs."

That strategy worked as the very tough Indian defense held the Rams. As Connors said later, "The defense put out a great effort, We had tremendous team defense."

The Rams threatened to score several times, but their efforts were defused. An example: with less than two minutes left in the fourth quarter, the Rams were on the offensive. Rams QB Joe Tigue heaved it down field and Indian Kent Jacoby picked it off at Tecumseh's five yard line.

That play sewed up the game as Tecumseh used up the remaining time.

The Indian offense just couldn't mount a scoring drive and Connors was a little disappointed with the squad's "performance." Quarterback Dave Spillman completed two of six passes for only five yards. Flat Rock's Tigue was much more active, completing six out of 18 for 75 yards.

In rushing, the Indians came up with 80 yards to the Rams' 69 yards with Jacoby the leading rusher going 44 yards in 12 carries. Duhan was next with 13 carries.

But Connors was pleased with both squads in their ability to hold themselves under the constant Flat Rock attack. "Flat Rock is a very good football team. They were inspired and came out at us. They put a lot of pressure on us but our players refused to give in to it," he said.

In addition, Connors said, "We were really well prepared for the Flat Rock game. And I want to recognize the rest of my staff, Ron Spagnoli, Bob Ondrovik and Jon Van Wagner for the outstanding job they've done with the players. When we started, we had an inexperienced crew and they've done a great job in bringing these kids along."

Flat Rock held the Indians to six first downs while the Rams grabbed nine for themselves. Although Tecumseh made its fair share of mistakes, losing 50 yards in six penalties, the Rams seriously hurt themselves by fumbling and losing the ball four times. Tecumseh capitalized on those mistakes, converting one fumble into the big touchdown play by Duhan.

Bob Webb was the leading tackler with 11, followed by Don Heistand with 8.

Cagers Win

Tecumseh's girls continue to shine in league basketball play. Last Wednesday they met Grosse Ile on the Indian's boards and defeated them by a convincing tally of 60—36. The varsity record stands at 8—0 for the season and 4—0 for the league.

Julie Anderson garnered the most points for Tecumseh with 22. Julie Murphy scored 14 points. Finishing out the scoring for the Indians: Susie Brown 10, Barb Henning, Linda Ternaktand Jan Stevens each with four, and Connie Younglove, 2.

The JV's also won theirs 29—9 with Kris Underwood the high scorer with 10. Grace Burns and Tori Iffland each had six points, and Debbie Steadly had three. Tammy Downing and Sheryl Bilhmeyer scored two points apiece.

Varsity scores by period:

Tecumseh	20	22	10	8	—60

Whats Up At THS

by Lauri Righter

Seventy-eight students will represent Tecumseh High School Nov. 4 at the third annual Lenawee County Youth Convention at Adrian College.

The convention is a mock political convention designed to give students an insight into the working of a real convention. All county schools will participate; total number of delegates are 550.

THS delegates in grades 10-12 have been selected by their teachers based on leadership, ability and willingness to work.

Advisors for THS are Paula Bowman, Jody Kahle and Gary Lovett.

During the morning session a Rules Committee will adopt all rules used during the day's activities.

In the afternoon, election of candidates will be held for the positions of chairman, parliamentarian, two tellers and clerk. Later in the afternoon, the committees will work out positions on current issues.

This year's issues are: inflation, pardon of former President Nixon, removal of sales tax on food and drugs, campaign reforms and land use.

While some schools are working on these issues, others will be working on the mock campaign candidates in the up-coming elections. These candidacies are for State Representative Jack Mowat (R), Ernie Oliver (D), Secretary of State Loraine Bebe (R), Richard Austin (D), and Governor Milliken (R), and Sander Levin (D); Elections of these candidates will be in the evening session.

Final event will be the election of officers for the 1975 Youth Convention.

Ticketed In Mishap

Douglas W. Noirot, 24, of Ypsilanti, was ticketed for careless driving, Saturday evening, when his automobile collided with another driven by Donald J. Bellmore, of 1004 W. Pottawatamie St.

Mishap occurred on US-12 one and one-half miles east of Lima Center Road, east of Clinton. Noirot was eastbound, and when he passed another vehicle and pulled back in line the car ahead applied his brakes, and Noirot swerved out into the path of the westbound vehicle driven by Bellmore, and the two collided.

There were no injuries. Clinton State Police investigated the accident.

Beef Dinner Is Success

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church's 20th Annual Roast Beef Dinner held Oct. 20 was a huge success despite cold weather. Total of 1,200 out of town visitors and local residents feasted on about 1,000 pounds of beef, tons of mashed potatoes, gallons of gravy and other goodies.

Dinner music was provided by Sister Denise, Pat Patten and Scott Aiuto on an organ donated for the evening by Flanders Music. Clowns circulated among the children and pony rides on the grounds were also provided.

Prizes were awarded to Richard Carmean of Tecumseh, James Krzyzaniak of Manchester, Elmer Spreeman of Tecumseh, and Herb Sullivan of Adrian. A special prize was awarded to Donald Linden of Tecumseh who sold the most tickets.

Now that the plates are washed and the beef eaten St. Elizabeth's can rest up for the 21st Roast Beef Dinner next year, and look forward to another parish success.

To the Editor:

County Manager system of government came before your Lenawee County Board of Commissioners this past summer, and I was just one of 10 on the Board who voted against adopting it. I sincerely do not believe that Lenawee County wants and needs this form of government at this time. And these are the reasons why I voted no:

1. The initial and immediate expense for salaries and the office of a new County Manager would be in the neighborhood of $50,000. This annual expense could double or even triple within a few years. I believe that this expense alone would be far greater than any savings which might be realized or ascertained through a County Manager system.

2. Without a question, there would be a duplication of responsibilities and duties otherwise conducted and enforced throughout your present committee structure of county government and County Commissioners.

3. Our county should not be subjected to a single individual's thinking. A County Manager, like a city manager, would have tremendous influence in decision making. I believe that "15 minds are better than one."

4. Less than ten percent of the counties in the United States have a County Manager system. Perhaps, the reasons for such a small number of County Managers might well be his limited and restricted responsibilities and obligations, his lack of jurisdiction over elected officials and offices (in Lenawee County, he would have jurisdiction over approximately 10 people), and the fact that practically all of his decisions must first come before your County Commissioners. This is the law. Is this what you want?

"I feel that as long as 15 County Commissioners are doing their job, I do not feel that a County Manager system of government is needed for Lenawee County at this time."

William Mackey
District 10
Lenawee County Commissioner

To The Editor:

Citizens for Open Government (COG) has announced that its members favor by 85 per cent a county manager for Lenawee County.

It was the feeling of COG members that a county manager would provide a more efficient and businesslike approach to operating and implementing county government, enabling county commissioners to retain the power of policy-making, but leaving the business details to a professional business manager.

Among these business duties would be budgeting and monthly and annual statements, as well as long-range capital budgets. He or she would be responsible for managing and coordinating services to many departments, boards and commissions of county government.

A county manager could assist in studying, establishing and executing intergovernmental programs. He or she would be responsible for locating and making public information on national, state or local programs and funds available for these programs.

The coordination of departments and central purchasing would be additional assets, as well as centralizing all information so that citizens may become knowledgeable on any county program by contacting one person rather than fifteen.

The members of Citizens for Open Government reflect a spectrum of civic organizations county-wide.

COUNTY MANAGER ISSUES

To The Editor:

To suggest that the management of a private, voluntarily established business enterprise can be analogous to government (organized force) is erroneous, misleading and inappropriate.

Such comparison fails to appreciate that government is a necessary PUBLIC institution backed by the coercive force of police agencies and court systems. It also fails to recognize that one of the main functions of our form of government, be it local, state or national, is to protect persons and property; a function quite different to that of a business enterprise. To define government as big business is to confuse.

The authority for government rests in the hands of the governed. Hence the need to keep the exercise of government authority within the body of elected representatives (County Commissioners), holding them responsible, rather than to permit them to delegate, transfer or place any part of that authority in the hands of an individual or bureaucracy.

Persons contemplating the need for a change in our form of government would be well advised to read Public Act 139. The above suggest a 'No' vote to the COUNTY MANAGER form of government for Lenawee county.

11,900 Lives Lost in Fires

Deaths totaled 11,900 and fire loss 3.1 billion dollars in 1973 according to the National Fire Prevention Association. There is little that can be done once tragedy has struck. But besides planning an escape, removing fire hazards is another important precaution.

Most fires start in one of these nine specific places or ways:

1. Fraved electrical cords. (Electricial problems are the number one cause of building fires. Replace cords when they're frayed. Electricity is a wonderful servant, but you must play by the rules.)

2. Overloaded electric circuits. (Have your electrician install more outlets for the home or office.)

3. Ordinary extension cords on irons or heaters (Ordinary lightweight cords are not meant to carry heavy loads such as an iron or electric heater demands.)

4. Smoking in bed. (Just one worked, DON'T).

5. Cigarette carlessness. (Squash out cigarettes every time and use safe ash trays. A smoldering cigarette recently cause about 1.5 million dollars of damage to the Detroit Engineering Society section of the Detroit Rackham Building.)

6. Matches left near children. (Don't leave them where children can get to them.

7. Junk in cellar, attic or closets. (Now is the time to sell it or throw it out. But get rid of it.)

8. Inflammable cleaning fluids. (Check the bottle before you buy to make sure cleaning fluid is non-inflammable.)

9. Chimneys that spark. If it sparks it needs to be cleaned or fixed.

Another way to be prepared on the home front is to make sure that your children's rooms are clearly marked with Totfinder decals. These highly visible, reflective decals, placed on windows of children's rooms facing outside and at the bottom of interior doors facing into hallway, will alert firemen to clear marked areas first.

These decals distributed a few years ago by the Jaycees will be available again to Tecumsehites when a new shipment arrives.

Ballots To Be Mailed

Ballots will be mailed to all known wool and lamb producers in Lenawee Co. to enable them to vote in a National referendum on a proposed new agreement for the advertising and promotion of wool, according to Richard Emmons, county executive director of the Lenawee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

Mail referendum is being held Nov. 4-15. Producers will approve or disapprove a new agreement between USDA and the American Sheep Producers Council (ASPC) which provides for the USDA to withhold a part of any wool payments that might be made to producers to finance advertising and sales promotion programs by ASPC for wool and lamb. The withheld funds would also be used by ASPC to develop and disseminate information for wool and sheep.

The new agreement is similar to one approved by producer in 1971. If approval is voted, payment deductions of up to 1½ cents a pound on shorn wool and 7½ cents a hundredweight on unshorn lambs would be made, the same as the maximum deduction rates for the 1966-72 period. Since no wool payments were made for 1973 marketings there were no deductions for that year.

Any producer who is not already known to the county ASCS office is urged by Emmons to come by or call the local county ASCS office in order to receive a ballot and explanatory material.

Dedicated Outdoor Bulletin Board

A hexagon outdoor bulletin board was dedicated at the Sunday morning service Oct. 27 at the Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church in memory of deceased members and friends of the church.

The Church's Memorial Fund made the new bulletin board possible. The board is 48 inches wide down the center, through which runs a slender cross. There are two side wings, each seven feet wide and six feet high, and notices on the board can be read from either approach to the church. The structure contains 1700 bricks, and is sunk in a deep foundation. Lighted at night, a new ground spot light is yet to be added. Total cost of the board was $2050.

Landscaping around the bulletin board is slated for warmer weather, with the Church's building and grounds committee in charge of the plans for this additional beautification.

The Rev. Dane Ruff, pastor of Tecumseh Friends Church, officiated at the dedication services, noting that a church is never completed, and read a dedicatory prayer. The names of the 25 families who participated in the memorial were read; and in closing, the congregation sang a song of praise.

Religious Film Sunday Night

A Thief in the Night will be shown Sunday evening, Nov. 3 at 7 p.m. at the Church of the Nazarene, W. Chicago Blvd.

The film is a motion picture about Bible prophecy. It shows what can happen when Jesus Christ returns. Story centers around Patty, an average girl caught up in living for the present, with little concern about the future. What happens when this thinking finally catches up with her provides an action packed, unforgettable drama.

The fast moving pace includes a young man confronted by a deadly Asian cobra, a young girl's daring escape from jail, and a take-over by "The Imperium" that regards all who are not properly identified as enemies of the system.

Filmed on location in Iowa, this picture portrays with devastating reality the Biblical prediction, "There will be no place to hide."

Mrs. Robison Is Hostess for Group

The Northeast Study Group of the Cooperative Extension Service sponsored by Michigan State University met in the home of Mrs. Ellsworth Robison recently.

Eleven members were present and one member, Mrs. Harry Snyder, was welcomed into membership. Mrs. Charles Cox presided over the business meeting.

Group will provide and sell stuffed animals and home baked foods for the "Old Fashioned Christmas" bazaar sponsored by all extension clubs to be held in the Adrian Mall Nov. 9.

Mrs. Robison presented the lesson "can we eat well for less?"

Study Group will meet with Mrs. Clifford Southard on Nov. 26.

Democrats To Canvass On Nov. 2 nd

Hugh Flippo, Lenawee County Democratic Chairman, announced that Democrats who will canvass the county on Nov. 2 are: Mike Daugherty, Kirk Curtis and Ernest Oliver, and all the county Democratic Commissioner candidates.

The caravan will leave the city of Adrian at 10 a.m., driving to Morenci, Hudson, Onsted, Clinton, Tecumseh, Britton, Deerfield, Blissfield and back to the city of Adrian.

Hunter Cooperation Is Requested

Firearms deer season opens Friday, Nov. 15. Every successful hunter is asked to bring the head of the deer to the checking station during this period so that biological information can be obtained to assist in the management of this game animal. Those who bring in the deer for examination will be awarded a "Successful Deer Hunter" shoulder patch.

The Wildlife Division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources will operate a deer checking station for two one-half day periods in Lenawee County during the 1974 firearms deer season. The checking station will be located in Lenawee County at the Adrian Mall Junction of M-52 and US 223, parking lot, east of Sears Roebuck store, Adrian, Saturday, Nov. 23 and 30 from 1-4 p.m.

Holloway Happenings

by Helen Smoll 263-9259

HOLLOWAY — Mr. and Mrs. LaVern E. Moll celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday from 2-7 p.m. at their home at 5800 Holloway Road.

Their children Berry Rodney, and Cheryl honored their parents. The home was decorated for the occasion. Buffet table was graced with silver candelabra adorned with red-rover chrysanthemums watching the centerpiece. Assisting were Ester Butler, Judy McCollum, Mrs. Alton Wellnitz, Patricia Clauda, David Biscupski and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Posky.

Cakes were baked by Mrs. Howard Cavin. The fruitered cake matched the color scheme and was served by Mrs. Butler.

One of the highlights of the day was the arrival of their exchange son from Utpsalla, Sweden, Spefen Parkman, who lived with the Molls in 1969-70. He is appearing with the Choral Society from his country and performing in the eastern states.

Many congratulatory messages were received from 14 foreign students who have lived in the Moll home.

Businessman Is Speaker

William Norris of Village Floors, was guest speaker at the Oct. 15 meeting of Xi Delta Gamma.

He explained and showed samples of the various types of floor coverings and the care required by each.

Mrs. Howard Wilson was hostess for the meeting with Mrs. Larry Reichenbaugh assisting as co-hostess. Programs for the evening were "Floor Coverings" given by Mrs. Robert Martin and "Background Walls" presented by Mrs. Harley Slick.

On Oct. 22, Xi Delta Gamma hosted its newly-formed sister chapter from Manchester, Lamda Nu, with a chapter exchange party at the home of Mrs. John Korican.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Marsh. Exemplar Day will be observed with members sharing their favorite hors d'oeuvres.

A-O Negative Blood Needed

Lansing Regional Blood Center has made a special, urgent request for a few pints of A negative and O negative blood. Donors who have either of these rare blood types are urged to give blood at the Fisher Body Plant Bloodmobile this Thursday, Oct. 31 from noon to 6 p.m.

While A negative and O negative blood donors are especially needed, all blood donors are invited and welcome. The American Red Cross underscores the constant need for new donors to keep this humanitarian program going and the shelves of the blood center stocked with all types of blood.

JULY, AUGUST, SEPTEMBER MEETINGS OF LENAWEE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

COUNTY COMMISSIONER MEETING
July Session, 1974
Wednesday, July 10, 1974

The Board met pursuant to adjournment.

ROLL CALL: All 15 members present.

Comm. Leon moved that the minutes of the June meeting be approved as mailed with minor corrections as noted, Comm. Lackie seconded the motion carried.

The Chairman then announced the two appointments to the R.C. & D. Board as requested at the June Session and the Commissioners Halley and Rodesiler.

Communication were read.

Comm. Halley referred to the Communication from Cambridge Township and moved that the Clerk be authorized to send a letter of appreciation to Supervisor Metty for his cooperation in withdrawing the Cambridge Township Tax Appeal in the interests of the entire County, Commissioner Lackie seconded and the motion carried by a voice vote.

Comm. Brown from the Ways and Means Committee referred to the copies of the amended budget that each Commissioner had received regarding the equalization of the salaries of the union employees. A discussion followed.

Comm. Fish moved that the budget be amended to include the recommended salary changes, Comm. Traub seconded and the motion carried by the following roll call vote: YEAS: Benner, Brown, Fish, Griffin, Hadden, Halley, Hauch, Lackie, Leon, Mackey, Rodesiler, Traub, Whelan, Wright, and Zilke (15). NAYS: None.

Comm. Brown then moved that an additional $1200.00 be appropriated to the Probate Court to allow for trainees of two new Probation Officers under the supervision of the present officers that were leaving. Comm. Benner seconded and the motion carried by the following roll call vote: YEAS: Benner, Brown, Fish, Griffin, Hadden, Halley, Hauch, Lackie, Leon, Mackey, Rodesiler, Traub, Whelan, Wright, and Zilke (15). NAYS: None.

Comm. Brown also reported they had met with the present owners of Loch Erin, no definite agreement had been reached and the owners were going to take steps to try and finance revenue bonds without the faith and credit of the county.

Comm. Fish introduced Mr. Dahlman, Equalization Director who reported on the progress his Department was making toward next year's Equalization Report, a discussion followed.

Comm. Mackey from the Judicial Committee reported on the progress of building and repairs at the Lenawee Spear Campus and also announced that Robert Poucher had been appointed to replace the late Ed Sisack on the Board.

At this point Chairman Griffin turned the meeting over to Comm. Mackey, Chairman Pro-Tem.

Comm. Rodesiler of the Public Safety Committee reported on their Committee meeting, all bills were approved and the new tower at the jail will be constructed, the fencing in the parking lot has been completed and the bids for the new marked cars awarded. The bids on the various steps of re-modeling to the jail building will be opened on July 23 at 11 a.m.

Comm. Lackie from the Legislative Committee called attention to the fact that Dr. Alvin House from Michigan State University would be present at the afternoon session to talk on two different pieces of legislation effecting the county. The County Administrator Act and the act referred to as "Farmland and Open Space Act." He then moved that the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, owners of Cedar Point in Ohio have purchased considerable land in Lenawee County and plan to develop an extensive recreational facility in Cambridge Township in the Irish Hills, and

WHEREAS, Lenawee County has been by-passed in the construction of freeways and has less than adequate state highways for area traffic levels,

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners alerts the State Highway Department of the threatened traffic crisis in Lenawee County and urges the immediate planning of adequate highways to accommodate this new and highly respected member of the Michigan Tourist industry. Copies to be sent to the appropriate agencies. Comm. Hauch seconded and the motion carried by voice vote.

Comm. Zilke from the Building and Grounds Committee stated that his committee had been asked to authorize minor repairs to the Historical Museum. Bids for the repairs to the Court House Building will be open on July 16th at 1 p.m.

Comm. Benner from the Drains Committee stated that the bus tour was a success and the members who attended learned much about the places visited. Also, the subject of Loch Erin had been discussed in their Committee and the matter of establishing the level of the Lake would have to be taken care of by the developers.

Comm. Traub from the Departmental Committee reported on his Committee meeting, called attention to the fact that there was a trial balance in the Treasurer's office on each Commissioners Desk. Also, that the State Auditing Department would start auditing the county's books again this fiscal year saving the expense of an outside auditing firm. Comm. Halley moved that the Revenue Sharing Report as presented be accepted, signed by the Chairman and placed on file, Comm. Traub seconded and the motion carried by voice vote.

Comm. Leon from the Social Services Committee talked about the Social Services Building, the Mental Health Department has moved off the second floor and remodeling will have to be done for the Social Services to take over this space. The Clerk then upon read a letter from the State Department approving the present plans of the Building and Grounds Committee to utilize this space be also announced that the responsibility for the Lilly Fund had been given to the Treasurer's office at the recommendation of the State Auditors. He then referred to the Veteran's Affairs Office and asked the Clerk to read a letter of resignation from the Director, Galen Toms. He then announced that his deputy, Mrs. Doris Wallace would be retiring August 1st. Comm. Leon then presented the following resolution and moved its' adoption:

WHEREAS for the past five years, Galen E. Toms has served Lenawee County as Director of Veterans' Affairs, and has recently submitted his resignation from this position;

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners does hereby express appreciation to Mr. E. Toms for his high degree of professionalism, intense personal interest and dedicated service to the Veterans and their families of Lenawee County while serving as Director of Veterans Affairs of Lenawee County. Comm. Lackie seconded and the motion carried unanimously by voice vote.

Comm. Leon announced that the annual convention of the Welfare Boards would be held at Mackinac Island August 25-6-7 and he would like to attend. No action was taken.

Comm. Patricia J. Johnston, Clerk

Wednesday, August 21, 1974

The Board met pursuant to adjournment.

ROLL CALL: 12 members present. Commissioners Fish, Halley, and Zilke absent. (Vacation)

Communications were read. It was noted that someone had "removed" the brass eagles atop the flag stands and the Clerk volunteered to see that they were replaced.

Comm. Brown from the Ways and Means Committee reported that the committee had met and approved the bills. Further, they had also met with the proponents of Loch Erin and Cambridge Township officials but there was nothing new to report on that area at this time. The various department heads will be notified to get their budgets in by mid-September they will begin working on fiscal year 1975.

Comm. Rodesiler gave the Court's Report. He reported there is a bill in the legislature that should be investigated regarding a juvenile security for juveniles and our Probate Judge Glaser was opposed to this legislation and would provide the bill for anyone interested. He also reported on the Public Safety Committee meeting and that work had begun on the jail as of this day.

Comm. Benner of the Drains Committee stated his Committee had met and approved the bills. A new gasoline tank has been installed at the new drain building and that operation is now completely moved out there. They also discussed Loch Erin and the problem with the flood gate in the dam. They expressed concern about the Erosion and Sedimentation Program that will go into effect January 1, 1975 and the Drain Commissioner is working on some rules and regulations and a possible resolution this Board may act on. They also felt there should be some coordination when the new building area is put into effect for the public to obtain permits for various things.

Comm. Traub from the Departmental Committee said the State Audit is progressing well and each commissioner had a trial balance as of July 31st, 1974 on his desk.

Comm. Leon from the Social Services Committee presented a report on the Medical Care Facility, also they were preparing their 1975 budget. This unit is also about to begin new union negotiations and were authorized to hire an attorney in their behalf. As a member of the Veteran's Affairs Committee, he reported that the State had raised the yearly appropriation to the county from $1,200.00 to $1,800.00 to administer this program within our County. Also, they were interviewing applicants and hoped to have a director by September 1st.

Comm. Whelan gave a report from the Health Department.

Comm. Hauch from the Road Committee have a lengthy report on the progress being made in that area. The bridge replacement and repair is coming well also grading and sealing of many roads well under way. The matter of the Park Land in Medina Township that was voted down by the Board is being considered by The County Planning Commission as to cost to the County and Funds expected from the State. The option to this property does not run out until December, 1974. A lengthy discussion followed. Comm. Lackie moved that the matter of the Park Property be turned over to the County Planning Commission for a complete report at the September, 1974 meeting of the Board. Comm Traub seconded and the motion carried.

Comm. Traub acting as a member of the Equalization Committee referred to two requests from Director Dahlman for funds to attend a school and the purchase of a hand book. Comm. Benner moved that the matter be referred to the Ways and Means Committee to report back in the afternoon, Comm. Hauch seconded and the motion carried.

Comm. Hauch reported on the Library Meeting and the matter of an addition is still being discussed. The circulation has been exceptional.

Lewis Ruesink, President of the Michigan Townships Association reported that their meeting again in September and in the meantime he felt it was very important for the County to consider the State Building Code that would shortly be in effect and also that townships be encouraged to adopt their own and enforce their own.

Comm. Traub from the County Planning Commission stated that some progress in regard to drafting with Region II would be forthcoming for the Board to act on. He also felt that some areas where the Planning Commission should be authorized to do the ground work for the Commission had been overlooked and that members of that committee were well qualified to make studies and recommendations in many areas. The matter of the State Construction Code was referred to as one of these matters.

Engineer Ronald Lear was introduced and gave a brief report of road progress including a tour he took with several of the commissioners on the various roads through the county. Considering the vast amount of work at hand, things were coming very well.

Two Attend Union College in Kentucky

Norman Ross Fisher, son of Mrs. Maude M. Fisher of 3009 W. Monroe Road, Tipton, is enrolled at Union College in Barbourville, Ky. for the fall semester.

A graduate of Tecumseh High School, he is a sophomore majoring in business and accounting at Union.

Another Tecumseh High School graduate attending Union College is Nancy M. Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Warner of 303 Herrick Park Drive.

Nancy is a freshman and is studying elementary education.

Union College is a private liberal arts college related to the United Methodist Church. Five degree programs are offered, including two-year, four-year and graduate degrees.

Jaycees Host Hunt, Halloween Party

Halloween costume party and scavanger hunt hosted by Tecumseh Jaycees, Saturday at the Odd Fellows hall, was attended by 14 couples.

Grady Frederick and friend, Denise, captured costume prizes.

Separated from their spouses, the group was sent on a hectic scavenger hunt that took them scurrying throughout the area, even to the police station where they sought the signature of the policeman on duty. Speediest pair in retrieving the booty were Dan Bush and Jean Hoover. Booby prizes were won by Mike and Pat Guernsey and Larry Burnett and Terry DeMoss.

Evening was climaxed by a bountiful buffet supper, arranged cooperatively.

Plans for the event were made by Tom Ball, and Mrs. John Seay.

To the Editor:

Sometimes I wonder what is going on in Tecumseh city hall. If they are truly representatives of the citizens and youth who live in this fine beautiful city. They must feel that as long as they are employed in above average positions or own and operate their own business, they can ignore the average citizens cry for decent and regular waste collection. They can ignore the cry from the youths and senior citizens for recreation and unobtrusive, unprejudiced and respectable law and order!

It is now time that the citizens of Tecumseh step forward, young and old, under the constitution of United States and use their rights which are guaranteed. For representation in local and federal government which control the operations and many different departments which we are presently concerned about. On November 5th of this year in Tecumseh there will be an election for the four seats on City Council. The voters will have ten candidates for the four seats including myself.

It is important that you study all candidates and have them express their opinion on any subject or any particular situation which may be of importance to you the voter.

I personally believe it is time that City Council awaken to the fact that there are other citizens in Tecumseh besides themselves and the government local or federal is run by the people not by one individual or dictatorship. I am willing to discuss without any reluctance my own personal views with any person or group on any subject which may be of importance to you or the city. How many candidates can say that?

To The Editor,

Our vote on local questions and officials November 5th is the most important one individuals have. Please remind yourself and others to use it.

1. I feel a trained, non-political County Manager will help our commissioners better represent us by:

1. Keeping us informed about county decisions before they are made.

2. Keeping us and our representatives aware of the advantages and disadvantages of business transactions, laws and bills which could help us or harm us if they are not knowledgable.

3. Bring our county together on important issues on the State and National level where our one-man, one-vote just isn't enough.

Sincerely,
Lynn Cook

DAVE OUSTERHOUT DISPLAYS PRIZE

Dave Bags Huge Elk in Wyoming

Dave Ousterhout and Don Maves were among a party of five hunters who returned Oct. 22 from a week-long big game hunt on a private ranch of 25,000 acres north of Casper, Wyoming.

Others in the party were Lamar Wallace and Dennis Sharkey of Elkhart, Ind. and Harold Anderson of Clark Lake, Mich.

They returned home with three elk and three deer. One elk, shot by Ousterhout, was a six point bull which dressed out at 750 lbs., the largest elk ever taken in at the ranch.

The elk will eventually be mounted and on display at Ousterhout's Flower Shop.

Junior High Open House on Nov. 5th

Tecumseh Junior High School is sponsoring an open house for parents Nov. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

A miniature school day is being planned. Parents will follow a typical schedule of their child's classes. In each class a brief explanation of the course content will take place of the usual assignments and discussion. Following the last period, refreshments will be served in room 403 and opportunities for informal talks with the teachers will be possible.

Staff anticipates the usual high parent interest and attendance. Arrangements for the event are being made by the Junior High School Open House Committee, Mrs. Juanita Becker and Dale Harvey.

Girls Are Guests of Association

Tecumseh area Camp Fire and Blue Bird girls were the guests of the Tecumseh Leaders Association Oct. 26 at a Halloween party, held at the home of Mrs. Roger Partridge.

The members of Mrs. Partridge's Camp Fire group decorated her home with the traditionally spooky designs of Halloween. Each girl made a mask out of a paper bag and a contest was held to judge the masks. Winners were Blue Birds, Sheri Anderson and Michelle Rodabaugh, Tipton School, Mrs. Georgie Covell, leader; Angela Holbrook, Tecumseh Acres School, Mrs. Walters, leader; Vicki Hoover, Ridgeway, Mrs. Sharon Mohu, leader; and Elizabeth Tiede and Sabrina Szman, Sutton School, Barb Connin, leader.

Camp Fire Girl winners were Danette Holbrook, Tecumseh Acres School, Mrs. Rupert, leader; Cindy Every and Shawn Partridge, Tipton, Mrs. Carol Partridge, leader; Daisey Slick, Saline School, Mrs. Jan Slick, leader; Wendy Helm and Rose Thompson, Ridgeway, Mrs. Delores Thompson, leader.

Games were played under the direction of Mrs. Karen LeVeck with the help of Janice Slick, Sheri Hoover and Catherine Harsh. Each girl received a prize.

VOTE YES
For A County Manager
✓Put Lenawee County on a Business-Like Basis!
✓Get MORE for Your Tax Dollars...
A County Manager will not cost taxpayers any extra money. In the long run YOU SAVE MONEY with a More Effective Form of County Government!
Why A County Manager?
To better inform the residents of Lenawee County, a list of questions uppermost in the minds of the people are answered.

Why do we need a County Manager anyway? Doesn't our present system work well?
While any system will work to some degree, the present committee system has a number of shortcomings. With commissioners working part-time and having divided responsibilities, there is no central person who is responsible for the overall county operation. This permits inefficiencies which cost the taxpayer money. A County Manager would put County Government on a more businesslike basis.

Wouldn't a County Manager cost money?
Certainly a County Manager would be paid a salary which is not a county expense presently; however, this cost would not result in increased taxes because of fixed millage. Based on experiences of other counties, a person who is capable of performing the duties of County Manager will save the county the cost of the County Manager's salary and save additional tax dollars. A County Manager would also make the present tax dollars work more efficiently and effectively.

If a County Manager would be effective, why haven't we had one up until now?
In 1973, Public Act 139 was passed by the Michigan Legislature. This act specifically gave counties the option of a County Manager appointed by the Board of Commissioners or election of a County Manager by the voters.

What would be the County Manager's responsibilities?
As spelled out in the statute, the County Manager's duties would include: Preparation of the annual county budget subject to the approval of the board; Administer the funds within that budget; Prepare a proposed long-range capital improvement program and capital budget each year; Advise the board, at least quarterly, on the financial condition of tte county; Coordinate the various activities of the county and unify the management of its affairs; Appoint, supervise and, at the board's pleasure, remove heads of departments except elected officials; Any other duties as assigned by the board.

How would a County Manager affect County Commission operation?
A County Manager would permit the Commission to shift away from the present emphasis on direct involvement in trying to administer daily county operation and permit the Commission to analyze and formulate policy and review the administrative operations of the manager and elected officials. A County Manager would give Commissioners a central individual with both the responsibility and authority to effectively administer county affairs on a daily basis.

THE ELECTION ON NOVEMBER 5th IS CRUCIAL TO TTE PRESENT AND FUTURE OF LENAWEE COUNTY. ONLY INFORMED ELECTORS CAN JUDGE THE MERITS OF THE ISSUE

House Receives Air Force Medal

Staff Sergeant Elmer C. House III has received the Air Force Commendation Medal for his meritorious service as a survival instructor and section leader, field training section, aircrew training branch, 3612th Combat Crew Training Squadron, Fairchild Air Force Base, Washington.

The accompanying citation stated that his "professional skill, knowledge, and military bearing contributed immeasurably to the revision and validation of the Basic Survival Training Course."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson House Jr. of Tecumseh. A 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School. He graduated from Stautzenberger College in Toledo, and enlisted in the Air Force in 1967. Sgt. House is married and has two children. He and his family live in the Philippines.

Graduates Surveyed

Lenawee Vocational Center, in conjunction with the 12 school districts in Lenawee County, is conducting a survey of 1974 secondary graduates.

Purpose of the survey is to find out what graduates are doing and how well they feel school programs have served their needs.

Information obtained from the survey will be used in planning better school programs.

Survey forms were mailed to graduates Oct. 15, and they are urged to return the surveys as soon as possible, or by Nov. 15.

Families of graduates are asked to forward the surveys to those persons in school, the military, or other wise who are not presently living at home.

Investigate Bag System

City council authorized Cal Zorn, city manager to investigate other methods of solid waste disposal than the present bag system with MH Weaver garbage collection.

Suggestion came from councilman Jim Palmer who thought that another, uniform system could be less expensive and more effective. Steve Kruger agreed it is time to appraise present method.

Zorn said bag collection system is the recommendation for solid waste disposal by experts in the field.

Folks Protest Development

Controversial request of the Appolo Land Development Co. for rezoning for the Green Meadows mobile home development was finally aired at a long coming public hearing before Council Monday night.

The one and a half hour orderly hearing ended with no decision from council. Mayor Harold Easton said Tuesday that the request would be on the Nov. 18 Council agenda.

Save for five persons who stood when one citizen called for a standing vote, almost all of the approximate crowd of 50 opposed the rezoning.

Major objections voiced at the hearing included burden on city services, density within the project, accelerated and undesirable growth of the city and unfair tax burden.

Donald Purkey, 525 N. Occidental Hwy. spoke longest and objected to the entire rezoning.

Purkey said he lives close to the proposed change and objected to the density of the development, increase in traffic and need for more police and fire protection, water and sewage, overcrowding of schools.

He also suggested that the density would generate job, gasoline and energy shortages and asked if Council had made any impact studies.

He argued that the existing trailer park in the city remains only half developed and asked the developer's attorney for a guarantee on the developer's performance.

"As a businessman and past councilman, I have seen this community progress in a slow and orderly growth and my question is do we want this kind of growth in the city of Tecumseh?" he concluded.

Jack Osburn, 515 Seminole Drive, said, "I'm not against what these people are trying to do, but why not have a performance bond to assure us the project will be completed.

"What I want to know is can you perform. I don't think you can," he challenged Shendon.

Concerns of other citizens were based on the quality of growth of the city.

Donna Ousterhout, N. Occidental, opposed the entire development on the basis of the density. "I don't mind neighbors, but I don't want 240 of them."

Lori Egli, 615 W. Chicago Blvd. was another voice opposed to the entire rezoning and supported "slow and orderly growth."

Mrs. Cecil Eby, 203 N. Union, another opponent, explained the feelings of several concerned Tecumsehites. "There are not many cities like this left. I agree that some kind of growth is important, but not in this form. I think that there are better solutions to lower income housing. People also need space."

City attorney Greg Forsthoefel answered one query about a public vote saying that a recent Supreme Court decision made the matter a legislative function of the local Council.

Some in the audience disagreed with his advice saying that the court decision does not say Tecumseh can't bring the rezoning to a public vote.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Berkley, 104 Evans Drive, asked to see a map with landmarks and present roads and where the development would be in relation to existing properties. They questioned why Mr. Cox, the developer was not present and why no pictures of his work were presented.

Berkley objected to the unfair tax burden and said that Adrian recently vetoed a smaller park proposal on this basis.

Attorney Shendon replied, "Rezoning does not give us a carte blanche to go ahead and do whatever we please. After rezoning there is site plan review, and the city departments will make changes. We have not submitted structural plans since we do not have zoning. If you want pictures, I assume I can get them."

"We've worked on this with your city for almost three years now and we've given you all that you've asked for. I won't apologize for the drawings. You've never asked so much from any other developer before."

At that point, the crowd became disorderly for the first time and voices cried, "We've never had so much to lose before."

Wayne Hebb, 108 Evans Creek Drive, asked if anyone had made a study of the tax and other burdens.

Mayor Easton said no but that existing sewer and water systems were adequate and that extensions into the system would be the responsibility of the developer.

Councilman Aden Mead broke the long pondering silence of the other five members when he told the people, "I share the same concerns that you do. But I have to consider, with Council the democratic freedom of people to move freely. I would like someone to help me answer this question, can we as a Council stand in the door and say 'You can't come in?' "

The citizens thought that given the inclement weather, a wide cross section of citizens had appeared to voice their opinion and urged council to vote on the election eve.

Hebb concluded his remarks saying, "We've elected you to oversee the affairs of the people at Tecumseh. To decide what's good, and what's bad and whether or not someone is trying to put an unfair tax burden on us. We think that this development is far from what we like. We are not denying trailer parks in the city. We want to keep the city like it is. We're not saying don't build homes, only don't build trailer home parks."

Fay Whelan, city resident and County Commissioner, said that the decision in the final anaylsis "rests upon the council's back. You have the Planning Commission. I think you have the ability to find out whether or not this is good or bad. Now it is up to you."

Concluding his remarks, Shendon said "Change will come and I think its better to see it come this way than through piecemeal zoning. We are tax paying citizens and if we're not, it's up to the assessors and state to make sure we are. This project represents hours of work between the developer and your Planning Commission.

"It is your obligation to provide housing and we believe that this meets that obligation to provide housing for a cross section of residents. The courts say you cannot exclude certain groups of people. A performance bond is not required by law today. If you have any questions, you may contact me."

HALLEY, NICHOLS, JACKSON WIN COMMISSIONER RACES

Incumbents, Woman Win Seats

Tuesday's election, attracting nearly 60 percent of the city's registered voters, saw incumbents winning with two exceptions.

All three incumbents - Dr. Carlton Cook, Ray Puffer and James Palmer - were returned to Council, and the electorate picked a woman for a Council seat for the first time in over 17 years.

Mary Bowers ran second only to Dr. Cook in a city race that involved 10 candidates seeking the four Council seats on the ballot.

Two incumbents losing were both County Commissioners. Nancy Nichols defeated Fay Whelan in District 6, and Ray Jackson won over Ron Brown in District 3.

Martin Halley, County Commissioner in District 5, edged challenger Joseph Conklin by just 22 votes, although he trailed in Tecumseh's Precinct 2.

Ernest Oliver, who challenged John Mowat previously for State Representative from the 40th District, came closer Tuesday, losing countywide by about 2,000 votes and by less than a 100 in Tecumseh.

County manager proposal for Lenawee County was turned down by approximately 2 to 1 vote, with the city vote here an even larger margin.

Vera Gardner, city clerk, reports that 2,258 voted here Tuesday out of 3,925 registered voters.

Drive Lags in Poor Start

Annually, Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation relies heavily on industry to help reach its goal. It's no different this year in one of the poorest starts ever.

The drive was scheduled to end Friday, but Barbara Blanden, drive chairman, says the campaign will continue until all efforts to reach the $76,316 goal have been completed.

Breakdown of the drive so far is:

Industry - approximately $18,600 or 40 percent raised towards a $43,500 division goal; neither Tecumseh Products nor Fisher Body have completed drives.

Professional - $1,000 raised, about 28 percent of the $2,816 goal.

Schools - $2,001 reported with officials confident they will exceed $3,000 goal.

Residential - only $875 raised or about 30 percent of a $3,000 goal.

Commercial - $4,400 reported of which 90 percent comes from United Savings Bank and personnel there; goal is $12,500.

Public employees - $265 reported, less than 20 percent of a $1,500 goal.

Special gifts - $6,300 received towards a $10,000 goal.

Contributions from all divisions total $32,841, less than half of the Foundation's goal.

LUCKY STUDENT — Few survive such crashes that Bradley Hamilton experienced last Friday morning. Accident on Ridge Rd. was so bad that the Eastern Michigan University student was removed after the crumpled roof was cut away. Hamilton, only his face is seen here, is gently lifted by rescuers. 'Beat Adrian' Time Again

By FRANK WEIR

It's that time of the year again. Mother Nature is hinting at the winter weather to come, Christmas gift lists are growing and office workers are relishing the thought of the annual Christmas party before the turkey is even on the table.

It's also that time when the Tecumseh Indians hold their annual football clash with the Class A Adrian Maples.

This year's contest — at Adrian, Friday night — will mark the 17th meeting between the two since the series started in 1957. Over those years, the Indians have won six, lost 10 and tied one ball game. They've scored a total of 142 points against the Maples while Adrian's tally comes in at 291 points.

The Indians succeeded in shuting out Adrian twice while suffering that embarassment five times themselves. Tecumseh blanked Adrian in '59 and '68.

Last year, Tecumseh was subjected to a 34-7 loss at the hands of the Maples. Coach Connors hopes things will be different this year.

Adrian's record this season is a mediocre three and five. But Connors quickly points out that, since they're a Class A team, they meet stronger competition than the Indians do, "and their defense is not bad for the league they're in."

The biggest win for the Maples this season was last week's victory over Battle Creek Lakeview by a score of 24-8. Previous to the contest, Lakeview was rated ninth in the state and was tied with

Youth Recovering from Crash

Bradley P. Hamilton, 19, of 7751 Dibble Rd., miraculously escaped death last Friday morning when his car flew some 40 feet through the air before crashing on its roof, just north of Ridgeway on Ridge Rd.

The Bolton youth, first taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital and then rushed to St. Joseph's in Ann arbor, is in satisfactory condition although still in intensive care.

He suffered several broken ribs, punctured lung and had his spleen removed by surgery Friday afternoon. He was taken off a respiratory machine Sunday.

Hamilton was northbound on Ridge Rd. when he missed the curve at Smith Rd. His car left Ridge Rd. just before a bridge and went completely over a small creek before plunging into the creek's bank on the other side. The car's roof was flattened by the impact.

Tecumseh firemen worked approximately a half hour in freeing Hamilton, who was taken from the car after the roof was peeled back. He was alone at the time and headed for college at Eastern Michigan University.

Two Rob Attendant at Clark's

Two men, wearing ski masks, robbed Clark gas station attendant, Gene E. Frayer, 1104 Murray Dr., just before 7:30 Monday evening.

Frayer told police that two men approached him outside the station, then forced him into the station and demanded money. When he refused, they hit him twice in the chest and once in the mouth, and then pulled a knife.

After giving them the money, $73.04, they forced him into a back room and told him to stay there for 30 minutes or he was dead.

Frayer said he waited about five minutes and then called the police.

Obituaries

LUCILE SPROAT

Lucile A. Sproat, 84, of Clinton, died a midnight Nov. 3 in Bixby Hospital after a long illness.

Born in Ada Sept. 26, 1890, she was the daughter of the late Denton and Emily (Pelton) Sproat.

She graduated from Grand Rapids Central High School in 1909, the University of Michigan in 1913, and took additional courses at Bixby Hospital, Flint, Harper Hospital and Wayne State University, both in Detroit, and The University of Chicago in Chicago.

She taught school in the Flint area until 1939. In 1932 she began working for the Wayne County Dept. of Public Health and was promoted to nursing supervisor 12 years later. She retired as a Wayne County Public Health Nursing Supervisor in 1949.

Miss Sproat was a member of the Grace Episcopal Church, Grand Rapids and Royal Oak, the Royal Oak Garden Club, the League of Women Voters and many public health organizations.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Daniel Reilly of Clinton, one brother, Robert Sproat of Rockford, and several nieces and nephews.

The body has been taken to a crematorium for cremation. Arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton.

Bikes Stolen

In what is becoming big business, three more bicycles were stolen in Tecumseh during the past week. Stolen bikes are reported weekly at the police department.

Danny Higgins, Macon Rd., reported his bike stolen while visiting at 508 Outer Dr. Value was $100.

Brian Hager, 714 Seneca, told officers his bike was taken while he was visiting at 120 Brown St. Value of bike was $119.

David McCrate, 513 Seminole, had his $120 bike taken from his yard at night.

In another larceny, Charles Spreeman, 211 E. Shawnee, reported a 5 h.p. outboard motor stolen. Loss was estimated at $150.

During his six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex., he studied the Air Force mission, organization, and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Airman Stanifer has been assigned to the 47th Civil Engineering Squadron at Laughlin for specialized training in the refrigeration and air conditioning field.

He is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

UNICEF Results

UNICEF drive for 1974-75 collected $541.59 during the three hour canvass Oct. 28, reports Mrs. Vern Manwaring, this year's coordinator.

While comparisons with last year's collection indicate that the current economic situation is affecting even the traditional UNICEF Halloween campaign, the monies raised in this year's drive will still contribute greatly to the aid of children around the world.

East Lansing for the league title. Now they can't be found in the top twenty.

Connors advises, "Their quarterback, Bruce Rearick, is excellent. He throws the ball exceptionally well. They have a lineman named Bob Allen who is being boosted as an All-Stater by some people."

Although Allen stands 6'2" weighing 230 pounds, Connors says that the rest of the team is good sized but not exceptionally so. He concludes, "We hope to figure out some things to score on them with."

The sad story of the evening can be written now — before the game. Not less than 14 Indian varsity players will see action for the last time including tri-captains, Bob Webb, Kent Jacoby and John Burns.

Mike Duhan will play his last game as well. He did a fine job for Tecumseh this season and was instrumental as were all the seniors — in capturing the league title for the Indians.

Other graduating seniors include, George Harvey, Mike Connors, Don Rapin, Bob Chatters, Ed Clark, Jim Halasz, Larry Hollis, John Kruse, Jim Shough and Don Heistand.

Hopefully these seniors will participate in a big win over Adrian and the first such victory since 1972.

Pickup Bid Is Accepted

Low bid for two half ton pickups from Schneider Chevrolet-Buick, Inc. for $3,574 each was accepted by council at Monday night's meeting. Bids from Tecumseh Equipment Co. for two trucks, one with a dump box and one with a flat bed, were accepted with the stipulation that if there is a price change announced, the city has the opportunity to reconsider. Bid was $8,442 for truck with dump box and $8,397 for truck with flat bed.

Two trucks replace a 1945 Ford and 1946 International which will be sold by the city. Monies for the purchase of these vehicles is available in the Equipment Fund.

Council also accepted the quotation of $840 from Watson Bros. Roofing Co. to install a new roof on the old section of the fire station.

OPEN LETTER

Dear Friends,

During an active lifetime, the accumulation of funds for later years and for one's descendants can be an interesting 'game'. A time comes, however, when attention should be focused on a plan to wisely distribute one's assets prior to and at time of death. Professional assistance should be sought for such financial planning.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

By LIBBY LINCOLN

Help! Local cooks having deserted me, this week's recipe is one from my personal collection of favorites. "Chicken a la Kieve" sports a fancy name, but all it really is is an elegant version of fried chicken.

For best results, be sure to use butter, don't try to scrimp and use margerine. Chicken Kiev often surprises guests when they first cut into it because of its buttery inner juices. This is one dish where you can taste the difference between butter and margerine.

Chicken Kiev is an unusual and smashing dish to serve at small dinner parties for eight or 10, or for the family as a special treat. It takes a bit more work than ordinary fried chicken but the results are worth it.

To round out the menu, why not serve buttered noodles or noodles Alfredo (noodles tossed with sour cream, parmesan cheese, and chopped parsley), a green vegetable or garden salad.

This recipe for Chicken Kiev, while making six servings, can be decreased or increased as desired by altering the number of chicken breasts and other ingredients.

CHICKEN A LA KIEV

3 whole chicken breasts, boned and halved ½ cup chilled, firm butter salt and pepper, chives
flour
2 eggs, lightly beaten
1 cup fresh bread crumbs
fat (liquid vegetable shortening)

Place chicken breasts between pieces of wax paper and pound until thin with a mullet or the flat side of a knife. Do not split the flesh.

Cut butter into six finger-shaped pieces. Place a piece in the middle of each breast, sprinkle with salt, pepper and chives, and roll up, envelope fashion, letting the wing bone protrude and making sides overlap.

Dredge each roll lightly with flour, dip into the beaten eggs and roll in bread crumbs. Refrigerate for one hour or more.

Fill a fryer or kettle with enough fat or liquid shortening to cover all breasts. Heat until hot (360 degrees). Add chicken and brown all sides. Drain and serve. Chicken should be browned nicely, and when cut into, should spurt warm melted butter.

Serves six.

Special Activities

The weekend of Nov. 9 and 10 the members of Grace Lutheran Church will focus on their mission endeavors in special activities. In supporting the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod, of which it is a member, its goal is $11,000.00.

During the weekend featured will be the role that Michigan Lutheran Seminary, Saginaw plays in the church's work.

This school is an academy of 350 students which gives preparatory training for those youth who plan to be pastors and teachers in the church.

At present, five youth from Grace Congregation are enrolled; Connie Bater, Brenna Henkel, Kelly Henkel, Sherri Shaffer, and Susan Strack.

Present during the weekend will be the school's president, Pastor Martin Toepel, who will preach at the 9:15 and 10:45 a.m. services Sunday. Saturday night at 6 p.m. he will also speak informally at a dinner prepared by the men of the congregation under the guidance of Harvey Gatt.

Sunday at 4 p.m. will be a service at which Pastor Edward Pinchoff of St. John's Lutheran Church, Ann Arbor will preach. He is a graduate of Michigan Lutheran Seminary. Following this service there will be a dinner, prepared by the Ladies Aid.

Pastor Kenneth Strack, extends a warm welcome for visitors to attend.

Extension Plans Session

Helen Fairman, extension home economist based in Washtenaw County, will conduct a special "Fit for Fashion" session, sponsored by Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service, Thursday, Nov. 14 from 1 to 3 p.m. in the Farm Bureau Building on M-52 in Madison Center.

There will be no charge for the session and any interested person is welcome.

During the session Mrs. Fairman will show the techniques you can use to make the clothes you sew fit really well. Whether you're a beginning or an experienced seamstress, you're bound to pick up some new pointers.

4-H Project Mothers Meet

Annual business meeting of the Lenawee County 4-H Project Mothers is set for November 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the 4-H FFA Project Building.

All mothers of 4-H members are considered project mothers and are invited to this annual meeting.

General agenda for the meeting includes election of project mothers to the 4-H Mother's board of directors, election of officers, planning a budget for 1975 and hearing end of year reports from secretary, treasurer and president.

MR. and MRS. LUIS LEE

Darlene Smith and Luis Lee United

By the soft light of a unity candelabra and matching yellow pew candles, Dina Darlene Smith and Luis F. Lee were united in marriage by the Rev. Seal Janeway in the Tecumseh Missionary Baptist Church Oct. 11 at 7 p.m.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of 202 E. Pottawatamie. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Norma Rodriquez of Panama, and Antonio Lee of San Jose, Costa Rica.

Mrs. Timothy Collins was organist and the bride sang a hymn with the first verse in English and the second in Spanish.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of white satin. Her lace trimmed floor length veil was fastened to a chapel cap and secured by a single satin bow. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, roses and baby's breath.

Pamela Smith of Tecumseh was maid of honor for her sister and Kay Andrews of Britton was bridesmaid. They wore matching headpieces and identical floor length gowns of yellow satin featuring an empire waistline. Each carried round bouquets of white carnations and yellow daisies.

Gay Lee and Melonee Kay Smith, younger sisters of the bride, served as train bearer and flower girl, respectively. Both girls wore short, gathered yellow dresses with bows of yellow satin in their hair.

Jose Lee of San Jose, Costa Rica was best man and Antonio Lee, brother of the groom was groomsman. Ushers were Victor Sanchez of Tecumseh and David Smith of Tecumseh, brother of the bride.

Couple greeted about 200 guests at the reception which was held after the ceremony in the church Fellowship Hall.

Bride, a 1973 graduate of Tecumseh High School, attended Cumberland College in Williamsburg, Ky., and is currently employed at Don's Contented Sole. Groom is a medical student at the University of Panama in Panama.

After a short wedding trip to Ohio, the couple will reside in Tecumseh until the groom resumes his studies in Panama.

Otto George and Wife Plan Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Otto George of Kalkaska, will be guests of honor Sunday at an open house honoring their silver wedding anniversary, Sunday, Nov. 10, at Peerless Gear Union Hall, Tecumseh-Clinton Road, Clinton, from 3 to 6 p.m.

Neva Woodcox and Otto George were married Nov. 12, 1949 in Ohio. They are former residents of Tecumseh.

The open house is being hosted by their 11 children.

Green's DOWNTOWN TECUMSEH

Lisa Richardson, Gary Brighton Wed

Lisa Dee Richardson and Gary Lee Brighton were wed in St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Cambridge Junction, Oct. 12, with the Rev. Richard Wilds officiating, assisted by Deacon Reginald Angus.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Richardson of 11840 Hane Hwy., Onsted. Groom is the son of Mrs. Lila Brighton of Onsted and the late Carl Brighton.

Bride wore a gown of white velvet with an empire waistline and ruffled hem. A Juliet cap covered with lace and seed pearls secured her veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, orange pom pon chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

Sherry Johncox of Onsted, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Ola Brighton of Brooklyn and Cris and Joy Parke of Britton were bridesmaids, with Darlene Brighton of Onsted as junior bridesmaid. Rachel Johncox was flower girl. The maid of honor and the flower girl wore gowns of orange chiffon trimmed in antique lace, and the bridesmaids wore gowns of green chiffon trimmed in the same lace. They all carried bouquets like that of the bride.

Harold Brighton of Brooklyn, brother of the groom, served as best man. Denny Richardson of Jackson was groomsman and Ron and Don Brighton of Onsted, brother of the groom and Jamie Richardson of Onsted, nephew of the bride, was junior usher. Brian Richardson of Jackson, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Approximately 260 guests attended the reception in St. Joseph's Hall in the Irish Hills. Host and hostess for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barth of Onsted, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's mother Oct. 11 in the Moonlight Chalet.

After a honeymoon in Canada the couple will reside at 115 W. 3rd St., Onsted.

Bride is a 1973 graduate of Onsted High School and the groom is a 1972 graduate of Onsted High School. Groom is employed at the Vischer Tire Co. in Jackson.

Club Hosts Speaker

Little Garden Club of Tecumseh will meet one week early, on Nov. 12, because John Collins of Marshall will be speaking to the Tecumseh Area Historical Society on Nov. 19, the club's regular meeting date. It was felt that many Garden Club members may wish to attend Collins' presentation.

Little Garden Club meeting will be held Nov. 12 in the home of Mrs. Richard Gobba, Laberdee Road, Deerfield. Don Bertram, assistant principal of Tecumseh junior high school and president of the Historical Society, will show slides on "Christmas in Williamsburg."

Parish Sponsors Dance

Harvest Ball, Saturday, Nov. 9, will be sponsored by St. Elizabeth's parish at the United Products Workers Union Hall, Tecumseh from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Tickets are available at the door or by phoning 423-3030. The music will be provided by the Week-N-Ders. Door prizes are also featured.

Style Sense by Evel

Believe it or not, making beds is an easy exercise for bending the body, slimming the waist, and using the arms. Remember not to overdo. Work on one side at a time, and don't try to do a marathon run around the bed every time something must be smoothed. Scrubbing floors on hands and knees, as un-glamorous as it sounds, is also great exercise for abdominal and back muscles. Again, do not try to overdo. After scrubbing two square feet, sit up and rest a minute, and have a look at the great job you are doing.

How to clean and wash a wig? The American Wig Association says synthetic fiber wigs should be washed with mild, unmedicated shampoos or mild liquid detergents in cold water. Rinse wigs thoroughly in cold water, and lay them on a towel until excess moisture has evaporated. Do not brush until the wig is thoroughly dry. If the wig is made of human hair, it should be washed with great care, but it can best be cared for at our beauty salon.

Our phone number is 423-4250, by appointment only.

Council Gets New Responsibility?

CLINTON—Members of the Cemetery Association were present at the meeting of the Village Council, Monday, to request that the village assume the operation of Riverside Cemetery.

A special meeting to consider this matter will be held on Nov. 25 at 7 p.m. in the village office, with attendance by full council membership, Clinton Township Board members, and the members of the Cemetery Association Board.

Clean up of the burned out plant on Clinton-Tecumseh Road is progressing nicely, and the construction firm is salvaging materials as they go. Council will try to determine a method of collecting unpaid electric bills when users, who rent, leave town without paying their bills. It will be determined if property owners may be held liable for unpaid bills. Some ordinance changes may be required.

Approval has been obtained from Michigan Department of Health to drill a test water well on village property.

Permits were approved for three new homes and three building repairs.

MARK J. McDERMOTT

Clinton Man Enlists in USAF

CLINTON — Mark J. McDermott, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McDermott, 104 Bartlett St., has enlisted in the United States Air Force.

He will begin training at Lakeland Air Force Base, Texas, Jan. 2, 1975.

As a result of his aptitude skill tests, Mark, a 1973 graduate of Clinton High School, will be trained in the mechanical skill field. He becomes the fourth person from Clinton to enlist in the Air Force this year.

Women Review Author's Book

CLINTON—"The Angry Testament" by Charles Walters Jr. was reviewed by Mrs. Charles Knight for the meeting of the United Methodist Women, Monday evening.

The book tells of the National Farmers Organization's efforts to help farmers help themselves to counteract the prices "rigged" by the chainstores.

Mrs. Gary Phipps told how 100 percent of funds raised through One Great Hour of Sharing actually goes to the relief of the needy.

Next Dorcas meeting will be Nov. 20. Members are to meet at church at 9:15 a.m. at the church to go to the chapel at Adrian College. They will return to the Phipps home for a luncheon at noon.

Methodist Faith Circle will meet one week early this month, on Thursday, Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ronald Corl. The meeting, which is open to the public, will feature Doris Day's review of a trip to the Holy Land.

Installation of new officers will take place at a potluck supper meeting at the home of Mrs. Paul Hawkins on Jan. 6.

Clinton Calling
Maxine Calhoun 456-4512

Mrs. O. E. Priest returned recently from a tour of the Holy Land. Upon her return she was admitted to McPherson Hospital, Howell, for observation. Wednesday, Nov. 6, she underwent major surgery.

Mrs. Roy Smith flew to Fort Worth, Texas, to spend this week with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. David Hinkle.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wilson entertained for dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sell of Hillsdale; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hartwig of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wilson. The senior Wilsons recently heard from their son, Paul Wilson of Houston, Texas, who is presently employed as an electronics engineer located on an oil exploration dock off the coast of Singapore and Taiwan.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Schmidt have moved just around the corner from 404 Tecumseh St., to their new house on Locust Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilson are moving to Saline next week. The house at 116 E. Church St., has been rented to Mrs. Carol Canada and Robby Love, who are both employed at Bea's Truck Stop in the Irish Hills.

Browsers Welcome at School Book Fair

CLINTON — Clinton Elementary School will sponsor a student book fair from Nov. 14 to Nov. 19. Students will be able to browse and select books for purchase, with their parents approval, during the afternoons on Thursday, Friday, Monday and Tuesday. Parents and visitors are invited to view the selections on Monday evening following the PTO meeting.

The fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries as well as contribute to a worthwhile project. All profits will be used to purchase new materials for the Elementary Learning Resource Center.

The book fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular price ranges: books to read or to give as gifts. All reading interests will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies, adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books. The book fair committee is working with Educational Reading Service, a professional book fair company, to furnish an individual selection of books for the fair.

Management Will Change

CLINTON—Members of Clinton Township Board heard a request from members of the Clinton Cemetery Association that the association be dissolved and the village assume responsibility for the Riverside Cemetery, at the meeting Monday. A special meeting to consider this matter is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 25 at 7 p.m. at the Clinton Village Treasurer Mary Hull reported that one 30-day Time Deposit Certificate was changed to a 90-day TDC, since the interest is the same as on a six month TDC.

Charles Wilson, building inspector, reported on a total of $61,000 in building permits, which were approved.

Members shared punch and cookies, provided by James Meeks, in farewell to James Heimerdinger, trustee, whose term expires Nov. 20.

Floral Demonstration Given

CLINTON— Jane Hebert of Jane's Flowers & Gifts gave a demonstration of arranging Christmas centerpieces for the program hosted by the Clinton Cinderettes, Oct. 29.

Attending were members of the Lenawee County Firemen's Auxiliary from Fairfield, Adrian, Onsted, Sand Lake, Irish Hills, Palmyra, Addison, Hudson and Riga.

Mrs. Hebert also showed how to make a terrarium and fashioned a carnation corsage. Sue Kapnick assisted.

A centerpiece was given as a door prize by Mrs. Hebert and the hostesses gave other prizes.

Next meeting of the Auxiliary will be in Hudson in January.

State Office Closed Monday

Secretary of State office will be closed on Monday, Nov. 11, for observance of Armistice Day, Ernest Oliver announced.

Clinton Considers City Government

CLINTON — At a dinner meeting of the Clinton Chamber of Commerce, Oct. 28, members decided to begin the consideration of a city form of government to replace the village system. An extensive study of the matter is planned.

Nineteen persons attended the meeting at the Clintonian Inn.

A possible auxiliary police force, the need for a public address system for Christmas music, resuming Michigan Week activity; and the assuming responsibility for the Fall Festival by the Chamber of Commerce were also discussed.

A sum of $500 has been given to the Chamber of Commerce by the Clinton United Fund for improvements to Memorial Park. A bench has been built there. A chain and posts are to be placed around the monument and an all-weather spotlight will be installed to permit a flag to be flown 24 hours a day.

Will Clinton Reach United Fund Goal ?

CLINTON — Clinton's United Fund is expected to reach $7,500 or 75 percent of goal of $10,000, according to co-chairman John Frye. Last year the fund raised $9,000.

This year's household collections are "definitely down" Frye reported, and other contributions are slow coming in, so no preliminary report can be given at this time.

Fund officers were cheered by the Peerless Gear Division contribution of company and employees of $1,400, up 10 percent from the previous year. Other industrial plants have not reported at this time.

Another fine contribution was received from the Mike Moon family, once recipients of help from the Clinton United Fund, when son Mike was hospitalized.

Clinton area residents are to be reminded that United Fund services are more needed in these times than ever before as unemployed mounts, and inflation takes its toll.

Contributions to the Clinton United Fund may still be made at the United Savings Bank of Clinton or at Frye Printing Co.

Record Amount of Money Raised

CLINTON — Although a new record of $340 was raised at the annual Harvest Auction for missions at the United Church of Christ, Sunday evening, there were only 45 persons on hand for the event.

The Rev. Earl Lawrence served as the auctioneer and deftly persuaded the audience to participate in some spirited bidding, resulting in a package of steak selling for over $20, pretzels at $4.65 a dozen and other items brought greatly inflated prices.

One bidder lugged home a 40 lb. squash and another may still be wondering what she is going to do with a half bushel of hard pickling apples she bought for a quarter. It made for a good evening's entertainment.

A family supper preceded the event, with arrangements made by the Mission committee, Mrs. Lewis Blaisdell, Mrs. Harold Calhoun, Mrs. David Pratt, Mrs. Steve Bowman, and Roberta Lupton.

Play Debuts

CLINTON — A Woody Allen comedy, "Don't Drink the Water" will be presented by an all high school cast, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. in the Clinton High School auditorium.

Peg Geiger is the director and Roberta Girbach is the student director.

Story deals with a family stranded behind the Iron Curtain, and their efforts to escape from a Communist country.

Leading roles are played by Cindy Piatt as Marion Holander; Kim Greenfield as Walter Holander; and their daughter, played by Darcy Schneider. Bill Stout will be the priest, Fr. Drodne, and Harry Ebbert plays the Ambassador's son, Axel Magee.

JAMES BREMMER

Presented Award

CLINTON — Among the Michigan State Police citations for outstanding services awarded recently were those to Detective Sergeant James Bremmer of Clinton post and Trooper Richard Zimmerman, Blissfield.

Bremmer and Zimmerman worked with Hudson police to solve the 1973 robbery and assault of a tavern waitress. Two ex-convicts were linked to the crime.

One Year Old Clebrates Birthday

BRITTON—John, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schroeder of Ann Arbor, celebrated his first birthday Tuesday, Oct. 29, at his home, hosted by his parents.

Decorations and the birthday cake carried out a Mickey Mouse theme. John received many useful as well as fun gifts.

Attending the party were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schroeder, Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Downing, Bob and Anita, and Bonnie Seegert all of Britton; and great-grandmother, Mrs. Helen Dennison and aunt and Uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Hanson and Kay of Milan.

Six Attend Performance

BRITTON—Mrs. Donald Farmer's six grade Campfire Girl group attended the afternoon performance of "Holiday on Ice" at the Sports Arena at Toledo, Ohio, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Farmer and family and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Rohrs and family were chaperones.

Girls who went were Julie Reau, Jennie Kopka, Debbie Perry, LeeAnn Price, Robin Rohrs and Carrie Farmer.

All were treated to pizza and coke at Shakeys following the show.

Instead of regular meetings this month, the girls and their leaders will bowl at the Tecumseh Ten-Pin Alley the first three Thursdays of November. Departure time will be right after school, leaving from there.

L & M Extension Study Club Meets

BRITTON — Mrs. Anthony Ivan hosted the L&M Extension Study Club in her home recently with 11 members present for a noon luncheon meeting.

Roll call was answered by "Household Hints". Group donated money to the United Fund.

Lesson on nutrient labels on food was given by Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt. Mrs. Orris Tubbs presented a lesson on "How to Eat More for Less."

Several Christmas arrangements, made by members, were brought to the meeting, and will be taken to the Christmas bazaar at the Adrian Mall on Nov. 9, to be shown and sold.

Mrs. Helen Osterhout will host the next meeting held Tuesday, Nov. 26.

109 Children Collect $111

BRITTON—Approximately 109 children from Britton-Macon Elementary school collected $111 for UNICEF on Halloween night. That amount of money could buy, for example, 445 baby chicks for applied nutrition programs, or enough high-protein food supplement to feed 445 children for a day, or enough smallpox vaccine to immunize 11,135 children. The PTO wishes to thank all of the children for their help.

At the costume party following the contest, the hard-working judges were the Rev. and Mrs. G.O. Hamevik and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dembinsky. The many great costumes were a treat to all eyes, but the final winners listed girls first for the three categories—A. Most Original, B. Funniest, and C. Prettiest (or most handsome).

Winners were:

Preschool-kindergarten: A. Ann Wagner, Mark Wagner; B. Robin Bortel, Joshua Gurica; C. Marcia Linn and Jimmy Frasier.

First through third grades: A. Lissie Needham, Ronald Pickell; B. Michelle Jordan, Gary Wagenschutz; C. Kim Jacobs and Tim Gilbert.

Fourth through sixth grades: A. Pam Faust, Steve Scholl; B. Jodi Smith, Chris Pickell; C. Donald Below and Dan Crawford.

Seventh-adult winners were not divided into two groups. These winners were: A. Mary Lou Hill, B. Troy Bailey and C. Tracy Bruce.

Prizes for all winners were silver dollars. In addition to the costumes being judged, there were some adults, including a very mysterious piano player, a handsome Tory football hero and a gorgeous Britton cheerleader, also in costume. These enlivened the proceedings and added to everyone's enjoyment.

Games and refreshments finished the party, and Mrs. Robert Porter and her committee thank everyone for their co-operation.

Miss Creger's third grade was inadvertently omitted from the prize list for UNICEF posters in last week's paper. Here they are, with our apoligies: First prize went to Mike Kniffen, second to Lissie Needham and third to Dorothy Lewis.

Council Meeting

BRITTON—Charles Kipke, engineer from Onsted attended Village Council meeting Monday evening to discuss a proposed Railroad Crossing on Main Street. He submitted an estimated cost of $77,562 for the project. Federal government will pay 90 percent or $69,806 and the village will pay 10 percent or $7,756. Preliminary engineering costs of $702 would be paid to Kipke.

A letter was sent to Michigan State Highway Department asking for a regular village limit sign.

Council voted to accept a proposed zoning map and ordinance with a zoning change on the Ralph Sturtevant property, from commercial to residential.

Council approved purchase of an air conditioner for $100 from Henry Mastie.

Village purchased a copying machine and eight chairs in red and black for $1,148 for the council room.

Approval was given to turn off the lights at the tennis court until Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hagans, of Britton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Jo, to Mark A. Conrad, son of Mrs. Ellsworth Conrad and the late Mr. Conrad of Tecumseh. Miss Hagans is currently employed by Michigan Producers Dairy Company. Mr. Conrad is employed at Standard Steel Products Corporation. Both are graduates of Britton-Macon High School. An April wedding is planned.

Reports Son Improving

BRITTON—Mrs. Paul Hamilton reports that her son, Brad, is improving steadily at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. She wishes to express her appreciation to the many friends who have shown concern about Brad's condition.

Cards and letters would be most welcome at this time.

MR. and MRS. GARY ALAN MASKA

Denise Reau and Gary Maska Wed

BRITTON—St. Alphonsus Catholic Church in Deerfield was the setting for the Oct. 26 wedding of Denise Marie Reau and Gary Alan Maska. The Rev. Edward O'Grady officiated and Janice Trace was organist, with Geri Ryan, soloist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Urvin J. Reau of 20925 Libstaff and Mr. and Mrs. August A. Maska of 359 W. Chicago Blvd.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride approached the altar wearing a white gown of silk organza with cathedral length train. Appliques of Venice lace trimmed the bishop sleeves and neckline and a Camelot headpiece of Venice lace secured her three-tier finger length veil of silk illusion. She wore a gold cross with diamond insert, a gift of the groom. Her cascade bouquet was fashioned of white roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy.

Ruth Ann Reau, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a nile green double knit gown with lace collar and lace edging the long sleeves. A white picture hat trimmed with apricot embroidered ribbon, and a cascade bouquet of bronze pom pon chrysanthemums and ivy completed her ensemble.

Vickie Hendricks of Tecumseh and Brenda Reau, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids and Julie A. Reau, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. They wore gowns in apricot styled like that of the maid of honor, with matching picture hats and bouquets.

Cindy Jeziorski, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a nile green dress like that of the maid of honor and carried a basket of white roses.

Rick Maska of Fort Wayne, Ind., brother of the groom was best man. Alan Reau, brother of the bride, Jeff Maska, brother of the groom, and Gary Judkins were ushers. Chris Reau, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Reception following the ceremony was held for 600 guests in the United Products Workers Union Hall in Tecumseh.

Nancy Todd served punch and Kay Maska served coffee. Mrs. Ronald Petee of Petersburg and Mrs. Donald Heiden of Monroe, aunts of the bride, cut the cake, and Mrs. Shirley Clement, aunt of the bride, tended the guest book.

Hosts for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jeziorski and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kish. Special guests attended from Fort Wayne, Ind., Findlay and Toledo, Ohio, Ottawa, Monroe, Ann Arbor, Lambertville, Tecumseh and Britton.

Rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the groom at the Country House Thursday, Oct. 24.

Bride is a 1972 graduate of Britton-Macon High School and is employed by the Sharon Mfg. Co. Groom is also a 1972 Britton-Macon High School graduate and a 1974 graduate of ITT Electronic Institute of Toledo, Ohio, and is employed by Sycor, Inc. of Ann Arbor.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple are residing in the Dundee Manor Apartments, Dundee.

Bohemian's Celebrate

BRITTON—The American Bohemian Club of Southeastern Michigan celebrated their 25th anniversary Sunday at the Britton Hotel with a cooperative dinner and dance.

President Martin Ivan welcomed the 100 honored guests, members and families. Secretary Blanche Ivan read the minutes of the first few organizational meeting which explained the purpose of the club. She also read interesting excerpts of later meeting that proved amusing.

Vice-president Dennis Brablec presented the 34 charter members with engraved plaques and silver charms.

Silver charms were also given to five couples who are 23 and 24 year members.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips

423-5213

It is the third week of pheasant season, and the male of the species is displaying less of his colorful plumage and more good sense. Not so long ago, a rooster strutted impressively in this writer's back yard as he crowed to one of the hens in his harem. But since the first shots of the hunters' 12-gauge heralded open season, the birds have taken cover.

A rooster who has been making a daily visit to the Harold Rhora home on Clinton-Macon Road for the past two years has not been seen since season opened Oct. 21. Their feathered friend would sit confidently under the bathroom window, somehow sensing that no harm could befall him.

The Rhoras feel sure that as soon as hunting season ends the early-morning visitors will return—probably more "cocky" than ever!

4-H Clubs Are More Than Cows and Cooking

4-H clubs are not all cows and cooking.

Tecumseh 4-H Topnotchers are redefining the traditional 4-H image and project list after discussing the club's potential with Doug Shuherk, 4-H assistant and Mrs. Carlton Cook, community leader, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carlton Cook, Oct. 28.

Club will concentrate on organizing smaller project groups. This new concept in 4-H organization will allow the group greater flexibility, the students greater variety and parents and students an opportunity to learn more together in the next year. Club hopes to become community active and involve a greater number of families rather than one adult leader with students.

4-H's image has been that of a group of youth under the direction of an adult on some specific project. Through this kind of project work, the youth develops an association with the adult to help bridge the generation gap as well as developing responsibilities around the project work.

Topnotchers will retain the customary home crafts but will add new interests such as field trips, mini-courses on various subjects including local government, photography and consumer topics as bicycle safety, maintenance and repair.

"An important part of 4-H is adult leadership. And there are never enough adults," said Shuherk Parents need not know about the project they undertake to lead the group, and in several cases, some of the most successful projects are those in which the adult leaders learn along with the youths, Shuherk said.

Last year, there were 46 active members of the 4-H Topnotchers. In previous years, the club was very active under veteran community leader, Mrs. Lawrence Reese, now semi-retired from leading larger groups. Right now the club is trying to reorganize and recover community wide interest and participation.

Mrs. Wilbur Andrews, also a community leader active in the reorganization efforts, is seriously ill and hospitalized Members are asked to remember her with cards.

Adults are still needed to lead new projects in the Tecumseh group. Any interested youth, adult or family may contact Mrs. Carlton Cook.

4-H is dedicated to all youth. As more and more of the United States population is concentrated in urban centers, the 4-H program has, of necessity, been altered to meet the needs of youth in city or farm. Over 100 activities from rocketry to conservation are offered.

Youth age 9-19 make up the official membership, but in 4-H, all ages encouraged to participate and as usually happens, entire families get involved in one way or another. Over 5.3 million youth across the United States participated with 1500 students in Lenawee County.

Vo-Tech Applications for Child Care

The Lenawee Vocational Center Child Care Department is taking applications for the 1975-76 school year. Interested parents may obtain applications at the Vo-Tec Center office during the month of November.

Nursery School program provides well rounded experiences to meet the developmental needs of three to five year old children. The program also serves as a laboratory experience for juniors and seniors from all 12 Lenawee County Schools, who are preparing for employment in the work world.

Children will be eligible to attend nursery school for a maximum of two school years. Children currently enrolled will be accepted for the following school year.

There will be an equal distribution of boys and girls in the child care program. In order to achieve a cross section of enrollment, there will be a distribution of children in regard to their age bracket, cultural, ethnic and other factors.

Tuition for the nursery school will be based on an eight month school year.

"An Old-Time Minstrel Show"

by Libby Lincoln

Ragtime music, whiteface makeup, a "Mr. Interlocuter" decked out in white and silver - add them together, mix well, and you'll begin to get the idea behind the Tecumseh Players' latest production, "An Old-Time Minstrel Show."

The show is slapstick, often frenetic, occasionally slow paced, and basically a lot of fun for the whole family. It has its ups - the opening number "Waiting for the Robert E. Lee", the Medicine Man Act by Ken Eichorn, the finale, "Alabama Jubilee" - and its downs - a salute to Stephen Foster, "Golden Slippers"; a persistent problem with choral entrances and endings.

Special mention goes to Cindy Rohrback, for her solo, "Summertime", and her solo spots in other numbers. Ken Eichorn also deserves special note, both for his fine piano rendition of Scott Joplin's rag, "The Entertainer" (better known as the theme song from "The Sting"), and for his perseverance when facing the handicap of the piano at the Community Center. Between the sticking keys and muddy tone, that piano sounds like it played its swan song a long time ago.

End Man Rene Crombez was outstanding among End Men Paul Henning, George Gonyo, Gregg King, Dom Santangelo and Tim Duperron, who, under the guidance of Fred Taylor as Mr. Interlocuter, cracked many rounds of corny jokes which made the audience chuckle from the sheer silliness and surprise of the punchlines. Taylor did a steady, if occasionally plodding, job of introducing numbers and cueing Side Men jokes.

Chorus members Ed Garland, Bill Cook, Dave Bauman, Marcia Osterhout, Peg Frownfelder, Lori Egli, Val Egli, Jean Henning, Cindy Rohrback, Lorie Brooks, Julie Judd, April Beard, Kathy McDermott, Carol Tilden, Meredith Green and Polly Judd performed enthusiastically, and made up in energy what they occasionally lacked in pitch and harmony.

Helen Bendes, pianist, and Donald Dobrosky, percussionist, entertained before the show began and Dobrosky's antics with the kazoo and drums, while not always coordinated with stage actions, provided a suitably zany touch.

Caryl McLeod and Tina Feezil strummed their banjos but in this reviewer's opinion, could have been given a little more time on the program.

Opening night, Nov. 1, saw a good crowd at the Community Center, and the show's merits deserve a full house at the final performances Thursday and Saturday. Tickets are available from cast members and Flanders Music Co., while reservations for ticket holders may be made with Judy Crombez at 423-7670.

Hospital Auxiliary Meeting

Herrick Hospital Auxiliary will hold a meeting Nov. 12 at 8 p.m. in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church's Luther Hall.

Guest speaker David Chesney from the Michigan Kidney Foundation will present a film entitled "Gift of Life." He will discuss Kidney disease and transplantation as it relates to the donor program.

The Auxiliary is sponsoring their annual fall showing and sale of new gift shop merchandiseMonday, Nov. 18 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Public is invited to browse and buy at the display which will be held in the cafeteria of the hospital.

Officers elected were Mrs. James Hedley, president, Mrs. Ellen Palmer, vice president, Mrs. Todd Herrick, secretary, Mrs. Michael Osburn, treasurer, and Mrs. Terry Haughn, public relations.

One project underway for the year is the Patterson School Fun Fair headed by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bartenslager.

Child Study Club Meets

Child Study Club will meet Nov. 41 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Janice Whelan on Whelan Road, Tipton.

Mrs. Jean Colgrove will give a demonstration on gift wrapping and ribbon making.

Co-hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Larry Peoples and Mrs. Sharon Eddinger. Favors will be made by Mrs. Martha Reppert and Mrs. Janice Whelan.

Anyone interested in attending should call Mrs. Peoples at 423-8135.

Trained Hogs Are Hit at Supper

John Gurtner and his trained hogs, from Fremont, Ind., were again part of the entertainment at the Third Annual Pork Sausage Supper at the Lenawee Institute Thursday evening. The owner and team were also seen at Clinton's Fall Festival.

The supper was attended by approximately 1300 people. Proceeds will be used to buy playground equipment for the ever expanding school for the handicapped.

Planning Commission

Raisin Township Planning Commission will meet Thursday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Gay Road Fire Hall. Speakers will include Jon Caterino and Benjamin McGeachy of the Division of Environmental Health of the Michigan State Health Department. They will discuss the problem of waste disposal.

Meeting is public.

HE STOLE THE SHOW

Had Gertie T. and I not actually seen it, I know I would have been hard pressed to believe and I am sure the same is true for her. It still seems incredible but a small flock of lovely cedar waxwings were actually upstaged. Upstaged to the point of almost being ignored.

Usually when these pretty birds, with the black eye masks and bright yellow bands at the end of their tails, come visiting everything else stops and we do nothing but enjoy them. That was what was happening the other afternoon until all of a sudden, a tiny newcomer appeared and, as unbelievable as it may seem, all waxwing watching stopped.

To so completely distract us was quite a feat because the waxwings were behaving beautifully well. It was a warm sunny afternoon and they were taking full advantage of the mild weather. Bath day. After splashing and ducking in a still quiet pool at the edge of the creek, a bird would fly to one of the nearby maples and carefully select a perch which was in full sunshine.

Oh, it must have felt so good. After much preening and arranging of feathers, the waxwing either did a bit of sunbathing or flew down for another quick dip in the creek. Imagine several dozen handsome birds going through this routine and you can see why we were so enjoying the action.

However, when a tiny red-breasted nuthatch appeared, both Gertie T. and I lost track of the waxwings. A red-breasted nuthatch is never a common visitor and to have one show up in late October is practically unheard of. In this neighborhood these are winter birds.

Ella might have them anytime and Clara's is a favorite spot too but here we have the red-breasted when the snow falls, the wind howls, and the temperature nose dives. Not on a perfect Indian summer afternoon. As we said last week, things are all mixed up.

I'm not complaining. It was a most exciting session. The bird put on a spectacular show. In fact he was almost mimicking a hummingbird. A fresh banquet board had just been laid -- a pile of scratch feed, a full ear of corn, a big sunflower head, and two pieces of suet. The little red-breasted came darting down to the feeder and then lost his nerve. He wanted so badly to land but just couldn't quite manage it. About six inches above the floor of the feeder he -- well, he could not make himself get any closer to all that tempting food.

We could almost see him struggling with himself, he wanted to but just didn't dare. And while the 'battle was being waged' he hovered above the feeder much as a hummingbird hovers above a flower.

No, it was not like a hummingbird because when they play helicopter they are eating but this poor little guy was not nibbling a bite. And of course, he was not doing a perfect job of hovering either. But truly, even though not perfect, it was mighty good. After a few moments of looking and longing, caution and timidity took over and he flew back to the safety of one of the creek bank trees.

Before we could get back to the waxwing watching though he returned for another try at the feeder. All told he made four or five attempts but never could he overcome the fear that kept him from landing. Each try afforded us good looks and what a pleasure to be able to observe him so well. Not an everyday happening.

A mere four inches long, this nuthatch is much smaller than his cousin, the white-breasted. His color and markings are quite different too. I am sure our bird was a male as the breast was quite well colored up -- not really red but there was definitely a russet. cast.

The black eye stripe and the white bands both above and below it were very distinctive. His back, a dark dusky gray with a decided bluish tinge, was very pretty too. A most attractive and unusually colorful red-breasted nuthatch.

So it is that the cedar waxwings visit was a great thrill but when the little nuthatch arrived upon the scene he stole the show.

"Hello, Tecumseh Herald"

by LIBBY LINCOLN

Remember the old adage mothers so love to tell their children, "If you can't say something nice, don't say anything at all"?

Its perfectly normal for tempers to flare and hot air to be expelled once in a while. In Tecumseh, this seems to happen most frequently on Thursdays and Fridays, when Herald subscribers note that their papers haven't been tucked in the mailbox.

Every Thursday and Friday the Herald office braces itself for the weekly quota of irate calls from subscribers who haven't received their papers. Nine times out of 10, the calls are less than pleasant, or even rational. The situation is undoubtedly a familiar one to telephone operators, postal workers, and countless other individuals who work in a human relations capacity.

Callers must think that the faceless voices who answer the telephone with a polite, "Hello, Tecumseh Herald" are some kind of programmed recording, or else the latest model in computers. We may be faceless and anonymous, but we still are human beings with a certain amount of feeling and our own touchy tempers.

Between mechanical error, such as our addressing machine skipping a paper, and human error, such as crediting a subscription to John Smith Sr. instead of John Smith Jr., or route change at the Post Office, a few papers are bound to be lost each week out of the 2,500 papers that are mailed out.

This is not to suggest that we are not sympathetic to the concerns of the individual subscriber who has not received his paper. In fact, after a confrontation with an angry customer on the phone, we often remark on how gratifying it is to know that the Herald means so much to our subscribers.

Its less gratifying when we offer to solve the problem by sending a replacement through the mail or by advising, just stop by the office and pick one up, and are rebuffed with either a huff or a stream of angry words, as so often is the case.

Have you never made an error inadvertently and then tried to apologize? We're human, and even a newspaper is an enterprise run by human beings, prone to error. The Herald is not run by robots, even though readers may sometimes think we're dummies.

So, kind readers, we accept the blame, and offer sincere apologies for any and all absentee papers. But please try to remember what we do that's to our credit — we print your weddings, engagements and anniversaries, we try to cover club news, school news and sports. We report on accidents and fires, obituaries and births, and constantly beseech you for all your news and even recipes.

Next time you miss a paper, DO give us a call. It may mean that your address plate is warped and skipping through the machine, especially if you miss two weeks in a row. Without your putting us on the alert, we'd never know.

But remember the virtues of politeness — if you've missed a paper, you've missed a paper, and raising your temper won't change that fact. We'll try to make amends as best we can, and then everyone's aspirin bottle can stay on the shelf.

Macon Setting for Club Meeting

The Tecumseh Business and Professional Women held its October meeting at the Macon Methodist Church. Cecile Smith gave devotions followed by a Swedish blessing by Mrs. Eunice Rosabach.

Meeting was a group birthday party and each dressed in sesquicentennial dress. Each brought one penny for each birthday year and the amounts for the birthdays were collected for each month. November and May tied as having the most pennies and so the huge birthday cake prize was shared. Pennies totaled 3,500 years for those women present.

Birthday gift went to Hazel Creger, and Betty Flanders, club president received the center piece and a little old-fashioned doll as a birthday gift.

Dee Jay Rinehart was presented and welcomed as a new member.

Mable Lockwood thanked members for bringing the many useful items for the Goodwill Annual Sale, Nov. 22 and 23 at the Adrian Mall. Other donations will be accepted by Mrs. Flanders or Miss Lockwood until Nov. 11.

Pat Conners teacher and coach of the Tecumseh High School showed some interesting film on TV of the sesquicentennial pageant. "Tecumseh Legend-150."

Next meeting will be Nov. 25 at the Pythian Hall. Pat Seay of Pat's Craft Studio will give a demonstration.

Learning Festival at Acres School

Tecumseh Acres Elementary School will sponsor a Learning Festival Nov. 14. Students will be able to browse and purchase educational material. The Learning Festival will be open to the public between 8 and 10 p.m. Materials will be on display in the school gym.

There will be a PTO meeting and open house preceding the Learning Festival.

There will be magnifiers, simple science experiments, dinosaurs, magnets and motors, spelling games, nature collections, history and geography activities, number games, educational handicrafts and many other materials representing all areas of interest to children.

Materials may be purchased at popular prices. This is a convenient, easy and pleasant way to provide children with meaningful learning materials, and good for Christmas shopping too.

The Learning Festival Committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the Festival. The school profits from all sales and the proceeds will be used for learning tools.

The PTO is sponsoring this program with Mrs. Cheri Weakly serving as Learning Festival chairman. The committee includes Mrs. Debbie Rutherford, Mrs. Jackie Painter, and Mrs. Joanne Barrett.

U of M County Alumni Club to Meet

Lenawee County Chapter of the University of Michigan Alumni Club will hold its annual meeting Nov. 13 at the Lenawee Area Vocational Center, 2345 N. Adrian Hwy., on M-52 between Tecumseh and Adrian.

Meeting will be a dinner with Guy Palazzola, professor of Art at the University as the main speaker.

Professor Pallazzola offers a presentation which usually includes a drawing demonstration.

Michigan Alumni wishing to make reservations should call David Siler at 263-5217 for more information.

Retired School Employees Have Luncheon

There will be a luncheon and meeting of the Lenawee Retired Public School Employees Nov. 14 at the Vo-Tec Center, Adrian at 12:30 p.m.

Following the luncheon and business meeting Kenneth McElroy will speak on Banking Tips for Retirees, Lillian Buttloph will show her slides of Yugoslavia and Duaine Winters will give M.E.A. Update.

Preceding the luncheon at 11:30 a.m. the board, chairmen and co-chairmen will have a meeting.

Historical Society to Meet

Tecumsehites who are interested in the role of a historical society to the community and the preservation of historic districts may hear John Collins, president of the Marshall Historical Society speak at the Nov. 19 meeting of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society at the public library at 7:30 p.m.

Collins has lived in Marshall for only five years. Yet in that time his interest in the community and in preservation has made him an active promoter of the city.

In addition to his historical society activities, he is also a member of that city's planning commission, a member of the Marshall Historical District study committee, a member of the Chamber of Commerce's downtown restoration committee, a trustee of the Historical Society of Michigan, a director of both the Marshall Civic Foundation and the Marshall Rotary Club.

Collins' interest in preservation has taken him to all parts of the country in a search for various practices and techniques that would assist Marshall. Among those he has attended in the past year are: the University of Michigan's "Workshop: Architectural Preservation," the National Trust for Historic Preservation's two-week long Woodlawn Conference, Cornell University's seminar on Historic Preservation Planning, and the 19th Century American Architecture program at Radcliffe College.

He has spoken at numerous conferences and communities throughout Michigan.

Collins has also edited the four most recent annual issues of Rotary Extra. This is a tabloid-sized 32-page newspaper built around the theme, "A Place for the Past in Marshall's Future."

Income Increases

Cost conscious people have found that shopping at the local Goodwill Industries stores often pays off in bargains in clothes, furniture, appliances, toys, etc. The New York Times Business and Finance Section said the Goodwill Industries was one of the "best bets" for school clothes.

Donations of saleable items such as clothing and household items gives the donor a potential tax deduction.

If donors give the truck-driver a list of articles, they will receive a receipt for this purpose. Goodwill is obligated to report the condition of the articles, so there is no point in donating unusable articles which would cost too much to repair.

In September, Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan expanded 65 percent of the total income to wages for the disabled alone, out of earned income, or a total of $20,696 in the local economy.

Public has learned to drop reusable materials at various collection stations located in the county. But vandals and thieves are looting these boxes and creating an eye sore. Local citizens are asked to help curb the plunder of collection boxes and alert local police of thefts and abuses.

A Look at Tecumseh, County Services for the Elderly

By KATHY KULCZYK

First in a series.

At the Oct. 21 city council meeting, council renewed interest in learning more about the transportation and service program for the elderly known as the Lenawee Council on Aging (LCOA).

What a lot of residents may not realize is that this multi-service and transportation program is available to county residents who qualify, including Tecumsehites. However, the city of Tecumseh is not a contributor of local matching funds to this federal-local program. Understandably, the directors of the council on aging are concerned about the welfare of those Tecumsehites who presently use the services of the LCOA, but they identify with those local governments that continue to sponsor the program with local matching funds.

Since there has been some confusion among Tecumseh residents about the availability of services of the elderly through the Lenawee Council on Aging, here are some facts about the origin, intent, function and services of the LCOA and about what it offers elderly citizens of the county through satellite centers.

The Lenawee Council on Aging began in the spring of 1973 as a county wide organization concerned with the needs of the elderly.

Previously, the city of Adrian sponsored the Friendly Center for Senior Citizens; county residents who qualified were also served so the group sought outside financing to expand. When the county commissioners vetoed a proposal to sponsor a county wide council on aging, the role of local grantee fell to the city of Adrian. Adrian receives federal monies and accepts responsibility for matching funds.

Request for federal money was made under Title III of the Older Americans Acts for a transportation system and multi-purpose satellite centers in the county. Because federal money is involved, the program is open to county residents according to federal money guidelines.

In 1973, Blissfield and Deerfield satellite centers were established followed by a center at Riverview Terrace and a Spanish speaking center.

The council on aging is financed in part by federal funds, the city of Adrian and the villages of Blissfield and Deerfield plus donations from elderly and concerned clubs and individuals.

The Lenawee Council on Aging is located at 327 Erie St. at the Piotter Center in Adrian, and is staffed by a project director, Rose Bowman, and seven full-time and part-time employees, including two center directors, and outreach leader and site manager for nutrition programs, craft director, dispatcher, secretary and also Green Thumb workers and volunteers.

The Piotter Center and satellites operate on a drop-in basis. List of activities, literally from a to z, including Rocker Rythyms (an exercise program that can be done sitting to improve circulation), information on taxes, health and nutrition, employment insurance and daily lunches. Activities are offered to help keep the elderly active and involved, as long as their mental and physical health permit.

Another important aspect of the council's work is information, guidance and referrals by group and individual basis.

Bowman explains the importance of the drop-in center. "What happens if a senior wants to play cards on Thursday and instead the only night it is offered is Wednesday? The drop-in center philosophy allows a person the opportunity to do what he feels like doing, when he wants to be active."

An outreach program is conducted through the Department of Social Services and extends activities into the Adult Foster Care Homes and private homes for those unable to attend the center.

Three of the county's nursing homes and Maria Hall Health Care are also cooperating in the Fellowship Days and are participating in an exercise program for confined residents.

A nutrition program was established at the Piotter Center where five days a week a balanced meal is served and may be home delivered if the resident lives within a 10 mile radius of Adrian.

Transportation is given to any person over 60 years old two times a week to any place in the county. The limit is made so that vehicles are available to serve more people. In some emergency cases where daily trips to the doctor are necessary, exceptions may be made. Adrian's new dial-a-ride will not end the operation of the LCOA transportation for the elderly, however cooperative arrangements may be made when the new city system operates, said Bowman.

Donations are accepted toward payment of the nutrition and transportation program. Drivers are volunteers.

Miss Bowman said that since its start the council on aging has served an increasing number of clients through references, and by word of mouth. A need for these services was already established within the city and school district of Adrian. So the LCOA was not worried that it would become extinct for lack of money or clients. Council on aging shares funds, facilities and equipment with the school district through the community education project since it was found out that a large number of elderly lived outside the limits.

Current budget of the LCOA is about $72,000. Last year's budget was about $61,000 the increase coming with the cost of living. The mix of funds is about 60 percent federal money and 40 percent local. Included in the budget is enough for two new satellite centers.

Carpet Pattern Satisfactory

Being a city building inspector has its moments of trials and satisfactions as Robert E. "Bob" Hamden will tell anyone. After weeks of fastidious searching and meticulous comparison of several varieties, styles weaves and fibers, Hamden finally struck upon a satisfactory carpet pattern to dress council chambers and hallway.

New carpet, which was christened by the footsteps of council and visitors at Monday's meeting, is a paisley pattern of orange, gold and greens. Exotic name is "Kitchen Classic" in "Village Gate green and gold". Practically, it improves the acoustics of the room and will cut down maintenance costs of the terrazzo floors. Of 100 percent nylon, it was purchased from Gambles.

A tip of the hat to a job well done by Bob Hamden.

NEW HEALTH CENTER FOR BOYSVILLE — A new student health center at Boysville was dedicated last Friday. The dorm and health complex, named Carlisle Hall, cost $400,000. Construction began in May of this year. The complex is made up of two buildings, one a clinic and the other an intake cottage where 12 students can be housed. Private donations financed the construction. In the above picture, Bishop James Sullivan, Auxiliary Bishop for the Lansing Diocese, cuts the ribbon (center), while the Rev. Walter Marks, CSC, (right), Chaplain of Boysville, and Monsignor Vincent Howard, (left), pastor for St. Elizabeth's in Tecumseh look on. (Photo by Frank Weir)

MEMORIAMS

In memory of Cathy Irwin and Billy Lee Raymond who were killed one year ago, Nov. 3, 1973.

We do not need a special day,
To bring them to our minds.
The days we do not think of them
Are very hard to find.
Within our store of memories
They hold a place apart
For no one else could ever be
More cherished in our hearts.

Sadly missed by their parents, her brothers and sisters, their grandparents, and his great grandparents. 11-7p

Indians Beat CC, Capture Crown

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh owns the Huron League football title for 1974 after defeating Monroe Catholic Central, 40-19, Saturday night in a fog shrouded contest. The game was played in Monroe.

A Flat Rock loss to Carlson, 26-20, in overtime Friday night, gave Tecumseh the title exclusively to the Indians before the CC game.

The Falcons started the scoring with only four minutes gone in the first quarter as QB John Giarmo connected on a 20-yard pass play.

Kent Jacoby took the next kickoff and started a series of plays that ended with Indian quarterback Dave Spillman running to his left for three yards and the first Tecumseh TD. Ken Biscupski booted the point after.

With 53 seconds left, Don Heistand recovered an important CC quarterback fumble at Monroe's 27-yard line. After John Egbert and Kent Jacoby helped get the ball to the 22, Spillman scrambled around his own right end for the score. Biscupski was again successful with the point after.

With the start of the second quarter, Tecumseh tackled the CC punter after he fumbled the ball on the 15. Eight plays later, Spillman earned his second TD with a run from the line of scrimmage on fourth down. Monroe had almost succeeded in holding the Indians - but not quite. Biscupski missed on the extra point try.

In the next series with CC in possession, Tecumseh's defense was especially tough, sacking Giarmo twice for negative yardage. Tecumseh took over possession on their own 42, but two penalties and three incomplete passes defused the drive.

Mike Connors was forced to punt with Monroe taking over at their 45. John Giarmo showed that he's a fine quarterback, passing his team to their second TD. CC's Rusty Rapai and Paul Carollo made two fine catches in the process.

Tecumseh seemed powerless to defend against Giarmo's deadly accuracy. Monroe missed on the point after, however and Tecumseh went to the lockers with an uncomfortable 20-13 lead at halftime.

Mike Duhan took the opening third quarter kickoff and ran it 30 yards to the 40. The Indians worked their way down to CC's 35. Spillman passed to Duhan in the end zone but he just couldn't hang on to it.

After a Monroe series that went nowhere, Tecumseh took the ball and went 49 yards in 14 plays for their fourth TD.

Duhan went four yards on a pitchout for the score. Biscupski kicked the extra point.

With four minutes gone in the fourth quarter, Monroe grabbed their third TD on another pass play. They ran for the extra points but a penalty nullified the score.

Tecumseh took the kickoff and marched 81 yards in 10 plays for the touchdown. Jacoby took a handoff from Doug Bunch to run seven yards for the score.

On the next MCC series, Indian tackles Heistand and John Kruse did the job sacking Giarmo for negative yardage several times. The Falcons were on fourth down and 22 yards when they punted. But a roughing the kicker penalty against Tecumseh gave CC a first and ten on the 40.

Giarmo passed on the next play, but Duhan picked it off and ran close to 50 yards to Monroe's seven. Two plays later, Duhan went one yard for the final score of the game. John Burns prevented another CC score by intercepting after the kickoff.

It was a ground game all the way for the Tecumseh squad as they rushed for 282 yards. Kent Jacoby was the leading rusher with 155 yards in 26 carries. But quarterback Dave Spillman was second with 72 in 12 carries. CC rushed for a mere 70 yards.

Although impressive, the CC passing attack wasn't sufficient to beat the Indian ground game and the tough defensive unit.

Giarmo completed eight out of 15 passes for 130 yards and all three of Monroe's TDs. Tecumseh's Dave Spillman had greater success staying on the ground, failing on six attempted passes.

Both teams were just about even on first downs, Tecumseh with 13 and CC with 12. The Indians kept their hands on the ball and not fumbling while recovering CC's only fumble. Tecumseh intercepted two passes and Heistand blocked a punt.

Tecumseh lost 55 yards in five penalties while CC lost 25 yards in four penalities. Bob Webb was the leading Indian tackler with 12.

Girl Cagers Win, Stand Undefeated

Monday marked the beginning of Tecumseh versus Adrian week - and the local high school girls started the ball rolling in the right direction.

The varsity, under coach Diane Nelson, completely dominated the Adrian girls Monday night on the Maples floor, 49-16. By halftime the outcome was clear.

Sue Brown, scoring 17 points, paced the Indians and along with Melinda Ternak harrassed the Adrian girls to the point that turnovers were the rule rather than the exception.

Adrian, suffering only its second defeat - both to Tecumseh - was never in the contest after the opening minutes.

Julie Murphy, who for an unknown reason couldn't hit the easy under-the-bucket shot, swished through some long ones for 10 points. She shared runner-up scoring honors with Ternak.

Janice Stevens collected six points, Julie Anderson four and Peg Upell, two.

Sour note of the evening was an upset of the Tecumseh Jayvees, losing to Adrian 23-12, after swamping their rivals earlier on the local floor. Tori Iffland was top Tecumseh scorer with six points.

The varsity, which knocked Adrian from the undefeated ranks last month, added another last Friday with an easy 58-40 victory over Hudson. The Indians rolled to a 39-19 lead at halftime and were never seriously threatened.

Anderson pitched in 21 points and Brown, 11, to lead the scorers. Murphy had eight points, Ternak and Laura Purkey seven each, and Stevens and Jane Faulkner, two each.

The Jayvees made it a double win with a 39-25 victory. Iffland tallied 10 points.

Earlier in the week a completely outclassed New Boston Huron team fell, 56-4, scoring just two points each in the first and third periods.

Nine Indians scored with Anderson rallying 15. Barb Henning, who missed the Adrian game because of a slight fracture to a finger, scored 12 points.

Other scorers were Ternak with eight, Murphy six, Brown and Faulkner four, Purkey three, and Connie Younglove and Stevens, two each.

Jayvees also had little trouble, winning 31-8. Debbie Steadly paced the winners with 11 points.

Win Final Contest

Tories Are 7th In State

The Britton Tories completed their finest season since 1937 by defeating Maumee Valley Country Day 38-12 last Saturday afternoon. The win gave the Tories a 7-1 season record. They took seventh place among Class D teams in the state.

Mike Servoss completed a brilliant football career with his best game scoring five touchdowns and one two-point conversion. He also rushed for a total of 323 yards in 31 carries averaging 10.4 yards per carry.

Maumee Valley scored on the first play from scrimmage as quarterback Jeff Jones hit end Ben Shimp on a 67-yard pass play for a touchdown. The extra point kick failed.

Britton took the following kickoff and marched 81 yards for the score with Servoss plunging over from one yard out. Alan Reau ran over the extra points.

The Tories next score followed a 49-yard march with Servoss scoring on an eight-yard run. He also ran over the extra points to give Britton a 16-6 lead.

Maumee Valley came right back as Jones again hit Shimp, this time on a 71-yard pass play. The conversion failed. Servoss scampered 80 yards for his third Tory score of the game. The conversion failed but Britton led at halftime 22-12.

The Tories took the opening kickoff of the second half and marched 65 yards with Servoss scoring on a 25-yard run. Reau ran over the conversion.

The Tories then recovered a fumble on the Mohawk's 30-yard line and marched in for the final score of the game with Servoss scoring his fifth touchdown on a six-yard run. Larry Hall ran over the extra points to make the final score 38-12.

Maumee Valley displayed a fine passing attack as the two Mohawk quarterbacks completed a total 12 of 25 passes for 217 yards. Ben Shimp was on the receiving end of most of those passes.

The Tories rushed for 450 yards in the game. In addition to Servoss' 323 yards, Alan Reau ran for 82 yards in 21 carries. Quarterback Jeff Brown was 0-3 passing but called a fine game as he has done all year for the Tories.

The offensive line of Paul Wielfaert, Dale Tiede, Mike Hintz, Doug Shiels, Doug Armstrong, Craig Wagenschutz, and Mike Saxton, gave Servoss and Reau lots of room to run through the Mohawk defense.

Reau led the Tory defense with eight tackles and Hintz, Armstrong, Wielfaert and Dan Exelby each had seven tackles.

Coach Salisbury commented, "It was a great team effort all season long. Our 11 seniors gave us excellent leadership throughout the season. I would also like to commend my assistant, Jim Sweigart, on the fine job he has done this season."

The 11 Britton seniors who led the Tories this year are co-captains Mike Servoss and Doug Armstrong, Jeff Brown, Dan Exelby, Larry Hall, Craig White, Doug Shiels, Mike Saxton, Alan Reau, Dale Tiede and Werner Jahn."

Harriers Finish Season

Senior Jim Mattis put the finishing touch on a brillant four year Clinton High School cross country career Wednesday by finishing 5th in the LCAA meet at Meadowlane Golf Course.

He broke his own school record by running in an excellent time of 15:54. However several key injuries ruined the Redskins' bid for a high finish.

Jim Klanke was the next Clinton runner as he finished 33rd with a season best time of 17:33. Jim Scoggins - hampered by an injury - finished 38th. Chris Wojtowicz was 41st and Craig Hill 46th to finish out the Clinton scoring.

Clinton finished with a 6-6 overall record, 2-5 LCAA record and a 7th place finish in the LCAA league.

The cross country team and staff would like to thank everyone who helped make the conference meet Wednesday at Meadowlane a big success. It was a total group effort and reflects well on the spirit and cooperation of the student body and staff.

Indian Runner Attends State Meet

Indian cross country standout Tim Scheff participated in the state meet held at Charlotte, Michigan last Saturday.

Two races - the individual and the team race - make up the state meet. In regional competition, held two weeks ago, Scheff qualified to participate in the individual. However, the Tecumseh squad did not qualify for the team portion of the meet so Scheff participated in the one event only.

Scheff finished 16th out of 80 runners in the individual competition with a time of 16:05 for the three mile plus course. Overall - counting the times for both races - Scheff finished in the 18th position.

He missed All-State honors by only two places. If Scheff had placed 16th or better in overall competition, he would have made the honor list.

Thin clad coach Bill Croft commented, "Tim ran tremendously well. That's all you can really say. And he's just a sophomore."

Frosh Win All

The Tecumseh freshman football team closed out an undefeated season last week by beating Ann Arbor Huron 16-6. The team posted a perfect 8-0 record.

Among their victories, the young Indians list five class A schools including Adrian, Ypsilanti, Bedford, Ann Arbor Pioneer and Ann Arbor Huron; and two class B schools, Monroe Catholic Central, Chelsea and Manchester's junior varsity.

Quarterback Dick Cangley guided the Indian offense to a total of 214 points--the squad usually took an early lead. He had at his disposal a fine group of running backs led by Jim Egbert, Lyndon Hughes, Jeff Robideau, Butch Harvey and Jim Anderson.

The offensive line--spearheaded by center Rob Coaker--was outstanding all season. Many opposing coaches mentioned how the frosh interior line completely dominated the game. Coaker was flanked by guards Wendell Withrow and Greg Lewis, tackles John Silberhorn and John Paxton, and ends Jim Neill and Bill Tooman.

The Tecumseh defense was especially tough, yielding less than six points a game and recording four shutouts. The squad was led by linebackers Withrow and Hughes.

Other members of the hard hitting unit, which held two opponents to negative yardage, were ends Silberhorn, Lewis and Coaker, tackles Tooman, Marvin Hayford, Dan DeHaan and Larry Webber, linebackers Robideau, Paxton and Neill, along with defensive backs John Egbert, Harvey, Anderson and Dick Cangley.

The team is coached by Ted Todd and Vick Lawson.

Coach Todd comments that the team is "one of the best ever." He compared it to the team he coached some six years ago. Some of those players are now playing college ball. He concludes, "They have lots of size and quickness, they're a bunch of good football players."

2 Tecumseh Teenagers Killed; Crash Claims 6

Lives of two Tecumseh teenagers were claimed early Saturday morning in what was probably the worst automobile accident in the history of Lenawee County.

Six youth from the county, their birthdays combined total just over 100 years, were killed on M-50, near Laird Rd. and just south of Cambridge Junction about 1 a.m. Saturday.

Fatally injured from Tecumseh were Larry A. Whelan, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whelan, 330 N. Union St., and Tammy R. Schultz, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schultz, 217 Maple St.

Also dead at the scene were Laraine K. Bliesner, 16, and Kathy Kohler, 16, both of Blissfield and Michael E. June, 18, and Norman D. Kooienga, 20, both of Addison.

Tecumseh High School, normally a jubilant place after a Friday night football victory over Adrian, was quiet and sullen Monday. School administrators, teachers and hundreds of students were among the mourners at the funeral services Monday and Tuesday afternoons.

According to reports, Kooienga, a Marine veteran discharged just three weeks ago, was driving west on M-50 at a high rate of speed, crossed the centerline and rammed headon into a car driven by Larry Whelan.

Whelan and his passenger, Tammy Schultz, had left Jackson earlier after a hockey practice session and a hamburger stop with others from Tecumseh. Other folks from Tecumseh came upon the accident just minutes after it occurred.

From observations Saturday morning, it appeared that Whelan attempted to avoid the collision and was on the berm of the highway when rammed. Impact apparently drove his car backwards.

All six youth were dead at the scene.

Onsted firemen, summoned to the accident, spent over an hour cutting away wreckage to free the victims from the mangled cars. Traffic was re-routed around the accident until the cars and victims were removed.

Services for Two Students

TAMMY SCHULTZ

Tammy R. Schultz

Services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Purse Funeral Home with the Rev. L.E. Etzel officiating. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Tammy was born on June 25, 1958 to Kenneth and Elsie Schultz. She was their youngest daughter.

A junior at Tecumseh High School, she had lived in Tecumseh for the past 10 years. She was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church in Adrian.

She is survived by her parents, two sisters, Mrs. David (Brenda) Cain, of Clinton, and Mrs. Kenneth (Debra) Wilson of Tecumseh; grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Knight of Adrian, and one niece and nephew.

Two grandfathers and one grandmother preceded her in death.

Larry A. Whelan

Services were held Monday afternoon at Grace Evangelical Church with the Rev. Kenneth Strack officiating. Proctor Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements and burial at Brookside Cemetery.

Larry was born on April 15, 1957 at Herrick Memorial Hospital, and he was the only son of Richard and Shirley Teske Whelan.

He was a senior at THS, and as a freshman, was a member of the school's band, and was presently a member of the Lenawee Hockey Association.

Larry was a member at Grace Evangelical Church and was an usher there.

Survivors, besides his parents, are a sister, Janis, a sophomore at Western Michigan University; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Whelan and Mrs. Florence Teske; and uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whelan, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beasley and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall of Fairfield.

FOURTH BRANCH OFFICE FOR UNITED SAVINGS BANK

Plan Grand Opening for New Bank Branch

United Savings Bank of Tecumseh will celebrate the opening of its fourth branch this Friday and Saturday at its newest office—West Chicago Branch—at the intersection of W. Chicago Blvd. and Occidental Rd.

Grand opening hours will be 12 noon officially for business next Monday morning at 9:30.

Earl Mason, senior vice president and officer at United Savings Bank since June 1966, will be manager of the branch.

Mr. Mason came to Tecumseh from the Kalamazoo Industrial State Bank.

Other bank personnel to staff the office will include John Burch, Nina Condin, Sue Durkee, Carolyn Chase, Corky McNamara and Sandy Mayers.

Mollie Kovach and Alice DesErmia will be parttime tellers.

A large canopy for four remote control drive-up units dominates the architecture of the new branch.

Other facilities included in the 1,920-square-foot colonial brick building are conference room, large office area, lobby and service counter for four tellers, and a large basement with a conference room.

West Chicago Branch will be a full service bank, offering complete banking and other services, including safety deposit boxes.

Earl Mason, senior vice president, will manage new West Chicago Branch.

Indians Post 8-1 Mark after 13-6 Adrian Win

By FRANK WEIR

In a fitting end to an excellent season, the Tecumseh Indians defeated the Adrian Maples, 13-6, Friday night making it win number seven in the 17-year rivalry.

And the fans in the packed-to-capacity Maple Stadium saw Tecumseh's powerful defensive squad at its best. They dumped Adrian's quarterback Bruce Rearick four times behind the line of scrimmage and limited the Maples' rushing game to only two net yards.

The seven-point margin failed to tell the entire story. Tecumseh dominated the game. The Indians, not ranked in the state because of a disappointing one point loss to Chelsea in the opener, are probably one of the best in the state today.

The Indians, a well coached and well disciplined team, knocked off Adrian, a better than average Class A team which had defeated a previously ninth ranked Class A team just the week before.

Things started off on the right foot for the Indians as George Harvey took the opening kickoff and raced 60 yards to Adrian's 35. Offensive workhorse Mike Duhan grabbed a 25 yard pass and a couple of plays later quarterback Dave Spillman went two yards for the first TD. Ken Biscupski missed on the point after attempt.

In the second quarter, both offensive squads were unsuccessful in mounting a scoring drive, but the Indian defensive unit was outstanding, thwarting Rearick's passing game and sacking him for negative yardage.

The third quarter was another big one for Tecumseh. After Bob Webb recovered an Adrian fumble on their 22-yard line, the Indian offensive squad snapped off five plays, culminating in another touchdown with Spillman going the final yard. Biscupski connected on the point after kick.

The Maples finally got on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter when Rearick connected with Tom Rink on a 70-yard pass play with six minutes left in the quarter. Adrian attempted a two-point conversion with the running play going nowhere.

Tecumseh took over the ball but were forced to punt leaving Adrian deep in its own territory. Only a few minutes were left in the game, but everyone knew that Rearick could throw that long bomb. With two and one-half minutes left, the tough defensive squad nailed Rearick for an eight-yard loss.

In desperation, he went to the air with Harvey picking it off at the 28-yard line. That finished it as Tecumseh used up the remaining seconds.

It was only fitting that Harvey should make that interception. It was his kickoff return that started the Indian's scoring drive and the interception defused Adrian's only remaining chance.

Tecumseh racked up 107 yards total rushing to Adrian's two. Spillman completed four of nine passes for 65 yards while Bruce Rearick succeeded on 10 of 20 attempts for 168 yards.

Leading rusher for the Indians was Kent Jacoby grabbing 56 yards in 15 carries. Mike Duhan was second with 48 yards in 14 carries.

Adrian had 11 first downs to Tecumseh's nine. Tecumseh did not fumble but recovered two of Adrian's four fumbles. In addition, the Indian squad picked off two passes and Adrian intercepted one Spillman pass.

The Indians lost 45 yards in five penalties and the Maples 20 in two penalties.

Leading tackler for Tecumseh was Ed clark with 11 followed by Webb with eight.

Improvement Survey Analyzed, Reported to City Commission

One-third of the 300 responses of a Capital Improvement Survey have been analyzed, and the preliminary preferences of these citizens of Tecumseh have been tabulated, reported Cal Zorn, city manager, to Planning Commission Tuesday night.

Preliminary results are:

Most desired, Russell Road improvements 79.2 percent, intersection improvements 74.2 percent, recreation courts 70.6 percent, tennis court lighting 66 percent, bike pathway 65.7 percent, private curb and gutter 63 percent, tied were Evans St. improvements and land for senior citizens' housing 61.8 percent, and restroom facilities, 59.8 percent.

Least desired are a municipal golf course 14.6 percent, ice rink for the city 18 percent, mall-like effect in the downtown area 20.9 percent, camp ground 23.4 percent, other recreation 26 percent, and cooperative ice rink, 28 percent.

Responses were tabulated by adding percentages of those categories deemed necessary and desirable.

Only 300 responses were received from 1,800 questionaires sent to property owners in the city.

Zorn mentioned that in some cases new residents responded that they were not qualified to answer questions. He said that most of the other comments were very good and could be helpful in explaining responses.

Apartments Are Planned

Planning Commission approved a multiple housing site plan submitted by Redman Construction for a development located south of Cummins Street on Pawnee Drive.

Commission stipulated that a three-foot wide sidewalk, abutting the west edge of the eastern most parking lot through the development, should be five feet wide.

Two-acre development, which is RM-1 multiple family, will be three buildings with one and two bedroom apartments with 24 proposed units. Density of the area is well within the city ordinance.

Development will include landscaping, saving many existing trees, parking lots and mercury vapor lamps.

Fund Campaign Still Lagging

Community Fund Foundation drive chairman and vice-chairman, Barbara Blanden and Mary Bowers, report that contributions to this year's drive are still lagging behind proposed goals and previous records.

They target Friday, Nov. 22 as the last day for the campaign and request that all contributions be submitted by that date.

INDIANS START TOURNAMENT TRAIL — Varsity girls basketball team stands undefeated going into their final league game Wednesday night against Carlson. Monday, the team drew Columbia Central for their first game in district competition. Game will be held Thursday, Nov. 21, at 6 p.m. on CC's boards. Central posts a 4-3 record thus far. If the girls are successful in tournament competition, they will enter the state finals on Dec. 14. The girls are front l-r, Julie Anderson, Becky Stormes, Laura Purkey. Middle row, Connie Younglove, Jane Faulkner, Barb Henning, Janice Stevens. Back row, Coach Diane Nelson, Melinda Te nak, Susie Brown Julie Murphy, Peg Upell

Jaycees Learn About Drugs

CLINTON—Cookie Shaw, Substance Abuse Coordinator for Lenawee County presented a drug related program for members of the Clinton Area Jaycee Auxiliary.

Members were also shown films of the Burn Institute at Ann Arbor.

Attending the meeting at the Water Wheel Center were 15 members and several guests including Jan McCaully and Pat Bertke of Manchester.

Mrs. Roger Hebert was welcomed as a new member.

Report was made of the District Auxiliary bazaar in Manchester, which raised $481.55 for the placement fund, project of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary, which places hard-to-place children in foster homes.

Jaycees and Auxiliary entertained 450 children at the recent community Halloween party.

Aid to the elderly continues, and several persons have had their leaves raked. Anyone who needs help, or to be taken shopping may call Mrs. Bernard Abraham, 456-7617.

The Auxiliary will sponsor a drug awareness program in the community for youth and adults. Anyone having suggestions for the program may call Mrs. Abraham.

Other new programs which the Auxiliary will sponsor include a Cancer Awareness program; Kiss Your Baby Week, Cystic Fibrosis emphasis Feb. 2-8; and a Baby's Lib, birth defect project.

An Ypsilanti visitation is scheduled for Nov. 14, with Mrs. Hugh McGill and Mrs. Frederick Knight attending.

A district president's meeting will be Nov. 18 at Blissfield and a Leadership training session will be Nov. 23, in Saline.

There will be a Jaycee Board meeting on Nov. 23 at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. David Grinnell.

Mrs. Steve Bowman was presented the Lady Bug award for her outstanding work.

Members will assist the Jaycees with the shopping spree for children prior to Christmas, and with the Christmas party for children. There will also be a Christmas caroling night scheduled.

A doll will be given away Dec. 14, for the benefit of the Burn Institute, Ann Arbor. Members will have tickets.

Next meeting will be Dec. 9, when a potluck supper at Water Wheel Center with Mrs. Hugh McGill as hostess.

Preparations Being Made

Preparations have been made for the First Lady of the Year Program which is sponsored by the Adrian Area Beta Sigma Phi Council. Council is comprised of eight chapters of Beta Sigma Phi who wish to honor an outstanding woman in the community.

Mrs. Carlton Cook of Tecumseh received the award in 1974.

The outstanding lady will be revealed in March and honored at a reception. She will be presented a "Certificate of Recognition" and her name will be added to a plaque now on display at the Croswell in Adrian.

Names of local women will be submitted to a panel of judges selected from civic leaders in the area.

Among those working for the Council are Mrs. Orville Cook, Mrs. John Dorr, in charge of arrangements for the reception and Mrs. Gerry Greene, in charge of invitations.

GT Moves

General Telephone Company announced that it has moved from its leased offices at 227 N. Winter Street in Adrian effective Nov. 4.

The Area Engineering and Construction Department have moved into the General Telephone Co. building at 224 E. Chicago Blvd. in Tecumseh.

Adrian Division Manager, A.T. Jones, said this move affects approximately 20 people. Move will better enable the personnel to perform and conform with the recent reorganization within the Company.

Jones pointed out that the Service Center in Adrian will still handle service orders requests, billing questions and repair service calls and the building will not be open for the general public.

Plat Approved

Tuesday night, Planning Commission reviewed and approved the preliminary plat of Brookmeade No. 3, a proposed subdivision layout.

Nine acres, located in the northwest section of town are at Ternes and Nokomis Streets and includes 20 lots.

Property is owned by William Powell of Powell Real Estate.

Goes To Camp For Leadership

Scout master Alvin Bunting, assistant Scout masters J.C. Myers and Jerry Grant, assistant Cub Scout master Joe Rockwell and Scouts Walter Peyton, Kevin Brown, Frank Sterling, Gary Hunter, Richard Gregory, Mark Criss, Robert Snyder, Terry Myers and Craig Condron of troop 673 went to Camp Munhacky near Chelsea Nov. 9 and 10 for leadership training.

Troop 673 thanks John Deming for making all the arrangements for this training.

Bags Available

Plastic bags are now available at city hall for residents to use in gathering and collecting leaves.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says pickups will continue throughout the town until all residents have completed their clean-up work.

Pirl E. (Tommy) Robison, 90, of 254 E. Chicago in Britton, died at 3:05 p.m. Thursday in the Herrick Nursing Home where he had been a resident since Aug. 6, 1973.

Born Oct. 26, 1884 in Summerfield Township, he came to Britton 55 years ago, where he owned and operated his own farm until his retirement 30 years ago.

He married Rose Logan Oct. 5, 1910; she preceded him in death July 6, 1973. He was a former Britton Village president and a former member of the Odd Fellow Lodge in Britton. He is survived by one sister-in-law, Mrs. Myrtle Turner of Detroit, 14 nieces and nephews. Besides his wife he was preceded in death by three brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Niblack Home for Funerals in Britton. The Rev. G. O. Hannevik officiated with burial at Deerfield Cemetery.

BERNARD D. CLARK

Services will be held Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the Lutheran Memorial Church of Burbank, Calif. for Bernard D. Clark, 68, formerly of Tecumseh, who died Nov. 10 at 11:30 p.m. in a Burbank hospital. He had been in ill health for six months.

Born in Springville July 31, 1906, he was the son of George and Florence (Boyce) Clark. He married Elizabeth Wilson Rockwood of Tecumseh July 31, 1924.

Survivors include his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Wendall (Joan) Porter; one son, William Clark; one stepson, George Rockwood, all of Calif.; 10 grandchildren; several great-grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. Florence Scheafer and sisters, Mrs. Watson (Beatrice) Graham, both of Toledo, Ohio and Mrs. Anna Wonnell of Detroit; and two brothers, William of Toledo, and Edwin of Tecumseh.

He was preceded in death by his father, one son, Donald, and one brother, Harold.

His ashes will eventually be returned for burial in Brookside Cemetery.

MRS. PEARL OSBORNE EHINGER

Services were held Tuesday in the Braun Funeral Home, Adrian, for Mrs. Pearl Osborne Ehinger, 92, who died Nov. 9 at 5:05 p.m. in the Lenawee Medical Care Facility where she had been a patient for six years. She formerly lived at 3575 Treat Hwy., Adrian.

Born July 2, 1882, the daughter of John and Harriet Victoria Osborne, she had lived all her life in Madison Twp. except for two years in Virginia. During World War she was employed at Faraday Corp., then of Adrian.

Mrs. Ehinger was a charter member of the Madison Community Club and an early member of the Madison Grange.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Glenn (Dorothea) Marvin of Saginaw and Mrs. John (Frances) Hill of Hudson; three sons, Theodore (Ted) Ehinger of Tecumseh, E. Stanton Ehinger of Adrian, and Eldon Ehinger of Centreville, Va.; 14 grandchildren and 31 great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by four brothers, John, Albert, Will and Oliver Osborne, and one sister, Opal Mitchell.

The Rev. Daniel Gieschen officiated at the services, and burial followed in Madison Cemetery.

Memorials may be made to the charity of the donor's choice.

GERALD D. POWELL

Gerald D. Powell, 71, of Dowling, died Nov. 3 in Lyle Hospital, Battle Creek.

Born in Riga, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Powell.

Surviving him are three daughters, including Mrs. Clare (Linda) Strachn of Adrian; four sons; two sisters, Mrs. Donald Beevers of Tecumseh and Mrs. Ruby Martinson of Tekonsha; and several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Nov. 6 in the Tidd Williams Funeral Chapel, Homer.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

According to the dictionary, the meaning of exploit is "to use for one's own advantage; take advantage of." This rather ugly definition is exactly what is happening to today's consumers. If you haven't guessed yet, the specific referral is to the astronomical price of sugar.

It is true that the farmers who produce sugar beets are receiving more for their 1974 crops than they did for the previous year's crop. This is not hard to accept when we stop to realize their production costs (e.g., fuel to operate equipment, fertilizer, and parts and machinery) have all doubled, and in some cases tripled, in price in the last year.

What is hard for us to accept is the fact that the tremendous profits are going to the middlemen or processors of sugar. They have seized the opportunity to take the American consumer for yet another ride and have jumped on the bandwagon to do just that.

As consumers, we have the power to fight back. Human survival is not contingent upon the consumption of sugar. To the contrary, it decays our teeth and adds unwanted pounds. We have as alternatives artificial sweeteners (Sugar Twin, Sprinkle Sweet, etc.) and better still, the healthful by-product of the bees--honey.

Let's throw a little supply and demand at the refiners of the granulated white gold and let sugar set on the grocers' shelves until the price comes down. It's time to end rampant consumer exploitation.

Is there anything more aggravating than having your name misspelled in the newspaper? JUDEE Williamson, please accept the apology of your correspondent for last week's blunder!!

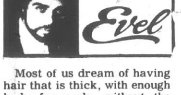
Style Sense by Evel



Most of us dream of having hair that is thick, with enough body for curls, without the frizz that sometimes accompanies curly hair. Don't despair, for with today's "cut for you" hairdo's, things that seemed impossible are really happening. Among these are: styles that need only be washed and combed to look nice, cuts that compliment face and head shape, styles that need only an occasional trim to look nice. They make the perfect hair shape and texture possible for everyone.

These days teasing is out! No more puffed up hair, no more beehives. With the teased look gone, the problem is what to do about hair that is tired out from so much overwork, and what to do about split ends or dryness. Split ends should be trimmed regularly in order to keep your hair healthy and prevent breaking. A regular use of conditioners, massage, and brushing can keep dryness from being a problem. Why not find out what a more natural style can do for you?

Guest Speaker at Historical Society

The historical grandeur of Michigan cities can flourish again, given a combination of imaginative leadership, pride and community cooperation. And it can pay off in terms of community well-being and pride.

These are messages which come through loud and clear when John J. Collins, president of the Marshall Historical Society, speaks here Tuesday, Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Tecumseh Public Library. Public is invited. This will be the meeting of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society instead of the fourth Tuesday.

Collins will discuss the role of the historical society in the continuing preservation of a city's architectural heritage.

Early Marshall, he points out, lost the state capitol to Lansing, the Michigan Central Railroad to Jackson and its burgeoning 19th Century patent-medicine business to the Pure Food and Drug Act.

But he notes that high hopes and intermittent booms were responsible for the construction of fabulous and beautiful Greek Revival, Gothic Revival, Queen Anne, Italianate and other ornate mansions.

He says that the town founders' search for professionals, not simply pioneers, brought famed politicians who helped build the city and broadened its cultural heritage with trips to and posts in far lands and great cities.

He will tell of an Underground Railway station for escaping slaves, the oldest brick residence in all of Michigan, the erstwhile largest hotel between Detroit and Chicago, and a preserved school which housed the city's children for more than 100 years.

Collins credits Marshall's former Mayor Harold Brooks, of rupture appliance fame, with the preservation of many early buildings until their restoration could be undertaken. He points up refurbishment of he ancient town hall and construction of a Greek Revival Post Office, of the unique Honolulu House and of the city's central fountain, vaguely reminiscent of Versailles, through Brooks' employment of Howard Young, Europe-influenced Kalamazoo architect.

He cites the current interest of the young, the willingness of today's merchants to remove overhanging signs, the refutation of suggested change of the "circle area" in mid-city, fine maintenance and grooming of the city's homes, as well as the church-started tour of the city's historic mansions which has brought Marshall international fame.

"We are a living, viable community which does not need to become a museum village," he tells his audience. "But Marshall is not like any other city, and we cherish its uniqueness."

To remind people of the charm and value of this uniqueness is the role of the historical society, he says.

4-H TOPNOTCHERS—Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Butler and 4-H assistant Doug Shuherk, center, discuss some possibilities for new directions for Tecumseh's 4-H Topnotchers club. At left are daughters Carol, 11 and Cathy, seated, age 10. Members exchanged ideas for new projects for the upcoming year, including small, family clubs to delve into unusual projects such as mini-courses on local history or consumer topics. Interested families may contact community leader, Mrs. Carlton Cook.

Rocks, Pebbles Topic at Club

Mrs. Catherine Weikart, guest speaker on the topic "Stone Hounds and Pebble Puppies", displayed a small portion of her collection of stones from all parts of the world to the Tecumseh Monday Club Nov. 4.

Collection shown ranged in size from 35 pounds to tiny fragments of crystal.

Mrs. Ray Walton was welcomed as a new member during the business meeting conducted by Mrs. William Snook, president.

Resignation of Mrs. Lewis Schultz was accepted with regret.

Mrs. Leroy Titley gave a short report on her attendance as a delegate to the State Convention held in Lansing.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. Ralph Comfort.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Mary Bowers, Mrs. Bonnie Berkley and Mrs. DeLora Anderson gave a short resume of their background as candidates for City Council on the Nov. 5 election.

Family Night will be held Nov. 18 with a 6:30 p.m. buffet at the Clintonian Inn, Clinton. Leader will be Mrs. James Tonneberger and members of the executive board will be hostesses.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Perry Hayden, Mrs. Andrew Woodward, Mrs. Edward Aebersold, Mrs. J.W. Meadows and Mrs. Miriam Nixon.

PTO Show Features Queen's Way

Plan ahead for Christmas! Thursday, Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. Ridgeway P.T.O. will sponsor a Queen's Way Fashion Show directed by Yvonne Cadmus at Ridgeway school. Fashions will be modeled by P.T.O. members and will include clothing from sleepwear to formal for men, women and children.

Clothing of assorted sizes will be available for trying on and size gauging after the showing. Orders may then be placed by those wishing to make purchases (payment upon delivery).

It should be an enjoyable social evening with a chance to do a bit of advance Christmas shopping. There is no obligation to buy; a percentage of the proceeds will go towards this year's P.T.O. projects.

For further information readers may contact Betty Kline, 451-8276.

Champagne Theater-Dinner at Siena College

The gala champagne theatre-dinner party which has become a semi-annual event at Siena Heights College is planned this year for Friday, Dec. 6, according to Dr. Hugh Thompson, Siena's president.

Tentative plans call for a champagne reception in the lobby of Siena's Francoeur Theatre at 6 p.m., followed by a five-course dinner at 6:30 p.m. with theatre entertainment to begin at 8 p.m.

Hot hors d'oevres and cold canapes will be served with Finian's Rainbow champagne punch at the lobby reception. The dinner, planned by Joe Muer and prepared by John Baker, will include cold platters of Salmon Parisienne, Chaud Froid of turkey and Chaud Froid of ham, followed by Emerald tossed salad and entrees of roast beef au jus or Seafood Newburgh aux pattie shell.

A pre-production showing of "Finian's Rainbow," which opens officially on Saturday, Dec. 7, at Francoeur Theatre, will conclude the evening.

Siena's theatre-parties are open to the public with proceeds going to the general scholarship fund.

Lower left corner of the rear plate is the legal place to stick 1975 license tabs which go on sale Nov. 15, Automobile Club of Michigan reminds. Red and white tabs, one to each passenger car owner, may be ordered by mail from the Department of State or purchased at any of 51 Auto Club offices or Department of State branches. The tabs, instead of new license plates, are expected to save the state more than $1 million.

FORTY CHAIRS FILL HALF A PHONE BOOTH. (HAS GF STARTED HALF A FAD?)

The GF 40/4 chairs stack 40 high in approximately 4 feet.
To stack them you just lift one up and tilt it back on another one. To unstack and spread 'em around you just slide them off one after the other after the other after the other.
Ideal for schools, social clubs and offices which occasionally need a lot of chairs, but are always short on space. A specially designed dolly makes moving the entire stack quite easy. A light-weight can handle it. 40/4 stacking becomes a fad or even just a fact. It will be the most comfortable craze for sure.

Campfire Candy Sales

BRITTON—The Campfire Leaders' Association met Nov. 5, in the village library, to finalize plans for the annual candy sale which will be held from Nov. 15 to Dec. 3.

Sylvia Hemphill has been appointed candy sale chairman and Phyllis Below will assist. Each Campfire and Bluebird leader is to pick up candy for her own group at the home of Mrs. Hemphill on Friday, Nov. 15, between 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

In other business, the Campfire Girls were invited, by the Boy Scouts, to attend a swimming party at Dundee High School on Nov. 14, from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Everyone is asked to arrange his own transportation.

Just a reminder that "Britton Tories" sweatshirts can still be purchased from any leader. Start your Christmas shopping early.

Missionary Group Holds Meeting

BRITTON—The Ladies' Missionary group of Bethel Baptist Church met Thursday evening at the church.

Mrs. Walter Stutesman presided and opened with prayer.

The December meeting was discussed and a smorgasbord is planned. Each member is to bring a meat dish and dish to pass. Iva Caswell and Gladys Goodacre will host the event at the church. Mrs. Jack Hintz is in charge of decorations. All attending are requested to bring something pertaining to Christmas for devotions. Mrs. Rex Kelley will remember the men in service for the group.

Mrs. Ida Olds gave devotions using the 100th Psalm and Abraham Lincoln's Thanksgiving proclamation.

The Ladies made table decorations and name cards for the Southern Michigan GARBC meeting hosted by the church Tuesday.

Mrs. Robert Hunt and Mrs. Lyle Hayford served fruit salad with crackers and cheese for refreshments.

Next meeting is Dec. 5 at the church.

Evenings & Weekends

Junior-Senior Open House

BRITTON—Britton-Macon Junior and Senior High School is sponsoring an open house for parents after the 7:30 p.m. PTO meeting Monday, Nov. 18.

Program will allow parents to follow the schedule of a child's typical school day. Six minute class periods with three minute passing intervals have been arranged for each subject.

Teachers will be stationed with appointment sheets, around the study hall after the schedule. Parents may make appointments for a conference with teachers at this time.

For parents with more than one child, it is suggested they do the first part of the day with one schedule and the other part of the day with the other child's. Parents' comments are welcome on this experiment.

Golden Rule Circle Meets

BRITTON—The Golden Rule Circle of the Congregational Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. Ronald Frayer on Nov. 4. Business meeting was conducted by President Mrs. Gerald Benedict.

Mrs. Margaret Leighton read poems and closed with a prayer.

All the circles of the Woman's Fellowship will meet on Dec. 4 with a 9 a.m. brunch and a 6:30 p.m. potluck supper.

Mrs. William Raeburn chaired the program. Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pearson of the Tecumseh Friends Church told the group about their work in the various churches in Lay Missions.

Mrs. William Raeburn accompanied Mrs. Pearson on the piano.

Mrs. Roald Frayer served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Drouillard of Ridgeway announce the engagement of their daughter Kathleen Ann to Bradley Paul Hamilton, son of Mrs. Paul Hamilton and the late Mr. Hamilton of Britton. Miss Drouillard is a senior at Tecumseh High School. Mr. Hamilton is a 1973 graduate of Britton-Macon High School and is currently a student at Eastern Michigan University. An Oct. 4, 1975 wedding is being planned.

Engagement of Sharon Marie Rowe to Phillip H. Servoss is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rowe, 9990 Ridge Road. Miss Rowe is a senior at Britton-Macon High School and Mr. Servoss is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Servoss, 533 Main St. and a 1971 Britton-Macon High School graduate. He is presently working as an X-ray Technician at Herrick Memorial Hospital in Tecumseh. An Aug. 22, 1975 wedding is planned.

Britton LUNCH MENU

Wit & Wisdom Club Holds Meeting

Wit and Wisdom Club held its second meeting of the year Nov. 4 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McDowell.

A brief business meeting was followed by program speaker David Stanifer of the Juvenile Division of the Probate Court, who discussed the problems and needs of the youth of the county.

Mrs. Robert Bowers, candidate for Tecumseh City Council recently elected, spoke briefly on her commitment to run for that office.

Mr. and Mrs. David Criss and Mrs. Ruth Dustin served refreshments of cider and doughnuts to the club.

Attends Two-day Seminar

BRITTON—Donald Dickerson, 20717 Milwaukee Hwy., Britton, manager of the H&R Block office in Tecumseh, recently returned from a two-day tax seminar for H&R Block managers.

Meeting was held in Findlay, Ohio with managers from 35 company offices in northern Ohio and southern Michigan in attendance.

Topics ranged from new tax changes and rulings to increased efficiency in processing completed returns.

Torie-Tell All

By Lori Monagin

The Britton-Macon Senior class will present the play "Arsenic and Old Lace" on Nov. 22 and 23 in the school gym. Play will be directed by Larry Jacobsen, produced by John Evans and student directed by Sandy Lorenz.

Tickets may be purchased anytime before the play from any senior class member or at the door the night of the play. There is an admission. Money earned will go toward the class's senior trip.

This play is an old favorite of knowledgeable playgoers. It combines humor and mystery for a very enjoyable effect. It seems that these two nice old sisters happen to contribute to charity in a very unusual way. They murder nice old men.

Cast members include Paul Bush, Craig White, Dave Judkins, Doug Shiels, Don Korican; Mike Saxton, Cindie Maschino, Werner Jahn, Linda Pilbeam, Sharon Schroeder and Doug Armstrong, Jeff Brown, Steve Gilmore and Mike Servoss.

JV girls team defeated Deerfield Thursday 31-10. High scorers were Genene Bruce and Janelle Schultz. Varsity also won with a score of 55-34. High scorers were Dawn Bush, Kathy Campbell and Lori Monagin.

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. Archie Spohr, 143 N. Main, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house Nov. 17, from 2-5 p.m. at St. Elizabeth school, 510 N. Union in Tecumseh. Friends, relatives and neighbors are invited. Their daughters, Mrs. William (Virginia) Miller of Britton and Mrs. Patricia Coffey of Tecumseh will host the party. The Spohrs have six grandchildren. Helen Wallace of Clinton and Archie Spohr were married Nov. 19, 1924 in St. Mary's Rectory in Manchester, by Msgr. Joseph Peffer. They have lived in Britton 46 years. Mr. Spohr was in the lumberyard and contracting business for 40 years in Britton and retired in 1966. It is requested that gifts be omitted.

THE LAST LAUGH AFTER ALL

Last week I told about the visit of the cedar waxwing which we were enjoying so much when suddenly a mite of a red-breasted nuthatch appeared. He completely stole the show. Waxwings were left to bathe in the creek and gin bath in the maple trees unwatched. Fortunately the waxwings must have gotten together and decided that enough was enough, no little scamp of a bird was going to steal the limelight from them. At least not for long.

Four days after the scene stealing bit by the red-breasted nuthatch, we had just finished breakfast and were getting me situated for the day when suddenly the air was full of birds. The back yard, along the creek bank, on Dorothy's side of the creek, and in the side yard—everywhere there were birds. And what birds they were too. Cedar waxwings!

Counting would have been an absurd impossibility. However, all of us agreed that never before had we seen so many. Their numbers must have been in the hundreds.

After my bed was turned around and pushed so close that it snuggled to the window, Mom and I spent the next hour just watching. We oohed, aahed, exclaimed, and exhausted our meager supplies of adjectives. It was one of the most thrilling experiences either of us had ever enjoyed. Just to see that many birds was a super treat, to have them be cedar waxwings only added to the pleasure.

These are active birds and this particular morning they seemed busier than ever. The comings and goings were almost constant. Fortunately for us much of the activity was in the maple trees on the creek bank. Beautiful close-ups.

As they lined up on the branches we were again struck by their unique posture. They sit so erect that actually the stance is almost an identifiable characteristic. Their flock behavior is too—whether it be a large group or a small one, the birds apparently enjoy the company of others of their kind and when they travel together, they travel closely together. (Using great restraint I shall resist all punning possibilities about togetherness.)

The waxwings had another trick up their sleeve, the piece de resistance to once and for all erase the indignity of being upstaged by an upstart of a red-breasted nuthatch.

Between the house and the near-my-window feeder are two large yews, the southern most one is full and dense while the other is rather spindly. However, this one was loaded with small berries. Bright red berries. As Mom and I watched, those lovely birds began drifting out of the maples and coming to the berry laden bush.

We were enthralled. Many times before we have thought our looks at waxwings were close-up but this particular morning's views were close close close close-ups. The birds were on one side of the window and we were on the other. Closer than that is impossible.

Always we have thrilled to the trim and spic-and-span neatness of the cedar waxwings. Their feathers look so soft and never is there one out of place. Their little topknots, black eye masks, warm brown backs, lighter fronts, rather intricate markings near the tips of their wings, and the bright band of yellow across the ends of their tails. Yes we thought we had had good looks at waxwings. As it turned out, we hardly knew them.

Being practically eyeball to eyeball with a bird is quite an experience. First of all we were surprised to find that those risque little black eye masks are daintily outlined with a fine white stripe. And the pretty brown on their back fades to a decidedly bluish grayish creamish spot at the base of their tails. And along the inside edge of their wings is a pretty white edged feather. And the light upper breast shades into a decided yellowish cast on the lower tummy.

And one birds can hold their topknots so close to the back of their heads that they are invisible. And, just as the books say, the young waxwings have decidedly speckled breasts. And finally, instead of nibbling the red berries they simply snip one off and gulp it down whole. No wonder a goon sized flock can vacuum clean a bush in such a short time.

So it is that the red-breasted nuthatch stole the show one day but the lovely cedar waxwings came back and they had the last laugh after all.

International Live Stock Exposition

The 75th, "Diamond Jubilee", edition of the world famous International Live Stock Exposition will run from Nov. 27 through Dec. 3 at Chicago's International Amphitheatre. The annual show, as usual, will salute the nation's prestigious animal agriculture industry with the finest in cattle, hogs, and sheep competing for coveted International championship ribbons.

A star-studded entertainment cast will appear at this year's show. They include Bob Hope on Nov. 27 and 28, Country Music Award winner, Olivie Newton-John, Nov. 29, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, and long-time favorite Arthur Godfrey and Goldie on Dec. 2 and 3. The stars will appear with Tommy Steiner's RCA World Championship Rodeo which will present 9 performances.

Johnny Cash Film To Be Shown

The story is old, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film The Gospel Road to be shown on Sunday, Nov. 17 at Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church. Showing will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Gospel Road, distributed by World Wide Pictures, was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash, whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way.

The film is a unique blend of scripture-based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs, and a series of in-depth character portrayals, with Israel itself as the mixing bowl.

You are there, walking beside the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee; you are there, seeing Him in many human situations that establish a practical and personal rapport with every viewer.

Adding to the effectiveness of The Gospel Road to convey reality for this day are: the fascinating treatment of the Crucifixion, making this tragedy an event of significance that reaches from its own time across the years to take on meaning for all men of all ages; and the songs and background music of Johnny Cash and other outstanding musicians, whose contemporary style is not out of keeping with the story. . .a story that reveals that His darkest day has become our brightest.

215 Pints Given by Fisher Workers

Two day blood bank Oct. 30 and 31 at Fisher Body plant was most successful, with 215 pints of blood received and there were 51 rejections.

There were 10 one-gallon donors, three two-gallon donors.

Lester Randolph, 301 Adrian St., was a five-gallon donor.

A large share of the 45 volunteer workers were Welcome Wagon members.

A special call had come for A and O type blood and many responded to the call.

The Red Cross committee thanks one and all.

Red Cross blood bank serves all in need. You or yours may be the next to need their services.

Next opportunity to respond to this vital call for blood locally is at Tecumseh Products on Monday, Dec. 2 from noon to 6 p.m.

Services for Seniors

Second part

Tecumseh city representatives met with the Adrian City commissioners to learn about the LCOA and its satellite centers early in 1973.

More recently, on Oct. 29, Cal Zorn, city manager and Ward Eardley, Tecumseh Parks and Recreation director, met with Ray Maxe, director of the Adrian Recreation Department and treasurer of the Lenawee Council on Aging, to discuss the LCOA program.

Zorn said that at the present time he has no recommendation for city council. However, he said that the city of Tecumseh began its recreation program for older citizens long before the city of Adrian began its own. He said that with the exception of the meals on wheels and regular lunches, and transportation for errands, Tecumseh offers the basic program.

He said that in his own opinion Tecumseh should not begin a competitive program at the local level and pay again for a program that is available.

Asked to speculate on the development of such a satellite center in Tecumseh, Bowman, LCOA director said elderly and city itself to determine whether or not they want such services made available locally.

Bowman explained that the LCOA would not disturb any existing programs. For example in Blissfield, the senior citizen organization there still operates as it did previous to the satellite center, she said.

Since the original grant application included multi-services, they must be provided with the transportation program.

She said that Tecumseh's contributions would probably depend on the number of times and where the group meets. Tecumseh's contributions could be equipment as well as money, since Tecumseh has a meeting facility, the Community Center. She mentioned that such equipment would be a contribution "in-kind" or accepted as a certain amount of money.

If Tecumseh would become part of a federal program, other county residents would be welcome to participate in the activities at the Tecumseh satellite center as is now done in all the other centers.

Interviewed for their thoughts on the need for a transportation service for the elderly citizens in Tecumseh, the older citizens gave a variety of reasons why they thought it was a good idea. Those interviewed said that they knew about the Council on Aging and used their services from time to time. Some identified themselves as members. Members pay dues, under a dollar that are set by the center, and receive a monthly newsletter listing all center and satellite center activities.

Bowman said that she receives an average of two calls per day from people in Tecumseh who inquire about the LCOA. She described two older Tecumseh women who need and use the transportation service, one for doctor appointments the other for doing her weekly business, and both use the lunch program when in town. An added benefit is that "we know that they're okay," said Rose Bowman.

One Tecumseh lady who said that she participates occasionally with the LCOA and the Tecumseh seniors, said that she enjoys the field trips offered by both groups. She uses a cane and she said that she doesn't know how many handicapped people there are in the city, but she feels that transportation service to do errands would be welcomed by the elderly in Tecumseh.

"In the snow and ice, I don't get out to do a lot of things. I sure would appreciate the service in the winter time. Although she expressed no trouble with her home management, which she said her daughter takes care of, she said that she enjoys the social aspects of the meetings.

Another older woman, who works part-time said that there is some need for regular transportation service for the elderly in Tecumseh. She said she does not own a car and that she occasionally takes advantage of the one day trips that the LCOA offers.

"I think it would be a good idea to run a similar kind of transportation service and drop-service in Tecumseh, too," she said, distinguishing somewhat from the outings the Tecumseh citizens are now offered.

Mr. and Mrs. Zel McCarty, who are members of the Tecumseh senior citizens and the LCOA, take advantage of the trips with both groups. McCarty, who has been retired for almost 10 years, says that he is still able to drive and on occasion transports some people in their late 80's who he says are still active but who need help getting to a doctor or shopping.

He said that he and his wife do not participate in the LCOA dances or pot-lucks as frequently since they do not have as much time to go to both places. Still they enjoy the opportunity to choose activities from either the recreation program in Tecumseh or the LCOA.

A middle-aged woman who lives outside town said that she became interested in the issue of services for the elderly in Tecumseh when she realized last spring that there were few services for older people.

"I was very pleased when I read that the city council would consider the possibility of initiating new services for the elderly. It is important for these people who have contributed so much to society to be treated with dignity. I believe that it is time for the growth of services in this direction and I hope that we get the job done soon. With a little extra money and time spent we can do a more thorough job, and offer seniors a choice of activities full or part-time basis."

At the present, Tecumseh's senior citizen activities budget is about $500. Cal Zorn guessed that Tecumseh's contributions to the LCOA as a satellite might be considerably more, taking into account the size of the city in comparison to participating villages. He said it is not clear what amount might be "in-kind."

A former member of the Tecumseh senior citizens and now member of the Adrian group had quite a different viewpoint about the benefits of the current programs for his wife and himself.

"We're too happy and too busy to participate on a regular basis with either group," he said. He enjoys keeping informed on the LCOA activities and Admits that there may come a time when he would become a more active participant. Until then, he said he is more interested in helping.

The former Tecumseh participant also said he thought a lot of older people were staying away from the Tecumseh program because "it doesn't offer the kind of activities seniors like and need." He said that there are no efforts to keep people interested or draw new members. He believes that there is a lack of knowledge about activities in Tecumseh, the LCOA and what the LCOA can do for Tecumseh's older citizens.

Theodore Ehinger, past president of the Tecumseh senior citizens said, "judging by the numbers of widowed women who can't get to their meetings, I'd say there is an existing need for some kind of regular transportation for the elderly in Tecumseh. During the sesquicentennial, people were really pleased to be picked up for the activities," he said.

Taken seriously, these few comments seem to indicate a desire for some of regular transportation service for the elderly in Tecumseh. Although Tecumsehites may participate in the LCOA and some already do because of federal funding, chances are LCOA may not meet the entire needs of the county on its present budget. Budget expands when incoming local funds are matched by more federal funds. Bowman indicated that if demand for services increases, and there are good indications that it will, demand may exceed funds available to supply services.

ORDINANCE

Regular meeting of the Common Council for the City of Tecumseh, held on the 4th day of November, 1974, at 7:30 P.M. in Council Chambers at 309 East Chicago Boulevard, Tecumseh, Michigan.

PRESENT: Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer, Puffer, Whiting and Mayor Easton.

ABSENT: None.

WHEREAS, City of Tecumseh Consulting Engineers, in conjunction with the State of Michigan Bureau of Water Management, Construction Grants Section, has recommended that certain additions be made and incorporated in City of Tecumseh Public Utilities, Sewer Use Ordinance heretofore adopted by Common Council for the City of Tecumseh; and

WHEREAS, Common Council deems it advisable and in the best interest for the health, welfare and safety of the citizens and residents of the City of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, to add to and incorporate those recommendations through appropriate ordinance;

NOW, THEREFORE, COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF TECUMSEH, LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, ORDAINS:

That the following additions and changes be adopted.

2. 105 REGULATIONS FOR SPECIFIC WASTES AND WATER.

(1) The City Council of the City of Tecumseh shall determine the admissibility of any and all industrial wastes to the sewage disposal system for treatment and water or waste which, in the opinion of the said City Council, would be in the best interests of the City to exclude in whole or in part from the sewerage system will be so denied.

2. 105 REGULATIONS FOR SPECIFIC WASTES AND WATER.

Paragraph (2) hereby and hereafter is Section 2. 105 REGULATIONS FOR SPECIFIC WASTES AND WATER Paragraph (3).

2. 105 REGULATIONS FOR SPECIFIC WASTES AND WATER.

(2) If and when extra-strength wastes are received from industry for treatment, the City shall maintain and exercise the right to levy a surcharge on any or all such water or waste containing greater than (a) five (5) day B.O.D. of 300 mg-l or (b) 350 mg-l of suspended solids or (c) 30 mg-l of total phosphates as PO4 or (d) chlorine demand of 25 mg-l or (e) toxic or deleterious substances. Such surcharge shall be determined by calculating the increased unit cost of operation, maintenance and capitalization for handling and treating the extra-strength wastes. The foregoing Preamble and Ordinance was offered by Councilman Whiting and supported by Councilman Palmer.

AYES: Mayor Easton, Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.
NAYS: None.
ORDINANCE DECLARED ADOPTED.

Harold E. Easton, Mayor
Vera Gardner, Clerk

OUT-OF-DATE?

Happiness and contentment . . . the sight of a cheerful baby easily brings these beautiful thoughts to our minds.

Yet in the bustle of life today we often find ourselves wondering how to achieve joy and serenity.

The Church has the answer. Its teachings stress truth, compassion, morality . . . principles that never go out-of-date.

A person nurtured in a Christian atmosphere attains the tranquility so necessary in this world of change and turmoil.

Start this week.

Church Women Plan Shower

CLINTON—Members of the Mary-Martha Class of the United Church of Christ, at a meeting Thursday, made plans for a kitchen towel shower for the church, in lieu of a gift exchange at their December meeting.

The group planned to meet for dinner at Rock Inn, Adrian, then return to the home of Mrs. Mervyn Witherell for a social evening, on Dec. 10. All former members of the class are invited to attend. Those planning to attend are to call Mrs. Donald Corwin.

Material was distributed to be sewn for curtains in the church school rooms.

Mrs. Witherell presented the devotional study.

Lucky lady prize was won by the hostess, Mrs. Harold Calhoun.

Get well card was signed for Mrs. Ozro Priest, who remains a patient at McPherson Hospital, Howell.

Vestments Discussed

CLINTON—Need for new vestments for the parish priest was explained by Mrs. Dan Reilly at the meeting of the St. Dominic's Altar Society, Monday evening.

A bakeless bake sale was scheduled for Nov. 23 and 24, with proceeds to be used to purchase the vestments.

Meeting at the Community Center was attended by 15 members and Fr. James Lee.

Mrs. Louis Caterina reported on organs which she has been pricing. Purchase of a new church organ will be a parish project in the near future.

St. Dominic's Altar Society members voted to rejoin the Diocesan Catholic Council of Women, upon the report given by Mrs. Richard Koster. A Lenawee Council will meet four times a year in Adrian.

Mrs. Leonard Rochowiak, Mrs. Joseph Busch and Mrs. Richard Krohl were named to the nominating committee.

Discussion concerned the matter of voluntary abstainence from eating meat, since it is no longer necessary for Catholics to abstain from meat on Fridays, in an effort to save food for the hungry of the world.

Mrs. Edward Blom won the lucky lady prize.

Plans for the December meeting call for a cookie exchange in lieu of a gift exchange. Each member is to bring three dozen homemade cookies and her recipe, and they will be exchanged for someone else's favorite cookies. Mrs. Anthony Bandurski and Mrs. Thomas Young will be hostesses at the Community Center.

Apple pie and coffee were served by Mrs. William Peters and Mrs. Robert Peters.

Legion Notes

CLINTON—Mrs. Thomas Ireland, district membership chairman, addressed the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Nov. 5 at the Community Center.

Attending were 10 members and the American Legion Post Commander Richard Cadnus.

Mrs. Charles Voll, rehabilitation chairman displayed some of the gifts purchased for the gift shop at Veteran's Hospital, Ann Arbor. Members will help at the gift shop Dec. 3.

The Auxiliary members voted to purchase flags for Clinton High School.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mary Hull and Mrs. Lucille Philo.

Mrs. Hattie Feldkamp will host a potluck supper on Dec. 3. There will be a $2 gift exchange.

A home products demonstration was held after the meeting.

TPR. LAIRD KIEFT

Trooper Assigned To Clinton

State Police Tpr. Laird E. Kieft, 32, of the Rockford post, is being promoted to sergeant 10 and assigned to the Clinton post, Col. George L. Halverson, department director, has reported.

Kieft joined the department in 1965, serving first at Romeo. He was transferred in 1966 to Ypsilanti and in 1969 to Rockford. While at Rockford he earned a unit citation for his part in a burglary investigation of a restaurant bar in Kent county in 1971.

Born at Grand Haven, Kieft graduated from high school, later attending Grand Rapids Junior College for about two years.

He and his wife, Bonnie, have a son and a daughter.

Clinton Calling
Maxine Calhoun
456-4512

G.E. (Gus) Wellnitz of Eccles Road, was 94, Sunday, Nov. 10. His granddaughter Anita Piekarek baked and decorated a cake for him.

Mr. Wellnitz is feeling real well, and says "who would ever think I'd live to be this old?"

He received many cards and gifts. His family includes Mr. and Mrs. Gordon (Ruth Marie) Gove, with whom he has made his home for three years, Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Wilma) Allen of Tecumseh, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Julius Wellnitz of Chelsea. Callers were Beth Gove, Nancy McNeely of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Piekarek of Tecumseh.

Cheerleaders Get Assistance

CLINTON—Since the number of Middle School girls who may participate in cheerleading has risen from six to 62, school board accepted a recommendation that an assistant cheerleader advisor be employed.

Janice Porter, who has voluntarily assisted Jane McKie through the football season, will be employed.

Since a similar condition exists in the high school, an assistant to the cheerleading advisor for the varsity and junior varsity squads will be hired.

A girls' volleyball schedule will be set by the athletic department.

Saundra Randolph, Elementary and Middle School librarian, reported on the materials, equipment and functions of the libraries. Beginning Nov. 12, the Middle School library is open all day courtesy of additional aid provided through the Green Thumb program.

The planned Pre-primary home school program was reviewed by representatives of the State Department of Education recently. According to state guidelines, this program must be aimed at a target group. A needs assessment program will begin. Federal money cannot be used for screening of the community for this program.

Portable classrooms are being studied.

Velvet stage curtains, already ordered for the Middle School are expected by Christmas.

A photocopier Xerox 3100 is being rented.

New Personnel by Federal Funds

CLINTON—Board of Education of Clinton Community Schools has begun hiring personnel made available through federal funds in various programs, under the "Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973." To qualify, persons must be unemployed for 30 days, or underemployed.

To date these people have been employed:

Carolyn Slusher is working as a switchboard operator, typist and receptionist.

Pat Sharpe will work as a teacher aide and be assigned additional responsibilities on the Clinton School newsletter and other types of school community written communications.

Matthew Jackson has been employed on the regular maintenance crew, thus freeing Dan Semark, who has been assigned to construction maintenance.

A fourth position has been approved and applications are being received for it.

Mrs. Clyde Pollock has been accepted for placement in a position in the Clinton Middle School library, under the Green Thumb program. This program is under the sponsorship of the Michigan Farmers' Union, and is designed to offer employment to those people on the labor market who are over 55 years of age, who have low family income such as social security, pension, etc., and who are available to work up to 30 hours a week.

"The Wiz"

CLINTON — Clinton High School freshman English classes attended the "The Wiz" at Detroit's Fisher Theatre, Nov. 13.

The all-black production of "The Wizard of Oz" has been highly touted by critics. They have scored it as a . . . "rock version" of an old favorite.

Ninety seats were reserved by the group.

Florida or Bust

By Maxine Calhoun

CLINTON — The way the Charles Knight family is moving to Florida has to be the HARD way. They're taking along 120 dairy cows, and it will be a 24-26 hour nonstop trip to Wauchula, Fla. That's where Charles Knight II, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight, will relocate their dairy operation.

Charles II and his wife, Carol and three sons, Charles III (Chip), Christopher and Keith, moved a month ago to get preparations under way for the arrival of the cows.

The Knight family operated a 336-acre, modern dairy farm on Willow Road, northeast of Clinton, in Washtenaw County. They will now rent out their acreage here, as well as the smaller family home. At least for the present, they plan to keep the Centennial farm house, which has been in the Knight family since 1850.

Idea for the move began several months ago, when Charles and Nora Knight began looking for a place for eventual retirement. Already convinced they would never be content anywhere, except in the country, they became interested in the Florida way of farming when they visited a farm in that state. When they came home and described the aspects of dairying in the Sunshine State, son Charles became enthused about it, too.

The family has purchased a 60-acre dairy farm in mid-Florida, about 60 miles south of Orlando.

The Knights' cows have already been tested for bangs, brucellocous and TB, and will have to be tested again when they reach their destination. Florida is one of the few states requiring this retest.

There will be some immediate changes for the cows, too.

First load of 30 dry cows and heifers was shipped last Wednesday, by a Blissfield trucker. Trained to twice-daily milking, on a clock-timed schedule, the milking cows being transported this week were cut back to mostly dry hay and no water before loading. They were driven straight through, without milking, on the 26-hour trip to Wauchula.

All cows are expected to be moved by Thanksgiving.

At the new location, the cows will be given a greatly diluted ration containing orange pulp, until they get used to the change in diet, which will be mainly pasture and purchased feed.

Work has already begun to enlarge the present 60-cow facility there, but that just means an open, roofed shelter. Only the 6-stall herringbone milking parlor is enclosed.

Because the need for machinery is minimal there, and wagons and silos are not needed, cost of production will be greatly reduced, the Knights expect.

They also expect taxes to be less there, Mrs. Knight said. Florida dairymen can expect to make about 50 percent profit over feed costs, since their costs are less, and milk is sold to a farmer-owned cooperative, she explained.

The senior Knights, Charles and Nora, will go to Florida by Thanksgiving, but will return here in a few weeks to prepare for a spring sale of their farm machinery.

It's an unusual move the Knight family is making, and it will be interesting to learn if farming in Florida is really so much better than farming in Michigan.

Tecumseh Recreation Department annual Halloween parties were held Oct. 30 and 31 with nearly four hundred students at four locations.

The pre-schoolers, K through third grades and fourth through sixth enjoyed movies, costume contests, cider and doughnuts and each goblin was given a small sack of candy upon leaving. Winners of the costume contest were:

Pre-Schoolers held at the Community Center. Spookiest - Tom Stoddard and Cory Griewahn. Funniest - Adam Kennedy. Most Original - Patty Sue Gross, Sarah Cattel. Dressiest - Shelley Long, Kelly Sue Bartenslager.

K through third grade held at Patterson School. Spookiest - Noel Benedict, Tim Cell. Funniest - Grant Bauman, Most Original - Criss Morton. Dressiest - Debbie Hall.

Fourth through sixth grades held at Tecumseh Acres School. Spookiest - Doren Flynn. Funniest - Kim Lewis. Most Original - Tim Demming. Dressiest - Leslie Oliver.

Halloween evening 180 Junior High students danced from 7:30-9:30 p.m. to the music of Elizah. Cider and doughnuts were served here also.

The Recreation Department extends thanks to all the members of the Kiwanis, Exchange and Rotary Clubs, Tecumseh Clowns and the other volunteers who donated their time to help out on these parties.

A message to America's car buyers...

Inflation-weakened America needs common-sense conservation, not empty austerity. Conservation is insulating the attic and saving fuel; austerity is shivering in your living room.

In a similar way, when new cars replace old, the nation's primary means of transportation gains efficiency. Our new 1975 cars conserve gasoline, even as they emit less pollution, provide more safety features, and cost less to operate and maintain than earlier models.

The purchasing of new cars is the common-sense conservation we need. It keeps the wheel of progress rolling. It means growth and investment. This means more jobs for our people, more revenue for our government, more value for our customers, and more dividends for our stockholders.

No growth makes no sense; not for America, not for anyone.

Right now is the time to buy a new car.

Pictured is the Amelanchier or June Berry. White Redbud, Japanese Dogwood, Bradford Pear and Washington Hawthorne are also being sold and pictures are on display in chain grocery stores. Cards are available for Christmas giving.

Register at High School

The area Selective Service office in Ann Arbor registered 401 men during the month of October, according to Harold Cross, office manager.

The breakdown by Counties was: Lenawee 76; Monroe 144 and Washtenaw 191. Total number of men registered at age 18 for this year is 3906. This figure reflects an increase of 727 for the same period in 1972 and an increase of 942 for the 1973 period.

"Young men age 18 may now register by mail for the draft instead of reporting to the Ann Arbor area office. Mail-in registration forms include instructions. It can be completed at home, then folded and mailed. It is preaddressed and needs no postage," Cross stated.

"Mailers" can be obtained from colorful poster displays located in the Tecumseh Post Office, High School and Police Department.

Students can register with Mrs. Irene Jacobs at the Tecumseh High School.

"Federal law still requires the registration of young men at age 18 even though inductions have ceased. Willful failure to register is a violation of the law and could result in prosecution by the U.S. Department of Justice," Cross added.

Admitted to MSU Honors College

Paula Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willian Holmes of 410 Seminole Drive, has been admitted to the Honors College fall term at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

A sophomore, she is a 1973 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Academically, Honors College students are in the top five percent of the student body. One hundred and seventeen students have been admitted in the fall term.

Honors College is designed to give superior undergraduates an opportunity to develop an academic program designed specifically to their own interests and goals.

To The Editor

To the Editor:

How about a lady mayor?

According to the city charter the mayor has no other rights or responsibilities than the other councilmen except to preside at Council meetings and ceremonial occasions. The office was designed to be passed around and not held by one person continuously.

Only the seven councilmen have the right to vote for the mayor and then by secret ballot and without discussion.

How about it, gentlemen of the Council, have you liberated women enough to elect one mayor?

Anyone who agrees with me might contact the members of Council.

LCFWC Holds Fall Meeting

Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger of Tecumseh, president of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs, presided at the opening session of the Federation's fall meeting, held Nov. 6 in Hudson.

Welcome was extended by Mrs. Donald R. Smith, president of the Hudson's Women's Club and the response was given by Mrs. Donald F. Smith of Tecumseh, junior past president of the Federation.

Committee appointed by Mrs. Ruettinger to study and revise the Constitution includes Mrs. Cecile Smith, chairman, and Mrs. Naomi Sallows, both of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Walter Prill of Britton, delegate to the Southeast District Convention held in Troy Oct. 15, also participated in the program.

Recipient of last year's scholarship to Interlochen Della Ford, 12, a student at Clinton Middle School, played several trombone selections, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George Ford.

Among local club presidents honored at the meeting were Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, Britton and Mrs. Merle Cross, Macon.

Harvest Ball Is Success

The Nov. 9 Harvest Ball at St. Elizabeth's parish was a success, reports chairwoman Frances Spreeman. Ninety couples danced to music by by the Week-N-Ders in the autumn decorated hall.

Winner of the raffle was Monty O'Neil of Jackson.

David Radant surprised his wife Mary with a large birthday cake and members of the family were present to sing felicitous birthday, making the celebration memorable.

A thank you is extended to all who helped make the event a success and especially to the donors of door prizes.

Tecumsehites can mark calendars for March 15 and the annual St. Patrick's Day dance, which the parish also sponsors.

Workshop Held by Garden Club

November meeting of the Town and Country Garden Club featured a dried arrangement workshop conducted by Mrs. Gary Fox. After listening to Mrs. Fox explain the uses of various materials and watching a demonstration, members created their own arrangements.

Members also participated in a vase exchange.

Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Dennis Bowman with Mrs. Fred Birdsall serving as co-hostess. Mrs. Robert Marvar provided an arrangement for the refreshment table which portrayed the theme "A Time To Be Thankful."

December meeting will be a Christmas dinner at the Hathaway House, Members will participate in a plant exchange.

Other members of the Reader's Theatre class who will participate are Russ Swank, Steve Church, Susan Bee, Itha Gabriel, Kathy Hodgkiss, Gretchen Hartman, Thelma Hollenbeck, Carol Szalkowski and Debbie Wittman. Sister Trudy McSorley and the Rev. John Keefer are participating also.

Escape Blaze

MACON—An incident that could have proved tragic occurred on Clinton-Macon Road, east of Boysville, Thursday, Nov. 7.

Flames shot up from under a car driven by Mrs. Charles G. Wheeler, 12089 Britton Hwy., when the vehicle struck a hole in the as yet unrepaired road. It was not determined if the car's gas line, where the fire originated, had been previously broken.

Mrs. Wheeler and her son, a passenger, immediately got out of the car upon seeing the flames. Rick Ruhl, Clinton-Macon Road resident, and Bob Bush and his son, Larry, who were working in a nearby field at the time, tried with little success to bring the blaze under control with two home fire extinguishers.

Mrs. Harold Ruhl meanwhile called the Clinton Fire Department, and two trucks responded shortly after the State Police arrived. The fire, which had nearly consumed the Wheeler car by that time, was quickly extinguished.

OES First Meeting

At the first regular meeting of the Tecumseh OES Nov. 7 Judy Street was installed as chaplin and Clara Hicks as Ruth. Installing officers was Mrs. Harry Beland and Installing Marshall, Stanley Miller.

Mrs. Arlene Hunt of Canbridge Chapter No. 131, guest organist, and Mary Lou Moore, secretary of the Lenawee-Monroe Assocation were introduced and welcomed.

Members and officers were reminded to submit their recipes to Pam Flanders.

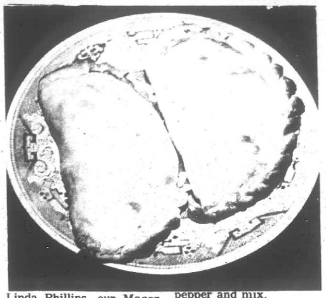
Obligation night was observed by members and officers.

Refreshments were served in the dining room featuring a cake with a horn of plenty and the Worthy Matrons motto, "For the Beauty of the Earth."

School of Instruction will be held with Clinton Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. with a potluck supper preceding the meeting.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln



Linda Phillips, our Macon editor, popped into The Herald office Monday morning bearing a plate of pasties (admittedly by prior arrangements). The fragrant aroma of fresh pastry, beef, carrots, potatoes, and onions drove us all wild, waving forks madly until pictures had been taken and we could all dig in for a taste.

Pasties are Cornish in origin and are a familiar sight in the Upper Peninsula, where coal miners used to carry them into the mines for lunch.

This recipe was handed down to Linda from Angie Phillips, her mother-in-law, who first taught her to make them eight years ago. Mrs. Phillips Sr. puts a bit of suet in each of her pasties to give them a little more flavor and juice, which local pasty-makers might try.

Linda adds that many people substitute rutabagas in place of carrots in the filling, another option you might like to try. Pasties are traditionally served with ketchup.

Be sure to grease baking tins before baking pasties as juices escape from the filling and can create a sticky mess that will burn onto the pan.

PASTRY FOR PASTIES

6 cups flour
1 pound pure lard (do not substitute)
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup warm water

Mix flour, salt and lard with hands until crumbly in texture. Add the water and continue with hands to mix and shape into a large ball. Any pastry that is left over makes delicious pies or will freeze well.

FILLING FOR PASTIES

2 to 2½ pounds of lean stew beef
8-10 large carrots
8-10 large potatoes
3 large onions
salt and pepper

Dice all ingredients into a large bowl. Add salt and pepper and mix.

FORMING THE PASTIES

On a floured cloth, roll out a portion of the pastry into about a 10-inch circle. Place about a cup of filling (a little more or less depending on circle size) in the center of the circle.

Carefully flip the pastry over to form a half-moon shape. Cut the excess pastry from the half-moon shape with a knife.

Press with fingers the edges of the pastry together forming a seal. The edge can also be turned up and sealed which better prevents juices from escaping during baking.

Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. If frozen, bake at 375 degrees for almost an hour. Crust should be nicely browned.

This recipe will make 12 pasties. Put in individual freezer bags and freeze the extra ones for "quickie" future meals. One good-sized pasty will serve each person accompanied by a salad.

Metrics? Ask Mrs. Prettyman for Answer

There is a growing movement across the United States to relegate some four letter words and Ruth Prettyman, business education teacher at Tecumseh High School is becoming a much sought speaker for the cause.

Words that may become used less are those of our customary measurement system i.e. inch, yard, mile, acre, foot, etc., when the United States finally catches up with the rest of the world and joins the metric system.

Metrication will mean a lot or retraining. Foreseeing the need for educational materials, Mrs. Prettyman accepted the challenge, authored a teaching unit on the metric system and implemented the unit in her office practice class. She has been asked to address conferences in consumer education and career preparation about teaching metrication.

Representing Tecumseh High School, she addressed the Michigan Consumer Education Conference in Ann Arbor Nov. 7.

Mrs. Prettyman wrote the unit while attending a unique interdisciplinary consumer education workshop at Eastern Michigan University. She received her masters in business education there this summer.

"I knew nothing about all of this when I began," Prettyman admitted. "My objective was to get my students to think metric so that when they hear the metric measurement, they can automatically envision what that abstract term means in distance, weight or volume." She wants her students to know how to type metric and make sure the work they type for their employers makes sense.

She explains that the metric system is much simpler than our present system since it takes advantage of our decimal number system by relating multiples of units by powers of 10. For example, the meter, which is the basic unit of length in metrics, is divided by 100 and 1,000 to get centimeters and millimeters respectively and multiplied by 1,000 to get kilometers.

With metric units, computation may require no more than adding zeros or moving a decimal point.

System is also simpler because there are only seven basic units in the metric system known as the International System of Units, SI. Mrs. Prettyman uses object lessons to illustrate the terms used most often:

Meter — the unit of length, a little longer than a yard

Gram — the unit of weight about the weight of a paper clip.

Liter — unit for capacity, a little larger than a quart.

By learning the few prefixes, milli-, centi, and kilo-, the system is not quite so hard to crack.

Mrs. Prettyman says that learning the conversion factors will take time, but she believes that most people will absorb the new system through osmosis.

For example, today there are a host of consumer items that are already described or sold in metric terms. Next time you shop notice medicine, drugs, food products, etc.

Transportation departments are being metricated in some states — Ohio and Michigan already have erected some highway signs showing distances in miles and kilometers.

Mrs. Prettyman presented a detailed media presentation and discussion to the Michigan Business Educators Association Regional Fall Conference Oct. 19 at EMU.

Nov. 16 she will speak at a workshop at Wayne State University Professional Association for Career Education (PACE) about implementing the metric system.

At least 13 states have either passed or have pending legislation to require the teaching of the metric system in public schools.

In 1965 when the United Kingdom announced it would adopt the metric system, the United States was virtually left alone except for a few small developing countries.

In 1968 Congress passed the Metric Study Act and released a study in 1971 that concluded that the United States should change to the metric system through a coordinated national program within 10 years, to make this country predominantly though not exclusively, metric.

Several bills were recommended before the 93rd Congress, but all were defeated. But similar legislation is expected to be approved eventually.

Most important reason for converting to metrics lies in the national economy. Supporters say that it will do more for the nation's foreign exports and balance of trade. The 1971 "Metric America" report estimated that U. S. marketers would be exporting $600 million more in goods in 1975 if they had gone metric in 1970.

Another big reason for the conversion is that America will gain greater acceptance in the foreign markets. If the United States wants to be in the market, we need to go metric, say the proponents of metrication.

Opposition has come from some labor unions and small business spokesmen who object to the expense for retraining personnel, replacing tools and redesigning manfacturing equipment. Costs of a 10 year change over are estimated at $10 to $60 billion.

However some feel confident that financial impact will be eased by the length of conversion and offset by using the simpler system and by sales gains in both domestic and foreign markets. A national institute has been established to fill the need for coordinating metric activities.

Indians End Big Season

By FRANK WEIR

With the Adrian victory, the Tecumseh Indians have reached the end of a long — but rewarding — football season. Their final season record stands at 8-1 with a league record of 7-0. And seven members of the squad were recently named to the All League team by Huron League head coaches. One other received honorable mention.

The fight for the championship crown was not an easy one however. the Indians' success depended on week-to-week improvement. No one realizes this more than head coach Pat Connors. "Our offense really matured over the season. At the start, we had problems scoring against a mediocre Chelsea team. And, at the end, we scored twice on Adrian.

"The offense centered around Mike Duhan (who led the team with 12 TD's) and Kent Jacoby along with the blocking and running of Bill Warner and Jim Egbert. Dave Spillman did a good job of throwing the ball to Mike Connors and Ken Biscupski when it was needed."

Connors goes on to praise quarterback Spillman, "I'm very proud of his progress, he had a great year for us. He's not the best passer in the league, nor is he the best runner. But he's as valuable a quarterback in the league, bar none. I don't think Dave has received the recognition he's deserved all season. He's one of the most underated players in the league."

The offensive line made up of Ken Biscupski, John Kruse, Bob Chatters, Tom Schwartz, Jim Shough, John Burns and Mike Connors, under the direction of line coach Bob Ondrovik, also received Connors' praise. "They did a great job all year in opening holes and protecting the passer."

Enough can't be said of the tough Tecumseh defensive unit. One need only remember the Flat Rock game to realize its importance to the Indians' success. It pulled out a victory that night grabbing the only score of the game on a Rams' fumble and bottling up Flat Rock's passing attack.

Connors says, "Our swarming, gang-tackle defense caused our opponents more problems than any defense we've ever had." The unit was led by linebackers Bob Webb, Mike Connors, Ed Clark and John Burns. Also contributing to the unit's success were deepbacks Kent Jacoby, Mike Duhan, Doug Bunch, Jim Egbert and George Harvey.

Connors can only speak in glowing terms about Harvey. "George Harvey did a great job all year on defense. And he came in and sparked the offense on several occasions. In two ball games he led in rushing."

Other defensive standouts were Bob Chatters and Bill Smith. Connors calls Ric Ruttkofsky and Don Heistand "two of the finest tackles in the league at the end of the season." Jim Halasz also contributed to the success of the defense.

As reported last week, many of these outstanding players are seniors. As a result, "next year's team will have to develop like this bunch did," Connors states.

He concludes, "That means we'll have a longer way to go . . . but it's much more fun that way."

Girls Win Again

Tecumseh's girl cagers won yet another game last week to boost their season record to 12-10. They defeated Airport by a tally of 83-11. In league play, the Indian's stand 6-0.

Top three scorers for Tecumseh were Julie Anderson 21, Julie Murphy 10, and Janice Stevens 8.

The JVs also took their game 34-12 posting an 11-1 season record. Their only loss was to Adrian a week ago. High scorers were Grace Burns with 12 and Tori Iffland with 10.

The varsity squad will enter district competition on Nov. 21 at Columbia Central. After district, they may go on to the regionals, semi-finals, quarter-finals and the state tournament on Dec. 14.

THS Grad Leads Team

Cumberland College senior Craig Smith of Tecumseh, led the Cumberland College golf team to second place in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference fall season. The college is located in Williamsburg, Kentucky.

CRAIG SMITH

Craig, who has received all-conference honors twice and was individual runner-up in the KIAC last year, managed a 74.5 average in conference competition this year.

During the summer he finished twelfth in the Kentucky State Open. The Cumberland team completed the season with a 9-3 record. Three losses came at the hands of the new conference champion, Campbellsville.

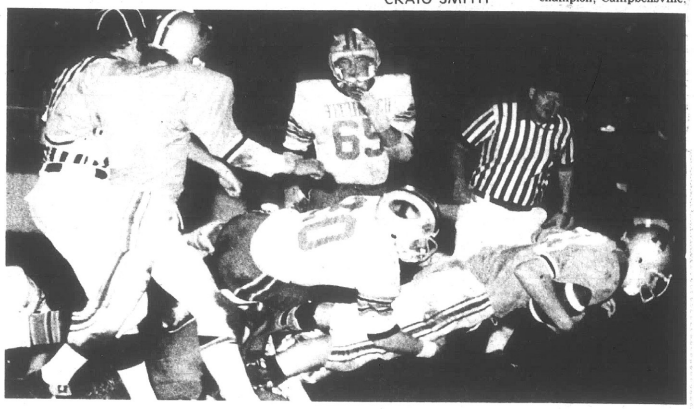
Teams Start Play

The Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Departments Youth Hockey teams opened their 1974-75 hockey season this past weekend. In the first of three games played, the Tomahawk Bantams skated to their first win by defeating Reebs of Sylvania 6 to 5. Goals for the Tomahawks were made by Bobby Simpson (2), Randy Vance (1), Dave Perry (1), Al Mennick (1) and Steve Gibbs (1). Tim Kirby, Steve Ahrens and Chris Condon assisted on the goals. The Tomahawks Bantams are 1973-74 defending champions.

In the second game played the Tomahawks Pee Wees were shut out 2-0 by Sylvania.

In the third and final game, the Tomahawk first hat trick of the season when he put three goals in the nets.

Other Tomahawk goals were made by Mike Foley (1), Alex Williamson (1) and Danny Esch (1). The Tomahawk Mites are also '73-'74 defending champs. All Tomahawk games are played at Tam-O-Shanter Sports Center in Sylvania.



CATCHING BIG GAME — Tecumseh's Jim Egbert (20) tackles an Adrian runner during last Friday's match held at Maple Stadium. Ed Clark (65) comes in to assist. The Indian defense was at its best allowing the Maples only two yards total rushing for the evening. Tecumseh took it 13-6 making it win number 7 in the 17-year rivalry. (Photo by Mike Sunderland)

9 Tories Honored

BRITTON—The 1974 Tri-County Conference All-League team was selected by the coaches Monday night at Summerfield High School.

Britton-Macon, the Tri-County champions, placed nine young men at the select list with seven receiving first team honors and two receiving honorable mention.

Madison, St. Thomas and Summerfield each placed eight men on the first team and honorable mention list, and Deerfield and Whitmore Lake placed four and three respectively. There were six unanimous choices including four Tories.

The unanimous selections were Mike Servoss, Doug Armstrong, Craig Wagenschutz and Alan Reau from Britton, Kevin O'Connor from Adrian Madison and Toby Noland from Whitmore Lake.

Doug Shiels, Dale Tiede and Dan Exelby from Britton were first team selections also, and Jeff Brown and Mike Saxton received honorable mention.

Connors Speaks to Rotary Club

Pat Connors, football coach at Tecumseh High School, and two of the team's tri-captains, Bob Webb and Kent Jacoby were honored guests at the Nov. 12 Rotary meeting. Team's third tri-captain, John Burns, was unable to attend.

Coach Connors addressed some remarks to the group and attributed the Indians' successful season to discipline, team effort and community support

NATIONAL RETARDED CHILDREN'S MONTH

HOMEOWNERS CORNER

by Vic Clauda

Many people think when their furnace fan runs all the time that they are wasting electricity and their motor will burn out. The majority of fan motors are of the constant duty type. When the fan runs all the time, you will have a more even temperature throughout the house. The utility companies claim it costs no more to run the fan continuous than it does to turn on and off because of the power surge when starting.

To be sure you are adequately prepared for winter weather, let us at CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, 1108 W. Chicago Blvd., 423-3121 check your heating system. An efficiently operating system saves fuel and money. Should you require service we do duct work for forced air heating systems, custom fabrication of sheet etal fittings and sell and install Lennox gas furnaces. Hours: 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. daily, until 9 p.m. Fri., until 5 p.m. Saturdays.

HELPFUL HINT: Flush out water heater once a month to get scale off bottom of heater.

TEAM WORK—Officers installed Nov. 9 for the new community 4-H club, Tipton Team Workers, are l, standing, Toby Karpo, sergeant-at-arms, Kay Curtis, treasurer, Jill Kempf, secretary; l, seated, Karen Curtis, vice-president, and Pat Karpo, president.

Tipton Forms New Group

TIPTON — In a move to give pre-teens greater attention with their projects, families of the Tipton-Onsted area have united to form a new Tipton community 4-H club called the Tipton Team Workers which installed officers Nov. 9.

Since the Onsted 4-H group was so large, several parents and students wanted to make the club smaller and more community or family oriented. After consulting with county 4-H assistants the group decided to initially limit their membership to 20 families. Presently there are 14 families in the club with 29 4-H members.

The name for the group, which is suggestive of what the students and parents hope the club will become, originated with member Ann Fry and was voted upon by the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Karpo, Wyman Road in Tipton are community leaders. "Parents who have attended all our organizational meetings look like they are going to be good helpers; we are pleased by the attendance of the parents," said Mrs. Karpo. Leaders for the 4-H projects are volunteers. They are not necessarily parents of 4-H members, although the club encourages parents to become active in some aspect of club leadership.

Mrs. Karpo went on to explain that most of the members are pre-teens and the reason the parents became interested in the new club was that they wanted to give the younger children as much attention as teens.

Officers installed are Pat Karpo, president,; Karen Curtis, vice-president; Kay Curtis, treasurer; Jill Kempf, secretary; Toby Karpo, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kozar, senior members of 4-H Council officiated.

Monthly meetings of the group will be held the second Saturday of the month at the Karpo home. Next meeting is Dec. 14. A potluck dinner and gift exchange is planned.

At the business meeting, the members were entertained by a game to get better acquainted with families and 4-Hers. Prizes were awarded to Dorman Pawson, John Fry and Marci Earl. Refreshments were served by Barbara Curtis and Jill Pawson.

Project leaders for 1975 are: Mrs. Mildred Balliet, foods and canning, Mrs. Janet Fry, food nutrition and assistant teen leader; Vern Fry, electrical sciences; John Fry, woodworking; Fred Karpo, beef and crop-soil sciences; Janice Karpo, teenleader; Pat Karpo, teenleader for cake decorating and flower arranging; Barbara Kasik, leather craft; Robert Kempf, softball; Vonnie Kempf, food-nutrition; Sharleen Lewis, personal appearance, knitting and vegetable garden; Florence Oswold, ceramics; Jill Pawson, poultry, Dorman Pawson, swine; Russell Rieve, sheep; Sally Rieve, flower arranging; Cheryl Snead, cake decorating; David Stowe, leather craft; Linda Walker, personal appearance, sewing; Mike Wolf, horse and pony.

DAT Tests To Be Given

Tecumseh High School Guidance Department is administering the Differential Aptitude Test (DAT) to 10th grade students the week of Nov. 11.

DAT is a battery of eight different tests which attempt to measure the capacity of the student for many different kinds of functions.

Verbal Reasoning, Numerical Ability and Abstract Reasoning tests measure those functions which are associated with general intelligence such as understanding word concepts, numerical relationships, and the ability to perceive relationships in abstract figure patterns.

Space Relations and Mechanical Reasoning tests relate to the student's ability to visualize concrete objects and to recognize everyday physical forces and principles.

Clerical Speed and Accuracy and the Language Usage: Spelling and Grammar tests represent a group of skills necessary for various levels of office work.

Results of the test are used by the counselor along with any other information available to help the student in vocational exploration and programs of study. Each student receives his test results from his guidance counselor. The student and counselor in conference discuss the meaning of the test results and a profile of his performance is given to the student.

Students are encouraged to take the test results home and to use them as an aid in vocational planning.

Parents having questions about the test or the results should call or visit the High School Guidance Office.

County-wide Follow-up on 1974 Graduates

The county-wide follow-up of 1974 high school graduates is presently underway.

This survey, which is part of a statewide follow-up of 113,000 Michigan graduates of the class of '74, is being conducted in order to plan better educational programs for present high school students.

The survey asks what the graduate is doing—whether he is employed, in post-secondary training, or occupied otherwise.

Each Lenawee County high school is surveying its own graduates, with the exception of those who were involved in programs at the Vo-Tec Center, which examines more extensively the occupation satisfaction of its graduates.

All persons who have not returned the follow-up questionnaires they received are asked to do so as soon as possible. Families of '74 graduates now living out of the area are asked to assist by completing and returning the questionnaires.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Quigley of 606 W. Pottawatamie St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Julia Lynn, to Jeffrey Alan Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Barry of Raisin Center Hwy., Adrian. Miss Quigley is a senior at Tecumseh High School. Mr. Barry graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1973, attends Siena Heights College and is employed at the Lenawee Institute. A June 21, 1975 wedding at the Tecumseh Methodist Church is planned.

Moves to Supervisor

Marvin Grigg of Onsted moved into the Cambridge Township supervisor's post after the Nov. 5 election. The Republican, who lived in Tecumseh for 13 years, was uncontested in the race.

Grigg assumes the post after the retirement of Dale Metty from his term Nov. 20.

Grigg, 27, will assume the duty of property tax assessor and is now attending a Property Valuation class at Jackson Community College and expects to apply for a state assessors license in April.

Supervisor-elect Grigg is credit manager at Faraday Inc. in Tecumseh and has lived in Cambridge Township for the past 15 years. He was full-time manager of Prehistoric Forest and Mystery Hill from 1968-73, and received his BA in Business Administration from Eastern Michigan University in 1970.

Grigg and his wife, Coralynn, have three children, Merry, 5, Matthew, 3 and Heather, 4 months old. Grigg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Grigg of Killarney Hwy.

Financial Workshop

A financial aid workshop to help parents of prospective college students with the many forms required to get such aid will be held Nov. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the Adrian High School cafeteria.

The Parents' Confidential Statement, which confuses so many, will be dealt with extensively.

Sponsored by Adrian Rotary, the workshop will be co-directed by the financial aid officers of two colleges, Mrs. Esther Brehmer and Sister Irene Morence. Both aid officers emphasize that the workshop is intended to help students reach any college of their choice.

Church Holds Homecoming

Tecumseh United Methodist Church will hold a Harvest Homecoming Thanksgiving Observance Sunday, Nov. 17.

Congregation will be bringing canned goods to be placed in a special box during the service. The Chancel and Junior choirs will sing special anthems and Mrs. Gene Cooley's modern dancers will perform three special dances during the service.

A red rose will be on the church altar in honor of Rick Lee Martinus, newborn son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Martinus.

Council Rejects Plan for Mobile Home Park

Council denied the request of Appolo Land Development Co. Monday night for a re-zoning which would permit construction of a 44-acre mobile home park in the west section of Tecumseh.

The vote was 4-2 against the re-zoning with Mayor Harold Easton, Dr. Carlton Cook, Aden Mead, and Ray Puffer deciding against the change. Councilmen James Palmer and Steve Kruger voted for the re-zoning. Councilman Wallace Whiting was absent.

A portion of the land development, located just east of N. Occidental Rd. and north of W. Chicago Blvd., was re-zoned to single family and multiple family. This area lies east of Evans Creek and adjacent to Seminole Dr. and Brown St.

Before the vote came on the mobile home park, councilmen aired their reasons for support, or non-support, for the motion relative to re-zoning for a mobile home park.

Palmer cited the city's ordinance which provides for mobile park district in the city. He said that he believed that a well managed mobile park can be developed in the city of Tecumseh, referring to the Green Meadows proposal, and that it could be supervised by ordinance, building inspector and "controlling arms" of city.

Kruger said that he has seen "no conclusion to satisfy me 100 percent that this request should be denied."

However, he listed several reasons why he thought the park should be approved, including projected increases in area population by county planning agency, work of Tecumseh's Planning Commission in giving adequate protection to surrounding property through its requests of the developer, and his own belief that the proposed park would provide decent, safe and sanitary housing in various price ranges.

"I think the issue is whether or not to rezone, not whether or not to approve this type of dwelling. Our ordinance already provides for this district."

Councilman Ray Puffer said, "I don't think we have to expand. People have said that they like our town the way it is."

Councilman Aden Mead said, "If we accept this proposal it has to be on the basis of a pretty good case of need."

He said, "Mobile homes as yet don't pay their own way."

He estimated that the 40-acre site would bring some $9,000 more in tax revenue as a single family development rather than mobile home district.

"Do we have a right to consider it from an aesthetic point of view; I believe we do," he said. "Too many homes looking like oblong boxes . . . are a parasite to take advantage of the residential charactor of the city."

Tecumseh's Planning Commission had studied the Appolo Land Development project for nearly two years and voted this past summer in favor of it. The Commission's recommendation to re-zone first went before the Council in September.

A public hearing was scheduled earlier this month, and most residents attending the hearing voiced objections to the mobile home park. Some of these folks were at Monday night's session.

On Nov. 12, James M. Schenden, attorney for Green Meadows, sent a letter to all councilmen prior to Monday night's Council meeting. The letter reviewed developments, proceedings with Planning Commission, city zoning ordinance, and other related matters.

The letter also cited the possibility of court action. This paragraph of the letter read:

In the event the city does not adopt the plan and a Circuit Court suit becomes necessary, the Court will undoubtedly support the position of Green Meadows. In fact, many of the items that have been voluntarily done to accommodate the city may be abandoned in the event a suit is necessary.

NEW RESTAURANT TO REPLACE HARVEY'S GRILL

Plan New, Bigger Restaurant

Harvey's Grill will close at the end of the day Sunday, but that doesn't mean the end of the restaurant business for Harvey and Doris Carpenter. They're building a new and bigger restaurant.

Within the next week, construction is scheduled to begin on their new restaurant, one which will be located at the site of the present grill. It will extend 20 feet more to the east, towards Tecumseh Plywood, and six feet more towards W. Chicago Blvd.

The new restaurant will have over 1,300 square feet and a seating capacity of over 75 in an elevated dining room. There will be 17 booths plus counter space for patrons.

It was nearly 20 years ago that the Carpenters purchased the present restaurant from Red Mack. During that time they've added a motel - original unit was built in 1965 - and added 10 motel rooms in 1967 and 10 again in 1974 for a 41-unit motel.

In 1972 they built a cocktail lounge at the front of the motel. When their new restaurant is completed, probably in March, cocktails will be available with dinners.

The exterior of the new restaurant will be basically stone and rough paneling with a monsard roof. Patrons will enter at the ground level into a foyer before taking steps into the dining room.

NEGOTIATIONS FAIL, NONE SCHEDULED

Strike Closes Products

Nearly 3,000 employees at Tecumseh Products Company went on strike last Thursday at midnight, marking the second time in the company's 40-year history that the local plant has been struck.

Last minute negotiations failed to halt the strike, a probability which developed the week before when union membership overwhelmingly approved a strike vote. Negotiations to avoid the strike ended at 1:30 Friday morning.

Company negotiator Edward Rapin says "we made a very good offer and requested the union board take it to the membership for ratification."

Although no negotiation sessions are currently scheduled, Rapin said the company "would meet with the union at anytime." In 1968 a strike lasted six weeks.

Wednesday morning, the union issued the following release:

The present strike at Tecumseh Products is not over the Company's failure to meet our bargaining demands. Instead, it is over the Company's continuing failure to bargain in good faith.

On November 15, 1974, the Union filed a "Refusal to Bargain In Good Faith" unfair labor practice charge with the National Labor Relations Board in an effort to force the Company to return to the bargaining table and, this time, bargain with a sincere desire to reach an equitable agreement.

A strike is the last thing the Union wanted. Indeed, shortly before the strike deadline we proposed that the Contract be extended for an additional seven (7) days to enable us to continue bargaining without a strike. We did this because we know that a strike, especially now, affects not only all our members and the Company, but a great number of people in the surrounding communities, as well, whose lives and businesses are greatly affected by employment conditions at Tecumseh Products.

A seven day extension, with the possibility of an additional extension if the Company was bargaining in good faith and if we were close to an agreement at the end of that time, would have cost the Company nothing.

However, the Company flatly rejected that offer, and by its actions thereafter, left the Union no alternative but to strike in support of its unfair labor practice charge.

The people in the surrounding communities should be as outraged at the Company's action as we are. We wish to assure them that the Union is doing everything in its power to negotiate a contract and end the strike. To that end, we are presently seeking the assistance of a Federal Mediator in an effort to get the Company back to the bargaining table.

Dr. Adams Is New Director

Dr. William Adams, local dentist for the past 12 years, is a new director of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh. He was nominated at the November meeting of the board.

The 50-year-old dentist brings the board to full strength, announces J.W. "Pat" Meadows, chief executive officer and chairman of the board.

DR. WILLIAM ADAMS

Dr. Adams has been active in the community since arriving here in 1962. He served five years on the Planning Commission and three years on Council. Besides holding memberships in numerous dental associations, he is a member and elder of the Presbyterian Church, and belongs to the Tecumseh Country Club.

He received a bachelor of science degree from Michigan State University in 1950, a masters degree from Western Michigan University in 1957, and D.D.S. from the University of Michigan in 1962. He taught in the U-M dental school for three years.

Dr. Adams and his wife, Eloise, live at 501 Nokomis. They have three children, Becky, a senior at Tecumseh High School, and two sons, Tom and Jeff, in college.

Taking Cars Out of City?

Monday night city councilman Ray Puffer and a few residents questioned the controls on officers who are said to be leaving the city limits with patrol cars.

Chief Ray Walton said that if citizens suspect a city police car outside the limits, the vehicle color and time of day should be reported to the department.

Mr. Walton issued a general order to all Tecumseh police department officers on Sept. 26 that "no officer is to leave the City limits without prior notification to the desk by person or radio." All absences from the city are to be logged.

Article XLV, No. 3, Performance of Duty in the rules and regulations of city police states the same.

Walton said that two officers have been dealt with for their absence from the city.

Market Is Burglarized

One breaking and entering was reported to police along with other complaints this week. Tecumseh Country Market at 2998 Russell Road, was hit sometime around 3 a.m. Nov. 16.

Perpetrator gained entrance by kicking the door open and breaking the frame. Groceries were taken.

Several packets of lunch meat, two gallons of milk and some beer were found gone by police.

Plans Taxi

Council postponed Monday evening a taxi cab service application of Carson and Carmen Murphy until the Dec. 2 meeting.

Petitions Filed To Remove Signs

Two separate petitions to remove no parking signs from Wenonah St., and Center Court in the Herrick Park subdivision were tabled Monday night until the next meeting of City Council, Dec. 2.

Council asked the city manager to post signs at the last Council meeting out of concern for property protection, easy access for emergency vehicles and regular traffic.

Signs on Wenonah have been up for two weeks.

Mayor Harold Easton told the aggravated residents present that if they wanted the signs taken down, he supports removal.

However, Council felt that it needed time to study the matter before signs were removed.

Wenonah Street petition was signed by a majority of the residents on the short block. Center Court petition was signed by 100 percent of residents according to a spokesman for the group.

Some residents felt that safety of children and families would be better insured if city posted and enforced speed limits instead. Council replied that unless otherwise posted, it is state law that residential speed limits are 25.

Report Is Not Good

Tecumseh Community Fund needs a last minute push if it is to reach its 1974-75 goal.

Barbara Blanden, chairman, and Mary Bowers, vice-chairman, have announced that Friday, Nov. 22, marks the last day for the current fund drive.

To date, the schools division has collected $3,454; residential, $1,576; public employees, $499; and special gifts, $9,550.

Contributions from the industrial, professional and commercial divisions have not been fully tabulated, but figures indicate that the professional and commercial divisions are substantially lagging behind previous totals and the current goal.

OPEN BRANCH — United Savings Bank's new West Chicago Branch was officially opened Monday with a brief ribbon cutting ceremony. Participants were Earl Mason, left, senior vice president and new branch manager, and J.W. "Pat" Meadows, chief executive officer and chairman of board. Attending the opening were, from the left, Kenneth McElroy, bank president, John Burch, Sue Durkee, Nina Wright, vice-president, and Merlyn Downing, executive vice-president.

MAYOR IS FIRST CUSTOMER — Mayor Easton is the first customer for local members of the Campfire Girls as they start their annual county-wide candy sale. Campfire girls and the younger Blue Birds will be selling the candy door-to-door until Dec. 4. Proceeds will be put into the camp fund of the Tuckabatchee Council of Lenawee County. Each group has the opportunity to earn a certificate for selling over 100 boxes. Selling the candy to Mayor Easton are Campfire Girls left to right, Suzanne Rupert 9, Becky Connin 9, Kathie LeVeck 9, and Blue Birds Tanya Mohr 6, Beth Covell 7 and Lisa Evans 8. JOHN TURK

Services were held Monday for John Turk, 88, of 111 Marion St., Clinton, who died at 1:05 p.m. Nov. 15 in Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been admitted Oct. 27.

Born Jan. 12, 1886 in Ottawa Lake, he came to Clinton in 1914. He owned and operated the Turk Barber Shop in Clinton until he retired five years ago. Mr. Turk practiced this profession for more than 70 years.

He married Matilda Hammond in 1908 and she preceded him in death in 1932. Mr. Turk then married Ella M. Conrad on Nov. 22, 1938. She died Jan. 30, 1967.

He was a member of St. Dominic Catholic Church in Clinton, and was active in the Clinton Chamber of Commerce many years ago.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Donald (Dorothy) Tisdale of Anaheim, Calif.; one son, Leroy J. (Buster) Turk of Tecumseh; one grandson, Richard Merriam of Clinton, with whom Mr. Turk had lived for the last seven years; and two great granddaughters.

He was preceded in death by his parents, his wives, one sister and four brothers.

Services were held in St. Dominic Catholic Church, Clinton, with the Rev. James Lee officiating. A Rosary was recited from the Proctor Funeral Home in Clinton Sunday evening.

Burial was in St. Dominic Catholic Cemetery.

FLOYD TATE

Funeral services were Friday at Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton, for Floyd Tate, 71, of 203 E. Church St., who died Nov. 13 at Herrick Hospital where he had been a patient since Nov. 8. He suffered a heart attack April 18 and had been hospitalized periodically since.

A former village president, Tate had also served his community in many other civic positions over the years.

He was a member of the Village Council 18 years, chairman of the light plant committee, president pro-tem for several years, and was a member of the Clinton Cemetery Association board.

He was the son of Roy and Minnie Tate, born in Clinton, Feb. 3, 1903.

He married Laura Welsh on May 29, 1924. She survives.

Formerly an employee of Clinton Woolen Mills and the Tecumseh Products, he became an interior decorator in 1946 and continued in this work until he became ill last spring.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a brother, John Tate of Wamplers Lake.

He was preceded in death by his parents, four brothers and a nephew.

The Rev. Russell Cooper officiated. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

Accidents

Four automobile accidents were reported to police in the last week with two charges made, no injuries.

Nov. 14 - Lawrence Ernest Drewyer, 72, of 206 N. Union hit Doris Ruth Vanvalkenburg, 51, 108 S. Van-Buren, in the rear of her vehicle on N. Union at W. Chicago Blvd. Drewyer was charged with failure to stop within a clear distance.

Nov. 16 - Linda Crutchfield of Britton backed into the right rear of a vehicle driven by Delora Anderson, 308 E. Pottawatamie St., when backing from a parking space in the city lot rear of Gambles. There was no charge.

Nov. 19 - William Douglas Perry, 28, 209 N. Maumee was charged with disregard of a red traffic light. He was heading south on N. Maumee and said he did not see the light. Second car, driven by Gregory Allen Wahl, 19, of Monroe, was driving west on Chicago Blvd. and veered left to avoid an accident.

Dennis Golden Palmer, 59, 6201 Green Hwy., hit the parked vehicle of Stella Marie Wagner, 57, of Britton, in the front of 1352 W. Chicago Blvd. Palmer said that the accelerator of his car was stuck. There was no charge.

Reports Given

Among the reports given at Monday night's School Board meeting was one given by the Board's building and grounds committee, concerning its continuing investigation of plans for the proposed new high school.

Supt. Robert Duhan, told of a recent meeting with the Warren Holmes Co. and reported that more specific blueprints are being drawn. Cost estimates are also being developed.

The committee plans to visit Ypsilanti High School, which was designed by the Holmes Co.

Accepts Bid

City Council reconsidered a bid submitted by Tecumseh Equipment Co. and then accepted a bid from Schneider Chevrolet-Buick, Inc., for two trucks.

Tecumseh Equipment Co. recommended to the city 17,000 lb. axle, which would add $300 to each bid of $8,442 for a dump truck and $8,397 for a flat bed.

Company also expects a 10 percent increase in the 1975 price and forcast a July delivery.

Schneider's bid, $9,668 for chassis and dump, and $9,623 for flat truck, and a four-month delivery was a firm bid accepted by council.

Bids Rejected

Seven bids received by the city for a Community Center addition were all rejected by Council Monday night since three bidders did not meet requirements for bid bond.

Barn Destroyed

A fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed a 36-foot by 70-foot barn at 5803 Milwaukee Road in Tecumseh last Thursday morning.

The property was owned by Bob Hosler and Donna Cleveland of Dearborn. Gerald House was renting the barn at the time.

The Tecumseh Fire Department responded to the call at 1:08 a.m. and returned to the fire barn at 5:45 a.m. Fire departments from Clinton and Raisin Township assisted in putting out the blaze.

Second Reading

Council had the second reading of an ordinance whereby the City of Tecumseh is to be local enforcing agency to implement Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Act 347 of Public Acts 1972.

Ordinance controls excavations to prevent erosion of rivers in the state. It covers any property in excess of one acre.

Questionnaire Report Heard

School Board heard a report from Supt. Robert Duhan on a state aid questionnaire from the Governor's office at Monday night's meeting.

Distributed prior to the Nov. 5 election, the questionnaire carried two proposals for the guarantee of state aid per mills. Duhan, terming the questionnaire carried two proposals for the guarantee of state aid per mills. Duhan, terming the questionnaire "political," reported that the Governor intends to support whichever proposal draws the most favor by state School Boards.

Board Adopts Reimbursement

School Board, at its November meeting Monday night, adopted a reimbursement method of paying for unemployment benefits to the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

An act passed by the last session of the Michigan Legislature requires state school systems to adopt either a direct taxation or a reimbursement system of payment to unemployment benefits, effective Jan. 1, 1975.

Board concurred that for Tecumseh the reimbursement method would be more practical since employee layoffs in the school system are unusual, and reimbursement would apply only as applicable, on a per layoff basis.

OPEN LETTER

Dear friends,

Too many friends are convinced that a bereaved family is beyond any comfort that their presence at the visitation or funeral service could bring. This is a tragic error. The value of your presence, a sympathetic glance, a few words, a handshake or a kiss, all help immeasurably to lift a bit of burden from the bereaved.

Respectfully,

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

You won't find Me-Ma Meatloaf in the cookbook - at least not under that name! Mrs. Paul Hover of 8372 Clinton-Macon Road., Macon, is the cook who holds both the recipe and the clue to its unusual name.

Me-Ma Meatloaf receives its name from Mrs. Hover's mother-in-law, Mrs. Helen Hover of Findlay, Ohio, who in turn received the nickname when her first granddaughter could not pronounce "Grandma."

At home in Macon, Mrs. Hover serves the dish to her husband Paul and their two daughters, Sherry, 15, and Vicki, 7. Their eldest daughter, Roxie, is married and lives in Columbus, Ohio.

This inexpensive dish is enjoyed in the Hover home along with baked potatoes and sour cream, green beans and mushroom soup. It also heads the menu when the Hovers hold family reunions.

Mrs. Hover notes that this is the only meat loaf recipe that her family will eat cold in sandwiches. For mothers constantly in search of new and tempting lunchbox stuffers, Me-Ma Meatloaf might satisfy hungry sandwich fiends.

ME-MA MEATLOAF

Soak one cup bread crumbs in ½ cup milk.
1 lb. ground beef
1 tsp. sage
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. minced onion (optional)

Mix well and place in a casserole dish for baking.

TOPPING

¼ cup ketchup
½ cup brown sugar
½ tsp. dried mustard
¼ tsp. nutmeg
3 bay leaves

Mix the first four ingredients together and pour over meatloaf. Lay the bay leaves on top.

Bake at 350 degrees for one hour and remove the bay leaves before serving. Serves 4-6, depending on size of portions.

If you multiply the meat recipe for more servings, don't increase the topping recipe.

Senior Play This Weekend

By Renee Lapham and Jeff Young

This year's Senior Play will be presented on Nov. 21, 22 and 23 at 8 p.m. in the Glass Room at the Community Center.

"Auntie Mame" portrays an eccentric aunt (Auntie Mame) trying to raise her nephew, Patrick, in her world of parties, theatrical friends, and carefree living.

A change in his education, takes Patrick to another school by his trustee. Unusual circumstances bring him back to his Auntie Mame, and what follows promises to be a very funny and well-performed play.

Under the direction of Nancy Kinnard, English teacher, and Jan Feight, student director, is a 30 member cast. "Auntie Mame" is portrayed by Tammy Chrzan. Bobby Snyder and Scott Kampmueller play Patrick during different stages in his life. Debi Wisner is Vera, Auntie Mame's dearest friend.

Also in the play, which is set from 1928 to 1946, are Denise Osburn, Bobbi Rupert, Don Rapin, Darrell Bozeman, John Keller, Dana Dunbar, Tim Prettyman, Russel Church, Mary Schneider, Terese Desmet, Kim Underwood, Randy Stein, Jim Manley, Nancy Poppe, Marsha Bale, Jim Shough, Diane Laslo, and Kathi Koszka

Sesquicentennial Final Report

City Council received a final report Monday night from the executive committee of the Tecumseh Area Sesquicentennial, Inc., but city manager, Cal Zorn, said that the city and the committee's figures did not exactly agree.

Zorn said that bills and deposits still come in occasionally. He said that $10,000 has been placed in a time certificate, $2,500 remains in a checking account and $3,000 is still owed to the city.

Executive committee reports a gross income of $89,083, less expenses of $81,798 or a net cash profit of $7,284. Further, unspecified income received by the city is $1,821, said the report, for a total cash profit of $8,847.

In addition, souvenirs, books, etc. which were not sold during the celebration but which were returned to the city, total $6,018 retail value, or for a total profit of $14,865, according to the report.

Teresa Royal, Paul Pinter Wed

White mums and baby carnations bedecked the altar of St. Peter's Episcopal Church for the wedding of Teresa Ann Royal and Paul Stephen Pinter Nov. 10. The Rev. David Fox officiated at the nuptials, with Karen Keller, organist and John Frye, soloist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Royal of 203 N. Democrat St. Groom is the son of Mrs. Andrew Pinter of 6444 Rd. and the late Mr. Pinter.

Bride approached the altar on the arm of her father in an ivory gown of satin and hand crocheted lace, with fitted lace sleeves and cathedral train. She wore a fingertip mantilla lace veil, and carried a bouquet of baby's breath, bird of paradise, stephanotis, brazilian wood roses and German statice.

Mrs. Cortland Hunt of Somerset Center was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Santos Lopez of Ridgeway, and Sherri Royal of Tecumseh, sisters of the bride. Matron of honor wore a chiffon gown with embroidered empire bodice in dusty brown, and carried a bouquet of bird of paradise, tangerine carnations, orange star flowers and German statice. Bridesmaids wore similar gowns in dusty pink and carried the same bouquets.

Jennifer and Dawn Royal were flower girls, and were escorted down the aisle by Joe Royal and Robby Pinter.

Best man was Robert Wilbar of Beloit, Wisconsin, brother-in-law of the groom. Dennis Pinter of Tecumseh, brother of the groom, and Paul Royal of Tecumseh, brother of the bride, were ushers.

White aisle carpet was rolled by Todd and Jeff Pinter, sons of the groom.

Ceremony was followed by a dinner for 300 guests in the United Products Workers Union Hall with music by the Week-N-Ders. Cindy Foust and Betty Pinter, sisters of the groom, assisted at the reception. Hosts were Jim Kish and Becky Ries.

Special guests were Bob and Judy Wilbar and family of Beloit, Wisconsin.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's mother in her home before the wedding.

Bride is a 1971 graduate of Tecumseh High School. Groom attended Tecumseh High School and is the owner of the House of Pizza in Tecumseh.

After a wedding trip to Penn Hills in the Pocono Mts. of Pennsylvania and a deer hunting trip in northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 9954 Matthews Hwy.

Extension Study Club Holds Meeting

Northeast Study Club of the Cooperative Extension Service sponsored by the Michigan State University will meet in the home of Mrs. Clifford Southard, 8444 Milwaukee Rd., Nov. 26 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Charles I. Cox, chairman, will preside over the meeting. A report of the Old Fashioned Christmas Bazaar will be given.

Mrs. Ellsworth Robison and Mrs. Frederick Helms will present the program, "Coping With Stress" and the roll call will be "What Are We Thankful For?"

Parsonage Remodeled

The Tecumseh Evangelical Friends Church Parsonage at 9480 Tecumseh Clinton Road has been completely remodeled and a new associate pastor's home is now 409 W. Brown.

An open house was held at both places from 3-5:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 17, 1974 and about 100 guests visited each building. Refreshments were served at the regular parsonage home of the Rev. and Mrs. Dane A. Ruff. The Rev. and Mrs. Brooks Martin and family live at the new associate pastor's home.

Parsonage was remodeled extensively, both inside and out. A guest bedroom and bath, family room and remodeled full bath, kitchen and new dining room with new carpeting, painting, plumbing, electrical wiring and insulation and outdoor siding were part of the remodeling.

Diana Baugh Marries Keith Mattis

Diana Lynn Baugh and Keith Leroy Mattis exchanged wedding vows Nov. 16 in the First Baptist Church of Tecumseh, with the Rev. Dr. B.O. Bashore officiating. Mrs. William Flanders was organist.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Baugh of 2067 E. Monroe Road. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Merland Mattis of 14905 Wamplers Lake Rd., Brooklyn.

On the arm of her father the bride approached the altar wearing a white velvet gown with square neckline, full sleeves and self train. White lace and pale orange ribbon trimmed the empire waist, sleeves, and hem. A Juliet cap covered with the same lace and ribbon fastened a three-tiered cathedral length veil of illusion. Opal earrings, a gift of her parents, and a nosegay of white and brown straw flowers accented with multicolored ribbons, completed her ensemble.

Bride chose her sister, Mrs. Kathy Anderson of Tecumseh, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Robin Barrett of Hudson, Barbara Schwartz of Adrian, and Bev Shambarger of Blissfield. Attendants all wore sheer flowered skirts over pale yellow satin underskirts with brown velvet bodices and long sleeves. Bows of the same floral fabric with blusher veils of pale orange maline formed their headpieces. They carried small baskets of brown, orange, gold and yellow strawflowers with multicolored velvet ribbons.

Flowergirl was Jennifer Rider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rider of Adrian. Her outfit was like that of the other attendants, without the veil.

Tim Garrison of Detroit was best man. Ushers were John Baugh of Tecumseh, brother of the bride, Duane Gaddy of Adrian, cousin of the groom, and Stacey Anderson of Tecumseh, brother-in-law of the bride.

Reception following the wedding was held in the United Products Workers Union Hall, with music by the Week-N-Ders. Assisting at the reception were Kathy Garza, Cindy Gippert, Debbie Bates, and Denise Kash. Special guest was the bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. Florence Ferris.

Rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the Big Boy Restaurant.

Bride is a 1972 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at the Commercial Savings Bank in Adrian. Groom is a 1972 graduate of Brooklyn High School and is employed by the Tecumseh Public Schools.

After a two week wedding trip in Wyoming, the couple will reside at S. Union St.

MRS. KEITH LEROY MATTIS

Pamela Felton and James Wells Marry

Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church was the setting for the Nov. 8 wedding of Pamela Felton and James Wells, with the Rev. Kenneth Strack officiating. Nuptial music was provided by Allan Ballenberger, organist, Fred Carmean, guitarist, and Sue Jenkins, soloist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James Felton of 114 Burt St. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wells of 617 E. Butler St., Adrian.

On the arm of her father, the bride approached the altar wearing a white taffeta over organza gown. Sheer lace with seed pearls trimmed the high neckline and front panel of the gown, fashioned the sleeves and formed her headpiece. Her long three tiered veil was edged with the same lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses, gysophila, accented with Brazilian wood roses and gold velvet tubing.

Mrs. Richard Clewis of Tecumseh was matron of honor for her sister, and Pat Kish of Ridgeway was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy Hamilton of Tecumseh, Vickie Felton of Tecumseh, sister of the bride, and Robin Wells of Adrian, sister of the groom.

Attendants all wore brown taffeta gowns with overskirts of gold in a fall floral design, and carried hurricane candles of multicolored straw flowers and orange star flowers accented with wood roses and gold velvet.

Flowergirl was Jami Lynn Clewis of Tecumseh, niece of the bride. Her gown was styled like that of the bride with yellow and white lace trimming the front. A band of matching lace formed her hair ribbon and she carried a basket of fall flowers.

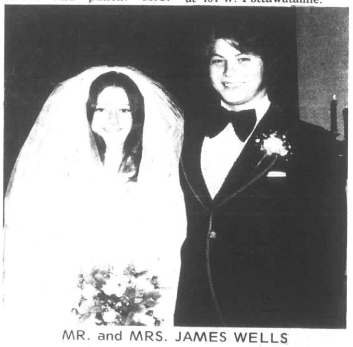
Robin Peevers of Detroit was best man. Ushers were Richard Clewis of Tecumseh, brother-in-law of the bride, John and Edward Wells of Adrian, brothers of the broom, and Duane Perry of Ridgeway, cousin of the groom.

A buffet dinner for 350 guests was held in the Peerless Gear Union Hall after the ceremony. Barb Hamilton and Beccy Horry attended the gifts and guestbook, and Susie Tietsema and Steff Henson poured coffee and punch. Mrs. William Horry and Cindy Wilson cut the wedding cake. Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hebb and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wells.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the groom at Don's Beef Buffet.

Bride is employed as a secretary at the Register of Deeds office in the Lenawee County Courthouse. Groom is employed by G&M Underground Contractors of Detroit.

After a wedding trip to Toronto, the couple will reside at 404 W. Pottawatamie.



MR. and MRS. JAMES WELLS

4-H Topnotchers Hold Workshop

Christmas tree ornament workshop will be the highlight of the Monday, Nov. 25 meeting of the 4-H Topnotchers at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

Several ideas for new and recyclable ornaments will be discussed along with tips on creating designs.

Members are asked to supply own materials for two ornaments. One ornament requires a three-inch diameter styrofoam ball, five lengths of gay ribbon or decorative bias, about six inches long, and a length for a hanger, enough bits of bright cotton fabric to cover ball and straight pins.

Second ornament requires an old glass ornament, miscellaneous seed pearls, tiny beads, glitter, sequins, lace scraps or bits of paper doily, details cut out from Christmas cards.

If you have dry skin, it may help to use a moisturizer every morning on your face and neck, before you apply your makeup. If your face is not quite so dry, you may find that washing it at night with cold cream, soap, and water all at once, will be all that you need. Cold cream your face thoroughly, then wash off the cold cream with a warm, soapy washcloth, and rinse well. Be sure to rinse very carefully. Use a clean washcloth for rinsing off the soap, because the other one will still contain soap.

Here is a Garbo technique for making eyelashes look thicker. First, apply the eye creme to the upper lid just above the roots of the lashes. Now use an eyebrow crayon and work it well in between the lashes with short up-down strokes. It takes practice, but it is much subtler than mascara. With a clean finger, clean the eyelid leaving the pencilling only to the roots of the lashes. Then use an eyelash curler for another upward line.

Goals Discussed

Goals of co-op classes and requirements for Vo-Tec students were discussed by county principals, counselors and instructors and Vo-Tec instructors at Vo-Tec Nov. 12.

Ten Tecumseh High School educators attended the dinner which was the first of its kind to acquaint instructors of participating Lenawee schools with Vo-Tec objectives, facilities and answer questions.

Goal of the meeting was to foster better communications between the Vo-Tec teachers and those participating or co-op schools in the program.

Presently there are 18 Tecumseh High School seniors participating in the co-op classes which involves on the job experience in a variety of occupations.

There are three basic requirements for co-op students, 1) a declared occupational goal, 2) background preparation and 3) a related class in their home school. These requirements must be met in order to comply with regulations set by the Michigan Department of Education.

Guests from Tecumseh were David Ruff, industrial arts, Jack Whelan, economics, John Pobuda, counselor, Dermont Poley, principal, Tom Munci, counselor, Ruth Prettyman, business education, Jeanne Callihan, and home economics, Leva Brown and Frank Graham, business education.

Attending from Clinton were Howard Oesterling, principal and Dolph Diamond, counselor.

Foundation's 15-Years Is Tops - 'thanks to you'

By LIBBY LINCOLN

Imagine a Tecumseh without a well-stocked and well-appointed library . . . without a park and swimming facility . . . without tennis courts . . . without adequate lighting and other features at local ball fields.

Oldtimers might say that Tecumseh existed quite nicely for many years without these "luxuries," but its probably safe to say that most city residents would admit, Tecumseh without these features wouldn't be as nice a place to live.

Imagine Tecumseh without a library or Tecumseh Park, and you've imagined what it would be like in Tecumseh if there were no Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Yet, the Foundation has come a long way since it was organized May 14, 1959. From the original budget of $20,295, the Fund this year has set its sights on raising a drive total of $76,316.

Each year the goal has been raised slightly and more and more has been collected, with final counts usually topping the initial goals.

In addition to making capital improvements a reality, the Fund also makes substantial contributions to a range of local county and state charities and non-profit agencies such as the Scouts and the United Way of Michigan.

Dissatisfied with the manner in which Tecumseh United Funds were going to serve most of the county and very little to Tecumseh, members of the then-board of trustees of the Tecumseh Community Fund in 1959 proposed incorporation as a separate tax-exempt foundation.

By-laws for the Foundation were adopted July 31, 1959 with the final grant of tax-exemption status granted in 1961. Mrs. Truman Rentschler is the only remaining member of the original board of trustees still serving in that capacity.

Reigning presidents over the years have included Vern Manwaring, 1959-1965, Merlyn Downing, 1965-1967, Robert L. French, 1967-1968, Douglas E. Dunn, 1969-71, Dr. George Burkhard, 1971-73, and current president, Earl Mason, who began his term in 1974.

While the board of trustees and the board's officers form the structure of the foundation, it is the drive chairman, or co-chairmen, who is responsible for the lifeblood of the Community Fund Foundation—the annual fund drive.

Drive chairmen have included Don Murphy, 1959; James McKenna, 1960; McKenna and Virgil Tucker, 1961; Kenneth Conway, 1962-64; Joe Fortunato and Dr. Robert Laidlaw, 1965; Carl Lamb and Bob Sage, 1966; Lamb and Stuart Costigan, 1967; Dwight (Dike) Helms and Mrs. William M. Steele, Jr., 1968; Merlyn Downing, 1969; Ken McElroy and Robert Duhan, 1970; Charles Trickey, Jr. and Mary Bowers, 1971; Trickey and J. Gilbert Purse, 1972; Purse and Barbara Blanden, 1973; and this year's chairman and vice-chairman, Barbara Blanden and Mary Bowers.

Campaign goals have gone up and up and up, although the inaugural campaign drive in 1959 raised a total hard to top — approximately $82,000. The 1965 drive topped its goal of $45,203 by nearly 20 percent, raising $53,275.

While the 1968 drive fell short of its expected goal of $58,724, the following year's campaign soared over the goal of $59,831. Last year's Community Fund drive topped its goal of $74,326 by over six thousand dollars.

The new public library was the first capital improvement project to be accomplished through the impetus and funds of the Community Fund Foundation.

First plans for the library originated in 1960. At that time site plans and a cost study were executed.

The following year a site was chosen for the project, blueprints were finalized and the final contract signed for $169,802.

The City of Tecumseh witnessed the dedication and opening of the library on Oct. 7, 1962. Final costs for the facility amounted to $212,363.

Following the realization of the library, plans began for the purchase and improvements of the Pit. Pit acreage was finally approved for purchase in 1964, at a cost of $35,000, with improvements at the site estimated at that time to cost an additional $86,000.

"The Pit" was more elegantly renamed Tecumseh Park in 1967, and the new facilities building was dedicated in the Park July 6, 1968.

In 1969 the Foundation announced as its capital improvement project the construction of two magic courts for tennis and volleyball at the Park, at an estimated cost of $12,000. The courts were dedicated and opened June 22, 1971.

Other Foundation monies have been allocated in previous years for lighting on the football field, contributing to the construction of the Scout Cabin addition, and an underground sprinkling system at Tecumseh Park.

In the past year a grant has been directed to the Recreation Department for the improvement of ball fields on Russell Road and at Tecumseh Acres School. These improvement include new and substantial backstops, player benches, and bench guards.

While capital improvements have been the most visible achievements of the Community Fund Foundation, they represent only a fraction of the total funds expended by the Foundation.

Thousands of dollars are allocated each year for the American Red Cross, Family and Children's Services of Lenawee County, Catholic Social Services of Lenawee County, Salvation Army, the Scouts and many others. These agencies serve the health, recreation and general welfare of local citizens.

Community Fund Foundation is currently active in its 16th annual drive. Contributions from the industrial, commercial, professional, residential, schools, and public employee division of the community, coupled with special gifts, will provide for another, fully active year by the Foundation, both in the area of agency allocations and in the capital fund division.

It should be noted that the Foundation is one of the few in the country that exists independently of the United Fund to focus its contributions on local needs and still contribute to both state and county charitable organizations.

It has existed for 15 years solely through the cooperation and civic spirit of Tecumseh residents and has made substantial investments, both tangible and intangible, to the health and welfare of all in Tecumseh.

ASSISTING YOUTH—Shown discussing the Volunteers-in-Probation manual with Lenawee County Probate Judge Kenneth B. Glaser, Jr. are volunteers, Della Beevers of Tecumseh and Anna Jackson of Manitou Beach. A required training session was held recently at Maurice Spear Campus to explain Juvenile Court proceedures. Volunteers discussed their responsibilities with the Juvenile Division staff. Volunteers provide a one-to-one relationship for a young person in trouble.

Garden Club Welcomes 4 Members

Mrs. Harry Jobes, president of the Tecumseh Garden Club, held the monthly meeting Nov. 15, in her home overlooking Red Mill Pond.

Mrs. Robert Frye co-hosted. Thanksgiving theme was carried out by serving a pumpkin pie dessert. Roll call was My Thankful Thought. During the business meeting, four new members were welcomed, Mrs. Paul Hohenstein, Mrs. Allan Gray, Mrs. Edward Macbeth and Mrs. Joseph Weigle.

Mrs. Michael Havener, Tecumseh librarian, reviewed Edwin Way Teale's latest book, "A Naturalist Buys An Old Farm."

Eighteen members and two guests, Mrs. Havener and Mrs. Cecil Eby, were present.

Shoe Swap Saturday

Have your children outgrown their shoes? Why not come to the Old Mother Hubbard's Shoe Swap and get them another pair?

On Saturday, Nov. 23, the Tecumseh United Methodist Church will sponsor this event from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Shoes to fit infants through sixth grade will be available free of charge, if you have shoes to trade in for another pair, bring them along, but shoes will be available with or without trading. Boots will also be available.

The fascinating window

It wasn't much as stained glass windows go. But for me it held a strange fascination.

I guess it was the letters that puzzled me. The first was obviously "A". The second was trying to be "Q" or possibly "O" but didn't quite make it. And if the book portrayed were the Bible—why not put something on its pages that made sense?

It was Grandma who explained it simply. The New Testament was originally written in Greek. In the Greek alphabet, Alpha, like our letter "A," was the first letter, Omega the last. For centuries Christians have treasured these two letters as a symbol of God who said in Scripture:

"I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending . . ."

That sums up why the Bible, revealing to men God's truth, is the first and last word in daily reading.

Indians Topic at Meeting

BRITTON—November meeting of United Methodist Women of Grace Church met Thursday evening at the church with 17 members and three guests present.

Mrs. Paul Frazier presented the program on "The American Indian." She opened with a poem "Thanksgiving" by Helen Steiner Rice. Excerpts from the book "Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee" by Dee Brown were given by Mrs. Clay Croll as Geronamo, Mrs. Ed Bailey as Big Eagle, Mrs. Julian Strong as Sitting Bull and Mrs. Raymond Bird as White Thunder. Program ended with a film strip "The Plight of the American Indian", and an Indian Prayer to The Great White Spirit.

During the business meeting for the Ann Arbor District Jan. 29, 1:30 p.m. at Grace Church was announced.

Mrs. Richard Linn thanked everyone for helping make the annual bazaar a success. Five hundred dollars was voted to the church treasury.

Mrs. Paul Frazier and Mrs. Paul Bailey volunteered to shop for a tank type vacuum for the church.

Sixty nine sick calls were reported. A great well card was signed for Mrs. Faye Hindes who has recently returned from St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor after surgery.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served by Mrs. Robert Porter and Mrs. Russell Scott at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Faye Hindes and Mrs. Howard Haas, Jr. will host the Dec. 5 meeting at the church and Mrs. Allen Bower will present the program.

Band Boosters Elect Officers

As an independent agent we answer to one boss—our hometown people

We represent several firms, but we work for only one boss—you. That way we can always place you with a company which we think is best for each line of insurance you need. Naturally, we prefer companies like Auto-Owners who look at a loss and take care of it right away, without haggling or delays. That's one of the reasons we're part of the Altogether Family. Like us, they're always there when you need them.

Fellowship to Meet Week Early

CLINTON—Women's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ will meet a week early this month, on Thursday Nov. 21 at 8 p.m.

A Fellowship board meeting at 7 p.m. will necessitate the half-hour later starting time.

Mrs. Donald Corwin, world mission chairman, will present the program, which is making articles for the patients at the Evangelical Nursing Home at Saline, during the meeting.

Members are asked to bring hand-sized terry towels, and bias tape for bibs, and blankets or large terry towels for lap robes.

Mary Martha Class will serve refreshments.

Church Lounge Is Class Project

CLINTON—Conversion of the Kirker room to a church lounge was a project considered by members of the Priscilla Class of United Church of Christ, at a meeting, Thursday.

Appointed to a committee to consider the possibilities of such a conversion, were Mrs. Edgar Randall, Mrs. Donald Thomas and Mrs. Arthur Searle.

Mrs. Searle hosted the meeting attended by 11 members.

Mrs. Clayton Strolle presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Martin Hoelzer gave the devotions.

The evening's diversion was a swap shop conducted by Mrs. Harold Kiebler, which netted $34.55.

Next meeting will be held Dec. 12, with a dinner at the Clintonian Inn at 6 p.m. After dinner, members will go to the home of Mrs. Strolle for a $2 gift exchange and social evening.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips

423-5213

This writer's heart was in the country a long time before the rest of her got here, and the transition from city slicker to rural refugee, if indeed there was one to be made, has been nutured by the warm and friendly people of Macon.

The history surrounding the village combined with the natural beauty, charm and serenity of the area truly make the community unique. Perhaps this is better appreciated or more clearly seen through the eyes of a newcomer.

This bit of poetry written by Ken Goldmann of Tecumseh better speaks your correspondent's feelings for Macon.

Shangri-la, not quite but, if this day would somehow be my last
To walk and breathe and feel the sand and touch the softness of a flower
I would not weep for sights not seen and places missed for here I choose to be and in choosing found what many seek but rarely find

Judee Williamson's latest endeavors in miniature antique reproductions are being displayed this week in Tecumseh and Macon, and the craftsmanship, imagination and patience involved in their creation is extremely impressive.

An old-fashioned general store complete with tiny bolts of cloth, thimble-sized watering cans and the smallest sausages you've ever seen may be viewed through the window of Jean Colgrove Gifts.

Being exhibited at Macon Grocery is a "keeping room," which in days of old served as the family's favorite gathering place—comparable to today's family rooms.

Judee has just received the good news that she will be doing a one-woman show in the Fisher Theatre Building in Detroit sometime in January. Needless to say, we in Macon are very proud.

Club Continues Center Support

MACON—It was voted by the 11 members present at the meeting of Macon Women's Club Nov. 14, to continue to help support Girlstown, Maurice Spear Youth Center, the Indian Fund and a music camp.

Other business included the appointment of Mrs. Arthur Hill, Mrs. Mills Swick and Mrs. Harold Ross to the nominations committee and a report given by Mrs. Merl Cross, president, on the County Federation meeting meeting held last week in Hudson. Mrs. Cross also spoke about Reciprocity Day held with members of the Saline Women's Club in October.

Mrs. Carl Bausman of Tecumseh and Mrs. Truman Jordan of Macon attended as guests. Mrs. Jordan presented a program on Alaska and accompanied her talk with pictures she took there on her 34-day tour last summer.

Mrs. Peter Golema was hostess for the luncheon, with Mrs. Claire Gillespie and Mrs. Arthur Hill assisting. Mrs. Cross opened the meeting with a poem to the flag, and Mrs. Swick read Psalm 122 for devotions.

Members were informed that they may bring a guest to the Christmas breakfast Dec. 12, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Bigelow. They were also reminded to bring wrapped gifts for State Hospital patients and a pan of sweet rolls for the breakfast.

Supervisors, Consultants For School

Supt. Robert Duhan reported briefly at the School board meeting Monday night of the consideration of employing a firm as Unemployment Tax and Benefit Claim Supervisors and Consultants for the Tecumseh Schools.

No action was taken by the board.

Clinton-Macon Road residents and Tecumseh High School seniors, were selected by the coaches of the Huron League as the best players at their positions over all players in the league. Mike, offensive end and defensive lineman, was also chosen for the all-county team, and Bob, defensive lineman, was given honorable mention. Congratulations fellas!

AN EXCITING ANNOUNCEMENT

You should see our house -- no, on second thought no one should see it. My room, the living room, the dining el, and the hall look like first class disaster areas. It is hard to believe that any semblance of order can ever come out of such utter chaos. It will though. At least we hope it will. And to be quite truthful none of us would want the house to look one bit different at this particular time. You see, the Duncans are packing!

It all happened quite fast and we are still a bit dizzy. But, if all goes according to plan, Saturday, Nov. 23 we will be pointing the white wagon's nose south. South for a whole winter in Florida!

However, before the last bag is stowed away and we pull out of the drive there is so much to do, so many things to think about, so much to remember, and so many decisions to make that it is almost mind boggling.

To pack and plan for a vacation is one thing but we are finding that to do it for a whole season is something entirely different and we are finding that suitcases are not as big as they used to be, they don't begin to hold what they did. Boxes of books are heavy too. As for trying to think of everything that should be thought of -- well, we are all discovering that minds which go round and round in circles are not a bit conducive to good sleeping.

In fact, who sleeps? All night long thoughts are churning and no doubt departure day will find us hollow-eyed and haggard looking.

In addition to not sleeping, tension always hits me in the stomach. Theoretically, missed meals or greatly reduced portions should do something about weight. It doesn't seem to work though. But when matters get too thick and the nerves just so frayed I retreat into a book or a magazine.

Reading is such a blessing, it can block out. Often during these past few weeks my mind and stomach have had all the thinking and excitement they can take. Facts, figures, and astounding statistics were abundant in an article about African animals. May I share with you?

Did you know that the average giraffe's tongue is a licking 16 inches long? (Or do you care?) Eighteen feet high, which is, of course, as tall or taller than a two story house, this animal must eat over 300 pounds of acacia leaves each week to keep itself going. (No nervous tummies in the giraffe world.) Weightwise all those acacia leaves add up and the giraffe tops the scales at about one and one-half tons. (No comment.)

Now I have heard of light sleepers (please don't ask where) but this is rather ridiculous. My informative article stated that a giraffe sleeps only a few minutes at a time. (So what else is new?) And it is estimated that each night their total sleep time adds up to few winks more than 20 minutes. (Even I do better than this.)

Forget the parenthesized remarks, Marda, and settle down. This long legged and long necked creature is extremely mobile. With a stride 15 feet long it can obtain a speed of 40 miles an hour and maintain it for up to three hours.

Anatomically the giraffe is most unique. It seems incredible but according to the article, this animal's heart is two feet long, has three inch thick walls and weighs about 25 pounds. (If I had not outlawed little asides, I could say that this is what is called having a lot of heart.)

At birth a baby giraffe is slightly over five feet tall and he grows fast. Fast such as half an inch an hour. One calf who measured five feet two inches at birth was checked a day later and topped the measuring stick at six feet three inches.

But now there are Florida thoughts and plans coming to mind. Lots to be done. Please, for any of you who are down our way, please know that the welcome mat is always out, the front door wide-open and, hopefully, a glass of orange juice will be handy too.

So it is that for the next few weeks these articles will still be Tecumsehish but after that they shall be coming from:

Who Will Supply World Needs?

By Maxine Calhoun

As a farmer's wife, it seems to me that the agriculture industry of the world is being given a singular honor by the world's politicians—that of filling the needs of the world's starving people. Farmers in all lands are being asked to produce more food for less return because the need is so great.

Now would be a good time for other industries to share this dubious honor with agriculture.

At present there is a great surplus of automobiles on dealers' lots all over America. Rather than cutting back production, automobile manufacturing should be speeded up. Of course, returns to workers would have to be reduced so cars could cost less, and the 'surplus' gas guzzlers could be sent to camel-riding nomads in a desert somewhere. If they can't use them all, I'm sure there are some folks without even a camel, who could use one of Detroit's finest.

Now, if Volkswagen workers could be persuaded to go along with this idea, it might be possible to supply some of the world's bicycle riders, who would like to "step up to a Buick."

With a little imagination we might be even more helpful to the world's needy, if air conditioning workers would just agree to work for less money. Then we could put cheap air conditioners in places too hot for someone.

There's no end to the fuzzy ideas like this that world leaders (?) can think up.

It was only a few years ago that this nation's farmers were growing so much wheat at $1 or $2 a bushel that it had to be piled up on the streets of Midwest towns to rot in the weather, poured into old Liberty ships docked in West coast harbors, piled in mile-long rows of government bins, or even burned up to get rid of it.

While farmers were producing food dirt cheap, the politicians decided it was better politics to keep voting consumers happy with low food prices, even if it forced farmers to cut production to disastrously low levels. Meanwhile world food needs grew tremendously. How welcome a Russian grain sale would have been then.

How much better it would have been, after World War II, if food prices had not been artificially protected by politically inspired subsidies and instead were permitted to reach their true value in the market place. Consumers wouldn't be so shocked by higher prices now.

The latest fad promoted now would have us all stop eating meat some days each week so that more grain can be sent to the needy countries of the world. Sent by whom?

All the non-cropland in America, which is presently used for range feeding of our nation's beef herds, provides millions of pounds of meat before it even reaches the cattle feeder who begins to feed grain to a beef animal only after the calf has reached 400-500 lbs. Even then, much of a beef animal's fattening ration consists of corn stalks, not edible for any other purpose. If these range lands were not producing beef what else are they good for?

Then too, one can't help wondering if all those who stop eating meat will be willing to give the equivalent sum of money to the world food commission.

Apparently farmers in other lands are in a similar situation.

Only this past week a TV newscast presented a sequence of film showing the starving families in the hovels of Argentine, then switched to show farmers there dumping their crops of apples to rot, for lack of a market.

John Chancellor's comment that "Argentine farmers apparently are more concerned about the price they receive for their production, than about the hungry people who need the food," left me unmoved. Why criticize the farmers? All other workers throughout the world seek just wages for their labors, through whatever means they can.

Until that fact changes, how can the farmers be expected to carry the burden of the world's conscience in the face of a world food shortage?

Thanksgiving Union Service To Be Held

First Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh will host the annual Union Thanksgiving service Wednesday, Nov. 27 at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Edmond I. Watkins will be the host pastor.

Service is sponsored by the Tecumseh area Ministerial Association, with the Rev. Allan Gray, pastor of the United Methodist Church as president, and the Rev. Dane Ruff, pastor of the Evangelical Friends Church, secretary-treasurer.

Worship in music and song will be provided by St. Andrews Choir, under the co-direction of Marilyn Purse and Dr. Carlton Cook, and accompanied by Ardath Oberlin, organist. The choir will present the anthems, "Open Our Eyes" and "I Will Thank Thee O God."

Harry M. Stanifer, lay leader in the United Methodist Church, will be the liturgist. The Rev. Brooks Mahan, associate pastor of the Evangelical Friends Church, will read the New Testament scripture and offer prayer.

The Rev. David Fox, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, will preach the sermon, "Reflections of a Pilgrim."

Natalia Castillo, director of the Latin American Service Center, will bring the offertory message. The offering will be designated for the ministry of the center.

Club Hosts Herrick Holiday Ball

The holiday season for Herrick Hospital Auxiliary members and guests will begin Saturday, Dec. 7, with the annual Holiday Ball which will be held again this year at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Sponsored by the Auxiliary, the ball will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. with music by Louis Prang. A midnight breakfast will be served.

Sally Crause, general chairman, and Josephine Weigle, co-chairman, have organized the evening's events and decorations are being planned by Diane Stiman.

Invitations and reservation cards have been sent to auxiliary members, and guests may make reservations by contacting Mrs. Cyril Desmet, 212 E. Kilbuck, by November 30. Reservations are limited to 250 people.

Herrick Hospital Auxiliary has raised over twelve thousand dollars during the past year. Some of these monies have been spent for emergency heart equipment, wheel chairs, a reclining chair and electric bed for the nursing home.

All proceeds from the ball and other fund raising events are returned to the community for use in the hospital.

New Officers Elected for Hustlers

Kim Hartung was elected president of North Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club at a meeting Nov. 11 in the Community Center in Clinton.

Other officers elected are vice-president, Jeff Young; secretary, Donna Roehm; corresponding secretary, Janet Williams; treasurer, Randy Wright; Tecumseh reporter, Darlene Williams and Clinton reporter, Scott Adams.

Carl Aebersold presided and distributed 4-H certificates and pins to all members.

Lenawee County awards were given to Roger Roehm for beef; Janet Williams for agriculture and food preparation; and Fran Vincent for swine, entomology and leadership.

Herdsmanship awards were given to the club placed first in sheep, second in beef, first in swine. A first place and trophy was presented to the club for Pork Promotion by Lenawee County Pork Producers Association.

The Christmas party will be Dec. 14 at 6:30 p.m. at the Community Center. All adults are to bring a $1 gift for the grab bag. Each family is asked to bring table service, one main dish and a dessert or salad.

Christmas decorating committee includes Ruth and Fran Vincent, Amber Traves, Janet and Darlene Williams, Carl Aebersold, Jeff Young, Randy Wright, Ellen Wegner, Bob Winzeler, Kandi Bachman, Chris Penterics, Carolyn Hartung.

There will be a meeting for the new officers, teen leaders and project leaders at the Tom Adams home, Monday, Nov. 25 at 7 p.m.

Refreshments were served by the Young, Adams, Hartung and Penteric families.

LCAHB Elects Officers

Lenawee County Association of Home Builders members elected their 1975 slate of officers at their recent monthly meeting.

Officers to be installed in December include Vic Clauda and Dennis Fellows as local directors, Edward P. Day, a state and national director, and Steve Schultz as alternate. Schultz is the outgoing president of the Association.

No Postage No Mail

Postmaster Jack Metcalf reminds customers that effective Sunday, Nov. 17, the US Postal Service discontinues delivering mail on which there is no postage.

New policy was instituted because of the high costs being incurred by the Postal Service in its attempt to deliver such mail. Some officials have estimated that such costs total approximately $18 million annually.

After Nov. 17, letters mailed without postage will be returned to the sender if there is a return address, or to the dead letter office instead of being delivered to the address as postage due mail as done previously.

Postal officials will attempt to find the sender of the unpaid mail and return it for a slight fee, if there is no return address.

Customers who pay their bills—credit payments, utilities, etc.—by mail and fail to place postage on their bill payment envelopes will soon find themselves at odds with the new regulation.

The effect of this new rule is obvious. Bill payments mailed without postage will be delayed in some cases even lost and customers may be charged with non-payment of bill they thought they paid.

While the regulation is aimed at those who may deliberately omit postage, it could create problems for those who inadvertently fail to stamp their letters.

Perhaps those who intentionally neglect postage are rebelling against companies who use to supply preposted envelopes, but because of rising cost, no longer provide the courtesy.

In either case, mailers are urged to include a correct return address on their mail.

Catalytic Converter What is it?

The catalytic converter. What is it? What does it do? Is it a beneficial device for my new car?

These are just a few of the questions that will be answered in a new program designed by the General Motors Speakers Bureau to better acquaint the public on the subject of the catalytic converter, a device to reduce emissions on all 1975 GM cars.

Converter renders engine emissions into harmless water vapor and carbon dioxide (the gas that makes bubbles in soda pop). It helps to increase fuel economy and driveability as well as to reduce maintenance costs.

The General Motors Speakers Bureau of Tecumseh is made up of executives who will provide this and other timely talks on the auto industry. Speakers are available without charge for civic, service, fraternal or school organization meetings, church groups, women's clubs and other organizations.

In addition to the presentation on the catalytic converter, other GM Speakers Bureau subjects include traffic safety, urban transportation, minority relations and energy.

Jerry Becker at the Fisher Body Plant, Tecumseh can help arrange speakers by calling 423-7471.

Holloway Happenings

by Helen Smoll 263-9259

HOLLOWAY — The Kozy Korner Farm Bureau group invited the Friendly Neighbors Farm Bureau and other guests at a meeting, Saturday evening in the Fellowship room of the Raisin Presbyterian Church of Holloway.

Robert Kerr opened the meeting and Merle Kerr introduced the speaker, Norman Bless, who works in nine counties in Michigan, through the Extension Service. He is a resident of Lenawee County and showed slides on "Estate Planning".

It begins with you. These are some of the important issues; organizing, retirement, reduced income, if possible keep the farm or farms in the family, if property is transferred keep peace, prevent hardships, provide cash when needed, avoid loss, charitable acts, wills, gifts and insurance. Itemize your assets, review your planning every three to five years, if changes are made.

Program was held prior to a social hour followed by a dessert buffet.

One guest Fred Lindberg of Indianapolis, Ind., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lindberg.

STAND UP FILES. LIE DOWN FILES. GF HAS THEM FROM "A" TO "Z".

A file isn't a file is a file. The right file is as important as the filing itself. And GF makes them all. Stand-up files, for example, like the GF Super-filer.

That's the one with the swing front. It opens up even full files for easy retrieval. This single feature reduces the steps it takes to file from 8 down to 4.

GF has a brand new innovation in filing. The Quantum System.

Here is a group of lateral files that provides storage, divides work space, even becomes the "backbone" of a modern, functional "open office" environment.

For files, (stand up, lie down, desk, fireproof or any other type) file our address in your memory. Then retrieve it the very next time you "pull the file file."

Some common sense about cars.

Buying a new car now is a good investment. For you and for our economy.

Compared to earlier models, our new cars conserve valuable fuel. A breakthrough in emissions control gives better performance and more miles per gallon. New cars require less scheduled maintenance, so they cost less to operate. And with today's higher used car values, the amount needed to buy a new car is lower than most people think.

When you buy a new car, you help America's economy. Your purchase can contribute to growth for the nation. It can pay off in more jobs, more revenue for government, more strength for businesses—large and small. This helps everyone.

Right now is the time to buy a new car. It's a common-sense investment for you and for our country.

Memoriams

In loving memory of John C. LaGore who passed away November 22, 1972.
It broke our hearts to lose you, but you did not go alone.
For part of us went with you, the day God called you home.
As angels keep their watch up there. Please God just let him know
That we down here do not forget
We love and miss him so.
Sadly missed by his wife, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. 11-21c

In loving memory of Staff Sgt. David T. Brooks, killed in Vietnam Nov. 18, 1967.
We cannot bring the old days back when we were all together, but secret tears and loving thoughts will live with us forever.
Sadly missed by his family. 11-21c

Card of Thanks

Thank you one and all.
Mr. and Mrs. Archie Spohr. 11-21p

Tho we may never bring back the hours
Of Splendor in the Grass
Or glory in the flowers
We will grieve not, but find
Strength in what remains behind.
Thanks so much to all those special people who helped us go forward during the death of our loved family member. Thanks so much.

Indian Cagers Open Season

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh's basketball team takes to the boards next Tuesday night as they square off against Ann Arbor Huron to open their season. Last year the Indians shared the league title with Airport, posting a final season record of 15-7.

Five-year Tecumseh coaching veteran, Ron Spagnoli, is again at the helm and he's "cautiously optimistic" in predicting his team's 1974-75 fortunes. "We are well-balanced, good sized and we should have adequate ball handling and rebounding. But consistent shooting is the worst part of our game."

Spagnoli is also concerned that most of the other league teams will be gunning for Tecumseh. Last season, the Indians were a 'dark horse' team, winning their last nine of 10 games.

"We'll be considered one of the favorites this year and be the target for other teams. We surprised everyone last year with a young team."

And, that could be the key for this season as well. Again, Tecumseh will be youthful, fielding only five seniors. And one of those seniors - forward Mike Connors - recently suffered a shoulder separation while tossing the football to his brother and is out indefinitely.

Spagnoli confides, "It all depends on how we mature. We have a lot of potential and this is the key. There is a good deal of competition for positions - so much, so, that I haven't decided who will start - and we have depth.

"In addition, the player's attitudes in practice have been very good. Some league coaches complain that their players don't want to work, but we've got great kids all through the athletic program here in Tecumseh. They like to play, they hustle and they're willing to do what it takes to win."

Returning lettermen for the team include, Brad Sisson, who was the second highest scorer last year with 7.9 points a game, Ken Biscupski, Kevin Mack, Mike Connors, Bruce Hughes and co-captains John Burns and Darrel Bozeman.

Hockey Victories

The Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Departments youth Hockey teams skated to 2 victories and 1 loss this past weekend. In the first game played Saturday morning the Tomahawk Mites lost 2 to 3. Sylvania clinched the game in the last few seconds of the game. Dave Stoll and Mike Foley made Tomahawks goals with an assist going to Joe Fuleky.

In the second game, the Tomahawk Bantams captured a second victory and defeated the Bleim North Stars of Sylvania 4 to 2. Tim Kirby (1), Bobby Simpson (1) and Ted Schalles (1) made Tecumseh goals and assists go to Dave Perry (1), Randy Vance (1), Tim Kirby (1) and Bobby Simpson (1) Bantams are sponsored by Tecumseh Products.

In the lone game played Sunday afternoon, the Tomahawks PeeWees played a strong defensive game and defeated Sylvania 2-1 in a very exciting game.

Indian Hockey Arrives, New League Formed

You can add hockey to the list of Tecumseh sports.

The Lenawee Hockey Association recently announced that Tecumseh High School now has a hockey team. The squad is part of the newly-formed Michigan South Central Club Hockey League.

The League is broken into two divisions, Tecumseh being part of the A Division along with Adrian, Jackson and Jackson Parkside. B Division includes Chelsea, Hanover-Horton, Jackson Northwest, Napoleon and the Jackson Arrows.

The coach for the new team is Ken Robinson and the players are, Mike Seal, Wayne Oliver, Tom Gray, Jeff Steiner, Tom Shelton, Joel Wood, Ben Wood, Bill McElroy, Dave Hall, Jerry McFadden, Eric Baldwin, Larry Hallenbeck, Dan Gorton, Tom Drake and Tony Strickrodt.

All the squads are playing under NCAA (collegiate) rules.

Tecumseh's opening game is against Jackson High School on Nov. 23 at 8:30 p.m. The contest will be held at the Jackson Sports Arena and there is an admission charge.

For further information, you may contact the league secretary, Mrs. Walter Seal at 423-3454.

Girls Grab Huron Crown, Enter Tourney Thursday

Tecumseh's girls basketball team won its last two games, capturing the Huron League championship with a perfect 14-0 season.

The cagers knocked off Carlson last week for their final league game and scored another victory two days later against Ann Arbor Pioneer.

This Thursday night at 6 p.m., the Indians enter tournament competition, playing Columbia Central in Brooklyn. Coach Diane Nelson comments, "Columbia Central is not a very strong team and our chances of getting out of district competition look good at this time."

The cagers rolled over Carlson on Wednesday of last week, 94-20. Top scorers for the Indians were Julie Murphy 18, Barb Henning 16, Melinda Ternak 14 and Julie Anderson 12.

The JV's also won, 34-15, with Grace Burns grabbing 11 points.

On Friday, the team traveled to Ann Arbor Pioneer for a non-league contest, again winning handily, 61-34. Top scorers for that game were Julie Anderson 17, Susie Brown 14, Janice Stevens 10, Barb Henning 6, Peg Upell 5, Melinda Ternak 4, Julie Murphy 4, and Laura Purkey 2.

The Jayvees' also defeated Pioneer by a score of 27-18. Grace Burns was again top-scorer with nine. The junior varsity ended with a 13-1 season record and a 7-0 league record.

STRIKE CONTINUES AT TECUMSEH PRODUCTS

Company, Union Report No Progress

Strike at the Tecumseh Products Company is entering its second week after negotiations last week and earlier this week failed.

Company and union officials met with federal and state mediators last Thursday and again Monday without reaching a settlement. As of Tuesday morning, no further negotiations were were scheduled.

No progress was made Monday and the federal mediator adjourned the meeting.

Company negotiator Ed Rapin released a statement Tuesday morning. The complete statement is:

The Company categorically and emphatically denies the charge of bargaining in bad faith. At no time did the Company negotiating team refuse to meet with the Union, or refuse to bargain in good faith regarding any issue that was placed in negotiations.

The Company negotiating team has met with the Union approximately 30 times in an attempt to resolve the issues.

We are apart on certain language items and far apart on economic issues, both wages and fringes. We made a good, sound economic offer that was rejected by the Union bargaining committee.

The Company requested that it be taken to the Union membership so that a strike could be avoided. Apparently the Union committee decided not to give the employees the opportunity to continue working.

Regarding the Union's statement in The Herald last Thursday, the Company commented:

1. We have bargained in good faith at all times. At the time the Company was making a settlement proposal in a meeting with the Union, the Union membership exited the plant on strike at 12:00 midnight, on the 14th. The meeting continued past 1:00 a.m. on the 15th.

2. We had been in contact with the Federal Mediation Service and had indicated a willingness to meet at any time.

3. The Union at no time prior to midnight, November 14, 1974, requested an extension to the Contract. The request was made after the Company made its offer of settlement and after the midnight deadline when the employees were already out of the plant, apparently on strike.

4. The Company had repeatedly stated to the Union that all employees could continue to work with no effect on their wages, benefits, or working conditions and with any increases in wages finally agreed to being paid retroactively.

5. There was no charge by the Union in the meetings up to and including the meeting on November 14th and 15th that the Union was on strike or was striking because of an alleged unfair labor practice.

As in the previous strike in 1968, the employees could still be working had the Union bargaining committee so desired. The strike was certainly unnecessary; however, the Company will continue to bargain in good faith to reach an early settlement so that our employees can return to work and our customers may be supplied with our product.

The Company feels that it should not be necessary to defend its position through the news media; however, we feel it necessary that the truth be known and the facts be presented as they occurred. We feel that the bargaining issues should be confined to the negotiation meetings so that an end to this useless and senseless strike can be accomplished.

The Company's economic offer includes generous improvements in the insurance program and pension plan, an additional holiday, and an improvement in the vacation schedule. Increases were made in the shift premium and certain job classifications. Also, annual wage increases and an improvement in the unlimited cost of living provisions were offered to the Union.

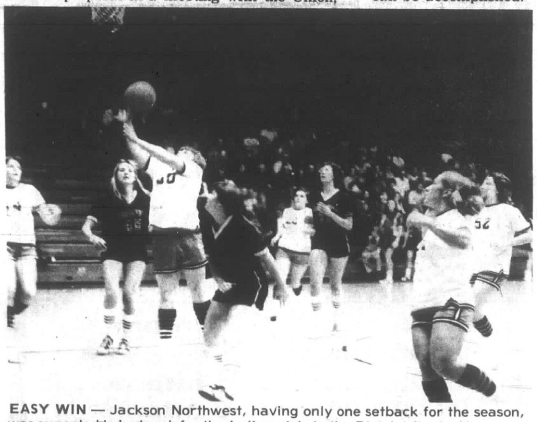
A statement from the Union Tuesday morning is:

The company and union met with federal and state mediators present on Thursday, Nov. 21 and again on Monday, Nov. 25. There has been no significant change.

The union continues striking in support of its unfair labor practice charge.

No further meetings have been scheduled.

UNION WORKERS PARADED IN DOWNTOWN TECUMSEH MONDAY MORNING



EASY WIN — Jackson Northwest, having only one setback for the season, was expected to be tough for the Indian girls in the District finals. However, 16, straight points to open the game, Tecumseh was off to an easy 40-point victory. Here in the second half, Peg Upell goes up for a shot. Indians in the photo are Chris Underwood, left, then Peg, Connie Younglove, Becky Stormes and Jane Faulkner.

Set Stores' Christmas Hours

This year 17 downtown Tecumseh merchants are extending business hours for convenience of area Christmas shoppers.

Christmas hours for these merchants starting Sunday, Dec. 1 are: week days until 9 p.m., Saturdays to 5:30 p.m., Sundays 12 noon to 5 p.m., Christmas Eve until 5:30 p.m.

Participating merchants are Baldwin Hardware, Don's Contented Sole and Beef Buffet, Cal's Tog Shop, Eggleston's Jewelry, Flanders Music Co., Gambles, Gaston's Jewelry, Green's Clothing, Kustom Kraft, Lamb's Pharmacy, Lawson TV, Merkel Furniture, Pat's Craft Studio, The Chilean House, Trickey's Inc., and Watkins Shop.

Merchants who notified the Herald that they will not be open Sundays but 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. during the rest of the week are Proctors, D&C and Kitchen and Fabric Centre.

Merchants extend their regular hours because they feel they can offer somthing special to area residents.

"Each of these merchants has a family run business and they want people to know that they offer a personal touch for pleasurable shopping close to home," said Mrs. Paul Dangler, publicity representative.

Free offstreet parking will be available for shoppers throughout the month of December, until Christmas.

Last year due to the energy crisis, merchants met with city council and voluntarily decided to cut store hours, two hours by closing one hour earlier and opening one hour later to help conserve energy. They also closed Sundays.

This year however,the merchants feel that there is no real fuel shortage. A quick spot check of area gas is available but that the price is still high. One fuel supplier said that the two percent of the downtown merchants who use fuel oil should have no problem this year.

Consumers Power Co. area manager Lee Wetherby said "there continues to be an energy crisis and will be for some time. However, this year the company has not asked merchants or cities to cut down on their consumption. It is suggested that unnecessary lighting be reduced and that energy be used wisely, and for productive purposes."

For those who heat businesses or homes with natural gas, there will be no shortage Wetherby said since the company's supply is in good shape. He said that the price is up due to increasing costs of production, labor, transmission and taxes.

B&E at Junior High

Donald Berkley, assistant junior high principal, reported a breaking and entering to police Monday, a burglary which occurred over the weekend or during a Friday night dance at the junior high.

A window was broken to gain entry into the woodworking shop at the junior high. A metal box, containing a small amount of cash and change, was taken, then pried open behind the building.

Some money was left in the box, indicating the culprits were scared off.

Two larcenies also were reported. The schools had approximately 40 gallons of gasoline siphoned from two school busses, and Mrs. Charles Cutler, 202 Cairns St., reported 20 gallons of gas taken from a vehicle at her home.

Mrs. Cutler reported her theft Monday, and the schools on Tuesday.

Advance to Regional

By FRANK WEIR

Winning comes easy to Tecumseh teams this season. And the girls basketball squad couldn't have made it look easier Monday night as they tromped Jackson Northwest for the District Championship 64-24.

In a stunning display of agility and teamwork, the Indians simply outclassed the hapless Mounties who just couldn't put it together against a clearly superior team.

The Indians took immediate command of the game from the starting jump. At the end of the first period, the Indians led 24-4. In the second period, Coach Diane Nelson began sending in the second and third stringers, who kept the tide moving.

One has to be impressed by the poise and discipline exhibited by the squad. Coach Nelson comments, "They know they have to have control to win. Discipline is a trait of the girls, they know what to do and they do it. You see their teamwork coming out by the way they stick to the game plan. They learned a lot from last year when they lost their cool sometimes and consequently lost games."

In addition to defeating Northwest, the Indians polished off Columbia Central last Thursday night and Hillsdale Saturday night by scores of 64-24 and 79-27 respectively. All three games were held at Columbia Central in Brooklyn.

By virtue of the District Championship, Tecumseh moves into regional competition. First stop is a contest against Pickney to be held at Battle Creek Pennfield High School on Dec. 5 at 7:30 p.m. Coach Nelson is confident that the Indians will make it into the regional finals since Pickney is not in a strong league and posts a mediocre 9-8 record at that.

It would seem that Tecumseh has a good chance to make it into the state finals. Coach Nelson admits it will take a "really well balanced team to hurt us." She concludes, "We just aren't going to be beaten by a one-or-two-girl team. They'll have to have balance."

In last year's tournament competition, the Indians lost in the regional finals. Part of the problem was rebounding and that's something Coach Nelson has stressed this year. Monday night Tecumseh racked up 34 rebounds to Northwest's 16. It looks as though those rebounding drills have worked.

Leading scorers for the Indians Monday night included, Susie Brown—who played a tremendous game—with 18, Julie Murphy with 10, Janice Stevens with 8 and Laura Purkey with 7. The win was a team effort, however.

With the final buzzer, Coach Nelson accepted the District trophy and was quickly hoisted onto the shoulders of her players for a triumphant parade over the gym floor.

TECUMSEH VARSITY — Last year, the Indians came from behind to tie with Airport for the Huron League crown. But this year's squad is without the talents of Al Schaefer top scorer for the Indians with 18.7 points per game average. Coach Ron Spagnoli comments that team success will depend on "how well we mature." From left the Tecumseh Indians for 1974-75 are, Coach Ron Spagnoli, Bruce Hughes, Jim Vaughn, Jeff Schafer, Ken Biscupski, John Burns, Bill Smith, Kevin Mack, Dave Spillman, Linvel Lisenbee, Darrell Bozeman, Jim Egbert, Bill Warner, Brad Sisson, student trainer Carl Aebersold, and manager Larry Lisenbee. The Indians opened their season Tuesday night at Ann Arbor Huron.

'Finian' Opening at Siena Heights

Champagne in the lobby, a five-course dinner, and the gay musical, "Finian's Rainbow," will be offered theatre-lovers Friday, Dec. 6, when Siena Heights College presents its third Champagne Theatre-Dinner Party for its scholarship fund.

The party begins at 6 p.m. with champagne served from a fountain in the lobby of Siena's Francoeur Theatre, accompanied by cold canapes and hot hors d'oeuvres. The theatre was dedicated in 1972.

A pre-production showing of "Finian's Rainbow" will provide the theatre entertainment, again at Francoeur Theatre and a short walk from Benincasa. The musical opens officially Saturday night for two presentations.

Full of whimsy and a touch of social comment, "Finian's Rainbow" is a magical combination of music and laughter for young and old.

Lead roles of Finian and daughter Susan, are played by Phil Campbell and Cyn Geiger, both of Clinton; and the leprechaun, Og., is a 'natural" for Adrian's irrepressible Dennis Kisor.

Reservations are necessary for the complete Friday evening party of champagne, dinner and theatre at $30 per couple and may be made by writing Development Office, Siena Heights College, Adrian, Mi. 49221, or phoning 313-263-0731, extension 215.

The succeeding productions of "Finian's Rainbow" on Saturday and Sunday nights do not require reservations.

Curtain time for all three showings is 8 p.m.

STARS IN FINIAN — Michael Lackey is applying final touches to Cyn Geiger's make-up for Siena Heights College's fall musical production, Finian's Rainbow, to be presented at the Francoeur Theatre, Siena Heights College, on Dec. 6, 7, and 8. Siena students, Mike of Hillsdale and Cyn of Clinton, portray the romantic leads, Woody and Sharon.

Linda Young and Phillip Reiser Marry

Linda Young and Phillip Reiser were united in marriage Oct. 26 in a double ring ceremony at St. Mary Catholic Church, Alma, by the Rev. Donald J. Eppenbrock at a 10:30 a.m. Mass. Mrs. Louise Lanshaw was organist and nuns from The Independent Sisters of Mercy, Alma sang during the service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Young of Alma, formerly of Tecumseh, and Mr. and Mrs. Clair Reiser of Clinton.

On the arm of her father the bride approached the altar wearing a white velvet gown with long sleeves, trimmed at the collar and cuffs with lace and pearl buttons. A Juliet cap of lace and pearls secured her veil and she carried a bouquet of yellow daisy mums, orange mandarin roses and baby's breath. She also wore a gold necklace made with a pendant from her grandfather's watch fob.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was her sister, Janet Young, the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Melvin Pardee and Mary Jo Barrett, both of Tecumseh. Attendants all wore beige polyester print gowns with long sleeves and ruffled hem. They wore nosegays of yellow daisy mums and baby's breath in their hair, and carried bouquets fashioned of yellow and orange daisy mums, baby's breath and purple straw flowers.

Best man was James Schuler of Clinton. Groomsmen were Roger Young of Tecumseh, brother of the bride, and Mark Iwanicki of Clinton. Ushers were Michael Young of Alma, brother of the bride, and Terry Reiser of Clinton, cousin of the groom. Gregory and Jeffrey Young, brothers of the bride, served as altar boys.

A luncheon was held immediately following the ceremony in St. Mary's gym and a reception was held in the Peerless Gear Hall in Clinton that evening at 8 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Allan Barrett of Tecumseh were hosts and Linda Reiser of Clinton, cousin of the groom, registered the guests at both events.

The wedding cake, which was made by the groom's mother, was cut by Mrs. Floyd Barrett of Britton, Mrs. Mark Iwanicki of Clinton, and Janet Reiser of Clinton, cousin of the groom.

Special guests included Mrs. Velda Engel of Jackson, grandmother of the groom.

A rehearsal dinner was held Oct. 25 in St. Mary's gym.

Bride is a 1969 graduate of Tecumseh High school and a December, 1972 graduate of Eastern Michigan University. The groom is a 1968 graduate of Clinton High School and graduated from Washtenaw Community college, 1970. He is employed as a draftsman at Detroit Stoker of Monroe.

Since their wedding trip to Toronto, Ontario, Canada and Upper Michigan, the couple have been at home at 212 Michigan Ave., Clinton.

MR. and MRS. PHILLIP REISER

MRS. MICHAEL HICKOK

Diane Waldfogel, Michael Hickok Wed

Morenci Methodist Church was the setting for the Nov. 23 candlelight ceremony uniting Diane Lenore Waldfogel and Michael James Hickok in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ilah Waldfogel of Morenci and Donald Waldfogel of Prateville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hickok Sr. of Tecumseh.

Escorted by her father, the bride approached the altar wearing a gown of Chantilly lace over white satin with Victorian neckline, fitted bodice, fitted sleeves and pleated traan. Her wedding veil was fastened by a lace and satin cap edged with lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red rosebuds and white carnations. Her gown and veil were designed and made by Mrs. Robert Dunbar of Adrian, sister of the groom.

Kathleen Warren of Ann Arbor was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathy Dunbar of Adrian, niece of the groom, Michelle Shadbolt and Robbie Blaker, both of Morenci. Cindy Seggren of Morenci, cousin of the bride, was flowergirl.

Attendants all wore gowns of royal blue velvet with Victorian necklines leg o'mutton sleeves and sashed skirts, trimmed with white lace at the neckline and sleeves. They wore headdresses of blue velvet bows and net. Matron of honor and the bridesmaids carried nosegays of blue and white carnationas and baby's breath, and the flower girl carried a basket of the same flowers.

Best man was Bruce Jones of Tecumseh. Groomsmen were Mike Heater of Adrian, Tom Ruff of Tecumseh, cousin of the groom, and Andy Waldfogel of Morenci, brother of the bride. Ushers were Ken and Jack Waldfogel of Morenci, brothers of the bride. Bobby Roe of Dundee, cousin of the groom, was ringbearer.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Sportsman Club in Morenci. Hosts for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ford of Tecumseh, aunt and uncle of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bechtein of Morenci.

Mrs. Josephine Roe of Clinton, aunt of the groom, cut the wedding cake, and Pat Waldfogel of Morenci, sister of the bride, registered the guests.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunbar, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. James Hickok Sr., parents of the groom, in the Dunbar home Nov. 22.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Morenci High School. The groom is a 1973 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed by the Oak Tree Construction Company of Clinton.

After a week's wedding trip the couple will reside in Clinton.

Sherry Silvernail, Leland Milosh Marry

Sherry Clymer Silvernail and Leland David Milosh were married Nov. 23 in a candlelight ceremony at St. Peter's Episcopal Churchwith the Rev. David C. Fox officiating. Debbie Long was organist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clymer Sr. of Adrian. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Milosh of 502 Mohawk.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her grandfather, Richard M. Ankney, wearing a white and light blue taffeta, lace and organza gown, trimmed with lace, sequins, and light blue rosettes. She wore a ruffled picture hat with floor length veil, trimmed with light blue rosettes, and carried a cascade bouquet of blue baby's breath, roses, stephanotis, and miniature carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. James Noveskey of Clayton, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Daniel Perfit of Mason, cousin of the bride, Kathy Townsend and Mrs. Joan Crawford, both of Adrian, and Judy Milosh of Tecumseh, sister of the groom.

Attendants all wore gowns of dark blue velvet, with lace trimming the neckline, short puffed sleeves, and skirt. They also wore light blue picture hats with dark blue velvet ribbons and clusters of flowers, and carried hurricane lanterns containing blue candles.

Nicole Silvernail of Adrian, daughter of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a long dress and picture hat like those of the other attendants and carried a small white basket of multicolored flowers. Her dress was made by the mother of the bride.

Best man was Richard Rutherford of Adrian. Ushers were Russell Reinke and Michael Clymer, both of Adrian, and both cousins of the bride. Groomsmen were Gary Ferow of Tecumseh, Charles Clymer Jr. of Tecumseh and Scott Clymer of Adrian, brothers of the bride, and Phillip Milosh of Blissfield, brother of the groom.

Reception following the ceremony was held in the United Products Workers Union Hall. Serving at the reception were Mrs. Diana Reinke, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Dorothy Dopp, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Dess Lenane of Toledo. Mrs. Mildred Ankney tended the guest book.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Nov. 22 at the Country House Restaurant.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Madison High School. The groom is a 1968 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Dura Inc. of Adrian.

After a week's wedding trip through the southern states, the couple will reside at 1139 July Drive, Adrian.

Judy Mueller Weds Lawrence Biskner

Judy Lynn Mueller and Lawrence Russell Biskner were wed in a 7 p.m. ceremony Nov. 2 in the Macon United Methodist Church, with the Rev. John Vance officiating and the Rev. Thomas Badley of Rochester assisting.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Edmund O. Mueller of Macon. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Biskner of Lincoln Park.

The bride wore a gown of sheer white dacron over peau with flowers of Venise lace and seed pearls around the scoop neckline. Lace motifs trimmed the full skirt with attached cathedral length train. A headpiece of satin bows with crystal and seed pearl trim secured her three tier veil with blusher. She carried a cascade of white rosebuds and white carnations.

The bride chose her sister, Mrs. Robert Kollar of Macon as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jayson McDonald of Plymouth and Jean Boyce of Ypsilanti. Deborah Kollar of Macon, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Attendants wore gowns of caribbean blue velvet trimwhite lace and carried blue carnations with white velvet ribbons.

Best man was Jerry Biskner of Lincoln Park, brother of the groom. Ronald and Thomas Mueller of Macon, brothers of the bride, and Mike Melnick of Ann Arbor were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception for 250 guests was held in the United Products Workers Union Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mueller served as host and hostess.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Hamond Business College in Ann Arbor. She is employed as a secretary at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. The groom graduated from Lincoln Park High School and is employed as a field engineer by Comshare Electronics in Ann Arbor.

After a wedding trip to Florida the couple are residing at 330 Fernwood 13H in Ann Arbor.

Terry Fisher, David Purkey Wed

Terri Fisher and David Purkey were wed Nov. 16 in an afternoon ceremony at the Tecumseh Friends Church with the Rev. Dane Ruff officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Lowell Kelley of N. Adrian Hwy. and Gayle Fisher of Adrian. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Purkey of 209 N. Pearl.

On the arm of her stepfather the bride approached the altar wearing a gown of silk organza with square Alencon lace neckline, full sheer bishop sleeves with lace cuffs, and lace motifs trimming the bodice, skirt and empire waist. A short tier veil edged with lace, made by the bride's mother, fell from a headpiece of Alencon lace. The gown also featured a train edged with the same lace. She carried a cascade of green carnations and yellow roses and wore a small cross necklace, a gift of the groom.

Maid of honor was Terri Fetty of Tecumseh. Bridesmaids were Debbie Escott of Tecumseh, Toni Fisher of Tecumseh, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Thomas Fisher of Adrian, sister-in-law of the bride. Attendants all wore green gowns with light green bodices. They carried green carnations and yellow roses and wore green headpieces with light green blusher veils.

Keri Baker of Onsted, cousin of the bride, was flowergirl.

Norman Jones of Tecumseh was best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Thomas Fisher of Adrian, brother of the bride, Lendall Milheim of Tecumseh, brother-in-law of the groom, and James Baker of Onsted, uncle of the bride. Chad Fisher of Adrian, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception was held in the church basement following the services for 200 guests. Judy Rickard of Clinton, sister of the groom, cut the bride's cake, and Sue Klingensmith of Tecumseh, sister of the groom, cut the bride's cake, and Sue Klingensmith of Tecumseh, sister of the groom, cut the groom's cake. Rhonda Escott of Tecumseh served punch and Karen Brum of Tecumseh served coffee.

Mrs. Clarence Randolph, aunt of the bride, baked the wedding cake.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Sears in Adrian. The groom is also a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Uniloy in Manchester.

After a short wedding trip, the couple are residing at Lee Villa Trailer Park.

Eleven members were present for the meeting. Mrs. Hayden served refreshments to the group.

Next meeting will feature a Christmas potluck.

To The Editor

To the Editor:

The rising food prices are perhaps somewhat justified, when we consider how the cost of shipping, packing, or even the cost of the item itself is rising. However, there is one advantage the large chain stores are taking which deserves consideration by consumers.

I'm sure we have all purchased canned or packaged foods that have 3 or 4 different prices marked on it. Where are these few cents per can going? If the store bought the goods at a price low enough to sell for the price originally marked on it, why should we pay a price that is based on what they must pay now?

I think that these are questions that deserve answering, and I would like to discourage everyone from buying items that have more than one price on them until we get some answers.

Style Sense by Evel

A permanent wave could last from three to five months, if occasionally refreshed. The hair grows about one inch a month, and if it is well groomed, it must be occasionally reshaped. After two months the curl is almost completely removed from the nape, the lower crown, and the sides above the ears. Refresh curls are the solution; five curls at the nape and one at each side will renew the permanent at small cost.

Hair reflects the spirit of the times. Today, hair is natural and free. The style depends on the feeling and on the good things you do to keep your hair shining and full of body. Why not splurge on a natural shampoo, for example, one made of carrot oil, rosemary, thyme, sage, and camomile? All of these are available on the market today. There are also herb conditioners and nourishers. Why not try them? Whatever you use, remember that regular hair care is always the best care. AND whenever in doubt, be sure to consult with any member of our professional staff!

Council Meeting

ORDINANCE No. 3.309(2)

Regular meeting of the Common Council for the City of Tecumseh, held on the 18th day of November, 1974, at 7:30 p.m. in Council Chambers at 309 East Chicago Boulevard, Tecumseh, Michigan.

PRESENT: Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Pajmer, Puffer and Mayor Easton.

ABSENT: Councilman Whiting.

The following Preamble and Ordinance was offered by Councilman Palmer and supported by Councilman Puffer.

WHEREAS, it is deemed advisable to make certain additions to the Disorderly Person Ordinance for the City of Tecumseh to more fully encompass appropriate situations wherein said conduct shall or may occur, the conduct herein set forth deemed contrary to the best interest for the health, safety and welfare of persons within the City of Tecumseh;

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY OF TECUMSEH ORDAINS: Section 2 of 3.309 (Disorderly Person). Any person shall be deemed a disorderly person who shall, or who shall aid and abet another to:

1. Discharge any firearm, air rifle, air pistol or bow and arrow in the City, except when in connection with a regularly scheduled educational or training program under adequate supervision.
2. Fire, discharge, display, or possess any fireworks except of the type and under the conditions permitted by Chapter 39 of the Penal Code of the State of Michigan, as last amended by Act 242 of the Public Acts of 1949.
3. Swim or bathe in any public place without wearing proper apparel.
4. Utter indecent, immoral or obscene language in any public place in the presence or hearing of any woman or child.
5. Make any immoral exhibition or indecent exposure of his or her person in a public place.
6. Engage in a fight in a public place.
7. Conduct himself on any street or sidewalk or in any park or public building or in any other public place so as to obstruct the free and uninterrupted passage of the public.
8. Obstruct the free and uninterrupted passage of the public on any street, roadway, sidewalk or alley way, for any purpose by
   (a) collecting in groups thereon, or
   (b) playing any game thereon, or
   (c) erecting, placing or maintaining any barrier or object thereon; except such barrier or object may be erected, placed or maintained when necessary for the safety of passersby in connection with the building, erection, modification or demolition of any building or by prior written consent of the Chief of Police.
9. Disturb the public peace and quiet by loud, boisterous, or vulgar conduct.
10. Permit or suffer any place occupied or controlled by him to be a resort of noisy, boisterous, disorderly persons.
11. Obstruct, resist, hinder, or oppose any member of the police force, or any peace officer in the discharge of his duties as such.
12. Wilfully enter upon the lands or premises of another without lawful authority after having been forbidden so to do by the owner or occupant thereof or the agent or servant of either; or remain upon the land or premises of another without lawful authority after being notified to depart therefrom by the owner or occupant thereof or the agent or servant of either.
13. Wilfully enter upon the lands or premises of any person in the night time, without authority or permission of the owner of such premises.

14. Definitions. The term "public place" as used in this Ordinance shall mean any street, alley, park, public building, any place of business or assembly open to or frequent by the public, and any other place which is open to the public view, or to which the public has access.

15. In all other respects, City of Tecumseh Ordinance 3.309, a. through and including p., Disorderly Person, shall remain the same, it being hereby identified as Section 1.

16. Any person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not more than $100.00 or imprisonment in the County Jail for not more than 90 days, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the Court.

This Ordinance shall take effect 20 days from the date of adoption and after publication thereof.

AYES: Mayor Easton, Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer and Puffer.

NAYS: None.

ORDINANCE DECLARED ADOPTED.

RAINY NOVEMBER DAYS

This month has been blessed with some rainy days. And yes, I used the two words advisedly. I said blessed because after the long dry spell the rain truly did come as a blessing. The word "some" is used to cover my lack of counting the number of rainy days and also to help indicate that just perhaps we have not received all the rainfall we could use.

It really was a dry summer and fall—a friend said that on his farm the storm of Nov. 3 was the first measurable rain since mid-June. My, how many inches are necessary to overcome that kind of drought?

But getting back to that rainy Sunday. It was, if you remember, the day our beautiful, our warm and sunny and colorful Indian summer came to an abrupt end. Actually it could be said that Indian summer ended with a bang—in addition to the heavy downpour there were quite a few good claps of thunder.

Ordinarily a dark, gloomy and wet Sunday is not my favorite thing. One's point of view changes however and because it was so badly needed, I could quite enjoy it. Adding to the fun of the window watching were the birds. They were busy, busy, busy. More than one person commented on the old adage that if the chickens eat in the rain it is going to rain all day.

Well, when they asked if it were the same with birds I had no good answer. Suffice to say that it did rain most of the day and constantly there were birds eating too. In fact, from their actions it was hard to believe that they even knew it was raining.

First of all none of us could get over the sudden appearance of so many woodpeckers. Downys and hairys both. They busied themselves with the suet and ate as though there were no tomorrow. To say they stood in line might be an exaggeration but to say that all suet feeders were busy and usually there were one or two hanging around a nearby tree trunk patiently waiting for a dining stool is highly accurate.

And oh, how their black and white color pattern showed up. The day might have been dark but somehow the quality of the light seemed to intensify the birds' coloration. Especially on their backs, the white was snowy and the black almost a shiny satin.

Only bright spot which was not bright was the 'cap' the big hairy wore perched on the back of his head. The male downys' were bright and showy but their larger cousins was small and barely showed at all. Mom almost had to resort to the binoculars to verify the sex.

Oops, there was one other bird who kept his colors hidden. A huge flicker took his turn at the suet nearest the creek bank and he was dark. The peculiar lighting condition did nothing for his black on brown back and when he flew away, the golden underside of his wings even seemed duller than usual.

Just to have him around was a thrill. And if his red back-of-the-head crest and black top-of-the-breast V were not breathtakingly beautiful—well, we at least knew they were there and could imagine them.

Not left to the imagination were the cardinals, bluejays, tufted titmice, upside-down nuthatches, and a sole brown creeper. The latter was most obliging, as he spiralled the nearby wren tree, we often had unexpectedly good looks at his tummy. Was it the day or was his breast whiter and creamier than usual?

The other characters were brilliant and as they moved from trees to feeders, we ran out of adjectives. When the tufted titmice freeloaded at the near-my-window feeder we were struck anew at the soft appearance of their gray backs, the sparkle of their black eyes, and the richness of the russet areas on their sides.

Real charmers.

The nuthatches put on a show all their own. Two pairs for sure and possibly an extra male. Whenever the drumming of the rain let up enough for us to hear something else, that something else seemed to be nuthatch talk. Yak, yak, yak and what a funny nasal quality. (No remarks about their long bills, Marda.) One of the males must be young and his neck feathers are not fully grown in yet. If he does not hurry someone should knit a muffler.

So it is that surprisingly enough the dreary and gloomy weather often associated with this month has not bothered us this year; in fact, we have greatly enjoyed some of the rainy November days.

Band Needs More Boosters

CLINTON — More parental support for Band Boosters is sought as only 12 parents attended the meeting last Tuesday with the director, Richard Calkins.

Members voted to use the funds in the club treasury for the fifth and sixth grade band members.

High school band members are asked to return their rain capes as they are needed at school.

Several persons will be notified of a committee meeting to be held, Tuesday, Dec. 3 at the home of Mrs. Norman Campbell.

Director Calkins announced that the Christmas Concert will be presented on Dec. 17 at 8 p.m. by the sixth, seventh and eighth grade band and the high school band. There will be no admission charge.

Tickets for a turkey drawing will be sold at the door, on the night of the Dec. 17 concert, and the committee in charge is Mrs. Richard Krohl, Mrs. William Stout, Mrs. George Wolf and Mrs. Carl Duda.

Coffee, punch and cookies will be served after the concert, and a committee was named for this.

Clinton will host the district band festival on March 15 at Clinton High School and band parents' help will be needed.

The Junior High Solo and Ensemble event will be Dec. 7.

Band Follies will be held Feb. 19, 20 and 22.

Cinderettes Set Christmas Party

CLINTON — Orders for Fall Festival plates are in now for those who ordered them from the Cinderettes. For information call Mrs. Carl Fletcher 456-7524.

A Christmas party for children of the firemen is planned for Dec. 15 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the firemen's cabin. Committee in charge includes Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Richard Brown, Mrs. David Allen and Mrs. John Schuler.

Next meeting will be Thursday, Dec. 12 at 6:30 p.m. with a potluck supper at the home of Mrs. James McDermott. There will be a $3 gift exchange and a secret pal drawing.

Bazaar Features Home Goods

CLINTON — Hot homemade pretzels will be a feature of the Old-Fashioned Christmas Bazaar at the United Church of Christ, Saturday, Dec. 7, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.

A variety of other homemade baked goods and candy will be offered as well as handmade gifts.

A Children's Corner will display toys and trinkets, all under $1, for the children to do their own shopping.

Buffet dinner will feature swiss steak, chicken and assorted salads.

Because of last year's sell-out crowd, this year plans are being made to serve 400 persons at the buffet dinner, from 5 to 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the door and children under five are free.

Decorations chairman is Mrs. Joseph Rockwell; publicity, Mrs. Edward Piatt; dinner, Mrs. Arthur Searle; pricing, Mrs. Wayne Murphy; and dining room, Mrs. Robert King.

Climax of the day will be a $50 cash drawing.

Cows Enjoy Sun; Family Feasts

CLINTON — Mrs. Charles Knight, Sr. reports that the moving of their herd of more than 100 dairy cows to Florida has been completed with only minor problems.

First load, which left two weeks ago, experienced a seven-hour delay in Atlanta, Ga., when a blow-out of a nearly-new front tire on the truck almost caused an upset. Finding a replacement tire was the biggest problem, and the cattle suffered no ill effects.

With the temperature at around 75 degrees in Florida, the cows seem real comfortable, she reports.

The Knights find it surprising how well the cows are adjusting to the change in feed, and seem to relish the taste of orange pulp, which is gradually increased.

Three cows have already had their calves since arriving there, and are basking in the sunshine.

Last load of milking cows was shipped last Wednesday, with grandson Mike Payeur riding along. He returned home by plane.

Charles and Nora Knight left Monday with a stock trailer loaded with calves, which wraps up the unusual exodus for now.

They are looking forward to an unique old-fashioned Pilgrim Thanksgiving dinner arranged by the Norman Nickerson family in their farm woods near Wauchula, Fla. Guests will attend the outdoors event in pilgrim costumes.

Mr. Knickerson's parents moved their dairy herd from Pennsylvania to Florida some 15 years ago, and it is one of the Nickerson farms that the Knights have purchased there.

The Knights plan to attend the convention of the National Farmers Organization in Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 4, 5, 6, and return here Dec. 10.

Baptist Church Observes 11th

CLINTON — Clinton Baptist Church will observe its 11th anniversary at an afternoon program, Sunday, Dec. 1 at 2 p.m.

The Rev. Willard Martin, area missionary from Monroe, will speak, and the Homegate Quartet of Dayton, Ohio will sing.

Church steeple will be dedicated in memory of the late Louis Underwood, who presented the steeple to the church.

Clinton Baptist Church began in 1963, with first meetings held in the former Kiebler Market building on W. Michigan Ave.

Of the three families which founded the church, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Bryant and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer House and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lake and family, each has one son presently serving in the gospel ministry.

The church was constituted in Sept. 1963 as the Clinton Baptist Church and its first pastor was Gerald Manchester of Detroit.

Second pastor Albert Lyford, of Monroe, was succeeded by the present pastor, the Rev. Floyd Vaughn, almost ten years ago.

The congregation has been meeting in the present sanctuary on Tecumseh-Clinton Road for eight years.

Bibs Sewed as Presents

CLINTON — Members of the Women's Fellowship made Christmas tray favors and sewed bibs for the Evangelical Nursing Home of Saline, at the Thursday evening meeting in the United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Edward Piatt gave the devotions, reading from Gibran.

Mrs. David Heimerdinger presided at the business meeting.

A pretzel day was planned for Tuesday, Dec. 3, when volunteers will make several batches of pretzels to be sold at the Christmas Bazaar, Dec. 7. All of the supplies were donated and anyone who wishes may join in the fun of making pretzels. Mrs. Arthur Hill and Mrs. Heimerdinger are in charge of the project.

Members volunteered to sew 10 uniform smocks for the nursing home at Saline early in January.

A card party was scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 11 with Mrs. Wyman Rhoades and Maxine Calhoun as co-chairmen.

A Christmas card shower was suggested for shut-ins of the church.

Salad and coffee were served by members of the Mary-Martha Class.

Next meeting will be Jan. 23 with the Christian Education committee in charge.

Public Invited to Open House

CLINTON — Public is cordially invited to attend an open house reception and showing of paintings by local area artists on Sunday, Dec. 1 from 1 to 3 p.m. at Water Wheel Estates Club House, 316 W. Michigan Ave., Clinton.

The show will include water color, oil and acrylic paintings.

Artists include Janice Blackburn, Doris Blom, Gail Butts, Nina Condon, Ruth Forrest, Donna Gallant, Hendrika Hulett, Bill King, Marilyn Reynolds, Eleanor Sweet, Hal Weakly.

Ruth Allison is the instructor.

The paintings may also be seen until Dec. 6 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the Club house.

Merchants Get Division Approved

CLINTON—At a dinner meeting of the Clinton Chamber of Commerce Monday, at the Clintonian Inn, members approved the formation of a Retail Merchants Division. This group will meet the first Wednesday of each month at 8 a.m. in the Clintonian Inn.

Named to a committee to consider the need for off-street parking are Kathy Thomas, John Steffens, Court Nighswander, Waldo Ehnis and Jean Magee. A survey of the public will be made concerning the need for more parking.

Chamber has installed public address sytem to play recorded Christmas music during the holiday season on Clinton's main street.

A contest will be conducted among Clinton High School students to design a logo for the Clinton Chamber of Commerse.

A chain link fence and lights are being installed at Memorial Park around the memorial sign.

The Rev. Earl Lawrence presided at the meeting attended by 24 members.

There will be no meetings during December. Next regular dinner meeting will be Jan. 27 at 6:30 p.m. Reservations are required.

Campbell Labels Being Collected

CLINTON—Only 1,800 Campbell soup labels have been collected according to Sandra Randall, Elementary School librarian, who seeks to collect 20,000 for class room sound equipment.

Three classroom record players would require 5,600 labels each and one cassette player would take 3,000 labels.

Children are bringing in labels to sacks placed in the school library.

Anyone else who wishes to save labels may deposit them at the State Savings Bank, Clintonian Inn, Court's Pharmacy or Ehnis'.

All condensed soups, bean products and chunky soup labels qualify for credit by the Campbell Soup Co.

Mrs. Beck teaches English and journalism at Dundee High School, advises the student newspaper and yearbook, advises the junior class, and is chairperson of the English department.

She and her husband James, formerly of Monroe, and their daughter, Lori, live in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Beck is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Squires of Britton.

Mailing Hints for Holiday Season

BRITTON—Postmaster George Hawkins today announced the 1974 Christmas season Post Office hours. Dec. 2 thru Dec. 24, the lobby will be open as usual from 7 a.m. until 5 p.m. Service section, however, will be increased one hour. Rather than the usual closing between 11 and 12, window service will remain open from 8 to 5 daily. Office after Christmas will again observe the 11 to 12 closing. There will be no Saturday afternoon service at the Britton office.

Postmaster Hawkins reminds all customers that to help speed and protect mail, the following hints should be followed: Address all mail by street address, city, state and zip code. Correct zip codes are an important part of any address as it may speed your mail by a day or more.

All mail should also bear a return address. A return address will insure that all undeliverable mail (mail without postage or someone moved more than one year ago) will be returned to you.

To further help the Post Office, mail should be placed with stamps all in the same corner, separated and tied into two groups. Local (Britton mail only) and all other mail.

Packages should be wrapped securely and packed tight. Shopping bags do not make good containers. A solid box with contents packed to avoid moving are an excellent way to insure that presents arrive safely.

Some packing hints would be to wad up newspapers to fill the empty spaces in the box or fill with loose styrofoam or popcorn. Address should appear on one side of the parcel only..

This procedure insures that any special privileges paid for, such as special handling, insurance, or special delivery, are noted and the customer gets his money's worth.

Another hint is to enclose a second address label inside your package. This will insure tracing packages in case the outside wrapping or label becomes separated during shipping.

With a little extra packing effort Christmas packages will arrive in good condition for placing under the tree.

Dorcas Class Holds Potluck Dinner

BRITTON—Dorcas Class of the Britton Congregational Christian Church met in the Fellowship Center of the church Nov. 21, with 15 members and three guests present. Mrs. Grace (Taylor) Boyd of Morenci was an out of town guest.

Following the bountiful potluck dinner a business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Nina Taylor, class president. Class approved the contribution toward the purchase of an artificial Christmas tree and donation of mittens for needy children. They also agreed to purchase a poinsettia for the church for the holiday season.

Cards were signed to be sent to Mrs. Marie Priest at the McPherson Hospital at Howell and to Mrs. Maud Bush at the Provincial House in Adrian.

Mrs. Mae Willis reported on the Sunshine Committee's activities. She will have Christmas cards at the December meeting ready to be signed to be sent to members unable to attend.

Mrs. Pearl Hannevik was in charge of the devotions and the program. She read the 148th Psalm and for Thanksgiving Day the 1 and 2 verses of Psalm 103. She also read several Thanksgiving poems.

Twins Club Meets

BRITTON—Christmas table decorations demonstration highlighted the meeting of the Tri-County Mothers of Twins Club when they met Wednesday, Nov. 20 at Jane's Floral Shop in Clinton for their monthly meeting.

A variety of Christmas decorations were demonstrated after which the mothers tried their talents at making their own for the upcoming festive season.

A short business meeting was held with plans for the club's annual Christmas party scheduled for Dec. 8 at 4 p.m. in the Smith-Kimball Community Center in Clinton. A potluck supper will be held and each member is asked to bring two large dishes to pass and their own drink and table service.

January meeting will be held with Mrs. Gil Purse in Tecumseh at 8 p.m.

JC Auxiliary Holds Potluck

Jaycee Auxiliary will hold a potluck in the home of Mrs. Dwight Helms, Dec. 4 at 6:30 p.m., with a business meeting and Christmas auction of homemade articles.

Guests will be the Ypsilanti and the Blissfield JC Auxiliaries. Members are asked to bring guests.

Welcome Wagon Meets

Tecumseh Welcome Wagon held its monthly meeting Thursday Nov. 21 in the Methodist Church. Members and guests enjoyed a demonstration of mini-stitchery by Mrs. Margaret Kidnan and her daughter Elizabeth Boyce of the needlecraft shop.

Guests included Beverly Phillips, Joanee Stubbs, Mary Withrow, Karen Collins, Mary Wiederhoeft and Bernice Albright.

Women's Club Meets

BRITTON—Britton Woman's Club met Tuesday, Nov. 19 at the Congregational Christian Church at 12:30 p.m. for the annual Thanksgiving turkey dinner.

County Federation officers and the Macon Woman's Club were guests. Forty-five were present.

The Rev. G.O. Hannevik gave the invocation. Following the turkey dinner President Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt welcomed the group.

Mrs. Walter Prill led the group in the Pledge to the Flag.

The collect was repeated.

A solo "Down From His Glory" was sung by the Rev. G.O. Hannevik. He was accompanied by Mrs. Fred Schober at the piano.

Thelma Younglove, program chairman introduced Mary Alice Powell, Editor of the Food column in the Toledo. Blade. She gave a very informative talk on nutrition. At one time she was the past president of the National Food Conference.

After the program a short business meeting was held. Devotions were given by Mrs. Don Willis. She gave a Thanksgiving poem and read from the 126th Psalm.

Mrs. Walter Prill, vice president of the Federation, gave a short talk on the S.E. District Convention which she recently attended in Detroit. More reverence for the Flag and patriotism were stressed.

Winter Federation meeting will be Feb. 12, 1975.

Next club meeting will be held Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt.

Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene Ambassador's Class party was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cavin of Tecumseh. A potluck supper and a time of fellowship was enjoyed by everyone.

Contest Begins

Tuesday, Dec. 3, marks the day that the 21st annual Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, a $11,000 college scholarship program sponsored by General Mills, gets underway.

High School seniors here and throughout the country will participate in a written knowledge and attitude examination which will determine individual college scholarship awards of $500 to $5,000.

Local winners will then compete for state and national honors.

More than nine million students have been enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search since its beginning in the 1954-55 school year.

Resident Leads Cheers

BRITTON—Advisor Shan Jackson has announced the selection of the Siena Heights College Cheerleading squad for 1974-75.

Among the six students selected was Peg Aebersold, Britton.

Team will cheer at Siena's wrestling matches and basketball games, and serve as aids for tennis matches, golf invitationals, and baseball games.

Britton Tories Hold Banquet

BRITTON—The Britton Macon Tories held their football banquet Tuesday, Nov. 19 at the Vo-Tech Center in Adrian.

Coach Randy Salisbury introduced the members of the Varsity Football team and managers, and presented them certificates.

He also commented on the Tories fine season in which they posted a 7-1 record and won the Tri-County Conference Title. The Tories were also rated seventh in the state in the final Associated Press Class D poll.

Special awards were presented to the following: Doug Shiels, Defensive Lineman of the Year; Dan Exelby, Defensive Back of the Year; Doug Armstrong, Offensive Lineman of the Year; and Alan Reau and Mike Servoss, Offensive Backs of the Year.

Mike Servoss was named the Tories Most Valuable Player. Craig Wagenschutz and Dave Wielfaert were elected co-captains for next year.

The Tories' co-captains of this season — Servoss and Doug Armstrong — have been named to the Associated Press Class D All State First Team.

Servoss, a halfback, rushed for 1,227 yards this season. He averaged 7.4 per carry and 153 yards per game. He scored 17 touchdowns and ran for two extra point conversions for 106 points. He led both the Tri-County Conference and Lenawee County in Scoring. Defensively, he led the Conference with five interceptions. He also had 44 tackles and two fumble recoveries.

Armstrong, an offensive guard and defensive middle linebacker, led the Tories in tackles for the third straight year. This year he had 103 tackles and led the Tory defense which posted four shutouts. He was also an outstanding blocker of-fensively.

Local Teams Score 2 Wins

Three Hockey games were played this past Saturday by the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department Youth Hockey Teams.

In the first game the PeeWees sponsored by Raynor Snyder Realty skated to a 6 to 0 shut-out over the Toledo Churchill Devil-Dogs. Tim Eardley made four goals receiving the teams first Hat Trick.

Wendell West followed up with two goals, assist on goals go to Adam Sturtevant (1), Geoff Fenelon (1) and Mark VanBuren (2).Kevin Dunnigan kept the Tecumseh goals clean and received his first shut-out.

In the second game the Tomahawk Mites sponsored by Dave White Chevrolet were out-scored 3 to 4 by Hammans of Sylvania. Goals for the Tomahawks were made by Andy Davis (1) and Steve Eardley with two, one assist on goal went to David Stoll.

In the final afternoon game, Tecumseh Tomahawk Bantams, sponsored by the Tecumseh Products, skated to their third straight victory by defeating Hickory Farms Cheesekings of Toledo 4 to 2 in one of the seasons best played games, a total of only 3 penalities were handed out.

Dave Perry, team captain scored a hat trick with other goal being made by Chris Condon. Assists go to Bobby Simpson (1) Al Minnik (1) and Dave Perry (1). Tecumseh team standings are Mites: 1 win 2 losses-PeeWees 2 wins-1 loss Bantams 3 wins-no losses.

BRITTON TORIES — The Tories have a new coach this year with the addition of Adrian College grad Jim Sweigart. He has his work cut out for him since the Tories ended with a disappointing 3-18 record last season. Sweigart mentions experience, quickness and a strong defense as hopeful factors for a winning season. From left to right, the Tories are, student trainers Mike Benedict and Rick Olds, Dave Wielfaert, Jim Cradit, Dan Exelby, Miguel Verduzco, Mike Childs, Craig Wagenschutz, Steve Gilmore, Mike Saxton, Jeff Brown, Paul Wielfaert, Gary Adams, Alan Reau, Mike Servoss, Assistant Coach Mike Pavloff and Coach Jim Sweigart. New Cage Coach Stresses Teamwork

The Britton Tories have new basketball coach for the coming season and perhaps a fresh chance to improve on last year's dismal 3-18 record.

Jim Sweigart, a Hudson High and Adrian College grad, takes over the coaching helm after a stint as head basketball coach at a high school in Fayette, Ohio. He is assisted by Mike Pavloff.

And "Teamwork" is the word Sweigart stresses to his squad, made up of seven seniors and six juniors. "These kids are a tight knit group and they're very willing to work. The Tri-County league is a tough one in basketball, we'll probably have a lot of close games. But the players have a winning attitude and confidence in themselves. Teamwork will carry us through the season. Working together for the common goal, that's what it takes to win."

And Britton could very well come back this year with a winning season. Seven players who started last year are back again including football standout Dan Exelby. Exelby was the second highest scorer last year with a per game average of 13.5 points.

Besides experience, Sweigart mentions other positive factors. "We have four or five guards who are excellent as far as quickness is concerned. And our defense should be a strong point too. We have good kids, they all get along well and teamwork will be good."

On the minus side, Sweigart mentions their rebounding problem of last year. "They weren't aggressive enough so I've been giving them contact drills which should help to improve this. In addition, their shooting last year was very erratic. But in practice so far this season—if that's any indication—they're doing well."

The Tories will have to put it all together and quickly since their first game this Tuesday evening is a non-league contest against LCAA champs, Manchester. They play Sand Creek next and then last year's Tri-County title holders, Ann Arbor St. Thomas.

But Swiegart is too busy to think about such an ominous opening schedule, "I'm more concerned with getting us ready. If we play our best no one will beat us. We'll be in the thick of it, I'm sure."

Reservations Available

Reservations are still available for the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's annual Holiday Ball to be held Dec. 7 at the Tecumseh Country Club - but hurry, Nov. 30 is the last day to make reservations.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Cyril Desmet, 212 E. Kilbuck, at 423-2427.

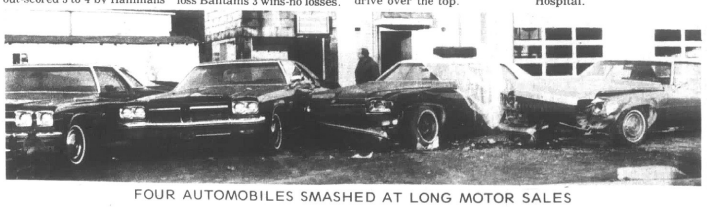
Ball will begin at 9 p.m. and continue until 1 a.m. with breakfast to be served at midnight. Music will be provided by Louis Prange.

Proceeds from the event will go to Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Drive at 60%

Chairman Barbara Blanden reports that the Tecumseh Community Fund Drive "looks more hopeful now," with roughly 60 percent of the goal achieved.

Several divisions remain untotaled, and fingers are crossed that the concluding contributions will put the drive over the top.



FOUR AUTOMOBILES SMASHED AT LONG MOTOR SALES

Skidding Car Hits 4 Others

A skidding automobile, early Monday evening, slammed into parked cars at John Long Motor Sales on N. Evans St., causing damages exceeding $10,000 at the car lot.

Donald E. Linden, 37, of 133½ E. Chicago Blvd., was headed south on N. Evans and apparently lost control after passing over the railroad tracks. His car hopped a curb and then skidded into the first of a line of four used cars.

The 1974 and 1973 automobiles, three Buicks, including an Electra, and an Olds, stopped Linden's vehicle.

The Electra, first one hit, was knocked some eight to 10 feet, and the last car was moved about 18 inches.

Linden, who was admitted to Herrick Hospital for treatment, was cited for careless driving.

Police investigated two other accidents the past week, both occurring on Friday.

Johnny Hall, 25, Adrian, backed into Terry L. Haughn, 28, of 407 Wildwood Circle, on S. Maumee St.

Paul B. Cubberly, 22, of 315 W. Union, backed into a passing car driven by Michael F. Bartenslager, 29, of 408 E. Kilbuck. Mishap occurred on W. Patterson.

NEW COACH

Skins Lose Talent, Still Are Hopeful

Dave Arnold takes over the coaching duties for the Clinton cagers this year, and has a lot to live up to. The Redskins finished second in the LCAA League last season with a 17-6 record.

To make matters worse, the Redskins are without the talents of Bob Vogel, Tom Sharpe and Dan Jurasek. Vogel and Jurasek were named to the all-county first team last year and received all-state honorable mention. Sharpe was named to the second all-county team.

This is Arnold's second year at Clinton after graduation from Grass Lake. In addition, he played four years of football at Eastern Michigan.

"But we're talking about basketball now. Arnold puts his hopes on those players still around who started on the varsity last year. "I look for Dave Santure, Wendell and Warren Corwin and Mark Carlton to get us going at the start of the season.

"We have only five players who were on varsity last year. The rest were JV's. We don't have a lot of height - the tallest player is Tom Richter at 6-3 — but we do have good ball handling and speed. And our board strength is well-balanced. We have an aggressive, defensive team."

Clinton holds its first league game against Sand Creek on Nov. 29th.

"Yarn Lady" for 30 Years

By KATHY KULCZYK

The lady's middle name is "yarn" in the telephone directory.

And it's no wonder. After 30 years in the business of selling yarns, needlepoint and craft accessories, there probably is not anyone in the city - either a baby without an outfit, a grandmother without a shawl or a home without some hand crafted item - without something made with materials from Margaret Kidman's Needle Craft Shop in Tecumseh.

ALWAYS HELPFUL—There is no way of counting the numbers of people who have had their needlecraft problems solved by Margaret Kidman and her daughter Elizabeth in the 30 years that the Needlepoint Shop has existed. The mother and daughter team are familiar to area residents who find that the pleasant conversation and friendly advice are a bonus in their visit with the "yarn lady."

Mrs. Kidman began her small enterprise with stamped sheets. At that time, they were the only linens available. It was not long before neighbors encouraged her to add baby dresses, scarves and yarns. Her stock and clientele started to "grow like topsy," said Mrs. Kidman.

Countless numbers have sought her expertise and brought needlecraft problems to Mrs. Kidman and her daughter Elizabeth, (Mrs. Wilbur Boyce) and the mother-daughter team have personally shown troubled souls how to resolve their problems.

A full line of wool yarns, seldom stocked in other stores are also part of the needlecraft materials and notions available in the shop. Mrs. Kidman draws trade from throughout the state including Reed City, Lansing, Ann Arbor, Monroe, Hudson and Toledo, Ohio.

She said that sales swing and for periods of time some crafts are more popular than others. New interest in needlecrafts may be generated by the energy crisis with people seeking stay at home entertainment. Recent popularity of nostalgia of the 20's, 30's, and 40's may also be reason for renewed popularity of needlecrafts, some customers say.

Mrs. Kidman's own speciality is knitting baby booties. Although a cataract prevents her from seeing the depth in her crochet stitches, she is not hindered in any way in managing her shop and in enjoying herself. Anyone who has had the pleasure of dealing with Mrs. Kidman, knows that her mind is as sharp as a tack.

Mrs. Kidman's family also has an interesting history. She is the daughter of Lewis Waldron and Emma Schreder. Waldron was the brother of William Waldron, who was the father of Wilfred Waldron and Charles Waldron another brother, was the father of Clara Waldron.

Mrs. Kidman, like her cousins, enjoys a rich and full life at the age of 84 years. Long life seems to be a blessing for the Waldron kin.

The parents of the three Waldron brothers arrived in the area in 1846 and their families have been here since.

Mrs. Kidman's great-great grandfather, John Schreder, was a Hessian soldier who saw the American cause, deserted the English and served under Gen. George Washington during the Revolutionary War. In his escape, Schreder's third finger of his right hand was shot off.

Mrs. Kidman's great grandfather, John Schreder, originally from Pennsylvania, came to Raisin Township in 1831 and worked as a miller. "So you see that makes us real Tecumseh folks," says Mrs. Kidman proudly.

Mrs. Kidman has in addition to one daughter, Elizabeth, four grandchildren, three grandchildren in law by the marriage of her grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

And Mrs. Kidman herself has become part of the history of Tecumseh. She has encouraged others to continue pleasurable folk arts of needlepoint, crewel, embroidery, rug making, knitting, crocheting, tatting and a tradition of making items of lasting beauty and durability which become heirlooms.

What's Up At THS

By Renee Lapham

Something new is featured in the pages of the Herald. In case parents and students haven't noticed, the students of Tecumseh High School now have a column of their own, What's Up at THS.

Column is written by Journalism II class, will feature news and announcements of interest to students and residents. Reporters will alternate monthly. This month's reporter is Renee Lapham.

Students are encouraged to directly contact the reporter so that news items can be organized before submitting to The Herald.

The eleventh grade United States History classes have been participating in an election game for the past three weeks. Game is run as an actual campaign with a final election for the Presidency. Four students volunteered as candidates in each class and selected campaign managers.

Five others volunteered as reporters. Rest of the class was divided into seven special interest groups: women's liberation, business, labor, farmers, ethnic minorities, youth, and senior citizens.

Candidates make campaign speeches and then, bargain with interest groups for support. Each candidate and special interest group was given a certain number of Resource Cards, used to buy support in a state or time on the "radio."

Since a candidate had to have 270 electoral college votes to win, he or she would try to get 51 percent of a state's popular vote so he or she could receive the electoral college votes. Some of the most popular states were California, New York, Pennsylvania, and Michigan because of their grand total of electoral college votes would be 134.

Only 36 more votes would then be needed to win the election. Last two days of the election were devoted to tallying up the electoral votes and announcing the winner.

In some of the classes, the votes were split up so that no candidate had 270. When this happened, the class went into part two of the game, electing the President through the House of Representatives. Fifty-one students were selected at random and given a card with a state on it. As each state was called, the student was allowed to cast one vote for the candidate of his choice. This way, there was no chance for a tie.

Drama Club and English classes attended "Spoon River" at Siena Heights College on Nov. 16.

Something New At St. Joseph's

Something new is happening at St. Joseph Academy in Adrian this year, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dangler, 609 Sutton St. are helping it happen.

Reacting to the enthusiasm and dedication of Sister Marcella Hess, new Principal of the Dominican Sisters' interdenominational school for girls, parents have organized to work on behalf of the school.

This St. Joseph Advisory Committee, has accepted Sister Marcella's invitation to seek new ways in which the school will serve the community and expand its educational role, grow in enrollment and build its financial base.

Mr. and Mrs. Dangler, parents of a young student at St. Joseph, are members of the advisory committee. Mr. Dangler will direct a special group sponsoring an open house which will help inform people of the Tecumseh area of the educational advantages offered by St. Joseph Academy.

Open house will be held Nov. 24 from 1 to 4 p.m. All interested people of the area are welcome to tour the Academy, talk to staff members and students, pick up literature about the school and its future and enjoy refreshments. Academy is located on Siena Heights Drive, just east of the Siena Heights College campus.

Some area students are Steve and Theresa Dangler, Kelly DesErmia, Mary Lynn Hedley, Priscilla Shelton, Mary Jo Barrett.

To The Editor

To the Editor:

A very tragic accident occurred early Saturday morning involving six young people. Two were Tecumseh High School students. This saddening incident deeply touched many Tecumseh residents.

But out of the fog of silent mourning many realizations surfaced. People in the area began to realize that they could easily have been involved. Or if not themselves, then it could have been some very close to them. And the chances of similar incidents occurring may be greater than you imagine. In driving along M-50 towards Cambridge Junction the particular stretch near Laird Road is marked with a solitary "curve" sign. Anyone having driven that route before will realize what a sharp curve that is. The sign itself does not indicate the sharpness of the angle. Nor does it indicate that a slower speed is advisable to easily manuever that curve.

How many times have you been driving along at the normal speed limit and come upon that curve? Have you ever found yourself quickly slowing up to keep from entering the on-coming traffic lane? Or, not being able to slow your car in time, you may have found that you had already crossed that yellow line. Did you breathe a sigh of relief that no car at that particular moment was approaching you from the opposite direction? I'm sure that this has happened more often than most of us would like to think.

So, ask yourselves these questions. What if that had been your son or your daughter? Could better signs or warnings be established in that area to perhaps prevent future tragic losses? And last of all, ask yourself what you're going to do about it.

Sincerely,
Rita K. Pace

To the Editor:

Goodwill Industries of America has designated November of each year as "Thanks-for-Giving" month.

Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan, Inc. takes this occasion to thank the communities of Lenawee and Monroe Counties for their support this past year.

Nov. 22 will be an Open House from 1 to 5 p.m. Tours of the facility will give you an opportunity to see how we are working with the handicapped.

Again we thank you, and hope to see you Friday, Nov. 22.

To the Editor:

It would please me, if you would publish the following lines as they express my feelings at this particular time:

I am sorry that the City did not pick up the leaves by Halloween as was promised.

I am sorry that owners allow their dogs to bark so much and annoy the neighbors.

I am sorry that printers use such small print, light ink, and allow words to be so poorly hyphenated.

I am sorry that we have no city owned sports arena—especailly a hockey rink.

I am sorry that some people want a newly elected councilperson to become the Mayor without any knowledge of the work.

I am sorry that some people are dissatisfied with our excellent garbage and trash collection and disposal service. One can buy more bags, if needed. We have had other methods which were not satisfactory.

Last but not least I am one of the many who is very sorry that our faithful poostman, Jack Dull, was asked to resign. We do not understand the wisdom of such action. We depended on him for years and therefore sincerely hope that he is returned.

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler (Mrs. T.)

As an independent agent we answer to one boss—our hometown people

We represent several firms, but we work for only one boss—you. That way we can always place you with a company which we think is best for each line of insurance you need. Naturally, we prefer companies like Auto-Owners who look at a loss and take care of it right away, without haggling or delays. That's one of the reasons we're part of the Altogether Family. Like us, they're always there when you need them.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

"O Lord, Thou hast given so much . . .

Give one thing more — a grateful heart."

Good thought for the upcoming holiday and throughout the year as well. Happy Thanksgiving to everyone.

It was decided by the seven people who attended the Macon Historical Society meeting Nov. 20, to postpone election of officers to a later date when, hopefully, more persons will be present to vote.

It was also agreed that Bob Bush, Sharon Connors, Linda Phillips, and Marilyn Bagby, chosen by the nominating committee, should temporarily hold the offices of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Surely there must be more people in Macon interested in gathering, learning and enjoying the community's wealth of history. These will be the main purposes of the group, and it is not to be confused with an historic district or survey.

Safety and first aid were the main topics of discussion Nov. 20 for Hope Circle members. A motion was made and carried that the Circle purchase one of three fire extinguishers needed for Macon United Methodist Church. It was also decided to assemble a first-aid kit equipped to handle all minor injuries and place it in a closet on the church's main floor.

Mrs. Lois Harsh, president, reminded the group of the Boar's Head dinner, Dec. 7; the United Methodist Women's meeting Dec. 10; the Sunday School children's Christmas play Dec. 22, and the cantata which will be performed by Chancel Choir Dec. 24.

Mrs. Harsh also brought to the members' attention the church's canned goods drive. Donations which will be distributed to the needy should be brought to the church by Dec. 22.

Marian Partain, hostess, served refreshments to eight members, five children and two guests, Mrs. Phyllis Thomas and Mrs. Gwen Moore. "How to Drive Your Child Sane," a Reader's Digest reprint, was read by Mrs. Janice Slick for the morning's program, and discussion concerning the article followed.

Next meeting of Hope Circle is Dec. 18, at the home of Mrs. Mary Foster. Members were reminded to bring presents for secret sisters, as well as for children brought to the meeting, and cookies for annual exchange.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

Lucky were the ladies who attended luncheon last Tuesday given by the Britton Women's Club with guests the Macon Women's Club, county Federation officers, and this reporter.

Hostess Verna Swick, and refreshment committee Lillian Rodgers, chairman, Irene Fournia, Lilah Cadmus, Geraldine Keran and Helen Osterhout provided a delicious luncheon of sliced turkey, dressing and gravy, a multitude of salads and for dessert, that bane of the diet kingdom, pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

Highlighting the gathering was the appearance of Mary Alice Powell, food editor of The Toledo Blade, who gave a witty presentation, chockful of anecdotes and tips.

While nodding my head at her admonition that women bear an inborn tendency to overstuff anyone in sight, my liberationist tendencies bridled at the conclusion that there is no future for getting women out of the kitchen! More and more males, of my acquaintance at least, are breaking the female monopoly on the delights AND drudgery of the kitchen.

Ms. Powell noted that peculiar tendency of women to read menus from right to left, unlike men who read from left to right. I had instant recall of my mother advising me at the onset of my dating career, to "take my cue" from my date when ordering in a restaurant. How many of us have thought economy and ordered chicken only to have our companion order a thick and juicy steak!

Despite the drawbacks of her career - having to duck recognition from restauranteurs who have posted her picture above the steam table, over-exposure to bad service, bad food and bad decor, the need for constant dieting - it was clear by the end of her appearance that Ms. Powell has a good thing going and knows it.

Travel benefits, public position, and an open menu wherever she goes: or, constant jet lag, punching bag for irate diners, and guinea pig for readers? Her job carries both pros and cons, but Mary Alice Powell seems to enjoy both, and who among us wouldn't jump at the chance to try her job, if only for a day. "Food Editor for a Day" . . . it might make a great game show!

Dancers of New York Featured

"Ballet Hispanico", a touring company of six young dancers from New York's Spanish neighborhoods, will perform for Lenawee County students in the third of a series of seven Youtheatre Junior Town Hall productions from the Detroit Institute of the Arts at the Croswell Opera House in Adrian, Dec. 11 and 12.

Drawn from the traditions of Spain, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Mexico, Haiti and the United States, the program dramatizes through dance the variety of cultural heritage from the Latin American world.

"Ballet Hispanico" under the direction of Tina Ramierez, was organized in 1970 and has performed extensively in the New York area.

The Youtheatre of the Detroit Institute of Arts provides classroom teaching materials for use prior to and following performances to assist teachers in achieving the greatest benefit from the shows as learning experiences.

Junior Town Hall productions have been made possible by a matching grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts. Each of the seven shows are being presented to different age levels of children to make it possible for all Lenawee County children to experience the magic of live theatre appropriate to their age level.

Profit or Loss Depends on the Reports

Difference between a profit or a loss may depend, for some farmers, on whether or not they report their crop losses to the county ASCS office, said the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

According to the office, the current farm law authorizes payments to producers of wheat and feed grains who are prevented from planting or who suffer substantial losses in crop production. A feed grain or wheat allotment must be established on a farm and the plantings or production affected by a natural disaster.

Natural disasters are generally defined as extremes in weather conditions such as excessive rains, drought, flood, freeze, and other conditions beyond a human control.

Small Fry and Early Elementary

IF I FOOD AN ELEPHANT by Miriam Young: A young child imagines some possibilities: a wedding procession in India, a circus parade, a picture-taking safari, or maybe just in the yard. Ages 4-8.

WALT AND PEPPER BY Lisl Weil: Walt, a dog, and Pepper, a cat, look at one another from their windows. "It's my street," Walt thinks, and bares his teeth. "It's my street," Pepper hisses. At last the street is really Pepper's own. But why isn't he happy? Ages 4-8.

WHAT THE WIND TOLD by Betty Boegehold: Tossy, a little girl, is tired of looking out her window from her sickbed . . . until the Wind comes to tell her stories about the windows across the way. Six unusually imaginative tales for young children. Ages 4-8.

GREGORY'S STITCHES by Judith Vigna: Gregory fell off his bike and had six stitches in his forehead. One friend told another, and the news becomes an exaggerated but wonderful story. Gregory was a hero who'd rescued his parents from man-eating lions! K-Grade 2.

LATER ELEMENTARY

THE SECRET OF THE HAUNTED MIRROR by M.V. Carey: Why is a smooth-talking Spaniard desperate to buy a certain old mirror? The Three Investigators find they have to dodge threats from the dead, as well as the living, before the mystery is solved.

HELEN KELLER'S TEACHER by Margaret Davidson: The story of indomitable Annie Sullivan, whose extradorinary talents as a teacher were confirmed by the achievements of deaf and blind Hellen Keller. Ages 8-12.

THE MOTHER TREE by Ruth Whitehead: A turn-of-the-century Texas farm is the setting for the story of Pempe, who must help her younger sister, Laurie, accept the loss of their mother while she herself is still grieving over it.

ENCYCLOPEDIA BROWN AND THE CASE OF THE SECRET PITCH by D.J. Sobol: America's Sherlock Holmes in sneakers solves another mystery, challenging the reader to reach the proper solution with him.

GRANDMA DIDN'T WAVE BACK by Rose Blue: Debbie has had a warm and loving relationship with her grandmother for the many years that Grandma has lived with Debbie's family, so it is especially hard for Debbie when Grandma becomes increasingly senile and relatives start talking about nursing homes. In the end Grandma helps Debbie understand and accept the changes that have to come. Grades 3-5.

YOUNG ADULTS

ROMAN GABRIEL — OUTSTANDING PRO by Earl Gustkey: As a 13-year-old junior high school student, Roman Gabriel punted a football 55 yards. He has been doing amazing things on a football. Through Gabriel's eyes and experiences, a reader learns what it's really like to be an outstanding pro.

THE ICEBERG HERMIT by Arthur Roth: In 1757, the Anne Forbes, a whaler, struck an iceberg and went down with all hands except one. Seventeen-year-old Allan survived the wreck and lived for seven desperate years on the desolate coast of Greenland. Through luck rather than skill, he killed a polar bear and raised its cub which became his companion; he struggled to find food and human championship.

TRYING HARD TO HEAR YOU by Sandra Scoppettone. This is the story of one summer in th life of Camilla Crawford. The summer she thought she was in love with Phil Chrystie. The summer her best friend, Jeff, needed her help and she couldn't give it. The summer everyone in her crowd tried hard to listen to each other - but not hard enough. It was a summer of learning about people, learning to accept them — and, not least of all, learning about herself. Age 12-up.

RUTH CRANE by Alison Morgan: Ruth had dreamed of a triumphant return to New York, armed with exotic material for school essays, after spending a holiday in her mother's native village in Wales. But the accident had changed everything. Shy, impractical Ruth had to take care of her spoiled younger brother and, for a while, run her aunt's household. This is a sensitive and gripping story of a girl learning to cope with adult responsibilities. Ages 12-up.

Expand, Modernize Hospital $7 Million Face Lift to Bixby

Emma L. Bixby Hospital will undertake a $7 million construction and renovation project, Ellis E. Berndt, president of the Board of Trustees, announced. New construction will extend in three areas to the east, west, and add a fourth floor to the Fisk-Palmer Wing.

Renovation will expand and modernize support facilities such as laboratory, laundry, X-ray and emergency.

Project is essential if the hospital is to continue to provide the highest level of care and conform with state regulations.

As part of the project, a $2.5 million public fund campaign will be launched. Additional funding of $4.5 million is anticipated through funded depreciation and long-term borrowing.

Present support facilities were designed to meet the needs of the 140 bed Bixby building, which has grown to 254 with an addition.

A major extension to the east, will expand the radiology department adding film processing, viewing and storage rooms, offices and dressing areas. New emergency room will include trauma rooms, consultation and large waiting rooms, adequate storage areas, nurses' station and physicians' room.

Second major extension will be to the west over present doctors' parking lot. A greatly expanded laboratory will have separate areas for processing tests and non-conforming portions. New areas for the lobby, gift shop, medical records and medical library will be created. Laundry facilities will expand in the basement. Hospital main entrance will be relocated to the west.

A fourth floor will be added to the Fisk-Palmer Wing, to house a new Pediatrics unit and provide essential facilities: isolation rooms, a parents' waiting room and and examining rooms which the present unit lacks. Current bed complement will be maintained.

Westward construction will renovate the basement of the Bixby building, including the pharmacy, occupational therapy, respiration therapy, education, volunteer facilities, locker and storage space.

Business and admitting offices, personnel and the surgery waiting rooms will be relocated on the first floor of the Bixby building.

Administrative and nursing service functions will be moved to the second floor, presently occupied by the Pediatrics unit. Also to be relocated on the second floor will be Electrocardiograph (EKG) facilities, speech therapy and Electroencephalograph (EEG) facilities.

Obstetrics, located on the third floor Bixby will be extensively renovated. Over 70 percent of all births in Lenawee County are handled at Bixby Hospital and this unit will experience increased utilization in the future as Bixby becomes the county's obstetrical center.

Two new delivery rooms will be added, with present delivery rooms converted to other uses. A post-natal demonstration room will be added. Father's waiting room will be expaned. New-born nursery will have areas for isolation, high-risk and newborn babies.

Throughout the hospital, the air-handling system, air-conditioning and cooling systems will be improved. A second elevator in the Fisk-Palmer Wing will add efficienty and convenience.

Parking will extend west and rear of the present facility. Traffic flow pattern will be redesigned to accomodate the new lobby location.

All licensure deficiencies cited by the State Health Department and other accrediting agencies will be corrected.

Construction and renovation will be in several phases. Major construction should begin within one year, and handled on a department basis to minimize inconvenience.

County residents may contribute to the hospital project. A formal kick-off for the public phase of the fund campaign will begin early 1975. Teams of volunteers will organize to carry the appeal to the community.

Memorials will be available. Pledges for the campaign may be made over a three to five year period.

Grants Play Role

Did you know that federal and state matching grants have contributed to many of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation projects in Tecumseh?

Cal Zorn, city manager, discovered this long unpublicized fact while researching a talk he recently gave before the Rotary Club.

Matching grants from the federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation assisted in the purchase of the Tecumseh Park property, the construction of the building at the Park, and a state recreation bond grant added funds for the landscaping and drives at the park, and for the tennis courts.

Zorn noted that Tecumseh was one of the first communities in the state of Michigan to receive monies from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. He added that almost any project related to outdoor recreation can qualify for the matching grants.

Cars, Jobs and Progress

Economic progress is like a wheel. When it loses speed it wobbles, and when it stops it falls. Kerplunk.

To keep our economy rolling, Americans must not be afraid to buy what they want and need. Demand means production; more production means more jobs, stronger businesses, and more revenues for our towns and cities, our states and the nation. It adds up to prosperity, and everybody gains.

The automobile is basic to America's economy. It accounts for one-sixth of our Gross National Product. Thirteen million jobs—one in every six—and 800,000 businesses, from steel companies to the corner service station, depend on the automobile.

Right now is the time to buy a new car. Used car values are high. Operating costs on our 1975 cars are reduced, and less scheduled maintenance is required. New cars are a good buy—and buying keeps the wheel of progress rolling.

Bloodmobile At Products

The regularly scheduled Bloodmobile for Tecumseh Products has been cancelled due to the Tecumseh Products strike.

A "quickie" combined Tecumseh Products, Tecumseh and Clinton Community Bank Bloodmobile has been scheduled for Monday, Dec. 2, at the United Products Workers Union Hall from noon until 6 p.m.

All are urged to donate blood - it could be the best investment you'll ever make.

Seniors Meet Dec. 5

Tecumseh Senior Citizens will hold their next meeting Dec. 5 in the Community Center. Meeting will feature a potluck Christmas dinner at noon, with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wise as host and hostess.

SITTING PRETTY with her crocheted bedspreads and dolls is Mrs. Clarence Keller of Clinton.

Tradition is Alive and Well in the Works of Mrs. Keller

by LIBBY LINCOLN

Remember rummaging through the cedar chests in your grandmother's attic, discovering lacy crocheted corset covers, doilies and bedspreads carefully packed away in tissue paper?

Mrs. Clarence Keller is keeping that tradition alive by crocheting another generation of bedspreads, baby's dresses and dolls which will become heirlooms for her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

In her cozy home at 11605 Tecumseh Rd., Clinton, Mrs. Keller is now putting the final touches on Christmas presents for all the family as she watches television, listens to the radio and keeps her hands busy.

Mrs. Keller's specialities are crocheted bedspreads and dolls which she outfits in delicately crocheted dresses and hats. The bedspreads can take up to one year to crochet, with 12 inch squares intricately worked together and topped by roses, pansies or other flowers.

The first spread was made over 17 years ago for her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hunt of 9849 Murphy Rd. In the following years she has completed spreads for each of her grandchildren, in the colors of their choice, for a total of 12 in all.

One quality-conscious bridegroom has placed an order for a bedspread as a wedding gift for his bride, at a cost of $500. Considering that the materials alone can cost $50, and that each square takes approximately eight hours to crochet, the charge for this gift is more than reasonable in terms of the enormous amount of sheer labor involved.

Large and small dolls dressed in lacy white crocheted dresses and picture hats, trimmed with colored edging and minute detail, which take less time to complete than the spreads, have brought lots of happiness to the little girls in the Keller family for two generations. It takes several days to complete a single doll's dress, and Mrs. Keller has made many dolls this year as presents for her great-granddaughters and for several friends who have ordered them for gifts of their own.

Mrs. Keller has crocheted since her early twenties, when as a girl living in Buffalo, N.Y., an elderly English woman taught her the rudiments of crocheting. Her method of crocheting is different from the "new" manner of crocheting, and she remarked that if anyone had to finish a project for her, they wouldn't have any idea where to begin, since the newfangled method is so different from her stitches.

Central to her craft is improvisation. It often becomes necessary to experiment and abandon the pattern to achieve the results she wants. Many of Mrs. Keller's patterns date back 10 years or more, and she notes that too often the new patterns fail to contain complete instructions, which consequently makes experimentation and improvisation imperative.

Spending about four hours a day at her crocheting, Mrs. Keller's hobby has added up to many beautiful bedspreads, enchanting dolls and occasional "special" projects, like a baby's dress for a new great-grandaughter, over the years.

When you think of all the time wasted each day, staring at the tube, gabbing with friends, or listening to the radio, don't you wish you had the knack for creating those intricate webs of string that eventually amount to a magnificent bedspread or other heirloom item? Lets' see...if Mrs. Keller was 20 when she learned how to crochet, maybe there's still hope for some of us!

Society Enjoys Speaker

Wheels in the minds of Tecumseh Area Historical society members were undoubtedly clicking and turning at the Nov. 19 lecture of guest speaker John Collins, Marshall Historical Society president.

Collins presented color slides and spoke about Marshall's efforts for architectural preservation, creation of a historical district and protective ordinance.

Mayor Harold Easton, Elwood Little, president of the Lenawee County Historical Society, Dr. and Mrs. Linquist, new curator of the Lenawee county historical museum and members of the Macon preservation group were guests.

Collins emphasized that architectural preservation increased the value of older homes and new homes in the community as well. He said that property value of Marshall has grown to 40 million dollars in 1970.

Success of preservation program there has also resulted in four consecutive tax rate drops.

Other reasons for historical district he cited were: control of changes, channeling progress, community pride, environmental beauty, real estate value, improved business community.

He also provided his audience with an armchair view of the famous Marshall Walking Tour. Town has over 2,000 volunteers in the yearly project.

Tecumseh Historical Society has a special committee to consider a protective ordinance and historical district and will meet Dec. 3.

Members are Lynn Cook, chairwoman, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Eby, Dave Ruff, Dick Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Berkley, Vern Driscoll, Edna Smith, Wallace Whiting, Geraldine French, Earl Mason, Gina Ballman, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Merrill.

Clara Waldron was voted life membership in the Tecumseh Area Historical Society by members Tuesday night.

18 INCHES FALL, CLOSING SCHOOLS, BUSINESSES

Record Snowfall Buries City, Area

Sunday not only was the first day of December but also a day to be remembered here and throughout southeastern Michigan.

A record-breaking snowfall, 18 inches according to city officials, literally buried Tecumseh and area. It was the biggest snow since 1886 and the biggest ever in Michigan during the month of December.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says street department employees first began working at 6 a.m. Sunday, about two hours after the snow started falling. By noon all employees were at work, attempting to keep up with the snow. Three trucks with plows and a grader were on the streets, some of which were not cleared until after 8 p.m. Monday.

Snow from a northeast wind fell faster than the city could clear. Rural roads were in a worst condition, and many of these roads were not cleared until late Tuesday. City and county employees worked around the clock.

Tecumseh, Britton and Clinton schools, scheduled to re-open Monday after the Thanksgiving vacation, did not open until Wednesday. Blissfield and Monroe County schools were still out Wednesday.

Sunday was the first day of afternoon Christmas shopping hours for many Tecumseh merchants. It was a flop. Most of the folks downtown were merchants themselves and their sales people. People were home shoveling, shoveling and shoveling, trying to keep abreast of the snow.

Fortunately, a light drizzle early Monday morning quit before it turned the streets and snow to ice. Another drizzle Tuesday morning made roads temporarily icy, but it too ended before increasing the hazards of already slippery streets.

Most Tecumseh merchants opened Monday, some opened late and some didn't open at all. With the exception of Monday night's Council meeting, most clubs and organizations postponed or cancelled meetings.

Buck Maynard of Buck's Fleet-Wing was a big help to the downtown, clearing sidewalks of snow before the stores opened, saving merchants hours of shoveling and clearing walks for shoppers.

The record snowfall of 18 inches pushed the total here for the winter to 22 inches. Approximately four inches fell in November. And to think we have at least four months of winter left before we put away the snowmobiles and dust off the golf clubs!

Sunday's 18-inch snowfall was wet and heavy and these three lads took advantage Monday not only of the snow but the fact that school had been cancelled. The snow packed well as this giant snowman at 812 Murray Dr. stands big and tall, about as high as the ladders would let the lads reach. Sculptors were Dan Eaton, 17, Brad Withrow, 11 and Mike Eaton, 15. (Photo by Frank Weir)

DAVE ELLIOTT

Clinton Coach, 22, Killed in Accident

By FRANK WEIR

Funeral services for Warren David Elliott, 22, were held at Clinton High School Tuesday morning. Elliott, a member of the school's coaching staff, was killed in an automobile accident involving three other Clinton residents early Thanksgiving morning on US-127, two miles south of Jackson.

Roughly 600 people attended the services including many Clinton students as well as two bus loads of students from Olivet College from which Elliott graduated in 1974.

Elliott was a passenger in an auto driven by Clinton High School's head football coach, Lee Belfield, 26, when it was struck by a car driven by James Joseph Griffin, 53, of Cement City.

Griffin, according to the Jackson County Prosecutor's office - was charged with manslaughter and was arraigned in the 12th District Court in Jackson Tuesday afternoon.

At that time, Griffin demanded an examination by the court. Examination was set for Dec. 19 at 8:30 a.m.

Belfield was admitted to Jackson's Foote Hospital after the accident, which occurred around 1 a.m. Thursday morning. He was discharged Saturday.

Fred McCrate, 29, another passenger in the Belfield auto, reported yesterday that Belfield suffered several cracked ribs, a bruised kidney and bruises on the left side of his body.

Along with McCrate, Clinton High School's athletic director, and Elliott, Robert Louis Vogel, 18, of Clinton was also a passenger. Vogel was treated and released from Foote Hospital.

McCrate said of the ordeal, "the left side of the car took the impact. The other car came at us and Lee swerved to avoid it, exposing the left side."

McCrate, who escaped virtually uninjured, said further, "I feel quite fortunate that I was unhurt but very, very sorry for what happened. Physically I feel fine."

This was Elliot's first year at Clinton High School. He was an assistant football coach this past season and was also head wrestling coach at the time of his death.

Elliott was a two-time league wrestling champion during his years at Clinton High School from which he graduated in 1970. While at Olivet College, he was named Most Valuable Wrestler in the MIAA conference in his senior year.

Protection Plan Offered

Carl Lamb and Ray Dubrinsky, Tecumseh pharmacists, asked council if the downtown merchants could hire their own night protection to help curb vandalism and thefts in the area.

Police Chief Ray Walton said that accounting for absences, the night shift has three men; to give more protection, three more would be added to city Department.

Council and Mayor Harold Easton encouraged the businessmen to continue their discussion with Chief Walton, find out more and return to council.

Strike Continues

Negotiations with a Federal mediator are scheduled Thursday morning between representatives of the Tecumseh Products Company and the United Products Workers Union.

The strike is in its third week, and little progress has been reported in recent sessions. Negotiations were scheduled for Monday afternoon but were cancelled because of the weather.

No Parking Signs Out

Residents of Wenonah Street and Center Drive will have no parking signs removed from their blocks. Council granted their request at Monday night's meeting.

Councilman Steve Kruger still questioned the need for a snow emergency ordinance to remove cars for scraping streets. He pointed out that it is not fair for cars blocking street cleaning to delay the cleaning where cars are not parked. He asked people promptly remove their cars in snow emergency.

Councilman James Palmer agreed that there should be a better method of announcing snow removal than posting the time at the police station where no one can see it.

One resident said that he believed the neighborhood would cooperate 100 percent in keeping cars off the streets even though signs are removed.

They Tied a Yellow Ribbon'

A Sesquicentennial honor of yellow ribbons around the oldest oak tree has been given by the Little Garden Club of Tecumseh.

Wilfred G. Waldron, a long time observer of the trees in the Tecumseh area gave the club the dimensions of these trees which he has been measuring over the years.

Natural antiquities of the area, Quercus alba or white oaks have been known to live 600 years. Red oaks not quite as long. According to H. Werthner in his book, "Some American Trees," the acorns were used by Indians and settlers as food, made palatable by boiling in water to remove the tannins.

Jack Wikle, Hidden Lake botanist, said that available evidence indicates that oaks of this size were mature at the time of the settlement of Tecumseh. Wikle added that they were large enough at that time that farmers chose to plow around them rather than chop them down.

Increment borings of Shingle Oak trees taken and counted by Daniel Schoen, senior botany student at the University of Michigan, show that some with one and one-half foot diameter were 100 years old. All of the trees below are four feet in diameter and over.

Trees were measured around a point four feet from the ground on the trunk. Their sizes and locations are: White Oak, 14'6" circumference, the broadest spreading crown, 139 W. Brown St.; Bur Oak, rugged member of White Oak family, 14'5" circumference, 320 W. Brown St.; Red Oak, 14'2" circumference, Bishop Drive; White Oak, 13'6" circumference, the one of the tallest, 5200 E. Monroe Road; White Oak, 12'9" circumference, Al Meyers Airport of Tecumseh-Clinton Road; Cottonwood, Pupulus deltiode, 17'2" circumference, Monroe Road at the Community Center.

The Cottonwood was selected because of its size and location but is not as old as the oaks; only a very fast growing tree. This is why so many homesteaders planted them; these trees were found in nature along water ways and were easily transplanted.

Tree sales committee is happy to decorate any oaks of this size or larger that have been missed and also encourage residents to plant trees this spring. Toward this goal and to help pay for the Adams Park, the club is now taking orders on some specimens of trees which will arrive just in time for spring planting.

Pictures of the trees can be seen at the United Savings downtown and Herrick Park Banks. Deadline for orders is Tuesday, Dec. 10. Call any Garden Club member or the Committee, Mrs. Judson Miles, chairman, Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, Mrs. Gordon Comfort and Mrs. Carlton Cook.

Repeating Open House

Clinton's downtown merchants plan to repeat their open house event, Sunday, Dec. 8 from 1 to 5 p.m. after the snow storm pretty nearly spoiled the event planned for last Sunday.

Jean Magee reports that a few hardy souls ventured out Sunday and visited the stores that were open despite the deep snow drifts.

Police Kept Busy

Three breaking and enterings, an attempted B&E, and three larcenies and one act of vandalism were investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week.

A resume of the police reports is:

Nov. 29 - Ken-Ray Drugs in downtown Tecumseh was broken into and the loss has yet to be determined. A rock was thrown through the front door of the pharmacy. Intruder or intruders scattered merchandise about the store, went through the drug department and took a small amount of money from an office desk. It was not known whether any drugs were taken or not when police investigated.

Nov. 29 - A candy machine, loaded with candy and cookies, was taken at Ed's Standard Station, N. Evans at Herrick Park Dr. Police theorize that a pickup was used to haul the machine away.

Nov. 29 - William Filber, 724 Waskin Dr., reported his 1972 motorcycle taken from behind his apartment. A chain, securing the motorcycle, had been cut. Value has been placed at $1,800.

Nov. 30 - Rheonld Ely, 1211 Russell Rd., reported binocuiars and a shotgun taken from his car, parked outside in the driveway. Loss estimated at $100.

Nov. 30 - A large 50-gallon trash can was thrown through a plate glass window at Grey Fox Floral. Police, unable to contact the owners, Gary and Janet Fox, boarded up the window to prevent flowers and plants from freezing.

Dec. 2 - After breaking a window, intruders entered Airport Bowl where they took an undetermined amount of money from three pinball machines and a cigarette machine.

Dec. 3 - Attempts were made to enter McCarty's Market on W. Chicago Blvd. Only evidence were footprints outside a door.

Dec. 3 - George Heeman Jr., owner of Country Market on Russell Rd. at Occidental, reported a breaking and entering and a loss of about $165 in change. Entry was gained through a bathroom window. Footprints here matched those at McCarty's Market.

Zorn Denies Story, No Rate Increases

City manager Cal Zorn has denied an article in a county daily about increasing sewer and water rates here.

Wednesday morning Zorn said increasing sewer and water rates had not been discussed with Council nor has he proposed any rate increases. And, he says rate increases for sewer and water service are not contemplated at this time.

Zorn says inflation may force the city to eventually raise rates, but not now.

The city manager said a Consumers Power's request for a rate increase in the municipal's pumping contract apparently led to speculation and the misleading article in the daily newspaper.

City Action Is Tabled

Monday night City Council reviewed the request of Planning Commission chairman Richard Eggleston, to remove member Stephan Illeck.

Council tabled action until the next meeting, as it wanted to know the specific grounds for the request, whether or not the removal was sought for four consecutive absences or for missing 25 percent of the meetings in a year.

Councilman Steve Kruger further noted that Chairman Eggleston's letter did not specify charter rules or procedures Eggleston mentioned.

Kruger and Palmer opposed tabling the matter.

The Herald's nearly 5,000 copies sure do get around. According to our circulation department, one Mrs. Robert Hunt, we have subscribers in 34 states and three foreign countries. As we've often said, it seems that everyone who ever lived in the Tecumseh area continues to take The Herald after he or she moves away. It's a nice way to keep in touch with old friends.

City Retirement System In Excellent Shape

Tecumseh city Council received word at the regular meeting Monday night that the city Employee's Retirement System is in excellent funding shape.

City manager Cal Zorn pointed out that there are two significant figures in the financial report. Program is funded 100 percent on retirees compared with 93.4 percent, an average based on data submitted by 90 Michigan local government retirement systems. Earned interest income is 2.3 percent more than other systems.

Report also shows that program is funded 97.1 percent for members still working, compared to the average of 46.2 percent for other systems.

Employer contribution rates are also less than average, which means that less is actually paid out from city's general funds, due to good investments.

$500 to Society

Council moved to advance $500 to the Tecumseh Area Historical Society from the Sesquicentennial fund. Society requested the advance to pay a note. It was suggested by Sesqui Executive Committee that 10 percent of the profits be given to the Society. Council has not designated any other monies since a few small bills are not settled.

Compensation

Council agreed to adopt a plan for unemployment compensation to city employees whereby the city reimburses the Michigan Employment Security Commission for benefits paid.

This program will mean the city's first payments, if any, would not begin until July 30, 1976. Same plan was recommended to Herrick Memorial Hospital Board.

Governments were formerly exempt from providing unemployment compensation but now must comply with other employers.

Taxicab Service

At Monday night's meeting, Council granted Carmon and Carson Murphy a taxicab license with the condition that the two provide one half million property and personal liability insurance per person per accident and that the insurance carrier notify the city anytime the insurance is not enforced.

City Receives Permit for Wastewater

City received an interim permit from the Department of Natural Resources to discharge its effluent from the wastewater treatment plant into the Raisin River.

City manager, Cal Zorn, said that city can meet the discharge limitation placed on city in the interim permit, but after June 1977, the department will require phosphorus removed.

By March 31, 1975, the city must submit a detailed analysis documenting the availability of alternative power sources or plans for same.

Council approved the firm of McNamee, Porter and Seeley be retained to prepare the report and or plans for providing alternate power to the plant.

OPEN LETTER

Dear friends,

One day I overheard a passerby say to another, "You're in good hands with that firm". All of us desire the assurance which comes from being "in good hands". We want our children educated by well-trained, understanding teachers and our legal affairs in the hands of interested capable attorneys - so too in selecting a funeral director. We trust that our staff merits this kind of confidence.

Respectfully.

Mascara comes in two forms, cake and liquid. By law it must be colored with government certified dyes. Choose a reputable brand. The cake form is the easiest to use. A small eyebrow brush is needed to brush out powder and groom the brows. An eyebrow pencil of the right shade is often helpful. If your hair is brown, both mascara and eyebrow pencil should be brown, if your hair is gray you might choose black for a dramatic contrast. Eye shadow is for special evening or daytime make-up.

In France the friction bath is very popular. It is both soothing and quieting. With a coarse bath glove on the right hand, gently rub feet, calves, thighs, and abdomen with a circular motion. Then change the glove to the left hand, and gently massage the rest of the body. In hot weather sprinkle a pleasant eau de cologne on the glove. This will smell nice and also help to remove dead, dry skin from the body.

You Told Us

By Libby Lincoln

Big question this week is, "Where were you when the snow stormed?" People who were at home, all warm and cozy, travelers who made their destinations or relatives who stayed with the folks, had a real reason to give thanks.

Thanksgiving day guests of the Calvin Dixons were Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Curry, Mrs. Ina Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ross, Kris and Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Maynard, Doug and Greg.

Mrs. Dixon received a call from her brother Bill Curry in Canoga Park, Calif., that they would have dinner on the patio with the temperature at 80 degrees.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, nee Winonah Waldron, of Ohio, spent the weekend with Mrs. Hamilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred G. Waldron. Ohio couple was snowbound in Milan. Hopegully they were not stranded. "Weather forecasters should be more accurate!" said father.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keller entertained for Thanksgiving dinner Thursday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt of Tecumseh, Mrs. Francis Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson and family of Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hunt of Jerome were hosts at the annual Christmas dinner of the family of Howard Hunt Sunday. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt of Murphy Hwy., Mr. and Mrs. Duaine Hunt and family of Shepherd Road, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hunt and family of Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hunt and family of Occidental Hwy., Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hunt and family of Jerome, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson and family of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey, Jr. of Rogers Hwy., Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hutchinson of Somerset, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. David Hunt of Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Marr of Concord.

Grandpa Hunt received several gifts from the 47 present including a Polaroid camera. The children each received a gift and the adults played robber bingo with their gift exchange. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt will host the party next year.

Melanie Wolf of Plymouth, Ohio returned home Wednesday after spending a week with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt.

HONEYMOONING IN JAMAICA—Recently honeymooning at Holiday Inn - Jamaica were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joyner of Tecumseh. Couple enjoyed the quarter mile white sand beach, varied entertainment schedule and cuisine offered. They thought that Jamaica was a very beautiful island and hope to return in the near future.

Relief for Farmers

A recent Workmen's Compensation Appeals Board ruling may provide Michigan farmers some measure of relief from a state Supreme Court ruling which, in effect penalized farmers who had complied with the law, reported the Michigan Farm Bureau.

In 1967 for the first time, farmers came under a limited Workmen's Compensation law. In Dec. 1972, the Michigan Supreme Court ruled that the limited coverage called for by the legislation was unconstitutional and discriminatory, and farmers, even though they had complied with the law, were furnishing inadequate Workmen's Compensation coverage.

Supreme Court decision carried with it the possibility of heavy penalties and court costs, which could have caused many farming operations to cease full production of food.

Decision rendered by the Workmen's Compensation Appeals Board confirms the belief that farmers were not required to carry full Workmen's Compensation during the period of 1967 through 1972.

If the ruling of the Appeals Board holds, this will mean that farmers can plan for expanded production of all food crops without fear of heavy penalties being imposed by Workmen's Compensation claims for the period of 1967-1972.

Members Speak Out

To the Editor:

This is a message to all dedicated Union Members, thier families and the public.

Once again Mr. Rapin and associates have gone to the press with an irrational attitude and Watergate tactics. This Union is now serving Mr. Rapin and Company notice that this contract WILL NOT be settled with Watergate tactics to the press and public. It shall only be settled at the bargaining table—with a fair and just settlement for all.

Mr. Rapin, grasping at straws, even goes back to the 1968 contract. If his Watergate tactics are giving him nightmares, we are sorry, but we can not help him. Mr. Rapin seems to have forgotten a very old phrase—"You can fool part of the people part of the time, but not all of the people all of the time."

This Union is tired of his little games. After all our Union members' jobs, their families and their lives are at stake.

This Union thinks that contract negotiations are very serious business and should be treated as such. We are prepared to do what ever is necessary to bring to all our members a fair and just settlement. We hope the company has somebody responsible enough to do the same.

Thank you,
Concerned Union Members

ADULT BOOKS - FICTION

ANGER IN THE WIND: Panoramic saga of the settling of the American West. The story of a proud man and the four women who deeply affect him. Logan Forster.

TIDE: An experiment in radiation treatment of fish in a fish farm is successful in producing fast-growing fish for man's consumption. But these fish show horrifying abnormal aggressiveness toward other fish and even against man. Human beings who have consumed these fish show same destructive tendencies. Zach Hughes has written a terrifying novel of catastrophe.

THE PALERMO AFFAIR: To assure the success of the Allied invasion of Sicily, the American government searches for allies behind German-held lines and invokes the aid of the Mafia. Colin Forbes has written a fast-paced and action-packed novel with the fate of a daring plan of action in the doubt to the last cliff-hanging moments.

There will be no December meeting. A Merry Christmas is wished to everyone.

Next meeting is Jan. 27 at the United Methodist Church. Program will be "What Makes Your Auto Run?", presented by John Wotring.

Watershed Council Proceedings

An organizational meeting of the newly created River Raisin Watershed Council was held Wednesday in the Tecumseh City Hall, 309 E. Chicago Blvd., Tecumseh.

One of four such organizations in the state, the ... established to allow communities lying within the naturally defined river area to participate in the management of their water resources.

Council will serve as a forum for the identification and discussion of watershed-wide issues.

A chief activity of the group will be to generate information, define goals for the protection and improvement of the River Raisin and represent the water resource concerns of the watershed community to state and Federal Water Resource Agencies. Local member units of Government will receive technical and policy assistance from the council.

This first meeting provided an opportunity to become familiar with the capabilities of the new unit.

Additional information may be obtained from Dale Granger at the Department of Natural Resources or Jerome Fulton, Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner.

No Storm Stops Baby

BRITTON—Mrs. Roger Haft of Sutton Road, decided that snowstorm or not, about 9:30 p.m. Sunday, was the time she had better get to Bixby Hospital to have her baby.

For the past week, the Hafts and son Scotty had been spending nights at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faust, Braun Road, about five miles northeast of Clinton, in case there was an emergency.

There was! The State Police were called and the Washtenaw County Road Commission, just getting ready to lock up for the night, were pressed into service with a scraper.

Roads were scraped in time, and baby boy, Jason Edward Haft, made his appearance at 3:45 a.m. at Bixby Hospital, despite the worst snow storm of the century.

Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Roy Haft of Clinton-Macon Road.

"Heidi" Is Host For 2,500 Children

More than 2,500 Lenawee County school children will visit Dawson Auditorium next week to view Adrian College's production of Johanna Spyri's beloved classic, "Heidi." The play is one of the three top-notch theatre attractions to be presented Wednesday through Saturday (Dec. 4-7) by the department of speech communication-broadcasting-theatre at Adrian College.

Primary attraction for children will be "Heidi" which will be produced at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Thursday and 2 p.m. Friday for youthful area students by reservation only.

Play retains all the well-loved episodes that keep the story eternally alive in the hearts of children of all ages.

It will be presented for everyone to enjoy, free without reservations at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday in Dawson Auditorium. Reserved full houses of more than 1,000 students are expected for both Thursday performances and reservations for the Friday program already exceed 500.

For more information about the other productions, readers may contact the college.

Study Group Meets

Northeast Study Group of the Cooperative Extension, sponsored by the MSU, met in the home of Mrs. Clifford Southord on Milwaukee Road last Tuesday evening. Ten members and one guest, Mrs. Elmer Wilt, was present. Mrs. Charles I Cox presided as chairman.

Mrs. Fred Helms led the discussion on "What we know about diet and the heart." Mrs. Ellsworth Robison presented the second part of the program, "Coping with stress."

December meeting was changed to Dec. 17 and will be a potluck supper in the home of Mrs. Fred Helms, including an exchange of Christmas gifts.

Annual Christmas Arts and Craft Show Sunday

Annual Christmas Arts and Craft Show sponsored by Tecumseh Jaycees and Auxiliary will be held Sunday, Dec. 8 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at United Products Workers Union Hall.

Among the wide variety of arts and crafts to be shown by the 75 exhibitors will be displays of china painting, ceramics, rock jewelry, stained glass, creative arts, wood carving and demonstrations of glass blowing.

Proceeds of last year's show were used for the bleacher on the Little League field, the glass case in the historical room at the library, and an exercise bicycle for Lenawee Institute.

DECORATIVE CRAFTS—Tecumseh Jaycee Arts and Crafts Show co-chairman Dan Bush, and exhibitor, Pat Seay are shown with a calico and straw wreath, just one of the hundreds of decorative gifts which will be on display at the United Products Workers Union Hall, Sunday, Dec. 8 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Surprise

MACON — A well-kept secret by 120 students and 85 staffers at Boysville created a surprise retirement party for Mrs. Edward Zick, Tuesday, Nov. 26. She is retiring from the cafeteria staff at the school in mid-December after serving for 10 years.

The surprise was incorporated into the annual Thanksgiving banquet for the boys and staff.

Mrs. Zick had been asked to read the opening scripture at the Thanksgiving service.

Brother Eugene expressed appreciation for "Ma" Zick's 10 years of service, noting that she was a "real inspiration to the boys."

She was always among the first staffer on duty preparing breakfast, then at lunch time could be found dishing up the desserts and a friendly greeting for each boy.

The students' offertory procession presented Bertha with cards, posters, letters, tributes and a corsage, all made by the boys.

Tributes to Mrs. Zick were read by student representatives and by Brother James Buckley and Chaplain Father Marks.

Ed Zick, in tribute to his wife, read the quotation from Proverbs, "a virtuous woman is more priceless than rubies."

Other family members present were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Zick and children.

The candlelight banquet after the service, featured turkey and all the trimmings.

A set of luggage was presented to the surprised guest of honor by the staff and students.

When fears speak louder than facts.

America is a strong country, the richest and the strongest in the world. Buying the goods free enterprise produces—whether cars or clothing or houses—is the lifeblood of American business. Buying trims down idle inventories, steps up production, increases the number of jobs, and generates tax revenues. Buying keeps America's economy humming.

Consider these facts: (1) our new cars, on the whole, deliver better mileage than in previous years, even as they emit less pollution; (2) they require less scheduled maintenance, so they cost less to run and to keep up; (3) used car values have never been higher.

In short, a new car is a good investment. Right now is the time to buy a new car. And that's a fact.

Beyond the timber line rises sheer rock, towering above the clouds themselves. Looking at this great giant of nature we marvel at God's creations . . . and are aware of the comparative insignificance of man.

Yet, man is far from insignificant, save in physical size. For God, after all, made man in His image. And He gave man a brain, and a soul, with a sense of right and wrong. He gave him character and responsibility.

It is man who can progress to heights far greater than this mountain. But he needs help to do it—God's help, through the help of the Church.

You weren't meant to stand alone in this world. Remember that . . . and go to Church this Sunday.

OUR LAST SNOW STORM

To cover the last hectic weeks of packing and to allow for traveling and settling in Florida, I wrote several articles ahead. This one, for example, was dictated on Nov. 14. The weather could have not cooperated more beautifully.

We were thinking and planning Florida but looking through windows at the most wintery of Michigan winter scenes. An all night snowfall had dumped five or six inches of the white stuff and I must admit it was beautiful.

The snow was just wet enough to stick and pile up. Truly a winter wonderland. Birds were in a tizzy of excitement. It was a full day of bird watching and bird watching at its very best too. I could almost accuse Mother Nature of putting on this superlative show in an effort to taunt and tease—did we truly want to leave all of the excitement and beauty? Just see what we would be missing.

Second thoughts about our upcoming winter adventure in Tarpon Springs gained no foothold though. Yes, the snow was breathtakingly beautiful. And yes, all of the bird business at the feeders was great fun.

But I took one look at Dad shivering as he made the rounds filling all the feeders, I watched three cars slide around the corner, I looked at all the dirty slush and ugly mess in the streets as the cars plowed back and forth and I thought of being inside for the next six months because pretty snow and slippery ice are not friends of the wheel chair — it was time for us to be going to Florida.

Really though, the birds put on quite a show. Even before the banquet boards were set, some of the gang came by to say good morning. They were also looking for breakfast. Blue jays, four of them, came flying in, and as they settled on the snow laden branches of the nearby Maple trees, four individual snow storms were created.

All day long we were conscious of these snowfalls as primarily the wind, but also the birds and squirrels, undid the tree trimming that the storm had spent all night doing.

And snow always brings cardinals. Big bright gorgeous male cardinals and lovely fawn colored females. Gertie T. and I laughed at young junior cardinal — he has finally grown up and only has faint traces of juvenile plumage. We could almost hear him wondering what had suddenly happened to his world and what was all this cold white stuff?

His feathers were fluffed out against the wind and he sat hunched up on a little snow-free spot of a nearby limb. However, he was all cardinal enough to have picked a perch bathed in sunshine. He knew that a red bird, a snowy background, and a spotlight of sunshine create the loveliest of winter pictures.

The mourning doves were out in full force too. One or two occasionally came down to swallow a few kernels of corn but primarily they were tree sitting. 'Just hanging around' as the old saying goes. It apparently was a lazy day for them or maybe, once snuggled down in a comfortable position, they just hated to move.

And as protection against the wind and snow, their feathers were all fluffed out — we watched mourning doves who looked almost as big as footballs. Birds' feathers are almost perfect insulation material, fluffed up in a certain manner they trap warm air next to the body thus maintaining body heat. The severe weather which birds can survive is absolutely astounding.

As if knowing we would soon be on our way, one of the infrequent freeloaders came by. The yellow-bellied sapsucker in all of his disarrayed and unkempt glory. These are such funny looking birds, never have I seen one 'fresh from the feather dressers'. They always look like a bunch of ragged feathers just thrown together.

After a good session of suet eating, he came up to the near-my-window feeder. Looking for dessert possibly. At close range I saw that this was a young female. The top of her head was not that distinctive sapsucker brick-red. It is not until after the second summer that these gals exchange their black hats for red ones.

Running true to form however, she was not wearing a slick and pretty black head covering. It was very, dull, almost moth-eaten, and showed slight traces of the adult color it will become.

So it is that the above is a brief rundown, it was a beautiful and exciting day but, as much as I enjoyed the action, I could not shake the hope that, for this year at least, it was our last snowstorm.

Final Report Date Dec. 10

Lenawee County farmers who have protection on corn and soybeans and feel that they have not produced their guarantee under the terms of the contract should be advised that the final date for reporting a loss is Dec. 10, said Albert Dalton, Jr., Contract Service Center Director for the Indianapolis center.

Anyone who has not completed harvest should also give notice by the above date, if a loss is anticipated.

The Indianapolis Center services approximately 20,000 farmers who are policyholders carrying FCIC all risk protection. FCIC offers protection on the following crops in Lenawee County, corn, soybeans, wheat.

Office for the county is located at 1123 W. Chicago Road, Coldwater, 49036.

A&P ANNOUNCES OPERATION AWARE.

The President says that inflation is Domestic Enemy Number One. And here's how A&P is going to help you fight it. We're starting a new consumer program called Operation Aware. Because we're aware of the problems every consumer is facing today. These are the first steps we're taking to fight them.

1. AN EARLY WARNING SYSTEM ON PRICE INCREASES: THE AWARE LIST.

Every week we will voluntarily post a list of price increases, such as those received from manufacturers, a full seven days before we actually change our price. That gives you one week to purchase at the old price - subject, of course, to product availability. You'll also find "Be Aware" shelf tags on many frequently purchased items, with the day of the price increase right on the tag. Of course, the Aware List won't include perishables like meat, eggs or fresh fruit and vegetables where markets fluctuate daily; items controlled by law; or advertised specials. So before you plan next week's shopping list, check this week's Aware List and fight inflation.

2. A PRICE FREEZE ON A&P PRIVATE LABELS.

Starting today, A & P voluntarily posts a ceiling on over 1000 A & P Products. (Smaller stores may not regularly stock all items, but a list is available in all stores.) That means prices will go no higher at least until the end of the year, on many products that you use everyday..., bread, cheese, pasta, coffee, non-fat dry milk, frozen dinners and canned peas and corn. Advertised specials below the freeze price will still be offered. We've put the freeze on over our private labels because they represent the best value in our store and we will hold down the prices, even if our ingredient costs go up.

3. OUR 13 POINT CONSUMER PROTECTION POLICY.

It's our continuing commitment to making you an Aware shopper by reminding you of what every A&P store owes you and by informing you of ways to get the most for your money. Look for the signs going up inside A&P stores spelling out all the protection A&P gives you: 1. Guaranteed Satisfaction 2. Exceptional Value 3. Low Price With Absolutely No Compromise In Quality 4. Rain Check Product Availability 5. Product Freshness Through Open Dating 6. Consumer Information 7. Courteous Service 8. Cleanliness 9. Safe And Healthy Products 10. Shopping Convenience 11. The Butcher's Pledge 12. Variety of Choice and 13. People To People Communication.

WE OWE YOU MORE THAN JUST FOOD. A&P

Group Explores Dance As Sacred Expression

by Kathy Kulczyk

Dance expresses life in muscular movement. In the social life of man it has played a part which touches every activity of the individual and society. It satisfies the human instinct of play, love of excitement and also makes a suitable expression of the most solemn and controlled emotions.

It expresses drama, exercise, excitement, a past time, play, art and yes, even worship.

Fourteen children along with their adult leader, Jo Cooley, have been exploring the use of body movements and the meaning of sacred dance. For 10 weeks, group met in one of the new Christian education classes at the First Baptist Church, Tecumseh.

Group practiced "movement exploration," various types of movement and expressions such as fear, curiosity, etc., with a Thanksgiving presentation as its objective.

None of the youths have had previous dance experience and several in the group, aged second grade to Junior high school, were rather timid at first, said Mrs. Cooley.

Group learns together in a Christian atmosphere of worship. "It is our offering as the choir might sing, someone might read scripture or a minister might preach," explained Mrs. Cooley.

She said that so far the reaction to the group's activity has been very favorable. "The Rev. Kenneth Boyd, pastor, has really been open and cooperative." Purpose of the short mini-courses, of which the dance class was one, is to monitor the needs of the adults and young people of the congregation, encourage Christian fellowship and worship.

Dance group first appeared at the United Methodist Church Harvest Festival at the regular worship service Nov. 17. Mrs. Cooley's pastor, the Rev. Allan Gray invited the group.

It's worship consisted of three parts, and interpretation of scripture, an affirmation of faith in which two groups expressed individual ideas in a creed, and movements to a Thanksgiving hymn.

Nov. 24 group repeated the service at the First Baptist Church. Group dons long choir robes for its worship.

"No one raised an eyebrow and everyone has been accepting. It has been a great personal experience and a nice addition to the congregation's services," Mrs. Cooley commented.

She said students originated their own movements. It keeps the kids coming. And the group is actually interdenominational since children invited their friends from other churches to participate.

Mrs. Cooley, who received her masters degree in dance from the University of Michigan, has been involved in worshipful dance since high school.

She explained that it has grown in popularity in the East and especially in Michigan. "It appeals to people," she observed, "as a creative outlet and in a religious spirit, it is an emotional involvement in worship."

The Rev. Boyd is very pleased with the results of all the Christian education courses. He said "It is important to involve people and their talents whenever you can to make a service meaningful. This particular class has shown that if there is a place for it, such an activity can be included. We should be open to various media in honoring God."

Pastor Gray said "One of the great deeds of religion is self-expression." He cited David's dance before the Ark as one example of the biblical connotations of the movement of dance.

Gray commented that perhaps the growing popularity of sacred dance is a reaction to the regimentation in society and search for expression as individuals.

Group will disband temporarily and may come together again if there is further interest next spring.

Use of sacred dance in church history is probably unknown by church goers of the 20th century. This reporter learned that in early Christianity, bishops led the faithful in the sacred dances both in the churches and before the tombs of the martyrs. Practice was forbidden by the Council of 692, but prohibition was ineffective. Centuries later, the Liturgy of Paris included dance in a rubric. As late as the 18th century, dancing by the ministers on saints' day was practised in French provinces.

In these cases the dance was considered a real form of prayer.

Exchange Club Hosted by Rotary

Exchange Club and its president, Ray Puffer, were guests of Tecumseh Rotary Club Tuesday.

Jim McDowell sponsored the program presented by Don Berkley, assistant principal of the Junior High School. His subject was Christmas in Williamsburg, Va. as it might have been in Colonial days. Color slides showed all types of decorations and wreats made from trees, flowers, fruits and nuts available to the first families of Williamsburg.

Of course there was the traditional mistletoe and noted absence of all Christmas tree lights. Prizes are given for the best decorations created each year.

Wandering Rotarians making up their meetings were Howard Emrick, Adrian, Tom Young and Max Steffens, Clinton; Francis Lockwood and Bob Kessel of Saline.

Student guest was Tom Gray, grandson of Glenn Driscoll. He likes the sport hockey and aspires to be a draftsman.

Reservations are now being taken for annual Rotary Ann Party at the Country Club Dec. 10 with the Raisin River Rats providing music.

Joint annual Kiwanis Rotary Salvation Army Kettle Drive for Christmas has been scheduled for Dec. 20-21.

Exchange Club was invited by president Les Proctor, to participate. All Rotarians are used to sign for a two hour stint starting at 10 a.m. Friday at five locations, A&P, Kroger, United Savings Bank downtown, Herrick Park and the new W. Chicago branches.

Tecumseh Equestrians met Nov. 12 at the home of Max and Joan Smith. A short riding demonstration preceeded the business meeting.

New members were welcomed. A Christmas party was planned and will be Dec. 22.

Dr. R. Dean Kirkland will speak at the Dec. 17 meeting on "Horses and General Horse Care." Jon Anglin and Jim Neill will also demonstrate parts of the horse. Decmeber meeting will be at the Gary Jahner home.

Membership decided to begin their leathercraft projects with a leathercraft workshop at the January meeting.

For further information, readers may call Joan Smith, 423-4454.

Fran Hill Is New PR Director for Siena Heights College

Veteran news woman, Fran Hill, takes over Public Relations department at Siena Heights College. She succeeds the late Thomas Emmet, who died suddenly last summer.

Appointment of Ms. Fran Hill as Director of Public Relations has been announced by Dr. Hugh Thompson, president of Siena Heights College in Adrian.

The post has remained vacant since the death of the former director, Tom Emmet Sr., in July.

"We believe that Ms. Hill typifies Siena's new concept of life-long learning as a princple to ensure continued growth as an individual," Dr. Thompson said. "Siena believes that learning should not stop with a degree at age 22, or 32, or 42, but continued with higher education courses throughout life."

Ms. Hill (Mrs. John) has had extensive experience in the field of communications including 12 years newswork and 20 years of publication in nationally circulated magazines.

Positions held include women's editor and city editor of the Hillsdale Daily News; court reporter and feature writer for the Adrian Daily Telegram; special writer for the Detroit Free Press, the Toledo Blade and the Jackson Citizen-Patriot; and area news editor of the Lenawee Tribune.

In 1969, Lenawee Probate Court commissioned Ms. Hill to research, write and supervise publication of a 48-page copyrighted booklet entitled, "Lenawee Youth Center—Past and President."

National publication includes articles in Ford Times, Odyssey, Family Circle, Design, and Generation, the U. of M. quarterly.

Ms. Hill is a charter member of the Michigan Women's Press Club, affiliated with the National Federation of Press Women. In 1973, she was elected to the National League of American Pen Women, Chicago branch, and holds several awards for work in communications.

After graduation from Adrian High School, she attended Corcoran School of Fine Art in Washington D.C. and continued studies at Wayne State University, the University of Michigan and Siena Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill are the parents of four children.

NFO Presses for $2 Billion

President Oren Lee Staley of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) announced recently that NFO will press for a $2 billion authorization to be passed by Congress quickly this month to permit excess U.S. livestock and milk products to be converted into food for starving people in foreig lands.

"Accordingly, NFO has called on its members and all livestock raisers and feeders to end the destruction of their uneconomical, excess animals until Congress has had an opportunity to authorize and direct the Commodity Credit Corporation to spend $2 billion buying excess and uneconomical calves and cows and other excess animals and animal products and arranging for distribution of the meat and other products to the starving people of other lands. This will include pork and dairy products.

"We have talked with members of Congress who have indicated a willingness to introduce the necessary legislation when Congress reconvenes next week.

"We solicit Administration support and quick action so that we can quickly end the paradox of excess production and hunger in this world," said Staley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald K. Ray of 765 Alexander Drive, Adrian, announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Mildred to Phillip G. Rumpf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin G. Rumpf of 4283 Dillingham Drive. Miss Ray is a 1970 graduate of Adrian High School and is employed at Ray's Carpet Center. Mr. Rumpf graduated from Missouri Military Academy in Mexico, Mo. in 1973, and is associated with Rumpf Truck Line, Inc. A May 17, 1975 wedding is planned.

Christmas Concert at THS Gym

Band members of Tecumseh Junior and Senior High School and their director, Jimmie Rice, proudly invite the area residents to the annual Christmas Band Concert, Thursday, Dec. 12, 8 p.m. at the high school gymnasium.

Eithth and seventh grade bands, the junior and the senior varsity bands will present several Christmas selections including unfamiliar ones as "Christmas in England," "Wintery Scene," and "Spirit of Christmas," and favorites such as "Winter Wonderland."

There is no admission. Students will assemble Dec. 10 to hear the entire high school music department.

"Over the river and through the woods, to Grandmother's house we go", may be the way to go for some folks on Thanksgiving Day. However, as a Grandma of some 13 years, I think we're really lucky when a daughter who is handy with a turkey invites us to dinner. And, when her Dad proclaimed, "best turkey I ever tasted," he crowned the chef with honors. The Harold Calhouns, son Terry, the John Seay family and Mr. and Mrs. John Wakeford of Tecumseh were dinner guests of the Douglas Kirbys of Mason.

Mrs. James Meeks is recuperating at home after major surgery at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker and family entertained for Thanksgiving dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reader and family of Okemos and Eugene Vaughn and son of Tecumseh. The Readers remained for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Fern Earl spent the Thanksgiving weekend with their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt in Fairfield, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Goodman and family entertained for dinner Thanksgiving Day, his mother, Mrs. Rachel Goodman of Adrian and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Bowers of Tecumseh. The occasion also honored Michael Goodman whose second birthday was Dec. 1. Friday evening, Michael had another birthday dinner at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Walz in Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Greenfield and son and Sylvia Chandler of Ann Arbor were dinner guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mahrle and Bertha Mahrle. Family Thanksgiving at the Greenfields was on Sunday, when Mr. and Mrs. Lundy Edwards of Howell and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Greenfield of Britton came for the day.

A surprise birthday party honored Mrs. Howard Hintz, Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Greenfield. Guests included Mr. Hintz, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blumhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rynd, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKenna.

Mrs. Dan Reilly and brother Robert Sproat spent Thanksgiving with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Siembad in Livonia.

Mrs. Ivah McCombs entertained for Thanksgiving dinner her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crane of Cumberland, Md., granddaughter Connie Crane of Royal Oak, Mrs. Terry Brooks and daughters, and Amos Crane. Evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Carson Arbuckle of Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Corwin were at Grayling recently to attend the funeral of his stepmother, Mrs. Charles Corwin, 87. She had been ill in a nursing home for quite a while.

Underwoods Get Oldsmobile Line

Oldsmobile line of cars has been added to the dealership of John Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac, auto agency located at M-52 and US-12, just west of Clinton.

The Olds franchise was officially granted to the Clinton dealer, and a Tecumseh resident, on Nov. 8. The addition of Olds has changed the agency's name to John Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac-Oldsmobile.

Mr. Underwood joined his father, George Underwood Sr., in the Chevrolet-Pontiac agency in 1956. The agency at that time was 16 years old. For the past 10 years he has been the sole dealer.

The agency, originally located in Clinton, was moved to new and larger quarters in 1969, about three miles west of Clinton. A large building expansion, some 7,000 square feet, was completed earlier this year, followed by a 72,000-square-foot addition this fall to the agency's lot.

Three Join Cub Scouts

CLINTON—Kevin Pike, Brian Ford and Christopher Marsh were the new boys received into the Cub Scouts at the pack meeting on Nov. 26.

A Thanksgiving skit was put on by Den 2.

Cubmaster Dave Hough presented the following awards: one year pin, Scott Dusa and Nick Duede; two year pin, Dan Krueger, Jeff Heimerdinger; seven year pin, leader, Mrs. David Hough; bear badge Mark Caruso; silver and gold arrows, Donavan Reeve, Peter Wolf; Tom Thompson, Todd Rockwell, Dan Krueger.

Other awards were: summertime awards, Scott Hough, Steve Houghton; Webelo awards, athlete, Don Everett, Jim Murand, Mark Caruso, Scott Relitz, Dave Kussmaul, Dan Krueger; aquanaut, Jason Bolgos; sportsman, Eric Rockwell.

Dan Krueger, Mark Caruso and Jim Jurand graduated into Webelos.

Den 5 earned the Cubby Award for having the most parents present.

Cub Scout Christmas party will be Dec. 10 at 7 p.m. in the Middle School. A $1 gift exchange will be held and treats will be provided.

A skating party will be held Dec. 30 from 1 to 3 p.m. in Adrian.

Boards Discuss Working Budget

CLINTON — At a special meeting of the Clinton Village Council, Clinton Cemetery Association Board and Clinton Township Board, agreement was reached to change the responsibility for the operation of the Riverside Cemetery in the village.

Until now the Riverside Cemetery has been operated, with an annual budget of about $12,000, by the Clinton Cemetery Association, with annual donations from both the Clinton Village and Clinton Township.

Because of the financial difficulties arising as costs of operation increase each year, the Association sought the change in operation.

Village Council took formal action, Monday, to assume 20 percent of the cost of operation, if Clinton Township would assume 80 percent of the cost, subject to approval by the Township.

Township Board will take formal action at the next meeting Dec. 9.

Clinton Cemetery Association would be dissolved if this plan is adopted. Many legal technicalities are involved and matter may take time to consummate.

George Lancaster, a member of the Clinton Cemetery Association since 1946, has been the president for 15 years.

90th Celebrated By Ex-Pastor

CLINTON—The Rev. Rial Simons, who served as pastor of the Clinton and Macon Methodist Churches from 1933 to 1941, observed his 90th birthday Dec. 4.

He resides at the Vista Grand Villa, 2251 Springport Road, Jackson, a Baptist retirement home. He and his wife, nee Helen Clack, celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary recently.

Although confined to a wheelchair, his mind remains keen, and he is still an avid Detroit Tiger baseball fan. On Saturday mornings he conducts a short worship service at the home and has led some classes in reading poetry.

Stoic Society Gets Member

CLINTON—Denise Winchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Winchell, Jackson, formerly of Clinton, has been inducted in Stoic Society, the oldest honorary organization at Eastern Michigan University.

Only those students who are at least sophomores with a 3.5 grade point average or higher, and have demonstrated good character and leadership are eligible for membership.

Membership is based, in addition, on the recommendations of fellow students and faculty members.

Stoics work to encourage high ideals for scholarship and service. It is one of the highest honers that can be bestowed upon a student at the University.

Denise is a sophomore studying secondary education majoring in Spanish. She is a gradute of Clinton High School.

Board Elects Beryl Albring

BRITTON—Last week the Britton-Macon Board of Education met and elected Beryl Albring as the board's representative on the CEPD coordinating council.
Members decided to go 50-50 with the Band Boosters on the purchase of a new French horn.
Tuition for the 1974-75 school year was set at $94 for elementary and $127 for secondary.
Board members signed individual teacher contracts and approved purchase of a used refrigerator for the school cafeteria.

Cub Scouts Hold Meeting

BRITTON—Cub Scout Pack 23 held their monthly meeting Nov. 26 in the Scout Building, which was decorated in a Thanksgiving theme by Den 3.
Meeting opened with Den 5 leading the group in the pledge to the flag.
Den 1 gave a skit on "Thanksgiving" and demonstrated the various types of knots they had learned.
Webelos told about the different referee hand signals and what they mean in a basketball game. "Loud Mouth" award went to Den 2 and Den 5 took the "Cubby" award for the highest precentage in attendance in their den.
Announcement was made of the resignation of Mrs. Harold Lutz, den mother for Den 5. Mrs. Marvin Stottler will replaced her as the new den mother for that den.
Den 3 closed the meeting with thoughts on Thanksgiving, and also provided the refreshements.

Resigns

BRITTON—Charles Mellring resigned as pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church Nov. 17. He has accepted the pastorate of the new Ridgeway Baptist Church, a splinter group of Bethel Baptist Church.

REV. STANLEY WILSON

Missionary Will Be Speaker

RIDGEWAY—Philippines, with its complexities and challenges, will be presented in a special service at the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Stanley Wilson, career missionary to the Philippines, will be featured in the service.
The Rev. James Stephenson, pastor of the Church, invites the entire community.
The Rev. Wilson served 16 years in Michigan and abroad as a teacher, Bible School Director, preaching and acting superintendent of Faith "Academy."
He will display several artifacts from that country.
During their furlough year the Wilson's make their home in Howell. They have one son, Byron, and four daughters, Bethany, Brenda, Barbara, and Becky.
The Rev. Wilson's father pastored in Ridgeway church in 1927-1936.

$35,930 in Aid

BRITTON—Amount of state aid for Britton-Macon Area school district in the 40th Legislative District has been announced by Rep. Jack Mowat (R-Adrian) for the Dec. 1 payment period.
Britton received $35,930.
Also listed among funds to school districts for Title I funds of the Elementary-Secondary Eduction Act of 1965, Britton received $500.

Named to All-Conference

Dermyer Is Honored, Grads Have Big Season

Three Tecumseh High grads and one from Britton are having a big season on their college football team. All play for the Grand Valley Lakers. The school is located in Allendale, Michigan.

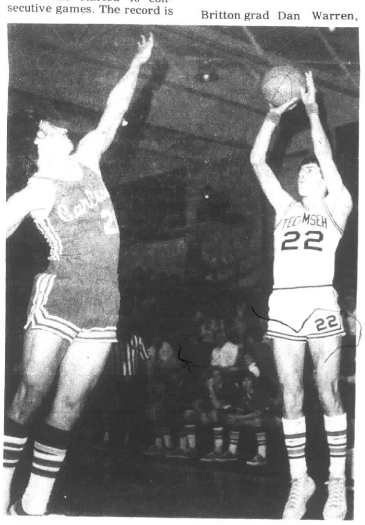
Tecumseh's Dennis Dermyer, 6–3, 215, is having the best year, recently being named to the all—conference first team. A sophomore, Dennis has started 18 consecutive games. The record is 21 so Dermyer has a good chance to surpass that next season. His freshman year, he started as a linebacker switching to defensive end this season.

Head Coach Jim Harkema comments, "He's just an extremely steady player. He's not the kind of guy you always notice from the stands but he's always where he's supposed to be."

Britton grad Dan Warren, 5–10,170, is a senior . He was hampered by an old injury this season but still rushed for 150 yards with a per carry average of 5.5 yards.

Like Dermyer, Tecumseh's Dave Biscupski, 5–9,165, is also a sophomore. As a freshman, he played wide receiver moving to running back this year. In addition, he led the Laker's in kickoff returns. As an alternate in the Laker backfield, Dave averaged better than six yards a carry in picking up 148 yards for the season.

Indian grad Dan Gunder, 5–10, 180, plays safety in the Grand Valley defensive secondary. Dan is considered the hardest hitting of the Laker safeties.



LEADING INDIAN SCORER — Ken Biscupski, number 22, takes a shot during the Indians victory over Gibralter Carlson last Friday night 70-60. Biscupski was the top shooter that night connecting on nine field goals for 18 points. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Robideau Earns Letter

James Robideau, son of Mr.and Mrs. James J. Robideau, Tecumseh, has received his third varsity letter in soccer for play in his junior year at Kalamazoo College.

Jim saw extensive action at halfback this season for the Hornets.

He is a 1972 graduate of the Gilmour Academy and is now in his third year as a pre—med major at Kalamazoo.

MIKE CONNORS

ALL-STATER — Mike Connors member of the Indian football squad - has been named to the all-state Class B first football team by the Detroit Free Press.

Team Not Official

The Herald recently reported that Tecumseh's new hockey team was affiliated with Tecumseh High School. This is not the case we have learned.

The new team - as yet unnamed - draws most of its players from Tecumseh but it is not sanctioned nor sponsored by Indian officials.

Mrs. Walter Seal, secretary, reports that sanctioning of the players as a varsity team at the high school is simply not feasible until there is an ice rink in the area.

Presently, the new team is under the auspices of the Lenawee Hockey Association as part of the newly-formed Michigan South Central Club Hockey League. All the teams play under NCAA rules.

Tories Lose Cage Opener

The Britton Tories opened their cage season with a loss to LCAA powerhouse Manchester 75-53 in a non-league contest.

Britton just couldn't get off the ground going to the lockers at halftime 19 points under Manchester. The Tories made only 21 of 71 shots from the floor for a mediocre 30 percent.

Manchester led in rebounds as well 35-25. Mike Saxton was the scoring leader for Britton with 11.

Cagers Lose Opener, Come Back to Win

By FRANK WEIR

The Indian cagers started off their season with a non-league loss to Ann Arbor Huron, 62-52, but they came back to win their first league game against Gibralter Carlson, 70-60, last Friday night.

Things went less than smoothly in Ann Arbor as the Indians outscored Ann Arbor Huron in only the last quarter. The cagers hit 19 of 57 attempted field goals for a lackluster average of 33 percent. In addition, they completed only 14 of 29 free throws.

Bruce Hughes led the scoring with seven field goals and four free throws for 18 points. Next was Kevin Mack hitting three field goals, four free throws for 10 points. Hughes also led in rebounds with 12.

Ann Arbor Huron made 50 percent of its field goals, and out-did the Indians in rebounds with 38 to Tecumseh's 30.

It was a different story, however, last Friday night in Tecumseh's gym as the Indians brought down Gibralter Carlson. Tecumseh took an early lead but lost it with Carlson scoring 16 points to the Indians' 13 in the first quarter.

Tecumseh came back strong in the second and third quarters scoring a total of 45 points to Carlson's 21 for the two periods.

Ken Biscupski led the scoring for the Indians hitting nine field goals for 18 points. Altogether, Tecumseh connected on 29 of 62 field goals for 46.7 percent. In free throws, the Indians hit 12 of 23 for 52 percent.

Next in line for scoring honors was Brad Sisson hitting seven free throws and four field goals for 15 points. Jeff Schafer, who grabbed the first score of the game, was close behind with six field goals and two free throws for 14 points.

Finishing out the scoring was Kevin mack 8, Jim Vaughn 7, Linvel Lisenbee 4, Darrell Bozeman and Bruce Hughes both with two.

Both teams had foul problems with the Indians racking up 24 fouls to Carlson's 21.

Coach Ron Spagnoli commented on the game, "I was pleased with the way we played especially in the middle two quarters. We did particularly well at the end of the second quarter. But we had too many fouls. Both Jim Vaughn and Bruce Hughes fouled out and then we had troubles on the backboards. They were hustling fouls, we went after them defensively."

Spagnoli continues, "I was especially pleased with the players who entered the game in the second half, like Darrell Bozeman, Jim Vaughn and Kevin Mack. That is the attitude we want to build. That players can make a real contribution when they come in off the bench."

I Always Recommend Bud Classon Chevrolet To My Friends.

I'll tell you why.

Over the past 10 years, I've purchased 8 new cars and trucks from Bud Classon Chevrolet. Right now we own a 1972 El Camino and a 1973 Monte Carlo which my daughter uses for commuting to school.

I really like the cars and I especially like the service at Bud Classon Chevrolet. I know that when I need a new car or truck, I won't have to shop at other dealerships. No matter when I have my car or truck in for service, the people at Bud Classon Chevrolet take care of me right away. And, since I know the people, I can trust them to give me the best service possible.

When my friends ask me where they should go for a new car or truck, I always tell them Bud Classon Chevrolet. I know they'll be happy with the car and the service.

Record Four Accidents, None Sunday or Monday

Only four accidents were handled by the police here during the past week, and none Sunday and Monday when snow clogged the streets.

On Nov. 27, Michael D. Mukenstrum, 16, of 9180 Bramble Hwy., slid into the rear of a car driven by Paul S. Smith, 26, of 909 Murray Dr. Also the same day, Rebecca D. Barron, 16, of 8981 Tipton Hwy., ran into the rear of an auto operated by Sue E. Smith, 17, Of 1013 Red Mill Dr. Both accidents occurred on W. Chicago Blvd.

Last Thursday Thomas W. Peterson, 75, Allen turned into Phillip G. Rumpf, 19, of 4283 Dillingham Dr., on E. Chicago Blvd. at Ottawa.

James E. Leonard, 25, Sterling Heights, was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance after an accident with Vera A. Osburn, 51, of 19190 Beebe.

Mishap occurred Friday on E. Chicago Blvd.

Mrs. Joanna DiCarlo was honored at a luncheon Tuesday in recognition of her 25 years with General Motors. The luncheon, was hosted by William J. Polk, and attended by Robert J. Broadbridge, and George M. DiCarlo (Mrs. DiCarlo's husband, who is senior plant auditor at Fisher Tecumseh). Mrs. DiCarlo was presented with a 25-year bracelet with a replica of the Fisher Body coach set with two sapphires and one diamond, and a mantle chime clock inscribed with her anniversary dates. Mrs. DiCarlo, was promoted to her present position of Senior Clerk in the Industrial and Production Engineering Department in 1968. Joanna and George have two children, Danny, 19, and Donna, 17, and reside at 518 Seminole Drive.

Keep The Mail Going

As the carrier's creed goes, nothing should stop the mail. And customers can help keep it moving. Tecumseh Post Office reminds customers of mailing dates for domestic mails, and asks for resident cooperation in keeping walks snow free for carriers.

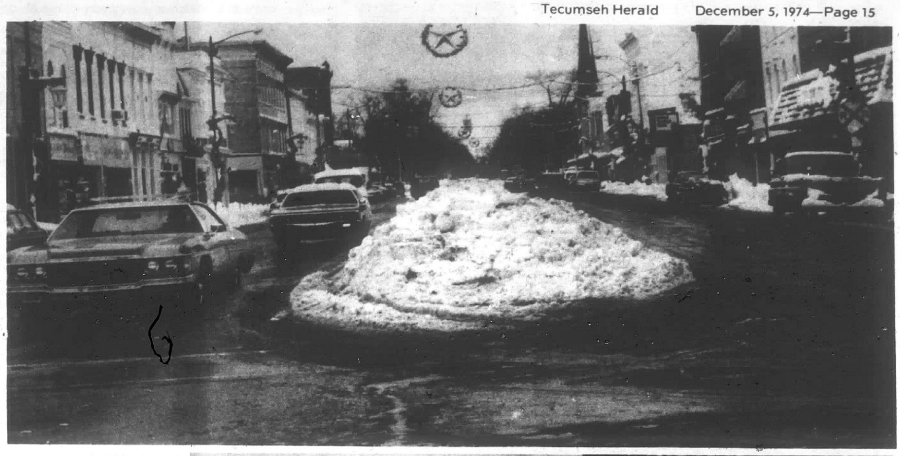
Parcels must be mailed by Dec. 10, letters by Dec. 15 and air mail letters by Dec. 19, for Christmas delivery.

Check Christmas mailing list for accurate addresses and proper zip codes. Check for sufficient postage.

Packages should be wrapped in heavy duty paper and taped to preserve package. An address label on the inside of the package will speed delivery in case the outer wrapper comes loose or address is unreadable.

Tecumseh Post Office will be open Saturday, Dec. 14 for window service from 8:30 to 4 p.m.

Letter carriers fear a disabling fall more than any other hazard, said Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf, and he asks for cooperation to keep walks, drives and steps free from snow and ice during winter months. Everyone should benefit with faster delivery.



Winter Tax Statements

Most unwelcomed gift of the Christmas season - annual winter tax statements - will be mailed Friday.

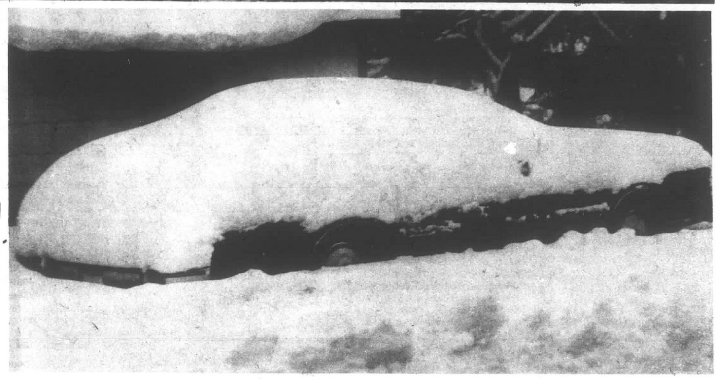
Approximately 2,800 statements are sent to property owners, Vera Gardner, clerk, reports.

Memorial Fund Established

Lenawee Hockey Association has established a Larry Whelan Memorial Fund at the request of several Tecumseh residents.

Contributions to the fund may be made at United Savings Bank or directly to Lenawee Hockey Association, P.O. Box 3, Tecumseh, Michigan 49286.

The association board and the Whelan family will determine the use of the fund.



SNOW PILED HIGH — City plows piled a single strip of snow through the downtown district of over four feet high and six feet wide Sunday and Monday, keeping east and west bound lanes of Chicago Blvd. open to traffic. Snow was piled over 10 feet high in the city's off-street parking lots to give shoppers room to park. Bottom photo shows a blue Mark IV - owned by a Tecumseh merchant - with snow of approximately two feet on its roof, hood and trunk. Scenes of above were common place throughout the community. Macon Dialog MACON—Many Yule customs of the ancient Druids were adopted by the early Christians of the British Isles, and are a traditional part of our modern Christmas. One such custom is the celebration of the Boarshead.

In pagan days, the boarshead was offered as a sacrifice to the goddess Freya, and since the reign of Henry VIII, the boarshead has held the place of honor at many an English Christmas dinner.

A great ceremony of bringing in the head is made and the Boarshead carol written in 1521, is always sung.

Congregation of Macon United Methodist Church and members of the community have revived the tradition of the Boarshead and this year's celebration will be held Saturday, Dec. 7.

Those who wish to participate in the opening ceremony will meet at the Macon Grocery at 6:15 p.m. Charles and Luella Bigelow, carrying the paper mache boarshead, will be preceded by trumpeter Max Morden, Jr., and followed by the carolers. Procession will then walk to the church.

The planned dinner will be served family style promptly at 6:30 p.m. Menu will be creamed chicken, homemade biscuits, vegetables and gelatin salads. Meal will be climaxed with flaming plum pudding baked again this year by Welch friend, Mrs. Edith West of Saline. There is no admission but donations are welcome.

It is requested that all who attend furnish their own table service so that everyone may adjourn to the sanctuary following dinner to hear several family singing groups and solos planned. There will also be congregational singing of all Christmas favorites.

Reservations must be made by Dec. 6 with either Macon Grocery, Ida Mehler or Judy Vance.

Lenawee County Historical Society Holds Meeting

Tecumseh and Lenawee County residents were in Clinton Nov. 21 to attend the early winter meeting of the Lenawee County Historical Society.

Dinner was served at the United Methodist Church by the church women.

Director-curator of Lenawee County Historical Museum, Dr. Charles Lindquist was introduced and praised the work of Mrs. Doris Frazier as volunteer curator.

Ruth Kuder gave a history of the Clinton area ranging from earliest geological period through the influx of pioneers and the formation of their settlements.

Miss Kuder's talk described Brownville, Goodrich Corners (Newburg) and then the settlement of Clinton. She praised the beauty that still is within the village, identified some of the many former and present historic buildings.

She also emphasized the necessity for comparing facts about the history of Lenawee County.

Elwood Little, Society president spoke of attendance at several meetings including the recent Tecumseh Historical Society meeting, which was preceded by Macon's meeting, where great interest is shown.

Lawrence Bailey, president of the Clinton Historical Society invited the group to attend the meeting on Dec. 3 at the Smith-Kimball Community Center, at 8 p.m. when a talk on Clinton's historical buildings will be given.

Environmental Education Program for Teachers

A National awards program for teachers in the field of environmental education will be conducted this coming year according to Jay Gould, chairman of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

Awards program is cosponsored by the National Association of Conservation Districts and the Allis Chalmers Corporation and offers a cash prize of $1,500 to the top winner.

Conservation Teacher-of-the-Year also receives a trip to the NACD national meeting and recognition at the state and regional levels.

Any teacher in a school system in our conservation district who includes environmental conservation emphasis in her classroom work is eligible for nomination. Interested teachers may stop by the district office at 103 Federal Building, Adrian or phone 265-5887 for more information and nominating procedures.

Lenawee Soil Conservation District new district conservationist is Tom Throll, Hillsdale. He replaces Vern Anderson.

THS Girls Nearing State Championship

By FRANK WEIR

With as much certainty as a white Christmas in Tecumseh or the sun rising over Mill Pond, the Indian girl's basketball squad has won again.

There just is no stopping them.

The team traveled to Battle Creek last week to win the regional title, easily whipping Pinckney and Harper Creek on Thursday and Saturday nights, respectively.

Next stop for the girls was Waverly High School in Lansing Wednesday night for the state's quarter-finals. If they won there against Holt, they travel to Grand Rapids' Ottawa Hills High on Friday for the semi-finals. Another win will send them to East Kentwood High School Saturday night — still in Grand Rapids — for the finals and a state Class B championship.

They started their triumphant march on Thursday, squaring off against Pinckney. It was really no match as the Indians racked up 19 points to Pinckney's 6 in the first period alone. The Indians went on to beat them 61-32.

Julie Murphy led the way, scoring 12 points; followed by Susie Brown 10, Barb Henning 9, Jan Stevens 7, Jane Faulkner 6, Becky Stormes 4, Laura Purkey 3, Peg Upell, Tori Iffland and Julie Anderson, all with 2.

Tecumseh clinched the title on Saturday by beating Harper Creek 58-33. Although Barb Henning scored the first field goal of the game, the team briefly fell behind. That didn't last for long with the Indians taking off to score 18 points to Harper Creek's 7 in the first period.

Coach Diane Nelson makes an understatement by saying, "I felt we did a good job Saturday night. I figured Harper Creek would try to box Julie Murphy out because she scored 12 points Thursday night. That way they'd take the pass away from the inside forcing Susie Brown and Melinda Ternak to shoot from the outside. But our players followed the game plan and broke that press well. A team has to stop all five of us to win."

It goes without saying that Melinda Ternak was indeed able to hit from the outside, scoring 20 points for her best game of the season.

Julie Murphy and Susie Brown connected for 10 points, Barb Henning 9, Julie Anderson 4, Jane Faulkner 3, Jan Stevens and Connie Youngiove both with 2.

This Wednesday night in the quarter-finals, Tecumseh will be meeting Holt who defeated the Indians in last year's regional finals 60-55.

Holt has two girls returning from that team including Jane Pearce, a girl who scored 25 points against the Indians last year. In that tournament, Tecumseh entered with a 15-2 record and Holt was undefeated. This year the tables are turned with Tecumseh undefeated and Holt posting a 18-2 record.

Diane Nelson confides that Holt is in a stronger league than Tecumseh but "they aren't as strong this year."

She goes on to say, "they are a bigger team than we are, but they don't have a strong bench. And we're better balanced, we have a stronger bench, we're quick and aggressive. I think we've got the edge for the game. If we play the way we've been playing, we have a good chance to take them. But we'll definitely have to play up to our capabilities."

Tecumseh	19	17	19	6—61

REGIONAL CHAMPIONS — Coach Diane Nelson joyously accepts the regional trophy Saturday night after her varsity swamped a strong Harper Creek five, 58-33. The girls played Holt Wednesday night - they were favored to win - and should advance to the Class B semi-finals in Grand Rapids Friday night. If the Indians can go all the way, it will be the first state basketball championship ever for a Tecumseh team.

Commission OKs SAD

Tecumseh Planning Commission voted Tuesday night to recommend that Council establish a Special Assessment District and schedule public hearings for free off-street parking.

In the same motion, Commission agreed that Paul Dangler, chairman who organized data on the project, provide the city with necessary information about those merchants who agreed to participate in the SAD.

Commission also suggested in its motion that a committee be formed to work with the city manager in operation of areas involved in SAD for off-street parking.

Furthermore, all operations are to be specifically outlined by the committee and commission.

Lengthy motion came after a debate on the pros and cons of off-street parking and the Commission's role in getting the proposal moving.

Chairman Richard Eggleston said, "When I supported this from the start, it all seemed very simple to me. What we need now are controls so that businessmen and their employees don't park in the free spots."

Commission seemed agreed that enforcement was necessary but meter maid enforcement is what the people object to, said Commissioner Bill Holmes.

City manager Cal Zorn said that he does not whole heartedly support free off-stree parking. He said that the city has gone through this before and that when merchants are asked to be assessed, they refuse the concept.

He said he could not present the proposal to council without first knowing who would be included in the special assessment and how it was to be done.

Dangler said that such information would be provided.

Zorn also emphasized that the meters have done a lot for the community and allowed new property purchases to extend the parking system.

"The one armed bandits have been good to the merchants, too," he said.

If We Advance to State Finals

In the event that the Indian girls basketball team wins Wednesday night in Lansing, they will be traveling to Ottawa Hills High School on Friday for the semi-finals. If they win there, they go to East Kentwood High School Saturday night. Both schools are in Grand Rapids.

For all you Indian fans, we will attempt to give directions to both high schools. So get out your pad and pencil, here goes.

Ottawa High School in Grand Rapids, game time Friday 7 p.m.: take I-96 to Grand Rapids. You will come to 28th street exit heading west. There are two 28th street exits but you want the second one after the viaduct heading west. Go west on 28th to Kalamazoo Ave. turn north (right) and go to Burton Street. Turn west (left) on Burton. Ottawa Hills High School will be on your left about two miles down Burton. If you come to Eastern Ave. you've gone too far.

East Kentwood High School in Grand Rapids, game time Saturday 8:30 p.m.: Follow the same directions above until you come to Kalamazoo Ave. Turn south (left) onto Kalamazoo to 60th Street. Two blocks past 60th street on Kalamazoo you will come to Auditorium Drive. It only goes to the left so follow the Drive to East Kentwood High School.

There you have it. Good luck and drive carefully.

Fund Drive at $66,441

Tecumseh's annual Community Fund Foundation drive has come to an end with approximately 88 percent or $66,441.76 of the $76,316 goal realized.

This year's drive proved to be one of the most difficult as drive leaders and division heads worked hard in efforts to reach the goal. Probably, more time was spent in this year's campaign to raise monies than ever before.

Only one division, the Tecumseh schools, reached its quota, although two others just missed. Actually, the schools went over their goal by 22 percent.

Major contributor was the Tecumseh Products, where $29,111.50 was raised. Fisher Body donated $10,474.40. Industry attained 98 percent of its goal.

Second biggest division, Commercial , barely reached 50 percent of its $12,500 goal. Only $6,641.62 was raised, and of that amount the United Savings Bank and employees contributed $3,932, leaving just over $2,600 from all other businesses.

A breakdown of the 1974 contributions is:

Goal	Division	Contributed	Percent
$43,500	Industry	$42,607.65	98
12,500	Commercial	6,641.62	53
2,816	Professional	1,302.00	46
3,000	Tecumseh Schools	3,673.50	122
3,000	Residential	1,643.60	54
1,500	Public Employees	1,034.00	69
10,000	Special Gifts	9,550.00	96

PC Recommends Joining Region II

Tecumseh Planning Commission voted Tuesday night to recommend to Council that the city join Region II Planning as a full paying member, based on a per capita contribution that would total $1800.

Vote came after a discussion of membership benefits with Chuck Mancherian, executive director, and Cal Zorn, representing the city.

Region II Planning, a tri-county agency which any government in Hillsdale, Jackson or Lenawee Counties may join, was established to conform with the regional areas designated under the Romney governorship.

It serves as a clearing house and reviewer of plans requesting federal funds and makes sure plans conform to the adopted plans of the regional planning commission.

To the some 42 local unites of government that join and others who choose to join, it offers long range planning and local planning assistance.

For the amount of money that Tecumseh might contribute, the city would receive that amount of services in planning assistance.

Since city's contribution nets matching federal and state planning monies for Region II, the city gets a lot more service for its money.

If Region II plays a stronger role in community development, the fee would be greater but could come from the city's own planning funds, suggested Mancherian.

Region II charges local governments just the cost it takes to do the job, he explained. Thus the city could save a considerable sum in commercial planning fees.

City would still be able to retain its planning consultant.

If Council approves the membership at its next meeting and Region II is notified by this election meeting, Tecumseh might have a chance for representation, said Mancherian.

In October, the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners voted to go into Region II. Franklin, Woodstock, Clinton, Ridgeway Townships and Adrian are a few of the other local governments who joined.

City manager Cal Zorn stressed that if the city is to obtain federal community development funds on a continuing basis, a program must be submitted and he suggested that Region II would be helpful.

Two Move, One Planned

Two businesses have moved and an attorney plans to relocate in the downtown business district.

Village Floors has moved across E. Chicago Blvd. to a building formerly occupied by the He and She Pant Shop, and Kustom Kraft has moved from S. Evans St. to a store next to Gambles.

Henry Crudder, attorney, will move from the 300 block of E. Chicago Blvd. to the building formerly occupied by Village Floors.

Little Miss Follies Deadline Is Dec. 20

Tecumseh Jaycees and Auxiliary presents "Little Miss Follies" contest for little girls ages 7-11, for the second consecutive year.

In order to enter this year, send a picture of the child with parents' name and child's address and phone number to: Pat Bush, chairwoman, 1105 W. Pottawatamie, Tecumseh, Michigan, 49286, Phone 423-2566.

Deadline is December 20, 1974. Contest is limited to 40 entries.

Winner will receive a $50 bond and runner up, $20 bond.

Pictures of the 40 entries will be placed on individual money canisters in stores from Dec. 27 until Jan. 24. Locations are revealed and those two which collect the most are selected Little Miss Follies and runner-up.

Proceeds are for the Jaycee fund for community projects.

Jaycee Follies date is Jan. 24, 25, and afternoon matinee on Sunday, Jan. 26.

Saws, Tools Are Stolen

Tool shed at Brookside Cemetery was broken into Friday with two chain saws and considerable amount of small tools taken.

One chain saw was practically new.

Police also investigated a theft of a snowmobile at 322 N. Pearl St.

Mrs. Rick Cole told officers last Wednesday that it was stolen from behind her home. Since there were no tracks in the snow, police believe the 1973 snowmobile was taken prior to Nov. 29.

You Told Us

By Libby Lincoln

Some folks get snowed in, but I got snowed OUT—stranded in the East after a Thanksgiving holiday at home. Relying heavily on news coverage, I watched openmouthed as the news flashed shots of people huddled in airports and lining the ditches of highways. After multiple conversations with the airlines and progress reports from friends here, I made it back three days overdue and I'm still marvelling over all the white stuff.

We received a nice note from Mrs. Irene Schomberg, who lives in Checotah, Okla. Mrs. Schomberg writes, "I am happy to have my friends call on me when they are out this way. I live on highway 266 between Checotah and Warner. My address is Checotah and my telephone is Warner 463-5568." Mrs. Schomberg's mailing address is R.R.1, Box 235, Checotah, Ok. 74426.

She also added that she had had a nice visit with Lillian and Ward Perso in October when they were on their way home from California.

Mrs. Lyle Grigg of Allen Lake, Mrs. A.J. Gamboe of Clinton and Mrs. Robert Hunt attended the University Musical Society presentation of Handel's "Messiah" at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor Sunday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. George Moricz of Ann Arbor, formerly of Tecumseh, announce the birth of a son, Benjamin Kenneth, Nov. 18, in Women's Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Burt Moricz of W. Logan St. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ringman of Chippewa St.

The new baby joins a sister, Jodi, 2½.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Walters and daughter, Debra Ann, have returned home after spending two weeks in Hawaii. They were accompanied by Mrs. Walters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Overholt, of Goshen, Ind. They visited four islands, Hawaii, Maui, Kauai and Oahu.

Seven Mishaps

Four motorists were cited by Tecumseh police during the past week when seven mishaps occurred on city streets.

A resume is:

Dec. 4 — a car driven by June L. Day, 39, of 809 Russell, slipped sideways on icy W. Chicago at Evans and scraped an auto driven by Kenneth N. Pender, 45, Onsted.

Dec. 4 — David K. Lay, 19, of 215 Brown St., was cited for failure to yield after an accident with Dale D. Jenkins, 36, of 507 S. Maumee, at W. Chicago and Union.

Dec. 5 — Virginia L. Cook, 707 N. Union St., backed out and hit a passing car operated by Mikell L. Hedley, 9366 Newburg Court.

Dec. 5 — April D. Beard, 18, of 506 E. Logan, ran into the rear of an auto driven by Beulah E. Dormyer, 43, of 905 Sunset Dr., on E. Chicago at Ottawa.

Dec. 7 — Clair E. Link, 52, of 2449 E. Monroe Rd., was charged with failure to yield after an accident with America A. Williams, 34, of 7994 Billmyer Rd., on W. Chicago Blvd.

Dec. 9 — Louise A. Palmer, 56, of 500 Cairns, was cited for failure to yield after a collision with Louise M. Scott, 60, rural Britton, at W. Chicago and Cairns.

Dec. 9 — Mark S. Hochrein, 21, of 12139 Ford Hwy., was charged with careless driving after colliding headon with a car operated by David H. Faling, 46, of 322 Park St. Hochrein was in the wrong lane on Sunset St.

20 Years Were Good to Voyle

Tecumseh will miss Voyle Teets.

Long a familiar sight at Tecumseh's post office, Voyle Teets will retire Friday, Dec. 13 to Frederic, Michigan. Voyle plans to "putter around" on the property he owns there along with his wife Shirley.

Originally from the thumb area, Mr. Teets started his career with the post office almost 20 years ago as a city carrier on the Herrick Park route. After three years, he stayed inside working as a dispatcher and filling in for the assistant postmaster at times.

Mr. Teets recently received a certificate signed by Clarence B. Gels, regional postmaster general, commending Voyle for his "dedicated service during his honorable career with the U.S. postal service." Jack Metcalf, Tecumseh postmaster who awarded the certificate, said of Voyle, "he's always done all the work that was required of him."

And co-worker Isabelle Sisty chimes in, "he makes good coffee too!"

Voyle admits that he'll "miss the gang a lot." He hopes all his friends will write him at Rural Route 1, Manistee Road in Frederic. And don't forget that zip code! It's 49733.

HAPPY DAY—When Perry Satterthwaite didn't show up at Kerby's for his customary cup of coffee Tuesday morning, Dec. 10, he nearly missed out on what his friends had cooked up to mark his 82nd birthday. A bit later he came around and was given a birthday card signed by 150 friends. The spry octogenarian stayed long enough to blow out the candles on his cake and have his photograph taken with, L-r., Bill Service, Ethelyne Rumler, Perry Satterthwaite, Virginia Hunter; back row, Lawrence Holdridge and Carl Lamb. It turns out that the Glenn Driscolls and 20 friends were toasting him at a birthday breakfast that morning.

Obituary

G. G. SILBERHORN

Services were held Monday for George G. Silberhorn, 81, of Riga, who died Dec. 6 at 12:30 p.m. in Bixby Hospital where he had been a patient for the past ten days.

Born April 8, 1893 in Riga, he was the son of John and Anna Beah Silberhorn and lived all of his life on the family homestead in Riga.

He married Louisa Bode, and they had one daughter, Marie. He later married Zelma (Schultz) Bice. She preceded him in death Jan. 31, 1974.

A retired farmer, he was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church of Riga.

Survivors include two stepsons, Harold Bice of Tecumseh and Warren of Adrian; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Cleo Oberly of Swanton, Ohio; seven stepgrandchildren and two step-great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two brothers and two sisters.

Services were held in the Tagsold Funeral Home, Blissfield with the Rev. Floyd Mattek officiating.

Burial followed in Riga Cemetery.

People I Meet

A Few Miles For Tropic Vacation

Have the snow and slush gotten you down? Perhaps you are yearning for a vacation in the tropics, complete with sunny beaches and lush palms.

If money is a hang-up, a conversation with Mrs. Glen (Sadami) Slick of Ridgeway will give the mind's eye a vivid picture of life in her native homeland, Palau.

Palau, one of a group of small South Pacific islands in Micronesia, is approximately 600 miles from the east coast of the Philippines.

Mrs. Slick met her husband in 1971 while working on Yap island, another in that chain. Mr. Slick was a CeeBee at the U.S. Navy base.

Mrs. Slick, who speaks Palauen, knew no English. That first year on Yap, she learned to speak the western language. In the romance, it was an uncle who was the "go between" for the couple.

There were some adjustments for Mrs. Slick to make when she arrived in the United States in 1972 with her new husband. "I was very pleased; my in-laws have been really nice," she emphasizes the favorite American adverb. They helped her learn quickly.

Suprisingly, budgeting with U.S. currency is no handicap for Mrs. Slick since American money is used on the island. Yet on the islands, supermarket shopping is not the necessity it is in the states. As one might expect, there is not the variety of groceries Americans take for granted.

In Palau, most people are farmers and a garden is tended year around for each member of the family. Diet there is different. Fish and crabs, such as the coconut and swamp crab, are the main source of protein with poultry and pork. Steak is imported.

Milk is also imported to Palau, so evaporated milk is used.

American diet was an adjustment. A fisherman's daughter, accustomed to eating fresh fish, Mrs. Slick said that the taste of fish sold here has never satisfied her. She also thinks that the food is too rich.

Another difference in custom is that it is appropriate etiquette to use the hands in eating on the islands.

Michigan weather is still a big adjustment for Sadami, as it is for a lot of seasoned residents. If you are from the islands, you find it hard to learn to stop and consider the weather before you leave home. Where it is summer all year, one does not need to worry about bundling in winter paraphrenalia.

However, the children have no problem with snow, and like every mother, Sadami has to remind them that they cannot just walk outdoors without proper attire.

The Slicks have a daughter Michelle, three years old. Mrs. Slick has three other children, Ester, 12, Val, 10 and Gerald Rafael, 9.

She is very pleased that they show enthusiasm and are doing well in school, despite the initial language barrier. She and her husband hope that they continue their education.

There is a contageous excitement in the eyes and smile of someone who has experienced life on a tropical isle. Sadami is no exception. The warmth and joy with which she speaks of her native island expresses the romantic character of island life.

"Living is more free there and friendly than in the United States. There, people live and work on a more cooperative basis. They are more casual and there is more relaxation," she said.

Mrs. Slick gave one example of island hospitality. "Klechedaol" (pronounced klay-eh-dowl in Palauen) is the tradition of providing entertainment, in dance and song, for a host tribe in exchange for a night's food and shelter. Whenever groups of villagers exchange visits, homes are always open to strangers.

She said at home she is accustomed to greeting everyone with smiles.

"I tried to stop smiling so much because no one smiled back and I was afraid that people didn't understand my intentions.

"Yet I understand the problems that there are with people. You may never know when someone who smiles may want to bring you harm," she explained.

Mrs. Slick also shared some other interesting aspects of her native customs. In the islands, the type of dress distinguishes social class and region. Grass skirts worn on Heleti and smaller islands are the "lablabi" and those worn on Yap and Palau are the "cheriur."

Necklaces distinguish marital eligibility.

Native money used on the islands is a curious, cumbersome form of currency. Americans surely could not carry it around in a coin purse. Largest pieces of the money, called "balang," are six foot round, limestone wheels.

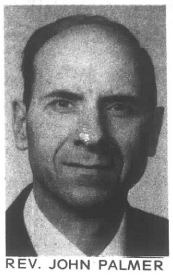
Smaller pieces, one foot and a half in diameter, are cut out for the smaller tokens. Mrs. Slick explained that it is still customary to use the money in private business deals between farmers.

Mrs. Slick is relaxed when she speaks of life on the islands. Her stories are soothing to a Michigander tired of slipping on ice and trudging through snow. She is personable and her smile projects the warmth and hospitality of the islands.

Perhaps what is surprising is that she is so well acculturated to her newly adopted homeland, so different in custom and language. She communicates sensitivity and understanding for people and self respect.

Today some equate maturity with education. Here, a quiet maturity is found in a woman who has learned to overcome social barriers.

ICEBREAKER—Warm smile of Sadami Slick is the trademark of the native Palauen woman. Behind her is a grass skirt and beads worn by the island women. At left, she holds a story board of the Palauen war and at right a shell still life given to her by her sister.



REV. JOHN PALMER

Guest Speaker At Special Services

The Rev. John S. Palmer will preach at special services to be held Dec. 15 at the Tecumseh Assembly of God at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The couple are now residing in Tucson, Ariz.

Engagement of Deborah Faye Bushart to Robert J. Banks is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Bushart, Maybee. Bride-elect is a senior at Milan High School. Mr. Banks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Banks, 8251 Clinton-Macon Road, Clinton. He is a 1970 graduate of Plymouth High School, Plymouth, and attended Taylor University, Upland, Ind. He is a self-employed farmer and is also employed at United Parcel Service, Ypsilanti. Wedding is being planned for July 5, 1975.

Letters on Strike To Be Restricted

For the duration of the strike at the Tecumseh Products Company, The Herald will refrain from publishing any further letters from readers concerning the strike or negotiations.

Only statements or releases from the Union Board or the Company will be printed during this time.

Last week, The Herald published a letter signed by a member of the United Products Workers Union. Such confusing letters have little or no value, perhaps harmful, in dealing with a situation which not only affects the Company and the Union, but thousands of families in Tecumseh and the area.

The Herald will continue to consider and to print letters signed by its readers. Letters relative to the strike and negotiations will not be published and the paper's policy to consider only signed letters will continue.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

New recipes at the Christmas season are probably exercises in futility because most good cooks rely heavily at this time on their own traditional holiday favorites.

Suggestions as to Christmas dinner menus undoubtedly would be just as futile since everyone usually plans their festive meal around a time and family proven variety of dishes, whether it be turkey, ham, roast beef or goose, oysters or turnips, potatoes and salads.

Recipes for Christmas cookies and cakes are often highlighted at this season, however, as sweet treats are handy for the unexpected guests, impromptu get-togethers, and informal open houses that mark the Christmas season.

While cookie recipes abound in personal recipe collections, cookbooks, and backs of flour sacks, recipes for coffee cakes that keep well, stay moist, and please morning, noon and nightappetites can be harder to come by.

If this is the case, then you need look no farther than the rest of this column! This Sour Cream Coffee Cake can be baked, easily removed and wrapped in the same foil, and is equally delicious with juice and coffee for a quick breakfast, with a glass of milk for a snack, or cut into small pieces and passed on the dessert tray after dinner.

Sour Cream Coffee Cake stays very moist and can also be frozen. Many years ago my family asked for the recipe after tasting the cake at a potluck, and it has won numerous converts since then, whenever served. Try it, you'll like it!

SOUR CREAM COFFEE CAKE

Mix and set aside: 1 cup sugar, 1½ tsp. cinnamon, ½ cup chopped walnuts.

Cream ½ lb. margerine. Sift and add 2 cups sugar, 2 tsp. baking soda, 3 cups flour, 3 tsp. baking powder and 4 eggs. Add one pint sour cream and 2 tsp. vanilla. Don't overbeat.

Add about ¾ of the sugar and cinnamon mixture to the batter and stir in. Pour batter into an ungreased 10x14 pan. Sprinkle batter with sugar and cinnamon mixture on top.

Bake at 350 degrees for 45-60 minutes.

Line the pan with aluminum foil and use enough to lap over the sides so that the cake can be baked and wrapped in the same foil.

DOWNTOWN TECUMSEH

Candlelight Vows Spoken

The First Baptist Church of Tecumseh was the setting for the Nov. 30 candlelight ceremony uniting Deborah Lynn Burkhard and Martin William Billau in marriage. The Rev. Kenneth Boyd officiated, with Mrs. Betty Flanders as organist and Mrs. Douglas McLeod, soloist.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. George Burkhard of 505 Outer Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Billau of 11950 Ridge Road.

Escorted by her father the bride approached the altar wearing a white crepe gown with scoop neckline, fitted bodice and Renaissance sleeves. Venice lace flowered appliques trimmed the skirt, bodice, sleeves and chapel length train. Her headpiece was of a Camelot design fastened to a chapel length mantilla. She wore a heart shaped diamond necklace and diamond earrings, and carried a cascade of phaelanopsis orchids, snow drift mums, red carnations, holly, baby's breath and white velvet streamers.

Connie Birchfield of Tecumseh was maid of honor. She wore a green velvet gown with matching jacket, a headpiece fashioned of red carnations, holly leaves and velvet streamers, and carried a white rabbit muff with a cascade of red carnations, baby's breath, holly leaves and velvet streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mary Beth Gallant of Tecumseh, Mrs. James Conrad of Clinton, sister of the groom, and Beth and Julie Burkhard, both of Tecumseh, sisters of the bride. They wore gowns of red and green velvet, styled like that of the maid of honor, similar headpieces, and carried the same flowers as the honor attendant.

Shelly Long of Tecumseh was flower girl. She wore a long red velvet gown and carried a nosegay of carnations, baby's breath, and holly leaves.

The groom chose Roger Furgason of Britton as best man. Ushers were Darrell Zorn of Big Rapids, Richard Frazier of Britton, Robert Billau, Jr. of Tecumseh, brother of the groom, and Eric Rainey of Onsted, cousin of the groom. Michael Conrad of Clinton, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Following the ceremony a dinner for 300 guests was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Donald Campbell of Dearborn, aunt of the bride, poured punch and Mrs. James Binkley of Inkster, aunt of the bride, poured coffee.

Mrs. Arthur Hoffman of Dearborn Heights, and Mrs. Glenn Piepenburg of Boynes Falls, both aunts of the bride, served cake.

Special guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Burkhard of Britton, and Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell of Dearborn, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Sophie Billau of Britton, grandmother of the groom.

Host and hostess for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Tecumseh.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Nov. 29 at the Country House Restaurant.

Mrs. Burkhardt is a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School and attends Washtenaw Community College in Ann Arbor. Her husband is a 1971 graduate of Britton High School and attends Detroit Barber College in Detroit.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Ontario, Canada, the couple will reside at 1190 Ridge Road.

IS THE HONEYMOON OVER? Why not pick up your 1974 wedding pictures at the Tecumseh Herald, 110 E. Logan St.? Every year the Herald must empty its picture files and start anew. If you have a wedding, engagement, anniversary, graduation or other picture you wish to reclaim, please stop by the Herald before the New Year.

MRS. FREDERICK CATTELL

Jennifer Getz Weds Frederick Cattell

St. Peter's Episcopal Church was the setting for the candlelight ceremony at which Jennifer Ann Getz and Frederick Allen Cattell recited wedding vows before the Rev. David Fox, Nov. 23.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Getz of 601 W. Logan St., Mrs. John Coffelt of Clinton and Louis Cattell of Ann Arbor.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, who escorted her to the altar. Linda Getz-Thomas of Okemos, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Betsy and Kathy Wanzeck, both of Tecumseh were bridesmaids.

Dan Hancock of Clinton was best man. Ushers were Mike Baldwin of Clinton and Kim Swift of Tipton.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the Peerless Gear Union Hall, Clinton, after the ceremony.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. John Coffelt at the Clinton Community Center Nov. 22.

After a week's wedding trip to Canada, the couple now reside at 202 W. Franklin, Clinton.

Sondra Hathaway Marries Mark Stephens

Sondra Hathaway and Mark Elliott Stephens, both of Columbus, Ohio, were married Dec. 7 in a 2 p.m. ceremony in the First Church of the Nazarene, Columbus, with the Rev. R.L. Hathaway, brother of the bride and pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Flat Rock, officiating. The Rev. Gordon Wetmore, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, Columbus, assisted.

Mrs. Lowell Myers was organist, with the Rev. Daniel Steele, soloist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hathaway of 8981 Smith Road. The groom is the son of Mrs. Robin Castle of Columbus, Ohio, and the late Mark E. Stephens.

Escorted by her father, the bride approached the altar wearing an ivory chiffon gown with long sheer sleeves and lace trim at the neckline and waist. Her shoulder length veil was fastened by a crown of seed pearls and lace. She wore a heart shaped necklace, a gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of white carnations, pink roses and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Carol Hathaway of Flat Rock, sister-in-law of the bride. She wore a princess style gown of berry red with long sleeves and a cowl neckline, and carried white pompons and pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Carol Hathaway of Flat Rock, sister-in-law of the bride. She wore a princess style gown of berry red with long sleeves and a cowl neckline, and carried white pompons and pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Carol Clapper of Columbus, Ohio and Mrs. Linda Russ of McArthur, Ohio. They wore gowns like that of the matron of honor and carried similar flowers. Amy Hathaway of Flat Rock, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a dress of pink and berry red and carried the same flowers. Flower girls were Ronda and Kara Hathaway of Flat Rock, nieces of the bride, who wore pink dresses and carried baskets of white pompons and pink dresses and carried baskets of white pompons and pink carnations.

Judy Wetmore of Columbus, Ohio, lit candles at the ceremony.

Robert Jones of Columbus, Ohio was best man. Ushers were Albert Andrews, Dave Evans, Mike Fleer, all of Columbus, Ohio, and Jack Pickens of Bloomington, Minn.

Following the wedding a reception for 350 guests was held at the church. Mrs. Jan Evans and Mrs. Julie Fleer cut the wedding cake, Joann Jones served coffee and Joyce Jones poured punch. Servers were all of Columbus, Ohio.

Hostesses at the reception were Mrs. Gordon Wetmore and Mrs. Robert Jones, both of Columbus.

The bride is employed by Columbus Public Schools as coordinator of Title I programs. The groom is employed as supervisor of parks by the Columbus Parks and Recreation Department.

After an extended weekend in Cincinnati, the couple will reside at 2719 Regina Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom in the church fellowship hall the evening before the wedding, with Mrs. Albert Andrews of Columbus as hostess.

Parade Can Be Seen At Center

Did you miss Tecumseh's Sesquicentennial parade the first time around? Now you can see a videotape of the entire parade which will be shown twice Dec. 18 at the Community Center.

First showing at 1 p.m. is for the Senior Citizens Christmas party and the second will begin at 8 p.m. The public is invited to both screenings.

The videotape runs for one hour and 38 minutes. There is no admission charge.

The Sesquicentennial parade, believed to be the biggest parade in Tecumseh history, was taped by Dr. Walter Elwartowski and narrated by Royal Welch, Jim Fielder and Don Rodehaver.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

"Show me a man who has never done anything wrong, and I'll show you a man who has never done anything," — Teddy Roosevelt.

Velma and Marian Crittenden of Macon Highway planned to spend the long Thanksgiving weekend with their niece, Paula Kincade, and her family in Dearborn — and they did.

Their visit, however, had to be extended, as was the case for many other holiday travelers because of the snow storm. They were able to visit their cousins, Harold and Esther Briggs, of Farmington before Mother Nature's surprise. The sisters finally made it home last Wednesday.

Over 35 friends and neighbors nearly surprised the Jim Perry family Saturday night by showing up on their doorstep to help "warm" their new home on Hack Road. Jim and Barb and their children Kathy and David moved to Macon from Westland last summer.

Following is the rehearsal schedule for the church school Christmas program which will be given at Macon United Methodist Church December 22, at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 12, 6-7 p.m.; Saturday, Dec. 14 9:30 - 12:30 a.m.; Sunday, Dec. 15, 9:45 during church school; Friday, Dec. 20, 6:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m. (dress rehearsal); Saturday, Dec. 21, 1 p.m. - 3 p.m.; Sunday, Dec. 22, 9:45 during church school.

It is hoped that all songs and speaking parts will be memorized for the first rehearsal. If transportation is needed, call Howard Mehler at 429-2469. On the night of the program children must be at the church by 6 p.m.

This week at Macon United Methodist Church:

THURSDAY, DEC. 12

CHANCEL CHOIR PRACTICE — 8 p.m.

SUNDAY, DEC. 15

YOUTH CHRISTMAS CAROLING — During advent Chapel time, 7 to 9 p.m.

MONDAY, DEC. 16

MEN'S BOWLING — At Airport Bowl, 9:45 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 18

HOPE CIRCLE — at the home of Mary Foster, 9:30 a.m.

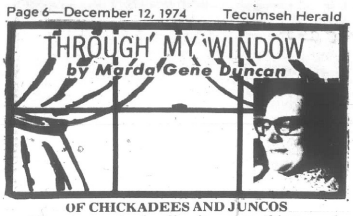
DON MARTIN COMPANY — DOWNTOWN TECUMSEH



OF CHICKADEES AND JUNCOS

There are trade-offs in everything and hopefully the compensations even out. For example, we know that by opting for a winter in sunny Florida we will be losing out on much, much good Michigan bird watching. However, with any luck at all there should be new and exciting bird experiences down there.

I am looking forward to sharing them with you but I am also sure that I shall miss reporting the goings on at the near-my-window feeder. Two of the little characters I will miss writing about are chickadees and juncos.

It has been a good fall for these birds. They have been around in almost unprecedented numbers. It would be nice to say that, knowing the Duncans would be gone, the birds met in convention and decided to afford us a whole winter's looking packed into a few short weeks. It did not happen that way, of course, but the effect has been about the same. And why the early appearance of so many birds I did not question. I only enjoyed.

The juncos came unusually early this year. A large flock flew in even before the leaves were well into their quick change act. As more and more yellow and gold showed in my window pictures, the neat gray and off-white juncos became prettier and prettier. They are a nice contrast to fall leaves.

The male junco, of course, has such a black hood over his head and back, his fat round tummy is so soft and just three tints off white and the two white feathers on the outside of his otherwise black tail—well, he is one handsome gentleman. The female is a 'shaded down' version, her head and back are a dull dark, dark gray and her front tends more to the light, light gray. She is a lovely lady.

These are winter birds though and come into their full glory when the snow flies. Juncos scratching through a fresh snowfall to uncover tasty tidbits on the near-my-window feeders make one of the unforgetable winter thrills. That white snow just does something to their black and dark gray. And when seen so close it is interesting to note the intricate markings on their wings.

Black on black, gray on black, gray on gray, and in certain light is even a reddish cast to some of the finer designs. Their bills take on more significance in close up looks. They are little and bone white. The eyes, however, remain hidden even when the birds come next to the window. They are black and just seem to blend into the black or dark gray hoods.

The chickadees' black eyes are not hidden. When these little birds come bounding down to the feeders, their whole carefree and joyous spirit seems to be reflected in their sparkling black eyes. Four and occasionally five chickadees have kept things lively this fall. Their happy high-jinks are contagious—the birdwatcher just has to feel better for having known some of these sprightly characters.

This year's gang is a colorful one. Blacks, grays, whites, and subtle tones of buff and russet all seem better than ever before. We first noticed it on the dull dreary wet days. The lighting was often peculiar and even though the day was dreary, the chickadees' colors seemed to be intensified just as were the cardinals, bluejays, etc.

When the snows come these little guys always bounce into their own. They seem to thrive on the miserable 'junk' that is sending us to Florida. Wind, cold, snow, ice and rain all present a challenge and never let it be said that the chickadees were ones to turn down such a challenge. Not only do they 'cavort' during blizzards, but they sing their happy little chickadee-dee-dee songs too.

So it is that as anxious as I am to know Florida birds, I am sure that there will be times when I shall miss being able to share the adventures of chickadees and juncos.

First Committee Meeting

First meeting of the Tecumseh Historic District Study Committee was Tuesday, Dec. 3 in the Clara Waldron Room, Tecumseh Public Library.

Eight members there presented ideas for procedures to organize a study of Tecumseh architecture to produce the best possible historic ordinance for Tecumseh.

City Council appointed the Historic District Study Committee to 1) prepare a report concerning the significance of buildings, sites, structures, natural and man-made landscape features, objects and proposed district in city. 2) Committee is designed to function in these procedures for Establishment of an Historic District Ordinance and Michigan House Bill No. 2966 and Act. No. 169.

Study Committee emphasizes that such an ordinance is not a restriction upon home owners, but actually an incentive to the entire community to retain the character of the fine specimens of architecture in the city.

Study Committee agreed Dec. 3 to begin its survey with the RA-1 residential district with Chicago Blvd. as the median from N. Pearl to Adrian St. and Evans Creek, roughly the area outlined in the Tecumseh Area Historical Society's historical home walking tour map, published this summer.

Mrs. Carlton Cook, chairwoman of the Study Committee introduced the method to instructions for a historic and natural district inventory.

Group also listed various activity committees necessary to the success of the Study Committee's work.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. 7 at 7:30 p.m. and a planning session on architecture is planned. Public is invited to the Study Committee meeting.

Bids Postponed For Addition

Council moved to postpone action on qualified bids for the Community Center addition to allow the city manager to investigate the difference in cost for wood instead of aluminum siding, and also insulation and vapor barrier for the lower level to help prevent peeling building paint.

Councilmen, who wanted to preserve the original character of the building, where not satisfied with aluminum siding.

Partial Solar Eclipse Will Be Visible

A partial solar eclipse on Friday the 13th and the official beginning of winter highlight the astronomical events for December, according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

Partial eclipse of the sun can be seen over most of North America on the morning of Dec. 13, Prof. Losh says. During the time of greatest eclipse, more than 80 percent of the sun's diameter will be covered by the dark moon.

Solar eclipses occur when the moon is at new phase, and passes between the earth and the sun, blotting out part of the sun from view.

"The moon usually in its monthly course misses the sun; but at certain times the new phase will occur near the intersection of the two orbits, and the moon will blot out the sun, which is what happens on the 13th," she says.

Eclipse begins at 9:04 a.m. Eastern Standard Time (EST) when the eastern edge of the moon touches the western edge of the sun. As the moon continues orbit, more and more of the sun will be covered until the maximum eclipse at 11:13 a.m. Eclipse will end at 1:23 p.m.

Winter officially arrives Dec. 22 at 12:57 a.m. EST, when the sun arrives at the winter solstice, the most southerly point during its yearly journey around the earth. On that day, there will be 15 hours of darkness and only nine of daylight, Prof. Losh explains. After that day, the sun will begin back north and the days will lengthen.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL TOWNSHIP MEETING AND ELECTION AND OF REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

WHEREAS, at a meeting of the Township Board of the Township of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, held on the 3rd day of December, 1974, a franchise ordinance was adopted, entitled as follows:

AN ORDINANCE, granting to CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to construct, maintain and commercially use electric lines consisting of towers, masts, poles, crossarms, guys, braces, feeders, transmission and distribution wires, transformers and other electrical appliances on, under, along and across the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local electric business within that portion of the TOWNSHIP OF MACON, LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, lying south of the east and west quarter line intersecting Sections 13 to 18, respectively, of said Township, for a period of thrity years.

WHEREAS, said Consumers Power Company has heretofore filed its written acceptance of said franchise, and has requested that the question of confirming the grant thereof be submitted to the qualified electors of the township at a special election to be held for that purpose, and has also paid to the Township Board the estimated expense of holding such special election; and,

WHEREAS, the Township Board of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, has called a special election to be held in said Township for such purpose;

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to resolutions adopted by said Board, notice is hereby given that a special meeting and election will be held in said Township at: Macon Town Hall on Wednesday, the 22nd day of January 1975, for the purpose of voting on the confirmation of the action of said Township Board in granting such franchise.

The polls of said election will be opened at 7 o'clock in the forenoon and will be held open until 8 o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard Time. The Township Clerk will be in his office on the 23rd day of December, 1974, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the thirtieth day, as determined by statute, preceding the date of said election, for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors of the Township as shall appear and apply therefor. In the event such thirtieth day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, registration shall be accepted during the same hours on the following day.

Said franchise as granted by said Board is on file with the undersigned Township Clerk for the purpose of inspection by the qualified electors.

BY ORDER OF THE TOWNSHIP BOARD

AN ORDINANCE, granting to CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to construct, maintain and commercially use electric lines consisting of towers, masts, poles, crossarms, guys, braces, feeders, transmission and distribution wires, transformers and other electrical appliances on, under, along and across the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local electric business within that portion of the TOWNSHIP OF MACON, LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, lying south of the east and west quarter line intersecting Sections 13 to 18, respectively, of said Township for a period of thirty years

SECTION 1. The Township of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, hereby grants the right, power and authority to the Consumers Power Company, a Michigan corporation, its successors and assigns, hereinafter called the "Grantee," to construct, maintain and commercially use electric lines consisting of towers, masts, poles, crossarms, guys, braces, feeders, transmission and distribution wires, transformers and other electrical appliances, for the purpose of transmitting, transforming and distributing electricity on, under, along and across the highways, streets, alleys, bridges, and other public places, and to do a local electric business within that portion of the Township of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, lying south of the east and west quarter line intersecting Sections 13 to 18, respectively, of said Township for a period of thirty years

SECTION 2. In consideration of the rights, power and authority hereby granted, all of which shall vest in the Grantee for a period of thirty (30) years as aforesaid, said Grantee shall faithfully perform all things required by the terms hereof.

SECTION 3. All of Grantee's towers, masts and poles shall be neat and sightly, and so placed on either side of the highways, streets, alleys and bridges as not to unnecessarily interfere with the use thereof for highway, street and alley purposes. All of Grantee's wires carrying electricity shall be securely fastened so as not to endanger or injure persons or property in said highways, streets and alleys. All work performed by said Grantee in said highways, streets and alleys shall be done so as not to interfere with the use thereof, and when completed, the same shall be left in as good condition as when work was commenced. The Grantee shall have the right to trim trees if necessary in the conducting of such business, subject, however, to the supervision of the highway authorities.

SECTION 4. Said Grantee shall at all times keep and save the Township free and harmless from all loss, costs and expense to which it may be subject by reason of the negligent construction and maintenance of the structures hereby authorized. In case any action is commenced against the Township on account of the permission herein granted, said Grantee shall, upon notice, defend the Township and save it free and harmless from all loss, cost and damage arising out of such negligent construction and maintenance.

SECTION 5. Said Grantee shall be entitled to charge the inhabitants of said Township for electric energy furnished therein, the rates, including minimum charges, as approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission, to which Commission or its successors authority and jurisdiction to fix and regulate electric rates and rules regulating such service in said Township, are hereby granted for the term of this franchise. Such rates and rules shall be subject to review and change at any time upon petition therefor being made by either said Township, acting by its Township Board, or by said Grantee.

SECTION 6. The rights, power and authority herein granted, are not exclusive.

SECTION 7. This ordinance shall cease and be of no effect after thirty days from its adoption, unless within said period the Grantee shall accept the same in writing filed with the Township Clerk, subject to confirmation of the grant hereof by at least a majority of the electors of said Township voting thereon at a regular or special township election to be held in the manner provided by law. Upon the acceptance and confirmation thereof, the same shall constitute a contract between said Township and said Grantee for a period of thirty years from the date of such acceptance.

2. Rules Adopted
The City of Tecumseh hereby adopts by reference the latest rules promulgated by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources relaave to Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Act 347 of Public Acts 1972, said rules to be available for public distribution, at a reasonable charge, with not less than 10 (10) copies to be available for public inspection at the Office of the City Clerk.

3. Submission of Plans
Before ground-breaking of any construction project in the City of Tecumseh involving one(1) or more acres of land, an erosion and sedimentation control plan shall be submitted to the City in accordance with DNR rules mentioned in Section 2.

4. Permits and Fees
Upon payment of the necessary fees to the City in accordance with a fee schedule to be determined by the City Council, and amended from time to time by simple resolution, the submitted plans shall be reviewed and approved and a permit shall issue, provided the plans meet DNR standards, which have been adopted by reference, to prevent soil erosion at all major construction sites in the City in excess of one (1) acre (except isolated single family dwellings).

5. Site Inspection
The Local Enforcing Agency shall inspect the construction site at least at the beginning, during construction and at the end of the project and shall issue cease and desist orders upon violation of the rules set forth in Act 347 of Public Acts 1972.

The foregoing Preamble and Ordinance was offered by Councilman Cook and supported by Councilman Palmer.

Jaycees Hold Christmas Party

CLINTON — A pre-Christmas dinner party, Monday evening, at Water Wheel Center, was attended by 28 women, including members of the Clinton Jaycee Auxiliary, a new member, Joy Hawkins, six members of the Ypsilanti Jaycee Auxiliary and three members of the Manchester Jaycee Auxiliary, and another guest, Linda Bird.

Announcement was made of the doll drawing to be held at 10 a.m. in the Clinton State Savings Bank. All proceeds go to the Burns Insitute at Ann Arbor. Over $250 has been raised already. Tickets are available from members.

A family caroling party was planned for Saturday Dec. 14 from 5 to 8 p.m. for Auxiliary members and their husbands. Group will sing for the elderly. They will be accompanied by the Blue Bird girls, who are sponsored by the Auxiliary.

Auxiliary members will assist the Clinton Area Jaycees with the Clinton Children's Christmas party and shopping spree, Dec. 21.

A New Year's Eve party is planned as a fund raising project, at Peerless Gear Union Hall. A band will be provided for dancing and set-ups furnished. Party is open to public and tickets are available from Auxiliary members.

A Be My Valentine baby picture contest is planned prior to Feb. 14, entries limited to under three-year-old children.

Projects which will begin early in January include a Cystic Fibrosis educational program called "Kiss Your Baby Week;" a drug information program with the school system; a birth defects program called "Baby's Lib," and a cancer awareness program.

Next meeting will be on Jan. 13 at 7:30 p.m. preceded by a board meeting at 6:30 p.m. in Water Wheel Center.

Officers Installed

CLINTON — Frank Gignac was installed worshipful master of Clinton Lodge 175 F & AM at an installation Saturday in the lodge hall.

Installing officers were: grand officer, Herman Green; grand marshall, Dale Porterfield; secretary, James Wilson, and chaplain, Wayne Predmore.

Other officers installed are: senior warden, Donald Geiger; junior warden, Richard Waters; treasurer, Robert Winder; secretary, Glen Bihlmeyer; marshall, John Hoelzer; senior deacon, Richard Buckmaster; junior deacon, Frederick Knight; chaplain, James Tonneberger; stewards, Ron Jones, Robert Cooper, and Danny Maynard; tyler, Lawrence Bailey.

A gift gavel was presented to Mr. Gignac by his family.

Board Oks Privacy Policy

CLINTON—Board of Education voted a policy regarding right to access and privacy of records.

All parents and guardians of students under 18 years of age and all students 18 years of age or over have the right, pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, to examine the official records, files, and data of the school district directly relating to the student.

They also have the right to examine and challenge any of the contents of said records according to established procedure to insure their accuracy and fairness. Procedures for notification, examination, and challenge, shall be made known to students and their parents or guardian of a student under 18, except under the following circumstances:

1. Use by local school personnel who have legitimate educational interests.
2. Transfers to other schools where the student is to enroll if parents are ntoified in advance and have an opportunity to receive a copy of and challenge the record.
3. Compliance with a judicial order or subpoena.
4. There has been a federal request for submission of student records in connection with the student's application for financial aid.

Bids Opened At Meeting

CLINTON — Board of Education opened bids for a dust collection system to be used in the high school industrial arts department at the meeting Monday night.

Low bid of approximately $4700 from an Adrian firm is being studied further before acceptance.

Board voted to adopt the Reimbursement Payments Plan to qualify for Michigan Unemployment Compensation. Beginning Jan. 1, 1975, Clinton Community School falls under the Department of Labor, Michigan Employment Security Commission regulations.

Specifically, this extends to all employees the right to collect unemployment compensation and it extends to the school the obligation to finance it.

The adopted plan calls for a dollar for dollar repayment to the State unemployment fund for unemployment benefits actually paid to former employees.

Firm of Frederick, Paul, and Associates was engaged as consultant concerning the unemployment compensation, at a minimum fee of $600.

Maternity leaves were granted Mrs. David Feldkamp, home economics teacher, and Mrs. Donald Houghton, third grade teacher, effective after first of year.

The 1974 Van Tuyle Pool operational budget report showed a deficit of $1903, due in the most part by the increase in supplies and chemicals.

Letters requesting financial assistance for the pool fund have been sent to Clinton United Fund, Clinton Village Council and Clinton Township Board.

Altar Society Re-elects Mrs. Krohl

CLINTON — Mrs. Richard Krohl was re-elected president of St. Dominic's Altar Society at a meeting Monday evening.

Other officers elected are, vice-president, Mrs. Anthony Bandurski; secretary, Mrs. Charles Still; treasurer, Mrs. Richard Richter.

Meeting was attended by 13 members and Rev. Fr. James Lee.

Mrs. Louis Caterina reported on the progress of the organ purchase committee.

Flower collection was scheduled for Dec. 21.

Mrs. Caterina, choir director, asked that more women join the choir.

Tentative projects discussed include a graduation breakfast in the spring, a mother-daughter breakfast and a spaghetti dinner.

Members sang Christmas carols accompanied by Mrs. Caterina at the piano.

Each member brought and exchanged an assortment of Christmas cookies and their recipes.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. George Bowman and Mrs. Thomas Young.

January meeting hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph Puchly and Mrs. Daniel Lauer.

Annual Christmas Party

CLINTON — The annual Clinton Children's Christmas party was planned by a committee of the Clinton Area Jaycees, at a meeting last Tuesday.

Christmas party will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 21 at Clinton High School auditorium.

Santa will visit with goodies for all the children and tentative plans are being made to have cartoons shown and a magician's act.

Jaycees also plan to help underprivileged children have a happy Christmas.

Council Condones Rescue Service

CLINTON — By a vote of 4-2 members of the Village Council voted to condone the Clinton Fire Department operation of a rescue service in the Village of Clinton and the Township of Clinton.

The Clinton Township Board had previously approved the rescue service in similar action.

Various means of parking control during snow removal periods were recommended and will be studied by the street committee.

Council discussed increasing the road width near the three factory locations in the southern edge of the village on Tecumseh-Clinton Road.

Council agreed with recommendations of the county road commissioner that a possible increase of five lanes rather than four lanes be considered.

Since the village owns to the center of the road on the west side, and the county owns to the center on the east side, expenses would be shared.

Village property, formerly owned by Clinton Engines, has now been cleared.

Robert Winder was present to report that the Clinton Township Board had acted to share in the joint assumption of operation of the Riverside Cemetery on an 80 percent Township, 20 percent Village basis. Village had already acted on this.

Mr. Winder and Supervisor Harry Comstock will represent the township and President Clayton Strolle appointed Richard Koster and John Jansen to represent the village on a committee to work out details of transferring cemetery operation responsibility, pending finalized legal technicalities.

Band Letter Is Planned

CLINTON — A monthly band newsletter was planned by a committee which met at the home of Mrs. Norman Campbell recently. News of the school band activities will be sent home with students monthly prior to Band Booster meetings.

Committee consists of Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Thomas Snyder, Mrs. Jerry Langowski, Mrs. Carl Duda, Mrs. George Ford, Mrs. John Doig, and Mrs. Campbell.

Mrs. Alton Emerine is in charge of the refreshment committee for the social hour after the Christmas band concert, Dec. 17

"Clinton" arm band patches are to be purchased for each band uniform.

Band committee will meet on Jan. 7 at the home of Mrs. William Stout to prepare information for the next newsletter.

Historian Tells Story

CLINTON — Charles Lindquist, of Adrian, director of the Lenawee County Historical Museum, told members of the Historical Society of Clinton about the fascinating historical momentos on display at the museum, at a meeting Dec. 3 in the Community Center.

Museum is of interest to both adults and children, and residents of the area are invited to visit it, located in downtown Adrian at Main Street and Maiden Lane. The museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Wayne Hulett, program chairman, gave a biographical sketch about the family of Philip Kehoe, early settlers in Clinton.

Next meeting of the Society will be Tuesday, Jan. 7, at 8 p.m. in the Smith-Kimball Community Center. Clinton area residents are welcome to attend.

School Hosts Alumni Night

Clinton High School will host an alumni night Dec. 20 in honor of all past Redskin basketball players and cheerleaders.

All Alumni will be honored at halftime in the game between Clinton and Onsted. Anyone who knows the whereabouts of past alumnus are asked to call the high school at 456-7441.

WHERE ECONOMY ORIGINATES

THE FIRST STEPS OF OPERATION AWARE

The President says that inflation is Domestic Enemy Number One. And here's how A & P is going to help you fight it. We've starting a new consumer program called Operation Aware. Because we're aware of the problems every consumer is facing today. These are the first steps we're taking to fight them.

1. AN EARLY WARNING SYSTEM ON PRICE INCREASES: THE AWARE LIST.

Every week we will voluntarily post a list of price increases such as those received from manufacturers a full seven days before we actually change our price. That gives you one week to purchase at the old price—subject, of course, to product availability. You'll also find "Be Aware" shelf tags on many frequently purchased items, with the day of the price increase right on the tag. Of course, the Aware List won't include perishables like meat, eggs or fresh fruit and vegetables, where markets fluctuate daily; items controlled by law; or advertised specials. So before you plan your next week's shopping list, check this week's Aware List.

2. A PRICE FREEZE ON A&P PRIVATE LABELS.

A & P voluntarily has put a ceiling on over 1000 A & P Products. (Smaller stores may not regularly stock all items, but a list is available in all stores.) That means prices will go no higher at least until the end of the year, on many products that you use everyday... bread, cheese, pasta, coffee, non-fat dry milk, frozen dinners and canned peas and corn. Advertised specials below the freeze prices will still be offered. We've put the freeze on our private labels because they represent the best values in our stores. And we'll hold down the prices, even if our ingredient costs go up.

3. OUR 13 POINT CONSUMER PROTECTION POLICY.

It's our continuing commitment to making you an Aware shopper by reminding you of what every A & P store owes you and by informing you of ways to get the most for your money. Look for the signs going up inside A & P stores spelling out all the protection A & P gives you: 1. Guaranteed Satisfaction 2. Exceptional Value 3. Low Price With Absolutely No Compromise in Quality 4. Rain Check-Product Availability 5. Product Freshness Through Open Dating 6. Consumer Information 7. Courteous Service 8. Cleanliness 9. Safe And Healthy Products 10. Shopping Convenience 11. The Butcher's Pledge 12. Variety of Choice and 13. People To People Communication.

Santa Claus a Town?

There is something special about Santa Claus in a small southern Indiana town where the famous Christmas legend has become somewhat of an everyday reality.

This town with a population of about 300-year-round residents, and a family of deer, is the jolly old gent's namesake home — Santa Claus, Ind. — as well as the home of his helpers, and the location of his overflowing mailbox.

A unique landmark at Santa Claus in the U.S. Post Office near the intersection of Indiana highways 162 and 245, and next to the entrance to Santa Claus land.

Nowhere in the world can you find a post office quite like this one. Its architecture is of a stone-fronted fairyland castle in design. And while the community has but slightly more than 300 year-round residents, this post office is flooded each year with about four million pieces of mail.

The bulk of all this mail comes around Christmas time to receive the cherished Santa Claus postmark.

Letters addressed to "Santa Claus" represents the tens of thousands of children's "want lists". And to the delight of children everywhere, all of these letters receive an answer from Santa Claus.

Robert L. Riply popularized the town back in the late 1920s by featuring it in an article in his "Believe It Or Not" column.

For over 40 years the role of Santa Claus has been played by Raymond Joseph "Jim" Yelling. When he noticed that incoming letters were being stored away because there were too many for the postmaster to answer, he, along with his wife, made sure children who cared enough about Santa Claus received a reply from Santa.

Women Meet for Christmas Program

BRITTON—"Heaven's Christmas Tree" was the program theme at the meeting of the United Methodist Women of Grace United Methodist Church, Thursday evening, in the church sanctuary.

Mrs. Allen Bower, leader of the program, gave a presentation of the many gifts we can give and receive under the tree. As several women brought a gift to place there, Mrs. Bower gave a description of it, the gifts were Love, Forgiveness, Peace, Freedom, Abundant Life and Eternal Life, all wrapped beautifully for each one to receive.

The sanctuary was festive with a large lighted Christmas tree, candles glowing in the windows, and pink carnations on the altar.

Those helping Mrs. Bower were Mrs. Ellsworth Robison, Mrs. Mirl Henry, Mrs. Edward Bailey, Mrs. Lester Edelbrock, Mrs. Paul Frazier, and Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield.

Program closed with Mrs. Paul Bailey singing "O Holy Night" accompanying herself on the piano

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Russell Scott, a gift of money-over and above-the pledge made to the district for missions, was voted to be paid.

The 1975 year books were presented to the members by Mrs. Richard Linn and reviewed. A thank you letter was read from the Britton-Macon United Community Fund.

Mrs. Frazier and Mrs. Bailey were authorized to purchase a tank type vacuum for the church. Sixteen sick calls were reported.

Mrs. Howard Haas, Jr. and Mrs. Fay Hindes served sweet rolls and coffee after the business meeting.

Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Ralph Sturtevant will host the first meeting of the New Year, Jan. 9. Mrs. Raymond Bird will present the program on "Prayer and Self Denial".

Potluck Dinner Spotlights Group

BRITTON—Tables decorated with Christmas candles and tiny winter sleigh nut cups, made by Iva Caswell, set the theme for the annual Christmas potluck dinner of the Ladies' Missionary group of Bethel Baptist Church.

Meeting was held at the church Thursday evening with 23 women attending.

Mrs. Caswell and Gladys Goodacre hosted the event with Mrs. Rex Kelley in charge of decorations.

Following dinner, Mrs. Walter Stutesman presided at the business meeting and opened with prayer.

Mrs. Bill Bartenslager was appointed to look after the boxes for shut-ins and Mrs. Kelley the gifts for servicemen and the missionary family, the Bixbys, which were chosen to be remembered. Anyone wishing to contribute toward the gifts or boxes may contact these in charge.

Mrs. Loren Gall acted as secretary in her absence and Mrs. Howard Bishop as treasurer. A love offering of $23 was received.

Mrs. Robert Hunt had charge of the devotional program with several of the women giving a reading or poem suitable for the season. Mrs. Caswell told of the writing of the hymn "Silent Night" with the group singing the song.

Mrs. Goodacre played the piano for carols which were interspersed throughout the program.

Joyal Bishop and Karen Purvis sang a carol and Mrs. A.J. Gamboe and Mrs. Hunt a duet. Pat Kelley told of the story of the "Little Match Girl."

Others taking part were Elsie Jeffrey, Ethel Miller, Cryscilda Miller, Ida Olds, Esther Howder, Ruth Baugh and Ardys Shiels.

Program concluded with the story of Jesus birth from the book of Matthew.

A coffee and dessert hour followed.

Mrs. Hunt demonstrated making Christmas ornaments from paper napkins and styrofoam balls for the women to make and take home.

Next meeting is Jan. 9 with election of officers.

Old St. Nick To Arrive

BRITTON—Santa Claus in his familiar red suit will make his arrival in the village of Britton via the big bright yellow fire truck. He will visit with youngsters at the Township Hall Saturday, Dec. 21 from 10 a.m. till 1 p.m. Each good little boy and girl will also receive candy from Stanta.

Santa's visit was arranged Monday night at the Township Hall when the Britton Businessmen's Association met to make arrangements for the visit and elect officers for the coming new year.

Elected were: Wayne Dunbar, president; Richard Dembinsky, vice-president; and Russell Scott was re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

At the business meeting it was voted to keep the dues at $7. Next meeting was scheduled to be held on Monday, Feb. 24 in the Township Hall.

Christmas Concert

BRITTON—Annual Britton-Macon Christmas concert will be Dec. 19, at the Britton-Macon High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The senior and junior high bands will perform, as will the senior high chorus, all directed by Mrs. Meri Schoof.

Among the selections to be played by the senior high band are "Sleigh Ride" by LeRoy Anderson; "Three Songs for Christmas" by Clare Grundman; and "Variation Overture" by Clifton Williams.

A few of the junior high band selections are: "Russian Sailor's Dance" by Reinhold Gliere; "Three Chorales for Christmas" by Milton Vincent and the ever popular "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" by Johnny Marks.

The high school chorus will sing the famous son, "White Christmas" by Irving Berlin, "African Noel" by Aden G. Lewis, "Do You Hear What I Hear" by Noel Regney and many others that are sure to please all listener's ears.

No admission fee is charged.

Vocal Concert

BRITTON—Elementary vocal concert on Tuesday, Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m. will feature the students in a Christmas program directed by Mrs. Hilda Caterina.

A contemporary drama, "O, Holy Night," will be performed. Narrators will explain the history of several old carols which will be sung by the children.

A group of sixth graders will sing "Gesu Bambino."

Caroling by Bluebirds and Campfire Girls

BRITTON—The Britton Bluebirds and Campfire Girls will hold their annual Christmas caroling event on Wednesday, Dec. 18, from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

At this time, boxes will be delivered to shut-ins. The leaders' association will meet at the fire hall at 12 noon on the same day for a potluck dinner, gift exchange and to pack the shut-in boxes.

Christmas carolers are to meet at the school parking lot.

Lunch Program

BRITTON—Students and parents of the Britton-Macon Area Schools who qualify may take advantage of an ongoing program that offers reduced prices on school lunches.

Many families, who may be unable to afford school lunches due to unemployment or striking unions, may apply by calling or writing John DeLine, principal at the school.

Three Are Top

BRITTON—Fourteen members of the junior high band participated in the District 8 Solo and Ensemble Festival Dec. 7 at Adrian High School.

Three events from Britton-Macon received a top rating of one: a saxaphone trio, Julie DeJonghe, Joanne Squires, Mary Oswald, Debbie Bush; a woodwind trio, Debbie Szabo Paula Rutter and Sandy Judkins.

Events receiving a two rating were: brass quartet, Dorothy Bush, John Arft, Bob Spence and Dennis Kimerer, and a clarinet solo by Karlene Lutz.

Congratulations to all of these students.

Memoriams

In loving memory of Ralph Randolph, who passed away Sept. 8, 1973, whose birthday and our wedding anniversary would have been Dec. 11.

Gone is the face we loved so dear.
Silent the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for our thoughts to reach.
Happy and smiling, always content.
Loved and respected, wherever he went.
Always willing to lend a helping hand.
What a beaufitul memory he left behind.
Sadly missed by his wife, Lauretta, children and grandchildren. 12-12p

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Ruth A. Rudd 12-12c

I wish to express my sincere appreciation and thanks to everyone for their thoughtfulness and kindness that was extended to me during my days at the hospital. I am sure that your prayers and concern was a great help in the progress of my recovery.

Youth Hockey Results

Saturday morning the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department's Youth Hockey PeeWees, sponsored by Raynor Snyder Reality, skated to a 2-0 shutout over The Chandler Aces. Kevin Dunnigan Tomahawk Goalie received his second shut-out and Tecumseh Goals were made by Tim Eardley and Randy Hill with one assist going to Mark VanBuren.

In the first of two games played Sunday afternoon the Tomahawk Mites sponsored by Dave White Chevrolet were defeated by Hammill Mfg. 2-1 in a very close and well played game. Lone goal for the Tecumseh Mites was made by Dale Earl.

The final game on Sunday found the Tecumseh Bantams sponsored by Tecumseh Products skating to their 5th straight victory by defeating the Bleim North Stars 7 to 2. Dave Perry, team captain, received his second Hat Trick of the season.

Other goals for the Tomahawks were made by defenseman Steve Gibbs (1) Center Ted Schalles (2) and Tim Kirby (1) assist on goals go to Dave Perry (1), Dave Ballash (1), Scott Snyder (1) Bobby Simpson (1) and Randy Vance (1).

TOP INDIAN SCORER — Little Melinda Ternak played her best game of the season in the girls basketball contest against Harper Creek Saturday night. Melinda racked up 20 points and tied with Janice Stevens for rebounding honors with six each.

Team Plans

Tecumseh Recreation Department is planning an Adult Men's Basketball City League to begin play in January. The six team league is limited to residents of Tecumseh School District only.

Any teams interested must contact the Recreation Department by 5 p.m. Monday, Dec. 16.

Cage Game Rescheduled

Last week's varsity basketball game between the Indians and Saline was postponed due to the snow. The game has been rescheduled for December 27 on the Indian's home boards.

REBOUNDING IS KEY

Monroe Downs Indians

By FRANK WEIR

Rebounding spelled the difference Friday night in Monroe as Catholic Central downed the Indian cagers 56-47. The loss leaves Tecumseh 1-2 for the season and a 1-1 league record.

The Indians hit 19 of 60 field goal attempts for a percentage of 31.7. They were more successful on free throws, connecting on 9 of 15 attempts for 60 percent.

But Monroe hit a respectable 41.4 percent of their field goals connecting on 23 of 56 attempts. On free throws, CC scored 10 out of 17.

Rebounding really made the difference with Tecumseh grabbing only 24 to Monroe's 45. Head coach Ron Spagnoli states frankly, "Rebounding cost us the game."

In evidence of that statement, one needs only to look at the turnover statistics. Tecumseh gave up the ball just 13 times while Monroe lost it 27 times. If the Indians had gotten those rebounds, Central's turnover mistakes might have tipped the scales in favor of Tecumseh.

Spagnoli explains the loss by saying, "Catholic Central was very aggressive and fired up. We were out-hustled and outplayed. Rebounding is the key and the team that rebounds wins. I was very displeased with our effort."

Needless to say, Spagnoli confides that the team will be working on rebounding this week in preparation for their match with Grosse Ile this Friday night. And the Red Devils have beee picked by some to win the league crown this season.

Perhaps Tecumseh will change all that. Especially since the Indians defeated Carlson two weeks ago - a team that beat Grosse Ile just last week.

High scorer for the Indians was Linvel Lisenbee hitting 6 goals for 12 points.

Tecumseh	11	9	10	17—47
Monroe CC	10	11	13	22—56

GRABBING THE REBOUND — Janice Stevens grabs the ball on the rebound during the Indians' big win over Harper Creek last Saturday night in Battle Creek. Janice and Melinda Ternak tied for rebound honors each with six. The win clinched the regional title for Tecumseh. Only three games remain for a Class B state championship. Next to Janice is Julie Murphy (22), and on the far right, Julie Anderson. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Clinton Cagers Drop 3

The Clinton cage team is having trouble getting off the ground losing their last three decisions to Sand Creek, Morenci, and Whiteford by scores of 59-57, 72-61 and 85-58 respectively.

Clinton gave Sand Creek a good run for the money losing only after entering overtime. Sand Creek's Greg Sharer tied the game up with little more than a minute left in the fourth quarter.

In overtime, Sharer came beck to destroy Redskin hopes for a win by connecting on two baskets and four free throws for all eight of Sand Creek's overtime points.

John Ruhl won high scoring honors with 21 points on 10 of 17 field goals. In addition he hauled down 12 rebounds. Dave Santure and Dave Mowery each counted 10 points. Greg Sharer led Sand Creek with 20 points.

Clinton's JV squad edged Sand Creek 58-56.

Clinton met Morenci next losing 72-61. The first half was a close contest with lots of fouls but Clinton came up trailing at the half 37-32. The Redskins had more opportunities at the foul line but Morenci came out on top in completions.

Kim Van Arsdalen connected on 13 of 15 free throws for 23 points for Morenci. John Ruhl was the high scorer for Clinton with 19 points. Redskin Kim Greenfield — in his varsity debut — tallied 12 points.

The Clinton JV's dropped their first decision of the season 64-52.

Clinton still had problems with foul shooting when they met Whiteford losing that one 85-58. The Bobcats outdistanced Clinton 40-19 in the first half. That margin was just too much for the Redskins.

Free throw shooting seriously hurt Clinton as the Skins connected on only 23 of 54 attempts. John Ruhl led the Clinton scoring with 16 points followed by Dave Mowery and Dave Santure with 12 and 10 points respectively. Terry Futrell led Whiteford with 24 points. Whiteford had the edge on rebounds 37-35.

The JV team also lost to Whiteford 53-43.

DROP FIRST TWO

Tories Off to Bad Start

The Britton Tories started their basketball season by dropping a pair to Manchester and Sand Creek 74-53 and 67-53 respectively.

The Tories seemed doomed from the start of the Manchester game going behind 22-13 in the first quarter. Britton couldn't find the range from the floor and the taller Dutchmen dominated the rebounding.

Things didn't improve in the second quarter with the hapless Tories connecting on only two of 17 field goal attempts. At intermission they found themselves trailing 40-21.

Britton's shooting was much more consistent in the second half forcing a stand-off. But the Dutchmen's lead was too much to overcome.

Leading scorers for Manchester were Dean Decker with 20 points and Kurt Kensler with 11. Mike Saxton was high-scorer for Britton with11 points.

The Britton JV's salvaged a split for the Tories by edging Manchester 44-42.

Next came an away game against Sand Creek. The Tories couldn't match Sand Creek's consistent shooting losing 67-53.

Although Sand Creek trailed only once, it couldn't put the Tories away until the final stages of the game. The Tories kept bouncing back from six to eight point deficits only to watch Sand Creek pull ahead.

The Tories registered a one point lead at the beginning of the second quarter but Sand Creek scored four straight baskets to make the score 23-16. Britton went to the lockers with a close 27-23 deficit.

The second half resembled the first with each team jockeying back and forth. It wasn't until the final quarter that Sand Creek could put the Tories away for good.

Britton connected on 24 of 62 field goal attempts and only five of 12 free throws. Mike Saxton hit 12 of 19 field goal attempts for the scoring honors with 26.

In the JV contest, Sand Creek downed the Tories 76-43.

Wrestlers Score Tie

Tecumseh's varsity wrestling squad salvaged a tie match against a tough Saline team Tuesday night 26-26.

The Indians were down 26-14 with two weight classes left to wrestle. Mike Creswell — at 185 pounds — scored a pin in the second period. The team was awarded six points for the pin. With the fans delirious, heavyweight Don Heistand came up to wrestle.

Heistand also scored a pin in the second period to bring the score to 26-26.

Thursday night, the squad travels to Blissfield.

Tecumseh Suffers Loss

Tecumseh's hockey team - sponsored by the Lenawee Hockey Association - lost a match against Adrian last Sunday 2-1.

Adrian scored first in the first period with Tecumseh grabbing a goal shortly after at 7:32. Jerry McFadden made the goal assisted by Mike Seal. Both are Tecumseh High School students.

In the third period, Adrian scored again. Tecumseh was hampered by over 30 minutes of penalties in the game.

Tecumseh will have another chance to defeat Adrian this coming Sunday at 4:30 p.m. The game will be held in the Jackson Sports Arena.

Electrical heating tapes used to keep water pipes from freezing, come in a variety of sizes from three ft. to 100 ft. on ¾" pipe it takes about two ft. of tape for one foot of pipe. It is best to use the ones with thermostats. They do not use electricity when the temperature is above 35 degrees. Never use metal to fasten tape to pipe. Use friction or plastic tape. The pipe and tape should be covered with insulation. If exposed to weather, it should have a plastic covering so tapes and insulation do not get wet.

It's easy to find electrical and plumbing supplies, kitchen and bathroom fixtures, garbage disposals and dishwashers by coming to CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, 1108 W. Chicago Blvd., 423-3121. Girls Win State Championship

Tecumseh High School varsity girls romped through the state finals at Lansing and Grand Rapids last week to bring the first-ever state basketball championship to Tecumseh.

After easily walloping Holt last Wednesday night, 57-40, the girls went on to Grand Rapids, and after a close game until early in the third quarter against Jenison, the Indians closed with a rush and a 49-32 win.

In the state finals Saturday night at the Kentwood Field House, Tecumseh had little trouble in routing Harper Woods Regina, 57-28.

The state championship game climaxed an undefeated season for the Indians who rolled to 23 straight victories under Coach Diane Nelson. No team during the season really came close to upsetting Tecumseh, and many were swamped by tremendous margins, sometimes by 70 points or more.

If ever a team was organized as a "team," it was this 1974 squad. The team had balance and personnel combined with team spirit. It was truly a team.

Barb Henning and Julie Murphy, only seniors among the starters, had their nights as did Julie Anderson, Melinda Ternak and Susie Brown. At one time or another during the season and again in the state finals, each girl had her moments — they worked together.

And, with Brown, Anderson and Ternak coming back next season along with a top bench, don't bet against Tecumseh's chances not to return to the state finals in 1975.

Clubs Annual Kettle Drive Dec. 20-21

Salvation Army annual kettle drive, co-sponsored by the Rotary Club and the Kiwanis, will be Friday and Saturday, Dec. 20 and 21, with kettles downtown, at the branch banks of United Savings Bank, and at the Kroger and A&P stores in Tecumseh.

Rotary members will man the kettles Friday, with the Kiwanis taking their turn on Saturday. Carl Lamb is Kiwanis chairman for the event, with Gene Cooley and Doug Aylesworth serving as Rotary co-chairmen.

The county-wide cooperative effort has set $4,000 as this year's goal. Last year over $1,100 was contributed in Tecumseh during the Salvation Army drive.

Children of the Sunday School will present their Christmas program under the direction of Mrs. Luther Short and the teachers of the various departments.

There will be recitations, dialogues and music, and a skit, by the different classes from the pre-school class through the sixth grade.

The public is invited to attend.

Tecumseh United Methodist Church will feature the singing of anthems by the Chancel choir and their families on Christmas Sunday, Dec. 22.

A Christmas Eve service of Christmas carols and candlelights will be held at the church at 9 p.m. Dec. 24. Everyone is welcome to come and sing the carols during the evening services.

Santa Calling

Annual SANTA CALLING will be sponsored by Tecumseh Jaycees from 6 to 8 p.m. Dec. 21, 22 and 23.

Kiddies may talk to Santa by calling 423-8336.

Dear Super Fans of Tecumseh!

We would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for the wonderful inspiration you gave us. Seeing and hearing all the smiling and cheering spectators at our games make us want to win.

How could anyone lose with such fantastic fans! Each and every person in the stands shared the glory after every victory.

We won the State Championship not only for ourselves, but for the whole city of Tecumseh.

Thanks,
THE 1974 GIRL'S CLASS B
STATE CHAMPIONS!

2 Victims of Robbery

CLINTON — Crime came to the country with a vengeance about 7:30 p.m. Saturday night when three armed men, wearing ski masks and gloves, forced their way into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Broniman, 113 E. Church St.

The trio tied up the Bronimans and ransacked the house, then made off with between $1,500 and $2,000 in proceeds from Shamrock Egg Country Store, which the Bronimans operate and had just closed for the night. Also taken were a diamond ring, earrings and a diamond watch.

Irma Broniman, 67, was home preparing supper and about 15 minutes after Mr. Broniman arrived home in the Shamrock van from the store, he tried to use the telephone and found it dead. Later the phone wires were discovered cut.

It was then that Mrs. Broniman was aware of three armed men who suddenly entered her kitchen from the side entrance. The trio demanded money and warned the Bronimans to call off their dog.

Mr. Broniman was tied, face down, on the floor with his hands and legs trussed behind him. Mrs. Broniman, hit twice with the gun butt on the head and back, was seated in a heavy dining room chair and was tied with her hands in front of her. The chair was then tied to a table.

For nearly an hour, they were tied up with guns at their heads, while the men threatened to burn the house down if they didn't get more money.

Every room in the house was ransacked, drawers and closets emptied, and beds torn up.

After the gunmen left, Mrs. Broniman managed to tip herself over on the floor, then retrieve a blade from an electric knife which had fallen from an overturned cutlery drawer. She then was able to free herself and her husband, but it took nearly half an hour before they could call police.

Mrs. Broniman said Monday she considered they were lucky to be alive. Already suffering from severe arthritis, she had more bruises now.

The men made their getaway in the Broniman's automobile, which was found a short time later about three blocks away on Brown St.

Police are continuing the investigation of the robbery. Mrs. Broniman commented that they "have some pretty good leads."

Closing Hours Announced

With Christmas less than week away, folks are reminded of special shopping hours and the times that most stores will close Christmas Eve.

All offices of the United Savings Bank will close at 12 noon on Dec. 24, and again at noon on Dec. 31. First Federal office will close at 3 p.m. on the same days.

City hall will be closed Tuesday, Dec. 24, and again on Dec. 31.

Ernest Oliver says the Secretary of State office will close at 1 p.m. on Dec. 24 and on Dec. 31.

Most shops in Tecumseh will close between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. on Christmas Eve.

THS Band To March

Permission was granted by the Board of Education Monday night for a Summer Volunteer Marching Band to replace the previous Community Band which would be open to all ninth through 12 graders under the direction of Jimmie Rice, director of instrumental music at the High School.

Board also granted permission for the Band to make applications to take part in summer parades such as the Tulip Festival in Holland and the Bavarian Festival in Frankenmuth, on the basis of one day trips only. Transportation would be provided by Tecumseh School busses for such one day trips.

Official Quits Two Boards

City council accepted with regret a letter of resignation of Duncan Oliphant from the Board of Review and Electrical Board.

Council postponed appointments to these vacancies for recommendations.

City Appoints MW Chairman

Karl Schneider Jr. was appointed Michigan Week Chairman by Council Monday night.

Schneider, of 111 Wildwood Circle, is owner of Tecumseh Finance.

TIRED BUT HAPPY CHAMPIONS — Tecumseh's Class B title holders pulled into town shortly after 5 p.m. Sunday amid snow, fans and a car carvan. City's fire truck and rescue wagon escorted the Indian bus from Billington Corners to the high school cafeteria, where the girls wrapped up their weekend celebration with the Tecumseh fight song, and a tear-jerker for some. They had just completed the biggest and most successful weekend of basketball in the history of Tecumseh High School.

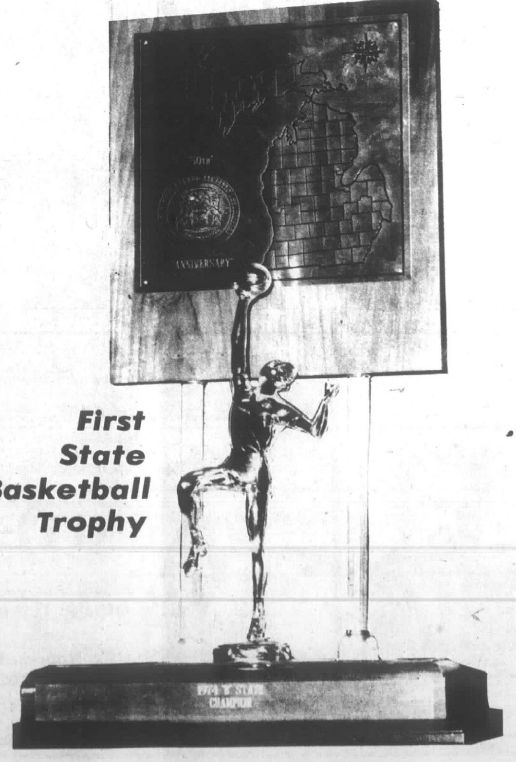
WE BELIEVED! - 3 LOPSIDED WINS

Thump Regina, 57 to 29

One will never know how good the 1974 THS varsity girls basketball team really was. The team started out the season with the "We Believe" slogan - one that is now "We Believed."

Goal from the start was the Class B championship, and the girls won in three lopsided victories, from the quarter-finals against Holt, the semi-finals with Jenison, and then the big one against Harper Woods Reginal Saturday night.

Coach Diane Nelson fielded a true "team," a fivesome who gave the team balance during each game of the season. Time after time, one or two of the starters would be hot; another night, it would be someone else.



First State Basketball Trophy

Championship

Tecumseh, 57, Regina, 29

In the state finals, Tecumseh started slowly but by the middle of the second quarter it was practically over. The Indians held a 12-5 lead at the end of the first period, then stretched it to 29-12 at halftime.

In the final two quarters, Tecumseh outscored Harper Woods Regina, 28-17, for an easy state championship.

Barb Henning was superb in the victory, scoring eight points in the first period, five in the second, seven in the third and three in the last quarter before being lifted by Coach Nelson. She finished with 25 points to lead all scorers.

Julie Anderson combined with Barb in the first half when she collected all nine of her points. Julie Murphy added five points in the second period when the Indians routed Regina. She finished with seven points.

Other Indian scorers in the title game were Melinda Ternak with nine points; Susie Brown, five; Jane Faulkner, two, and Peg Upell, two.

Semi-Finals

Tecumseh 49, Jenison 32

Friday night's tilt against Jenison was probably the toughest of the season for the Indians, who jumped off to a 14-2 first quarter lead and then had to battle their opponents until midway in the third quarter.

Jenison rallied in the second period with 16 points while Tecumseh was scoring just eight. After Jenison pulled to within two points, 28-26, the Indians caught fire and quickly pulled away.

After the final stanza started, Tecumseh roared to a lead of 13 points and was never threatened again.

Julie Anderson was top scorer with 18 points, eight coming in the first period. Julie Murphy hit for 12 points, Barb Henning 10, Melinda Ternak 7, and Susie Brown, two. It was the only game during the season that the starters played the entire game.

Susie, only 5'6", will be remembered for this game in which she held Jenison's big 6'2" center to just two points.

Quarter-Finals

Tecumseh 57, Holt 42

Although it was one of Tecumseh's poorest games, the Indians completely dominated a team which had knocked them out of the state race just a year ago.

For three straight quarters the girls increased their margins over Holt. At the end of the first period it was 14-4; at half, 28-12, and at the three-quarter mark, 47-27.

Julie Murphy paced her teammates with 15 points, while Susie brown hit six goals and a free throw for 13 points. Barb Henning and Julie Anderson each had 11, Melinda Ternak four, and Jane Faulkner, two.

Holt spurted briefly in the third period, pulling to within seven points before the Indians raced away.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

"Eat 'em mashed and you won't get smashed." That's the advice of the Michigan Automobile Club. Before heading out to Christmas and New Year's parties, motorists should eat mashed potatoes or some other starchy dish as these foods help retain alcohol in the stomach and slow its absorption into the bloodstream.

An illustrated 110 page nature guide, "Great Lakes Nature Guide," written by a leading Michigan naturalist, has just been published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. The fine easy to carry guide sent a few Herald employees scrambling to the mail to snatch the office copy. For everyone else, single copies are available for only one dollar each, postpaid, from Nature Guide, Box 2235, Lansing, Mich. 48911. Quantity prices are available to dealers, clubs, schools and other groups. Ideal for Scouts and Michigan outdoor enthusiasts.

Seek to Curb Bad Problem

Seeking to curb burglary and vandalism, about 12 merchants met informally last Friday with Police Chief Ray Walton to discuss crime prevention measures.

Major thrust of the meeting was to establish a crime prevention program like preventive medicine, explained Carl Lamb, one who attended.

More meetings will be organized through the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Chief offered several suggestions. About private guards Walton responded: "If a guard is hired to patrol one area, this actually causes crime to move out to fringe areas.

Furthermore, if few merchants support private guards and the total benefit, this will discourage support of the few paying merchants."

Some other suggestions made by Chief Walton were:

Check cashing precautions—"Really be careful if you are dealing with someone you didn't know yesterday and can't find tomorrow," Walton said.

Internal security suggestions—"I am a firm believer that the individual can do a lot to prevent crime. Criminal acts are committed where least efforts are involved."

In an interview Tuesday, Walton went on to say that in his own experience, increasing the police budget is no solution.

In support of this he cited an example from the Dec. 16 issue of "U.S. News and World Report." Kansas City saturated high crime areas with police and there were no significant changes in the levels of crime in test areas, said the report.

Walton also quoted the FBI monthly bulletin: "It is also far more economical in nearly every instance to prevent crime than solve it." He emphasized that personal responsibility in crime prevention can not be replaced.

Studies in Europe

Students will be working toward a maximum of six academic credit hours with the program associated with Art Europe 74-75. Art Europe 74-75 was selected by Siena Heights College to be used as a mini course to offer students on an opportunity for foreign study.

They will visit Switzerland, Italy, France, Spain, Austria, Holland and Germany, studying and touring art museums and galleries.

Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martin of 6951 Close Drive. She has made two previous trips to Europe since her graduation from Tecumseh High School in 1971.

She is a senior at Siena Heights, majoring in fine arts.

The group will leave Europe Jan. 16 to return to Siena Heights.

New Boat

A new 16-foot aluminum fishing boat designed with an eye to the special needs of the Great Lakes coho and other "big water" fishermen has been launched by Meyers Industries, Inc., here.

New boat, designated model 16-W, features the unique Meyers flare design which minimizes the splash and spray created by the pounding action inherent in large bodies of water.

The 16-W has a load capacity of 1160 lbs. and can be used with any motor up to 30 H.P. Polystyrene floatation is built into its seats.

Willing Workers Hold Party

Combined Christmas party was shared by Willing Workers and the Missionary Societies of Tecumseh Friends Church Dec. 17 at the church.

Program presented by the Willing Workers included carol singing, a skit, and the reading of "How Mrs. Ford decorated the tree at the White House" was given by Mabel Lockwood.

Christine Burch sang "Baby Boy Jesus." She was accompanied by Linda Chase.

Catherine Marshall's "Christmas is Love" was read by Sally Rieves.

Prayer was given by Mrs. Dane Ruff.

Secret sister gifts were exchanged and new sisters names were drawn.

Hostesses for the refreshment tables were Elizabeth Manley, Mable Lockwood, Naomi Sallows and Marion Mohr. Each place was marked with a candy cane and the name of a missionary prayer partner.

Unemployment Tax Approved by Board

Board of Education approved a two-year contract with the unemployment tax consultants firm of Frederick, Paul and Associates Inc., of Grand Rapids at its regular meeting Monday night.

Recently passed state law requires every school district to adopt either a direct tax or a reimbursement method of unemployment benefits for system employees, and Tecumseh School Board adopted the reimbursement method at last month's meeting.

Frederick, Paul, and Associates, Inc. will determine eligibility of unemployed claimants, maintain complete files on all unemployment claims, make recommendations regarding hiring processes, and provide representation if necessary at any possible hearings.

Approximate fee for the firm's services will be $1,050 per year for two years. Clinton, Deerfield, and Onsted school districts are among other local school systems which have recently signed contracts with the Grand Rapids unemployment tax consultant firm.

Sup. Robert Duhan and Assist. Superintendent, Gene Cooley, noted that the employee turnover in the Tecumseh schools has been minimal in the past few years. State law recently passed, however, makes substitute teachers eligible for unemployment benefits after fourteen consecutive weeks of employment, a clause which may affect substitute hiring practices in the schools.

Base Bid Accepted

Base bid of MTA, Inc. on Community Center additions and quotations on alternate improvements were accepted by Council Monday night.

Total bid is $37,457.

Cost is $24,042 plus $1,160 which includes deleting aluminum siding, soffits, trim from the new addition and the use of redwood lap siding, corner trim, plywood soffits and redwood lap siding, corner trim, plywood soffits and redwood fascias.

Blowing-in of insulation in stud spaces in existing building at all exterior walls will cost $2,040.

In addition to scraping and painting the siding of the existing building on all exterior walls, cost to drive wedges under lap siding to ventilate the underside of the wood is $315.

Mayor Harold Easton and Councilman Aden Mead opposed the measures.

Council earlier debated whether or not insulation and drive wedges were the answers to stop peeling paint.

New Merchant in Town

By Cortland Hunt

Newest downtown Tecumseh merchant is Chuck Maskil, who opened a paint and wallpaper store - Master Kraft Paint and Wallpaper - this week.

A complete line of paint, wallpaper and carpet will be carried, and he has hopes of adding kitchen cabinets and formica tops in the near future.

For the past two and a half years, Maskil was a vice president with Guardian Homes, Inc., Tecumseh and area builder. Prior, he was comptroller for Citron Oil Co., now Total Oil Co., for seven years.

His first business experience was in his father's hardware store in Birmingham.

The new shop is located on E. Chicago Blvd. in the downtown section and in a building recently renovated by Guardian Homes.

Chuck, his wife, Virginia, and two children reside at 500 Sutton St.

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

Last week I promised to steer clear of cooky recipes - but I didn't say anything about candy! Here's a last minute toffee recipe that is easy to make and great to munch during the holidays.

This recipe for English Toffee orginated with a California friend of mine, but since then I've discovered many variations of it floating around the country. Whatever the source, it's a sure-fire winner.

A word to the wise: don't fret if the candy mixture takes its time to thicken and turn caramel color. It takes longer than you think, sometimes as long as twenty minutes.

English Toffee

½ lb. butter
2 tbsp. water
1 cup sugar

Combine and stir over medium high heat until mixture melts and gets bubbly. Stir constantly until it gets to be a rich caramel color. Mixture will get very thick.

Pour onto an ungreased cooky sheet and let cool.

Melt about half of a large bag of chocolate chips over hot water (in a double boiler). Watch carefully and make sure the chocolate doesn't burn.

Spread chocolate on top of the toffee and then sprinkle with crushed nuts. Refrigerate (toffee will crack) and then repeat with chocolate and nuts on the other side.

You can flip the toffee with a spatula to frost with chocolate and nuts on the other side. Refrigerate again.

When cool, crack or break into bite sized pieces.

Candy can be refrigerated when not being served in case the chocolate begins to melt.

Calendar of Events

THURSDAY, DEC. 19

PAST CHIEFS CLUB OF PYTHIAN SISTERS — Meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Albert Todd with the annual Christmas party and gift exchange.

FRIDAY, DEC. 20

1974 Grad Gets $100

Board of Education recently awarded a $100 cash scholarship to Nancy Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Warner of 303 Herrick Park Dr., a 1974 graduate of Tecumseh High School, and a freshman at Union College in Barberville, Ky.

Scholarship was donated by Suzie McElroy, runner-up in the Sesquicentennial Queen contest, who gave her prize money to the Board.

Scholarship candidate was selected by a committee composed of faculty members at Tecumseh High School.

Red Rose

A red rose will be placed on the altar of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church Dec. 24 for Karen Sue Cowen, infant daughter of Russell and Sandra Cowen.

Christmas Caroling

Tecumseh Camp Fire Leaders' Association sponsored Christmas caroling Dec. 14 from 2 until 4:30 p.m.

Camp Fire Girls met at the Church of Christ where they boarded the Joy Bus, driven by Carl Rupert, and traveled to Herrick Memorial Hospital and Nursing Home and three private homes.

Mrs. Sharon Szeman accompanied the 70 Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls on her accordian. After the caroling the group returned to the church for hot chocolate and cookies.

Area leaders assisting in the event were Jan Slick, Georgie Covell, Jackie Painter, Linda Sherman, Karen LaVeck, Carol Partridge, Brenda Rupert, Delores Thompson, Mrs. Schultz, Helen Wilson, Sharon Mohr, Linda Compton, Brenda Walters, and Barbara Connin.

Candy canes were distributed to the girls at their departure.

Report Purse Snatching

In police news this week, Tecumseh officers reported a purse snatching, tape deck robbery and a theft of motor oil.

Mrs. James Bick was assaulted and her purse snatched in the parking lot of Tecumseh's library last Wednesday at 7:50 p.m.

Mrs. Bick told officers that two young men walked up to her, grabbed her purse, flinging her to the ground.

Claude Lane and his son, Rick, found the purse and credit cards at the Evans Street bridge later, but $15 cash was taken from the purse.

Also on Wednesday, an unknown perpetrator—perhaps reacting to increased oil prices—broke into Standard Oil's bulk plant at 515 W. Patterson after 5 p.m. The thief took three cases and three five-gallon cans of oil valued at $74. A padlock had been destroyed by bolt cutters to allow entry.

On Friday, Robert Williams, 501½ E. Chicago, reported to police that a tape deck and 13 tapes had been removed from his car. The car was parked behind Jerry's Bar and the theft occurred between 1 and 1:25 a.m.

Total value was placed at $143.95.

Examine Records

School Board adopted a policy on student records which allows parents of minors to examine school records of their children, and students eighteen years or older to examine their own records, Monday night at its monthly meeting.

Policy was adopted in compliance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, passed recently in Congress.

Supt. Robert Duhan noted that this policy is not significantly different from the unwritten policy which has been in effect in Tecumseh schools regarding the availability of school records for parental examination.

All school districts receiving federal aid have been required to adopt a free examination of records policy in order to retain eligibility for federal funds.

Officer in Accident

City police officer Gerry Greene, of 500 Outer Drive, was enroute to the scene of an accident on Occidental Road just south of Willow St., at 3:45 p.m. Sunday, when he collided with another vehicle.

Greene, in a city police vehicle, was southbound, when he started to pass a southbound car driven by Carl Zilke, 21, Clayton.

Green's vehicle slid into the rear of the Zilke car, which then struck a power pole.

Greene, Zilke and a passenger in the Zilke car, Elizabeth Stanick, 22, of Britton, all sought their own treatment for minor injuries.

Clinton State Police investigated the mishap and no summons were issued.

Meyers Authorized

City council agreed to authorize Meyers Airport to make application for Federal surplus property to help maintain the airport.

Under this arrangement, the city acts as the government that accepts airport maintenance equipment such as dumping, plowing or mowing equipment from federal government on behalf of Meyers Airport.

Programs

Tecumseh Grace Evangelical Lutheran church will celebrate Christmas with several liturgical programs this holiday, announced the Rev. Kenneth Strack.

Dec. 22 at 10:45 a.m. the Sunday School will present a program, "The Tree of God's Love." Dec. 24 at 7:30 there will be a candlelight service with carols and lighting of candles.

Christmas morning, worship service will be at 9 a.m.

On New Year's Eve, a communion service will be at 7:30 p.m.

51 YEARS OF SERVICE — Patricia Yarckow knitted this afghan for the retiring Elmer Krueger. Mr. Krueger started working for Emerson Electric in St. Louis, Mo. in 1923 at the age of 13. After going to night school and the school of hard knocks he became a representative for Emerson in Northern Ohio and Michigan. He and wife, Katherine, moved to Detroit in 1947 where they still live. Emerson Electric supplies the Tecumseh Products with motors. The Products honored Elmer with a party at the Tecumseh Country Club Tuesday night as a way of saying good-bye for the 27 years of close working. After retirement he and his wife hope to travel, golf, fish and catch up reading the books in his home. (Photo by Cortland L. Hunt)

Campaign Timetable

Robert Duhan, Supt. of Schools, reported briefly at Monday night's meeting on the campaign timetable for a possible bond election prepared by Ned Hubbel, Associates.

A ten week campaign was suggested by the consultant firm.

"Thanks"

In other business at the Board of Education meeting Monday, a letter of thanks from the Tecumseh High School girls' basketball team was read to the Board. The Board passed a resolution to send a letter of commendation to the coach and members of the Class B State champions.

Requests Granted

City council granted the request of the South Eastern Michigan Telecommunications Educational Consortium to program on Liberty Cable's channel 5 at anytime between 6 a.m. and midnight, effective Dec. 17.

You Told Us

By Libby Lincoln

By now it's probably old hat — but hats off to the Class B State Champs! They and their coach, Diane Nelson, have truly earned their laurels, and are among the frontrunners helping to put women's athletics on the map.

Recent weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Walsh and children were Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Ramirez, Lee Bryan and Joy. Mr. and Mrs. Ramirez, formerly of St. Joseph, were transferred by the Whirlpool Corp. to Houston, Tex. at the same time that the Walshs moved from St. Joseph to Tecumseh.

A most enjoyable weekend was spent reaffirming their old friendship and getting acquainted with the Ramirez's new baby daughter Joy.

Sharecropping Approved

Tecumseh School Board approved the continuation of a sharecropping arrangement on the proposed high school site by James Rundell, under which the Board receives one-third of the gross sales from the property. The sharecropping arrangement was approved for another year.

Style Sense by Evel

Below the shoulder-length hair getting you down? Now is the time to trim off a few of those offending inches. Get it done by one of the professionals at our shop, and you will find yourself with a style that is much easier to manage and a real satisfaction to wear. Never wear hair that has simply been washed. Instead let one of our operators set it on large rollers to give it swing and soft curl. You may like the dressy touch and soft facial outlines which this look achieves or consider the blow-dry technique for a truly new you!

If elbows are much discolored and very rough, wash them gently with fine abrasive power each day for a week. After each rinsing, thoroughly massage in a good cream and plenty of oil. Always massage from the wrist up the forearm and over the elbows way up to the shoulder. Remember that biting fingernails is a nervous habit that gives your anxieties away. Keep your fingernails well manicured, add a little willpower and the habit may be broken sooner than you think.

Birds Keep Busy

Raisin River Blue Birds of Sutton School have been making Christmas gifts including candles, fancy ornaments and pictures for wall hanging.

They went caroling sponsored by the Tecumseh Leaders' Association Dec. 14.

The group held its Christmas party Dec. 16 in the home of their leader, Barb Connin, with a gift exchange. They received candy charms and certificates at that time.

Beth Schultz, Sabrina Szeman, Mary Wilson and Shelley Brown also received special candy patches. Shelley was the top seller in the group, having sold the most candy.

Refreshments were served from a festively decorated table by Helen Wilson and Bridget Connin

Shooting No. 1 Problem for Indians

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh's varsity basketball squad lost a tough decision to Grosse Ile last Friday night 63-52.

Grosse Ile lept out in front scoring 21 points to Tecumseh's 7 in the first quarter. Although the Indians pulled close late in the second half, poor shooting made the difference.

The Indians connected on 23 of 75 field goal attempts for 30.7 percent. Shots from the free throw line were even harder for the Indians to make. They hit only 6 of 24 for a mediocre 25 percent.

Leading scorer for the Indians was Brad Sisson with seven field goals and one free throw for 15 points. Ken Biscupski and Jim Vaughn tied for second place honors with 10 each. Vaughn led the team in rebounds with 14. Tecumseh grabbed 41 total rebounds to Grosse Ile's 49. In turnovers, Tecumseh gave up the ball 12 times to Grosse Ile's 21.

Leading scorer for Grosse Ile was Terry Allen with 25 points.

This Friday, the Indians head for Flat Rock.

Wrestling Team Scores Big Win

The Indian wrestling team won a match against Blissfield last week and Chelsea Tuesday night. Scores respectively were, 34-23, and 36-22.

In the Blissfield match, Ron Halasz, Mike Creswell and Don Heistand all scored pins. Jim Shough, Dan Tilton and Bob Chatters all won by decision. Joe Castorena fought to a draw.

For the Chelsea match, Ron Halasz, Joe Castorena, John Silberhorn and Don Heistand all scored pins. Jim Shough and Dan Tilton won by decision and Steve Bishop won by forfeit.

This Saturday and Monday freshman and sophomore Indian wrestlers travel to Ann Arbor Pioneer to participate in the novice tournament. Wrestling starts at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Matmen Win Opener

CLINTON — The Clinton wrestling team beat Napoleon 30-23 in their season opener but dropped their next match to Dundee 51-6.

Varsity winners at the Napoleon match were Brad Bowman at 105 pounds, Jim Scoggins at 112 pounds, and Tom Claus at 167 pounds, all by first round pins; Steve Halchishak at 145 pounds with a major decision; and Al Hivell, at 126 pounds and Al Eveleth at 138 pounds. Terry Sell tied his heavyweight opponent.

At Dundee the results were different: Dundee's Mark Rigel pinned ChrisWoijtowicz, Clinton's Brad Bowman won by forfeit over Tony Vanloon; Mat Cauchy won a decision over Jim Scoggins 4-1; Duane Stevens pinned Melvin Galovich, Dave Harnica won by forfeit over Ken Roberts; Rito Aguirre won a decision over Al Hively 6-0; Dennis Craft beat Al Eveleth 7-0; Jeff Brown pinned Terry Reiser, Vince Aguirre pinned Dave Wolfe; Steve Burgess beat Tom Claus 12-4; Mike Zaworski beat Terry Sell 6-0.

Britton Library

BRITTON—Following are the latest books received at the village library.

ADULT

"WOMEN IN WHITE" by Frank G. Slaughter. An engrossing novel about a vast metropolitan hospital and the fast breaking life—and—death dramas that are the daily experience of those who run it. It is a revealing picture of powerful men and women whose loves, hopes and fears are deeply intertwined with the tragedies and rich rewards of modern medicine.

"SPEAK TO ME OF LOVE" by Dorothy Eden. The story of a great mercantile family—their strengths and weaknesses, passions and preoccupations through three generations—and of an extra ordinary woman who was absolute monarch of a lavish commercial enterprise and the prisoner of a blinding passion at home.

"LOCKED ROOMS AND OPEN DOORS" by Anne (Morrow) Lindbergh. Diaries and letters of Ann Lindbergh 1933-35.

"A MEMBER OF THE FAMILY" by Mary Carter. Labor Day on Cape Cod brought all the Thachers for an end-of-summer celebration. For John Thacher it was a time of particular happiness—as he felt all the sides of his life in exquisite balance.

TEENAGE

"HOW TO FIX UP OLD CARS" by Le Roi Smith. A practical guide that provides all the basic information needed to fix up an old automobile.

JUNIOR

"SOCKS" by Beverly Cleary. "Socks" is a young Tabby cat with four white paws, and he lives happily with a young married couple, Marilyn and Billy Bricker. He is the center of the household and rules it affectionately but firmly.

Tory Cagers Win Two

BRITTON—After losing their third decision of the season, the Britton Tories cage team scored two consecutive wins. They lost to St. Thomas 69-43 but won over Whitmore Lake and Whiteford, by scores of 61-52 and 52-41.

The Britton-Macon Tories tried again for their first win of the season against St. Thomas after dropping their first two games to Manchester and Sand Creek.

Britton did very well in the first quarter scoring 12 points and holding the Irish within arms length. The Tories were very effective utilizing the stall and showing a great deal of patience and control. The team seemed to have matured quite a bit from last week.

During the 2nd and 3rd quarter St. Thomas scored 33 points to Britton's 11. The factor that hurt the Tories most was their lack of rebounding and they were not hitting some of the easier shots.

Craig Wagenschutz was the high scorer for the Tories in the game with 15 points. Mike Saxton was second with 12 points and high rebounder with 10.

The Junior Varsity also lost by a score of 76 to 35.

Whitmore Lake was the first to fall to the Tories in a very aggressive battle. After a 6-6 tie in the first quarter, the Tories gained a 19-18 halftime lead and never trailed the rest of the game.

Although Tory shooting was poor, they relied on good defense, excellent free throw shooting and strong rebounding to crush their opponent. The defense was headed by the hustle of Mike Saxton, Mike Servoss, Jeff Brown, Craig Wagenshutz and Dan Exelby.

The Tories gained a 43-17 rebounding advantage over Whitmore Lake because of the efforts of Mike Saxton with 14 rebounds and Wagenshutz with 10. At the free throw line, the Tories swished 31 out of 43 tosses.

High scorers in the Whitmore Lake game were Saxton with 23 points and Exelby with 16.

The Tories used much the same formula to defeat Whiteford.

The game was tied 8-8 at the end of the first period, the Tories pulled away and led the rest of the ballgame.

Defense and rebounding again were the keys to Britton's success. The Tories dominated the Bobcats on the boards, pulling down 69 rebounds compared to Whiteford's 17. Leading the Torie rebounders were Steve Gilmore and Craig Wagenshutz with 16, Mike Saxton with 14 and Jeff Brown with 10.

Mike Saxton led all scorers with 24 points. He was followed by Dan Exelby with 8.

The Britton-Macon JVs gained a split over the weekend. They defeated Whitmore Lake 49-39, but lost to Whiteford, 70-49.

The Britton-Macon Tories host Madison this Friday, Dec. 20.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

Did you know there still are Sir Galahads just waiting to rescue damsels in distress? Well ladies, they're out there, and it was this writer's good fortune to be aided by three such knights in shining armor recently.

Herman Finkbeiner and his son, Ermine, "armored" in heavy jackets and galoshes and riding their trusty steed (an enormous tractor), pulled my not-so-trusty pickup out from a snow bank along Macon Highway. After my truck was towed to the safety of plowed Hack Road, I high-tailed it for home and didn't venture out for almost a week!

Then with column in hand en route to my son's school in Clinton and then over to the Herald office, I slid on ice-covered Kehoe Road and wound up with my front tires stuck in—yup, you guessed it—another snow bank. It was good Samaritan Lincoln Johnson of 5950 Kehoe Road who labored 20 minutes so that I could be on my way.

Thanks go to these three gentlemen as well as to countless others who, in big ways and small, daily help their fellow men (and women). But when all is said and done, that's what it's all about.

Hope Circle members were in charge of the program given at the United Methodist Women meeting last Tuesday and put the projector and screen they purchased for the church to good use by presenting two films, "Christmas Through the Ages" and "Christmas Rhapsody." Members also sang some seldom-sung Christmas carols.

A wide assortment of holiday goodies, punch and coffee were served by the executive committee following the business meeting. President Emogean Morden expressed her gratitude to the members for their support during the past year and gave each who attended a long-stemmed, red rose.

Five Hurt in Collision

Five persons were treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital for injuries received when two autombiles collided on M-50 just west of Matthews Hwy., Sunday afternoon.

James L. Eberle, 16, of Onsted, was westbound on M-50 when he lost control of his vehicle and slid in front of another car driven by Donald E. Boehmer, of Lambertville, who was unable to avoid the collision.

Injured included Eberle, and his sister, Kim, and the driver of the other car, Boehmer, and his passengers, David Boehmer, 9 and Karen Boehmer, 13.

Eberle was charged with driving too fast, by Clinton State Police.

Macon Women Send Gifts

MACON—Members of Macon Women Club arrived at the home of Mrs. Charles Bigelow Dec. 12 bearing festively wrapped gifts for State Hospital patients. Mrs. Merle Cross and Mrs. Harold Ross assisted in serving the Christmas breakfast to 13 members and three guests, Mrs. Herbert Gilmore, Mrs. Hamilton Moore, and Mrs. Ronald Pilbeam.

Mrs. Cross opened the meeting with a poem entitled, "Christmas Magic." During the business meeting, Mrs. Arthur Hill informed the women that Mrs. Richard Mohr is the new leader of the club's sponsored Blue Bird group.

Mrs. Mills Swick reported that the recent Goodwill bazaar was very successful and more items could have been sold. It was arranged to remember shut-in members of the club during the holidays.

Devotions were taken from the second chapter of Luke and were offered by Mrs. Leland Rohn. Mrs. Leland Bush played musical memories on the piano, and "The Place for Christmas Is Within Our Hearts" was read by Mrs. Ross. Several favorite Christmas carols were then sung.

Mrs. Mills Swick will host the Jan. 9 meeting, and the county federation officers will be guests. Mrs. Robert Gage will be in charge of the program. Members are reminded to bring layette items for the County Welfare Department.

Nominations for Action Center

Nominations are now being accepted for interested and dedicated people in Lenawee County who wish to serve on the Community Action Center Board of Directors. People elected to the Board will be expected to attend board meetings, participate in agency activities and contribute ideas and suggestions in regards to addressing low-income groups and their needs.

BOOK MARK

News from the Tecumseh Library

LIBRARY HOLIDAY PROGRAM

Tecumseh Public Library will present two story hours for children of the Tecumseh school district on Friday, Dec. 27 at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

These programs replace the regular story hours on Wednesday, Dec. 25 and Jan. 1

They will interest children in kindergarten through sixth grade, but younger children are also welcome, if accompanied by an older brother, sister, or friend.

Programs will feature two films: "Walter, the Lazy Mouse" and "The Red Balloon." Walter, star of the first film, is so lazy he never gets up on time, never gets to school on time, and never arrives in time for meals.

Eventually his parents get so used to never having him around they forget about him, and that's when the trouble starts.

"The Red Balloon" is a 34-minute film telling the adventures of an engaging young French boy. An unusual feature of this film is its lack of dialogue. Story is narrated through film and muisc.

Both films are in color and have a great appeal for elementary school children.

In addition to the films, Mrs. Cleon Mason, children's librarian, will give short reviews of three new children's books: "Harry Cat's Pet Puppy," "Wish at the Top," and "Wild Jack."

Other activities are also planned for this hour of fun.

Tecumseh Public Library will be closed Dec. 24, 25, 31, and Jan. 1.

What's Up At THS

By J. Renee Lapham

The Tecumseh High School Music Department celebrates Christmas this year with several Christmas concerts during the month of December.

The Girls Glee Club, under the direction of Gerald Bach, will hold concerts at several grade schools in the district.

Some of the songs they will sing are, "A Child Is Born in Bethlehem," "I'm Gettin' Nuttin' for Christmas," and a 20 minute cantata, "The Night the Angels Sang."

The Mixed Chorus, also under the direction of Mr. Bach, will perform on Dec. 19 at 8 p.m. in the Patterson School gymnasium. Concert will feature several small numbers and a cantata titled "Born a King."

The Tecumseh Junior and Senior High Bands performed in concert Dec. 12 in the THS gym. The seventh grade performed first, with the eighth grade, Junior Varsity and Varsity bands following.

Stage Band held a concert in Grinnell's at the Adrian Mall on Nov. 21. No admission was charged, since the concert was a promotion for the store and band.

Some of the songs performed were, "House of the Rising Sun," "Spinning Wheel," and "Canadian Sunset."

CHECK PRESENTATION — Members of VFW Post 34 present a check for $500 to Ward Eardly, director of parks and recreation. 10 Year Hobby Still Keeps Couple Fascinated

By KATHY KULCZYK

Mrs. Julian Strong of Ridgeway has become acquainted with countries around the world. How does she do it?

She is a member of the State Line Gem and Mineral Society.

Society, which draws members from Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, meets monthly in Tecumseh.

Mrs. Strong's collection comes from all over the United States, Mexico, Canada, Australia and Africa and has been collected from her armchair. Most of the specimens are from the Western United States rather than the East.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Strong occasionally make quarry trips with the Society to collected specimens, members acquire their rocks and minerals by swapping, buying, auctioning in the club. In July and August, the club has its "big swap," in Wauseon.

Mrs. Strong began her hobby 10 years ago but her interest started in college. She was a teacher for 35 years, full and part-time in Lenawee, Macomb, Wayne counties, teaching physiology, anatomy and English in the junior high schools.

Mr. Strong is a biology teacher, also retired after 30 years with the Melvindale Public schools.

Shortly after her retirement, Mrs. Strong joined the Rock of the Month Club and rapidly added to her collection. Her husband encouraged her interest and the couple have been very active in the hobby together.

Although Mr. Strong says that his wife is the rock hound, he knows almost as much as the collection and delights in his wife's interest.

Mrs. Strong doesn't have a favorite mineral or rock. Crystals seem to be her weakness. Crystals are considered by most collectors to be "flowers of the mineral kingdom."

"I like any of them, it doesn't matter what they are," she said just like a parent who loves all children.

Mrs. Strong cited the Herkimer diamonds, "false diamonds" from Herkimer, N.Y. as one of the more interesting and abundant eastern specimens.

Another specimen which is abundant is rock crystal, or quartz, and can be found in abundance in North Carolina. Quartz found there is much desired for chandeliers. Mr. Strong pointed out that there is the greatest variety in quartz and it is widely distributed throughout the country.

To the eye, one rock is the same as another. Mr. Strong explained the differences.

A mineral is a solid, homogeneous, crystalline, chemical element or compound that results from the inorganic processes of nature.

Rocks are the essential building materials of the earth. An aggregate of two or more minerals is considered to be a rock. For example, granite which is considered a rock, is composed of at least two minerals and may be a combination of feldspar, mica or quartz.

Many rocks which constitute the earth's crust are the result of geologic processes acting during long ages, building up some rocks and breaking down others.

The normal rock cycle is molten rock, igneous rock, sediment and sedimentary rock and metamorphic stage. However, there are countless bypaths to this cycle.

Also of interest are gems, or jewels. Prized for great beauty or perfection, the precious or semi-precious stones can be cut and polished for ornament.

Rock collecting seems to appeal to individuals because it is a hobby that takes people outdoors, gets them acquainted with nature, earth history and formation, and enables them to meet others.

For Mr. and Mrs. Julian Strong, who as science teachers have been long acquainted with nature's mysteries and beauty, rock collecting serves as a stimulating and entertaining way to spend leisure hours, learn together and share nature's wonders with others.

STRONG FASCINATION—Mrs. Julian Strong of Ridgeway has been fascinated by rocks and minerals for a long time and within the last decade she and her husband have transformed their home into a little museum of rocks, fossils and minerals from all over.

To The Editor

New School?

To the editor:

Does Tecumseh need a new high school? If your answer to this question is no, you had better look again.

Just for starters, look at the school during a normal day. The halls are literally packed. It might not be so bad if the students didn't have to use their lockers, but they do.

While this is unfortunate, it is not the only problem, more importantly, how is it in the classroom? At least there is elbow room, but this tiny school is robbing the youth of a real quality education.

Rooms are overcrowded and offer little or no personal attention for the students. This is in no way the fault of the teachers.

Now come on Tecumseh, we are preparing the younger generation for life, but are we doing a job that the community can be proud of? To this, I say no, we are not.

Tecumseh is a rich community, and the opinions formulated in our high school greatly affect our community. Take for example a student that gets no personal attention in school. He then easily gives up and presents a bad impression of the city. This is happening more and more, and if you don't believe me, make a visit to our school.

I am not saying that this would, without a doubt, correct the youth of our community 100 percent, but it is a start and a start is all we ask.

Another aspect of the same problem concerns the classes that are being offered in some high schools today. They literally put THS to shame. I'm not saying that we have to have the very best in the state. But let's at least keep pace with the good ones. The major problem is the lack of facilities.

Perhaps this article is a little out of season, because there are no petitions going around, and a vote is not yet scheduled for the new school, but it is something to think about. If you attended this school, it gave you a quality education for the time, but that's just it. The times are changing, and now it's time for Tecumseh to start changing along with them.

Sure it may cost a few more tax dollars, but if you were a youth of today, wouldn't you expect it of the adults of the community to offer you a quality education. I do, and I hope this article can open up your minds to the fact that a new high school is truly needed.

Breakfast Made by Sixth Grade Girls

Breakfast fit for starving sixth grade boys was prepared and served by the sixth grade girls at Herrick Park School. Meal, also served to parents and teachers, was part of an enrichment unit on nutrition and cooking.

Girls planned a well-balanced menu. Teachers are Richard Billington and Mrs. Karen Bufe.

Guests included Mrs. Lois Fleming, school principal, Mrs. MacGeorge and Mr. Kempf. Parents who assisted and attended were Mrs. Paul Dubay, Mrs. Eldon Mumme, Mrs. Ray Craft and Mrs. LeRoy DuMond.

Ed Johnson's marionettes treated students with a performance of "Wonder Mountain," Dec. 6. Ridgeway school students also viewed the program.

Over 250 enthusiastic parents and friends viewed the school's Christmas concert, 'Twas the Night Before Christmas," Dec. 9.

Fourth grade students of Mrs. Alice Staples san "White Christmas," "Christmas Merry Ha! Ha!," "Take a Step in the Right Direction," with Mickey Hyatt and Cathleen Burns doing the special effects.

Fifth grade students of Mary Ann Wallace and Mrs. Janet Heath performed three selections. Lisa Bryan, Wendy Carter, Tammy Ford, Linda Winzeler, Paula Hoehn, Laura Murphy and Kathy Webber sang the girls' descant.

Sixth grade students of Mrs. Bufe and Mr. Billington sang three selections which featured Penny Hilton's flute solo and a vocal solo by Lisa Bush.

Combined choirs presented 'Twas the Night Before Christmas" as a finale to the concert. Special performers were Lisa Bush, Penny Hilton, and Sharin Pool girls' trio.

Wendy Carter, Walter Kidner, Kathy Webber, Scott Stubbs, Debora Spagnoli and Pat Wallich entertained with speaking parts. Todd Bagdon played slide whistle and Mrs Karen Bufe, accompanied.

Mrs. Brenda Schedeler, vocal music teacher, directed the concert.

Youth Selected for Symphony

D. Paul Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Elwood Bush of 9381 Pennington Road, has been selected by audition for the Michigan Youth Symphony, a 110-piece orchestra sponsored jointly by the University of Michigan School of Music and Extension Service.

A senior at Britton-Macon High School, Bush plays the cornet, and last year toured in Finland with the All-Michigan Symphony for three months.

He is a member of the Britton-Macon High School band, and taught last year at the Manistee music Camp in Tecumseh Woods.

Patrick Emerine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Emerine 13653 US-12, Clinton, a senior at Clinton High School, has also been selected and will play percussion in the Michigan Youth Symphony. He has played in the school bands since fifth grade.

Emerine was recently accepted to play with the Musical Youth International, and expects to accompany them to Europe on a concert tour. He plans to become a music major in college next fall.

The orchestra will give its first performance Jan. 26 in Dearborn at Edsel Ford High School, with subsequent performances in Flint, Dexter, Saginaw, Cadillac, Mt. Pleasant, and locally at Monroe's St. Mary's Academy on March 2.

Proceeds from the series of concerts will be used for scholarships for members to the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

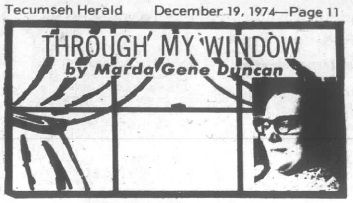
The repertoire of the orchestra includes works by Beethoven, Rossini, Rimski-Korsakov, Shostakovich and other composers from the Baroque period to the present.

Judge Kerby Re-appointed on Committee

Judge Francis Larkin, Third District Court, Milford, Mass., chairman Judicial Administration Division of the American Bar Association, has re-appointed Judge Yale Leland Kerby to serve on the committee of the unification and organization of Courts.

Judge Kerby was assigned as chairman in charge of analyzing court procedures in the states of Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio and Indiana.

Preliminary work was completed laat year, Judge Kerby stated, and that the committee will continue to compile data and make suggestion to improve court procedures and standards.



MERRY CHRISTMAS!!

It hardly seems possible but it is almost here, Christmas is upon us. By now all the cards and holiday notes should be written, the presents bought and wrapped, the candies and cookies made. Also by now the headaches and sore feet from shopping should be over, the frustrations at the over-commercialization of the season should be fading, and perhaps the near exhaustion from noise, crowds, and just plain old fashioned confusion is letting up.

As we near the magical hours of Christmas Eve there will, hopefully, be a few minutes for peace and quiet, a restful few moments for a bit of re-examining, re-affirming, re-strengthening our faith.

This is the time of year when, as Martha Smook says in an old issue of "Daily Word,", "We see with clearer vision, as if we look at the world with more love, as if we look at other persons with more understanding, as if we believe in and expect miracles, as if we feel Christ nearer, closer, more immediate than at other times."

And aren't miracles, a world full of more love, and Christ being near what we need in this world today? How quickly problems would be solved. But before world problems are settled, people must find their own peace.

Yes, this is the article I have given you for the past, oh, so many years. But some things don't change and my mood at Christmas time is one of them. So, if you will please hear me again - -

Each day I look out a wonderful world, either along the edge of Evans Creek or just lately the Florida scenes, and have no trouble at all believing, to borrow a phrase, in a 'Power greater than myself'.

A cardinal sitting in fresh fallen snow, the beauty of a winter sunrise, the explosion of spring blooming forsythia bushes, the serenading of tiny wrens, a jewel hummingbird hovering over a flower, the brilliance of the fallen color, the gray days when we receive much needed rain, and the yearly cycle returns to winter. Truly, each season, each day, each hour, His handiwork gladdens my window pictures.

Why then does such a wise Creator, who can be so lavish with love and beauty, allow 'things' to happen? Cruel, tragic, and seemingly senseless things. Well, a long time ago, after the car in which I was riding came out second best in an encounter with a tree, I decided that perhaps it is not meant for us to know all the answers, all the whys. There may be no logical explanation but things do happen for a purpose—even though we do not always see right away what the purpose is.

One of my favorite thoughts is taken from Peter Marshall, that famous Scot who spoke so eloquently from a Presbyterian pulpit. He believed that God never closes one door without opening another. So then it is our job to find the other door.

The search may be long and difficult—certainly it is a full-time task and one which leaves no time for bitterness or self pity. Oh, of course, there are dark moods and moments of discouragment but, when faith falters, a look outside quickly sets us back on the right track.

The world I see through my window is a continual testimony to the existence of our all powerful Father. Just think about the beauty of a bird, the perfection of a single feather, the fascinating parade of clouds across the sky, the miracle of trees and grass and flowers, the fury of wind, the flash and crash of a thunderstorm, the quiteness of a gentle snowfall, the bright warmth of sunshine, the muted stillness of fog.

Because most of my time is spent in a hospital-type bed, which is in front of lovely large windows, I have time to look out, to see, to enjoy, and to marvel at all of these constant reminders of Him whose Son's birthday we are about to celebrate.

A great deal of the celebration will be wild and hectic fun; this is the season for presents and parties, of dressing and calling on friends. It is a warm and sentimental season; it is a time for reminiscing; it is a time for appreciation. I am always hesitant about making a personal list of "I am thankful fors"—they are apt to sound glib and Pollyannaish and besides, every day is so full of blessings that a complete list would run from now 'til then'.

Let us not confine our thankfulness to any one special season. But there is something special about the holidays and I cannot help saying a little extra thank you for a marvelous family and a host of fine friends. Because of them life is rich and full.

I am also fortunate in that, even though paralyzed from the neck down, I can, with the help of a full length body braces, sit comfortably in a wheel chair or a car. When weather permits, I love to get outside, close to the world I see through my window.

May I wish you all the very merriest of Christmases, the happiest of New Years, and a full measure of peace and joy in your hearts!

Christmas Supper Held by Members

Thirty-four members and guests of the Past Matrons Club met Dec. 8 in the home of the Harry Belands for the annual Christmas potluck supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bonner assisted the Belands.

The Belands' new home was decorated in keeping with the holiday spirit.

Carols were sung after the supper and Santa Cal Dixon distributed gifts to all. The mystery gift was won by Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland.

Remainder of the evening was spent playing cards with gifts for high scores going to Pat Dixon and Robert Bonner, and for low scores going to Lawrence Hoagland and Dorothy Hindes.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baker, Worthy Matron and Patron of Tecumseh Lodge No. 51.

Santa Visits Club Party

BRITTON—Santa's visit highlighted the annual Christmas party of the families of the Tri-County Mothers of Twins Club Sunday, Dec. 8.

Approximately 44 persons were on hand for the potluck supper, served buffet style. The Smith Kimball Community Center was the setting for the party.

Santa presented the children with candy and popcorn balls. Singing Christmas carols and watching Christmas cartoon movies entertained the youngsters.

Club's next regular meeting will be Jan. 15 at the home of Mrs. Gil Purse in Tecumseh at 8 p.m. Mrs. Dan Bush will assist as co-hostess.

John Lorenz, a freshman at Bowling Green State University, has been nominated and became a member of the National Fraternity and Brotherhood of Sigma Phi Epsilon. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lorenz and former athlete and 1974 graduate at Britton-Macon High School.

Returns. from Trip to Hawaii

BRITTON—Mrs. Stella Wagner returned Dec. 6 from Hawaii were she spent six "wonderful" days touring Honolulu and nearby islands; visited the DeKalb Corn Experimental farms; and attended a DeKalb banquet with 1100 other representatives from all over the United States.

Mrs. Wagner, accompanied by Mrs. Ray Griffin of Adrian, left Metropolitan Airport Nov. 30, arriving in Hawaii 12 hour later.

Mrs. Wagner's son, Larry, is a dealer for the company.

Fun for Family On Family Day

Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service in Lenawee County promises you a day where it's all in the family Saturday, Jan. 25.

Second annual Extension Family Day will be held at Lenawee Vo-Tech. It's free; one day that your family can beat inflation; somewhere to go and something to do together.

Families can choose four sessions from the 48 offered. Topics include patchwork quilting, backpacking, super snackers, family fun in the arts, to be a clown, and many more.

On the more serious side, income tax tips, report from the Michigan legislature, weather modification or first aid basics are offered. For the youngest family members, ages 2-6, child care will be available.

To be a part of the fun contact the Cooperative Extension Service at 265-5108, for a folder listing all the sessions and a reservation form accepted until Jan. 17.

Basketball

There will be a meeting Dec. 30 at 7 p.m. in the Community Center for those teams interested in the Parks and Recreation Men's City League basketball league.

The league must have six teams and all participants must live in the Tecumseh school district.

Games will be played at Tecumseh Junior High School on Saturday mornings, For further information interested teams should contact the Recreation Department.

Britton-Macon Makes Changes

BRITTON—Two changes in the bylaws were proposed by leaders of Britton-Macon 4-H Club, at a meeting after the annual potluck supper, Dec. 7 in Tecumseh Grange Hall.

One change would require that all members attend five club meetings or he or she will not get credit for that year.

Second change set boundaries of Washtenaw County line, Monroe County Line, Sutton Road, Rogers Highway and Murphy Highway.

Anyone outside of these boundaries would not be eligible to join the club. However, present members could continue, even if outside the limits.

Changes will be voted upon at the next meeting.

County awards were presented for the following projects: photography, Phillip Loesch and Darla Governo; dairy and citizenship, Brian Long; electrical, David Johnson, Fred Loesch and Steve Miller; food and nutritician, Beth Kopke; woodworking and sheep, Stewart Jones; sheep and leathercraft, Kevin Barrett; leathercraft and crafts, Lori Hall; citizenship, Ann Rundell; woodworking, Julie Jones; clothing, Jo Anne Schroeder; consumer education, Jackie Bortel.

Tel-e-Awards were given to Aubrey Schroder, sheep, and all agriculture; Lawrence Johnson, crops and small engines and Danforth Scholarship to Camp Miniwaca; Todd Johnson, rabbits and Janet Rundell, swine.

Next meeting will be Jan. 6 at 7:30 p.m. at Britton-Macon School.Deanna Thompson will talk and show slides on her trip to Belize.

Club Meets

BRITTON—The Rea Friendship Club met at 12 for its annual Christmas potluck dinner at the home of Thelma Younglove.

In the afternoon a business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ivalee Roggeman. For devotions, Mrs. Nora Schultz read "Is This Christmas." Mrs. Mabel Johnston lead in prayer. Each of the 12 members responded to roll call by telling of an unusual Christmas gift received in the past.

Bibs have been completed and are ready to be delivered to the Day Care Center. No meeting is to be held in January. February meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Theo Willis. Members are to bring sack lunches.

Group will make stuffed toys for a school for retarded children. February roll will be answered with a patriotic article or poem.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Florine Bragg read a humorous poem. Later games and contests were enjoyed. Prizes were awarded.

Approved

BRITTON—Balance of the teacher's contracts were approved and signed by four of the seven board members present at last Thursday night's meeting.

Decision to stay with the 8 game football schedule was approved.

Board postponed any decision on the purchase of bus chassis and body until the January meeting.

Services Announced

BRITTON—Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene has announced its schedule of Christmas services to be conducted Sunday, Dec. 22.

Regular Bible Study and Sunday School will be held for children at 9:45 a.m. followed by a children's program with recitations to begin at 10:15 a.m. This 10:15 service will be a combined service with the regular morning service and will feature the junior choir's presentation of the cantata "Thanks Be to God."

At the 7 p.m. evening service the church orchestra will play Christmas carols, followed by the Sanctuary choir's performance of "Night of Nights" in pantomime and song.

Group Meets

BRITTON—L&M Extension Study Group met last Thursday for its annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, decorated for the holiday season.

Members exchanged gifts and secret pals were revealed. Three guests attending were Mrs. Lila Cadmus, Mrs. Marilyn Ries and Mrs. Delta Croll.

Briefs

Mrs. Allen Bower entertained six friends in her home Tuesday, Dec. 10, for a Christmas Brunch. Group met to relax and enjoy a good gab fest after weeks of hectic Christmas shopping.

Guest speaker next Sunday at the Bethel Baptist Church will be the Rev. Eldin Mattison from Ypsilanti. Rev. Mattison is a professor at the Detroit Bible College. There will be no 6:30 p.m. class. Christmas program is scheduled to be at 7:30 p.m.

Combined Services Held at Church

BRITTON—Grace United Methodist Church held a combined worship service and church school program, Sunday morning.

Church school service entitled "To All People," included all ages taking part and told the Christmas story.

Special music was provided by Mrs. Bob Westrick as she played her guitar and sang "In Bethlehem Town."

Following the sermon was the birthday for Jesus. A three-tired cake, baked by Mrs. Allen Bower, was topped with an angel symbolizing the heavenly throng who sang "Peace on Earth."

Top tier of cake was a star which represented the "star in the East," that guided the shepherds and Magi to the infant.

The spice cake represented the frankincense, and the gold dragees all around the cake represented the myrrh and gold, gifts of the Magi to the Christ Child.

Around the cake were 12 red candles, symbolizing love and joy shared this holy season.

As a candle was lighted for each month, members of the congregation came forward, gave a birthday offering and took a small candle.

A large circle formed around the sanctuary and a cross through the middle and everyone's candle was lit.

With the lights out and all candles shining bright, the service closed with the singing of "Joy to the World."

After the service refreshments were served in the fellowship hall.

Money received from the birthday celebration was sent to the Methodist Children's home in Detroit.

The Christmas dance will be in the gym Dec. 21 from 9 p.m. to 12 a.m. Dance is sponsored by the student council and freshman class.

Featured will be the band "Rouche." Dance is semi-formal. Admission is required for singles or couples.

Girls have started volleyball practice and the first game is Jan. 6, 1975 at Britton - against Summerfield.

Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 11, the 8th graders and high school Spanish students attended the Hispanico Ballet presented at the Croswell Theater in Adrian.

Dances of Spanish-speaking countries were demonstrated and the history of each was explained by members of the ballet troupe which is composed of Hispano-Americans from New York City. Mrs. Peggy Raeburn and Mrs. Marilyn Alexander were chaperones.

Members of the Spanish Club and their advisor, Mrs. Marilyn Alexander, enjoyed a Christmas fiesta Thursday afternoon after school.

A pinata made the club president, Judy Thomas, proved to be a challenge to break. Mexican foods were prepared by the members for the dinner.

It was a tiny park in a small town. But I thought the tree was the biggest Christmas tree in the whole world!

A scent of evergreen and snowflakes mingling still comes back to me, and I remember looking far to the top where a huge star sparkled against a black velvet sky. I wondered if God were looking down, admiring our star.

Yes, God was there—in the heart of old Mr. Cunningham, his banker's dignity stuffed in a red flannel suit, and in the blue fingers of Miss Lucy, coaxing carols from a wheezy organ. He was there in baskets of food brought by the Ladies Aid Society and in neatly stitched quilts made for the orphans by the Women of the Church.

Today, more than ever, people need to learn the love of God from the warmth of their fellowman. Your church teaches faith through works. Go to your church and know the joy that comes from helping others.

Rudolph Strew Named at Siena

Appointment of Rudolph (Rudy) Strew as vice president of Institutional Advancement has been announced by Dr. Hugh Thompson, president of Siena Heights College.

RUDOLPH STREW

Mr. Strew's areas of responsibility include admissions, development, public relations, alumni relations, and financial aid.

"With Siena's extraordinary increase in enrollment this year, we believe that coordination of the growing departments is essential to maintain Siena's reputation as a friendly college where students are individuals rather than cards in a file," Dr. Thompson said. "Mr. Strew's experience in a similar rapid-growth situation plus his first-hand knowledge of various departments will contribute positively to smoother operation all around."

He comes to Siena Heights from Berea, Ohio, where he was unit principal of Berea High School, an institution which grew so fast that is has been split into four units, or schools. He holds a B.A. in English from Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, and an M.S. in guidance and counseling from Kent State College in Cleveland.

Free Classes

Free classes are being offered to low income families at the Lenawee Area Vocational-Technical Center, beginning Jan. 19.

Although there is no charge, families must meet the requirements of low income in Lenawee County to take advantage of this offer. Child care is free during the time of the classes.

Larry Forth is director of the consumer education classes, which will be held evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. for ten weeks.

On Mondays, Catherine Stewart will instruct a class in clothing and sewing maintenance.

Wednesday, James Abercrombie has a class in home maintenance.

Also on Wednesday, Harry Whitesell will instruct a class in money management.

Thursdays, Lois Marvin will demonstrate family food preparation techniques for large and small families.

On Thursdays, too, Bob Birmingham will instruct men and women who would like to know more about their car's cooling system, lubrication, brakes, tire changing, wheel balancing wheels and common minor repairs in which people can save money by doing themselves.

Lenawee area residents who qualify for these classes have an opportunity to learn more about getting their money's worth. Those wishing more information may call the Vo-Tec Center, 263-2108.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL TOWNSHIP MEETING AND ELECTION AND OF REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

WHEREAS, at a meeting of the Township Board of the Township of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, held on the 3rd day of December, 1974, a franchise ordinance was adopted, entitled as follows:

AN ORDINANCE, granting to CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to construct, maintain and commercially use electric lines cohisting of towers, masts, poles, crossarms, guys, braces, feeders, transmission and distribution wires, transformers and other electrical appliances on, under, along and across the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local electric business within that portion of the TOWNSHIP OF MACON, LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, lying south of the east and west quarter line intersecting Sections 13 to 18, respectively, of said Township, for a period of thrity years.

WHEREAS, said Consumers Power Company has heretofore filed its written acceptance of said franchise, and has requested that the question of confirming the grant thereof be submitted to the qualified electors of the Township, at a special election to be held for that purpose, and has also paid to the Township Board the estimated expense of holding such special election; and,

WHEREAS, the Township Board of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, has called a special election to be held in said Township for such purpose;

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to resolutions adopted by said Board, notice is hereby given that a special meeting and election will be held in said Township at: Macon Town Hall on Wednesday, the 22nd day of January 1975, for the purpose of voting on the confirmation of the action of said Township Board in granting such franchise.

The polls of said election will be opened at 7 o'clock in the forenoon and will be held open until 8 o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard Time. The Township Clerk will be in his office on the 23rd day of December, 1974, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the thirtieth day, as determined by statute, preceding the date of said election, for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors of the Township as shall appear and apply therefor. In the event such thirtieth day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, registration shall be accepted during the same hours on the following day.

Said franchise as granted by said Board is on file with the undersigned Township Clerk for the purpose of inspection by the qualified electors.

AN ORDINANCE, granting to CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to construct, maintain and commercially use electric lines consisting of towers, masts, poles, crossarms, guys, braces, feeders, transmission and distribution wires, transformers and other electrical appliances on, under, along and across the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local electric business within that portion of the TOWNSHIP OF MACON, LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, lying south of the east and west quarter line intersecting Sections 13 to 18, respectively, of said Township, for a period of thirty years.

SECTION 1. The Township of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, hereby grants the right, power and authority to the Consumers Power Company, a Michigan corporation, its successors and assigns, hereinafter called the "Grantee," to construct, maintain and commercially use electric lines consisting of towers, masts, poles, crossarms, guys, braces, feeders, transmission and distribution wires, transformers and other electrical appliances, for the purpose of transmitting, transforming and distributing electricity on, under, along and across the highways, streets, alleys, bridges, and other public places, and to do a local electric business within that portion of the Township of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, lying south of the east and west quarter line intersecting Sections 13 to 18, respectively, of said Township, for a period of thirty years.

SECTION 2. In consideration of the rights, power and authority hereby granted, all of which shall vest in the Grantee for a period of thirty (30) years as aforesaid, said Grantee shall faithfully perform all things required by the terms hereof.

SECTION 3. All of Grantee's towers, masts and poles shall be neat and sightly, and so placed on either side of the highways, streets, alleys and bridges as not to unnecessarily interfere with the use thereof for highway, street and alley purposes. All of Grantee's wires carrying electricity shall be securely fastened so as not to endander or injur persons or property in said highways, streets and alleys. All work performed by said Grantee in said highways, steets and alleys shall be done so as not to interfere with the use thereof, and when completed, the same shall be left in as good condition as when work was commenced. The Grantee shall have the right to trim trees if necessary in the conducting of such business, subject, however, to the supervision of the highway authorities.

SECTION 4. Said Grantee shall at all times keep and save the Township free and harmless from all loss, costs and expense to which it may be subject by reaon of the negligent construction and maintenance of the structures hereby authorized. In case any action is commenced against the Township on accoutn of the permission herein granted, said Grantee shall, upon notice, defend the Township and save it free and harmless from all loss, cost and damage arising out of such negligent construction and maintenance.

SECTION 5. Said Grantee shall be entitled to charge the inhabitants of said Township for electric energy furnished therein, the rates, including minimum charges, as approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission, to which Commission or its successors authority and jurisdiction to fix and regulate electric rates and rules regulating such service in said Township, are hereby granted for the term of this franchise. Such rates and rules shall be subject to review and change at any time upon petition therefor being made by either said Township, acting by its Township Board, or by said Grantee.

SECTION 6. The rights, power and authority herein granted, are not exclusive.

SECTION 7. This ordinance shall cease and be of no effect after thirty days from its adoption, unless within said period the Grantee shall accept the same in writing filed with the Township Clerk, subject to confirmation of the grant hereof by at least a majority of the electors of said Township voting thereon at a regular or special township election to be held in the manner provided by law. Upon the acceptance and confirmation thereof, the same shall constitute a contract between said Township and said Grantee for a period of thirty years from the date of such acceptance.

Christmas Activities

Christmas activities for the Adrian Friendly Center Senior Citizens began this month.

On Thursday, Dec. 19, the Balladiers will present a musical program beginning at 1:00. The Balladiers are a group of students from Adrian Senior High School. All senior citizens are welcome.

The Christmas Gift Exchange Party will be Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 24 at 1 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Hokenson will be present to lead group caroling prior to the exchange of gifts.

Mr. Hokenson is the pastor of Christ the Redeemer Lutheran Church on W. Maumee Street, Adrian.

Senior Citizens wishing to participate in the gift exchange should bring a wrapped gift of $1.50 value.

Spanish Mass at Local Church

A special Spanish Mass was celebrated at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church by the Rev. William Carolin of St. Mary Catholic Church in Adrian last Saturday, Dec. 7, in commemoration of the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe, patroness of the Americas.

A reception following the Mass was held in the St. Elizabeth Parish Hall where bunuellos and other Mexican pastries and coffee, along with Spanish music, were enjoyed by many parishoners.

Fellowship Degree Attained

Alfred M. Sirhal, M.D., of 6673 Gove Court North, has been named a Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians.

The degree of Fellowship may be attained in either of two ways: successful completion of 600 or more hours of accredited continuing medical study, or achievement of diplomate status in the specialty of family practice as a result of passing a certifying examination administered by the American Board of Family Practice.

The degree was conferred Oct. 15.

Names Omitted

Tecumseh Lodge No. 69 F. and A.M. elected their 1975 officers Dec. 6 as reported in last week's issue. Inadvertently omitted were the election of Marvin Stotler as treasurer and Wilford Kidman as secretary, and the appointment of Wilmer Kiser as chaplain.

HEARTY THANKS—James Tonneberger, Tecumseh Township supervisor center, presents a $200 check from the Lucius Lilly Fund to Mrs. John Baran, (l) president of the Tecumseh Service Club and Jean Colgrove, treasurer. More than 50 years ago before his death, Lilly, a well-known banker, established the fund in trust with the township for charitable purposes. The Tecumseh Service Club serves as a clearing house for all local organizations who want to help needy families or individuals. Club provides food, new and good used clothing, furnishings and takes the needy shopping all year round. Families are interviewed by the club; over 45 were helped last year. A hearty thank you is extended to all who donated. Service Club is in desperate need of permanent storage space.

Assistance for Senior Citizens

The Lenawee Council on Aging has arranged for senior citizens assistance in completing the Homestead Property Tax Credit Claims.

Assistance is given by appointment only on the following days: Dec. 17, 23, 30 and each Tuesday in January. Phone 263-2161 Ext. 285 for an appointment.

Persons over 65 years of age whether renters or property owners may be eligible for a tax refund. Surviving spouse of a person over 65 years who died in 1974 may also be eligible.

One change of importance to rural senior citizens is that the full property tax for the farm may be used if the homestead has been owned and lived on for 10 years by the individual and is continuous property. The property need not be tilled by the owner.

Information senior citizens need to bring with them to the appointment includes the MI-1040 Cr Form, social security number, total income for 1974, property tax amount or rent amount paid in 1974, and evidence of the 1974 Property Tax Advancement if $100. was requested.

Senior Citizens who filed a claim in 1974 should receive the MI-1040 Cr form through the mail. Persons eligible for the first time this year may obtain a form at the local banks or post office.

Class Holds Friendly Party for Christmas

The Friendly Class of the Tecumseh Friends Church held its Christmas party Dec. 6 in the home of Mrs. Perry Hayden, with special guests the Rev. and Mrs. Dane Ruff, pastor of the church, the Rev. and Mrs. Brooks Martin, associate pastor, and Mabel Lockwood, Sunday School teacher.

Fourteen were present to enjoy the Christmas dinner and program. Mrs. Roland Mohr, president of the group, read a Scripture lesson, and Naomi Fallows led the singing of Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. Hayden on piano.

Mrs. Fallows read "Christmases Past" by Norman Vincent Peale. Gifts were presented to the Rev. Ruff, the Rev. Martin, and Miss Lockwood, and the program closed with the singing of the carol, "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

Anniversary of Program

Lenawee County Cooperative Extension Service is observing the fifth anniversary of its Expanded Nutrition Program (ENP) here.

Begun in 1969 in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, ENP reached over 18,000 low-income Michigan families in 1973.

Here in Lenawee County, in November, more than 150 families have been reached through the program.

The program was established in Lenawee to improve diets of low-income families through education, to provide education for both youth and adults in the principles of nutrition, and buying and preparation of food.

Persons who are interested in assistance or referrals should call Susan Lambrecht, Extension home economist in ENP. The office at 243 North Main St., Adrian, is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 a.m. throughout the week.

HOMEOWNERS CORNER

by Vic Clauda

We speak your language. If you have a question on the products we carry or want an estimate on plumbing or heating jobs, don't hesitate to call or stop by at CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, 1108 W. Chicago Blvd., 423-3121. We are here to help you! Don't let your heating dollars go up in smoke because of an inefficient heating system. Sales and installation of Lennox gas furnaces, duct work for forced air heating systems and custom fabrication of sheet metal fittings are handled. Open: 8 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. daily.

If your gas water heater has a rumbling sound, it may be that your heater has a layer of scale on bottom of heater and when it is heated there is steam of air bubbles generated and make a noise escaping to the top of the heater. It is advisable to clean out your water heater. It is possible to cut down the amount of gas going to heater to cut down noise but that will cut down the recovery rate.

HELPFUL HINT: A CLEAN WATER HEATER SAVES FUEL AND WILL RECOVER FASTER.

Closing

We will be closed the day after Christmas, Dec. 26th, and on Jan 2nd, to give our employees a better opportunity to observe the holidays.

Pictorial Supplement of State Finals

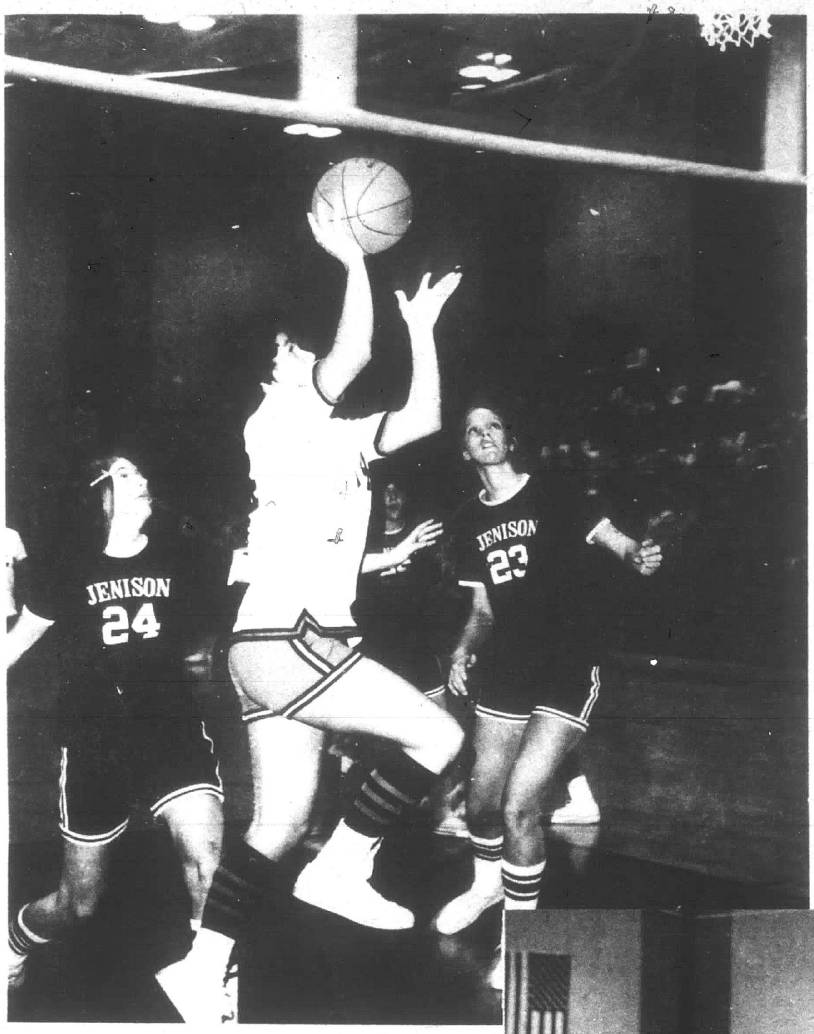
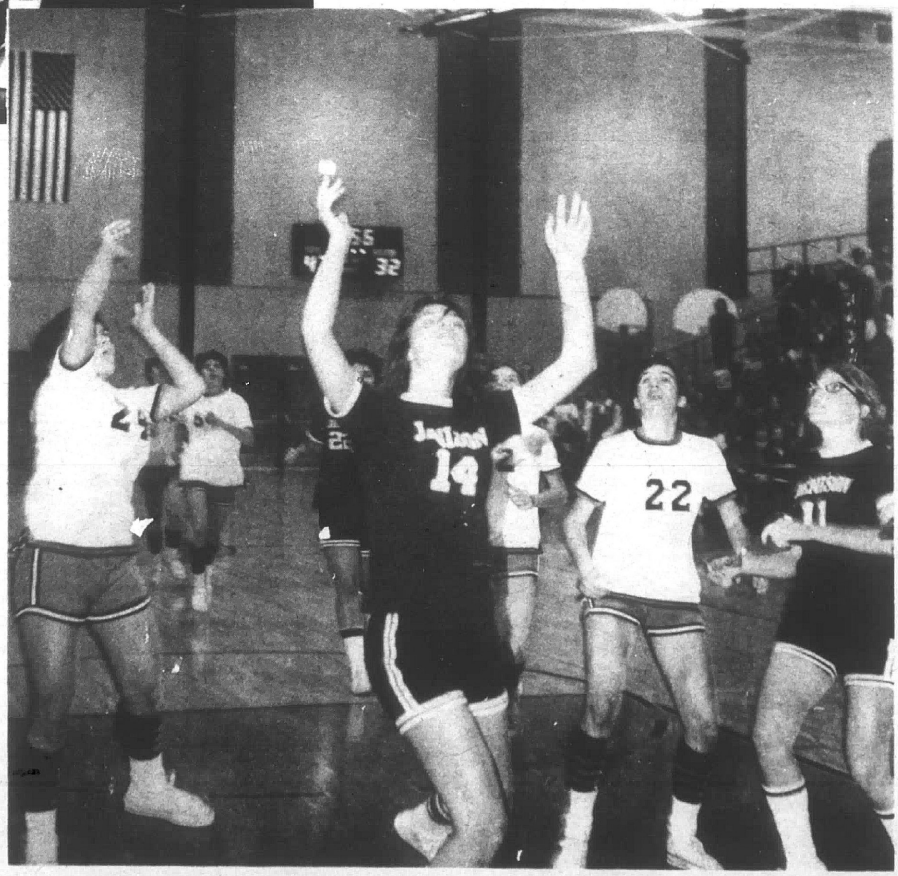
Jenison Tough - But Indians Win, 49-32



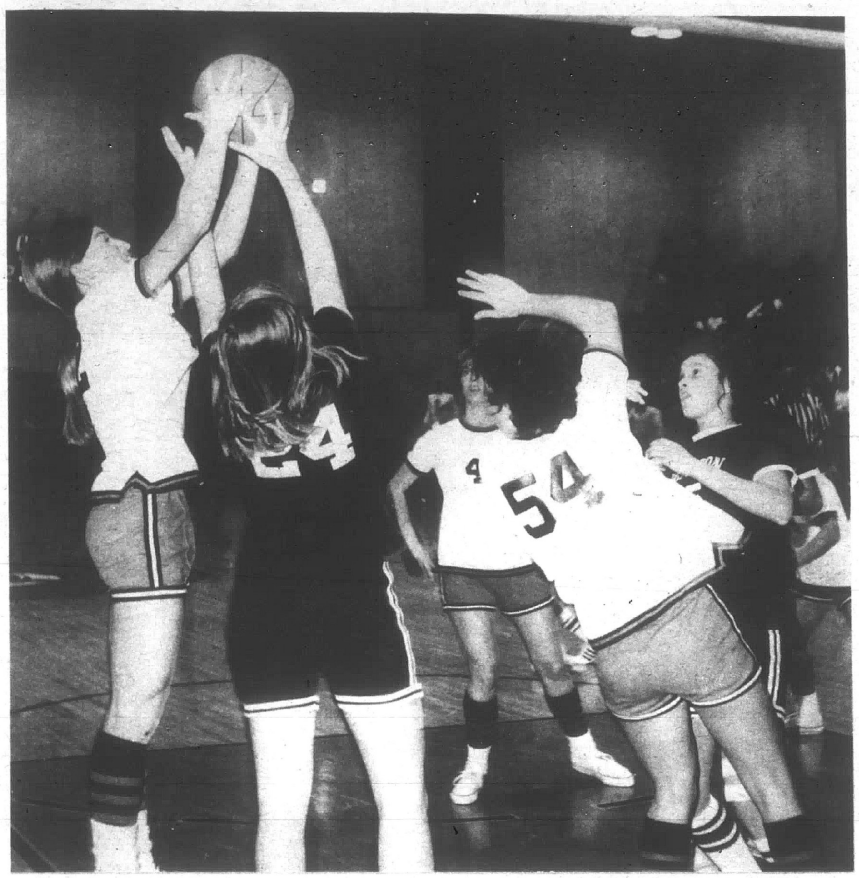
Julie Anderson scored 18 points against Jenison - and here's the way she did it. Eight of the 18-point total came in the first quarter when the Indians all but blew their rivals off the court, leading after eight minutes, 14-2. After Jenison pulled to within four points - eventually two - in the third quarter, Julie tossed in two more goals. Melinda Ternak (24) comes in to help her teammate.

Four Girls Score in Double Figures

Girls Catch Fire in 2nd Half



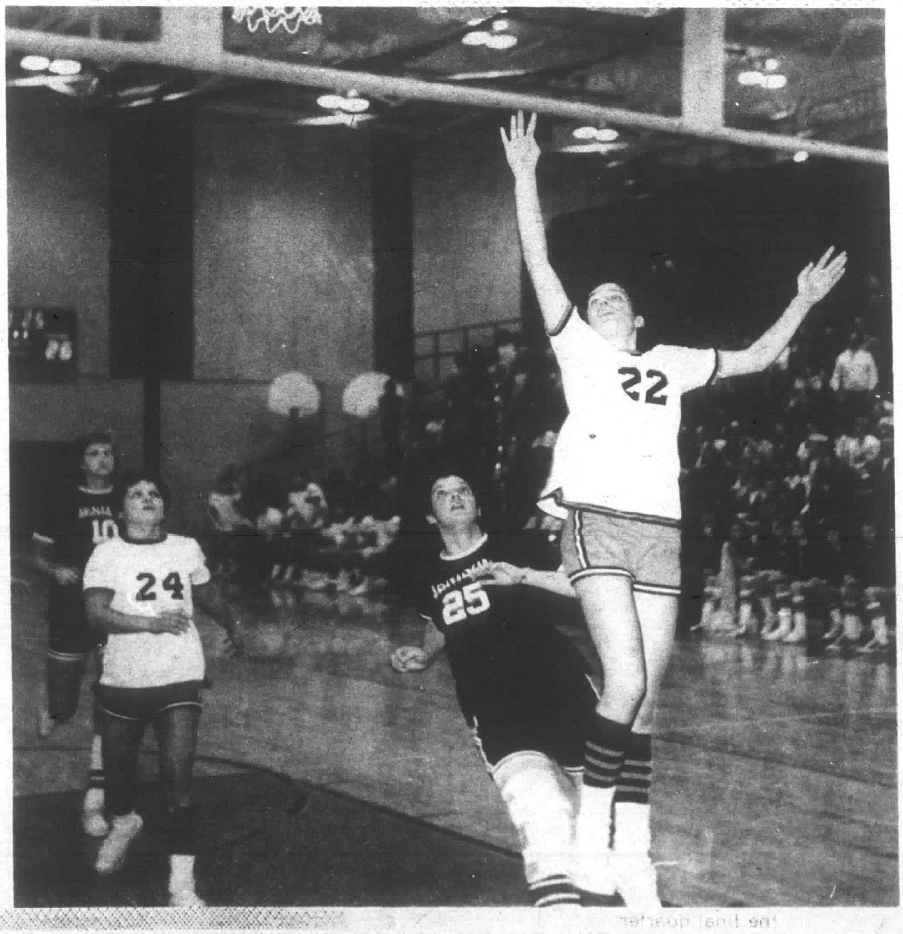
Melinda Ternak (24) shoots for the Indians, and the expression on Jenison's player tells the story as the ball dropped through for two points. Julie Anderson (22) was merely a bystander on this shot. Jenison was probably the best team the Indians faced all season and gave the local five a scare before Tecumseh caught fire in the final quarter.



Stops Jenison's Big 6'2" Center

Susie Brown was given the task of stopping Jenison's 6'2" center - and Coach Nelson knew what she was doing. Susie, giving away six inches, held the Jenison star to just two points. The following night in the finals against Harper Woods Regina, Susie started off against the high scoring Terese Orban, and then combined with Melinda Ternak to hold the Regina ace far below her average. Helping Susie (left) in battling for the ball is Julie Anderson (54.) Barb Henning is at the bottom of the circle.

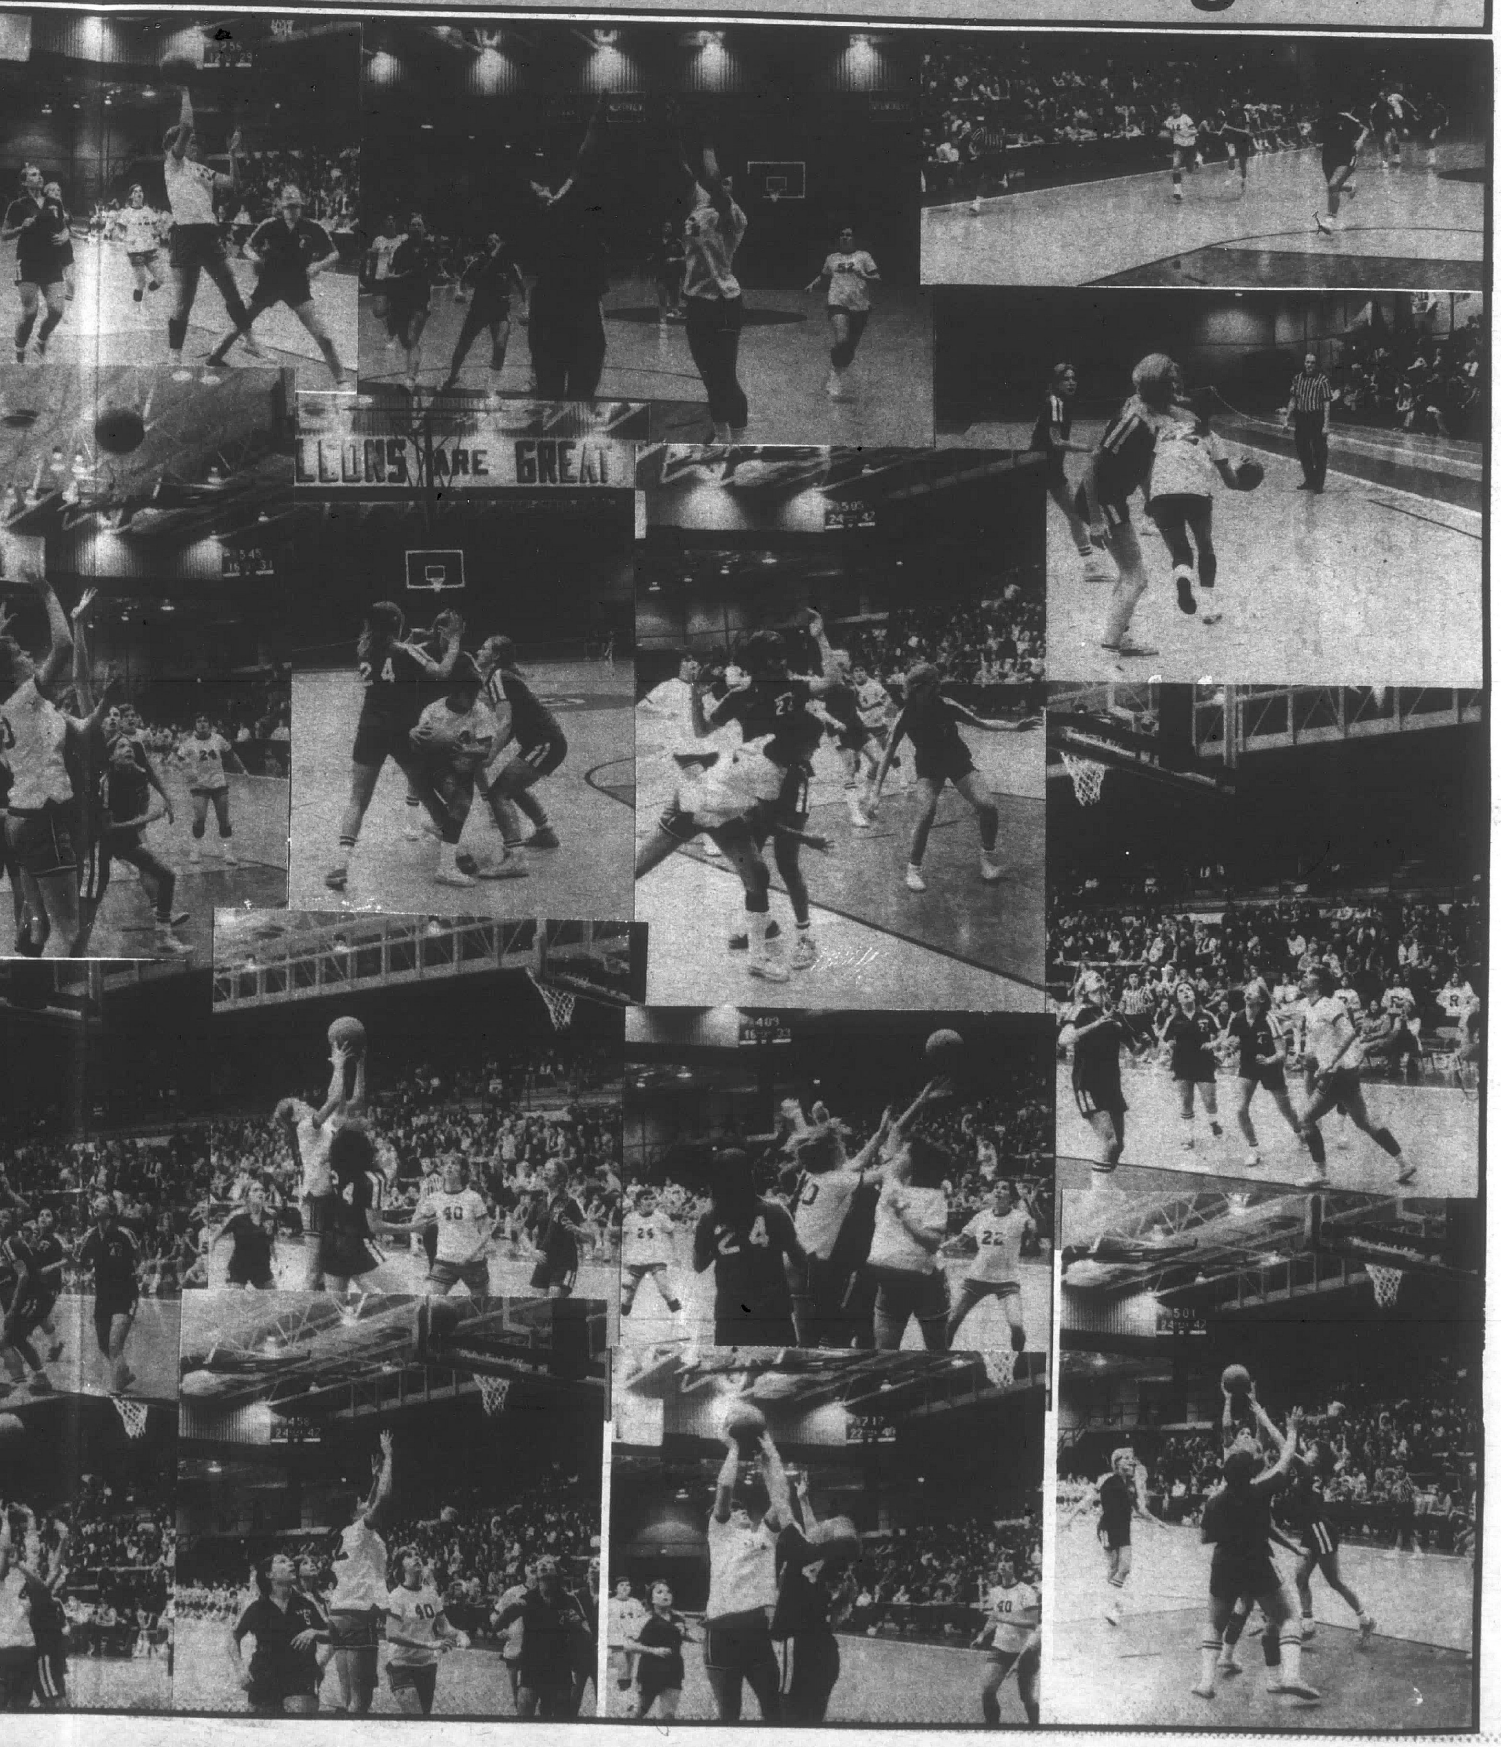
Best Team Faced by Indians In Drive For State Title

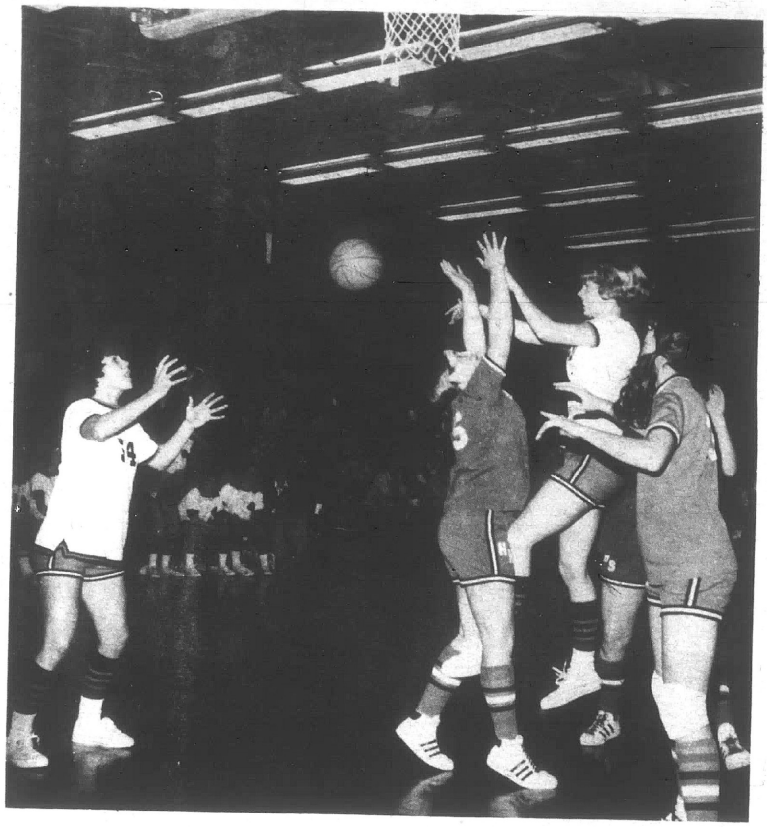


During a hot scoring spree against Jenison, the Indians were often free for lay-ups. Julie Murphy nets a goal here with Melinda Ternak coming in if needed.

Action in Tecumseh's 57-29 Victor

ictory over Harper Woods Regina

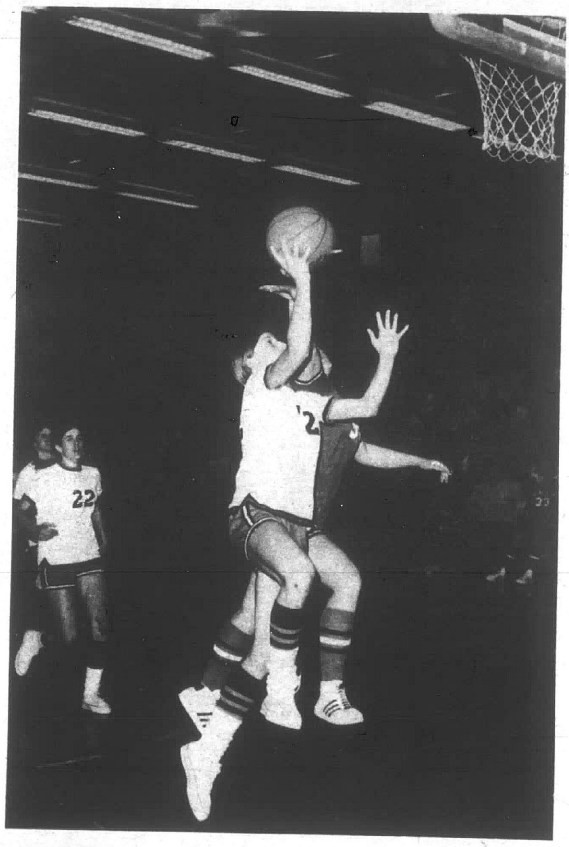




Outstanding senior, Barb Henning, rebounds here for the Indians, flipping to Julie Anderson for an easy two-pointer. Both girls were tops on the boards this year in Tecumseh's 23-0 undefeated season.

Score 21 Straight Points

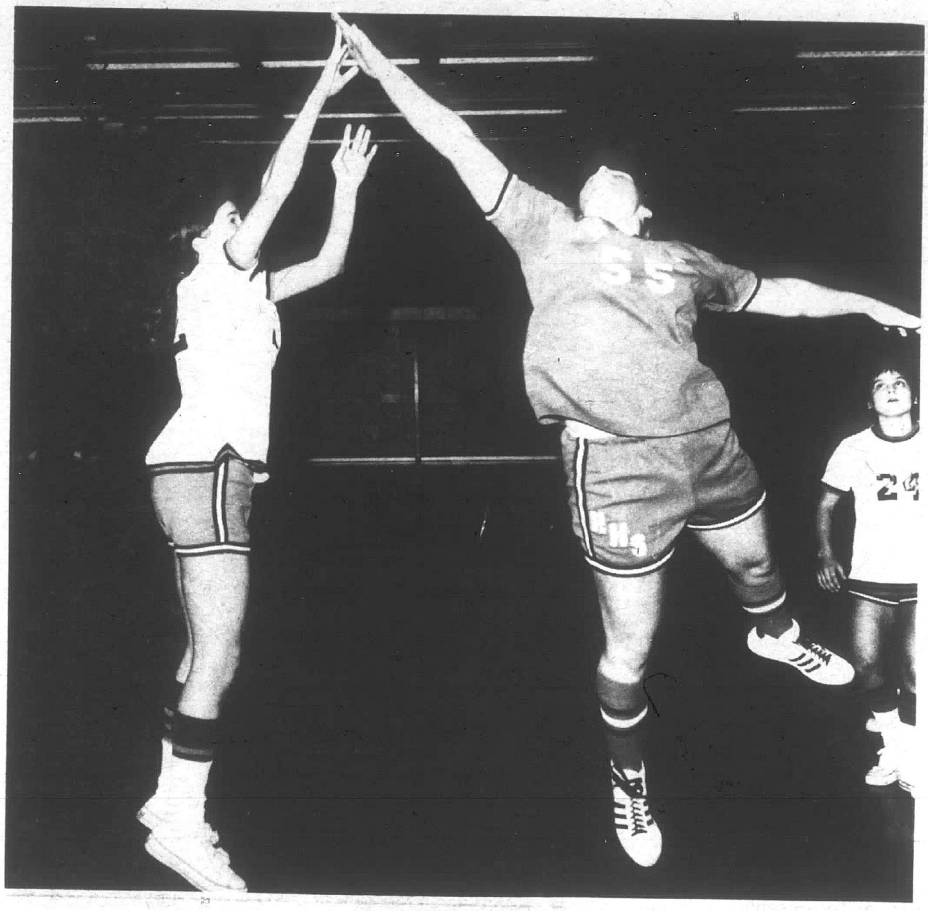
Tecumseh Romps in Quarter-Finals



Susie Brown drives against Holt for two of her 14 points in the Tecumseh triumph. She tallied eight points by the half when the Indians led 28-16. Julie Murphy (22) follows up her teammate's shot. Julie paced the Tecumseh attack with 15 points.

Indians Play Tough Defense

So often defense is over-looked, but not true for Coach Nelson's championship team. Photo exemplifies the defense that the Indians used all season in rolling to victory after victory. Holt players are well surrounded by Julie Anderson (54) and Laura Purkey (34). Behind Holt player with ball is Susie Brown.



Murphy, Henning Were Outstanding Senior Players

Julie Murphy, taking her special shot from the side, sends one toward the bucket over the out stretched hand of Jane Pearce, Holt star who scored 25 points against the Indians a year ago but only 15 last Wednesday night. Julie is a senior who will be missed next year. Watching the action is Melinda Ternak (24).

Indians Gain Revenge, Whip Holt, 57 to 40

A year ago Holt knocked the Tecumseh girls out of the state running with a 60-55 win at Columbia Central. Last Wednesday night at Lansing Waverly High School, the Indians gained revenge, never letting their opponents really get started in an easy 57-40 victory.

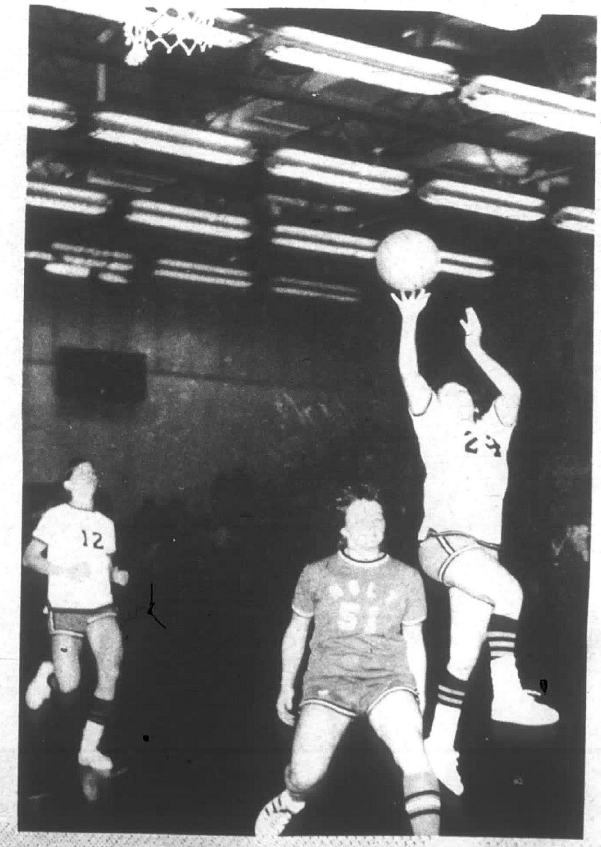
Although Coach Nelson's team didn't play particularly well, Tecumseh rolled to a 10-point margin in the opening quarter, 14-4, and stretched it to 20 points by the end of three periods.

During one brief stretch, the Indians popped in 21 straight points and early in the fourth quarter led by as many as 28 points.

Four Indians hit in double figures with Julie Murphy top scorer with 15 points on seven goals and a free throw. Susie Brown collected 14 points, and Barb Henning and Julie Anderson, 11 each.

Melinda Ternak scored four points and Jane Faulkner, two, to round out the Indians scoring.

Tecumseh, winning its 21st consecutive victory, stopped Jane Pearce with 15 points. She led Holt against the Indians a year ago with 25. The Lansing suburban school ended its season with a 19-3 [illegible]rk.



Melinda Ternak won the race here for two points against Holt with Susie Brown coming in to make sure. Melinda and Susie combined to give the Indians two of the quickest guards in tournament play.

TP Strike Continues

Little or no progress has been made in recent negotiations between the Tecumseh Products Company and the Union Board.

Guy Cox, president of the Union, says the two parties negotiated Friday afternoon with no progress towards settlement. As of Monday, no further negotiation sessions were scheduled.

Just over a week ago, the company sent out its offer by mail to nearly 3,000 employees.

Cox said the company's information was not new to the Union, as the economic offer and language were made available to the membership shortly after the strike started on Nov. 15.

City Joins Region II

City council accepted the recommendation of the Planning Commission last week and voted to join Region II Planning as a full participating member at a cost of 23.4 cents per capita per year, or $1,666.

Mayor Harold Easton was appointed the city's representative to Region II Planning at the Dec. 16 meeting.

Cal Zorn, city manager, said that the city would still be able to retain Vullean-Leaman Associates as an occasional consultant for more expertise, if necessary.

Zorn said that Region II Planning would be of benefit to the city in developing a community development plan for which the city may acquire federal funds.

Unique aspect of Region II, he said, is that it has the planning staff whereas other regions are still organizing.

Richard Eggleston, Planning Commission chairman and Zorn were appointed by the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners as members of Region II planning, representing the county. Jackson county has 15 and Hillsdale has five.

PURCHASES SET RECORD IN 1974

Salaries, Employment Sag at Fisher Body

Record purchases of goods and services from local suppliers combined with payrolls helped General Motors achieve an economic impact of more than $10.4 million in the Tecumseh area in 1974, W.J. Polk, Fisher Body-Tecumseh plant manager, announced in a year-end report.

Mr. Polk said GM's purchases from nearly 100 local suppliers amounted to $152,943 in 1974, or $18,043 above 1973 purchases. Payrolls in 1974 were estimated at $10,248,000, compared to $13,822,000 in 1973.

Mr. Polk, who is also chairman of the Tecumseh GM Plant City Committee, added that employment averaged 766 persons in 1974, compared to 981 in 1973. The lower employment figure was primarily the result of reduced production schedules at the plant.

While reduced production scheduled during 1974 caused temporary and indefinite layoffs at the Tecumseh plant, the impact upon the community was cushioned by the various benefits paid, either directly or indirectly by General Motors.

Through November, an estimated $1,060,000 was paid to affected Tecumseh GM employees as unemployment compensation and supplemental unemployment benefits.

Additionally, eligible employees affected by layoffs, and their families continue to have GM life insurance and coverage for hospitalization, medical, surgical and prescription drug expenses for up to one year.

GM suggestion award winners totaled 254 during 1974 and shared $17,563 under the GM Award Plan of submitting ideas for improved quality and efficiency of GM products and operations. The amount was more than $11,281 over 1973 suggestion awards.

Lenawee County United Fund and the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation received a total of $28,500 from Fisher Body-Tecumseh employees and GM. Employees also invested $220,089 in U.S. Savings Bonds through payroll deduction in 1974 compared with $313,000 in 1973.

The Awards for Excellence in Community Activities program was sponsored by the plant this year to honor outstanding GM employees who contribute generously to their community. Lupe T. Gonzales, a nine-year employee, won the top gold medal award for his service to the Spanish-speaking community.

The Plant City Committee, which concerns itself primarily with community relations, contributed to the capital expansion program of the Lenawee Area Rehabilitation Center and conducted an open house of the plant as part of the Teccmseh Sesquicentennial Celebration. The Committee also enlisted numerous employees to assist the United Fund campaign drive.

The Fisher Body plant produces interior trim sets for the 1975 Oldsmobile Cutlass, Pontiac LeMans and Buick Century and Regal series of GM cars.

Assault Man, Snatch Purse

A man was assaulted and a woman's purse snatched in an incident about 2:40 a.m. Saturday behind the fire station on S. Evans St.

Theo Peak told officers that she and Clifton Wheeler were walking behind the station when their assailant struck Wheeler in the face, knocking him down. As she was helping Wheeler, her purse containing $20 was snatched.

The assailant fled the scene on foot.

NEW AND OLD — Del King, left, is the new owner of Jerry's Market, a family grocery for the past 22 years. Bob Coffey, middle, has managed the business since his father's death in 1971. At the right is Bill Puffer, who will now manage the delicatessen.

Tree Burns, Set Damages at $10,000

A decorated Christmas tree, toppled by a youngster, caught fire Dec. 12 and caused an estimated $10,000 damages to the house and its contents.

Tecumseh firemen spent nearly a half hour at the home of Carol Whelan, 1103 Shady Lane, before returning to their station. The alarm was turned in shortly after 6 p.m.

Store Hours To Change

Most Tecumseh shops will return to their normal store hours after Christmas with only a few exceptions.

Two shops, Eggleston's Jewelry and Cal's Tog Shop will be closed Thursday, day after Christmas, and a few others also may be closed that day.

First Federal will close at 3 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 31, but the United Savings Bank will have its regular hours, closing at 4:30 p.m.

Organizing

Organizational meeting of Council will be held Jan. 2.

Present Council will meet and adjourn before the swearing in of elected officials and the election of Council officers.

Slick Streets Hike Mishaps

The onslaught of snow caused a corresponding rise in car accidents in Tecumseh. Fortunately, there were no serious injuries involved.

A listing follows:

Buys Market

Jerry's Market, a family grocery business for 22 years, has been purchased by Delbert King, Tecumseh businessman.

Although negotiations had been underway for several weeks, effective date of the sale was not until last Thursday.

The market was operated by the late Jerry Coffey, until his death on June 23, 1971. Since then his wife, Pat, and son, Bob, managed the business.

Mr. King plans to expand present lines of food items and beverages and acquire new ones, changing the market into a complete delicatessen. Fresh luncheon meats will be carried along with a speciality line of New York strip steaks, such as those available at restaurants.

The new owner also anticipates some remodeling along with installation of new equipment. The building is owned by Mrs. E.J. Aebersold.

Bill Puffer, a 1970 Tecumseh High School graduate and a veteran of the Army for two years, will manage the delicatessen for Mr. King, who also owns the Party Shop at which the new manager has worked for the past six weeks.

Bob Coffey, who was the principal manager of the market since his father's death, along with Eddy Clark, long-time Tecumseh businessman, will also work at the delicatessen.

Mr. King has operated a similar store for the past 14 years and one that has been expanded and remodeled twice during that span. He plans to continue to operate the delicatessen as Jerry's Market for the time being.

Kathy Kulczyk will attend a traditional Polish dinner Christmas Eve at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kulczyk, in Wyandotte. The meal will begin at the sighting of the first star with the breaking of the "oplatek," a blessed wafer, and will be followed by attendance at midnight Shepherd's Mass.

SANTA VISITS—Nothing is more exciting around this time of year than a personal visit with Santa as this youngster's face shows. She is a student at Lenawee Institute and enjoyed several Christmas activities planned by the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club for the 94 students at Lenawee Institute last Thursday. The Club has been putting on the Christmas party at the school for the last seven years. The man behind the beard is Kiwanian Russell Scott. Students enjoyed cartoons, a Christmas sing-song, gifts and refreshments as part of the party. (Photo by Frank Weir)

When Was The Actual Birth?

Scholars still dispute the actual date of Christ's birth, but how is it that it is celebrate Dec. 25?

The Rev. Glen Williams, former Tecumsehite and pastor of the Open Door Bible Church in Hudson, found in his research that the date was established in 325 A.D. under the Emperor Constantine's rule of the Roman Empire.

To unify the people, the emperor urged the Nicean Council to adopt the date, which was a Roman pagan holiday. He hoped to draw the multitudes, since Christianity was proclaimed official religion of the state.

The Rev. Williams also said that scholars don't really know how many wise men there are. Three is a symbolic number used because of the gifts.

It is also possible said the pastor that the wise men did not visit the child in the manager. Matt. 2:11 says that they came to the house where the child lived.

The Rev. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williamson, 111 S. Maumee.

O HOLY NIGHT—To the youngster, Christmas is wonderful because it is so new; to his grandfather, it is wonderful because it is so old. Holy night of Christ's birth makes the season joyous for all of us. Detailed nativity figures created by Gretna Perrin reminds us of the religious solemnity of Christmas and the spirit of love and giving.(Photos by Frank Weir)

Handmade Nativity Figures Will be Teasured in Time

By KATHY KULCZYK

"Grandma is going to make a camel," declared Mrs. James Perrin to her granddaughter.

After finishing that animal by following a picture in a book, Gretna Perrin designed nativity figures and a manger without a pattern. This year they can be admired in the window of Mary Sanchez Beauty Salon, downtown.

Unique figures which include the three Magi, their camels, the infant Jesus and his parents, shepherds and animals, were made from styrofoam and clay models, beads, trims, felt, sequins and odds and ends around the house.

"What is really precious is when you see the younger children pressing their noses closer to the window to catch a better glimpse," said Lois Frye, salon manager.

Whole scene took Mrs. Perrin four weeks to make last winter and this year she finished a paper mache manger in two days.

Her present project is a Christmas village with more clay figures and building of boxes. "All I do is look at something and see what can be done with it," she explained her ideas.

Her creativity is not new found. Mrs. Perrin was seamstress at Herrick Memorial Hospital for 14 years. While there she made dolls for three years and distributed them to almost everyone.

Mrs. Perrin enjoys doing things for other people's pleasure. "I believe in giving something of yourself in a gift, taking time to talk to people. I have beautiful memories of my grandfather because he took the time to teach me something about nature. A person can never do enough for others," said Mrs. Perrin about her philosophy.

The nativity will probably end up in the family sometime to be treasured as grandma's handiwork. The Perrins have three daughters, Mrs. Carl (Jean) Leonard, Mrs. Lyle (Faye) Jacobs and Mrs. Brian (Jane Lee) Cooley.

Indians Begin Wrestling Tourney

After one full day of wrestling in the novice tournament being held at Ann Arbor Pioneer High School, Tecumseh is doing "very well" according to head coach Pat Connors.

The tournament is for freshmen and sophomore wrestlers only and the Indians's started with 28 contestants. After the first several rounds Friday, Tecumseh still has "seven or eight" who may go to the consolation round. Wrestling continues Monday starting at 9 a.m. in Ann Arbor.

Lose Tough One to Madison Cagers

BRITTON—After two wins, Britton-Macon Tories lost a tight decision against Madison 51-47 Friday night on the Tories home boards.

The first half was a stand-off with Britton-Macon coming out on top 25-24. In the third quarter, Madison grabbed seven straight baskets, but Britton-Macon fought back. With just a minute and four seconds left, Madison scored a basket and a free throw to come out on top.

The Tories hit 16 of 62 field goals for 25.8 percent. At the free throw line they connected on 15 of 21 for 71.4 percent. Craig Wagenschutz grabbed the scoring honors for Britton-Macon with five field goals and four free throws for 14 points.

Madison connected on 20 of 77 shots from the field for 25.9 percent and also hit 11 of 19 free throws for 57.8 percent.

Britton out-rebounded Madison 47-30. In addition, Madison lost the ball more than the Tories turning it over 18 times to Britton-Macon's 10.

Coach Jim Sweigert said, "Both teams had an excellent defense. It was just a defensive struggle all the way. With a few breaks, we could have it. We showed a good defense and rebounding."

Britton	13	12	9	13—47
Madison	13	11	12	15—51

Scoring:

Britton-Macon, Brown 1 2 4; Saxton 5 2 12; Exelby 2 0 4; Servoss 0 5 5; Craddit 3 2 8; Wagenschutz 5 4 14.

Madison, O'Connor 3 1 7; Hooker 3 1 7; Wright 5 3 13; Dean Roback 1 1 3; Meyers 6 2 14; Dale Roback 1 1 3; Solmonson 1 2 4.

LEAGUE RECORD, 2-2

Indian Cagers Split Two

By FRANK WEIR

Tecumseh's Indian cagers split a pair last week, losing to a tough Milan team Tuesday but coming back to romp Flat Rock Friday. Scores were 64-40 in the Milan game and 64-53 against Flat Rock. The team now posts a season record of 2-4 and a league record of 2-2.

Coach Ron Spagnoli stated that Milan is "the best team we'll play all year. They out played us."

In the first quarter, Tecumseh outscored Milan 15-11, but the second quarter saw Milan catch fire, racking up 25 points to the Indian's four. Tecumseh never really threatened again.

It was a case of poor shooting and too many turnovers that spelled doom for Tecumseh. They connected on 15 of 60 shots from the field for a percentage of 25 percent. Free throw shooting was a bit better for the hapless Indians, scoring on 10 of 28 for 35.7 percent.

But Tecumseh turned over the ball to Milan 25 times and Milan captialized on that. In return, Milan proved stingy with the ball, giving it up only 12 times.

In addition, Milan held a respectable shooting average of 38.5 percent from the field and 41 percent from the free throw line. Tecumseh came out on top in rebounds 44-32.

Top Indian scoring honors were garnered by Jim Vaughn hitting six field goals and one free throw for 13 points. Milan's Stan Joplin connected on eight shots from the field and three free throws for 19 points.

Tecumseh was more successful on Friday night at Flat Rock with the Indians coming out on top 64-53. Although the first half was close to a stand-off, the Indians took the lead in the third quarter and connected on their first four baskets of the fourth. Their shooting was much improved over the Milan game with the Indians hitting 27 of 60 field goals for a more respectable 45 percent. On free throws, Tecumseh connected on 10 of 17 for 58.8 percent.

Jeff Schafer had top scoring honors for the Indians with 17 points.

Flat Rock connected on 21 of 68 field goals for 30.9 percent and 11 of 20 free throws for 55 percent.

Tecumseh lost the ball 15 times to Flat Rock's 12 and Tecumseh's John Burns grabbed 13 rebounds for top honors.

Ron Spagnoli was very encoraged with the win. "It was a good team effort. We played more like we are capable of playing. I hope we are able to sustain it."

Scoring by Quarters:

Tecumseh	15	4	10	11—40
Milan	11	25	11	20—64
Tecumseh	14	17	14	19—64
Flat Rock	14	13	18	8—53

HOMEOWNERS CORNER

by Vic Clauda

When soldering with copper tubing or pipe, the pipes should be cut smooth with all burrs removed. Clean the copper till it shines - also the fitting. Put a flux on the pipe and inside the fitting that you have just cleaned. Push pipe all the way into the fitting. Apply heat to fitting. When it gets hot enough, touch solder to edge of fitting and solder will draw into fitting. Do not overheat.

When you have a small amount of water in your pipe, push some bread into pipe. It will hold back water long enough for you to solder. It will flush out readily if there are no screens in faucets.

New installations, repairs or remodeling of plumbing and heating facilities can be handled by the experts at CLAUDA PLUMBING & HEATING, 1108 W. Chicago Blvd., 423-3121. MR. and MRS. DAVID COOK

Pamela Steadley, David Cook Wed

First Baptist Church of Tecumseh was the setting for the Dec. 14 wedding of Pamela Louise Steadley and David Paul Cook at which the Rev. Kenneth Boyd officiated. Carola Christman was organist, Tim Prettyman, guitarist, and Susan Prettyman, soloist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steadley of 9343 Tonneberger Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cook of 401 Seneca St.

Escorted by her father, the bride approached the altar wearing a white satin gown with sweetheart neckline, draped bodice and short sleeves. She wore pearl earrings and carried a white linen handkerchief trimmed with lace made in England by the groom's great great grandmother.

She wore a wreath of baby's breath, white rosebuds and stephanotis in her hair and carried a crescent of white roses, baby's breath, stephanotis, daisies and carnations.

Cynthia Burns of Tecumseh, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of maize satin with sweetheart neckline and puff sleeves, and a band of flowers in her hair, and carried a crescent of yellow tipped carnations and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Linds Steadley Schwarb of Sterling Heights, Sandra O'Hara of Trenton, and Debra Steadley of Tecumseh, all sisters of the bride. They wore gowns styled like that of the matron of honor in sky blue, lavender, and sea foam green. Bands of flowers formed their headpieces and they carried crescents of blue, lavender and green tipped carnations and baby's breath.

Dr. James Cook of Riverview, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Stephen and Robert Cook, brothers of the groom, and Paul Lynch, all of Tecumseh.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall. Sandy Dunn and Jill Greenfield poured at the reception. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. John A. Steadley of Bedford, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sindelar of Tallmadge, Ohio, and State Representative and Mrs. Grant Apthorp of Jewett City, Conn.

The couple are both students at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted at the Country House Restaurant Dec. 13 by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cook, parents of the groom.

The Cooks are now residing at 1548 G Spartan Village, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

MERRY Christmas

Holloway Happenings by Helen Smoll

Christmas, Religious or Commercialism?

People often remark that the religious significance of Christmas as the celebration of the birth of Christ is obscured by the commercialism.

This Christmas however, the economic situation threatens to curtail the kind of Christmas cheer many citizens traditionally enjoy.

Several Tecumseh pastors were interviewed for their opinions on whether or not they feel the religious significance of Christmas is declining.

Almost all agreed that it not lost. Here are a few responses:

"Although the commercial interest is strong, it has not dampened the fervor of those who really care about the birth of Christ." The Rev. Allan Gray, United Methodist Church.

"Perhaps its significance has declined in the mass media, but not so much with the people here. Strong spiritual interest in the real meaning is still alive." Pastor Dane Ruff, Friends Church.

"In the larger metropolitan areas, there is a tendency to get away from the real purpose of Christmas; not true in the rural areas. Here the people know each other and a close knit attitude keeps the real meaning alive.

"Some stores use "X" instead of "Christ" in Christmas. Not so much in town. As a church family we try to keep Christ in Christmas." The Rev. R.H. Warnick, Assembly of God.

"Most still believe that Christmas is the celebration of the birth of Christ, the son of God." Msgr. Vincent J. Howard, St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

"The real meaning has been declining over the years. It is too commercialized for my taste. It is the times rather than population areas that causes this. Life is fast moving today. People don't take time for meditation and this is not a reflection on any church." The Rev. Daniel Workman, Church of God.

This year many of the churches are celebrating Christmas with traditional caroling, cantatas, candlelight communion and youth services, pageants and packages for the needy.

New activities attempt to draw the church community together such as communal penance services, visits to homes for the aged, family tree parties, in which families sign paper chains to signify unity and pageants, in which the entire audience participates.

Asked if they thought that the present economic conditions have caused people to draw closer together and rediscover the religious values, almost all agreed again.

"This is possibly true. Several have extended personal greetings either in person or by phone because of the situation," said Pastor Gray.

"People are pulling together. They don't seem to depend on things. Although the outlook is not too bright, the uplook to God is bright when faith takes hold," commented Rev. Ruff.

"People today are more conscious of the needs of others. We attempt to make them more aware and very many want to respond to others needs and do so generously," told Fr. Howard.

" 'Man's extremity is God's opportunity.' For those who see things beyond their control, we call on Him for help, "said the Rev. Edmond I. Watkins, First Presbyterian Church reviewing the history of man.

"When we have everything, we have a tendency to let down our spiritual values. When we are down on our heels, we begin to turn back to the church," said Rev. Warnick.

"People will soon begin examining their standing with God and each other. It is with great spiritual difficulty that man accepts God. It has not happened on a major scale yet," reflected Rev. Workman.

"Some seem to be angered by this situation," observed the Rev. Kenneth Strack, Grace Evangelical Lutheran.

"Whether or not the religious significance of Christmas is declining is not as important to me as the fact that the Christmas story wonder again." The Rev. always has the power to excit David Fox, St. Peter's us, to inspire us to trust and, Episcopal Church.

CHECK PRESENTATION—Members of the Underwood-Orr Post 34 of the American Legion, not the VFW, present a check for $500 to Ward Eardly, director of parks and recreation. Post 34 was incorrectly identified in last week's issue. Underwood-Orr Post, in conjunction with the Tecumseh Police Dept., distributed 10 turkeys to needy families Dec. 20.

Macon Dialog

by Linda Phillips 423-5213

Children often mistake size for quality, and parents frequently hear, "I want the biggest one!"

The biggest chocolate Easter bunny is usually hollow, while the smaller one proves solid; the biggest piece of meat on the supper table is tough compared to the fork-tender, smaller one. The list could go on and on.

Sooner or later comes the realization that the biggest is not always the best. For this writer, it came at the age of 10 after a shopping trip with my sister and my mother, who allowed each of us to choose an ornamental Christmas bell.

I selected a large, gold bell which produced a harsh, clanging sound. My sister's choice was a small, blue bell from which emanated the most delicate tinkle.

Each year the attic-stored boxes of Christmas decorations are unpacked, and the tissue paper is taken off my gold bell. It is then given a place of prominence—not for its great beauty or size, and certainly not for its pleasing resonance. The bell serves a very useful purpose; it is my Christmas memorandum and effectively reminds me not to equate quantity with quality.

Christmas 1974 may not be the biggest, but this is not to say it cannot be the best. If there are not as many gifts under the tree, let us give more of the variety that money cannot buy—kindness, compassion, friendship and love.

The effects of these invisible gifts will be around long after the toys are broken, the tinsel and pine needles are swept up and the last snow melts into spring.

Happy, healthy and peace-filled holidays to you all.

That the following be added and amended to Ordinances hereinafter set forth as follows:

SIDEWALK AND DRIVEWAY APPROACH ORDINANCE

4.952 Plans and Specifications. All sidewalks and driveway approaches shall be constructed in conformity with the plans on file in the City Hall and in accordance with the standard specifications of the City. All concrete used in sidewalk construction shall, 28 days after placement, be capable of resisting a pressure of 2,500 pounds per square inch without failure.

4.953. Permit. No sidewalks or driveway approaches shall hereafter be constructed in the City without a permit being obtained therefor from the City Clerk. The City Clerk shall be authorized to issue such permits upon payment of a fee to the City Treasurer in the amount of 50c for each 100 square feet of sidewalk or driveway approach or fraction thereof with a minimum fee of $1.00. This Permit shall be secured by the owner of the property abutting said sidewalk or driveway approach or his agent and under the terms of this Permit, the owner shall agree to construct said sidewalk or driveway approach in conformity with the grade established by the City and according to specifications attached to such Permit. The owner of the property abutting the sidewalk or driveway approach covered by such permit shall be responsible for the condition of said sidewalk. Any replacement or repairs of sidewalk or driveway approach shall be at the expense of the property owner or his successor in title.

No such permit shall be required for repair of sidewalk or driveway approach involving less than 50 square feet in area. Such permit shall not be required for sidewalks or driveway approaches constructed under contract with the City or by the City forces.

4.954 Sidewalk or Driveway Approach Builder Licensed. No sidewalk or driveway approach shall be constructed, built, rebuilt or repaired in the City except by a licensed sidewalk or driveway approach builder except as hereinafter provided. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to engage in the business of building, rebuilding, or repairing sidewalks or driveway approaches shall make written application for a license therefor to the Council, which application shall contain the full name, age, and place of residence of such person, and expressing his willingness to be governed in all respects by all rules, regulations, or specifications which are now or may hereafter be adopted by the City for the building, rebuilding or repair of sidewalks or driveway approaches, and shall be signed by two or more reputable citizens vouching for the applicant's qualifications for such license. If such application be approved by the Council upon payment of a license fee of $5.00, and filing a bond as hereinafter specified with the City Clerk, he shall be entitled to receive a builder's license. No such license shall be granted for more than one (1) year and all such licenses shall expire on the 31st day of December of each year. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to build, rebuild or repair any sidewalk or driveway approach within the City after this Ordinance takes effect without having first secured a permit therefor under the provision hereof.

4.956. Bonds. All sidewalk or driveway approach builders' bonds, as provided for by the terms of this Ordinance, shall be in the penal sum of $1,000.00, with a surety company or a personal bond with two (2) or more sureties residing within the County of Lenawee, to be approved by the City Manager. Said bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful observance of the provisions of all Ordinances in effect at the date thereof concerning the building, rebuilding, or repair of sidewalks or driveway approaches, and further conditioned that the principal executing the same shall and will construct all sidewalks and driveway approaches of good material and workmanship and in strict accordance with all specifications and regulations prescribed by the City for the construction of sidewalks or driveway approaches, and shall and will keep all of such sidewalks or driveway approaches so constructed in good condition of repair and fit for public travel for a period of two (2) years after the date of the completion of construction of the same.

4.957. Recovery on Bond. Such bond may be prosecuted and recovery had thereon by the City or by any person, firm, or corporation, who shall have suffered any injury or damage by reason of the inferior quality of materials or improper construction or poor workmanship of any such sidewalk or driveway approach, or for any injury or damage suffered on account of any such sidewalk or driveway approach becoming out of repair within the period covered by such bond. All such suits may be brought in the name of the City by any such persons, firm or corporation, for his, her or their use and benefit, provided, that said City shall not be liable for any costs occasioned by any such suit.

4.959. Permit to Owner to Build. The City Manager is hereby authorized to grant a permit to any property owner to construct a sidewalk in front of or adjacent to any real estate owned by him or driveway approach conditioned that such owner is skillful and competent to construct the same in the manner provided in Section 4.953.

4.960. Revocation of Permit. The City Manager may revoke any permit issued under the terms of this Ordinance for incompetency or failure to comply with the terms of this Ordinance or the rules, regulations, plans and specifications furnished by the City for the construction or repair of any sidewalks or driveway approaches.

4.961. Penalty. Any person, firm, or corporation who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions hereof shall, upon conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

City of Tecumseh Ordinance 4.950 through and including 4.961, except as herein amended or added to, is hereby ratified and affirmed.

The foregoing Preamble and Ordinance was offered by Councilman Cook and supported by Councilman Palmer.

AYES: Mayor Easton, Councilmen Cook, Kruger, Mead, Palmer, Puffer and Whiting.

NAYS: None.

ORDINANCE DECLARED ADOPTED.

Christmas from Another Land

CLINTON — Those who would like the gift-giving of the American Christmas separated from the religious observance, should consider the way it is done in the Netherlands.

St. Nicolaas Day, Dec. 6 is the morning on which the children receive presents from Sinterklaas. Season of giving actually begins at the end of November when St. Nicolaas arrives from Spain in a huge boat. According to legend, he originated in Turkey.

Black Pete, dark from climbing through chimneys, looks through the stacks and peers into windows to observe the behavior of children. Every night, shoes filled with straw are put out and if the child is good, Sinterklaas' white horse eats the straw and candies and cookies are left in place.

This continues every night until Dec. 5 when presents are left behind. In the morning the child also finds a humorous poem matching the child to the present.

This holiday has no religious significance and "Christmas is not for gifts," explains Paula Scherrenburg, Clinton High School exchange student spending Christmas this year with the George Schroeder family.

For Christmas, Paula said that big meals, real Christmas trees and special cakes mark the holy day.

Two days of Christmas are celebrated. On the 24th after evening services, an early breakfast of raisin bread, butter and hot chocolate is served on a white linen cloth decorated with holly and candles.

The next morning, a big breakfast is served after church. Mid-morning tea hour brings speculaas, windmill or man shaped cookies and letter bonket, stick cakes, which represent the Santa Claus.

In the evening, poultry is the attraction with rich French foods and bundt cakes with raisins and powdered sugar.

The night of the 25th is spent quietly at home with some caroling by the family.

On the 26th relatives and friends visit on the second day of Christmas.

Time for merriment and fun, for family gatherings, for caroling . . . time to say thanks to all our customers and friends who make doing business such a pleasure.

Young and Old Enjoy the Many Sights and Sounds of the Christmas Spirit

Church choirs have begun rehearsing and the media and stores have begun playing traditional Christmas songs - the herald of Christmas.

However, the rich folk history of traditional songs is taken for granted and little known by carolers.

Origin of carols is part of the Christmas story and when studied, carols are categorized by many themes and performance practices.

The first carols were dance songs, sung by villagers around a Maypole to celebrate festive occasions throughout the year, during the Middle Ages. Later they became more exclusively associated with Christmas.

The word "carol" derives from the Greek and Latin word "choralules" meaning "chorus."

The phrase, "Christmas Carols" first appeared during the 16th century in England in little songbooks printed by Wynken de Worde and Richard Kele.

DANCE CAROLS — Best examples of these rounds of ring dances are still to be found in Sweden where people dance around the tree singing rollicking songs.

Elsewhere, dance carols are merely sung, although many of the tunes are known to inspire dancing feet.

SHEPHERD CAROLS, of and about the shepherds to whom the angels appeared, and their coming to the stable with humble gifts, are the most human and appealing accounts of Christ's birth.

They were sung to accompany the vivid portrayals of this scene in the medieval "mystery" plays, which were common in England as well as all other European countries. Best known today is the traditional English carol, "While Shepherds Watched."

LULLABY CAROLS were among the earliest Christmas songs and like all cradle songs have a rockling, lilting rhythm and a simple melody.

"Cradle rocking" carols or "Kindelwiegen" were a part of the church ritual in Germany and Austria.

A good example of this type of carol is the 16th century English carol, "What Child Is This?" which was sung to the 16th century dance tune, "Greensleeves." Another is the 19th century American anonymous carol, "Away in the Manger."

One of the most beautiful of all lullaby carols is the "Coventry Carol," which was a part of one of the English medieval "mysteries." It is sung by a group of women, portraying Bethlehem mothers just before Herod's soldiers slaughter their babies.

CAROLS OF THE MAGI — The arrival of the Magi with precious gifts for the Christ Child is the most picturesque and colorful part of all Christmas pageants.

The Magi songs all tell this rich, spiritual story. Among the most familiar of these to Americans is "We Three Kings," the words and music for which were written by John Henry Hopkins, Jr. in the 19th century.

NATIVITY CAROLS — There are many varieties of these. First hymns in honor of the Nativity were written in Latin during the 5th century, when Christmas was fully established as one of the great church feasts.

It was not until the 13th century when St. Francis of Assisi inspired his friends to write in their native language, that Nativity Songs were written for the people to sing. From Italy, these Nativity Songs spread throughout all Europe.

Two of the most familiar of these to us are: "Joy to the World," written by Isaac Watts in the 17th century and the 18th century German "Stille Nacht" (Silent Night) by Joseph Mohr. The original musical called for a guitar accompaniment.

LEGENDARY CAROLS spring from the folklore of people throughout the world inspired by superstitions and pre-Christian beliefs. One thing they have in common is that they all tell a story.

Most well known of these is the traditional English "I Saw Three Ships". "Good King Wenceslas," written by J.M. Neale in the 19th century is about a fervent Christian Duke of Bohemia.

CAROLS OF CUSTOM deal with pre-Christmas customs that have become attached to Christmas celebrations.

For example, the yule log and mistletoe of England go back to the Druids. Decking the halls with boughs of holly and evergreen come from the Hebrews, Egyptians, Romans and other ancient peoples, for whom the evergreens were symbolic of life triumphant over death.

The wreath came originally from the ivy crown worn by Romans in Bacchanalian festivals. "Wassil" was the Anglo-Saxon drinking pledge, "Waes-Hael" which means "Be in health," and which was part of Early Saxon feasts.

"O Tannenbaum" (O Christmas Tree) the traditional German carol goes back to the early days of wandering tribes, who would always leave a grove of trees in the middle of land they cleared.

CAROLS FOR THE 12 DAYS — During the 6th century, the 12 days from Nativity to Epiphany were declared a festive season, celebrated in medieval England by many gay customs including, jousts, banquets, caroling and "mumming," which originally was a sort of pantomime dance performed by masked and costumed groups.

Best known of these carols are the traditional English "God Rest Ye Merry," and "The 12 Days of Christmas," which is based on an old French rhyme and chant.

IN THE SPIRIT—Britton-Macon High School Chorus, directed by Mrs. Meri Schoof and Home Economics class led by Mrs. Mary Ann Berry, helped put Herrick Hospital Nursing Home patients into the holiday mood with some fun and fancy Christmas carols.

SING ALONG—Right in tune with the Britton chorus is Mrs. Edith Leighton, patient at Herrick Nursing Home. Mrs. Leighton said the group inspired her spirit; she truly enjoys the carols and her big smile proves it. (Photos by Kathy Kulczyk)

Recipe Roundup

By Libby Lincoln

Soup is a nutritious and filling main dish in the winter months when hot food that sticks to your ribs is the cardinal rule.

With hot bread and a salad, soup makes a hearty meal that is not excessively heavy. This Cream of Spinach and Leek Soup, with its unusual blend of ingredients, is a creamy colorful soup with a delightful texture.

The holiday homemaker who has devoted considerable time and effort to make elaborate Christmas meals, might vary the menu of holiday leftovers and whip up this delicious soup for a quick and relaxing supper.

CREAM OF SPINACH AND LEEK SOUP

5 tbsp. butter
1 lb. spinach, chopped
4 large leeks, white tops only
6 tbsp. flour
4½ cups chicken broth
4½ cups water
1 tsp. salt
2 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese (room temp)
2 cups plain yogurt
4 egg yolks
2 cups cooked ham, chopped
1 cup chives, finely chopped
salt and white pepper to taste

Heat 2½ tbsp. butter in soup kettle, cook spinach, leeks gently in melted butter. When soft, sprinkle in flour and cook for 2 minutes over medium heat, stirring constantly.

Remove from stove and add chicken broth, water and salt. Return to low heat and simmer for 15 minutes.

Mash cream cheese in small bowl, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and stir in yogurt and egg yolks. Beat until smooth. Sauté ham in remaining butter.

Add cheese mixture to soup. Cook and stir for 5 minutes and add ham. Garnish with chives.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

by Marda Gene Duncan

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, TO TARPON SPRINGS, FLORIDA

Certain friends and neighbors despaired of ever getting rid of us. We knew we would leave, but they were not quite so sure. Originally, our take-off date for Florida was Saturday, Nov. 22, but first one thing came up and then another. Saturday was postponed until Sunday, Sunday to Monday, Monday to Tuesday.

Actually, all things considered, we did well to get away on Tuesday - packing for a long vacation is one thing but when planning to be gone for a whole season, the list of things to do, the million and four last minute items to be taken care of—well—it is just mind boggling! But we finally pointed the nose of the white Pontiac wagon out of the drive and headed it south.

The trip itself was a little bit unbelievable. In the first place, we tried very hard to adhere to the 55 mile per hour speed limit and it was not easy. I-75 invites a much faster rate of travel and the white Indian was just more than anxious to 'get up and go'. However, Dad kept a firm foot on the gas and seldom did the speedometer bounce over 55 — perhaps we should make that 60.

Traveling over the Thanksgiving holiday weekend, we knew the traffic would be heavy, and it was. The trucks, though, were the main problem. They seem to make it a matter of personal pride to violate the speed law.

Their arrogance in doing so increases in direct proportion to their size. I am a bit prejudiced and certainly this should not be a blanket statement, but more than once I could not help wondering what had happened to the days of the courteous truck driver. I know there are some but they certainly are in the minority.

As usual, the Duncans traveled with weather—all kinds of weather. The first day out of Tecumseh showed us the most gorgeous winter sunset ever. The whole sky was breathtaking mixture of dark purple, gold, chartreuse, and magenta.

Highlights of bright blue, threatening black, and stark red set off the display. And for mile after mile after mile we drove with this color spectacular.

Unfortunately, the gorgeous sunset did not foretell good weather. We knew weather could be a problem at this time of year but having no schedule to keep, we kept telling ourselves that should we wake up and find the day not to our liking, we would not even venture out.

One day away from Tecumseh the morning was gray but the weather forecast optimistically called for only a 30 percent chance of precipitation. Just as we loaded me into the car, a few snow flurries began falling.

For the next three hours we drove through a regular blizzard of "a 30 percent chance of precipitation." Of course after hearing of the storm that clobbered Tecumseh, we quit complaining. It was not the same storm, our snow was nothing to what you had later in the week.

One of the prettiest parts of the trip was through the horse country of Kentucky, and believe it or not, the brightest sunniest day of the whole journey came as we traversed this area. It could not have been lovelier.

The same cannot be said of Atlanta, Ga. Always before this has been a favorite city for, unlike Betty F., who barrels right through the heart of downtown, we take the by-pass.

A marvelous drive until this year, that is—nothing would be good driving through such a hard, beating downpour as we did. For five hours we fought the storm and seldom did the white Indian venture over 35 miles per hour. An exhausting day.

Frustrating too, for we were only about 120 miles further along at day's end. Actually, it was day's middle when we pulled into the first Holiday Inn we saw. At 3 p.m. we were more beat than had we driven hundreds and hundreds of miles.

After this bad storm the weather cleared, the days were bright and sunny—but cold—even in Florida we wore Michigan wool and gave the car's heater a good workout. Fortunately the poor windshield wipers had a well earned rest.

So it is that the unpacking and settling (?) in process is underway now—next week I can get back to bird talk, but the above is just a brief rundown on our journey from Michigan to Florida.

Inexpensive Christmas

By Mary B. Matthews

(Editor's note: Mrs. Matthews, a home economist, wrote this article in response to the current economic plight and the effect it will have on many families at Christmas. She resides at 4939 Milwaukee Rd. with her husband Jan and family.)

Recently I overheard a woman earnestly remarking that her economic situation was so bad this year that she would be wrapping empty boxes for her family's Christmas gifts. We all can certainly sympathize with her and perhaps are in a similar situation, especially in these times of swelling inflation and shrinking resources. However, it does seem pathetic to wrap empty boxes.

We have been conditioned to think that gifts must cost a lot of money. This really isn't true. With a little thought and imagination, gifts can be created which cost little or no money and which will delight both children and adults.

In even the tightest times we still must have food, so why not use necessary food items as gifts within the family. A small fruit basket or box (containing an apple, a banana, an orange or grapefruit) can be dressed up with a ribbon to make a festive gift, nutritious but inexpensive.

Nuts in the shell make an attractive gift (and are valuable protein foods as well). Put a handful in a small bag made of scrap material, tie with a ribbon. If you feel lighthearted attach a tag reading "Nuts to You!"

A child would be delighted with a small jar of honey if the label said "To You With Love from Winnie-the Pooh." A small jar or bag of popcorn kernels is colorful and will make a delicious snack when popped on some chilly winter evening. Gingerbread boys or other homebaked items make presents that please almost anyone.

The I.O.U. for a special service is a gift that is truly unique. Who wouldn't enjoy receiving a certificate entitling him to a day off from an everyday chore? Or how about a gift certificate good for a million kisses?

Handcraft items made from throwaway materials make wonderful gifts at minimum cost. For a little girl, braid a jump rope from plastic bread wrappers taped together. For a small boy, a painted coffee can with a plastic lid on each end makes a fine drum.

Children's books are easily made. Many women's magazines contain special stories for children. Look through some old copies, cut out the stories and tape into a decorated cardboard cover.

Look to the past for ideas for homemade toys. In olden times almost all toys were handmade. A spool-knitter is an old favorite made from a spool and several small nails.

Small scraps of wood can be fashioned into simple boats, houses or animals. Make simple dolls from clothespins to go with them.

And don't forget stuffed toys made from fabric scraps. If you aren't handy with a needle they can often be glued together. Stuff with old nylons for soft toys or dried beans or peas for beanbags.

Craft books and magazines will give many other ideas. Check your local library.

Premiums from grocery products such as cereal or detergent often are good gift items. Just be sure that you aren't paying more for the product than you would for a comparable brand without a premium.

Another idea for future use: send for free boxtop offers throughout the year and put these away for Christmas surprises.

If you wish to purchase gifts inexpensively, look to thrift shops or second hand stores for really good buys. Often used items in excellent condition can be found at a fraction of their usual price.

Even small antiques can still be found for a dollar or two and they will continue to appreciate in value in the future. Silver dollars or half-dollars also make gifts that are inexpensive and of lasting value.

One final but important note - try not to be discouraged if your holiday season cannot be as lavish as usual. Remember that a warm heart and a joyous spirit go a long way to make the holidays festive. Perhaps getting back to simpler things will help your family to re-discover the love which reflects the true meaning of Christmas.

Enjoy Supper

Nine members of the Northeast Study Group of the Cooperative Extension Service enjoyed a holiday carry-in supper in the gaily decorated home of Mrs. Fred Helm Dec. 17.

There was neither a business meeting or lesson, but a letter from Mrs. Elmer Wilt, a former member, was read, telling of community life in Cedarville. A thank you letter was also read from the Mission near McAllen, Tex., where the Marvin Johnsons spend their winters.

Remainder of the evening was spent socially with a gift exchange. The roll call, "What Christmas Cheer I provided for those outside my family" was the topic of conversation.

Sunday School Presents Program

BRITTON—"And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people." Luke 2:10.

Sunday School members presented "Joy To The World", a Christmas program of familiar carols Sunday evening at Bethel Baptist Church. The story of Jesus birth as recorded in St. Luke and St. Matthew was narrated by Howard Bishop.

Byron Gall accompanied the youth of the church at the piano with, their diversified renditions of familiar carols under the direction of Mrs. Robert Hunt.

Mrs. Norman Barnard was guest organist in two solo numbers.

"Loveliest Night" was sung by Mrs. A.J. Gamboe and Mr. Bishop.

Francis Bishop played the trumpet and Leo Bishop the cornet.

"Christmas" was sung by Andrew Bishop.

Gregg Sessoms, David Curtiss and Wendell Winner sang "We Three Kings."

The choir performed a cappella in a lullabye "Sleep Little Baby."

Other youth taking part were Vicki Hurley, Karen Purvis, Joyal Bishop, Jean Bishop, Dawn Lovell, Irene Bishop, Ester Bishop, Doug Winner, Paul Winner, Brenda Curtiss and Allie Hurley.

The congregation joined in some of the carols.

Boxes of candy were distributed to the youngsters following a brief message by the Rev. Eldin Mattison of Ypsilanti.

New Baptist Church Formed

BRITTON—Formation of a new church, Ridgeway Baptist Church, is being announced by the founding pastor, the Rev. Charles J. Mellring.

The church is independent, fundamentalist, evangelistic and missionary-minded.

New group has purchased property at 7760 E. Monroe Road (M-50), formerly owned by Charles Carlton. Building is being adapted for use in worship and Christian education. It can accomodate a large number of people. A parsonage is to be constructed as the initial expansion and improvement to the facility.

Attendance has climbed to well over 100 in four weeks. The church operates one bus at this time, and plans to add buses in the near future.

Pastor Mellring extends a hearty invitation to anyone desiring a biblical, warm-hearted fellowship. Sunday services include Sunday School at 10 a.m.; Worship at 11 a.m.; training hour for the entire family at 6:30 p.m.; and an informal evangelistic service at 7:30 p.m. The church meets for prayer and Bible study on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m.

Dorcas Class Holds Potluck Dinner

BRITTON—The Dorcas Class of the Britton Congregational Christian Church met Dec. 19, in the Fellowship Center of the church with Mrs. G.O. Hannevik and Mrs. Chester Brown serving the potluck dinner.

In the absence of Mrs. Nina Taylor, president, Mrs. Theo Willis conducted the business meeting. Class voted to pay an installment on next year's budget after the first of the year. Christmas cards were signed to be sent to 11 absent members.

At the close of the business meeting devotions and a program were presented by Thelma Younglove. She read Matt. 2:1-23, following with a prayer

Next she read an article, "What is Christmas" and told how Christmas is observed in other lands.

She told when and where Christmas cards originated. Poems, "Christmas Dreams", "An Old Fashioned Christmas", "An Old Fashioned Sleigh Ride" were read, and concluded with "A Prayer at Christmas."

Sing at VAH

BRITTON—A bus load of Christmas carolers traveled to Ann Arbor Tuesday evening from the new Ridgeway Baptist Church. The group sang Christmas carols at Veterans Administration Hospital.

Following the caroling, the group went to the Jim Andrews home near Britton, where he and his wife, Andrea, provided refreshments.

School to Receive Less State Aid

BRITTON—Britton-Macon Area School will receive $9,237 less in State Membership Aid for 1974-1975 than it did during the 1973-1974 school year.

Last year the school received $194,611 in State Membership Aid to educate 623 students. This year the school will receive $185,374 to educate 644 pupils The school has 23 more students to educate and $9,237 less state money to spend on their education.

During the 1972-1973 school year the school received $210,533 in membership aid to educate 640 students.

As the State Equalized Valuation of property increases each year the property owner automatically pays more and the state ends up contributing less.

The State Equalized Valuation (SEV) of the district for 1973 was $13,943,427. In 1974 it jumped to $16,689,910. This is an increase in SEV for one year of $2,746,483 across the district.

Besides losing $9,237 in state aid, the state is now talking about cutting three-fourths of one percent of the schools combined total state aid and local property tax to make up for the loss in revenue as a result of repealing the sales tax on food. This, if passed, would mean an additional loss of $4,144 in state revenue for the school.

BRITTON—All 1975 Yearbook orders must be received no later than Jan. 8, 1975. Checks may be made payable to Britton-Macon HIgh School. Yearbooks cannot be purchased after Jan. 8, so books should be ordered promptly.

Add name and address along with money and you will be given a receipt. Send orders to school during vacation.

Christmases Past and Present
A Time of Dreams and Memories

By LIBBY LINCOLN

Words can never capture the spirit of the holiday season, a spirit which is probably more exciting or mysterious to the young than to any other age. Children for generations have begged their parents and grandparents to recite the history of Christmases past and have marveled at tales of sleigh rides, trees trimmed with tiny candles and school Christmas programs of long ago.

The Christmas season is a time of nostalgia, with old-timers and young folks alike reminiscing about Christmases past. Nostalgic sighs emanate from hearths across the land as young people everywhere try to imagine Christmas as it was celebrated in the "olden days."

With all the talk about how Christmas has become increasingly commercialized—illustrated by the manifestation of Christmas decorations and gimmicks rapidly on the heels of Thanksgiving if not earlier—an investigation to see just how much the conception of Christmas has really changed seemed appropriate.

Mrs. Perry Hayden, of 512 W. Logan St., shared some of her Christmas memories and commented on the simplicity of Christmases past. "Some Christmases were meager," she said, but then "children were more contented with little things than children today." Gifts might consist of a pair of mittens, a new sled, or a pair of ice skates, more "homey" things, but they were dearly appreciated just the same.

The school Christmas program, with poems, plays and songs prepared for three or four weeks before the final, and momentous, presentation for the parents, was often the focus of Christmas activity when she was a child. The school program often featured a Christmas tree decorated with tiny candles, a tradition gone with today's fire laws but beautiful to envision.

In those days a nice present, such as a fancy cup and saucer, could be had for a quarter. Special treats in Christmas stockings were oranges or sticks of candy, one apiece. Oranges were uncommon and exotic in those days and were uniquely associated with the Christmas season.

Christmas dinner was always enjoyed in the home with a holiday menu of chicken or turkey, mincemeat pie, suet pudding, and vegetables canned from the previous summer's garden.

The season usually brought lots of snow with it, and with the snow came bobsleds, toboggans sleighs and cutters out of storage. Although there was plenty of old fashioned entertainment in the form of sledding and sliding, life was focused at Christmas, and year-round, around the school, the church, and the family, says Mrs. Hayden.

Neil DePuy, of 718 Ternes Rd., recalls similar memories. His happiest Christmas, he remarked, was that of 1895, when he was five, the year in which he received a beloved pair of rubber boots as a present.

Although he was an only child, the DePuy family was a large one, and Christmases were often spent at the grandparents' house with all of the family gathered for a big festive dinner of either turkey, geese, chicken, or duck fresh from the farm. Christmas trees were also freshly cut from the farm and were trimmed with strings of popcorn made at home.

Presents were far simpler in those days, and were usually homemade articles, sewn, knitted or embroidered. DePuy remembers the fall of 1906 when he trapped 59 muskrats, mink, skunks and racoons, selling the pelts for a total of $40.80. With this money he purchased a suit, an overcoat, shoes and socks for himself, a pair of mittens for his father and a silk scarf for his mother — receiving $5.20 back in change!

Christmas was a day of rest and rememberance. The only work done that day were necessary chores, and church services were always attended on Christmas morning, and often on Christmas Eve also. Christmas cards were uncommon; instead, neighbors from a wide radius would exchange cakes, pies, and other homebaked items at this season.

DePuy has always extended the Christmas spirit to those around him, especially during his years as Santa Claus when he made special visits to Herrick Hospital to spread Christmas cheer. In keeping with this spirit, he collects cancelled stamps to send to missionaries throughout the year, and so far this year has gathered over 93,000 stamps.

A visit to the first grade classrooms of Mrs. Pearl Osburn and Mrs. Kathryn Tarkiewicz at Patterson Elementary School quickly proved that the Christmas spirit is flourishing in the hearts and imaginations of children today. Letters to Santa Claus may be longer and filled with more brand names, and toys definitely more prominent on today's gift list, but children today, as in the past, think of the religious aspects of the season along with the presents, trees and cookies, just as their parents and grandparents before them did.

The jet age Christmas is one new development since the days of old. Meg Phelan and Patrick O'Brien were among many children who plan to spend their vacation in the sunny climes of Florida.

Two responses were heard most frequently in answer to the query, "What does Christmas mean to you?" Not surprisingly, the replies were "the birth of baby Jesus" and "Santa Claus and presents." Susan Van Orsdal mentioned the nativity scene, as did several others.

Christmas means "ice skating" (Michelle), "Santa's sleigh" (Steve), "the birds go south" (Suzie DeMeritt), "love and friends" (Gary Purse) and "Mary and gifts" (Angie). Nearly all the children mentioned the making of Christmas cookies as high on the list of season activities, along with getting and giving presents, going to Christmas services, and going to visit Santa Claus' house in town.

Many children plan to make Christmas presents this year, including Kathy Bakus, Suzette Roberts, Don Wolfff, Steve DeShano and Timothy Cell. Others have saved their money in order to buy gifts ranging from a watchband, a candle, a model airplane, and a wallet. Busy little Christmas shoppers include Amy, Jean, Trent, Mark, Shawn and Susan.

The excitement these and all youngsters feel about Christmas is infectious, from their wonder at the nativity scene to their dreams about someday actually getting a glimpse of Santa Claus. Their comments, coupled with the recollections of Mrs. Hayden and Mr. DePuy, more than indicate that the young in heart of all ages share the timeless spirit of joy, wonder, love and good will that characterizes the Christmas season, past and present.

Editor's note: Children in Mrs. Osburn's class have been identified by their first and last names. Due to the lack of name tags, children in Mrs. Tarkiewicz' class have been identified by their first names only.

ETERNAL SEASON—Christmas comes and goes every year, but each Christmas is a fresh and novel experience. Young and old marvel at the timeless wonder of the first snowfall and hollyberry bloom each holiday season. (Photo by Frank Weir)

Annual Christmas Banquet

Wit and Wisdom Club held its annual Christmas banquet Dec. 9 at the First Baptist Church.

Tables were decorated by the host committees, the James McDowells and the Ralph Comforts.

President Ralph Comfort introduced and welcomed the guests present, Lillian Buttolph, Harriett Lindsley, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, Perry Satterthwaite, and the Rev. and Mrs. Dane Ruff of the Tecumseh Friends Church.

Invocation was given by the Rev. Ruff, preceding a roast beef dinner.

Christmas program was presented by Dorothy Ruthruff and Elizabeth Wilson. A miniature tree was trimmed by the group, each placing an ornament on the tree while the story of the country's was read.

Group sang the carol of the country represented, accompanied by Elizabeth Wilson, pianist, and Dorothy Ruthruff, violinist.
